Cum privilegio.

To the Christian Reader.

BEſides the manifould and continuall benefits which Almightie God beſtowed upon us, both corporall & ſpirituall, we are eſpecially bound (deare brethren) to give him thankes without ceaſing for his great grace & vnſpeakeable mercies, in that it hath pleaſed him to call us unto this marveilous light of his Goſpel, & mercifully to regard vs after ſo horrible backſliding and falling away from Chriſt to Antichriſt, from light to darkenes, from the living God to dumme and dead idoles, and that after ſo cruell murther of Gods Saints, and alas, hath bene among vs, we are not altogether caſt off, as were the Iſraelites, and many others for the like, or not ſo manifeſt wickednes, but received againe to grace with moſt evident ſignes and tokens of Gods eſpeciall love and favour. To the intent therefore that we may not be vnmindfull of theſe great mercies, but ſeeke by all meanes (according to our duetie) to be thankefull for the ſame, it behoveth vs ſo to walke in his feare & love, that all the dayes of our life wee many procure the glory of his holy Name. Now foraſmuch as thing chiefly is attained by the knowledge and practiſing of the word of God, (which is the light to our paths, the key of the kingdome of heaven, our comfort in affliction, our ſhield and ſword againſt Satan, the ſcool of all wiſdome, the glaſſe wherein we may behold Gods face, the teſtimonie of his favour, and the only foode and nouriſhment of our ſoules) we thought that we could beſtow our labours and ſtudie in nothing which could be more acceptable to God and comfortable to his Church, then in the tranſlating of the holy Scriptures into our native tongue: the which thing, albeit that divers heretofore have indevoured to archieve, yet conſidering the infancie of thoſe times, and imperfect knowledge of the tongues, in reſpect of this ripe age and cleare light which God hath nowe revealed, the tranſlations required greatly to be peruſed and reformed. Not that we vendicate any thing to our ſelves above the leaſt of our brethren (for God knoweth with what feare and trembling we have bene for the ſpace of two yeeres and more day and night occupied herein) but being earneſtly deſired, and by divers, who learning and godlines we reverence, exhorted, and alſo incouraged by the ready willes of ſuch, whoſe hearts God likewiſe touched, not to ſpare any charge for the furtherance of ſuch a benefit and favour of God toward his Church (though the time then was dangerous, and the perſecution ſharpe and furious) we ſubmitted our ſelves at length to their godly iudgements, and ſeeing the great opportunitie and occaſions, which God pretented unto us in his Church, by reaſon of ſo many godly and learned men, and ſuch diverſities of tranſlations in divers tongues, we vndertooke this great and wonderfull worke (with all reverence, as in the preſence of God, as intreating the word of God, whereunto we thinke our ſelves vnſufficient) which now God according to his divine providence and mercie hath directed to a moſt proſperious end. And this we may with good conſcience proteſt, that we have in every point and worde, according to the meaſure of that knowledge which it pleaſed Almightie God to give vs, faithfully rendred the text, and in all hard places moſt ſincerely expounded the ſame. For God is our witnes, that wee have by all meanes endevoured to ſet foorth the puritie of the worde and right ſenſe of the holy Ghoſt, for edifying of the brethren in faith and charitie.

Now as we have chiefly obſerved the ſenſe, and laboured alwayes to reſtore it to all integritie: ſo have we moſt reverently kept the proprietie of the woordes conſidering that the Apoſtles who ſpake and wrote to the Gentiles in the Greeke tongue, rather conſtrained them to the lively phraſe of the Ebrewe, then enterpriſed farre by mollifying their language to ſpeake as the Gentiles did. And for this and other cauſes we have in many places reſerved the Ebrew phraſe, notwithſtanding that they may ſeeme ſomewhat hard in their eares that are not well practiſed, and alſo delight in the ſweete ſounding phraſes of the holy Scriptures. Yet leaſt either the ſimple ſhould be diſcouraged, or the malicious have any occaſion of iuſt cavillation, ſeeing ſome tranſlations reade after one ſort, and ſome after another, where as all may ſerve to good purpoſe and edification, we have in the margent noted that diverſitie of ſpeach or reading which may alſo ſeeme agreeable to the minde of the holy Ghoſt, and proper for our langnage with this marke ‖. Againe, whereas the Eebrewe ſpeach ſeemed hardlye to anger with ours, we have noted it in the margent afrer this ſort †, vſing that which was more intelligible. And albeit that many of the Ebrew names be altred from the old text, and reſtored to the true writing and firſt originall, whereof they have their ſignification, yet in the vſuall names litle is changed for feare of troubling the ſimple readers. Moreover, whereas the neceſſitie of the ſentence required any thing to be added (for ſuch in the grace and proprietie of the Ebrew and Greeke tongues, that it cannot but either by circumlocution, or by adding the verbe or ſome word, be vnderſtood of them that are not well practiſed therein) we have put it in the text with an other kinde of letter, that it may eaſily be diſcerned from the common letter. As touching the diviſion of the verſes, we have followed the Ebrew examples, which have ſo even from the beginning diſtinguiſhed them. Which things as it is moſt profitable for memorie, ſo doth it agree with the beſt tranſlations, and is moſt eaſie to finde out both by the beſt Concordances, and alſo by the quotations which we have diligently herein peruſed and ſeth forth by this *. Beſides this, the principall matters are noted and diſtinguiſhed by this marke ¶. Yea and the arguments both for the booke and for the chapters with the number of the verſe are added, that by all meanes the reader might be holpen. For the which cauſe alſo wee have ſet over the head of every page ſome notable word of ſentence which may greatly further aſwell for memorie, as for the chiefe point of the page. And conſidering how hard a thing it is to vnderſtand the holy Scriptures, and what errors, ſects and hereſies grow dayly for lacke of the true knowledge thereof, and how many are diſcouraged (as they pretend) becauſe they cannot attaine to the true and ſimple meaning of the ſame, we have alſo indevoured both by the diligent reading of the beſt commentaries, and alſo by the conference with the godly and learned brethren, to gather briefe annotations upon all the hard places, aſwell for the vnderſtanding of ſuch words as are obſcure, and for the declaration of the text, as for the application of the ſame as may moſt appertain to Gods glory and the edification of his Church. Furthermore whereas certaine places in the booke of Moſes, of the Kings, and Ezekiel ſeemed ſo darke, that by no deſcription they could be made eaſie to the ſimple reader, we have to ſet them forth with figures and notes for the full declaration thereof, that they which cannot by iudgement, being holpen by the annotations noted by the letters a, b, c, &c. attain thereunto, yet by the perſpective and as it were by the eye, may ſufficiently knowe the true meaning, of all ſuch places, whereunto alſo we have added certaine Mappes of Coſmographie which neceſſarily ſerve for the perfect vnderſtanding and memorie of divers places and countreyes, partly deſcribed, and partly by occaſion touched, both in the old and new Teſtament.

Finally, that nothing might lack which might be brought by labours for the increaſe of knowledge and furtherance of Gods glory, there are adioyned two moſt profitable Tables, the one ſerving for the interpretation of the Ebrew names: and the other containing all the chiefe principall matters of the whole Bible: ſo that nothing (as we truſt) that any could iuſtly deſire, is omitted. Therefore, as brethren that are partakers of the ſame hope and ſalvation with us, we beſeech you, that this rich pearle and ineſtimable treaſure may not be offred in vain, but as ſent from God to the people of God, for the increaſe of his kingdome, the comfort of his Church, and diſcharge of our conſcience, whom it hath pleaſed him to raiſe up for this purpoſe, ſo you would willingly receive the word of God, earneſtly ſtudie it, and in all your life practiſe it, that ye may now appeare in deede to be the people of God, not walking any more according to this world, but in the fruites of the Spirit, that God in vs may be fully glorified, through Chriſt, Ieſus our Lord, who liveth and reigneth for ever. Amen.

Of the incomparable treaſure of the holy Scriptures, with a prayer for the true uſe of the ſame.

HEre is the ſpring where waters flowe, to quench our heate of ſinne:
Here is the tree where trueth doth grow, to leade our lives therein:
Here is the iudge that ſtints the ſtrife,
when mens devices faile:
Here is the bread that feedes the life, that death cannot aſſaile.
The tidings of ſalvation deare, comes to our eares from hence:
The fortreſſe of our faith is here, and ſhielde of our defence.
Then be not like the hogge that hath a pearle at his deſire,
And takes more pleaſure in the trough and wallowing in the mire.
Reade not this booke in any caſe,
but with a ſingle eye:
Reade not but firſt deſire Gods grace, to underſtand thereby.
Pray ſtill in faith with this reſpect,
to fructifie therein,
That knowledge may bring this effect,
to mortifie thy ſinne.
Then happy thou in all thy life,
what ſo to thee befalles.
Yea, double happie ſhalt thou be, when God by death thee calles.

OGratious God and moſt mercifull Father, which haſt vouchſafed vs the rich and precious iewell of thy holy word, aſſiſt vs with thy ſpirit, that it may be written in our hearts to our everlaſting comfort, to reform vs, to renew vs according to thine owne Image, to build vs vp, and edifie vs into the perfect building of thy Chriſt, ſanctifying and encreaſing in vs all heavenly vertues. Graunt this, O heavenly Father, for Ieſus Chriſtes ſake. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOKE OF MOSES, CALLED GENESIS.

* This word signifieth both the beginning and generation of the creatures.

THE ARGUMENT.

MOses in effect declareth three things, which are in this booke chiefly to be considered: First, that the world, and all things therein, were created by God, and that man being placed in this great Tabernacle of the world to behold Gods wonderfull workes, and to praise his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had endued him, fell willingly from God through disobedience, who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, and confirmed him in the same by his promise of Christ to come; by whom he should overcome Satan, death and hell. Secondly, that the wicked unmindfull of Gods most excellent benefits, remained still in their wickednesse, and so falling most horribly from sinne to sinne, provoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroy the whole world. Thirdly, hee assureth us by the examples of Abraham, Isaak, Iaakob, and the rest of the Patriarkes, that his mercies never faile them whom hee chuseth to be his Church, and to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he ever assisteth them, sendeth comfort, and delivereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preservation and successe thereof might be onely attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Kain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were noble in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the world: & also by the fewnesse of them, which have at all times worshipped him purely according to his word, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised, in the small flocke and little number, that man in his wisedome might be confounded, and the Name of God evermore praised.

CHAP. I.

1 God created the heaven and the earth. 3 The light and the darkenesse, 8 The firmament. 9 He separateth the water from the earth. 16 He createth the sunne, the moone, and the starres. 21 He createth the fish, birds, beasts. 26 He createth man, and giveth him rule over all creatures, 29 And provideth nouristure for man and beast.

IN the [a] beginning * God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And ‖ earth was [b] ‖ without forme and void, and [c] darkenesse was upon the † deepe, and the Spirit of God [d] mooved upon the † waters.

3 Then God said, * Let there be light: And there was [e] light.

4 And God saw the light that it was good, and God separated † the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the Light, Day, and the darkenesse he called Night. ‖ † So the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ Againe God said, * Let there be a ‖ firmament in the mids of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters.

7 Then God made the firmament, and separated the waters, which were [f] under the firmament, from the waters which were * above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, [g] Heaven. ‖ So the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ God said againe, Let * the waters under the heaven be gathered into one place, and let the dry land appeare: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land, Earth, and hee called the gathering together of the waters, Seas: and God saw that is was good.

11 Then God said, [h] Let the earth bud forth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seed, the fruitfull tree, which beareth fruite according to his kinde, which hath his seede in it selfe upon the earth: and it was so.

12 And the earth brought foorth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seede according to his kind, also the tree that beareth fruit, which hath his seed in it selfe according to his kind: and God [i] saw that it was good.

13 ‖ So the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 ¶ And God said, * Let there be [k] lights in the firmament of the heaven, to [l] separate the day from the night, and let them be for [m] signes, and for seasons, and for dayes, and yeeres.

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 God then made two great [n] lights: the greater light to [o] rule the day, and the lesse light to rule the night: he made also the starres.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven, to shine upon the earth.

18 And to * rule in the day, and in the night, and to separate the light from the darkenesse: and God saw that it was good.

19 ‖ So the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 Afterward God said, Let the waters bring c Darkenesse covered the deepe waters, for as yet the light was not created.

d He maintained the confused heap by his secret power.

* Hebr 11,3.

e The light was made before either Sunne or Moone was created: therefore wee must not attribute that to the creatures that are Gods instruments, which onely appertaineth to God. ‖ Ebr. betweene the light, and betweene the darkenes. ‖ The first day. ‖ Ebr. So was the evening, so was the morning. * Psal. 33,6. and 136 5. iere 10,12. and 51,15. ‖ Or, spreading over, and ayre. † As the sea and rivers, from those waters that are in the clouds, which are upholden by Gods power, least they should overwhelme the world. * Psal. 148,4. g That is, the region of the ayre, and all that is above us. ‖ The second day. * Psal. 33,7. and 89,11, and 136,5. iob 38,4.

h So that we see it is the onely power of Gods word that maketh the earth fruitfull, which else naturally is barren.

i This sentence is so oft repeated, to signifie that God made all his creatures to serve to his glory, and to the profit of man: but for sinne they were accursed, yea to the elect, by Christ they are restored, and serve to their wealth.

‖ The third day. * Psal. 136,7. deut. 4,19.

k By the lights he meaneth the Sunne, the Moone, and the starres.

q The fish and foules had both one beginning, wherein we see that nature giveth place to Gods will, forasmuch as the one sort is made to flie about in the ayre, and the other to swimme beneath in the water.

t This image and likenesse of God in men is expounded, Ephes.4.24. where it is written that man was created after God in righteousnesse and true holinesse, meaning by these two wordes, all perfection, as wisedome, trueth, innocencie, power, &c.

foorth in abundance every p creeping thing that hath † life: and let the foule flie upon the earth in the ‡ open firmament of the heaven.

21 Then God created the great whales, and every thing living and mooving, which the q waters brought foorth in abundance according to their kinde, and every feathered foule according to his kind: and God saw that it was good.

22 Then God r blessed them, saying, Bring foorth fruit and multiplie, and fill the waters in the seas, and let the foule multiply in the earth.

23 ‖ So the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

24 ¶ Moreover God said, Let the earth bring foorth the † living thing according to his kind, cattell, and that which creepeth, and the beast of the earth according to his kind, and it was so.

25 And God made the beast of the earth according to his kind, and the cattell according to his kinde, and every creeping thing of the earth according to his kind: and God saw that it was good.

26 Furthermore God said, * [t]Let us make man in our t image according to our likenesse, and let them rule over the fish of the sea, and over the foule of the heaven, and over the beasts, and over all the earth, and over every thing that creepeth and mooveth on the earth.

27 * Thus God created the man in his image: in the image of God created he him: he created them, * male and female.

28 And God u blessed them, and God said to them, * Bring foorth fruit, and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule over the fish of the sea, and over the foule of the heaven, and over every beast that mooveth upon the earth.

29 And God said, Behold, I have given unto you x every herbe bearing seed, which is upon all the earth, and every tree, wherein is the fruite of a tree bearing seede: * that shall be to you for meate.

30 Likewise to every beast of the earth, and to every foule of the heaven, and to every thing that mooveth upon the earth, which hath life in it selfe, every greene herbe shall be for meat, and it was so.

31 * And God saw all that hee had made, and loe, it was very good. ‖ So the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAP. II.

2 God resteth the seventh day, and sanctifieth it. 15 Hee setteth man in the garden. 22 He createth the woman. 24 Mariage is ordained.

a That is, the innumerable abundance of creatures in heaven and earth.
* Exod. 20.11. and 31.17. deut.5.14. heb 4.4.
b For he had now finished his creation, but his providence still watcheth over his creatures, and governeth them.
c Appointed it to be kept holy, that man might therein consider the excellencie of his works and Gods goodnesse toward him.

THus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the a hoste of them.

2 For in the seventh day God ended his worke which hee had made, * and the seventh day hee b rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the seventh day, and c sanctified it, because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God created and made.

4 ¶ These are the ‖ generations of the heavens and of the earth, when they were created, in the day, that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens.

5 And every ‖ plant of the fielde, before it was in the earth, and every herbe of the field, before it grew, for the Lord God had not caused it to d raine upon the earth, neither was there a man to till the ground.

6 But a mist went up from the earth, and watered all the earth.

7 ¶ The Lord God also ‖ made the man e of the dust of the ground, and breathed in his face breath of life, * and the man was a living soule.

8 And the Lord God planted a garden Eastward in f Eden, and there hee put the man whom he had made.

9 (For out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree pleasant to the sight, and good for meate: the g tree of life also in the mids of the garden, h and the tree of knowledge of good and of evill.

10 And out of Eden went a river to water the garden, and from thence it was divided, and became into foure heads.

11 The name of one is * Pishon: the same compasseth the whole land i of Havilah, where is gold.

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is ‖ Bdellium, and the Onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same compasseth the whole land of ‖ Cush.

14 And the name of the second river is ‖ Hiddekel: this goeth toward the East side of ‖ Ashur: and the fourth river is ‖ Parah)

15 ¶ Then the Lord God tooke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might k dresse it, and keepe it.

16 And the Lord God l commanded the man, saying, † Thou shalt eate freely of every tree of the garden.

17 But of the tree of knowledge of good and evill, thou shalt not eat of it: for ‖ in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt die the m death.

18 Also the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be himselfe alone: I will make him an helpe † meet for him.

19 So the Lord God formed of the earth every beast of the field, and every foule of the heaven, and brought them unto the n man to see how he would call them: for howsoever the man named the living creature, so was the name thereof.

20 The man therefore gave names unto all cattell, and to the foule of the heaven, and to every beast of the field: but for Adam found he not an helper meet for him.

21 ¶ Therefore the Lord God caused an heavie sleepe to fall upon the man, and he slept: and he tooke one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh in stead thereof.

22 And the rib which the Lord God had taken from the man, † made hee a o woman, and brought her to the man.

23 Then the man said, * This now is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh. She shalbe called ‖ woman, because she was taken out of the man.

24 * Therefore shall man leave p his father and his mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and they were not q ashamed.

d God onely openeth the heavens and shutteth them, he sendeth drought and raine according to his good pleasure.
‖ Or, formed.
e Hee sheweth whereof mans body was created, to the intent that man should not glorie in the excellencie of his own nature.

THE

THE SITUATION OF THE GARDEN OF EDEN.

Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this Chapter of the river that watered the garden, wee must note that Euphrates and Tygra, called in Hebrew, Perath and Hiddekel, were called but one river where they ioyned together, als they had foure heads: that is, two at their springs, and two where they fell into the Persian Sea. In this country and most plentifull land Adam dwelt, and this was called Paradise, that is, a garden of pleasure, because of the fruitfulnesse and abundance thereof. And whereas it is said that Pishon compasseth the land of Havilah, it is meant of Tygris, which in some countreys, as it passed by divers places was called by sundry names, as some time Uiglito, in other places Pasigres, and of some Thasin or Pishon. Likewise Euphrates toward the country of Cush or Ethiopia, or Arabia, was called Sibon. So that Tygris and Euphrates (which were but two rivers, and some time when they ioyned together, were called after one name) were according to divers places called by these foure names, so that they might seeme to have beene foure divers rivers.

CHAP. III.

1 The woman seduced by the serpent. 6 entiseth her husband to sinne. 8 They both flee from God. 14 They three are punished. 15 Christ is promised. 19 Man is dust. 22 Man is cast out of Paradise.

NOw * the serpent was more a subtill then any beast of the fielde, which the Lord God had made: and he b said to the woman, Yea, hath God indeed said, yee shall not eate of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman sayd unto the serpent, We eat of the fruite of the trees of the garden.

3 But of the fruite of the tree which is in the mids of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, c least ye die.

4 Then * the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not d ‖ die at all.

5 But God doth know that when ye shall eate thereof, your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, e knowing good and evill.

6 So the woman (seeing that the tree was good for meat, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired, to get knowledge) tooke of the fruit thereof, and did * eat, and gave also to her husband with her, and he f did eat.

7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they g knew that they were naked, and they sewed figge tree leaves together, and made themselves ‖ breeches.

‖ Or, thing) to gird about them to hide their priuities.

8 ¶ Afterward they heard the voyce of the Lord God walking in the garden in the ‖ coole of the day, and the man and his wife h hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God among the trees of the garden.

‖ Or, winde.

h The sinfull conscience flieth Gods presence.

9 But the Lord God called to the man, and sayd unto him, Where art thou?

10 Who said, I heard thy voyce in the garden and was afraid: because I was i naked, therefore I hid my selfe.

i His hypocrisie appeareth in that he hid the cause of his nakednesse, which was the transgression of Gods commandement.

11 And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eate?

k His wickednesse and lacke of true repentance appeareth in this that he burdeneth God with his fault, because he had given him a wife.

12 Then the man said, The woman which thou k gavest to be with mee, she gave mee of the tree, and I did eate.

13 And the Lord God saide to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, I The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

l In stead of confessing her sinne, shee ingreasseth it by accusing the serpent.

14 ¶ Then the Lord God saide to the serpent, m Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattell, and above every beast of the field: upon thy belly shalt thou goe, and n dust shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy life.

19 In the ſweat of thy face ſhalt thou eat bread till thou returne to the earth: for out of it waſt thou taken, becauſe thou art duſt, and to duſt ſhalt thou returne.

20 (And the man called his wives name Hevah, becauſe ſhe was the mother of all living)

21 Unto Adam alſo and to his wife did the Lord God u make coates of ſkinnes, and cloathed them.

22 ¶ And the Lord God ſaid, x Beholde, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evill. And now leaſt he put foorth his hand, and y take alſo of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever, 23 Therefore the Lord God ſent him foorth from the garden of Eden, to till the earth, whence he was taken.

24 Thus he caſt out man, and at the Eaſt ſide of the garden of Eden he ſet the Cherubims, and the blade of a ſword ſhaken, to keepe the way of the tree of life.

e Both thou and thy ſacrifice ſhalbe acceptable to me.

AFterward the man knew Hevah his wife which a conceived and bare Kain, and ſaid, I have obtained a man b by the Lord.

2 And againe ſhe brought foorth his brother Habel, and Habel was a keeper of ſheepe, and Kain was a tiller of the ground.

3 ¶ And in proceſſe of time it came to paſſe, that Kain brought an c oblation unto the Lord of the fruit of the ground.

4 And Habel alſo himſelfe brought of the firſt fruits of his ſheepe, and of the fat of them, and the Lord had reſpect unto * Habel, and to his offering.

5 But unto Kain and to his offering he had no d regard: wherefore Kain was exceeding wroth and his countenance fell downe.

6 Then the Lord ſaid unto Kain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance caſt downe?

7 If thou doe well, ſhalt thou not be e accepted? and if thou doeſt not well, ſinne lieth at the f doore: alſo unto thee his g deſire ſhalbe ſubiect, and thou ſhalt rule over him.

8 ¶ Then Kain ſpake unto Habel his brother. And * when they were in the field, Kain roſe up againſt Habel his brother, and ſlew him.

9 Then the Lord ſayd unto Kain, Where is Habel thy brother? Who anſwered, I cannot tell. h Am I my brothers keeper?

10 Againe he ſaid, What haſt thou done? the i voyce of thy brothers blood crieth unto mee, from the earth.

12 When thou ſhalt till the ground, it ſhall not hencefoorth yeeld unto thee her ſtrength: a l vagabonde and a runnagate ſhalt thou be in the earth.

15 Then the Lord ſayd unto him, Doubtleſſe whoſoever ſlayeth Kain, hee ſhall be n puniſhed ſeven folde. And the Lord ſet a o marke upon Kain, leaſt any man finding him, ſhould kill him.

16 Then Kain went out from the preſence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod toward the Eaſt ſide of Eden.

17 Kain alſo knew his wife, which conceived and bare Henoch: and he built a p citie, and called the name of the citie by the name of his ſonne, Henoch.

18 And to Henoch was borne Irad, and Irad begate Mehuiael, and Mehuiael begate Methuſhael, and Methuſhael begate Lamech.

19 ¶ And Lamech tooke to him q two wives: the name of the one vvas Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.

22 And Zillah alſo bare Tubal-kain, who wrought cunningly every craft of braſſe and of yron: and the ſiſter of Tubal-kain vvas Naamah.

23 Then Lamech ſayde unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, Heare my voyce, yee wives of Lamech, hearken unto my ſpeech: r for I would ſlay a man in my wound, and a yong man in mine hurt.

24 If Kain ſhall be avenged ſeven fold, truely Lamech ſ ſeventie times ſeven fold.

25 ¶ And Adam knew his wife againe, and ſhe bare a ſonne, and ſhee called his name Sheth: for God, ſaid ſhe, hath appointed me another ſeed for Habel, becauſe Kain ſlew him.

1 The genealogie. 5 The age and death of Adam. 6 His ſucceſſion unto Noah and his children. 20 Henoch was taken away.

THis is the ‖ booke of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created Adam, in the a likneſſe of God made he him.

2 Male and female created he them, and bleſſed them, and called their name b Adam in the day that they were created.

3 ¶ Now Adam lived an hundreth and thirtie yeeres, and begate a childe in his owne c likeneſſe after his image, and called his name Sheth.

4 * And the dayes of Adam, after he had begotten Sheth, were eight hundreth yeeres, and he begate ſonnes and daughters.

5 So all the dayes that Adam lived, were nine hundreth and thirtie yeeres, and he died.

6 And d Sheth lived an hundreth and five yeeres, and begate Enoſh.

7 And Sheth lived after he begate Enoſh, eight hundreth and ſeven yeeres, and begat ſonnes and daughters.

8 So all the dayes of Sheth were e nine hundreth and twelve yeeres: and he died.

9 ¶ Alſo Enoſh lived ninetie yeeres, and begate Kenan.

10 And Enoſh lived after hee begate Kenan, eight hundreth and fifteene yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

11 So all the dayes of Enoſh were nine hundreth and five yeeres: and he died.

12 ¶ Likewiſe Kenan lived ſeventie yeeres, and begate Mahalaleel.

13 And Kenan lived, after hee begate Mahalaleeel, eight hundreth and fourtie yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

14 So all the dayes of Kenan were nine hundreth and ten yeeres: and he died.

15 ¶ Mahalaleel alſo lived ſixtie and five yeeres, and begate Iered.

16 Alſo Mahalaleel lived, after he begate Iered, eight hundreth thirtie yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

17 So all the dayes of Mahalaleel were eight hundreth ninetie and five yeeres: and he died.

18 ¶ And Iered lived an hundreth ſixtie and two yeeres, and begate Henoch.

19 Then Iered lived, after he begate Henoch, eight hundreth yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

20 So all the dayes of Iered were nine hundreth ſixtie and two yeeres: and he died.

21 ¶ * Alſo Henoch lived ſixtie and five yeeres, and begate Methuſhelah, 22 And Henoch f walked with God after he begate Methuſhelah, three hundreth yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

23 So all the dayes of Henoch were three hundreth ſixtie and five yeeres.

24 And Henoch walked with God, and he was no more ſeene: for g God tooke him away.

25 Methuſhelah alſo lived an hundreth eightie and ſeven yeeres, and begate Lamech.

26 And Methuſhelah lived, after hee begate Lamech, ſeven hundreth eightie and two yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

27 So all the dayes of Methuſhelah were nine hundreth ſixtie and nine yeeres, and hee died.

28 ¶ Then Lamech lived an hundreth eightie and two yeeres, and begate a ſonne, 29 And called his name, Noah, ſaying, This ſame ſhall h comfort us concerning our worke and ſorrow of our hands, as touching the earth, which the Lord hath curſed.

30 And Lamech lived, after he begate Noah, five hundreth ninetie and five yeeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

31 So all the dayes of Lamech were ſeven hundreth ſeventy and ſeven yeeres: and he died.

32 And Noah was five hundreth yeere olde. And Noah begate Shem, Ham and Iapheth.

3 God threatneth to bring the flood. 5 Man is altogether corrupt. 6 God repenteth that he made him. 18 Noah and his are preſerved in the Arke, which he was commanded to make.

SO when men began to be multiplied upon the earth, and there were daughters borne unto them,

2 Then the a ſonnes of God ſaw the daughters b of men that they were c faire, and they tooke them wives of all that they ‖ liked.

3 Therefore the Lord ſayd, My ſpirit ſhall not alway d ſtrive with man, becauſe hee is but fleſh, and his dayes ſhall be an e hundreth and twenty yeeres.

4 There were ‖ giants in the earth in thoſe dayes: yea, and after that the ſonnes of God came unto the daughters of men, and they had borne them children, theſe were mighty men, which in old time were men of f renowme.

5 ¶ When the Lord ſaw that the wickednes of man was great in the earth, and all the imaginations of the thoughts of his * heart were onely evill † continually.

6 Then it g repented the Lord, that hee had made man in the earth, and hee was ſory in his heart.

7 Therefore the Lord ſayde, I will deſtroy from the earth the man, whom I have created, from man h to beaſt, to the creeping thing, and to the foule of the heaven: for I repent that I have made them.

8 But Noah i found grace in the eyes of the Lord.

11 ¶ In the sixe hundreth yeere of Noahs life, in the second moneth, the seventeenth day of the moneth, in the same day were all the [e] fountaines of the great deepe broken up, and the windowes of heaven were opened.

12 And the raine was upon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nights.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noah with Shem, and Ham, and Iapheth, the sonnes of Noah, and Noahs wife, and the three wives of his sonnes with them into the Arke.

14 They and every beast after his kinde, and all cattell after their kinde, and every thing that creepeth and mooveth upon the earth after his kinde, and every foule after his kinde, even every bird of every feather.

15 For they came to Noah into the Arke, two and two, [f] of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they entring in, came male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord [g] ‖ shut him in.

17 Then the flood was fourty dayes upon the earth, and the waters were increased, and bare up the Arke, which was lift up above the earth.

18 The waters also waxed strong, and were increased exceedingly upon the earth, and the Arke went upon the waters.

4 And in the [c] seventh moneth, in the seventeenth day of the moneth, the Arke ‖ rested upon the mountaines of ‖ Ararat.

5 And

a Not that God forgetteth his at any time, but when he sendeth succour then he sheweth that he remembreth them.
b If God remember every brute beast, what ought to be the assurance of his children?
c Which conteined part of September, and part of October.
‖ Or, stayed.
‖ Or, Armenia.

5 And the waters were going and decreasing untill the [d] tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, were the tops of the mountaines seene.

6 ¶ So † after fourtie dayes, Noah opened the window of the Arke which he had made.

7 And sent forth a ‖ raven, which went out, going forth and returning, untill the waters were dried up upon the earth.

8 Againe he sent a ‖ dove from him, that hee might see if the waters were diminished from off the earth.

9 But the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot: therefore shee returned unto him into the Arke (for the waters were upon the whole earth) and he [e] put foorth his hand, and received her, and tooke her to him into the Arke.

10 And hee aboade yet other seven dayes, and againe he sent forth the dove out of the Arke.

11 And the dove came to him in the evening, and lo in her ‖ mouth was an [f] olive leafe that she had pluckt: whereby Noah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

12 Notwithstanding, he waited yet other seven dayes, and sent foorth the dove, which returned not againe unto him any more.

13 ¶ And in the sixe hundred and one yeere, in the first day of the [g] first moneth, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noah removed the covering of the Arke, and looked, and behold, the upper part of the ground was drie.

14 And in the second moneth, in the seven and twentieth day of the moneth, was the earth drie.

15 ¶ Then God spake to Noah, saying,

16 [h] Goe forth of the Arke, thou, and thy wife, and thy sonnes, and thy sonnes wives with thee.

17 Bring foorth with thee every beast that is with thee, of all flesh, both foule and cattell, and every thing that creepeth and mooveth upon the earth, that they may breede abundantly in the earth, * and bring foorth fruit and increase upon the earth.

18 So Noah came foorth, and his sonnes, and his wife, and his sonnes wives with him.

19 Every beast, every creeping thing, and every foule, all that mooveth upon the earth, after their kindes, went out of the Arke.

20 ¶ Then Noah [i] built an altar to the Lord, and tooke of every cleane beast, and of every cleane foule, and offered burnt-offerings upon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a ‖ [k] savour of rest, and the Lord said in his heart, I will henceforth curse the ground no more for mans cause: for the imagination of mans heart is evill, even from his youth: neither will I smite any more all things living, as I have done.

22 Hereafter [l] seed time and harvest, and cold and heat, and Summer and Winter, and day and night shall not cease, so long as the earth remaineth.

1 The confirmation of marriage. 2 Mans authoritie over all creatures. 3 Permission of meats. 6 The power of the sword. 14 The rainebow is the signe of Gods promise. 21 Noah is drunken, and mocked of his sonne, whom he curseth. 29 The age and death of Noah.

A Nd God [a] blessed Noah and his sonnes, and said to them, * Bring foorth fruit, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

2 Also the [b] feare of you, and the dread of you shalbe upon every beast of the earth, and upon every foule of the heaven, upon all that mooveth on the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are they delivered.

3 Every [c] thing that mooveth and liveth, shall be meat for you: as the * greene herbe, have I given you all things.

4 * [d] But flesh with the life thereof, I meane with the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 [e] For surely I will require your blood, wherein your lives are: at the hands of every beast will I require it: and at the hand of man, even at the hande of a mans ‖ brother will I require the life of man.

6 Who so * sheddeth mans blood, [f] by man shall his blood be shed: * for in the [g] image of God hath he made man.

7 But bring ye forth fruit and multiply: grow plentifully in the earth, and increase therein.

8 ¶ God spake also to Noah and to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Behold, I, even I establish my [h] covenant with you, and with your [i] seed after you.

10 And with every living creatures that is with you, with the foule, with the cattell, and with every beast of the earth with you, from all that go out of the Arke, unto every beast of the earth.

11 * And my covenant will I establish with you, that from hencefoorth all flesh shall not be rooted out by the waters of the flood, neither shall there be a flood to destroy the earth any more.

12 Then God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make betweene mee and you, and betweene every living thing that is with you unto perpetuall generations.

13 I have set my [k] bowe in the cloude, and it shalbe for a signe of the covenant betweene mee and the earth.

14 And when * I shall cover the earth with a cloud, and the bowe shall be seene in the cloud, 15 Then will I remember my [l] covenant which is betweene me and you, and betweene every living thing in all flesh, and there shall be no more waters of a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 Therefore the bow shall be in the cloude, that I may see it, and remember the everlasting covenant betweene God and every living thing, in all flesh that is upon the earth.

17 God said yet to Noah, [m] This is the signe of the covenant, which I have established betweene me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

18 ¶ Now the sonnes of Noah going forth of the Arke, were Shem and Ham and Iapheth. And Ham is the father of Canaan.

19 These are the three sonnes of Noah, and of them was the whole earth [n] overspread.

20 ‖ Noah also began to be an husbandman, and planted a vineyard.

21 And hee drunke of the wine, and was [o] drunken, and was uncovered in the middes of his tent.

22 And when Ham the father of [p] Canaan saw the nakednesse of his father, [q] hee tolde his two brethren without.

23 Then tooke Shem and Iapheth a garment, and put it upon both their shoulders, and went backeward, and covered the nakednesse of their father, and their faces were backeward, and they saw not their father's nakednesse.

CHAP. X.

1 The increase of mankind by Noah and his sonnes. 20 The beginning of cities, countreys and nations.

NOw these are the generations of the sonnes of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Iapheth: unto whom sonnes were borne after the flood.

2 The sonnes of Iapheth were Gomer, and Magog, and [b] Madai, and Iavan, and Tubal, and Meshech and Tiras.

3 And the sonnes of Gomer, Ashkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 Also the sonnes of Iavan, Elishah and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

5 Of these were the [c] yles of the Gentiles divided in their lands, every man after his tongue, and after their families in their nations.

6 ¶ Moreover, the sonnes of Ham were [d] Cush, and Mizzarim, and Put, and Canaan.

7 And the sonnes of Cush, Seba, and Havilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtecha: also the sonnes of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

8 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be [e] mightie in the earth.

9 He was a mightie hunter before the Lord. Wherefore it is saide, [f] As Nimrod the mightie hunter before the Lord.

10 And the beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of [g] Shinar.

11 Out of that land came Asshur, and builded Nineveh and the ‖ citie Rehoboth, and Calah:

12 Resen also betweene Nineveh and Calah: this is a great citie.

13 And Mizraim begate [h] Ludim: and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim.

14 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whom came the Philistims) and ‖ Caphtorims

15 Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, and Emori, and Girgashi,

17 And Hivi, and Arki, and Sini,

18 And Aruadi, and Zemari, and Hamathi: and afterward were the families of the Canaanites spread abroad.

19 Then the border of the Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou commest to Gerar untill Azzah, and as thou goest unto Sodom and Gomorah, and Admah, and Zeboiim, even unto Latha.

20 These are the sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys, and in their nations.

21 ¶ Unto [i] Shem also the father of all the sonnes of [k] Eber, and elder brother of Iapheth were children borne.

22 * The sonnes of Shem were Elam and Asshur, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 And the sonnes of Aram, Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and Mash.

24 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.

25 Unto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth [l] divided: and his brothers name was Ioktan.

26 Then Ioktan begate Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Ierah, 27 And Hadoram, and Vzal, and Diklah,

28 And Obal, and Abimael, and Sheba,

29 And Ophir, and Havilah, and Iobab: all these were the sonnes of Ioktan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesha, as thou goest up to Sephar, a mount of the East.

31 These are the sonnes of Shem, according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys and nations.

32 These are the families of the sonnes of Noah, after their generations among their people: and ‖ out of these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

a These generations are here recited, partly to declare the marvelous increase in so small a time and also to set forth their great forgetfulnesse of Gods grace towards their fathers
b Of Madai and Iauan came the Medes and Greekes
c The Iewes so call all countreyes which are separated from them by sea, as Grecia, Italie, &c which were given to the children of Iapheth, of whom came the Gentiles d Of Cush and Mizraim came the Ethiopians and Egyptians.
e Meaning, a cruell oppressor and tyrant.
f His tyrannie came into a proverbe as hated both of God and man: for he passed not to commit crueltie even in Gods presence.
g For there was another citie in Egypt, called also Babel.
‖ Or, the streetes of the citie.
h Of Lud came the Lydians.
‖ Or, the Cappadocians.
i In his stocke the Church was preserved: therefore Moses leaveth off speaking of Iapheth and Ham, and intreateth of Shem more at large.
k Of whom came the Ebrewes or Iewes.
* 1.Chron.1.17.
l This division came by the diversitie of languages, as appeareth, Chap.11.9.
‖ Or, of these came divers nations.

CHAP. XI.

6 The building of Babel was the cause of the confusion of tongues. 10 The age and generation of them unto Abram. 31 Abrams departure from Vr with his father Terah, Sarai and Lot. 32 The age and death of Terah.

THen the whole earth was of one * language and one speech.

2 And [a] as [b] they went from the [c] East, they found a plaine in the land of [d] Shinar, and there they aboade.

3 And they said one to another, Come, let us make bricke and burne it in the fire, so they had bricke for stone, and slime had they in stead of morter.

4 Also they said, Goe to, let us [e] builde us a citie and a tower, whose top may reach unto the heaven, that wee may get us a name, least wee be scattered upon the whole earth.

5 But the Lord [f] came downe, to see the citie and tower which the sonnes of men builded.

6 And the Lord said, [g] Behold, the people is one, and they all have one language, and this they begin to doe, neither can they now be stopped from whatsoever they have imagined to doe.

7 Come on, [h] let us goe downe, and [i] there confound their language, that every one perceive not anothers speach.

8 So the Lord scattered them from thence upon all the earth, and they left off to build the citie.

9 Therefore the name of it was called ‖ Babel, because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: from thence then did the Lord scatter them upon all the earth.

10 ¶ These are the generations [k] of Shem: Shem was an hundred yeere olde, and begate Arpachshad two yeere after the flood.

* Wisd.10.5.
a In the yeere an hundreth and thirty after the flood.
b To wit, Nimrod and his company.
c That is, from Armenia where the Arke stayed.
d Which was afterward called Caldea.
e They were mooved with pride and ambition, thinking to preferre their owne glory to Gods honour.
f Meaning, that he declared by effect, that hee knew their wicked enterprise: for Gods power is every where, and doth neither ascend nor descend.
g God speaketh this in derision, because of their foolish perswasion and enterprise.
h He speaketh as though he tooke counsell with his owne wisedome and power: to wit, with the Sonne and holy Ghost: signifying the greatnesse and certaintie of the punishment.
i By this great plague of the confusion of tongues appeareth Gods horrible iudgement against mans pride and vaine glory.
‖ Or, confusion.
* 1.Chron.1.17.
k He returneth to the genealogie of Shem, to come to the historie of Abram, wherein the Church of God is described, which is Moses principall purpose.

11 And

11 And Shem liued after hee begate Arpachshad fiue hundreth yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

12 Also Arpachshad lived five & thirty yeeres, and begate Shelah.

13 And Arpachshad lived after he begate Shelah, foure hundreth and three yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

14 And Shelah lived thirty yeeres, and begate Eber.

15 So Shelah lived after he begate Eber foure hundreth and three yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

16 Likewise Eber lived foure and thirty yeeres, and begate Peleg.

17 So Eber lived after he begate Peleg foure hundreth and thirty yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

18 And Peleg lived thirty yeeres, and begate Reu.

* 1.*Chron.*1.25. 19 * And Peleg lived after he begate Reu two hundreth and nine yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 Also Reu lived two and thirty yeeres, and begate Serug.

21 So Reu lived after he begate Serug two hundreth and seuen yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

22 Moreover Serug lived thirty yeeres, and begate Nahor.

* 1.*Chron.*1.26. *Ioſh.*24 2. l He maketh mention first of Abram, nor becauſe he was the first borne, but for the historie which properly apperteineth unto him. Also Abram at the confusion of tongue, was 48. yeeres old, for in the destruction of Sodom he was 99. And it was destroyed 52 yeeres after the confusion of tongues.

23 And Serug lived after he begat Nahor two hundreth yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

24 And Nahor lived nine and twentie yeeres, and begate Terah.

25 So Nahor lived after he begate Terah, an hundreth and nineteene yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

26 * So Terah lived seuenty yeeres, and begate Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Terah: Terah begate l Abram, Nahor, and Haran: and Haran begate Lot.

28 Then Haran died before Terah his father in the land of his nativitie, in Ur of † the Caldees.

29 So Abram and Nahor tooke them wives: The name of Abrams wife was Sarai, and the name of Nahors wife Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of m Iscah.

† Ebr. Caſdim. m Some thinke that this Iscah was Sarai.

30 But Sarai was barren, and had no childe.

31 Then n Terah tooke Abram his sonne, and Lot the sonne of Haran his sonnes sonne, and Sarai his daughter in law, his sonne Abrams wife: and they departed together from Ur of the Caldees, to * goe into the land of Canaan, and they came to o Haran, and dwelt there.

n Albeit the oracle of God came to Abram, yet the honour is giuen to Terah, because he was the father.

* *Ioſ.*24 2. *nehe.*9 7. indeu 5.7. actes 7.4. o Which was a citie of Mesopotamia.

32 So the dayes of Terah were two hundreth and fiue yeeres, and Terah died in Haran.

CHAP. XII.

1 Abram by Gods commandement goeth to Canaan. 3 Christ is promised. 7 Abram buildeth Altars for exercise and declaration of his faith among the infidels. 10 Because of the dearth he goeth into Egypt. 15 Pharaoh taketh his wife, and is punished.

FOr the Lord had sayd unto Abram, * a Get thee out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, and from thy fathers house unto b the land that I will shew thee.

* Actes 7.3. a From the flood to this time were foure hundreth twenty and three yeeres. b In appointing him no certaine place, he prooveth so much more his faith and obedience.

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and will blesse thee, and make thy name great, and thou shalt be c a blessing.

c The world shall recouer by thy seede, which is Christ, the blessing which they lost in Adam.

3 I will also blesse them that blesse thee, and curse them that curse thee, and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

4 So Abram departed, even as the Lord spake unto him, and Lot went with him, (and Abram was seuenty and fiue yeeres olde, when he departed out of Haran) d Meaning as well seruants as cattell.

5 Then Abram tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they possessed, and the d soules that they had gotten in Haran, and they departed to goe to the land of Canaan, and to the land of Canaan they came.

e He wandred to and fro in the land before he could finde a setling place: thus God exerciseth the faith of his children.

6 ¶ So Abram e passed through the land unto the place of Shechem, and unto the ‖ plaine of Moreh (and the f Cananite was then in the land)

f Which was a cruell and rebellious nation, by whom God kept his in continuall exercise.

7 And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seede will I give this land. And there builded he g an altar unto the Lord, which appeared unto him.

g It was not enough for him to worship God in his heart, but it was expedient to declare by outward profession his faith before men, whereof this altar was a signe.

8 Afterward remooving h thence unto a mountaine Eastward from Beth-el, he pitched his tent having Beth-el on the West side, and Haai on the East, and there he built an i altar unto the Lord, and called on the Name of the Lord.

h Because of the troubles that he had among that wicked people. i And so returned the true God, and renounced all idolatrie.

9 k Againe Abram went foorth going and iourneying toward the South.

10 ¶ Then there came a l famine in the land: therefore Abram went downe into Egypt to sojourne there: for there was a great famine in the land.

k Thus the children of God may looke for no rest in this world, but must waite for the heauenly rest and quietnesse. l This was a new triall of Abrams faith: whereby we see that the end of one affliction is the beginning of another.

11 And when hee drew neere to enter into Egypt, he said to Sarai his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a faire woman to looke upon:

12 Therefore it will come to passe that when the Egyptians see thee, they will say, She is his wife: so will they kill me, but they will keepe thee alive.

13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my m sister, that I may fare well for thy sake, and that my † life may be preserved by thee.

m By this we may learne not to vse vnlawfull meanes, nor to put others in danger to saue our selues, reade verse 20. albeit it may appeare that Abram feared not so much death, as that if he should die without issue, Gods promise should not haue taken place: wherein appeared a weake faith. † Ebr. that my soule may liue.

14 ¶ Now when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the Princes of Pharaoh saw her, and commended her unto Pharaoh: so the woman was n taken into Pharaohs house:

n To his intent.

16 Who intreated Abram well for her sake, and he had sheepe, and beeves, and hee asses, and men servants, and maide servants, and thee asses, and camels.

17 But the Lord o plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrams wife.

o The Lord tooke the defence of this poore stranger against a mightie king: and as he is euer carefull ouer his, so did he preserue Sarai.

18 Then Pharaoh called Abram, and sayd, Why hast thou done this unto mee? Wherefore diddest thou not tell me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saydest thou, She is my sister, that I should take her to be my wife? Now therefore behold thy wife, take her and goe thy way.

20 And Pharaoh gave men p commandement concerning him: and they conveyed him forth and his wife, and all that he had.

p To the intent that none should hurt him either in his person or goods.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abram departeth out of Egypt. 4 Hee calleth upon the Name of the Lord. 11 Lot departeth from him. 13 The wickedwickednesse of the Sodomites. 14 The promise made to Abram is renewed. 18 Abram buildeth an altar to the Lord.

a His great riches gotten in Egypt, hindreth him not to follow his vocation.

THen a Abram went up from Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him toward the South.

2 And Abram was very rich in cattell, in silver and in gold.

3 And he went on his iourney from the South toward b Beth-el, to the place where his tent had beene at the beginning, betweene Beth-el and Haai, b He calleth the place by that name which was after giuen vnto it, Chap. 28. 19.

4 Vnto the place of the * altar, which he had made there at the first: And there Abram called on the Name of the Lord.

* Chap. 12. 7.

5 ¶ And Lot also, who went with Abram, had sheepe, and cattell and tents.

c This incommodity came by their riches, which brake friendship and as it were the bound of nature.

6 So that the land could not c beare them, that they might dwell together: for their * substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.

* Chap. 36. 7.

7 Also there was debate betweene the heardmen of Abrams cattell, and the heardmen of Lots cattell, (and the d Canaanites and the Perizzites dwelleth at that time in the land.)

d Who seeing their contention, might blaspheme God and destroy them.

8 Then sayd Abram unto Lot, Let there be no e strife, I pray thee, betweene thee and me, neither betweene mine herdmen and thine herdmen: for we be brethren.

e He cutteth off the occasion of contention: therefore the evill ceaseth.

9 Is not the whole land before thee? depart I pray thee from me: if thou wilt f take the left hand, then I will goe to the right: or if thou goe to the right hand, then I will take the left.

f Abram refuseth his owne right to buy peace.

10 So when Lot lifted up his eyes, he saw that all the plaine of Iorden was watered euery where (for before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorah, it was as the g garden of the Lord like the land of Egypt, as thou goest unto Zoar.)

g Which was in Eden, Chap. 2. 10.

11 Then Lot chose unto him all the plaine of Iorden, and tooke his iourney from the East: and they departed the h one from the other.

h This was done by Gods providence, that onely Abram and his seede might dwell in the land of Canaan.

12 Abram dwelled in the land of Canaan, and Lot aboade in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent even unto Sodom.

i Lot thinking to get paradise, found hell.

13 Now the men of Sodom were wicked and exceeding i sinners against the Lord.

k The Lord comforted him, least he should have taken thought for the departure of his nephew.

14 ¶ Then the Lord sayd unto k Abram, (after that Lot was departed from him) Lift up thine eyes now, and looke from the place where thou art, Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and Westward:

* Chap. 12. 7. and 15. 7. 18. and 26. 4. Deut. 34. 4.

15 For all * the land which thou seest, will I give unto thee, and to thy seede for l ever.

17 Arise, walke thorow the land, in the length thereof, and bredth thereof: for I will give it unto thee.

18 Then Abram remooved his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Mamre, which is in Hebron, and builded there an altar unto the Lord.

WHen Abram was ninety yeere old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and ſayd vnto him, I am God ‖ allſufficient, * walke before me, and be thou vpright,

2 And I will make my covenant betweene me and thee, and I will multiply thee exceedingly.

3 Then Abram fell on his face, and God talked with him, ſaying,

4 Behold, I make my covenant with thee, and thou ſhalt be a a father of many nations,

5 Neither ſhall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name ſhall be b Abraham: * for a father of many nations have I made thee.

6 Alſo I will make thee exceeding fruitfull, and will make nations of thee, yea, Kings ſhall proceed of thee.

7 Moreover, I will eſtabliſh my covenant betweene mee and thee, and thy ſeede after thee in their generations, for an * everlaſting covenant, to be God vnto thee, and to thy ſeed after thee.

8 And I will give thee and thy ſeed after thee the land, wherein thou art a ſtranger, even all the land of Canaan, for an everlaſting poſſeſſion, and I will be their God.

9 ¶ Againe God ſayd vnto Abram, Thou alſo ſhalt keepe my covenant, thou, and thy ſeede after thee in their generations.

10 c This is my covenant which ye ſhall keep betweene me and you, and thy ſeed after thee, * Let every man-childe among you be circumciſed:

11 That is, yee ſhall circumciſe the d foreſkin of your fleſh, and it ſhall be a * ſigne of the covenant betweene me and you.

12 And euery man childe of eighth dayes olde among you, ſhall be circumciſed in your generations, aſwell he that is borne in thine houſe, as he that is bought with money of any ſtranger, which is not of thy ſeed.

13 He that is borne in thine houſe, and he that is bought with thy money, muſt needs be circumciſed: ſo my covenant ſhall be in your fleſh for an everlaſting covenant.

16 And I will bleſſe her, and will alſo giue thee a ſonne of her, yea, I will bleſſe her, and thee ſhall be the mother of nations: Kings alſo of people ſhall come of her.

17 Then Abraham fell vpon his face, and f laughed, and ſayd in his heart, Shall a childe be borne vnto him, that is an hundred yeere olde? and ſhall Sarah that is ninetie yeere olde, beare?

18 And Abraham ſayd vnto God, Oh, that Iſhmael might liue in thy ſight.

19 Then God ſayd, * Sarah thy wife ſhall beare thee a ſonne indeed, and thou ſhalt call his name Izhak: and I will eſtabliſh my covenant with him for an g everlaſting covenant, and with his ſeed after him.

20 And as concerning Iſhmael, I haue heard thee: loe, I haue bleſſed him, and will make him fruitfull, and will multiply him † exceedingly: twelue princes ſhall hee beget, and I will make a great nation of him.

21 But my covenant will I eſtabliſh with Izhak, which Sarah ſhall beare vnto thee, the next * yeere at this ſeaſon.

23 ¶ Then Abraham tooke Iſmael his ſonne, and all that were borne in his houſe, and all that was bought with his money, that is, every man-childe among the men of Abrahams houſe, and h hee circumciſed the foreſkin of their fleſh in that ſelfe ſame day, as God had commanded him.

19 For I know him [i] that he will commaund his sonnes and his houshold after him, that they keepe the way of the Lord to doe righteousnesse and iudgement, that the Lord may bring upon Abraham, that he hath spoken unto him.

29 And he yet spake to him againe, and sayd, What if there shalbe found fourtie there? Then he answered, I will not doe it for fourties sake.

30 Againe he sayd, Let not my Lord now be angry that I speake, What if thirty be found there? Then he sayd, I will not doe it, if I find thirtie there.

31 Moreover he sayd, Behold now, I have begun to speake unto my Lord, What if twentie be found there? And he answered, I will not destroy it for twenties sake.

17 ¶ And when they had brought him out, the Angel sayd, Escape for thy life: [i] looke not behinde thee, neither tarie thou in all the plaine: escape into the mountaine, least thou be destroyed.

18 And Lot sayd unto them, Not so, I pray thee, my Lord.

19 Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto mee in saving my life: and I cannot escape in the mountaine, least some evill take me, and I die.

20 See now this citie hereby to flee unto, which is a little one: Oh let me escape thither: is it not a [k] little one, and my soule shall live?

21 Then he sayd unto him, Behold, I have received † thy request also concerning this thing, that I will not overthrow this citie, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Haste thee, save thee there: for I can doe nothing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the citie was called [m] Zoar.

23 ¶ The sunne did rise upon the earth, when Lot entred in Zoar.

24 Then the Lord * rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorah, brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven.

25 And overthrew those cities, and all the plaine, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that that grew upon the earth.

26 ¶ Now his wife behind him looked backe, and she became a [n] pillar of salt.

27 ¶ And Abraham rising up early in the morning, went to the place, where he had stood before the Lord.

28 And looking toward Sodom and Gomorah, and toward all the land of the plaine, behold, hee saw the smoke of the land mounting up as the smoke of a fornace.

29 ¶ But yet when God destroyed the cities of the plaine, God thought upon Abraham, and sent Lot out from the middes of the destruction, when hee overthrewe the cities wherein Lot dwelled.

30 ¶ Then Lot went up from Zoar, and dwelt in the mountaine with his two daughters: for he [o] feared to tarie in Zoar, but dwelt in a cave, hee and his two daughters.

31 And the elder sayd unto the yonger, Our father is olde, and there is not a man in the [p] earth to come in unto us after the manner of all the earth.

32 Come, wee will make our father [q] drinke wine, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

33 So they made their father drinke wine that night, and the elder went and lay with her father: but he perceived not, neither when she lay down, neither when she rose up.

34 And on the morrow the elder sayd to the yonger, Behold, yesternight lay I with my father: let us make him drinke wine this night also, and goe thou and lie with him, that wee may † preserve seede of our father.

35 So they made their father drinke wine that night also, and the yonger arose, and lay with him: but he perceived it not, when she lay downe, neither when she rose up.

36 Thus were [r] both the daughters of Lot with childe by their father.

37 And the elder bare a sonne, and she called his name Moab: the same is the father of the [f] Moabites unto this day.

38 And the yonger bare a sonne also, and shee called his name [t] Ben-ammi: the same is the father of the Ammonites unto this day.

CHAP. XX.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerar. 2 Abimelech taketh away his wife. 3 God reproveth the king, 9 and the king Abraham. 11 Sarah is restored with great gifts. 17 Abraham prayeth, and the king and his are healed.

AFterward Abraham departed thence toward the South countrey, and dwelled betweene Cadesh and [a] Shur, and soiourned in Gerar.

2 And Abraham sayd of Sarah his wife, [b] She is my sister. Then Abimelech king of Gerar sent and tooke Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night, and sayd to him, Behold, [c] thou art but dead, because of the woman, which thou hast taken: for she is a mans wife.

4 (Notwithstanding Abimelech had not yet come neere her) And he sayd, Lord, wilt thou slay even [d] the righteous nation?

5 Said not he unto me, She is my sister? yea, and she herselfe sayd, He is my brother: with an upright [e] minde, and [f] innocent handes have I done this.

6 And God sayd unto him by a dreame, I know that thou diddest this even with an upright minde, and I [g] kept thee also that thou shouldest not sinne against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her.

7 Now then deliver the man his wife againe: for he is a [h] Prophet, and he [i] shall pray for thee that thou mayest live: but if thou deliver her not againe, be sure that thou shalt die the death, thou, and all that thou hast.

8 Then Abimelech rising up early in the morning, called all his servants, and tolde all these things † unto them, and the men were sore afraid.

9 Afterward Abimelech called Abraham, and sayd unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me, and on my [k] kingdome this great sinne? thou hast done things unto me that ought not to be done.

10 So Abimelech sayd unto Abraham, What sawest thou that thou hast done this thing?

11 Then Abraham answered, Because I thought thus, Surely the [l] feare of God is not in this place, and they will slay me for my wives sake.

12 Yet in very deede she is my [m] sister: for she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and she is my wife.

13 Now when God caused me to wander out of my fathers house, I sayd then to her, This is thy kindnesse that thou shalt shew unto me in all places where we come, * Say thou of me, He is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheepe and beeves, and men servants, and women servants, and gave them unto Abraham, and restored him Sarah his wife.

15 And Abimelech sayd, Behold, my land is ‖ before thee, dwell where it pleaseth thee.

1: Izhak is borne. 9 Ishmael mocketh Izhak. 14 Hagar is cast out with her sonne. 17 The Angel comforteth Hagar. 22 The covenant between Abimelech and Abraham. 33 Abraham called upon the Lord.

NOw the Lord visited Sarah, as hee had said, and did unto her * according as he had promised.

2 For * Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a sonne in his a olde age, at the same season that God told him.

3 And Abraham called his sonnes name that was borne unto him, which Sarah bare him, Izhak.

4 Then Abraham circumcised Izhak his sonne, when he was eight dayes old, * as God had commanded him.

5 So Abraham was an hundreth yeere olde, when his sonne Izhak was borne unto him.

6 ¶ Then Sarah said, God hath made mee to reioyce: all that heare, will reioyce with me.

7 Againe shee said, b Who would have said to Abraham, that Sarah should have given children sucke? for I have borne him a sonne in his old age.

8 Then the child grew and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast that same day that Izhak was weaned.

9 ¶ And Sarah sawe the sonne of Hagar the Egyptian (which she had borne unto Abraham) c mocking.

10 Wherefore she said unto Abraham, * Cast out this bondwoman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bondwoman shall not be heire with my sonne Izhak.

11 And this thing was very grievous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 ¶ But God said unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight for the childe, and for thy bondwoman: in all that Sarah shall say unto thee, heare her voyce: for in Izhak shall thy seede be d called.

13 As for the sonne of the bondwoman, I will make him e a nation also, because he is thy seed.

14 So Abraham arose up early in the morning and tooke bread, and a bottell of water, and gave it unto Hagar putting it on her shoulder, and the childe also, and f sent her away: who departing, wandered in the wildernesse of Beer-sheba.

15 And when the water of the bottell was spent, she cast the child under a certaine tree.

16 Then shee went and sate her over against him a farre off about a bow shoot: for shee sayd, I will not see the death of the childe. And she sate downe over against him, and lift up her voyce, and wept.

17 Then God g heard the voyce of the childe, and the Angel of God called to Hagar from heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? feare not, for God hath heard the voyce of the child where he is.

18 Arise, take up the childe, and holde him in thine hande: for I will make of him a great people.

19 And God h opened her eyes, and shee saw a well of water: so shee went and filled the bottell with water, and gave the boy drinke.

20 So God was i with the child, and he grew and dwelt in the wildernesse, and was an ‖ archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wildernesse of Paran, and his mother tooke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And at the same time Abimelech and Phichol his chiefe captain spake unto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest.

23 Now therefore sweare unto mee here by God, that thou wilt not † hurt mee, nor my children, nor my childrens children: thou shalt deale with me, and with the countrey, where thou hast beene a stranger, according unto the kindnes that I have shewed thee.

24 Then Abraham sayd, I will k sweare.

25 And Abraham rebuked Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelechs servants had violently taken away.

26 And Abimelech said, I know not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest me not, neither heard I of it but this day.

27 Then Abraham tooke sheepe and beeves, and gave them unto Abimelech: and they two made a covenant.

28 And Abraham set seven lambs of the flocke by themselves.

29 Then Abimelech sayd unto Abraham, What meane these seven lambes, which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he answered, Because thou shalt receive of mine hand these seven lambes, that it may be a witnesse unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore the place is called ‖ Beer-sheba, because there they both sware.

32 Thus made they a m covenant at Beer-sheba: afterward Abimelech and Phichol his chiefe captaine rose up, and turned againe unto the land of the Philistims.

33 ¶ And Abraham planted a grove in Beer-sheba, and n called there on the Name of the Lord, the everlasting God.

1 Abraham lamenteth the death of Sarah. 4 He buyeth a field to bury her, of the Hittites. 13 The equitie of the bargain. 19 Sarah is buried in Machpelah.

a That is, when he had mourned: ſo the godly may mourne, if they paſſe not meaſure: and the naturall affection is commendable.

4 I am a ſtranger, and a forreiner among you: give me a poſſeſſion of buriall with you, that I may bury my dead out of my ſight.

10 (For Ephron dwelt among the Hittites) Then Ephron the Hittite anſwered Abraham in the audience of all the Hittites that c went in at the gates of his citie, ſaying, c Meaning, all the citizens and inhabitants.

11 No, my lord, heare me: the field give I thee and the cave that therein is, I give it thee; even in the preſence of the ſonnes of my people give I it thee to bury thy dead.

12 Then Abraham a bowed himſelfe before the people of the land, d To ſhew that he had them in good eſtimation and reverence.

13 And ſpake unto Ephron in the audience of the people of the countrey, ſaying, Seeing thou wilt give it, I pray thee, heare me, I will give the price of the field: receive it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 Ephron then anſwerd Abraham, ſaying unto him,

15 My lord, hearken unto mee: the land is worth foure hundreth e ſhekels of ſilver: what is that betweene mee and thee? bury therefore thy dead.

e The common ſhekel is about 20 pence, ſo then 400. ſhekels mount to 33 pound 6 ſhillings and 8 pence after 5 ſhilling ſterling the ounce.

16 So Abraham hearkened unto Ephron, and Abraham weighed to Ephron the ſilver, which hee had named, in the audience of the Hittites, even foure hundreth ſilver ſhekels of currant money among marchants.

17 ¶ So the fielde of Ephron which was in Machpelah, and over againſt Mamre, even the field and the cave that was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, which were in all the borders round about, was made ſure

‖ Or, citizens.

19 And after this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the fielde of Machpelah over againſt Mamre: the ſame is Hebron in the land of Canaan.

18 And ſhe ſaid, Drinke ‖ ſir: and ſhe haſted, and let downe her pitcher upon her hand and gaue him drinke.

21 So the man wondred at her, and helde his peace, to knowe whether the Lord had made his iourney proſperous or not.

22 And when the camels had left drinking, the man tooke a golden ‖ k abillement of l halfe a ſhekell weight, and two bracelets for her hands, of ten ſhekels weight of golde:

25 Moreover ſhe ſaid unto him, We have litter alſo & provender ynough, and roume to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed himſelfe and worſhipped the Lord,

28 And the maide ranne and tolde them of her mothers houſe according to theſe wordes.

31 And he ſaide, Come in thou bleſſed of the Lord: wherefore ſtandeſt thou without, ſeeing I have prepared the houſe, & roume for the camels?

32 ¶ Then the man came into the houſe, and o he unſadled the p camels, and brought litter and provender for the camels, and water to waſh his feete, and the mens feete that were with him.

33 Afterward the meate was ſet before him: but he ſayde, I q will not eate, untill I have ſayde my meſſage. And he ſaid: Speake on.

34 Then he ſaid, I am Abrahams ſervant,

36 And Sarah my maſters wife hath borne a ſonne to my maſter, when ſhe was olde, and unto him hath he given all that he hath.

37 Now my maſter made me ſweare, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not take a wife to my ſonne of the daughters of ỹ Canaanites, in whoſe land I dwell:

38 But thou ſhalt go unto my t fathers houſe and to my kinred, and take a wife unto my ſonne.

39 Then I ſaide unto my maſter, What if the woman will not follow me?

Lord, the God of my master Abraham, if thou now prosper my * iourney which I goe.

43 Behold, * I stand by the well of water when a virgine commeth foorth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drinke.

44 And she sayd to me, Drinke thou, and I will also drawe for thy camels, let her be the wife, which the Lord hath * prepared for thy masters sonne.

45 And before I had made an end of speaking in mine x heart, behokle, Rebekah came forth and her pitcher on her shoulder, and shee went downe to the well, and drewe water. Then I sayd unto her, Give me drinke, I pray thee.

46 And she made haste, and tooke downe her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drinke, and I will give thy camels drinke also. So I dranke, and she gave the camels drinke also.

47 Then I asked her, and saide, Whose daughter art thou? And she answered, The daughter of Bethuel Nahors sonne, whom Milcah bare unto him. Then I put the abillement upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands:

48 y And I bowed downe and worshipped the Lord, and blessed the Lord God of my master Abraham, which had brought me the * right way to take my masters brothers daughter unto his sonne.

49 Now therefore, if ye will deale z mercifully and truely with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me, that I may turne me to the a right hand or to the left.

50 Then answered Laban and Bethuel, and said, b This thing is proceeded of the Lord: wee cannot therefore say unto thee, neither evill nor good, 51 Beholde, Rebekah is * before thee, take her and goe, that she may be thy masters sonnes wife, even as the Lord hath * said.

52 And when Abrahams servants heard their wordes, he bowed himselfe toward the earth unto the Lord.

53 Then the servant tooke forth iewels of silver, and iewels of golde, and raiment, and gave to Rebekah: also unto her brother and to her mother he gave gifts.

54 Afterward they did eate and drinke, both he, and the men that were with him, and taried all night, and when they rose up in the morning, he said, * Let me depart unto my master.

55 Then her brother and her mother answered, Let the maide abide with us, at the least * ten dayes: then shall she goe.

56 But he said unto them, Hinder you me not, seeing the Lord hath prospered my iourney: send me away, that I may goe to my master.

57 Then they said, We will call the maide, and aske c her consent.

58 And they called Rebekah, and seyde unto her: Wilt thou goe with this man? And shee answered, I will goe.

59 So they let Rebekah their sister goe, and her nourse, with Abrahams servant and his men.

60 And they blessed Rebekah, and saide unto her, Thou art our sister, growe into thousand thousands, and thy seede possesse the d gate of his enemies.

61 ¶ Then Rebekah arose, and her maydes, and rode upon the camels, and followed the man, and the servant tooke Rebekah and departed.

62 Now Izhak came from the way of * Beer-lahai-roi, (for he dwelt in the South countrey.)

63 And Izhak went out to e pray in the field toward the evening: who lift up his eies and looked, and behold, the camels came.

64 Also Rebekah lift up her eies, and when she saw Izhak, she lighted down from the camel.

65 (For shee had said to the servant, Who is yonder man, that commeth in the field to meete us? and the servant had saide, It is my master) So she tooke f a vaile, and covered her.

66 And the servant told Izhak all things that he had done.

67 Afterward Izhak brought her into the tent, of Sarah his mother, and he tooke Rebekah, and she was his wife, and he loued her: So Izhak was comforted after his mothers death.

e Or shewing some familiar figure of loue, whereby it might be knowen that she was his wife.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife, and he sayd, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest, sayd he, the men of the place should kill me, because of Rebekah, for she was beautifull to the eye.

8 So after he had bene there long time, Abimelech King of the Philistims looked out at a window, and lo, he saw Izhak d sporting with Rebekah his wife.

f In all ages men were perswaded that Gods vengeance should light upon wedlocke breakers.

9 Then Abimelech called Izhak, and sayde, Lee, she is e surely thy wife, and why saydst thou, She is my sister? To whom Izhak answered, Because I thought this, It may be that I shall die for her.

10 Then Abimelech sayd, Why hast thou done this unto us? one of the people had almost lien by thy wife, so shouldest thou have brought f sinne upon us.

13 And the man waxed mightily, and ‖ still increased, till he was exceeding great.

14 For he had flocks, of sheepe, and heards of cattle, and a mighty household: therefore the Philistims had g envie at him.

g The malicious envy alwayes the graces of God in others.

15 Insomuch that the Philistims stopped, and filled up with earth all the wels, which his fathers servants digged in his father Abrahams time.

16 Then Abimelech saide unto Izhak, Get thee from us, for thou art mightier then wee a great deale.

k The Ebrew word ‖ signifieth a flood, or valley, where water at any time runneth.

17 ¶ Therefore Izhak departed thence and pitched his rent in the k valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

18 And Izhak returning, digged the wells of water, which they had digged in the dayes of Abraham his father, for the Philistims had stopped them after the death of Abraham, and he gave them the same names, that his father gave them.

‖ Or, springing.

19 Izhaks servants then digged in the valley and found there a well of ‖ living water.

‖ Or, contention or strife.

20 But the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Izhaks herdmen, saying, The water is ours, therefore called he the name of the well ‖ Esek, because they were at strife with him.

‖ Or, hated.

21 Afterward they digged another well, and strove for that also, and he called the name of it ‖ Sitnah.

‖ Or, large or free roome.

22 Then he remooved thence, and digged another well, for which they strove not: therefore called he the name of it ‖ Rehoboth, and said, Because the Lord hath now made us roome, we shall increase upon the earth.

23 So he went up thence to Beer-sheba.

i God assureth Izhak against all feare by rehearsing the promise made to Abraham.

24 And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and sayd, I am the God i of Abraham thy father: feare not, I am with thee, and will blesse thee, and multiply thy seede for my servant Abrahams sake.

k To signifie that he would serve none other God, but the God of his father Abraham.

25 Then he built an k altar there, and called upon the Name of the Lord, and there spred his tent: where also Izhaks servants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then came Abimelech to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath one of his friends, and Phichol the captaine of his armie.

27 To whome Izhak said, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me and have put mee away from you?

28 Who answered, Wee sawe certainely that the Lorde was with thee, and wee thought thus, Let there be now an oathe betweene us, even betweene us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee.

‖ The Ebrewes in swearing beginne commonly with If, and understand the rest, that is, that God shall punish him that breaketh the oath: here the wicked shew that they are afraid least that come to them which they would do to other.

29 If thou shalt doe us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and sent thee away in peace: thou now, the blessed of the Lord, doest so.

30 Then he made them a feast, and they did eate and drinke.

A Nd when Izhak was olde, and his eyes were dimme (so that he could not see) hee called Esau his eldest sonne, and sayde unto him, My sonne. And he answered him, ‡ I am here.

5 (Now Rebekah heard, when Izhak spake to Esau his sonne) and Esau went into the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ Then Rebekah spake unto Iaakob her sonne, saying, Beholde, I have heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, saying,

7 Bring mee venison, and make mee savourie meate, that I may eate and blesse thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Now therefore, my sonne, heare my voyce in that which I command thee.

b This fubtilitie is blame worthie, because she should have tarried till God had performed his promise.

9 b Get thee now to the flocke, and bring me thence two good kids of the goates, that I may make pleasant meate of them for thy father, such as he loveth.

10 Then thou shalt bring it to thy father, and he shall eate, to the intent that he may blesse thee before his death.

11 But Iaakob sayde to Rebekah his mother, Beholde, Esau my brother is rough, and I am smooth.

12 My father may possibly feele me, and I shall seeme * to him to be a ‖ mocker: so shall I bring a curse upon me, and not a blessing.

‖ Or, I will take the danger on me.

14 So he went and fet them, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made pleasant meat, such as his father loved.

c The assurance of Gods decree made her bold.

15 And Rebekah tooke faire cloathes of her elder sonne Esau, which were in her house, and clothed Iaakob her yonger sonne:

16 And she covered his hands and the smooth of his necke with the skinnes of the kiddes of the goates.

17 Afterward she put the pleasant meate and bread, which she had prepared, in the hand of her sonne Iaakob.

18 ¶ And when he came to his father, he said, My father. Who answered, I am heere: who art thou, my sonne?

19 And Iaakob sayde to his father, d I am Esau thy first borne; I have done as thou badest me, arise, I pray thee: sit up and eate of my venison, that thy soule may blesse me.

d Although Iaakob was assured of this blessing by faith: yet he did evill to seeke it by lies, and the more because he abuseth Gods name thereunto.

20 Then Izhak said unto his sonne, How hast thou founde it so quickly my sonne? Who sayd, Because the Lord thy God brought it to mine hand.

21 Againe sayde Izhak unto Iaakob, Come neere now, that I may feele thee, my sonne, whether thou be that my sonne Esau, or not.

22 Then Iaakob came neere to Izhak his father, and he felt him, and sayd, The e voyce is Iaakobs voyce, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

e This declareth that he suspected some thing, yet God would not have his decree altered.

23 (For he knew him not, because his handes were rough as his brother Esaus hands: wherefore he blessed him.

24 Againe he sayd, Art thou that my sonne Esau? Who answered, * Yea.

* Hebr. I am.

25 Then said he, Bring it me hither, and I will eate of my sonnes venison, that my soule may blesse thee. And he brought it to him, and he ate: also he brought him wine, and he dranke.

26 Afterward his father Izhak sayd unto him, Come neere now, and kisse mee, my sonne.

27 And hee came neere and kissed him. Then he smelled the savour of his garments, and blessed him, and sayd, Behold, the smell of my sonne is as the smell of a field, which the Lord hath blessed.

28 * God give thee therefore of the dewe of heaven, and of the fatnesse of the earth, and plentie of wheate and wine.

* Heb. 11. 20.

29 Let people be thy servants, and nations bowe unto thee: be Lord over thy brethren, & let thy mothers children honour thee: cursed be he that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 ¶ And when Izhak had made an ende of blessing Iaakob, and Iaakob was scarce gone out from the presence of Izhak his father, then came Esau his brother from hunting.

31 And hee also prepared savourie meate, and brought it to his father, and sayd unto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his sonnes venison, that thy soule may blesse me.

32 But

32 But his father Izhak ſayd unto him, Who art thou? And he anſwered, I am thy ſonne, even thy firſt borne Esau.

33 Then Izhak was [f] ſtricken with a marueilous great feare, and ſayd, Who and where is hee that hunted veniſon, and brought it mee, and I haue eate ‖ of all before thou cameſt? and I haue bleſſed him, therefore he ſhalbe bleſſed.

34 When Esau heard the wordes of his father, he cryed out with a great crye and bitter, out of meaſure, and ſayd unto his father, Bleſſe me, even me alſo, my father.

35 Who anſwered, Thy brother came with ſubtiltie, and hath taken away thy bleſſing.

36 Then he ſayd, Was hee not iuſtly called [g] Iaakob? for hee hath deceived mee theſe two times: he tooke my birthright, and loe, now hath he taken my bleſſing. Alſo he ſayd, Haſt thou not reſerued a bleſſing for mee?

37 Then Izhak anſwered, and ſayd unto Esau, Behold, I haue made him [h] thy lord, and all his brethren haue I made his ſeruants: alſo with wheat and wine haue I furniſhed him, and unto thee now what ſhall I doe, my ſonne?

38 Then Esau ſayd unto his father, Haſt thou but one bleſſing, my father? bleſſe mee, ‖ even me, alſo my father: and Esau lifted vs his voyce, and * wept.

39 Then Izhak his father anſwered, and ſayd unto him, Behold, the fatneſſe of the earth ſhal be thy dwelling place, and thou ſhalt haue of the dewe of heauen from above.

40 And [i] by thy ſword ſhalt thou liue, and ſhalt be thy brothers [k] ſeruant. But it ſhall come to paſſe, when thou ſhalt get the maſterie, that thou ſhalt breake his yoke from thy necke.

41 ¶ Therefore Esau hated Iaakob, becauſe of the bleſſing, wherewith his father bleſſed him. And Esau thought in his minde, * The dayes of mourning for my father will come ſhortly, [l] then I will ſlay my brother Iaakob.

42 And it was tolde to Rebekah of the words of Esau her elder ſonne, and ſhee ſent and called Iaakob her younger ſonne, and ſayd unto him, Behold, thy brother Esau [m] is comforted againſt thee, meaning to kill thee:

43 Now therefore my ſonne, heare my voyce: ariſe, and flee thou to Haran to my brother Laban,

44 And tary with him a while untill thy brothers fierceneſſe be aſwaged, 45 And till thy brothers wrath turne away from thee, and hee forget the thinges, which thou haſt done to him: then will I ſende and take thee from thence: why ſhoulde I be [n] depriued of you both in one day?

46 Alſo Rebekah ſaid to Izhak, * I am weary of my life, for the [o] daughters of Heth. If Iaakob take a wife of the daughters of Heth like theſe of the daughters of the land, [p] what availeth it mee to liue?

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Izhak forbiddeth Iaakob to take a wife of the Canaanites. 6 Esau taketh a wife of the daughters of Iſhmael againſt his fathers will. 12 Iaakob in the way to Haran ſeeth a ladder reaching to heauen. 14 Chriſt is promiſed.

THen Izhak called Iaakob and [a] bleſſed him, and charged him, and ſaide unto him, Take not a wife of the daughters of Canaan.

2 Ariſe, * get thee to * Padan Aram to the houſe of Bethuel thy mothers father, and thence take thee a wife of the daughters of Laban thy mothers brother.

3 And God all ‖ ſufficient bleſſe thee, and make thee to increaſe, and multiplie thee, that thou mayeſt be a multitude of people,

4 And give thee the bleſſing of Abraham, even to thee and to thy ſeede with thee, that thou mayeſt inherite the land (wherein thou art a [b] ſtranger,) which God gave unto Abraham.

5 Thus Izhak ſent forth Iaakob, and he went to Padan Aram unto Laban ſonne of Bethuel the Aramite, brother to Rebekah, Iaakobs and Esaus mother.

6 ¶ When Esau ſawe that Izhak had bleſſed Iaakob, and ſent him to Padan Aram, to fetch him a wife thence, and given him a charge when hee bleſſed him, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan.

7 And that Iaakob had obeyed his father and his mother, and was gone to Padan Aram:

8 Alſo Esau ſeeing that the daughters of Canaan diſpleaſed Izhak his father, 9 Then went Esau to Iſhmael, and tooke ‖ unto the wiues which he had, Mahalath the daughter of Iſhmael Abrahams ſonne, the ſiſter of Nabaioth, to be his wife.

10 ¶ Now Iaakob departed from Beer-ſheba, and went to Haran.

11 And he came unto a certaine place, and taried there all night becauſe the ſunne was down, and tooke of the ſtones of the place, and laid vnder his head and ſlept in the ſame place.

12 Then he dreamed, and behold, there ſtood a [d] ladder upon the earth, and the top of it reached up to heauen: and loe, the Angels of God went up and downe by it.

13 * And behold, the Lord ſtood aboue it, and ſaid, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Izhak: the land, upon the which thou ſleepeſt, [e] will I give thee and thy ſeede.

14 And thy ſeede ſhall bee as the duſt of the earth, and thou ſhalt ſpread abroad * to the Weſt, and to the Eaſt, and to the North, & to the South, and in thee and in thy ſeede ſhall all the * families of the earth be bleſſed.

15 And lo, I am with thee, and will keepe thee whitherſoever thou goeſt, and will bring thee againe into this land: for I will not forſake thee vntill I haue performed that, that I haue promiſed thee.

16 ¶ Then Iaakob awoke out of his ſleepe and ſaid, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.

17 And he was [f] afraid, and ſaid, How fearefull is this place! this is none other but the houſe of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

18 Then Iaakob roſe up earely in the morning, and tooke the ſtone that he had laid vnder his head, and [g] ſet it up as * a pillar, and powred oyle upon the top of it.

19 And hee called the name of that place ‖ Beth-el: notwithſtanding the name of the citie was at the firſt called Luz.

20 Then Iaakob vowed a vowe, ſaying, If [h] God will be with me, and will keepe me in this iourney which I goe, and will giue mee bread to eate, and cloathes to put on:

CHAP. XXIX.

13 Iaakob commeth to Laban and ſerueth ſeuen yeeres for Rahel. 13 Leah brought to his bed in ſtead of Rahel. 27 He ſerueth ſeuen yeeres moe for Rahel. 31 Leah conceiueth and beareth fiue ſonnes.

a That is, he went forth on his iourney.

b Thus hee was directed by the only prouidence of God, who brought him alſo to Labans houſe.

THen Iaakob a lift vp his feete and came into the † East countrey.

2 And as he looked about, beheld, there was a well in the field b and lo, three flockes of ſheepe lay thereby (for at that well were the flocks watered) and there was a great ſtone vpon the wels mouth.

3 And thither were all the flockes gathered, and they rolled the ſtone from the welles mouth, and watered the ſheepe, and put the ſtone againe vpon the welles mouth in his place.

c It ſeemeth that in thoſe dayes the cuſtome was to call euen ſtrangers, brethren.

4 And Iaakob ſaide vnto them, My c brethren, whence bee yee? And they anſwered, Wee are of Haran.

5 Then he ſaid vnto them, Knowe yee Laban the ſonne of Nahor? Who ſaid, We know him.

d Or, he is in peace, by the which word the Ebrewes ſignifie all proſperitie.

6 Againe he ſaid vnto them, d Is he in good health? And they anſwered, He is in good health, and behold, his daughter Rahel commeth with the ſheepe.

7 Then he ſaid, Lo, it is yet hie day, neither is it time that the cattell ſhould bee gathered together: water ye the ſheepe and go feede them.

8 But they ſaide, Wee may not, vntill all the flockes be brought together, and till men roll the ſtone from the welles mouth, that we may water the ſheepe.

9 ¶ While he talked with them, Rahel alſo came with her fathers ſheepe, for ſhe kept them.

10 And aſſoone as Iaakob ſawe Rahel the daughter of Laban his mothers brother, and the ſheepe of Laban his mothers brother, then came Iaakob neere, and rolled the ſtone from the welles mouth, and watered the flocke of Laban his mothers brother.

11 And Iaakob kiſſed Rahel, and lift vp his voyce and wept.

* Or, nephewe.

12 (For Iaakob tolde Rahel, that he was her fathers * brother, and that hee was Rebekahs ſonne) then ſhe ranne and told her father.

13 And when Laban heard tell of Iaakob his ſiſters ſonne, he ranne to meete him, and embraced him, and kiſſed him, and brought him to his houſe: and he tolde Laban e all theſe things.

e That is, the cauſe why he departed from his fathers houſe, and what he ſaw in the way.

f That is, of my blood and kinred.

14 To whom Laban ſaide, Well, thou art my f bone and my fleſh, and hee abode with him the ſpace of a moneth.

15 ¶ For Laban ſaide vnto Iaakob, Though thou be my brother, ſhouldeſt thou therefore ſerue me for nought? tell me, what ſhalbe thy wages?

16 Now Laban had two daughters, the elder called Leah, and the younger called Rahel.

* Or, bleare eyed.

17 And Leah was * tender eyed, but Rahel was beautifull and faire.

18 And Iaakob loued Rahel, and ſaid, I wil ſerue thee ſeuen yeeres for Rahel thy yonger daughter.

19 Then Laban anſwered, It is better that I giue her thee, then that I ſhould giue her to another man; abide with me, 20 And Iaakob ſerued ſeuen yeeres for Rahel, and they ſeemed vnto him but a g few dayes, becauſe he loued her.

g Meaning, after that the yeeres were accompliſhed.

21 ¶ They Iaakob ſaid to Laban, Giue me my wife, for † I may go in to her, for my † terme is ended.

22 Wherefore Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feaſt.

23 But h when the evening was come, he tooke Leah his daughter, and brought her to him, and he went in vnto her.

h The cauſe why Iaakob was deceiued was, that in old time the wife was couered with a vaile, when ſhe was brought to her husband in ſigne of chaſtity and ſhamefaſtneſſe.

24 And Laban gaue his maid Zilpah to his daughter Leah, to be her ſeruant.

25 But when the morning was come, behold, it was Leah. Then ſaid he to Laban, Wherefore haſt thou done thus to me? did not I ſerue thee for Rahel? wherefore then haſt thou beguiled me?

i He eſteemed more the profite that he had of Iaakobs ſervice, then either his promiſe of the manner of the countrey, though he alledged cuſtome for his excuſe.

26 And Laban anſwered, It is not the i maner of this place, to giue the yonger before the elder.

27 Fulfill ſeuen yeeres for her, and we will alſo giue thee this for the ſervice, which thou ſhalt ſerve me yet ſeuen yeeres more.

28 Then Iaakob did ſo, and fulfilled her ſeuen yeeres, ſo he gaue him Rahel his daughter to be his wife.

29 Laban alſo gaue to Rahel his daughter, Bilhah his maide to be her ſeruant.

30 So entred he in to Rahel alſo, and loued alſo Rahel more then Leah, and ſerued him yet ſeuen yeeres more.

31 ¶ When the Lord ſaw ỹ Leah was deſpiſed, he † made her k fruitfull: but Rahel was barren.

k This declareth that oft times they which are deſpiſed of men, are fauoured of God.

32 And Leah conceiued and bare a ſonne, and ſhe called his name Reuben: for ſhe ſaid, Becauſe the l Lord hath looked vpon my tribulation, now therefore mine husband will m loue me.

l Hereby appeareth, that ſhe had recourſe to God in their affliction.

m For children are a great cauſe of mutual loue betweene man and wife.

33 And ſhe conceiued againe and bare a ſonne, and ſaide, Becauſe the Lord heard that I was hated, he hath therefore giuen mee this ſonne alſo, and ſhee called his name Simeon.

34 And ſhe conceiued againe and bare a ſonne, and ſaid, Now at this time will my husband keepe mee company, becauſe I haue borne him three ſonnes: therefore was his name called Levi.

35 Moreouer ſhe conceiued againe and bare a ſonne, ſaying, Now will I ‖ praiſe the Lord: *therefore ſhe called his name Iudah, and † left bearing.

* Mat. 1. 2.

CHAP. XXX.

4. 9 Rahel and Leah being both barren, giue their maides vnto their husband, and they beare him children. 25 Leah giueth mandrakes to Rahel that Iaakob might lie with her. 27 Laban is enriched for Iaakobs ſake. 43 Iaakob is made very rich.

a Is onely God that maketh barren and fruitfull, and therefore I am not in fault.

b I will receive her children on my lap, as though they were mine owne.

† Ebr. I ſhall be builded.

A Nd when Rahel ſaw that ſhe bare Iaakob no children, Rahel enuied her ſiſter, and ſaid vnto Iaakob, Giue me children, or els Idie.

2 Then Iaakobs anger was kindled againſt Rahel, and he ſaid, Am I in a Gods ſtead, which hath withholden from thee the fruit of ỹ wombe?

3 And ſhee ſaid, Behold my maid Bilhah, go in to her, and ſhe ſhall beare vpon my b knees, and † I ſhall haue children alſo by her.

4 Then ſhee gaue him Bilhah her maide to wife, and Iaakob went in to her.

5 So Bilhah conceiued and bare Iaakob a ſon.

† Ebr. wreſtlings of God.

6 Then ſaid Rahel, God hath given ſentence on my ſide, and hath alſo heard my voyce, and hath giuen me a ſon: therefore called ſhe his name, Dan.

c The arrogancy of mans nature appeareth in that ſhe contemneth her ſiſter, after ſhe hath received their benefit of God to beare children.

7 And Bilhah Rahels maid conceiued againe, and bare Iaakob the ſecond ſonne.

8 Then Rahel ſaid, With † excellent wreſtlings lings haue I wrestled with my sister, and haue gotte the upper hand: and she called his name, Naphtali.

9 And when Leah saw that she had left bearing, shee tooke Zilpah her mayde, and gave her Iaakob to wife.

10 And Zilpah Leahs maid bare Iaakob a sonne.

11 Then said Leah, [d] A company commeth: and she called his name, Gad.

12 Againe Zilpah Leahs maid bare Iaakob another sonne.

13 Then sayd Leah, Ah, blessed am I, for the daughters will blesse me, and she called his name Asher.

14 ¶ Now Reuben went in the dayes of the wheate harueſt, and found [e] mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother Leah. Then sayd Rahel to Leah, Give me, I pray thee, of thy sonnes mandrakes.

15 But she answered her, Is it a small matter for thee to take mine husband, except thou take my sonnes mandrakes also? Then sayde Rahel. Therefore he shall sleepe with thee this night for thy sonnes mandrakes.

16 And Iaakob came from the field in the evening, and Leah went out to meete him, and sayd, Come in to me, for I haue † bought and paied for thee with my sonnes mandrakes: and he slept with her that night.

17 And God heard Leah and shee conceived, and bare unto Iaakob the fift sonne.

18 Then said Leah, God hath given me my reward, because I gave my [f] maide to my husband, and she called hir name Issachar.

19 After, Leah conceived againe, and bare Iaakob the sixt sonne.

20 Then Leah said, God hath endowed me with a good dowrie: nowe will mine husband dwell with me, because I haue borne him sixe sonnes: and she called his name Zebulum.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dinah.

22 ¶ And God remembred Rahel, and God heard her, ‖ and opened her wombe.

23 So she conceived and bare a sonne, and sayd, God hath taken away my [g] rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioseph, saying, The Lord wil giue me yet another sonne.

25 ¶ And assoone as Rahel had borne Ioseph, Iaakob said to Laban, Send me away that I may goe unto my place and to my countrey.

26 Giue me my wives and my children, for whom I haue served thee, and let me go: for thou knowest what service I haue done thee.

27 To whom Laban answered, If I haue now found fauour in thy sight, tarie: I haue ‖ perceived that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint unto me thy wages, and I will giue it thee.

29 But he said unto him, Thou knowest, what service I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattell hath bene ‖ vnder me.

30 For the little, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee † by my comming: but nowe when shall [h] I trauell for mine owne house also?

31 Then he said, What shall I giue thee? And Iaakob answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt doe this thing for mee, I will returne, feed, and keepe thy sheepe.

32 I will passe through all thy flocks this day, and ‖ separate from them all the sheepe with little spots and great spots, and all blacke lambs among the sheepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among the goates: i and it shalbe my wages.

33 So shall my [k] righteousnesse answere for me hereafter, when it shall come for my reward before thy face, and every one that hath not little or great spots among the goates, and blacke among the sheepe, the same shalbe ‖ theft with me.

34 Then Laban sayd, Goe to, would God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore ‖ he tooke out the same day the bee goates that were partie coloured and with great spots, and all the shee goates with little and great spots, and all that had white in them, and all the ‖ blacke among the sheepe, and put them in the keeping of his sonnes.

36 And hee set three dayes iourney betweene himselfe and Iaakob. And Iaakob kept the rest of Labans sheepe.

37 ¶ Then Iaakob ‖ tooke rods of greene popular, and of hasell, and of the chesnut tree, and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the rods.

38 Then he put the rods, which he had pilled, in the gutters and watering troughes, when the sheepe came to drinke, before the sheepe: (for they were in heate, when they came to drinke.)

39 And the sheepe ‖ were in heate before the rods, and afterward brought forth yong of particolour, and with small and great spots.

40 And Iaakob parted these lambes, and turned the faces of the flocke towards those lambes partie coloured, and all manner of blacke, among the sheepe of Laban: so he put his own flocke by themselues, and put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in every ramming time of the [m] stronger sheepe, Iaakob layed the rods before the eyes of the sheepe in the gutters, that they might conceive before the rods.

42 But when the sheepe were feeble, he put them not in: and so the feebler were Labans, and the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man increased exceedingly, and had many flocks, and maid-servants, and men-servants, and camels, and asses.

3 And the Lord had said unto Iaakob, Turne againe into the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinred, and I will be with thee.

e For they were given to Iaakob in recompence of his ſervice which was a kind of ſale.

16 Therefore all the riches, which God hath

26 Then Laban ſayd to Iaakob, What haſt thou done? ‖ thou haſt even ſtollen away mine heart and carried away my daughters as though they had been taken captiues with the ſword.

‖ Or, conueied thy ſelfe away priuily.

27 Wherefore diddeſt thou flie ſo ſecretly and ſteale away from me, and diddeſt not tell me, that I might haue ſent thee foorth with mirth and with ſongs, with timbrell and with harpe?

28 But thou haſt not ſuffered mee to kiſſe my ſonnes and my daughters: nowe thou haſt done fooliſhly in doing ſo.

† Ebr. power is in mine hand.

29 I am † able to doe you evill but the g God of your father ſpake unto me yeſternight, ſaying, Take heed that thou ſpeake not to Iaakob ought ſaue good.

g He was an idolater, and therefore would not acknowledge the God of Iaakob for his God.

30 Nowe though thou wenteſt thy way, becauſe thou greatly longedſt after thy fathers houſe, yet wherefore haſt thou ſtollen my gods?

31 Then Iaakob anſwered, and ſaid to Laban, Becauſe I was afraid, and thought that thou wouldeſt haue taken thy daughters from me.

32 But with whom thou findeſt thy gods, † let him not liue. Search thou before our brethren what I haue of thine, and take it to thee, (but Iaakob wiſt not that Rahel had ſtollen them.)

‖ Or, let him die.

33 Then came Laban into Iaakobs tent, and into Leahs tent, and into the two maids tents, but found them not. So hee went out of Leahs tent, and entred into Rahels tent.

34 (Now Rahel had taken the idols, and put them in the camels † litter, and ſate downe upon them) and Laban ſearched all the tent, but found them not.

† Or, ſtraw, or ſaddle.

35 Then ſaid ſhe to her father, † My Lord, be not angry that I cannot riſe up before thee: for the cuſtome of woman is upon me: ſo hee ſear-ched, but found not the idoles.

† Ebr. let not anger be in the eyes of my Lord.

36 ¶ Then Iaakob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Iaakob alſo anſwered and ſayd to Laban, What haue I treſpaſſed? what haue I offended, that thou haſt purſued after me?

37 Seeing thou haſt ſearched al my ſtuffe, what haſt thou found of all thine houſhold ſtuffe? put it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may iudge betweene us both.

38 This twentie yeeres I have been with thee:
thine ewes & thy goats haue not ‖ caſt their yong, and the rammes of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

‖ Or, been barren.

39 † Whatſoever was torn of beaſts, I brought it not unto thee, but made it good my ſelfe: * of mine hand diddeſt thou require it, were it ſtollen by day, or ſtollen by night.

† Ebr. the torn, or taken by pray.

* Exod. 22.12.

40 I was in the day conſumed with heate, and with froſt in the night, and my ‖ ſleepe departed from mine eyes.

‖ Or, I ſlept not.

41 Thus haue I been twentie yeeres in thine houſe, and ſerved thee foureteene yeeres for thy two daughters, and ſixe yeeres for thy ſheepe, and thou haſt changed my wages ten times.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the h feare of Izhak had been with me, ſurely thou haddeſt ſent me away now emp-tie: but God beheld my tribulation, and the labour of mine hands, and rebuked thee yeſternight.

h That is, the God whom Izhak did feare, and reverence.

43 Then Laban anſwered, and ſaid unto Iaa-kob, Theſe daughters are my daughters, and theſe ſonnes are my ſonnes, and theſe ſheepe are my ſheepe, and all that thou ſeeſt, is mine, and what can I doe this day unto theſe my daughters, or to their ſonnes which they haue borne?

i His conſcience reprooved him of his miſbehauiour toward Iaakob, and therefore mooued him to ſeeke peace.

44 Now therefore i come and let us make a covenant, I and thou, which may bee a witneſſe betweene me and thee.

45 Then tooke Iaakob a ſtone, and ſet it up as a pillar:

46 And Iaakob ſayde unto his brethren, Gather ſtones: who brought ſtones, and made an heape, and they did eate there upon the heape.

† Or, the heape of witneſſe.

47 And Laban called it † Iegar-ſahadutha, and Iaakob called it k Galeed.

k The one nameth the place in the Syrian tongue, and the other in the Ebrew tongue.

48 For Laban ſayd, This heape is witneſſe betweene me and thee this day; therefore he called

the name of it Galeed.

49 Alſo he called it ‖ Mizpah, becauſe he ſaid, The Lord I looke betweene me and thee, when we ſhalbe ‖ departed one from another.

50 If thou ſhalt vexe my daughters, or ſhalt take wives beſide my daughters: there is no man with us, beholde, God is witneſſe betweene me and thee.

51 Moreover, Laban ſayde to Iaakob, Behold this heape, and behold the pillar, which I have ſet betweene me and thee.

52 This heape ſhall be witneſſe, and the pillar ſhall be witneſſe, that I will not come over this heape to thee, and that thou ſhalt not paſſe over this heape and this pillar unto me for evill.

53 The God of Abraham, and the God of Nahor and the God of their father be iudge betweene us: but Iaakob ſware by the feare of his father Izhak.

54 Then Iaakob did offer a ſacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eate ‖ bread, and they did eate bread, & taried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning Laban roſe vp and kiſſed his ſonnes & his daughters, and bleſſed them, and Laban departing, went unto his place againe.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 God comforteth Iaakob by his angels. 9, 10 Hee prayeth unto God confeſſing his unworthineſſe. 13 He ſendeth preſents unto Eſau. 24, 28 He wraſtled with the angel who nameth him Iſrael.

NOwe Iaakob went foorth on his iourney, and * the Angels of God met him.

2 And when Iaakob ſaw them, he ſaid, a This is Gods hoaſte, and called the name of the ſame place * Mahanaim.

3 Then Iaakob ſent meſſengers before him to Eſau his brother, unto the land of Seir into the countrey of Edom.

4 To whom hee gave commandement, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye ſpeake to my b lord Eſau: thy ſervant Iaakob ſayeth thus, I have beene a ſtranger with Laban, and taried unto this time.

5 I have beeves alſo and aſſes, ſheepe, and men ſervants, and women ſervants, and have ſent to ſhew my lord, that I may find grace in thy ſight.

6 ¶ So the meſſengers came againe to Iaakob, ſaying, We came unto thy brother Eſau, and hee alſo commeth againſt thee and foure hundreth men with him.

7 Then Iaakob was c greatly afraide, and was ſore troubled, and devided the people that was with him, and the ſheepe, and the beeves, and the camels into two companies.

8 For he ſaid, If Eſau come to the one company and ſmite it, the other company ſhall eſcape.

9 ¶ Moreover Iaakob ſaid, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Izhak, Lord, which * ſaideſt unto me, Returne unto thy countrey, and to thy kinred, and I will do thee good.

10 I am not † worthy of the leaſt of all the mercies, and all the trueth, which thou haſt ſhewed unto thy ſervant: for with my ſtaffe came I over this Iorden, and now have I gotten two bands.

11 I pray thee, Deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hande of Eſau: for I feare him, leaſt he will come and ſmite mee, and the mother upon the children.

12 For thou ſaydeſt, I will ſurely doe to thee good, and make thy ſeede as the ſande of the ſea, which cannot be numbred for multitude.

13 ¶ And he taried there the ſame night and tooke of that which came to hand, a f preſent for Eſau his brother:

14 Two hundreth ſhee goates, and twentie bee goates, two hundreth ewes and twenty rammes:

15 Thirtie milch cammels with their coltes, fourtie kine, and ten bullockes, twenty thee aſſes and ten foles.

16 So he delivered them into the hand of his ſervants, every drove by themſelves, and ſaid unto his ſervants, Paſſe before me, and put a ſpace betweene drove and drove.

17 And he commanded the formoſt, ſaying, If my brother Eſau meet thee, and aske thee, ſaying, Whoſe ſervant art thou? And whither goeſt thou? and whoſe are theſe before thee?

18 Then ſhalt thou ſay, They be thy ſervant Iaakobs: it is a preſent ſent unto my lord Eſau: & behold, he himſelfe alſo is behind us.

19 So likewiſe commanded he the ſecond and the thirde, and all that followed the droves, ſaying, After this maner, yee ſhall ſpeake unto Eſau, when ye finde him.

20 And yee ſhall ſay moreover, Behold, thy ſervant Iaakob commeth after us, (for he thought, g I will appeaſe his wrath with the preſent that goeth before me, and afterward I will ſee his face: it may be that he will † accept me.)

21 So went the preſent before him: but he taried that night with the companie.

22 And he roſe up the ſame night, and tooke his two wives, and his two maides, and his eleven children, and went over the forde Iabbok.

23 And he tooke them, and ſent them over the river, and ſent over that he had.

24 ¶ Now when Iaakob was left himſelfe alone, there wreſtled a h man with him unto the breaking of the day.

25 And he ſaw that he coulde not i prevaile againſt him: therefore he touched the holow of his thigh, and the holow of Iaakobs thigh was looſed, as he wreſtled with him.

26 And he ſaid, Let mee goe, for the morning appeareth. Who anſwered, * I will not let thee goe, except thou bleſſe me.

27 Then ſaid he unto him, What is thy name? And he ſaid, Iaakob.

28 Then ſaid he, * Thy name ſhalbe called Iaakob no more, but Iſrael: becauſe thou haſt had k power with God, thou ſhalt alſo prevaile with men.

29 Then Iaakob demanded, ſaying, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he ſaid, Wherefore now doeſt thou aske my name? and he bleſſed him there.

30 And Iaakob called the name of the place, Peniel: for, ſaide hee, I have ſeene God face to face, and † my life is preſerved.

31 And the ſunne roſe up to him as he paſſed Peniel, and he l halted upon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Iſrael eate not of the ſinewe that ſhranke in the holowe of the thigh, unto this day: becauſe he touched the ſinew that ſhranke in the holow of Iaakobs thigh.

AND as Iaakob lift up his eyes, and looked, behold, Esau came, and with him foure hundreth men: and he [a] divided the children to Leah, and to Rahel, and to the two maides.

2 And he put the maides, and their children formost, and Leah, and her children after, and Rahel and Ioseph hindemost.

3 So he went before them and [b] bowed himselfe to the grounde seven times, untill hee came neere to his brother.

4 Then Esau ran to meete him, and embraced him, & fel on his neck, & kissed him, & they wept.

5 And he lift up his eyes, and saw the women, and the children, and saide, Who are these with thee? And he answered, They are the children whom God of his grace hath given thy servant.

6 Then came the maides neere, they and their children, and [c] bowed themselves.

7 Leah also with her children came neere and made obeysance: and after Ioseph and Rahel drew neere, and did reverence.

8 Then he said, What meanest thou by al this drove, which I met? Who answered, I have sent it, that I may finde favour in the sight of my lord.

9 And Esau said, I have inough, my brother: keepe that thou hast to thy selfe.

10 But Iaakob answered, Nay, I pray thee, if I have founde grace nowe in thy sight, then receive my present at mine hand: for [d] I have seene thy face, as though I had seene the face of God, because thou hast accepted mee.

11 I pray thee take my ‖ blessing, that is brought thee: for God hath had mercy on mee, and therefore I have all things: so he [e] compelled him, and he tooke it.

12 And he saide, Let us take our iourney and goe, and I will goe before thee.

13 Then he answered him, My lord knoweth, that the children are tender, and the ewes and kine with young under mine hande: and if they should overdrive them one day, all the flocke would dy.

14 Let now my lord go before his servant, and I will drive softly, according to the pase of ỹ cattell, which is before mee, and as the children be able to endure, untill [f] I come to my lord unto Seir.

15 Then Esau said, I will leave then some of my folke with thee. And he answered, What needeth this? let mee finde grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Esau returned and vvent his way that same day unto Seir.

17 And Iaakob went forwarde towarde Succoth, and built him an house, and made boothes for his cattell: therefore he called the name of the place ‖ Succoth.

18 Afterward, Iaakob came safe to Shechem a cittie, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from ‖ Padan Aram, & pitched before ỹ city.

19 And there he bought a parcel of ground, where he pitched his tent, at the hande of the sonnes of Hamor Shechems father, for an hundreth ‖ peices of money.

20 And he set up there an altar, and called [g] it, The mighty God of Israel.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Dinah is ravished. 3 Hamor asketh her in marriage for his son. 22 The Shechemites are circumcised at the request of Iaakobs sonnes and the perswasion of Hamor. 25 The whordome is revenged.

THEN Dinah the daughter of Leah, which she bare unto Iaakob, [a] went out to see the daughters of that countrey.

2 Whome when Shechem the sonne of Hamor the Hivite lorde of that countrey sawe, he tooke her, and lay with her, and † defiled her.

3 So his heart clave unto Dinah the daughter of Iaakob: and he loved the maide, and † spake kindly to the maide.

4 Then saide Shechem to his father Hamor, saying, [b] Get mee this maide to wife.

5 (Nowe Iaakob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter, and his sonnes were with his cattell in the fielde: therefore Iaakob helde his peace, untill they were come.)

6 ¶ Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out unto Iaakob to commune with him.

7 And when the sonnes of Iaakob were come out of the fielde and heard it, it greived the men, & they were very angry, because he had wrought ‖ villeny in Israel, in that he had lien with Iaakobs daughter; † which thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hamor communed with them, saying, The soule of my sonne: Shechem longeth for your daughter, ‖ give her him to wife, I pray you.

9 So make affinitie with us, give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.

10 And ye shall dwell with us, and the lande shalbe before you, dwell, and do your businesse in it, and have your possessions therein.

11 Shechem also saide unto her father and unto her brethren, ‖ Let me finde favour in your eyes, and I will give whatsoever ye shall appoint mee.

12 † Aske of me abundantly both dowry, and gifts, and I will give as ye appoynt me, so that ye give me the maide to wife.

13 Then the sonnes of Iaakob answered, Shechem and Hamor his father, talking deceitfully, because he had defiled their sister.

14 And they sayd unto them, [c] We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to an uncircumcised man: for that were a reproofe unto us.

15 But in this we will consent unto you, if ye will be as we are, that every man-child among you be [e] circumcised.

16 Then will we give our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters to us, and will dwel with you, and be one people.

17 But if ye will not hearken unto us to be circumcised, thē will we take our daughter & depart.

18 Nowe their wordes pleased Hamor, and Shechem Hamors sonne.

19 And the yong man deferred not to do the thing because he loved Iaakobs daughter: he was also the ‖ most set by of all his fathers house.

20 ¶ Then Hamor and Shechem his Sonne went unto the [f] gate of their citie, and communed with the men of their citie, saying, 21 These men are [g] peaceable with us: and that they may dwell in the land, and doe their affaires therein (for behold, the land hath roume ynough for them) let us take their daughters to wives, and give them our daughters.

22 Only herein wil ỹ mē consent unto us for to dwel with us, and to be one people, if all ỹ mē children amōg us be circūcised as they are circūcised.

23 Shall not [h] their flockes and their substance and al their cattell be ours? only let us consent herein unto them and they will dwell with us.

24 And unto Hamor, and Shechem his sonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie; tie: and all the men children were circumciſed, even all that went out of the gate of his citie.

25 And on the third day (when they were ſore) two of the ſons of Iaakob, [i] Simeon and Levi, Dinahs brethren took either of them his ſword and went into the city boldly, and * ſlue [k] every male.

29 Alſo they carried away captive and ſpoiled all their goodes, and all their children and their wives, and all that was in the houſes.

30 Then Iaakob ſaid to Simeon and Levi, Ye have troubled mee, and made me ‖ ſtinke among the inhabitants of the land, *a*ſ*v*ell the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, and I being few in number, they ſhall gather themſelves together againſt me, and ſlay me, and ſo ſhall I, and my houſe be deſtroyed.

1 Iaakob at Gods commandement goeth up to Bethel, buile an altar. 2 He reformeth his houſhold. 5 God maketh the enemies of Iaakob afraide. 8 Deborah dieth. 12 The land of Canaan is promiſed him. 18 Rahel dieth in labour. 22 Reuben lyeth with his fathers concubine.

THen [a] God ſaide to Iaakob, Ariſe, goe up to Beth-el and dwell there, and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee, * when thou fleddeſt from Eſau thy brother.

2 Then ſaid Iaakob unto his ſhonſhold and to all that were with him, Put away the ſtrange gods that are among you, and [b] cleanſe your ſelves, and change your garments:

3 For we will riſe and goe up to Beth-el, and I will make an altar there unto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulation, and was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gave unto Iaakob all the ſtrange gods, which were in their hands, & all their [c] eare-rings which were in their eares, and Iaakob hid them under an oake, which was by Shechem.

5 Then they went on their iourney, and the [d] feare of God was upon the cities that were round about them: ſo that they did not follow after the ſonnes of Iaakob.

6 ¶ So came Iaakob to Lux, which is in the land of Canaan: (the ſame is Beth-el) hee and all the people that was with him.

7 And he built there an altar, and * had called the place, The God of Beth-el, becauſe that God appeared unto him there, when he fled from his brother.

8 Then Daborah Rebekahs nourſe dyed, and was buried beneath Beth-el under an oake: and he called the name of it * Allon Bachuth.

9 Againe God appeared unto Iaakob, after he came to Padan Aram, and bleſſed him.

10 Moreover God ſaid unto him, Thy name is Iaakob: thy name ſhalbe no more called Iaakob, but * Iſrael ſhall be thy name: and he called his name Iſrael.

11 Againe God ſaid unto him, I am God * all-ſufficient: growe, and multiply: a nation and a multitude of nations ſhall ſpring of thee, and kings ſhall come out of thy loynes.

12 Alſo I will give the lande, which I gave to Abraham and Izhak, unto thee: and unto thy ſeede after thee will I give that land.

13 So God [e] aſcended from him in the place where hee had talked with him.

14 And Iaakob ſet up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of ſtone, and powred drinke offerings thereon: alſo he powred oyle thereon.

15 And Iaakob called the name of that place where God ſpake with him, Beth-el.

16 ¶ Then they departed from Beth-el, and when there was [f] about half a dayes iourney of ground to come to Ephrath, Rahel travailed, and in trauailling ſhe was in perill.

17 And when ſhe was in paines of her labour, the midwife ſayde unto her, Feare not, for thou ſhalt have this ſonne alſo.

18 Then as ſhee was about to yeedle up the ghoſt (for ſhe died) ſhe called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Beniamin.

19 Thus * died Rahel and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Bethlehem.

20 And Iaakob ſet a [g] pillar upon her grave: This is the pillar of Rahels grave unto this day.

21 ¶ Then Iſrael went forward, and pitched his tent beyond Migdal-eder.

22 Now when Iſrael dwelt in ſ land, Reubē went, & [h] lay * with Bilhah his fathers concubine, & it came to Iſraels eare. And Iaakob had twelve ſons.

23 The ſonnes of Leah: Reuben Iaakobs eldeſt ſonne, and Simeon, and Levi, and Iudah, and Iſſachar, and Zebulun.

24 The ſonnes of Rahel: Ioſeph and Beniamin.

25 And the ſonnes of Bilhah Rahels mayde: Dan and Naphtali.

26 And the ſonnes of Zilpah Leahs maide: Gad and Aſher. Theſe are the ſonnes of Iaakob, which were borne in Padan Aram.

27 ¶ Then Iaakob came unto Izhak his father to Mamre a citie of Arbah: This is Hebron, where Abraham and Izhak were ſtrangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhak were an hundreth and foureſcore yeeres.

29 And Izhak gave up the ghoſt and died, and was * gathered unto his people, being old and full of dayes: & his ſonnes Eſau & Iaakob buried him.

7 For their riches were so great, that they could not dwell together, and the land, wherein they were strangers, could not receive them because of their flockes.

8 ‖ Therefore dwelt Esau in mount Seir: this Esau is Edom.

9 ¶ So these are the generations of Esau father of * Edom in mount Seir.

10 These are the names of Esaus sonnes: ‖ Eliphaz, the sonne of Adah, the wife of Esau, and Revel the sonne of Bashemath, the wife of Esau.

19 These are the children of Esau, and these are the Dukes of them: this Esau is Edom.

20 ¶ † These are the sonnes of Seir the Horite, which e inhabited the land before Lotan, and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah.

21 And Dishon, and Ezer, and Dishan: these are the Dukes of the Horites, the sonnes of Seir in the land of Edom.

23 And the sonnes of Shobal were these: Aluan, and Manahath, and Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.

24 And these are the sonnes of Zibeon: Both Aiah, and Anah: this was Anah that found f mules in the wilderness, as he fed his father Zibeons asses.

31 ¶ And these are the g Kings that reigned in the land of Edom, before there reigned any King over the children of Israel.

32 Then Bela the sonne of Beor reigned in Edom, and the name of his citie was Dinhabah.

33 And when Bela died, Iobab the sonne of Zerah of Bozra reigned in his stead.

34 When Iobab also was dead, Husham of the land of Temani reigned in his stead.

35 And after the death of Husham, Hadad the sonne of Bedad, which slew Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his stead, and the name of his citie was Auith.

36 When Hadad was dead, then Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Ioseph accuseth his brethren. 5 Hee dreameth and is hated of his brethren. 28 They sell him to the Ishmeelites. 34 Iaakob bewaileth Ioseph.

I Aakob now dwelt in the land, wherein his father was a a stranger, in the land of Canaan.

2 These are the generations of Iaakob when Ioseph was seaventeene yeeres old, he kept thee pe with his brethren, and the childe was with the sonnes of Bilhah, and with the sonnes of Zilpah, his fathers wives. And Ioseph brought unto their father their evill ‖ b saying.

3 Now Israel looved Ioseph more then all his sonnes, because he begate him in his old age, and he made him a coate of many ‖ coulers.

4 So when his brethren saw that their father loved him more then all his brethren, thē they hated him, and could not speake peaceably unto him.

5 ¶ And Ioseph c dreamed a dreame, and told his brethren, who hated him so much the more.

6 For he said unto them, Heare, I pray you this dreame which I have dreamed.

7 Behold now, we were binding sheaves in the middes of the field: and loe, my sheave arose and also stood upright, and behold, your sheaves compassed round about, & did reverence to my sheafe.

8 Then his brethren said to him, What, shalt thou reigne over us, and rule us? or shalt thou have altogether dominion over us? And they d hated him so much the more, for his dreames, and for his words.

9 ¶ Againe he dreamed another dreame, and told it his brethren, and saide, Behold, I have had one dreame more, and behold, the Sunne and the Moone and eleven starres did reverence to mee.

11 And his brethren envied him, but his father ‖ noted the ſaying.

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to keepe their fathers ſheepe in Shechem.

13 And Iſrael ſaide unto Ioſeph, Doe not thy brethren keepe in Shechem? come and I will ſend thee to them.

14 And he anſwered him, I am here. Then he ſaid unto him, Goe nowe, ſee whether it be well with thy brethren, and howe the flockes proſper, and bring me word againe: ſo he ſent him from the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man found him: for loe, he was wandring in the fielde, and the man asked him, ſaying, What ſeekeſt thou?

16 And he anſwered, I ſeeke my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keepe theepe.

17 And the man ſaid, they are departed hence: for I heard them ſay, Let us goe unto Dothan. Then went Ioſeph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they ſaw him afarre off, even before he came at them, they g conſpired againſt him for to ſlay him.

19 For they ſaide one to another, Behold this ‖ dreamer commeth.

20 Come now therefore, and let us ſlay him, and caſt him into ſome pitte, and wee will ſay, A wicked beaſt hath devoured him: then wee ſhall ſee, what will come of his dreames.

21 * But when Reuben heard that, he delivered him out of their hands, and ſayde, † Let us not kill him.

22 Alſo Reuben ſaide unto them, Shed not blood, but caſt him into this pit that is in the wilderneſſe, and lay no hand upon him. Thus he ſaid, that he might deliver him out of their hand, and reſtore him to his father.

23 ¶ Now when Ioſeph was come unto his brethren, they ſtript Ioſeph out of his coate, his particoloured coate that was upon him.

24 And they tooke him, and caſt h him into a pit, and the pit was emptie, without water in it.

25 Then they ſate them downe to eate bread: and lift up their eyes and looked, and behold, there came a company of Iſhmaelites fro Gilead, & their camels laden with ſpicierie, & ‖ balme, and myrrhe, & were going to cary it down into Egypt.

26 Then Iudah ſaide to his brethren, What availeth it, if wee ſlay our brother, though wee keepe his blood ſecret?

27 Come and let us ſell him to the Iſhmaelites, and let not our hands be upon him: for he is our brother, and our fleſh: and his brethren obeyed.

28 Then the Medianites marchant men paſſed by, & they drew forth, and lift Ioſeph out of ỹ pit, and ſold Ioſeph to the Iſhmaelites for twenty pieces of ſilver: who brought Ioſeph into Egypt.

29 ¶ Afterward Reuben returned to the pit, and beholde, Ioſeph was not in the pit: then he rent his clothes.

30 And returned to his brethren, & ſaid, The childe is not yonder, and I, whither ſhall I goe?

31 And they took Ioſephs coate, & killed a kid of the goates, and dipped the coate in the blood.

32 So they ſent their particoloured coate, k and they brought it unto their father, and ſayd, This have wee founde: ſee nowe, whether it be thy ſonnes coate, or no.

33 Then he knew it, and ſaid, It is my ſonnes coate: a wicked beaſt hath * devoured him: Ioſeph is ſurely torne in pieces.

34 And Iaakob rent his clothes, and put ſackcloth about his loynes, and ſorrowed for his ſonne a long ſeaſon.

35 Then all his ſonnes and his daughters aroſe up to comfort him, but he would not be cõforted, but ſaid, ‖ Surely I wil go down into ỹ graue unto my ſonne mourning: ſo his father wept for him.

36 And the Midianites ſolde him into Egypt unto Potiphar l an Eunuch of Pharaohs and his ‖ chiefe ſteward.

A Nd at that time a Iudah went downe from his brethren, and turned into a man called Hirah an Adullamite.

2 And Iudah ſawe there the daughter of a man called * Shuah a Canaanite: and he tooke her to wife, and went into her.

3 So ſhe conceiued and bare a ſonne, and he called his name Er.

4 * And ſhe conceived again & bare a ſonne, and ſhe called his name Onan.

5 Moreover ſhe bare yet a ſonne, whom ſhe called Shelah: and Iudah was at Chezib when ſhe bare him.

6 Then Iudah tooke a wife to Er his firſt borne ſonne, whoſe name was Tamar.

7 * Now Er ỹ firſt borne of Iudah was wicked in the ſight of ỹ Lord: therefore ỹ Lord ſlew him.

8 Then Iudah ſaid to Onan, Go in unto thy brothers wife, and doe the office of a kinſman unto her, and raiſe c up ſeede unto thy brother.

9 And Onan knew that the ſeede ſhould not be his: therefore when he went in unto his brothers wife, he ſpilled it on the grounde, leaſt he ſhould giue ſeede unto his brother.

10 And it was wicked in the eyes of the Lord, which he did: wherefore he ſlew him alſo.

11 Then Iudah ſaide to Tamar his daughter in lawe, d Remaine a widdow in thy fathers houſe, till Shelah my ſonne growe up (for he thought thus, Leſt he die as well as his brethren.) So Tamar went and dwelt in her fathers houſe.

12 ¶ And in proceſſe of time alſo the daughter of Shuah Iudahs wife died. Then Iudah, when he ‖ had left mourning, went up to his ſheepe-ſhearers to Timnah, he, and his neighbour Hirah the Adullamite.

13 And it was told Tamar, ſaying, Beholde, thy father in law goeth up to Timnah, to ſhere his ſheepe.

14 Then ſhe put her widdowes garments off from her, and covered her with a vaile, and wrapped her ſelfe, and ſate downe in ‖ Pethah-enam, which is by the way to Timnah, becauſe ſhe ſaw that Shelah was growen, and ſhe was not given unto him to wife.

30 And afterward came out his brother that had the red threed about his hand, and his name was called Zerah.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Ioſeph is ſold to Potiphar. 2 God proſpereth him. 7 Potiphars wife tempteth him. 13, 20 Hee is accuſed and caſt in priſon. 21 God ſheweth him favour.

NOw Ioſeph was brought downe into Egypt: and Potiphar [a] an Eunuche of Pharaohs (and his chief ſteward an Egyptiā) bought him at ŷ hād of ŷ Iſhmeelites, which had brought him thither.

2 And the [b] Lord was with Ioſeph, and hee was a man that proſpered and was in the houſe of his maſter the Egyptian.

3 And his maſter ſawe that the Lord vvas with him, and that the Lord made all that hee did to proſper in his hand.

4 So Ioſeph found favour in his ſight, and ſerved him: and made him [c] ruler of his houſe, and put all that he had in his hand.

5 And from that time that he had made him ruler over his houſe and over all that he had, the Lord [d] bleſſed the Egyptians houſe for Ioſephs ſake: and the bleſſing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the houſe, and in the field.

6 Therefore he left all ŷ he had in Ioſephs hand, [e] and tooke account of nothing, that vvas with him, ſave only of the bread, which he did eate. And Ioſeph was a faire perſon, and well favoured.

7 Nowe therefore after theſe thinges, his maſters wife caſt her eyes upon Ioſeph, and ſaid, [f] Lie with mee.

8 But he refuſed and ſaid to his maſters wife, Beholde, my maſter knoweth not what hee hath in the houſe with mee, but hath committed all that he had to mine hand.

9 There is no man greater in this houſe then I: neither hath he kept any thing from me, but only thee, becauſe thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedneſſe and ſo ſinne againſt [g] God?

10 And albeit ſhe ſpake to Ioſeph day by day, yet he hearkened not unto her, to lie with her, or to be in her company.

11 Then on a certaine day Ioſeph entred into the houſe to doe his buſineſſe: and there was no man of the houſhold in the houſe.

12 Therefore ſhe caught him by his garment, ſaying, Sleepe with mee: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, and got him out.

13 Now when ſhee ſawe that hee had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out, 14 She called unto the men of her houſe, and tolde them, ſaying, Behold, he hath brought in an Ebrewe unto us ‖ to mocke us: who came in to mee for to have ſlept with mee: but I [h] cryed with a loude voyce.

15 And when hee heard that I lift up my voyce and cryed, he left his garments with mee, and fled away, and got him out.

16 So ſhe layde up his garment by her, untill her lord came home.

17 Then ſhee tolde him ‖ according to theſe words, ſaying, The Ebrew ſervant, which thou haſt brought unto us, came into me, to mocke me.

18 But aſſoone as I lift up my voyce and cried, he lift his garment with me, and fled out.

19 Then when his maſter heard the words of his wife, which ſhe told him, ſaying, After this maner did thy ſervant to me, his anger was kindled.

20 And Ioſephs maſter tooke him and put him in † [i] priſon, in the place, where the kings priſoners lay bound: and there he was in priſon.

21 ¶ But the Lord was with Ioſeph, and † ſhewed him mercy, and got him favour in the ſight of the ‖ maſter of the priſon.

22 And the keeper of the priſon committed to Ioſephs hand al the priſoners that were in the priſon, and [k] whatſoever they did there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the priſon looked unto nothing that was under his hand, ſeeing that the Lord vvas with him: for whatſoever he did, the Lord made it to proſper.

A Nd after these things, the butler of the King of Egypt and his baker offended their Lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angrie against his two ‖ Officers, against the chiefe butler, and against the chiefe baker.

3 Therefore he put them in ward in his chiefe stewards house, in the prison and place where a Ioseph was bound.

4 And the chiefe steward gave Ioseph charge over them, and he served them: and they continued a season in warde.

5 ¶ And they both dreamed a dreame, eyther of them his dreame in one night, b eche one according to the interpretation of his dreame, both the butler and the baker of the King of Egypt, which were bound in the prison.

6 And when Ioseph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, behold, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters warde, saying, Wherefore † looke ye so sadly to day?

8 Who answered him, Wee have dreamed each one a dreame, and there is none to interprete the same. Then Ioseph said unto them, c Are not interpretations of God? tell them me now.

9 So the chiefe butler told his dreame to Ioseph, and said unto him, In my dreame, behold, a vine was before me,

10 And in the vine were three branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: and the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, and I tooke the grapes, and wrung them into Pharaohs cup, and I gave the cup into Pharaohs hand.

12 Then Ioseph said unto him, This d is the interpretation of it: ℣ three branches are three daies.

13 Within three dayes shall Pharaoh lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thine † office, and thou shalt give Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when thou wast his butler.

14 But have mee in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, and shew mercy, I pray thee unto me, and e make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou maiest bring me out of this house.

15 For I was stollen away by theft out of the land of the Ebrewes, and here also have I done nothing, wherefore they should put me ‖ in ℣ dungeon.

16 And when the chiefe baker sawe that the interpretation was good, hee said unto Ioseph, Also me thought in my dreame that I had three f white baskets on mine head.

17 And in the uppermost basket there was of all maner baken meates for Pharaoh: and ℣ birdes did eate them out of the basket upon mine head.

18 Then Ioseph answered, and sayd, g This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three dayes:

19 Within three dayes shall Pharaoh take thine head from thee, and shall hang thee on a tree and the birdes shall eate thy flesh from off thee.

20 ¶ And so the third day, which was Pharaohs h birth day, hee made a feast unto all his servants: and he lifted up the head of the chiefe butler, and the head of the chiefe baker among his servants.

21 And he restored the chiefe butler unto his butlership, who gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand, 22 But he hanged the chiefe baker, as Ioseph had interpreted unto them.

23 Yet the chiefe butler did not remember Ioseph, but forgate him.

CHAP. XLI.

26 Pharaohs dreames are expounded by Ioseph. 40 He is made ruler over all Egypt. 43 Ioseph is name is changed. 50 He hath two sonnes Manasseh and Ephraim.

A Nd † two yeeres after Pharaoh also a dreamed, and behold, he stood by a river,

2 And loe, there came out of the river seven ‖ goodly kine and fat-fleshed, and they fed in a ‖ medow:

3 And loe, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, evillfavoured & leane fleshed, and stood by the other kine upon the brinke of ℣ river.

4 And the evillfavoured and leane fleshed kine did eate up the seven welfavoured and fatte kine: so Pharaoh awoke.

5 Againe he slept, and dreamed the b second time: and behold, seven eares of corne grew upon one stalke, ranke and goodly.

6 And loe, seven thin eares, and blasted with the East wind, sprang up after them.

7 And the thinne eares devoured the seven ranke and full eares, then Pharaoh awaked, and loe it was a dreame.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirit was c troubled: therefore hee sent and called all the soothsayers of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof, and Pharaoh tolde them his dreames: but d none could interprete them to Pharaoh.

9 Then spake the chiefe butler unto Pharaoh, saying, I e call to minde my faults this day.

10 Pharaoh being angry with his servants, put me in ward in the chiefe stewards house, both me, and the chiefe baker.

11 Then wee dreamed a dreame in one night both I, and he: wee dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dreame.

12 And there was with us a young man, an Ebrew, servant unto the chiefe steward, whom when we told, he declared our dreames to * us, to every one he declared according to his dreame.

13 And as he declared unto us, so it came to passe: for he restored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 * Then sent Pharaoh, and called f Ioseph and they brought him hastily out of prison, and he shaved him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaoh.

15 Then Pharaoh said to Ioseph, I have dreamed a dreame ‖ and no man can interprete it, and I have heard say of thee, that when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interprete it:

16 And Ioseph answered Pharaoh, saying, g Without me God shall † answere for the wealth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh sayd unto Ioseph: In my dreame, behold, I stood by the banke of the river:

19 Also loe, seven other kine came up after them poore and very * evillfavoured kine, and leane fleshed: I never sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for evillfavoured.

22 Moreover I saw in my dreame, and behold, seven eares sprang out of one stalke, full and faire.

23 And loe, seven eares withered, thinne, and blasted with the East wind, sprang up after them.

24 And the thinne eares devoured the seven good eares. Now I have told the soothsayers, and none can declare it unto mee.

h Both his dreames tend to one end.

25 ¶ Then Ioseph answered Pharaoh, h Both Pharaohs dreames are one. God hath shewed Pharaoh what he is about to doe.

26 The seven good Kine are seven yeeres, and the seven good eares are seven yeeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seven thinne and evil fauoured kine, that came out after them, are seven yeeres: and the seven emptie eares blasted with the East wind, are seven yeeres of famine.

28 This is the thing which I have sayde unto Pharaoh, that God hath shewed unto Pharaoh, what he is about to doe.

29 Behold, there come seven yeeres of great ‖ plentie in all the land of Egypt.

‖ Or, abundance and saturitie.

30 Againe, there shall arise after them seven yeeres of famine, so that all the plentie shall bee forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine shall consume the land:

‖ Or, they shall remember no more the plentie.

31 Neither shal the plentie ‖ be knowen in the land, by reason of this famine that shal come after, for it shalbe exceeding great.

32 And therefore the dreame was doubled unto Pharaoh the second time, because the thing is established by God, and God hasteth to perform it.

i The office of a true Prophet is not onely to shew the evils to come, but also the remedies for the same.

33 Nowe therefore let Pharaoh i provide for a man of understanding and wisdome, and set him over the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh make and appoynt officers over the land, and take up the fift part of the land of Egypt in the seven plenteous yeeres.

35 Also let them gather all the foode of these good yeeres that come, and lay up corne under the hand of Pharaoh for foode, in ỹ cities, and let them keepe it.

36 So the foode shall be for the provision of the land, against the seven yeares of famine, which shalbe in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not by famine.

n His age is mentioned both to shew that his authoritie came of God, and also that he sufferred imprisonment and exile twelve yeeres and moe.

46 ¶ And Ioseph was n thirty yeere old when he stoode before Pharaoh King of Egypt: and Ioseph departing from ỹ presence of Pharaoh, went throughout all the land of Egypt.

47 And in the seven plenteous yeeres the earth † brought forth store.

49 So Ioseph gathered wheate, like unto the sande of the sea in multitude out of meature, untill he left numbring: for it was without number.

* Psal. 105. 16.

52 Also he called the name of the second, Ephraim: For God, sayd he hath made me fruitfull in the land of mine affliction.

53 ¶ So the seven yeeres of the plentie that was in the land of Egypt were ended.

54 * Then began the seven yeares of famine to come, according as Ioseph had sayd: and the famine was in all landes, but in all the lande of Egypt was ‖ bread.

‖ Or, foode.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was famished, and the people cried unto Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh saide unto all the Egyptians, Goe to Ioseph: what he saith to you, doe ye.

3 ¶ So went Iosephs ten brethren downe to buy corne of the Egyptians.

4 But Beniamin Iosephs brother, would not Iaakob send with his brethren: for he said, Least death should † befall him.

5 And the sonnes of Israel came to buy foode among them that came: for there was famine in the land of Canaan.

6 Now

6 Nowe Ioseph was governour of the land, who sold to all the people of the land: then Iosephs brethren came, and bowed their face to the ground before him.

7 And when Ioseph sawe his brethren, hee knewe them, and [c] made himselfe strange toward them, and spake to them rouwghly, and sayd unto them, Whence come ye? Who answered, Out of the land of Canaan, to buy vitaile.

8 (Now Ioseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him, 9 And Ioseph remembred the * dreames, which he dreamed of them) and he said unto them, Ye are spies, and are come to see the † weaknes of ỹ land.

10 But they sayd unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy vitaile thy servants are come.

11 Wee are all one mans sonnes: wee meane truely, and thy servants are no spies.

12 But hee sayd unto them, Nay, but ye are come to see thee weakneffe of the land.

13 And they said, Wee thy servants, are twelve brethren, the sonnes of one man in the land of Canaan: and beholde, the yongest is this day with our father, and one ‖ is not.

14 Againe Ioseph sayd unto them, this is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies.

15 Hereby ye shall be prooved: [d] by the life of Pharaoh, ye shall not goe hence, except your yongest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you which may fet your brother, and ye shalbe kept in prison, that your words may be prooved, whether there be trueth in you, or els by the life of Pharaoh ye are but spies.

17 So he put them in warde three dayes.

18 Then Ioseph sayde unto them the third day, This doe, and live: for I [e] feare God.

19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in your prison house, and goe ye, carie foode for the famine of your houses.

20 * But bring your yonger brother unto me, that your words may be tried, and that yee dye not: and they did so.

21 ¶ And they said one to another, [f] We have verily sinned against our brother, in that we sawe the anguish of his soule, when he besought us, and we would not heare him: therefore is this trouble come upon us.

22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Warned I not you, saying, * Sinne not against the childe, and ye would not heare? and lo, his [g] blood is now required.

23 (And they were not aware that Ioseph understood them: for he † spake unto them by an interpreter.)

24 Then he turned from them, and [h] wept, and turned to them againe, and communed with them, and tooke Simeon from among them, and bound him before their eyes.

25 ¶ So Ioseph commanded that they should fill their sackes with wheate, and put every mans money againe in his sacke, and give them vitaile for the iourney: and thus did he unto them.

26 And they layed their vitaile upon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to give his asse provender in the Inne, he espyed his money: for lo, it was in his sackes mouth.

28 Then he sayd unto his brethren, My money is restored: for lo, it is even in my sacke. And their heart † fayled them, and they were [i] astonished, and sayd one to another, What is this, that God hath done unto us?

29 ¶ And they came unto Iaakob their father unto the land of Canaan, and tolde him all that had fallen them, saying,

30 The man who is lord of the land, spake roughly to us, & put us in prison as spies of the countrey.

31 And we sayd unto him, We are true men, and are no spies, 32 Wee be twelve brethren, sonnes of our father: one ‖ is not, and the yongest is this day with our father in the land of Canaan.

33 Then the lord of the countrey sayd unto us, Hereby shal I knowe if yee be true men: Leave one of your brethren with me, and take foode for the famine of your houses, and depart, 34 And bring your yongest brother unto me, that I may knowe that yee are no spies, but true men: so will I deliver you your brother, and yee shall occupie in the land.

35 ¶ And as they emptied their sackes, beholde, every mans bundel of money was in his sacke: and when they and their father saw the bundels of their money, they were afrayd.

36 Then Iaakob their father sayd to them, Ye have robbed me of my children: Ioseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take Beniamin: all these things * are against [k] me.

37 Then Reuben answered his father, saying, Slay my two sonnes, if I bring him not to thee againe: deliver him to mine hand, and I will bring him to thee againe.

38 But he said, My sonne shall not goe downe with you: for his brother is dead, and he is left alone: if death come unto him by the way which ye go, then ye shall bring my gray head with sorow unto the grave.

THen Israel tooke his iourney with all that he had, and came to Beer-sheba, and a offered sacrifice unto the God of his father Izhak.

2 And God spake unto Israel in a vision by night, saying, Iaakob, Iaakob. Who answered, I am here.

3 Then hee sayde, I am God, the God of thy father, feare not to go downe into Egypt: for I will there make of thee a great nation.

4 I will b go downe with thee into Egypt, and I will also c bring thee up againe, and Ioseph shall d put his hand upon thine eyes.

5 Then Iaakob rose up from Beer-sheba: and the sonnes of Israel caried Iaakob their father, and their children, and their wives in the charets, which Pharaoh had sent to cary him.

6 And they tooke their cattell and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt, both * Iaakob and all his seede with him.

7 His sonnes and his sonnes sonnes with him, his daughters and his sonnes daughters, and all his seede brought he with him into Egypt.

13 ¶ Also the sonnes of ‖ Issachar: Tola, and Phuuah, and Iob, and Shimron.

14 ¶ Also the sonnes of Zebulun: Sered, and Elon, and Iahleel.

15 These be the sonnes of Leah, which shee bare unto Iaakob in Padan Aram, with his daughter Dinah. All the ‖ soules of his sonnes and his daughters were thirtie and three.

16 Also the sonnes of Gad: Ziphion, and Haggi, Shuni, and Ezbon, Eri, and Arodi, and Areli.

17 ¶ Also the sonnes of ‖ Asher: Iimnah, and Ishuah, and Isui, and Beriah, and Sherah their sister. And the sonnes of Beriah: and Heber, Malchiel.

18 These are the children of Zilpah, whom Laban gave to Leah his daughter: and these she bare unto Iaakob, even sixteene soules.

19 The sonnes of Rahel Iaakobs wife were Ioseph, and Beniamin.

20 ¶ And unto Ioseph in the land of Egypt were borne Manasseh, and Ephraim, which * Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah prince of On bare unto him.

21 ¶ Also the sonnes of * Beniamin: Belah, and Becher, and Ashbeel, and Gera, Naaman, Ehi, and Rosh, Muppim, and Huppim, and Ard.

22 These are the sonnes of Rahel, which were borne unto Iaakob, fourteene soules in all.

23 ¶ Also the sonnes of Dan: Hushim.

24 ¶ Also the sonnes of Naphtali: Iahzeel, and Guni, Iezer, and Shillem.

25 These are the sonnes of Bilhah, which Laban gave unto Rahel his daughter, and shee bare these to Iaakob, in all seven soules.

26 All the * soules, that came with Iaakob into Egypt, which came out of his † loines (beside Iaakobs sonnes wives) were in the whole, threescore and sixe soules.

27 Also the sonnes of Ioseph, which were borne him in Egypt, were two soules: so that all the soules of the house of Iaakob, which came into Egypt, are seventie.

28 ¶ Then he sent Iudah before him unto Ioseph, to ‖ direct his way unto Goshen, and they came into the land of Goshen.

29 Then Ioseph † made ready his caret, and went up to Goshen to meet Israel his father, and presented himselfe unto him, and fell on his necke and wept upon his necke a ‖ good while.

30 And Israel said unto Ioseph, Now let me die since I have seene thy face, and ỹ thou art yet alive.

31 Then Ioseph said to his brethren, and to his fathers house, I will go up and shew Pharaoh, and tell him, My brethren and my fathers house, which were in the land of Canaan, are come unto me.

32 And the men are e sheepheardes, and because they are sheepheardes, they have brought their sheepe & their cattell, and all that they have.

33 And if Pharaoh call you, and aske you, What is your trade?

6 The [b] land of Egypt is before thee: in the best place of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell: let them dwell in the land of Goshen: and if thou knowest that there be men of activitie among them, make them rulers over my cattell.

7 Ioseph also brought Iaakob his father, and set him before Pharaoh. And Iaakob † saluted Pharaoh.

8 Then Pharaoh said unto Iaakob, † How olde art thou?

9 And Iaakob said unto Pharaoh, The whole time of my ‖ pilgrimage is an hundreth and thirtie yeeres: few and evil have the daies of my life been, and I have not attained unto the yeeres of the life of my fathers, in the dayes of their pilgrimages.

10 And Iaakob ‖ tooke leave of Pharaoh, and departed from the presence of Pharaoh.

11 ¶ And Ioseph placed his father, and his brethren, and gave them possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, even in the land of [c] Rameses, as Pharaoh had commanded.

12 ¶ And Ioseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his fathers household with bread [d] even to the young children.

13 ¶ Now there was no bread in all the land: for the famine was exceeding sore: so that the land of Egypt, and the land of Canaan were † famished by reason of the famine.

14 And Ioseph gathered all the money, that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they bought, and [e] Ioseph layd up the money in Pharaohs house.

15 So when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptians came unto Ioseph and sayde, Give us bread: for why should we dye before thee? for our money is spent.

16 Then sayde Ioseph, Bring your cattel, and I will give you for your cattell, if your money be spent.

17 So they brought their cattell unto Ioseph, and Ioseph gave them bread for the horses, and for the flockes of sheepe, and for the heardes of cattell, and for the asses: so he fed them with bread for all their cattell that yeere.

18 But when the yeere was ended, they came unto him the next yeere, and sayde unto him, We will not hide from my lord, that since our money is spent, and my lord hath the heardes of the cattell, there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies and our ground.

19 Why shall we perish in thy sight, both we and our land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be bound to Pharaoh: therefore give us seede, that we may live and not dye, and that the land goe not to waste.

20 So Ioseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh: for the Egyptians solde every man his ground, because the famine was sore upon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he [g] removed the people unto the cities, ‖ from one side of Egypt even to the other.

22 Only the land of the Priests bought he not: for the Priests had an ordinarie of Pharaoh, and they did eate their ordinarie, which Pharaoh gave them: wherefore they solde not their ground.

23 Then Ioseph sayd unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day, and your land for Pharaoh: loe, here is seede for you: sowe therefore the ground.

24 And of the increase yee shall give the fifth part unto Pharaoh, and foure partes shalbe yours for the seede of the field, and for your meate, and for them of your householdes, and for your children to eate.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saved our lives: let us finde grace in the sight of my lord, and we will be Pharaohs servants.

26 Then Ioseph made it a law over the land of Egypt unto this day, that Pharaoh should have the fifth part, [h] except the land of the Priests only, which was not Pharaohs.

27 ¶ And Israel dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the countrey of Goshen: and they had their possessions therein, & grew and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreover, Iaakob lived in the land of Egypt seventeene yeeres, so that the whole age of Iaakob was an hundreth fourtie and seven yeeres.

29 Now when the time drew neere that Israel must die, he called his sonne Ioseph, and said unto him, If I have nowe found grace in thy sight, * put thine hand nowe under my thigh, and deale mercifully and truely with me: burie me not, I pray thee, in Egypt.

30 But when I shall [i] sleepe with my fathers, thou shalt carie me out of Egypt, and burie mee in their buriall. And hee answered, I will doe as thou hast sayd.

31 Then he sayd, Sweare unto mee. And hee sware unto him. And Israel [k] worshipped towardes the beds head.

13 Iaakob is buried. 19 Ioseph forgiveth his brethren. 23 He seeth his childrens children. 25 He dyeth.

THen Ioseph fell upon his fathers face and wept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And Ioseph commanded his servants the a physicians to embalme his father, and the physicians embalmed Israel.

3 So forty daies were accomplished (for so long did the dayes of them that were embalmed last) and the Egyptians bewayled him b seventie dayes.

4 And when the dayes of his mourning were past, Ioseph spake to the house of Pharaoh, saying, If I have now found favour in your eyes, speake, I pray you, in the eares of Pharaoh, and say,

5 My father made me * sweare, saying, Loe, I die, burie me in my grave, which I have made me in the land of Canaan: now therefore let me go, I pray thee, and bury my father, & I will come again.

6 Then Pharaoh said, Go up and bury thy father, c as he made thee to sweare.

7 ¶ So Ioseph went up to bury his father, and with him went all the servants of Pharaoh, both the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt.

8 Likewise all the house of Ioseph, and his brethren, and his fathers house: onely their children, and their sheepe, and their catteil left they in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went up with him both charets and horsemen: and they were an exceeding great company.

10 And they came to ‖ Goren Atad, which is beyond Iorden, and there they made a great and exceeding sore lamentation: and he mourned for his father seven dayes.

11 And when the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land sawe the mourning in Goren Atad, they saide, This is a great mourning unto the Egyptians: wherefore the name thereof was called ‖ Abel Mizraim, which is beyond Iorden.

12 So his sons did unto him, according as hee had commanded them:

13 ‖ For his sonnes carried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the cave of the fielde of Machpelah, which cave ‖ Abraham bought with the field, to be a ‖ place to bury in, of Ephron the Hittite beside Mamre.

14 ¶ Then Ioseph returned into Egypt, he and his brethren, and all that went up with him to burie his father, after that he had buried his father.

15 And when Iosephs brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, d It may be that Ioseph will hate us, and will pay us againe all the evill which we did unto him.

16 Therefore they sent unto Ioseph, saying, Thy father commanded before his death, saying, 17 Thus shall ye say unto Ioseph, Forgive now, I pray thee, the trespasse of thy brethren, and their sinne: for they rewarded thee evill. And now, we pray thee, forgive the trespasse of the servants of thy fathers e God. And Ioseph wept, when ‖ they spake unto him.

18 Also his brethren came unto him, and fell downe before his face, and saide, Behold, wee be thy servants.

19 To whom Ioseph saide, ‖ Feare not: for ‖ am not I under f God?

20 When yee thought evill against mee, God disposed it to good, that he might bring to passe, as it is this day, and save much people alive.

21 Feare not now therefore, I will nourish you, and your children: and he comforted them, and spake † kindly unto them.

22 ¶ So Ioseph dwelt in Egypt, he, and his fathers house: and Ioseph lived an g hundreth and tenne yeeres.

23 * And Ioseph saw Ephraims children, even unto the third generation: also the sonnes of Machir the sonne of Manasseh were brought upon Iosephs knees.

24 And Ioseph said unto his brethren, ‖ I am readie to die, and God will surely visite you, and bring you out of this land, unto the land which he sware unto Abraham, unto Izhak, and unto Iaakob.

25 And Ioseph tooke an oathe of the children of Israel, saying, ‖ h God will surely visite you, and ye shall carrie my bones hence.

26 So Ioseph died, when he was an hundreth and tenne yeeres olde: and they embalmed him, and put him in a chest in Egypt.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF MOSES, CALLED EXODUS.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Iaakob by Gods commandement Gen. 46. 3. had brought his familie into Egypt, where they remained for the space of foure hundreth yeeres, and of seventy persons grew to an infinite number, so that the King and the countrey grudged and endeavoured both by tyranny and cruell slavery to suppresse them: the Lord according to his promise Gen. 15. 14. had compassion of his Church, and delivered them, but plagued their enemies in most strange and sundry sorts. And the more that the tyrannie of the wicked enraged against his Church, the more did his heavy iudgements increase against them, till Pharaoh and his army were drowned in the same Sea, which gave an entrie & passage to the children of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great, so did they immediatly forget Gods wonderfull benefits: & albeit he had given them the Passover to be a signe & memoriall of the same, yet they fell to diſtruſt, and tempted God vvith ſundrie murmurings and grudgings againſt him and his miniſters; ſometime mooved vvith ambition, ſometime for lacke of drinke or meate to content their luſts, ſometime by idolatry, or ſuch like. Wherefore God viſited them vvith ſharpe roddes and plagues, that by his corrections they might ſeeke to him for remedy againſt his ſcourges, and earneſtly repent them for their rebellions and vvickedneſſe. And becauſe God loveth them to the end vvhom he hath once begun to love, he puniſhed them not according to their deſerts, but dealt vvith them in great mercies, and ever vvith newv benefites laboured to overcome their malice: for he ſtill governed them and gave them his vvord and Lavv, both concerning the maner of ſerving him, and alſo the forme of iudgements and civill policy: to the intent that they ſhould not ſerve God after their ovvne inventions, but according to that order, vvhich his heavenly vviſdome had appointed.

CHAP. I.

1 The children of Iaakob that came into Egypt. 8 The new Pharaoh oppreſſeth them. 12 The providence of God toward them. 15 The Kings commandement to the midvvives. 22 The ſonnes of the Ebrewes are commanded to be caſt into the river.

NOw * a theſe are the names of the children of Iſrael, which came into Egypt (every man and his houſhold came thither with Iaakob)

2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Iudah,

3 Iſſachar, Zebulun, and Beniamin,

4 Dan, and Nathali, Gad, and Aſher.

5 So all the ‖ ſoules, that came out of the loines of Iaakob, were * ſeventy ſoules: Ioſeph was in Egypt already.

6 Now Ioſeph died and all his brethren, and that whole generation.

7 ¶ And the * children of Iſrael ‖ brought forth fruit and increaſed in abundance, and were multiplied, & were exceeding mighty, ſo that the b land was full of them.

8 Then there roſe up a newe King in Egypt, who c knew not Ioſeph.

9 And he ſaid unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Iſrael are greater, and mightier then wee.

10 Come, let us worke wiſely with them, leſt they multiplie, and it come to paſſe, that if there be war, they ioyne themſelves alſo unto our enemies, and fight againſt us, and d ‖ get them out of the land.

11 Therefore did they ſet taskemaſters over them, to keepe them under with burdens: and they built the cities Pithom and Raamſes for ſ ‖ treaſures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grew: therefore e they were more grieved againſt the children of Iſrael.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by cruelty cauſed the children of Iſrael to ſerve.

14 Thus they made them weary of their lives by ſore labour in clay and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all manner of bondage, † which they laid upon them moſt cruelly.

15 ¶ Moreover the King of Egypt commanded the midwives of the Ebrew women (of which the ones name was f Shiphrah, and the name of the other Puah)

16 And ſaid, * When ye doe the office of a midwife to ſ women of the Ebrewes, and ſee them on their ‖ ſtooles, if it be a ſonne, then ye ſhall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then let her live.

17 Notwithſtanding the midwives feared God, and did not as the King of Egypt commanded them, but preſerved alive the men-children.

18 Then the King of Egypt called for the midwives, and ſaid unto them, Why have yee done thus, and have preſerved alive the men-children?

19 And the midwives anſwered Pharaoh, Becauſe the Ebrew g women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are lively, and are delivered yer the midwives come at them.

20 God therefore proſpered the midwives, and the people multiplied, and were very mightie.

21 And becauſe ſ midwives feared God, therefore he h made them houſes.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, ſaying, Every man-child that is borne, i caſt ye into the river, but reſerve every maide-child alive.

CHAP. II.

1 Moſes is borne and caſt into the flags. 5 He is taken up of Pharaohs daughter and kept. 12 He killeth the Egyptian. 15 He fleeth and marrieth a wife. 23 The Iſraelites crie unto the Lord.

THen there went a a man of the houſe of Levi, and tooke to vvife a daughter of Levi.

2 And the woman conceived and bare a ſon: and when ſhe ſawe that he was faire, * ſhe hid him three moneths.

3 But wen ſhee could no longer hide him, ſhee tooke for him an arke made of reed, and daubed it with ſlime and with pitch, and b laied the child therein, and put it among the bulruſhes by the rivers brinke.

4 Now his ſiſter ſtood afarre off, to wit what would come of him.

5 ¶ Then the daughter of Pharaoh came down to waſh her in the river, and her maidens walked by the rivers ſide: and when ſhe ſaw the arke among the bulruſhes, ſhe ſent her maide to fet it,

6 Then ſhe opened it, and ſaw it was a child, and behold, the babe wept: ſo ſhe had compaſſion on it, and ſaid, This is one of the Ebrewes children.

7 Then ſaid his ſiſter unto Pharaohs daughter, Shall I go and call unto thee a nurſe of the Ebrew women to nurſe thee the child?

8 And Pharaohs daughter ſaid to her, Goe. So the maide went and called the c childs mother.

9 To whom Pharaohs daughter ſaide, Take this childe away, and nurſe it for mee, and I will reward thee. Then the woman tooke the childe, and nurſed him.

10 Now the child grew, and ſhe brought him unto Pharaohs daughter, and he was as her ſonne, and ſhe called his name Moſes, becauſe, ſaid ſhe, I drew him out of the water.

11 ¶ And in thoſe dayes, when Moſes was d growen, he went forth unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: alſo he ſaw an Egyptian ſmiting an Ebrew one of his brethren.

12 And hee looked † round about, and when he ſawe no man, he e ſlew the Egyptian, and hid him in the ſand.

13 Againe he came forth the ſecond day, and behold two Ebrewes ſtrove: and he ſaid unto him that did the wrong, Wherefore ſmiteſt thou thy fellow?

CHAP. II.

2 Moses is borne and cast into the flags. 5 He is taken up of Pharaohs daughter and kept. 12 He killeth the Egyptian. 15 He fleeth and marrieth a wife. 23 The Israelites crie unto the Lord.

THen there went a a man of the house of Levi, and tooke to wife a daughter of Levi.

a This Levite was called Amram, who married Iochabed, Chap. 6,20. * Num. 26,59. 1 Chron. 23,13. Act 7,20. Heb. 11,23.

2 And the woman conceived and bare a son: and when she sawe that he was faire, * she hid him three moneths.

3 But wen shee could no longer hide him, shee tooke for him an arke made of reed, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and b laied the child therein, and put it among the bulrushes by the rivers brinke.

b Commiting him to the providence of God, whom she could not keepe from the rage of the tyrant.

4 Now his sister stood afarre off, to wit what would come of him.

5 ¶ Then the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash her in the river, and her maidens walked by the rivers side: and when she saw the arke among the bulrushes, she sent her maide to fet it,

6 Then she opened it, and saw it was a child, and behold, the babe wept: so she had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Ebrewes children.

7 Then said his sister unto Pharaohs daughter, Shall I go and call unto thee a nurse of the Ebrew women to nurse thee the child?

8 And Pharaohs daughter said to her, Goe. So the maide went and called the c childs mother.

c Mans counsell cannot hinder that, which God hath determined shall come to passe.

9 To whom Pharaohs daughter saide, Take this childe away, and nurse it for mee, and I will reward thee. Then the woman tooke the childe, and nursed him.

10 Now the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaohs daughter, and he was as her sonne, and she called his name Moses, because, said she, I drew him out of the water.

11 ¶ And in those dayes, when Moses was d growen, he went forth unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: also he saw an Egyptian smiting an Ebrew one of his brethren.

d That is, was fourty yeere older. Act. 7,23.

12 And hee looked † round about, and when he sawe no man, he e slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

e Being assured that God had appointed him to deliver the Israelites. Act. 7,25.

13 Againe he came forth the second day, and behold two Ebrewes strove: and he said unto him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?

14 And

14 And he answered, Who made thee a man of authoritie, and a iudge over us? Thinkest thou to kill me, as thou killedst § Egyptian? Then Moses f feared and said, Certainly this thing is knowen.

f Though by his feare he shewed his infirmity, yet faith covered it. Hebr. 11,27.

15 Now Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses: therefore Moses fled from Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian, and he sate downe by a well.

16 And the ‖ Priest of Midian had seven daughters, which came and drewe water, and filled the troughes, for to water their fathers sheepe.

‖ Or, prince.

17 Then the shepherds came and drove them away: but Moses rose up, and † defended them, and watered their sheepe.

† Ebr. saved them.

18 And when they came to Revel their ‖ father, he said, How are ye come so soone to day?

‖ Or, grand father.

19 And they said, A man of Egypt delivered us from the hand of the shepherds, and also drew us water ynough, and watered the sheepe.

20 Then he said unto his daughters, And where is he? why have ye so left the man? g call him that he may eate bread.

g Wherein he declared a thankefull mind, which would recompence the benefit done unto his.

21 And Moses agreed to dwell with the man: who gave unto Moses Zipporah his daughter:

22 And she bare a soone, * whose name he called Gershom: for he sayd, I have bene a stranger in a strange land.

* Chap 18,3.

23 ¶ Then in processe of time, the King of Egypt died, and the children of Israel sighed for the bondage and h cried: and their crie for the bondage came up unto God.

h God humbleth his by afflictions, that they should cry unto him, and receive the fruit of his promise.

24 Then God heard their mone, and God remembred his covenant with Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

25 So God looked upon the children of Israel, and God * had respect unto them.

i He iudgeth their causes or acknowledged them to be his.

* Exod. 3,6. Psal. 105,8. Luke 1,72.

CHAP. III.

1 Moses keepeth sheepe, and God appeareth unto him in a bush. 10 He sendeth him to deliver the children of Israel. 14 The name of God.

WHen Moses kept the sheepe of Iethro his father in lawe, Priest of Midian, and drove the flocke to the ‖ backeside of the desert, and came to the a Mountaine of God, b Horeb.

‖ Or, farre within the desart.

a It was so called after the law was given.

b Called also Sinai. * Act. 7,30.

2 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him * in a flame of fire out of the mids of a c bush, and he looked, and behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

c This signifieth that the Church is not consumed by the fire of affliction, because God is in the mids thereof.

3 Therefore Moses said, I will turne aside now, and see this great sight, why the bush burneth not.

4 And when the d Lord sawe that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the mids of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And hee answered, I am here.

d Whom he calleth the Angel, verse 2.

5 Then he saide, Come not hither, e put thy shooes off thy feete: for the place whereon thou standest is f holy ground.

e Resigne thy selfe up to me, Ruth 4,7. Ios 5,15.

f Because of my presence.

6 Moreover he sayd, * I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, and the God of Iaakob. Then Moses hid his face: for he was g afraid to looke upon God.

* Mat 22,32. Acts 7,32.

g For sinne causeth man to feare Gods iustice.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said, I have surely seene the trouble of my people, which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry, because of their h taskemasters: for I know their sorrowes.

h Whose cruelty was intollerable.

8 Therefore I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good land and a large, into a land that i floweth with milke and honie, even into the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Iebusites.

i Most plentifull of all things.

9 k And now lo, the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me, and I have also seene the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppresse them.

k He heard before, but now he would revenge it.

10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

11 ¶ But Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring the children of Israel out of Egypt?

l He doeth not fully disobey God, but acknowledgeth his owne weakenesse.

12 And he answered, m Certainly I will bee with thee: and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee, After that thou hast brought the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountaine.

m Neither feare thine owne weaknesse, nor Pharaohs tyranny.

13 Then Moses said unto God, Behold, when I shall come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you: if they say unto mee, What is his Name? what shall I say unto them?

14 And God answered Moses, † I AM THAT I AM. Also he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

n The God which ever have bene, and shalbe the God almighty, by whom all things have their beeing, and the God of mercy, mindfull of my promise, Reuel. 1,4.

15 And God spake further unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, and the God of Iaakob hath sent me unto you: this is my Name for ever, and this is my memoriall unto all ages.

16 Go and gather the Elders of Israel together, & thou shalt say unto them, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob appeared unto me, and said, † I have surely remembred you, and that which is done to you in Egypt.

† Ebr. in visiting: have visited.

17 Therefore I did say, I will bring you out of the affliction of Egypt unto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Iebusites, unto a land that floweth with milke and honie.

18 Then shall they obey my voyce, and thou and the Elders of Israel shall go unto § King of Egypt, and say unto him, The Lord God of the Ebrewes hath ‖ met with us: we pray thee now therefore, let us goe three dayes iourney in the wilderneſſe, that we may o sacrifice unto the Lord our God.

‖ Or, appeared unto us.

o Because Egypt was full of idolatry, God would appoynt them a place where they should serve him purely.

19 ¶ But I know, that the King of Egypt will not let you goe, but by strong hand.

20 Therefore will I stretch out mine hand and smite Egypt with all my wonders, which I will doe in the mids thereof: and after that shall he let you goe.

p This example may not be followed generally: though at Gods commandement they did it iustly, receiving some recompence of their labours.

21 And I will make this people to bee favoured of the Egyptians: so that when ye go, ye shall not goe emptie.

22 p * For every woman shall aske of her neighbour, and of her ‖ that soiourneth in her house, iewels of silver and iewels of gold and raiment, and ye shall put them on your sonnes, and on your daughters, and shall spoile the Egyptians.

* Chap. 12,2 and 12,35.

‖ Or, in whose house she soiourneth.

CHAP. IIII.

3 Moses rod is turned into a serpent. 6 His hand is leprous. 9 The water of the river is turned into blood. 14 Aaron is given to helpe Moses. 21 God hardeneth Pharaoh. 25 Moses wife circumciseth her sonne.

THen Moses answered, and said, a But loe, they will not beleeve me, nor hearken unto my voyce: for they will say, The Lord hath not appeared a God heareth with Moses doubting, because he was not altogether without faith.

peared unto thee.

2 And the Lord ſayd unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he anſwered, A rod.

3 Then ſaid he, Caſt it on the ground. So he caſt it on the ground, and it was turned into a ſerpent: and Moſes fled from it.

4 Againe the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the taile. Then he put foorth his hand and caught it, and it was turned into a rod in his hand.

5 Doe this [b] that they may beleeve, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, and the God of Iaakob hath appeared unto thee.

6 ¶ And the Lord ſaid furthermore unto him, Thruſt now thine hand into thy boſome. And he thruſt his hand into his boſome, and when hee tooke it out againe, behold, his hand was ‖ leprous as ſnow.

7 Moreover he ſaid, Put thine hand into thy boſome againe. So hee put his hand into his boſome againe, and pluckt it out of his boſome, and behold, it was turned againe as his other fleſh.

8 So ſhall it be, if they will not beleeve thee, neither obey ‖ the voyce of the firſt ſigne, yet ſhal they beleeve for the voyce of the ſecond ſigne.

9 But if they will not yet beleeve their two ſignes, neither obey unto thy voice, then ſhalt thou take of the [c] water of the river, and powre it upon the drie land: ſo the water which thou ſhalt take out of the river, ſhalbe turned to blood upon the drie land.

10 ¶ But Moſes ſaid unto the Lord, Oh my Lord, I am not eloquent, † neither at any time have been, nor yet ſince thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant: but I am † ſlow of ſpeech and ſlowe of tongue.

11 Then the Lord ſaid unto him, Who hath given the mouth to man? or who hath made the dumbe, or the deafe, or him that ſeeth, or the blind? have not I the Lord?

12 Therefore go now, and * I will be with thy mouth, and will teach thee what thou ſhalt ſay.

13 But he ſaid, Oh my Lord, ſend, I pray thee, by the ‖ hand of him, whom thou [d] ſhouldeſt ſend.

14 Then the Lord was [e] very angry with Moſes, and ſaid, Doe not I know Aaron thy brother the Levite, that he himſelfe ſhall ſpeake? for loe, he commeth alſo foorth to meete thee, and when hee ſeeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeake unto him, and [f] put the wordes in his mouth, and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye ought to doe.

16 And hee ſhall be thy ſpokeſman unto the people: and hee ſhall be, even hee ſhall bee as thy mouth, and thou ſhalt be to him as * [g] God.

17 Moreover thou ſhalt take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou ſhalt doe miracles.

18 ¶ Therefore Moſes went and returned to Iethro his father in law, and ſaid unto him, I pray thee, let mee goe, and returne to my ‖ brethren, which are in Egypt, and ſee whether they be yet alive. Then Iethro ſaid to Moſes, Go in peace.

19 (For the Lord had ſaid unto Moſes in Midian, Go, returne to Egypt: for they are all dead which † went about to kill thee.)

20 Then Moſes tooke his wife and his ſonnes, and † put them on an aſſe, and returned toward the land of Egypt, and Moſes tooke the [h] rod of God in his hand.

21 And the Lord ſaide unto Moſes, When thou art entred and come into Egypt againe, ſee that thou doe all the wonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thine hand: but I will [i] harden his heart, and he ſhall not let the people goe.

22 Then thou ſhalt ſay to Pharaoh, Thus ſaith the Lord, Iſrael is my ſonne, even my [k] firſt borne.

23 Wherefore I ſay to thee, Let my ſonne go, that he may ſerve me: if thou refuſe to let him go, behold, I will ſlay thy ſonne, even thy firſt borne.

24 ¶ And as he was by the way in the Inne, the Lord met him, and [l] would have killed him.

25 Then Zipporah tooke a ſharpe knife, and [m] cut away the foreskinne of her ſonne, and caſt it at his feete, and ſaid, Thou art indeed a bloodie husband unto me.

26 So † he departed from him. Then ſhe ſaid, O bloody husband (becauſe of the circumciſion.)

27 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Aaron, Go meet Moſes in the wilderneſſe. And hee went and met him in the * Mount of God, and kiſſed him.

28 Then Moſes told Aaron all the wordes of the Lord, who had ſent him, and all the ſignes wherewith he had charged him.

29 ¶ So went Moſes and Aaron, and gathered all the elders of the children of Iſrael.

30 And Aaron told all the wordes, which the Lord had ſpoken unto Moſes, and he did the miracles in the ſight of the people.

31 And the [n] people beleeved, and when they heard that the Lord had viſited the children of Iſrael, and had looked upon their tribulation, they bowed downe, and worſhipped.

CHAP. V.

1 Moſes and Aaron doe their meſſage unto Pharaoh, who oppreſſeth the people of Iſrael more and more. 20 They cry out upon Moſes and Aaron therefore, and Moſes complaineth unto God.

THen afterward Moſes and Aaron went and ſaid to [a] Pharaoh, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Let my people go, that they may [b] celebrate a feaſt unto me in the wilderneſſe.

2 And Pharaoh ſaid, Who is the Lord, that I ſhould heare his voice, and let Iſrael goe? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Iſrael goe.

3 And they ſaid, † We worſhip the God of the Ebrewes: we pray thee, let us goe three dayes iourney in the deſart, and ſacrifice unto the Lord our God, leaſt * he bring upon us the peſtilence or ſword.

4 Then ſaid the King of Egypt unto them, Moſes and Aaron, why cauſe yee the people to ceaſe from their works? get you to your burdens.

5 Pharaoh ſaid furthermore, Behold, much people is nowe in the land, and yee [c] make them leave their burdens.

6 Therefore Pharaoh gave commaundement the ſame day unto the taskemaſters of the people, and to their [d] officers, ſaying,

7 Ye ſhall give the people no more ſtrawe, to make bricke (* as in time paſt) but let them go and gather them ſtraw themſelves.

8 Notwithſtanding lay upon them the number of bricke, which they made in time paſt, diminiſh nothing thereof: for they be idle, therefore they crie, ſaying, Let us goe to offer ſacrifice unto our God.

10 ¶ Then went the taskemasters of the people and their officers out, and tolde the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I will give you no more strawe.

11 Goe your selves, get ye strawe where ye can finde it, yet shall nothing of your labour be diminished.

12 Then were the people scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble instead of strawe.

13 And the taskemasters hasted them, saying, Finish your dayes worke ‖ every dayes taske, as ye did when ye had straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaohs taskemasters had set over them, were beaten, and demaunde, Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your take in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Israel came and cried unto Pharaoh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus thy servants?

16 There is no strawe given to thy servants, and they say unto us, Make bricke: and loe: thy servants are beaten, and ‖ thy people is blamed.

17 But he said, † Ye are to much idle: therefore ye say, Let us goe to offer sacrifice to the Lord.

18 Goe therefore nowe and worke: for there shall no strawe be given you, yet shall ye deliver the whole tale of bricke.

19 Then the officers of the children of Israel ‖ sawe themselves in an evill case, because it was sayd, Ye shall diminish nothing of your bricke, nor of every dayes taske.

20 ¶ And they met Moses and Aaron, which stood in their way as they came out from Pharaoh.

21 To whome they said, The Lord looke upon you and judge: for ye have made our favour to * stinke before Pharaoh and before his servants, in that ye have g put a sword in their hand to slay us.

22 Wherefore Moses returned to the Lord, and sayd, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou thus sent me?

23 For since I came to Pharaoh to speake in thy name, he hath vexed this people, and yet thou hast not delivered thy people.

CHAP. VI.

3 God renueth his promise of deliverance of the Israelites.
9 Moses speaketh to the Israelites, but they beleeue him not. 10 Moses and Aaron are sent againe unto Pharaoh.

THen the Lord sayd unto Moses, Now shalt thou se: what I will doe unto Pharaoh: for by a strong hand shall he let them goe, and even ‖ be constrained to drive them out of his land.

2 Moreover God spake unto Moses, and said unto him, I am the Lord.

3 And I appeared unto Abraham, to Izhak, and to Iaakob by the Name of ‖ Almighty God, but by my Name a Iehovah was I not knowen unto them.

4 Furthermore as I made my covenant with them to give them the land of Canaan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 So I have also heard the groning of the children of Israel, whom the Egyptians keepe in bondage, and have remembred my covenant.

6 Wherefore say thou unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, & I will bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, and will deliver you out of their bondage, and will redeeme you in a stretched out arme, and in great ‖ iudgements.

7 Also I will d take you for my people, and will be your God: then ye shall know that I the Lord your God bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians.

8 And I will bring you into the land which I † sware that I would give to Abraham, and to Izhak, and to Iaakob, and I will give it unto you for a possession: I am the Lord.

9 ¶ So Moses told the children of Israel thus: but they harkened e not unto Moses, for anguish of spirit and for cruel bondage.

10 Then the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

11 Go speake to Pharaoh King of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel goe out of his land.

12 But Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearken not unto me, how then shall Pharaoh heare me, which am of d uncircumcised lippes?

13 Then the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, and charged them to go to the children of Israel and to Pharaoh King of Egypt, to bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VII.

3 God hardeneth Pharaohs heart. 10 Moſes and Aaron doe the miracles of the ſerpent, and the blood: and Pharaohs ſorcerers doe the like.

THen the Lord ſayd to Moſes, Behold, I have made thee ‖ Pharaohs [a] God, and Aaron thy brother ſhall ‖ be thy Prophet.

2 Thou ſhalt ſpeake all that I commaunded thee: and Aaron thy brother ſhall ſpeake unto Pharaoh, that he ſuffer the children of Iſrael to goe out of his land.

3 But I will harden Pharaohs heart, and multiply my miracles, & my wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaoh ſhall not hearken unto you, that I may lay mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out mine armies, even my people, ỹ children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt, by great [b] iudgements.

5 Then the Egyptians ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſtretch forth mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out the children of Iſrael from among them.

6 So Moſes and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, even ſo did they.

7 (Now Moſes was [c] foureſcore yeeres old, and Aaron foureſcore and three, when they ſpake unto Pharaoh.)

8 ¶ And the Lord had ſpoken unto Moſes and Aaron, ſaying,

9 If Pharaoh ſpeake unto you, ſaying, Shew a miracle for you, then thou ſhalt ſay unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and caſt it before Pharaoh, and it ſhalbe turned into a ‖ ſerpent.

10 ¶ Then went Moſes and Aaron unto Pharaoh, and did even as the Lord had commanded, and Aaron caſt forth his rod before Pharaoh and before his ſervants, and it was turned into a ſerpent.

11 Then Pharaoh alſo called for the wiſe men and [d] ſorcerers: and thoſe charmers alſo of Egypt did in like manner with their enchauntments.

12 For they caſt downe every man his rod, and they were turned into ſerpents: but Aarons rod devoured their rods.

13 So Pharaohs heart was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord had ſaid.

14 ¶ The Lord then ſayd unto Moſes, Pharaohs heart is ‖ obſtinate, hee refuſeth to let the people goe.

15 Go to Pharaoh in the morning, (loe, he will come forth unto the water) and thou ſhalt ſtand and meete him by [e] the rivers brinke, and the rod, which was turned into a ſerpent, ſhalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou ſhalt ſay unto him, The Lord God of the Ebrewes hath ſent me unto thee, ſaying, Let my people goe that they may ſerve mee in the wilderneſſe: and behold, hitherto thou wouldeſt not heare.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord, In this thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord: Behold, I will ſmite with the rodde that is in mine hand upon the water that is in the river, and it ſhalbe turned into blood, 18 And the fiſh that is in the rivers ſhall die, and the river ſhall ſtinke, and it ſhall ‖ grieue the Egyptians to drinke of the water of the river.

19 ¶ The Lord then ſpake to Moſes, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and ſtretch out thine hand over ỹ waters of Egypt, over their ſtreames, over their rivers, and over their ponds, and over all pooles of their waters, and they ſhalbe ‖ blood, and there ſhall be blood throughout the land of Egypt, both in veſſels of wood, and of ſtone.

20 So Moſes and Aaron did even as the Lord commaunded: * and he lift up the rodde, and ſmote the water that was in the river in the ſight of Pharaoh, and in the ſight of his ſervants: and * all the water that was in the river, was turned into blood.

21 And the [f] fiſh that was in the river dyed, and the river ſtanke: ſo that the Egyptians could not drinke of the water of the river: and there was blood throughout the land of Egypt.

22 * And the enchanters of Egypt did [g] likewiſe with their ſorceries: and the heart of Pharaoh was † hardened: ſo that he did not hearken unto them, as the Lord hath ſayd.

23 Then Pharaoh returned, and went againe into his houſe, † neither did this yet enter into his heart.

24 All the Egyptians then digged round about the river for waters to drinke: for they could not drinke of the water of the river.

25 And this ‖ continued fully ſeven dayes after the Lord had ſmiten the river.

2 And if thou wilt not let them go, behold, I will ſmite all thy countrey with [a] frogs.

3 And the river ſhall ſcrall full of frogs, which ſhall goe up and come into thine houſe, and into thy chamber, where thou ſleepeſt, and upon thy bed, and into the houſe of thy ſervants, and upon thy people, & into thy ovens, and ‖ into thy kneading troughes,

5 ¶ Alſo the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Say thou unto Aaron, Stretch out thine hand with thy rod upon the ſtreames, upon the rivers, and upon the ponds, and cauſe frogs to come up upon the land of Egypt.

6 Then Aaron ſtretched out his hand upon the waters of Egypt, & the ‖ frogs came up and covered the land of [b] Egypt.

7 *And the ſorcerers did likewiſe ẅ their ſorceries, & brought frogs up upon ỹ land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes and Aaron, and ſaid, [c] Pray ye unto the Lord, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people, and I will let the people goe, that they may doe ſacrifice unto the Lord.

9 And Moſes ſaid unto Pharaoh, † Concerning mee, even † command when I ſhall pray for thee, and for thy ſervants, and for thy people, to deſtroy the frogs from thee and from thine houſes, 16 ¶ Againe the Lord ſayd unto Moſes, Say unto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and ſmite the duſt of the earth, that it may be turned to * lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

§ The third plague.

17 And they did ſo: for Aaron ſtretched out his hand with his rod, and ſmote the duſt of the earth: and lice came upon man and upon beaſt: all the duſt of the earth was lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now the enchanters aſſaied likewiſe with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they e could not. So the lice were upon man and upon beaſt.

e God confounded their wiſedome and authoritie in a thing moſt vile.

19 Then ſaid the enchanters unto Pharaoh, This is f the finger of God. But Pharaohs heart remained obſtinate, and hee hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had ſaid.

f They acknowledged that this was done by Gods power and not by ſorcery. Luke 11.20.

20 * Moreover the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Riſe up earely in the morning, and ſtand before Pharaoh (lo, he will come forth unto the water) and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Let my people goe, that they may ſerve me.

* Wiſd. 16 9.

† The fourth plague.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes and Aaron, and ſaid, Goe, doe ſacrifice unto your God in this land.

26 And Moſes anſwered, It is not meete to do ſo: for then we ſhould offer unto the Lord our God that, which is an g abomination unto the Egyptians. Loe, can we ſacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and they not ſtone us?

g For the Egyptians worſhipped diuers beaſtes, as the oxe, the ſheepe and ſuch like, which the Iſraelites offered in ſacrifice, which thing the Egyptians abhorred to ſee.

27 Let us go three dayes iourney in the deſert, and ſacrifice unto the Lord our God, * as he hath commanded us.

* Chap. 3.18.

28 And Pharaoh ſaid, I will let you go, that ye may ſacrifice unto the Lord your God in the wilderneſſe: but h goe not farre away, pray for me.

h So the wicked preſcribe unto Gods meſſengers how farre they ſhall goe.

29 And Moſes ſaid, Behold, I will go out from thee, and pray unto the Lord, that the ſwarmes of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his ſervants, and from his people to morrow: but let Pharaoh from henceforth i deceive no more, in not ſuffering the people to ſacrifice unto the Lord.

i He could not iudge his heart, but yet he charged him to doe this unfeignedly.

30 So Moſes went out from Pharaoh and prayed unto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to the ſaying of Moſes, and the ſwarmes of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his ſervants, and from his people, and there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh k hardened his heart at this time alſo, and did not let the people goe.

a He ſhall declare his heavenly iudgment againſt his enemies, and his favour toward his children.

5 And the Lord appointed a time, ſaying, To morrowe the Lord ſhall finiſh this thing in this land.

6 So the Lord did this thing on the morrow, and all the cattell of Egypt died: but of the cattell of the children of Iſrael died not one.

7 Then Pharaoh b ſent, and behold, there was not one of the cattell of the Iſraelites dead: and the heart of Pharaoh was obſtinate, and hee did not let the people goe.

14 For I will at this time send my plagues upon [c] thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, that thou mayest know that there is none like mee in all the earth.

15 For now I will stretch out mine hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with the pestilence: and thou shalt perish from the earth.

16 And indeed, * for this cause have ‖ I appointed thee, to ‖ shew my power in thee, and to declare my [d] name throughout all the world.

17 Yet thou exaltest thy selfe against my people, and lettest them not goe.

18 Behold, to morrow this time I will cause to raine a mighty great haile, such as was not in Egypt since the foundation thereof was laid unto this time.

19 Send therefore now, and [e] gather the cattell, and all that thou hast in the field: for upon all the men, and the beasts, which are found in the field, and not brought home, the haile shall fall upon them, and they shall die.

20 Such then as feared the word of the Lord among the servants of Pharaoh, made his servants and his cattell flee into the houses.

21 But such as † regarded not the [f] word of the Lord, left his servants, and his cattell in the field.

22 ¶ And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may bee haile in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon all the herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.

23 Then Moses stretched out his rod toward heaven, and the Lord sent thunder and † haile, and † lightning upon the ground: and the Lord caused haile to raine upon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, and fire mingled with the haile, so grievous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, since † it was a nation.

25 And the haile smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beast: also the haile smote all the trees of the field and brake to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Onely in the land of Goshen (where the children of Israel were) was no haile.

27 Then Pharaoh sent and called for Moses and Aaron, and said unto them, I [g] have now sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

28 Pray ye unto the Lord (for it is ynough) that there be no more † mighty thunders, and haile, and I will let you goe, and ye shall tary no longer.

29 Then Moses sayd unto him, Assoone as I am out of the citie, I will spread mine hands unto the Lord, and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more haile, that thou mayest know that * the earth is the Lords.

30 As for thee and thy servants, I know [h] afore I pray, yee will feare before the face of the Lord God.

31 (And the flax, and the barley were smiten: for the barley was eared, and the flaxe was bolled.

32 But the wheate and the rie were not smitten, for they were ‖ hid in the ground.)

33 Then Moses went out of the citie from Pharaoh, and spred his hands to the Lord, and the thunder and the haile ceased, neither rained it upon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh sawe that the rayne and the haile and the thunder were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardned his heart, both hee, and his servants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardned: neither would he let the children of Israel go, as the Lord had said † by Moses.

CHAP. X.

7 Pharaohs servants counsaile him to let the Israelites depart. 13 Grashoppers destroy the country. 16 Pharaoh confesseth his sinne. 22 Darknesse is sent.

A Gaine the Lord sayd unto Moses, Goe to Pharaoh, ‖ for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might worke these ‖ my miracles in the middest of his realme,

2 And that thou maiest declare in the [a] eares of thy sonne, and of thy sonnes sonne, what things I have done in Egypt, and my miracles, which I have done among them: that ye may know that I am the Lord.

3 Then came Moses and Aaron unto Pharaoh, and they sayd unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Ebrewes, How long wilt thou refuse [b] to humble thy selfe before mee? Let my people goe, that they may serve mee.

4 But if thou refuse to let my people goe, behold, to morrow will I bring ‖ * grashoppers into thy coastes.

5 And they shall cover the face of the earth, that a man cannot see the earth: and they shall eate the residue which remaineth unto you, and hath escaped from the haile: and they shall eate all your trees that bud in the field.

6 And they shall fill thine houses, and all thy servants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers have seene, since the time they were upon the earth unto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs servants said unto him, How long shall he be ‖ an [c] offence unto us? let the men goe, that they may serve the Lord their God: wilt thou first know that Egypt is destroyed?

8 So Moses and Aaron were brought againe unto Pharaoh, and he said unto them, Go, serve the Lord your God, but who are they that shall goe?

9 And Moses answered, We will go with our young, and with our old, with our sonnes, and with our daughters, with our sheepe, and with our cattell will wee goe: for we must celebrate a feast unto the Lord.

10 And he said unto them, Let [d] the Lord so be with you, as I will let you goe and your children: behold, for evill is before your face.

11 It shall not be so: now goe yee that are men, and serve the Lord; for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

12 ¶ After, the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand upon the land of Egypt for the grashoppers, that they may come upon the land of Egypt, and eate all the herbes of the land, even all that the haile had left.

13 Then Moses stretched forth his rod upon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East wind upon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning the East wind brought the † grashoppers.

16 Therefore Pharaoh called for f Moses and Aaron in haste, and sayde, I have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

5 * And all the first borne in the land of Egypt shall die, from the first borne of Pharaoh that sitteth on his throne, unto the first borne of the maide-servant, that is at b the mill, and all the first borne of beastes.

6 Then there shalbe a great crie thoughout all the land of Egypt, such as was never none like, nor shall be.

7 But against none of the children of Israel shall a dogge move his tongue, neither against man nor beast, that ye may know that the Lord putteth a difference between the Egyptians and Israel.

8 And all these thy servants shall come down unto me, and fall before me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that c are at thy feete, and after this will I depart. So he went out from Pharaoh very angry.

9 And the Lord saide unto Moses, Pharaoh shall not heare you, d that my wonders may bee multiplied in the land of Egypt.

14 And this day shall be unto you a remembrance: and ye shall keepe it an holie feast unto the Lord, throughout your generations: ye shall keepe it holie by an ordinance i for ever.

i That is, untill Christs comming: for then ceremonies had en and.

15 Seven dayes shall ye eate unleavened bread, and in any case ye shall put away leaven the first day out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day untill the seventh day, that person shalbe cut off from Israel.

16 And in the first day shalbe an holie ‖ assemblie: also in the seventh day shall be an holie assembly unto you: no worke shalbe done in them, save about that which every man must eate: that onely may ye doe.

‖ Or, calling together of the people to serve God.

17 Ye shall keepe also the feast of unleavened bread: for that same day I will bring your armies out of the land of Egypt: therefore ye shall observe this day, throughout your posteritie, by an ordinance for ever.

* Levit 23.5. Num.28.16.

18 ¶ * In the first moneth and the fourteenth day of the moneth at k even, yee shall eate unleavened bread unto the one and twentieth day of the moneth at even, k For in old time so they counted, beginning the day at Sunne set till the next day at the same time.

19 Seven dayes shall no leaven bee founde in your houses: for whosoever eateth levened bread, that person shall be cut off from the Congregation of Israel: whether he be a stranger, or borne in the land.

20 Ye shall eate no leavened bread: but in all your habitations shall ye eate unleavened bread.

21 ¶ Then Moses called all the Elders of Israel, and sayde unto them, Choose out and take you for every of your houholdes a lambe, and kill the Passeover.

* Hebr. 11.28.

22 And take * a bunch of hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the basen, and strike the ‖ lintell, and the ‖ doore cheekes with the blood that is in the basen, and let none of you goe out at the doore of the house, untill the morning.

‖ Or, transome, or upper doore post.

‖ Or, two side posts.

23 For the Lord will passe by to smite the Egyptians: and when he seeth the blood upon the lintell and on the two doore cheekes, the Lord will passe over the doore, and will not suffer ŷ ‖ destroyer to come into your houses to plague you.

‖ The Angel sent of God to kill the first borne.

24 Therefore shall ye observe this thing as an ordinance, both for thee and thy sonnes for ever.

m The land of Canaan.

25 And when ye shall come into the m land, which the Lord will give you, as he hath promised, then ye shall keepe this ‖ service.

‖ Or, ceremonie.

* Iosh.4.6.

26 * And when your children aske you, What service is this ye keepe?

27 Then ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the Lords Passeover, which passed over the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, when he smote the Egyptians, and preserved our houses. Then the people n bowed themselves and worshipped.

n They gave God thanks for so great a benefite.

28 So the children of Israel went, and did as the Lord had cõmanded Moses and Aaron: so did they.

29 ¶ Now at * midnight, the Lord ‖ smote all the first borne in the land of Egypt, from the first borne of Pharaoh that sate on his throne, unto the ‖ first borne of the captiue that was in prison, and all the first borne of beasts.

‖ Wisd.18.5.

30 And Pharaoh rose vp in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Egyptians: and there was a great crie in Egypt: for there was o no house where there was not one dead.

o Of these houses, wherein any first borne was, either to men or beasts.

31 And hee called to Moses and to Aaron by night, and said, Rise up, get you out from among my people, both yee, and the children of Israel, and goe serve the Lord as ye have said.

32 Take also your sheepe and your cattell as ye have said, and depart, and p blesse me also.

p Pray for mee.

33 And the Egyptians did force the people, because they would send them out of the land in haste: for they said, We die all.

34 Therefore the people tooke their dough before it was leavened, even their dough bound in clothes upon their shoulders.

35 And the children of Israel did according to the saying of Moses, and they asked of the Egyptians * iewels of silver and iewels of gold, & raiment.

* Chap 3.22. and 11.2.

36 And the Lord gave the people favour in the sight of the Egyptians: and they ‖ granted their requeste: so they spoiled the Egyptians.

‖ Or, lent them.

38 And r a great multitude of sundry sortes of people went out with them, and sheepe, and beeves, and cattell in great abundance.

r Which were strangers and not borne of the Israelites.

39 And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, and made unleavened cakes: for it was not leavened, because they were thrust out of Egypt, neither could they tarie, nor yet prepare themselves vitailes.

40 ¶ So the dwelling of the children of Israel, while they dwelled in Egypt, was * foure hundreth and thirtie yeeres.

* Gen.15.13.act.7.6.gal.3.17.

f From Abrahams departing from Vr in Chaldea unto the departing of the children of Israel from Egypt are 430 yeares.

42 It is a night to bee kept holy to the Lord, because hee brought them out of the land of Egypt: this is that night of the Lord, which all the children of Israel must keepe throughout their generations.

43 Also the Lord said unto Moses and Aaron, This is the Lawe of the Passeover: t no stranger shall eate thereof.

t Except he be circumcised, and onely professe your religion.

44 But every servant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall he eate thereof.

45 A stranger or an hired servant shall not eat thereof.

46 * In one house shall it be eaten: thou shalt carie none of the flesh out of the house, * neither shall ye breake a bone thereof.

48 But if a stranger dwell with thee, and will observe the passeover of the Lord, let him circumcise all the males, that belong unto him, and then let him come and observe it, and he shall be as one that is borne in the land: for none uncircumcised person shall eate thereof.

49 One u lawe shall bee to him that is borne in the land, and to the stranger that dwelleth among you.

v They that are of the household of God, must be all ioyned in one faith and religion.

Lord

Lord commanded Moſes and Aaron: ſo did they.

51 And the ſelfe ſame day did the Lord bring the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt by their armies.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The firſt borne are offered to God. 3 The memoriall of their deliverance. 6 The inſtitution of the Paſſeover. 9, 14 An exhortation to teach their children to remember this deliverance. 17 Why they are led by the wildernes. 19 The bones of Ioſeph. 21 The pillar of the cloud and of the fire.

A Nd the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 * Sanctifie unto me all the firſt borne: that is, every one that firſt openeth the wombe among the children of Iſrael, as well of man as of beaſt: for it is mine.

3 ¶ Then Moſes ſaid unto the people, * Remember this day in the which ye came out of Egypt, out of the † houſe of a bondage: for by a mightie hand the Lord brought you out from thence: therefore no leavened bread ſhall be b eaten.

4 This day come yee out in the moneth of c Abib.

5 ¶ Now when the Lord hath brought thee into the land of the Canaanites, and Hittites, and Amorites, and Hivites, and Iebuſites, (which hee ſware unto thy fathers, that hee would give thee, a land flowing with milke and hony) then thou ſhalt keepe this ſervice in this moneth.

6 Seven dayes ſhalt thou eate unleavened bread, and the d ſeventh day ſhall be the feaſt of the Lord.

7 Unleavened bread ſhall be eaten ſeven dayes, and there ſhall no leavened breadbe ſeene with thee, nor yet leaven be ſeene with thee in all thy quarters.

8 ¶ And thou ſhalt ſhew thy ſonne e in that day, ſaying, This is done, becauſe of that which the Lord did unto me, when I came out of Egypt.

9 And it ſhall be a ſigne unto thee f upon thine hand, and for a remembrance betweene thine eyes, that the Law of the Lord may be in thy mouth: for by a ſtrong hande the Lord brought thee out of Egypt.

10 Keepe therefore this ordinance in his ſeaſon appointed from yeere to yeere.

11 ¶ And when the Lord ſhall bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as hee ſware unto thee and to thy fathers, and ſhall give it thee, 12 * Then ſhalt thou ſet apart unto the Lord all that firſt openeth the wombe: alſo every thing that firſt doeth open the wombe, and commeth foorth of thy beaſt: the males ſhall be the Lords.

13 But every † firſt foale of an g aſſe, thou ſhalt redeeme with a lambe: and if thou redeeme him not, then ſhalt thou breake his necke: likewiſe alſo the firſt borne of man among thy ſonnes ſhalt thou h buy out.

14 ¶ And when thy ſonne ſhall aske thee ‖ to morow, ſaying, What is this? thou ſhalt then ſay unto him, With a mightie hande the Lord brought us out of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondage.

15 For when Pharaoh was hard hearted againſt our departing, the Lord then ſlew all the firſt borne in the land of Egypt, from the firſt borne of man even to the firſt borne of beaſt: therefore I ſacrifice unto the Lord all the males that firſt open the wombe, but all the firſt borne of my ſonnes I redeeme.

16 And it ſhall be as a token upon thine hand, and as ‖ frontlets betweene thine eyes, that the Lord brought us out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

17 ¶ Now when Pharaoh had let the people goe, God caried them not by the way of the Philiſtims countrey, ‖ though it were neerer: (for God ſaid, Leaſt the people repent when they i ſee warre, and turne againe to Egypt)

18 But God made the people to goe about by the way of the wildernes of the red ſea: and the children of Iſrael went up k armed out of the land of Egypt.

19 (And Moſes tooke the bones of Ioſeph with him: for he had made the children of Iſrael ſweare, ſaying, * God will ſurely viſite you, and ye ſhall take my bones away hence with you.)

20 ¶ * So they tooke their iourney from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wilderneſſe.

21 * And the Lord went before them by day l in a pillar of a cloud to lead them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, that they might goe both by day and by night.

22 * He tooke not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people.

CHAP. XIV.

4, 8 Pharaohs heart is hardened, and purſueth the Iſraelites. 11 The Iſraelites ſtricken with feare, murmure againſt Moſes. 13 Moſes doeth encourage them. 21 He divideth the Sea. 23, 27 The Egyptians follow and are drowned.

T Hen the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speake to the children of Iſrael, that they a returne and campe before b Pi-hahiroth, betweene Migdol and the Sea, over againſt * Baal-zephon: about it ſhall ye campe by the Sea.

3 For Pharaoh will ſay of the children of Iſrael, They are tangled in the land: the wildernes hath ſhut them in.

4 And I will harden Pharaohs heart that hee ſhall follow after you: ſo I will c get me honour upon Pharaoh, and upon all his hoaſte: the Egyptians alſo ſhall know that I am the Lord: and they did ſo.

5 ¶ Then it was told the king of Egypt, that the people fled: and the heart of Pharaoh and of his ſervants was turned againſt the people, and they ſaid, Why have wee this done, and have let Iſrael goe out of our ſervice?

6 And he made ready his charets, and tooke his people with him.

7 And tooke ſixe hundreth choſen charets, and d all the charets of Egypt, and captaines over every one of them.

8 (For the Lord had hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and hee followed after the children of Iſrael: but the children of Iſrael went out with an e high hand.)

9 * And the Egyptians purſued after them, and all the horſes and charets of Pharaoh, and his horſemen and his hoaſt overtooke them camping by the Sea, beſide Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon.

10 And when Pharaoh drew nigh, the children of Iſrael lift up their eyes, and beholde, the Egyptians marched after them, and they were ſore f afraid: wherefore the children of Iſrael cryed unto the Lord.

f They which a little before in their deliverance rejoyced, being now in danger are afraid and murmure.

In this figure foure chiefe points are to be considered. Firſt, that the Church of God is ever ſubiect in this world to the Croſſe, and to be afflicted after one ſort or other. The ſecond, that the miniſters of God following their vocation, ſhall be evill ſpoken of, and murmured againſt, even of them that pretend the ſame cauſe and religion that they doe. The third, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinent out of dangers, but to exerciſe their faith and patience continueth their troubles, yea and oftentimes augmenteth them: as the Iſraelites were now in leſſe hope of their lives then they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are moſt great, then Gods helpe is moſt ready to ſuccour: for the Iſraelites had on either ſide of them, huge rockes and mountaines, before them the ſea, behind them moſt cruell enemies, ſo that there was no way left to eſcape to mans iudgement.

11 And they ſaide vnto Moſes, Haſt thou brought vs to die in the wildernes, becauſe there were no graues in Egypt? wherefore haſt thou ſerved vs thus, to cary vs out of Egypt?

12 Did not wee tell thee this thing in Egypt, ſaying, Let vs be in reſt, that we may ſerve the Egyptians? for it had bene better for vs to ſerve the Egyptians, then that we ſhould die in the wildernesſe.

‖ Such is the inſaciety of the fleſh that it cannot abide Gods appointed time.

13 Then Moſes ſaid vnto the people, Feare yee not, ſtand ſtill, and behold ‖ the ſalvation of the Lord which he will ſhew to you this day. For the Egyptians whom ye have ſeene this day, ye ſhall never ſee them againe.

‖ Or, deliverance.

14 The Lord ſhall fight for you: therefore h hold you your peace.

h Onely put your truſt in God without grudging or doubting.

15 ¶ And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Wherefore i cryeſt thou vnto me? ſpeake vnto the children of Iſrael, that they goe forward:

i Thus in tentations faith fighteth againſt the fleſh, and cryeth with inward groninge vnto the Lord.

16 And lift thou vp thy rod, and ſtretch out thine hand vpon the Sea and divide it, and let the children of Iſrael goe on drie ground thorow the mids of the Sea.

17 And I, behold, I will harden the heart of the Egyptians, that they may follow them, and I will get me honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoaſte, vpon his charets, and vpon his horſemen.

18 Then the Egyptians ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have goten mee honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charets, and vpon his horſemen.

19 (And the Angel of God, which went before the hoaſte of Iſrael, remooved, and went behind them: alſo the pillar of the cloud went from before them, and ſtood behind them, 20 And came betweene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Iſrael: it was both a cloud and darkeneſſe, yet gave it k light by night, ſo that all the night long the one came not at the other.)

k The cloud sheweth light to the Iſraelites, but to the Egyptians it was darkeneſſe, for that their two hoaſtes could not ioyne together.

21 And Moſes ſtretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord cauſed the Sea to run backe by a ſtrong Eaſt wind all the night, and made the Sea drie land: for the waters were * divided.

* Pſal. 78. 13. 1. Cor. 10. 1. Hebr. 11. 29.

22 Then the * children of Iſrael went through the mids of the Sea vpon the drie ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians purſued and went after them to the middes of the Sea, even all Pharaohs horſes, his charets, and his horſemen.

24 Now, in the morning l watch, when the Lord looked vnto the hoaſte of the Egyptians, out of the fierie and cloudie pillar, he ſtroke the hoaſte of the Egyptians with feare.

l Which was about the three laſt houres of the night.

25 For he tooke off their charet wheeles, and they drave them with ‖ much adoe: ſo that the Egyptians every one ſaid, I will flee from the face of Iſrael: for the Lord fighteth for them againſt the Egyptians.

‖ Or, heavily.

26 ¶ Then the Lord ſaide to Moſes, Stretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may returne vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets and vpon their horſemen.

27 Then Moſes ſtretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Sea returned to his force early in the morning, and the Egyptians fled againſt it: but the Lord m overthrew the Egyptians in the mids of the Sea.

m So the Lord by the water ſaved his, and by the water drowned his enemies.

28 So the water returned and covered the charets, and the horſemen, even all the hoaſte of Pharaoh that came into the Sea after them: there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Iſrael walked vpon drie land thorow the mids of the Sea, and the waters were a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left.

30 Thus the Lord ſaved Iſrael the ſame day out of the hand of the Egyptians, and Iſrael ſaw the Egyptians dead vpon the Sea banke.

1 The Israelites came to the desert of Sin, and murmure against Moses and Aaron. 13 The Lord sendeth Quailes and Manna. 23 The Sabbath is sanctified unto the Lord. 27 The seventh day Manna could not be found. 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the posteritie.

AFterward all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from Elim, and came to the wildernesse of [a] Sin, (which is betweene Elim and Sinai) the fifteenth day of the second moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

a This is the eight place wherein they had camped: there is another place called Zin, which was the 33 place wherein they camped: and is also called Kadesh, Num. 33. 36.

2 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses, and against Aaron in the wilderneſſe.

3 For the children of Israel said to them, Oh that wee had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when wee sate by the flesh [b] pots, when we ate bread our bellies full: for yee have brought vs out into this wilderneſſe, to kill this whole company with famine.

b So hard a thing is it to the flesh not to murmur against God, or the belly is pampered.

4 ¶ Then sayde the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will cause bread to raine from heaven to you, and the people shall goe out, and gather † that that is sufficient for every [c] day, that I may proove them, whether they will walke in my law or no.

7 And in the morning ye shall see the glorie of the Lord: [d] for he hath heard your grudgings against the Lord: and what are we that yee have murmured against vs?

d He gave them not Manna because they murmured, but for his promise sake.

8 Againe, Moses said, At even shall the Lord give you flesh to eat, and in the morning your fill of bread: for the Lord hath heard your murmurings, which ye murmure against him: for what are we? your murmurings are not against us, but against the [e] Lord.

e He that contemneth Gods ministers, contemneth God himselfe.

17 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered, some more, some lesse.

18 And when they did measure it with an omer, * he that had gathered much, had nothing over, & he that had gathered little, had no h lacke: so every man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moses then said unto them, Let no man reserve thereof till morning.

20 Notwithstanding, they obeyed not Moses: but some of them reserved of it till morning, and it was full of wormes, and i stanke: therefore Moses was angry with them.

21 And they gathered it every morning, everie man according to his eating: for when the heat of the sunne came, it was melted.

22 ¶ And the sixt day they gathered k twise so much bread, two omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Congregation came and told Moses.

23 And he answered them, This is that which the Lord hath said, To morow is the rest of the holy Sabbath unto the Lord, bake that to day which ye will bake, and seethe that which ye will seethe, and all that remaineth, lay it up to be kept till the morning for you.

24 And they laide it up till the morning, as Moses bade, and it stanke not, neither was there any worme therein.

25 Then Moses said, Eat that to day: for to day is the Sabbath unto the Lord: to day ye shall not finde it in the field.

26 Sixe dayes shall ye gather it, but in the seventh day is the Sabbath: in it there shall be none.

27 ¶ Notwithstanding, there m went out some of the people in the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

29 Behold, how the Lord hath given you the Sabbath: therefore hee giveth you the sixt day bread for two dayes: tarie therefore every man in his place: let no man goe out of his place the seventh day.

1 The Israelites came into Rephidim, and grudge for water. 6 Water is given them out of the rocke. 11 Moses holdeth up his hands, and they overcome the Amalekites. 15 Moses buildeth an altar to the Lord.

AND all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from the wildernesse of Sin, by their iourneyes at the † commandement of the Lord, and camped in a Rephidim, where was no water for the people to drinke.

2 * Wherefore the people contended with Moses, & said, Give us water, that we may drinke. And Moses said unto them, Why contend ye with me? wherefore doe ye b tempt the Lord?

3 So the people thirsted there for water, and the people murmured against Moses, and sayd, Wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt, to kill us, and our children, and our cattell with thirst?

4 And Moses cryed unto the Lord, saying, What shall I doe to this people? for they be almost ready to c stone me.

5 And the Lord answered to Moses, Goe before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod wherewith thou * smotest the river, take in thine hand, and goe:

6 * Behold, I will stand there before thee upon the rocke in Horeb, and thou shalt smite on the rocke, and water shall come out of it, that the people may drinke. And Moses did so in the sight of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place ‖ Massah and ‖ Meribah, because of the contention of the children of Israel, and because they had tempted the Lord, saying, Is the d Lord among us, or no?

8 ¶ ‖ Then came e Amalek and fought with Israel in Rephidim.

9 And Moses said to Ioshua, Chuse us out men, and goe fight with Amalek: to morow I will stand on the top of the f hill with the rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Ioshua did as Moses bad him, and fought with Amalek: and Moses, Aaron, and Hur, went up to the top of the hill.

11 And when Moses held up his hand, Israel prevailed: but when he let his hand g downe, Amalek prevailed.

12 Now Moses hands were heavie: therefore they tooke a stone and put it vnder him, and hee sate upon it: and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: so his hands were steadie untill the going downe of the sunne.

13 And Ioshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 ¶ And the Lord said to Moses, Write this for a remembrance h in the booke, and † rehearse it to Ioshua: for I will vtterly put out the remembrance of Amalek from vnder heaven.

for Moses, and for Israel his people, and how the Lord had brought Israel out of Egypt.

2 Then Iethro the father in law of Moses, tooke Zipporah Moses wife, (after hee had [a] sent her away)

3 And her two sonnes, (whereof the one was called * Gershom: for he said, I have bene an aliant in a strange land:

4 And the name of the other was Eliezer: for the God of my father, said he, was mine helpe, and delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh.)

5 And Iethro Moses father in law came with his two sonnes, and his wife unto Moses into the wildernesse, where he camped by the [b] mount of God.

6 And he [c] said to Moses, I thy father in law Iethro am come to thee, and thy wife and her two sonnes with her.

7 ¶ And Moses went out to meete his father in Law, and did obeysance, and kissed him, and ech asked other of his [†] welfare: and they came into the tent.

8 Then Moses tolde his father in law all that the Lord had done unto Pharaoh, and to the Egyptians for Israels sake, and all the travaile that had come unto them by the way, and how the Lord delivered them.

9 And Iethro reioyced at all the goodnesse, which the Lord had shewed to Israel, and because he had delivered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

10 Therefore Iethro said, [d] Blessed be the Lord who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of Pharaoh: who hath also delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians.

11 Now I know that the Lord is greater then all the gods: for as they have dealt * proudly with them, [e] are they recompensed.

12 Then Iethro Moses father in law tooke burnt offerings and sacrifices to offer unto God. And Aaron and all the Elders of Israel came to eat bread with Moses father in law [f] before God.

13 ¶ Now on the morow, when Moses sate to iudge the people, the people stood about Moses from morning unto even.

14 And when Moses father in law saw all that he did to the people, hee said, What is this that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and all the people stand about thee from morning unto even?

15 And Moses said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to seeke [g] God.

16 When they have a matter, they come unto me, and I iudge betweene one and another, and declare the ordinances of God, and his lawes.

17 But Moses father in law said vnto him, The thing which thou doest, is not well.

18 Thou both [†] weariest thy selfe greatly, and this people that is with thee: for the thing is too heavie for thee: thou art not able to doe it thy selfe alone.

19 Heare now my [‖] voyce, (I will give thee counsell, and God shall be with thee) be thou for the people to [h] Godward, and report thou the causes unto God.

20 And admonish them of the ordinances, and of the lawes, and shew them the way, wherein they must walke, and the worke that they must doe.

21 Moreover, provide thou among all the people [i] men of courage, fearing God, men dealing truely, hating covetousnesse: and appoint such over them, to be rulers over thousands, rulers over hundreths, rulers over fifties, and rulers over tennes.

22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: but every great matter let them bring unto thee, and let them iudge all small causes: so shall it be easier for thee, when they shall beare the burden with thee.

23 If thou doe this thing, (and God so command thee) both thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also goe quietly to their place.

24 So Moses [k] obeyed the voyce of his father in law, and did all that he had said:

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israel, and made them heads over the people, rulers over thousands, rulers over hundreths, rulers over fifties, and rulers over tennes.

26 And they iudged the people at all seasons, but they brought the hard causes to Moses: for they iudged all small matters themselves.

27 Afterward Moses [l] let his father in law depart, and he went into his country.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The Israelites come to Sinai. 5 Israel is chosen from among all other nations. 8 The people promise to obey God. 12 He that toucheth the hill, dyeth. 16 God appeareth unto Moses upon the mount in thunder and lightning.

IN the [a] third moneth, after the children of Israel were gone out of the land of Egypt, the same [b] day came they into the wildernes of Sinai.

2 For they departed from Rephidim, and came to the desert of Sinai, and camped in the wildernesse, even there Israel camped before the mount.

3 * But Moses went up unto God, for the Lord had called out of the mount unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of [c] Iaakob, and tell the children of Israel.

4 * Yee have seene what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I caried you upon [d] eagles wings and have brought you unto me.

5 Now therefore * if yee will heare my voyce in deed and keepe my covenant, then yee shall be my chiefe treasure aboue all people, * though all the earth be mine.

6 Yee shall be unto mee also a kingdome of * Priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speake unto the children of Israel.

7 ¶ Moses then came and called for the Elders of the people, and proposed unto them all these things, which the Lord commanded him,

8 And the people answered all together, and sayd, * All that the Lord hath commanded, wee will doe. And Moses reported the wordes of the people unto the Lord.

9 And the Lord said unto Moses, Loe, I come unto thee in a thicke cloude, that the people may heare whiles I talke with thee, and that they may also beleeve thee for ever. (For Moses had tolde the wordes of the people unto the Lord)

10 Moreover the Lord said unto Moses, Goe to the people, and [e] sanctifie them to day and to morow, and let them wash their cloathes.

11 And let them be ready on the third day: for the third day the Lord will come downe in the sight of all the people upon mount Sinai:

37 And thou ſhalt make the ſeven lampes thereof: and the lamps thereof ſhalt thou put thereon, to give light toward that that is before it.

38 Alſo the ſnuffers and ſnuffediſhes thereof ſhalbe of pure golde.

k This was the talent weight of the Temple, and waied 120 pound. * Hebr. 8, 5. actes 7, 44.

39 Of a k talent of fine gold ſhalt thou make it with all theſe inſtruments.

40 * Looke therefore that thou make them after their faſhion, that was ſhewed thee in the mountaine.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The forme of the Tabernacle and the appertenances.
33 The places of the Arke, of the Mercie-ſeate, of the Table, and of the Candleſticke.

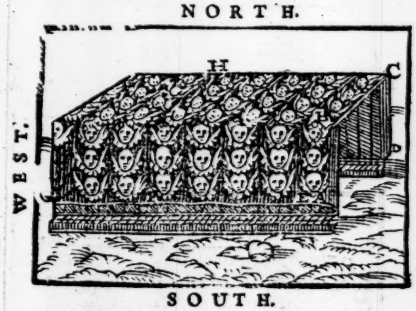
AFterward thou ſhalt make the Tabernacle with tenne curtaines of fine twined linnen and blew ſilke, and purple, and skarlet: and in them thou ſhalt make Cherubims of a broidered worke.

l That is, of moſt cunning of fine worke.

¶ THE FIRST COVERING OF THE TABERNACLE.



ABCD The ten curtaines which were eight and twenty cubites long of Cherubims worke. A E the breadth of a curtaine was foure cubites, and ſo the ten were fourty cubits broad. F G Two curtaines and an halfe: ſo that the whole layed together, declareth that the Tabernacle was thirty cubits long, and twelve broad. H Taches or hookes to tie the curtaines.

2 The length of one curtaine ſhalbe eight and twentie cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: every one of the curtaines ſhall have one meaſure.

3 Five curtaines ſhallbe coupled one to another: and the other five curtaines ſhall be coupled one to another.

4 And thou ſhalt make ſtrings of blew ſilke upon the edge of the one curtaines, which is in the ſelvedge b of the coupling, and likewiſe ſhall thou make in the edge of the other curtaine in the ſelvedge, in the ſecond coupling.

b On the ſide that the curtains might be tyed together.

5 Fiftie ſtrings ſhalt thou make in one curtaine, and fiftie ſtrings ſhalt thou make in the edge of the curtaine, which is in the ſecond coupling: the ſtrings ſhalbe one right againſt another.

c In tying together both the ſides.

6 Thou ſhalt make alſo fiftie ‖ taches of gold, and couple the curtaines one to another with the taches, and it ſhalbe one ‖ Tabernacle.

‖ Or, hookes.

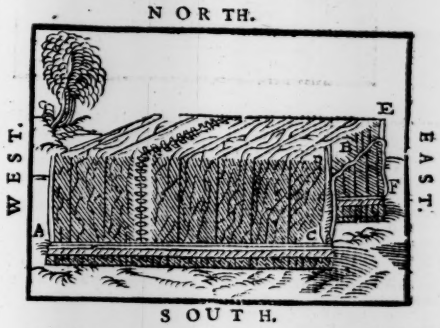
¶ THE CURTAINES OF GOATS HAIRE.



These eleven curtaines of goats haire were put above the other tenne A, and the eleventh hanged before the entry of the Tabernacle, looke B. Theſe were alſo thirty cubits long, and the other but eight and twenty, and therefore were a cubite longer then the other, looke C. And alſo another on the Southſide they on the Northſide that the boards might be covered.

7 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make curtaines of goats haire, to be a d covering upon the Tabernacle, thou ſhalt make them to the number of eleven curtaines.

d Leaſt raine and weather ſhould marre it.

8 The length of a curtaine ſhalbe thirtie cubites, and the breadth of a curtaine foure cubites: the eleven curtaines ſhalbe of one meaſure.

9 And thou ſhalt couple five curtaines by themſelves, and the ſixe curtaines by themſelves: but thou ſhalt double the e ſixt curtaine upon the forefront of the covering.

e That is, five on the one ſide, and five on the other, and the ſixt ſhould hang over the doore of the Tabernacle.

10 And thou ſhalt make fiftie ſtrings in the edge of one curtaine in the ſelvedge of the couſpling, and fiftie ſtrings in the edge of the other curtaine in the ſecond coupling.

11 Likewiſe thou ſhalt make fiftie ‖ taches of braſſe, and faſten them on of the ſtrings, and ſhalt couple the covering together that it may be one.

‖ Or, hookes.

12 And the f remnant that reſteth in the curtaines of the covering, even the halfe curtaine that reſteth, ſhall be left at the backe ſide of the Tabernacle.

f For theſe curtaines were two cubites longer then the curtaines of the Tabernacle, ſo that they were ſider by a cubite, on both ſides.

13 That the cubite on the one ſide, and the cubite on the other ſide of that which is left in the length of the curtains of ſ covering may remaine on either ſide of the Tabernacle to cover it.

g To be put upon the couering that was made of goates haire.

14 Moreover, for that covering thou ſhalt make a g covering of rammes skinnes died red, and a covering of h badgers skinnes above.

h This was the third covering of the Tabernacle.

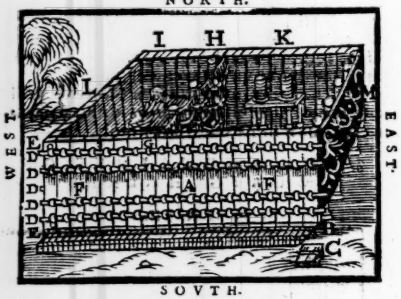
15 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make boards for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to ſtood up.

16 Ten

16 Ten cubites shallbe the length of a board, and a cubite and an halfe cubite the breadth of one board.

17 Two tenons shalbe in one board set in order as the feere of a Ladder, one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

¶ THE TABERNACLE.



A Twentie boards on the South side, and as many on the North side, which were of ten cubits in length, that is from E to E. The breadth of each was a cubit and halfe, by reason whereof, all ioyned together, made thirtie cubites, which was the length of the Tabernacle. Iosephus writeth that ech board was a handfull thicke. B The neather part of the boards which was cut in two tenons. C The two mortaises, for ech tenon one, wrought in two pieces apart, whereinto when the boards were put, they receiued the tenons, and held the boards vp. D D D D D Signifie five barres to hold the boards in order: foure passed without the boards, thorow rings: the middelmost went thorow the thicknesse of the boards, wherein holes were made therefore. E E Two rings, one at the upper part, and another at the neather parth of the boards, which ioyned the sides of the Tabernacle, and the boards of the West end together. F F Rings, where through the bars passed. G H A vaile hanging on foure pillars, and wrought of Cherubims, which did separate the holy place from the most holy. I The most holy place. K The holy place, wherein on the South side the Candlesticke was placed, and on the Northside against it, the Table of shewbread. L Eight boards that close up the Tabernacle on the West ende, which was the uppermost ende of the place. M A hanging or vaile, which was at the entrie of the Tabernacle, being at the East ende, which was fastened to hang at five pillars.

18 And thou shalt make boards for the Tabernacle, even twentie boards on the South side, even full South.

‖ Or, basse pieces, wherein were the mortaises for the tenons.

19 And thou shalt make fortie ‖ sockers of silver under the twentie boards, two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

20 In like maner on the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North side shall be twentie boards, 21 And their fourtie sockers of silver, two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

22 And on the side of the Tabernacle, toward the West, thalt thou make sixe boards.

23 Also two boards shalt thou make in the corners of the Tabernacle in the two sides.

† The Ebreuve word signifieth twinnes: declaring that they should be so perfect and well ioyned as was possible.

24 Also they shallbe † ioyned beneath, and likewise they shalbe ioyned above to a ring: thus shall it be for them two: they shallbe for ȳ two corners.

25 So they shallbe eight boards having sockers of silver, even sixteene sockets, that is, two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

26 ¶ Then thou shalt make five barres of Shittim wood for the boards of one side of the Tabernacle.

27 And five barres for the boards of the other side of the Tabernacle: also five barres for the boards of the side of the Tabernacle toward the West side.

28 And the middle barre shall goe through the middes of the boards, from end to end.

29 And thou shalt cover the boards with gold, and make their rings of golde, for places for the barres, and thou shalt cover the barres with gold.

30 So thou shalt reare up the Tabernacle, † according to the fashion thereof, which was shewed thee in the Mount. * Chap. 25. 9. 40. Hebr. 8. 5. actes 7. 44.

31 ¶ Moreover, thou shalt make a vaile of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen, thou shalt make it of broidred worke with Cherubims.

32 And thou shalt hang it upon foure pillars of Shittim wood covered with golde, (whose k hookes shall be of golde) standing upon foure sockets of silver.

33 ¶ Afterward thou shalt hang the vaile † on the hooks, that thou mayest bring in thither, that is, within the vaile, the Arke of the Testimonie: and the vaile shall make you a separation betweene the Holy place and the l most holy place.

k Some reade, heads of the pillars.

† Ebr. Vnder the hookes: meaning that it should hang downeward from the hookes.

l Whereinto the hie priest only entred once a yeere.

34 Also thou shalt put the Merci-seat upon the Arke of the Testimonie in the most Holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the Table m without the vaile, and the Candlesticke over against the Table on the South side of the Tabernacle, and thou shalt set the Table on the North side.

m In Meaning, in the holy place.

36 Also thou shalt make an n hanging for the doore of the Tabernacle of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen wrought with needle.

n This hanging or vaile was betweene the holy place, and there where the people were.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of Shittim, and cover them with gold: their heads shalbe of gold, and thou shalt cast five sockets of brasse for them.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The Altar of the burnt offering. 9 The court of the Tabernacle. 20 The lampes continually burning.

MOreover thou shalt make the Altar of Shittim wood, five cubites long and five cubites broad o For the burnt offering.

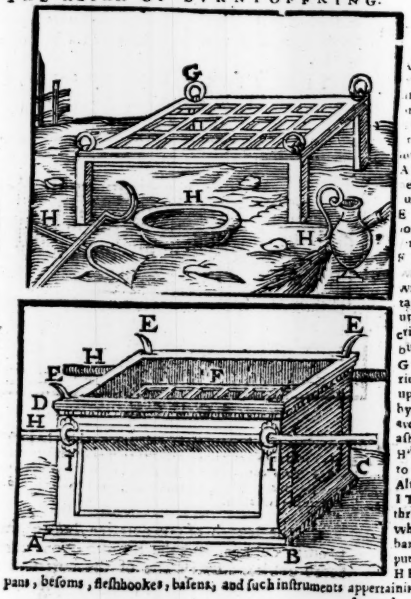
THE ALTAR OF BVRNTOFFRING.



B The ing h contai ing five cu bites.
C The earth as with h.
A D The eight three ubites.
E The foure rnes or foure rners.
F The grate hich was not within the Altar, and whereupon the sacrifice was burnt.
G Foure rings to lift up the grate by, when they avoided the ashes.
H The barres to carry the Altar.
I The rings through the which the barres were put.
H H H Aspans, besoms, fleshhookes, basens, and such instruments appertaining to the Altar.

broad (the altar shall be foure square) and the height thereof three cubites.

2 And thou shalt make it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes shall be of it b selfe, and thou shalt cover it with brasse.

b Of the same wood and matter not fastened vnto it.

3 Also thou shalt make his ashpannes for his ashes, and his besomes, and his basins, & his fleshhookes, and his ‖ censers: thou shalt make all the instruments thereof of brasse.

‖ Or, fire pannes.

4 And thou shalt make unto it a grate, like networke of brasse: also upon that ‖ grate shalt thou make foure brasen rings upon the foure corners thereof.

‖ Hebr. net.

5 And thou shalt put it vnder the compasse of the altar beneath, that the grate may be in the middes of the altar.

6 Also thou shalt make barres for the altar, barres, I say, of Shittim wood, and shalt cover them with brasse.

7 And the barres thereof shall be put in the rings, the which barres shalbe upon the two sides of the altar to beare it.

8 Thou shalt make the altar hollow betweene the boards: as God sheweth thee in the mount, so shall they make it.

9 ¶ Also thou shalt make the c court of the Tabernacle in the South side, even full South: the court shall have curtaines of fine twined linnen, of an hundreth cubites long, for one side, c This was the first entry into the Tabernacle, where the people aboade.

10 And it shall have twenty pillars, with their twenty sockets of brasse: the heads of the pillars, and their d fillets shall be silver.

d They were certaine hoopes or circles for to beautifie the pillar.

11 Likewise on the Northside in length there shall be hangings of an hundreth cubites long, and the twenty pillars thereof with their twenty sockets of brasse: the heads of the pillars and the fillets shall be silver.

12 ¶ And the breadth of the court, on the West-side shall have curtaines of fiftie cubites, with their ten pillars, and their ten sockets.

13 And the breadth of the court, Eastward full East, shall have e fiftie cubites.

e Meaning, curtaines of fiftie cubites.

14 Also hangings of fifteene cubites shall be on the one f side with their three pillars and their three sockets.

f Of the doore of the court.

15 Likewise on the other side shall be hangings of fifteene cubits, with their three pillars and their three sockets.

16 ¶ And in the gate of the court shall be a vaile of twenty cubites of blue silke, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linnen wrought with needle, with the foure pillars thereof and their foure sockets.

17 All the pillars of the court shall have filets of silver round about, with their heads of silver, and their sockets of brasse.

18 ¶ The length of the court shall be an hundreth cubites, and the breadth fiftie † at either end, and the height five cubites, and the hangings of fine twined linnen, and their sockets of brasse.

† Hebr. fiftie in fiftie.

19 All the vessels of the Tabernacle for all maner service thereof, and all the g pinnes thereof, and all the pinnes of the court shall be brasse.

g Or stakes, wherewith the curtaines were fastened to the ground.

20 ¶ And thou shalt commaund thee children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee pure oyle oliue h beaten for the light, that the lampes may alway ‖ burne.

h Such as commeth from the olive, when it is first pressed or beaten.

‖ Or, ascend up.

21 In the Tabernacle of the Congregation without the vaile, which is before the Testimony, shall Aaron and his sonnes dresse them from even-ning to morning before the Lord, for a statute for euer vnto their generations, to be obserued by the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Lord calleth Aaron and his sonnes to the Priesthood. 4 Their garments. 13, 29 Aaron entreth into the Sanctuary in the name of the children of Israel. 30 Vrim and Thummim. 38 Aaron beareth the iniquity of the Israelites offerings.

AND cause thou thy brother Aaron to come vnto thee, and his sonnes with him, from among the children of Israel, that he may serve me in the Priests office: I meane, Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar Aarons sonnes.

2 Also thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, a glorious and beautifull.

a Whereby his office may be knowen to be glorious and excellent.

3 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto all † cunning men, who I have filled with the spirit of wisedome, that they make Aarons garments to b consecrate him, that hee may serve mee in the Priests office.

† Hebr. wise in heart.

b Which is to separate him from the rest.

THE GARMENTS OF THE HIGH PRIEST.

A The Ephod or vpmost coate which was like cloath of golde, and was girded unto him, wherein was the breast plate with the xij. stones, which was tied about with two chaines, to two Onix stones, and beneath with two laces.

B The robe which was next vnder the Ephod, whereunto were ioyned the pomegranates and belles of golde.

C The tunicle or broidered coate, which was vnder the robe and longer then it, and was also without sleeves.

4 Now these shall be the garments, which they shall make, a breast plate, and an c Ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coat, a miter, and a girdle: so these holy garments shall they make for Aaron thy brother, and for his sonnes, that he may serve me in the Priests office.

c A short and straite coate without sleeves, put upmost upon his garments to keepe them close unto him.

5 Therefore they shall take golde, and blue silke, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linnen.

6 ¶ And they shall make the Ephod of gold, blue silke, and purple, scarlet, and fine twined linnen of broydered worke.

7 The two shoulders thereof shall be ioyned together by their two edges: so shall it be closed.

8 And the d imbroidered gard of the same Ephod, which shall be vpon him, shall be of the selfe same worke and stuffe, even of gold, blue silke, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linnen.

d Which went about his vpmost coate.

9 And thou shalt take two Onix stones, and graue vpon them the names of the children of Israel.

10 Sixe names of them vpon the one stone, and the sixe names that remaine, vpon the second stone, according to e their generations.

e As they were in age, so should they be graven in order.

11 Thou shalt cause to graue the two stones according to the names of the children of Israel, by a graver of signets that worketh and graveth in stone, and shalt make them to be set and embossed

bolſed in golde.

12 And thou ſhalt put the two ſtones vpon the ſhoulders of the Ephod, as ſtones of f remembrance of the children of Iſrael: for Aaron ſhall beare their names before the Lord vpon his two ſhoulders for a remembrance.

That Aaron might remember the Iſraelites to Godward.

13 So thou ſhalt make bolſes of gold,

14 ¶ And two chaines of fine golde g at the end, of wrethen worke ſhalt thou make them, and ſhalt faſten the wrethen chaines vpon the bolſes.

g Of the bolſes.

15 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make the breſtplate of h iudgement with broydered worke: like the worke of the Ephod ſhalt thou make it: of gold, blue ſilke, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linnen ſhalt thou make it.

h It was ſo called, becauſe the high Prieſt could not give ſentence in iudgement without that on his breaſt.

16 i Foureſquare it ſhall be and double, an hand bredth long and an hand bredth broad.

i The deſcription of the breaſtplate.

17 Then thou ſhalt ſet it full of places for ſtones, even foure rowes of ſtones: the order ſhall be this, a ‖ rubie, a topaze, and a ‖ carbuncle in the firſt row.

‖ Or, Sardoine. ‖ Or, Emtraude.

18 And in the ſecond rowe thou ſhalt ſet an ‖ emerauld, a ſaphir, and a ‖ diamond.

‖ Or, Carbuncle. ‖ Or, Iaſper.

19 And in the third row a turkeis, an achate, and an Hematite.

20 And in the fourth row † a chryſolite, an onix, and a laſper: and they ſhall be ſet in gold in their emboſſements.

‖ Ebr. Tarſhiſh.

21 And the ſtones ſhall be according to the names of the children of Iſrael, twelve, according to their names, graven as ſignets, every one after his name, and they ſhall be for the twelve tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou ſhalt make vpon the breaſtplate two chaines at the ends, of wrethen worke of pure gold, 23 Thou ſhalt make alſo vpon the breſtplate two rings of gold, and put the two rings on k the two ends of the breſtplate.

k Which are vpmoſt toward the ſhoulder.

24 And thou ſhalt put the two wrethen chaines of golde in the two rings in the endes of the breſtplate.

25 And the other two ends of the two wrethen chaines, thou ſhalt faſten in the two emboſſements, and ſhalt put them vpon the ſhoulders of the Ephod vpon the foreſide of it.

26 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make two rings of gold, which thou ſhalt put in the ‖ two other endes of the breaſtplate, upon the border thereof, toward the inſide of the Ephod.

‖ Which are beneath.

27 And two other rings of golde thou ſhalt make, and put them on the two ſides of the Ephod, beneath in the forepart of it over againſt the coupling of it upon the broidered gard of the Ephod.

28 ¶ Thus ſhall they bind the breaſtplate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blue ſilke, that it may be faſt vpon the broidered gard of the Ephod, and that the breaſtplate be not looſed from the Ephod.

29 So Aaron ſhall m beare the names of the children of Iſrael in the breaſtplate of iudgement vpon his heart, when hee goeth into the holy place for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

m Aaron ſhall not enter into the holy place in his owne name, but in the name of all the children of Iſrael.

30 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt put in the breaſtplate of iudgement, the n Vrim and the Thummim, which ſhall be vpon Aarons heart, when he goeth in before the Lord, and Aaron ſhall beare the iudgement of the children of Iſrael vpon his heart before the Lord continually.

n Vrim ſignifieth light, and Thummim perfection: declaring that the ſtones of the breſtplate were moſt cleare, and of perfect beauty: by Vrim alſo is meant knowledge, and Thummim holineſſe, ſhewing what vertues are required in the Prieſte.

31 ¶ And thou ſhalt make the robe of the Ephod altogether of blue ſilke.

32 And the hole for his head ſhall be in the middes of it, hauing an edge of woven worke round about the collar of it: ſo ſhall it be as the collar of an habergion, that it rent not.

33 ¶ And beneath upon the ſkirts thereof, thou ſhalt make pomegranates of blue ſilke, and purple, and ſcarlet round about the ſkirts thereof, and bels of gold betweene them round about:

34 That is, † a golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bel and a pomegranate round about vpon the ſkirts of the robe.

† Exodus. 39.26.

35 So ſhall it be vpon Aaron, when hee miniſtreth, and his ſound ſhall be heard when he goeth into the holy place before the Lord, and when he commeth out, and he ſhall not die.

36 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave thereon, as ſignets are graven, o HOLINES TO THE LORD.

o Holineſſe appertaineth to the Lord: for he is moſt holy, and nothing vnholy may appeare before him.

37 And thou ſhalt put it on a blue ſilke lace, and it ſhall be vpon the miter, even vpon the forefront of the miter ſhall it be.

38 So ſhall it be vpon Aarons forehead, that Aaron may p beare the iniquitie of the offerings, which the children of Iſrael ſhall offer in all their holy offerings: and it ſhall be allwayes vpon his forehead, to make them acceptable before the Lord.

p Their offerings could not be ſo perfect, but ſome fault would be therein: which in the hie Prieſt bare, and pacified God.

39 Likewiſe thou ſhalt imbroider the fine linnen coat, and thou ſhalt make a miter of fine linnen, but thou ſhalt make a girdle of needle worke.

40 Alſo thou ſhalt make for Aarons ſonnes coats, and thou ſhalt make them girdles, and bonets ſhalt thou make them for glory and comelineſſe.

41 And thou ſhalt put them vpon Aaron thy brother, and on his ſonnes with him, and ſhalt anoynt them, and q fill their hands, and ſanctifie them, that they may miniſter vnto mee in the Prieſts office.

q That is, conſecrate them, by giving them things to offer and them by admit them to their office.

42 Thou ſhalt alſo make them linnen breeches to cover their privities: from the loynes vnto the thighes ſhall they reach, 43 And they ſhall be for Aaron and his ſonnes, when they come into the Tabernacle ‖ of the Congregation, or when they come vnto the altar to miniſter in the holy place, that they r commit not iniquity, and ſo die. This ſhall be a law for ever vnto him, and to his ſeede after him.

r In not hiding their nakednes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The manner of conſecrating the Prieſts. 38 The continuall ſacrifice. 45 The Lord promiſeth to dwell among the children of Iſrael.

THis thing alſo ſhalt thou do vnto them, when thou conſecrateſt them to be my Prieſtes, * Take a young calfe, and two rammes without blemiſh.

* Leuit. 9.2.

2 And vnleavened bread, and cakes vnleavened tempered with oyle, and wafers vnleavened anoynted with oyle: (of fine wheat flowre ſhalt thou make them.)

3 Then thou ſhalt put them in one basket, and s preſent them in the basket with the calfe and the two rams, s To offer them in ſacrifice.

4 And ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and waſh them with water.

5 Alſo thou ſhalt take the garments, and put vpon Aaron the tunicle, and the t robe of the Ephod, t Which was next vnder the Ephod.

Ephod, and the Ephod, and the brestplate, and shalt close them to him with the broidered gard of the Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and shalt put the holy * crowne upon the mitre,

7 And thou shalt take the anoynting * oyle, and shalt powre upon his head and anoynt him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, and put coats upon them.

9 And shalt gird them with girdles, both Aaron and his sonnes: and shalt put the bonets on them, and the Priests office shall be theirs for a perpetuall law: thou * shalt also ‖ fill the handes of Aaron, and the hands of his sonnes.

10 After, thou shalt present the calfe before the Tabernacle of the congregation, * and Aaron and his sonnes shall c put their hands upon the head of the calfe.

11 So shalt thou kill the calfe before the Lord, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then thou shalt take of the blood of the calfe, and put it upon the hornes of the Altar with thy finger, and shalt powre all the rest of the blood at the foote of the Altar.

13 * Also thou shalt take all the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kall, that is on the liver, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is upon them, and shalt burne them upon the Altar.

14 But the flesh of the calfe, and his skin, and his doung shalt thou burne with fire without the hoaste: it is a † sinne offering.

15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ramme, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their hand upon the head of the ramme.

16 Then thou shalt kill the ramme, and take his blood, and sprinkle it round about upon the Altar, 17 And thou shalt cut the ramme in pieces, and wash the inwards of him and his legs, and shalt put them upon the pieces thereof, and upon his head.

18 § So thou shalt burne the whole ramme upon the Altar: for it is a burnt offering unto the Lord d for a sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

19 And thou shalt take the other ramme, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their hands upon the head of the ramme.

20 Then shalt thou kill the ramme, and take of his blood, and put it e upon the lappe of Aarons eare, and upon the lappe of the right eare of his sonnes, and upon the thumbe of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foote, and shalt sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is f upon the Altar, and of the anoynting oyle, and shalt sprinkle it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sonnes, and upon the garments of his sonnes, with him: so he shall be halowed, and his cloathes, and his sonnes, and the garnements of his sonnes with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of the rammes the fat and the rumpe, even the fat that covereth the inwards, and the kall of the liver, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder, (for it is the g ramme of consecration.)

23 And one loafe of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oyle, and one wafer, out of the basket of unleavened bread that is before the Lord:

24 And thou shalt put all this in the hands of Aaron, and in the hands of his sonnes, and shalt shake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 Againe, thou shalt receive them of their hands, and burne them upon the altar besides the burnt offring for a sweet savour before the Lord: for this is an offring made by fire unto the Lord.

26 Likewise thou shalt take the brest of the ramme of the consecration, which is for Aaron, and shalt shake it to h and fro before the Lord, and it shall be thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the shaken offering, and the shoulder of the i heave offering, which was shaken to and fro, and which was heaved up of the ramme of the consecration which was for Aaron, and which was for his sonnes.

28 And Aaron and his sonnes shall have it by a statute for ever, of the children of Israel: for it is an heave offering, and it shall be an heave offering of the children of Israel, of their k peace offrings, even their heave offering to the Lord.

29 ¶ And the holy garments which appertaine to Aaron, shall be his sonnes after him, to be anoynted therein, and to be consecrate therein.

30 That sonne that shall be Priest in his stead, shall put them on seven dayes, when he commeth into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou shalt take the ramme of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in the holy place.

32 * And Aaron and his sonnes shall eate the flesh of the ramme, and the bread that is in the basket, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

33 So they shall eare these things, l whereby their atonement was made, to consecrate them, and to sanctifie them: but a stranger shall not eate thereof, because they are holy things.

CHAP. XXX.

2 The Altar of incense. 13 The summe that the Israelites should pay to the Tabernacle. 18 The brasen laver. 33 The anoynting oyle. 34 The making of the perfume.

a Upon the which the sweete perfume was burnt, verse 34.

b Of the same wood and matter.

FVrthermore thou shalt make an Altar a for sweete perfume, of Shittim wood thou shalt make it.

2 The length thereof a cubite, and the breadth thereof a cubite, (it shalbe foure square) and the height thereof two cubites: the hornes thereof shalbe b of the same.

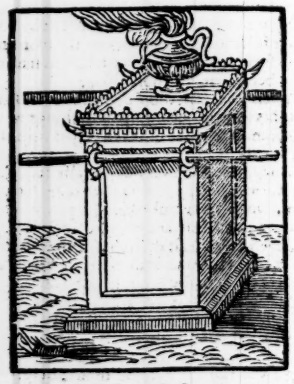
3 And thou shalt overlay it with fine gold, both the top thereof, and the sides thereof round about, and his hornes: also thou shalt make unto it o a crowne of gold round about.

o Or, a circle and border.

4 Besides this thou shalt make under this crowne two golden rings on either side: even on every side shalt thou make them, that they may be as places for the barres to beare it withall.

5 The which barres thou shalt make of Shittim wood, and shalt cover them with golde.

THE ALTAR OF SWEETE PERFUME.



This Altar was one cubite long, and one cubite broad, and in height was two cubites: the rest may be understood by the former figures.

c That is, in the Sanctuary, and not in the holiest of all.

d Meaning, when thee trimmeth them, and refreshieth the oyle.

e Otherwise made then this, which is described.

6 After thou shalt set it c before the vaile, that is neere the Arke of the Testimonie, before the Mercieseate that is upon the Testimonie, where I will appoint with thee.

7 And Aaron shall burne thereon sweete incense every morning: when hee d dresseth the lampes thereof, shall he burne it.

8 Likewise at even, when Aaron setteth up the lamps thereof, he shall burne incense: this perfume shalbe perpetually before the Lord, throughout your generations.

9 Ye shall offer no e strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor offering, neither powre any drinke offering f thereon.

f But it must onely serve to burne perfume.

10 And Aaron shall make reconciliation upon the hornes of it once in a yeere with the blood of the sinne offering in the day of reconciliation: once in the yeere shall hee make reconciliation upon it throughout your generations: this is most holy unto the Lord.

11 ¶ Afterward the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

12 *When thou takest the summe of the children of Israel after their number, then they shall give every man g a redemption of his life unto the Lord, when thou tellest them, that there be no plague among them when thou countest them.

* Num. 1. 2. 3.

g Whereby he testified that he redeemed his life which he hath forfeit, as is declared by David, 2.Sam. 24.1.

13 This shall every man give, that goeth into the number, halfe a shekel, after the h shekel of the Sanctuary: (* a shekel is twenty gerahs) the halfe shekel shalbe an offring to the Lord.

h This shekel valued two common shekels: and the gerah valued about 12. pence after five shillings sterling the ounce of silver.

* Levit. 27. 25. Numb. 3. 47. Ezek. 45. 12.

14 All that are numbred from twenty yeeres olde and above, shall give an offring to the Lord.

15 The rich shall not passe, and the poore shall not diminish from halfe a shekel, when yee shall give an offring unto the Lord, i for the redemption of your lives.

i That God should be mercifull unto you.

16 So thou shalt take the money of the redemption of the children of Israel, and shalt put it unto the use of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that it may be a memoriall unto the children of Israel before the Lord, for the redemption of your lives.

THE LAVER OF BRASSE.

Because the manor of this figure is not particularly described, we have put it in this forme: aswell for that it agreeth with the text, as also it is after this fashion in other copies of sundry languages.

17 ¶ Also the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

18 Thou shalt also make a Laver of brasse, and his foot of brasse to wash, and shalt put it betweene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, and shalt put water therein.

k Signifying, that he that commeth to God, must be washed from all sinne and corruption.

19 For Aaron and his soones shall k wash their hands, and their feete thereat.

20 When they goe into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, or when they goe unto the Altar to minister, and to make the perfume of the burnt offering to the Lord, they shall wash themselves with water, least they die.

l So long as the Priesthood shall last.

21 So they shall wash their hands and their feete that they die not: and this shall be to them an ordinance l for ever, both unto him and to his seede throughout their generations.

m Weighing so much.

22 ¶ Also the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

23 Take thou also unto thee principall spices: of the most pure myrrhe five hundreth m shekels, of sweete cinamon halfe so much, that is, two hundreth and fiftie, and of sweete n calamus, two hundreth, and fiftie:

n It is a kinde of reede of a very sweete savour within, and it is used in pouders and odours.

24 Also

24 Also of Cassia five hundreth, after the shekell of the Sanctuarie, and of oyle olive an * Hin.

* Chap. 29. 40.

25 So thou shalt make of it the oyle of holy oyntment, even a most precious ointment after the arte of the Apothicary: this shall be the oyle of holy ointment.

o All things which appertaine to the Tabernacle.

26 And thou shalt anoynt the o Tabernacle of the Congregation therewith, and the Arke of the Testimonie:

27 Also the Table, and all the instrumentes thereof, and the Candlesticke, with all the instruments thereof, and the altar of incense:

28 Also the altar of burnt offring with all his instruments, and the laver and his foote.

29 So thou shalt sanctifie them, and they shalbe most holy: all that shall touch them, shalbe holy.

30 Thou shalt also anoint Aaron and his sons, and shalt consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the Priests office.

p Neither at their burials nor otherwise.

31 Moreover thou shalt speake unto the children of Israel, saying, This shalbe an holy ointing oyle unto me, throughout your generations.

32 None shall anoint p mans flesh therewith, neither shall ye make any composition like unto it: for it is holy, and shalbe holy unto you.

q Either a stranger or an Israelite, saue onely the Priests. r In Ebrew, Shecheleth: which is a sweete kinde of gumme and shineth as the nayle.

33 Whosoever shall make the like ointment, or whosoever shall put any of it upon q a stranger, even he shalbe cut off from his people.

34 And the Lord said unto Moses, Take unto thee these spice, pure myrrhe and r cleane gumme and galbanum, these odours with pure frankincense of each like weight:

35 Then thou shalt make of them perfume composed after the arte of the apothicarie, mingled together, pure and holy.

36 And thou shalt beate it to pouder, and shalt put it before the Arke of the Testimonie in the tabernacle of ỹ congregation, where I will make appoyntmẽt with thee: it shalbe unto you most holy.

s Onely dedicate to the use of the Tabernacle.

37 And ye shall not make unto you any composition like this perfume, which thou shalt make: it shalbe unto thee holy for the s Lord.

38 Whosoever shall make like unto that to smell thereto, even he shalbe cut off from his people.

CHAP. XXXI.

a God maketh Bazaleel and Aholiab meete for his worke.
13 The Sabbath day is the signe of our sanctification.
18 The Tables written by the finger of God.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

a I haue chosen and made meete, chap. 35. 30.

2 Beholde, I a haue called by name Bezaleel the sonne of Vri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Iudah,

3 Whom I haue filled with the Spirite of God, in wisedome, and in vnderstanding, and in knowledge, and in all b workemanship:

b This sheweth that handy crafts are the gifts of Gods spirit, and therefore ought to be esteemed.

4 To find out curious workes to worke in golde, and in silver, and in brasse,

5 Also in the art to set stones, and to carve in timber, and to worke in all maner of workmanship.

c I haue instructed them, and increased their knowledge. d So called, because of the cunning and artused therein, or because the whole was beaten out of one piece.

6 And behold, I haue ioyned him with Aholiab the son of Abisamach of the tribe of Dan, and in the hearts of all ỹ are c wise hearted, haue I put wisedome to make all ỹ I haue commanded thee:

7 That is, the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the Arke of the Testimonie, & the Mercieseate that shalbe thereupon, with al instruments of the Tabernacle:

8 Also the Table and the instruments thereof, and the d pure Candlesticke with all his instruments, and the Altar of perfume:

9 Likewise the Altar of burnt offring with all his instruments, and the Laver with his foote:

10 Also the garments of the ministration, and the holy garment for Aaron the Priest, & the garments of his sonnes, to minister in ỹ Priests office, e Which onely were to anoint the Priests and the instruments of the tabernacle, and not to burne.

11 And the e anoynting oyle, and sweet perfume for the Sanctuary according to all that I have commanded thee, shall they doe.

12 ¶ Afterward the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, f Though I command these workes to be done, yet will I not that you breake my Sabbath dayes.

13 Speake thou also unto the children of Israel, & say, f Notwithstanding keepe yee my Sabbaths: for it is a signe betweene mee and you in your generations, that ye may know that I the Lord do sanctifie you.

* Chap. 20. 8. eze. 20. 12.

g God repeateth this point: because the whole keeping of the law standeth in the true vse of the Sabbath, which is to cease from our workes and to obey the will of God.

14 * Ye shall therefore keepe the g Sabbath: for it is holy unto you: he that defileth it, shall die the death: therefore whosoever worketh therein, the same person shall be even cut off from among his people.

‖ Or, Sabbaths.

15 Six dayes shall men worke, but in the seventh day is the Sabbath of the holy rest to the Lord: whosoever doth any worke in the Sabbath day, shall die the death.

* Gen 31. and 23.

16 Wherefore ỹ children of Israel shall keepe ỹ Sabbath, that they may observe the ‖ rest throughout their generations for an everlasting Covenant.

h From creating his creatures, but not from governing and preserving them.

17 It is a signe betweene me and the children of Israel for ever: * for in six dayes the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and in the seventh day h he ceased and rested.

* Deut. 9. 10.

i Whereby he declared his will to his people.

18 Thus (when the Lord had made an end of communing with Moses upon mount Sinai) * he gave him two Tables i of the Testimony, even tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

CHAP. XXXII.

4 The Israelites impute their deliverance to the calfe.
14 God is appeased by Moses prayer.
19 Moses breaketh the Tables.

BVt when the people sawe, that Moses taried long or he came downe from the mountaine, the people gathered themselves together against Aaron, and said unto him, Vp, a make us gods to goe before us: for of this Moses (the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt) we knowe not what is become of him.

a The roote of Idolatry is, when men thinke that God is not at hand, except they see him carnally.

2 And Aaron said unto them, b Plucke off the golden earerings, which are in the eares of your wives, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them unto mee.

b Thinking that they would rather forgoe idolatry, then to refuse their most precious iewels.

3 Then all the people pluckt from them c selves the golden earerings, which were in their eares, and they brought them unto Aaron.

c Such is the rage of idolaters, that they spare no cost to satisfie their wicked desires.

4 * Who received them at their hands, and fashioned it with the graving toole, and made of it a d molte calfe: thẽ they said, * These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee out of ỹ land of Egypt.

* Psal. 106 19.

d They smelled of their leaven of Egypt, where they saw calves, oxen and serpents worshipped

5 When Aaron sawe that, he made an Altar before it: and Aaron proclaimed, saying, To morrow shalbe the holy day of the Lord.

* 1 King. 12. 28. 1. Cor. 10. 7.

6 So they rose up the next day in the morning, and offered burnt offrings, & brought peace offrings: also * the people sat them downe to eate and drinke, and rose up to play.

* Deut. 9 12.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said unto Moses, * Go, get thee downe: for thy people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath corrupted their wayes.

8 They e are ſoone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: for they have made them a molten calfe, and have worſhipped it, and have offred thereto, ſaying * Theſe be thy gods, O Iſrael, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Again the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, * I have ſeen this people, and behold, it is a ſtiffenecked people.

10 Now f therefore let mee alone, that my wrath may waxe hot againſt them, for I will conſume them: but I will make of thee a mighty people

11 * But Moſes prayed unto the Lord his God, and ſayd, O Lord, why doth thy wrath waxe hot againſt thy people, which thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power and with a mighty hand?

12 * Wherefore ſhall the Egyptians ‖ ſpeake, and ſay, He hath brought them out maliciouſly for to ſlay them in the mountains, and to conſume them from the earth? turne from thy fierce wrath, and ‖ change thy mind from this evill toward thy people.

13 Remember g Abraham, Izhak, and Iſrael thy ſervants, to whom thou ſwareſt by thine owne ſelfs, and ſayd eſt unto them, * I will multiply your ſeede, as the ſtarres of heaven, and all this land, that I have ſpoken of, will I give unto your ſeed, and they ſhall inherit it for ever.

14 Then the Lord changed his mind from the evill which he threatned to do unto his people.

15 So Moſes returned and went down from the mountain with the two Tables of the Teſtimony in his hand: the tables were written on both their ſides, even on the one ſide and on the other were they written.

16 And theſe Tables were the worke of God, and h this writing was the writing of God graven in the Tables.

17 And when Ioſhua heard the noyſe of the people, as they ſhouted he ſayd unto Moſes, There is a noyſe of warre in the hoaſte.

18 Who anſwered, It is not the noyſe of them that have the victory, nor the noyſe of them that are overcome: but I do heare the noyſe of ſinging.

19 Now, as ſoone as he came neare unto the hoaſt, he ſaw the calf and the dauncing: ſo Moſes wrath waxed hot, and he caſt the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in pieces beneath the mountaine.

20 * After, he tooke the calf, which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and ground it unto powder, and ſtrowed it upon the water, and made the children of Iſrael i drinke of it.

21 Alſo Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, What did this people unto thee, that thou haſt brought ſo great a ſinne upon them?

22 Then Aaron anſwered, Let not the wrath of my Lord waxe fierce: Thou knoweſt this people, that they are even ſet on miſchiefe.

23 And they ſayd unto me, Make us gods to go before us: for we know not what is become of this Moſes (the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt.)

24 Then I ſaid unto them, Ye that have golde, pluck it off: and they brought it mee, and I did caſt it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Moſes therefore ſaw that the people were k naked (for Aaron had made them naked unto their ſhame among their enemies)

26 And Moſes ſtood in the gate of the camp, and ſaid, Who pertaineth to the Lord? let them come to mee. And all the ſonnes of Levi gathered themſelves unto him.

27 Then he ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael: Put every man his ſword by his ſide, goe to and fro, from gate to gate, through the hoaſt, and ſlay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Levi did as Moſes had commanded: and there fell of the people the ſame day about three thouſand men.

29 (For Moſes had ſaid, Conſecrate your hands unto the Lord this day, even every man upon his m ſonne, and upon his brother, that there may be given you a bleſſing this day.)

30 And when the morning came, Moſes ſaid unto the people, Ye have committed a grievous crime: but now I will go up to the Lord, if I may pacifie him for your ſinne.

31 Moſes therefore went againe unto the Lord, and ſaid, Oh, this people have ſinned a great ſinne, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Therefore now if thou pardon their ſin, thy mercy ſhall appeare: but if thou wilt not, I pray thee, raſe me n out of thy booke, which thou haſt written.

33 Then the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Whoſoever hath ſinned againſt me, I will put him out my o bocke.

34 Goe now therefore, bring the people unto the place which I commanded thee: behold, mine Angell ſhall goe before thee, but yet in the day of my viſitation I will viſite their ſinne upon them.

35 So the Lord plagued the people, becauſe they cauſed Aaron to make ŷ calf which he made.

a God promiſeth to ſend an Angel before his people. 4 They are ſad becauſe the Lord denyeth to go up with them. 9 Moſe talketh familiarly with God. 13 He prayeth for the people.

A Fterward the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Depart, a goe up from hence, thou, and the people (which thou haſt brought up out of the land of Egypt) unto the land which I ſware unto Abraham, to Izhak, and to Iaakob, ſaying, * Unto thy ſeed will I give it.

2 And * I will ſend an Angel before thee, and will caſt out the Canaanites, the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Iebuſites:

4 And when the people heard this evil tidings, they ſorroweth & no man put on his beſt raiment.

6 So the children of Iſrael layd their good raiment from them, after Moſes came downe from the mount Horeb.

5 And the Lord deſcended in the cloud, and ſtood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the Lord.

a This ought to be referred to the Lord, and not to Moſes proclaiming: as Chap. 33. verſ. 19.

‖ Or, words.

29 ¶ So when Moſes came downe from mount Sinai, the two Tables of the Teſtimonie were in Moſes hand, as hee deſcended from the mount: (now Moſes wiſt not that the skinne of his face ſhone bright, after that God had talked with him.)

‖ Read, 2.Cor.3.7.

30 And Aaron and all the children of Iſrael looked upon Moſes, and behold, the skin of his face ſhone bright, and they were l afraid to come neere him.

31 But Moſes called them: and Aaron and all the chiefe of the congregation returned unto him: and Moſes talked with them.

32 And afterward all the children of Iſrael came neere, and he charged them with all that the Lord had ſaid unto him in mount Sinai.

33 So Moſes made an end of communing with them, * and had put a covering upon his face.

* 2.Cor.3.13.

34 But, when Moſes came m before the Lord to ſpeake with him, he tooke off the covering untill he came out: then he came out, and ſpake unto the children of Iſrael that which he was commanded.

m Which was in the Tabernacle of the congregation.

35 And the children of Iſrael ſaw the face of Moſes, how the skin of Moſes face ſhone bright: therefore Moſes put the covering upon his face, untill he went to ſpeake with GOD.

CHAP. XXXV.

a The Sabbath. 5 The free gifts are required. 21 The readineſſe of the people to offer. 30 Bezaleel and Aholiab are prayſed of Moſes.

THen Moſes aſſembled all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Theſe are the wordes which the Lord hath commanded, that ye ſhould doe them:

* Chap.20.9.

2 * Sixe dayes thou ſhalt worke, but the ſeventh day ſhalbe unto you the holy a Sabbath of reſt unto the Lord: whoſoever doth any worke therein, ſhall die.

3 Ye ſhall kindle no fire throughout all your habitations upon the Sabbath day.

4 ¶ Againe, Moſes ſpake unto all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, ſaying, This is the thing, which the Lord commandeth, ſaying,

5 Take from among you an offring unto the Lord: whoſoever is of a * willing heart, let him bring this offring to the Lord, namely golde, and ſilver and braſſe:

* Chap.25.2.

6 Alſo blew ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine linnen, and goats haire, 9 And onyx ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet in the Ephod, and in the breſt plate.

10 And all the wiſe b hearted among you, ſhall come and make all that the Lord hath commanded:

c Which hanged before the Mercyſeate that it could not be ſeene.

14 Alſo the Candleſticke of light and his inſtruments, and his lampes with the oyle for the light:

d Such as appertained to the ſervice of the Tabernacle.

20 ¶ Then all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael departed from the preſence of Moſes.

21 And every one, whoſe heart † encouraged him, & every one, whoſe ſpirit made him willing, came and brought an offring to the Lord, for the worke of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and for all his uſes, and for the holy garments.

22 Both men and women, as many as were free hearted, came and brought ‖ taches and eare rings, and rings, and bracelets, all were iewels of gold: and every one that offered an offring of gold unto the Lord:

‖ Or, hookes.

23 Every man alſo, which had blew ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine linnen and goats haire, and rammes skinnes died red, and badgers skins, brought them.

24 All that offered an oblation of ſilver and of braſſe, brought the offring unto the Lord: and every one, that † had Shittim wood for any maner worke of the miniſtration, brought it.

e Which were wiſe and expert.

25 And all the women that were e wiſe hearted, did ſpin with their hands, & brought the ſpun worke, even the blewe ſilke, and the purple, the ſkarlet, and fine linnen,

26 Like-

16 Likewise all the women, † whose hearts were mooved with knowledge, spun goats haire.

† That is, which were good spinners.

27 And the rulers brought onyx stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, & in the brest plate:

28 Also spice, and oyle for light, and for the * anointing oyle, and for the sweete perfume.

Chap.30.23.

33 And in graving stones to set them, and in carving of wood, even to make any manner of fine worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach other: both hee, and Aholiab the sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan:

CHAP. XXXVI.

5 The great readines of the people. 8 The curtaines made, 19 The coverings. 20 The boards. 31 The barres, 35 and the vaile.

¶ Hebr. wise in heart.

THen wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all † cunning men, to whom the Lord gave wisdome, and understanding, to know how to worke all maner work for the service of the [a] Sanctuary, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

a By the Sanctuary he meaneth all the Tabernacle.

2 For Moses had called Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had given wisedome, even as many as their hearts encouraged to come unto that worke to worke it.

3 And they received of Moses all the offring which the children of Israel had brought for the worke of the service of the Sanctuary, to make it: also [b] they brought still unto him free gifts every morning.

b Meaning, the Israelites.

4 So all the wisemen, that wrought all the holie worke, came every man from his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Moses, saying, The people bring too [c] much, and more then enough for the use of the worke, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.

c A rare example and notable to see the people so ready to serve God with their goods.

6 Then Moses gaue a commandement, and they caused it to be proclaymed throughout the hoste, saying, Let neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the oblations of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offring.

7 For the stuffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and too much.

8 * All the cunning men therefore among the workemen, made for the Tabernacle ten curtaines of fine twined linnen, and of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet: [d] Cherubims of broidred worke made they vpon them,

* Chap.26.3.4.

d Which were little Pictures with wings in the forme of children.

9 The length of one curtaine was twenty and eight cubits, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: and the curtaines were all of one sise.

10 And hee coupled fiue curtaines together, and other fiue coupled he together.

11 And hee made strings of blewe silke by the edge of one curtaine, in the selvedge of the coupling: likewise hee made on the side of the other curtaine in the selvedge in the second coupling.

12 * Fifty strings made he in the one curtaine, and fifty strings made he in the edge of the other curtaine, which was in the second coupling: the strings were set one against another.

* Chap.26.10.

13 After, he made fiftie ‖ taches of golde, and coupled the curtaines one to another with the taches: so was it one Tabernacle.

‖ Or, hookes.

14 ¶ Also hee made curtaines of goates haire for the ‖ covering upon the Tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleven curtaines.

‖ Or, pauilion.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirtie cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleven curtaines were of one sise.

16 And hee coupled fiue curtaines by themselves, and sixe curtaines by themselves.

17 Also hee made fiftie strings upon the edge of one curtaine in the selvedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made he upon the edge of the other curtaine in the second coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasse to couple the covering that it might be one.

19 And hee made a [e] covering upon the pauilion of rammes skinnes died red, and a covering of badgers skinnes above.

e These two were about the covering of goats haire.

20 Likewise he made the boards for the Tabernacle, of Shittim wood to [f] stand up.

f And to bear up the curtaines of the Tabernacle.

21 The length of a board was ten cubites, and the bredth of one board was a cubite and an halfe.

22 One board had two tenons, set in order as the feete of a ladder, one against another: thus made he for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

23 So hee made twentie boards for the South side of the Tabernacle, even full South.

24 And fourtie sockets of silver made hee under the twentie boards, two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North, he made twentie boards.

26 And their fourty sockets of silver, two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

27 Likewise toward [g] the Westside of the Tabernacle he made sixe boardes.

g Or, toward the Sea, which was the Sea called Mediterrane in Westward from Ierusalem.

28 And two boardes made hee in the corners of the Tabernacle for either side, 29 And they were * ioyned beneath, and likewise were made sure aboue with a ring: this hee did to both in both corners.

* Chap.26.24.

30 So there were eight boards, and their sixteen sockets of silver, vnder every board two sockets.

31 ¶ After he made * barres of Shittim wood, fiue for the boards in the one side of ȳ Tabernacle,

* Chap.25.21 and 30.4,5.

32 And fiue barres for the boards in the other side of the Tabernacle, and fiue bars for ȳ boardes of the Tabernacle on the side toward the West.

33 And he made the middest barre to shoote through the boards, from the one end to the other.

34 He overlaid also the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold for places for the barres.

and covered the barres with golde.

h Which was betweene the Sanctuarie and the Holieſt of all.

35 ¶ Moreover he made a h vaile of blew ſilke and purple, and of ſkarlet, and of fine twined linē: with Cherubims of broy dered worke made he it:

‖ Or, headers.

36 And made thereunto foure pillars of Shittim, & overlayed them with gold: whoſe ‖ hookes were alſo of gold, and hee caſt for them foure ſockets of ſilver.

i Which was betweene the outer and the Sanctuary.

37 And he made an i hangirg for the Tabernacle doore, of blew ſilke, and purple, and ſkariet, and fine twined linnen, and needle worke.

‖ Or, graued borders.

38 And the fiue pillars of it with their hookes, and overlaide their chapiters, and their ‖ filets with golde, but their fiue ſockets vvere of braſſe.

AFter this, Bezaleel made the * Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broade, and a cubite and an halfe high:

2 And overlayed it with fine golde within and without, and made a a crowne of gold to it round about.

a Like battlements.

3 And caſt for it foure rings of golde for the foure corners of it: that is, two rings for the one ſide of it, and two rings for the other ſide thereof.

4 Alſo he made barres of Shittim wood, and covered them with golde, 5 And put the barres in the rings by the ſides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

* Chap.25.17.

6 ¶ And he made the * Merciſeate of pure gold: two cubites and an halfe vvas the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of gold, upon the two ends of the Merciſeate: even of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

8 One Cherub on the one ende, and another Cherub on the other ende: b of the Merciſeate made he the Cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

b Of the ſelfe ſame matter that the Merciſeate was.

9 And the Cherubims ſpread out their wings on high, & covered ſ̄ Merciſeate with their wings and their faces vvere one towards another: toward the Merciſeate were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Alſo he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites vvas the length thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he overlaid it with fine golde, and made thereto a crowne of gold round about.

‖ Or, ſix or ſeuen fingers.

12 Alſo he made thereto a border of an ‖ hand breadth round about, and made upon the border a crowne of gold round about.

13 And he caſt for it foure rings of gold, and put the rings in the foure corners that vvere in the foure feete thereof.

14 Againſt the border were the rings, as places for the barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and covered them with gold to beare the Table.

* Chap.25.29.

16 *Alſo he made the inſtruments for the Table of pure gold: diſhes for it, and incenſe cups for it, and goblets for it, and coverings for it, wherewith it ſhould be covered.

17 ¶ Likewiſe he made the Candleſticke of pure gold: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candleſticke: and his ſhaft, and his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And ſixe branches came out of the ſides thereof: three branches of the Candleſticke out of the one ſide of it, and three branches of the Candleſticke out of the other ſide of it.

19 In one branch three bolles made like almonds, a knop and a floure: and in another branch three bolles made like almonds, a knop and a floure: and ſo throughout the ſixe branches that proceeded out of the Candleſticke.

20 And upon the Candleſticke vvere foure bolles after the faſhion of almonds, the knoppes thereof and the floures thereof.

21 That is, under every two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop under the ſecond branch thereof, and a knop under the third branch thereof, according to the ſix branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the ſame: it was all one * beaten worke of pure gold.

* Chap 25.31.

23 And he made for it ſeaven lampes with the ſnuffers, and ſnuffdiſhes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a c talent of pure gold made he it with all the inſtruments thereof.

c Reade Chap.25. 39.

25 ¶ Furthermore he made the * perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it vvas a cubite, & the breadth of it a cubite (it was ſquare) and two cubites high, and ſ̄ hornes thereof were of ſ̄ ſame.

* Chap.30.1.2.3.4.

26 And he covered it with pure gold, both the top and the ſides thereof round about, and the hornes of it, and made unto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold for it, under the crowne thereof in the two coners of the two ſides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.

28 Alſo he made the barres of Shittim wood, and overlayed them with golde.

* Chap.30.33.39.

29 And he made the holy * anoynting oyle, and the ſweet pure incenſe after the apothicaries art.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

6 The altar of burnt offerings. 8 The braſen Laver. 9 The Court. 24 The ſumme of that the people offred.

ALſo he made the altar of the burnt offring * of Shittim woode: fiue cubites vvas the length thereof, and fiue cubites the breadth thereof: it vvas ſquare and three cubites high.

* Chap 27.1.

2 And he made unto it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes thereof were of the ſame, and he overlayed it with braſſe.

3 Alſo he made all the inſtruments of the altar: the ‖ aſhpans, and the beſoms and the baſins, the fleſhhookes, and the * cenſers: all the inſtruments thereof made he of braſſe.

‖ Or, fire panes.

* Chap.27.3.

4 Moreover, he made a braſen grate wrought like a net to the Altar, under the compaſſe of it beneath in the a middes of it.

a So that the gridyron or grate was halfe ſo high as the altar, and ſtood within it.

5 And caſt foure rings of braſſe for the foure endes of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and covered them with braſſe.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the ſides of the altar to beare it withall, and made it * hollow vvithin the boardes.

* Chap.27.8.

8 ¶ Alſo he made the laver of braſſe, and the foote of it of braſſe of the b glaſſes of the women that did aſſembled and came together at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

b R. Kimbi ſaith, that the women brought their looking glaſſes which were of braſſe or fine metall, and offered them freely unto the uſe of the Tabernacle: which was a bright thing and of great mate-

9 ¶ Finally, he made the court on the South ſide full South: the hangings of the court vvere of fine twined linnen, having an hundreth cubites.

10 Their ſtie,

10 Their pillars vvere twentie, and their brasen sockets twentie: the hookes of the pillers, and their filets vvere of silver.

11 And on the Northside the hangings vvere an hundreth cubites: their pillars twentie, & their sockes of brasse twentie, the hookes of the pillars and the filets of silver.

12 On the westside also vvere hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillars with their ten sockes: the hookes of the pillars, and their filets of silver.

13 And toward the Eastside, full East vvere hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side vvere fifteene cubites, their three pillars, and their three sockets:

16 All the hangings of the court round about vvere of fine twined linnen.

17 But the sockets of the pillars vvere of brasse: the hookes of the pillars and their filets of silver, and the covering of their chapiters of silver: and all the pillars of the court were hoped about with silver.

18 He made also the hanging of the gate of the court of needleworke, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen even twentie cubites long, and five cubites in height and bredth, † like the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars vvere foure with their foure sockets of brasse: their hooks of silver, and the covering of the chapiters, and their filets of silver.

20 But all the * pinnes of the Tabernacle and of the court round about were of brasse.

21 ¶ These are the parts of the Tabernacle, I meane, of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, which was appointed by the commandement of Moses for the office of the [c] Levites, by the hand of Ithamar sonne to Aaron the Priest.

22 So Bazaleel the sonne of Vri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudah, made all that the Lord commanded Moses.

23 And with him Aholiab sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan, a [d] cunning workeman, and an embroiderer, & a worker of needle worke in blew silke, & in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linnen.

24 All the gold that was occupied in all the worke wrought for the holy place (which was the gold of the offering) was nine and twentie talents and seven hundreth and thirtie shekels, according to the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

25 But the silver of them that were numbred in the Congregation, vvas an hundreth talents, and a thousand seaven hundreth seventie and five shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

27 Moreover there were an hundreth talents of silver, to cast the sockets of the Sanctuary, and the sockets of the vaile: an hundreth sockets of an hundreth talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hookes for the pillars of a thousand seven hundreth and seventie and five shekels, and overlaid their chapiters, and made filets about them.

29 Also the brasse of the offering vvas seventie talents, and two thousand, and foure hundreth shekels.

30 Whereof he made the sockets to the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the brasen altar, and the brasen grate which was for it, with all the instruments of the Altar.

31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets for the court gate, and all the * pins of the Tabernacle, and all the pines of the court round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The apparell of Aaron and his sonnes. 32 All that the Lord commanded was made, and finished. 43 Moses blesseth the people.

MOreover they made [a] garments of ministration to minister in the Sanctuarie of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet: they * made also the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

2 So he made the Ephod of gold, blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen.

3 And they did beate the gold into thinne plates, & cut it into wiers, to worke it in the blew silke and in the purple, and in the skarlet, and in the fine linnen, with broidered worke.

4 For the which they made shoulders to couple together: for it was closed by the two edges there of,

5 And the broidered gard of his Ephod that was upon him, was of the same stuffe, and of like worke: even of gold, of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linnen, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

6 ¶ And they wrought * two Onyx stones closed in ouches of golde, and graved, as [b] signets are graven, with the names of the children of Israel.

7 And put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, as stones for a *remembrance of the children of Israel, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

8 ¶ Also he made the breastplate of broidered worke like the worke of the Ephod: to vvit, of gold, blew silke, and purple and skarlet, and fine twined linnen.

9 They made the breastplate double, and it was square an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad: it vvas also double.

10 And they filed it with foure rowes of stones. The order vvas this, a Rubie, a Topaze, and a Carbuncle in the first rowe.

11 And in the second rowe an Emeraud, a Saphir, and a Diamond:

12 Also in the third rowe [c] a Turkeis, an Achate, and an Hamatite:

13 Likewise in the fourth rowe a Chrisolite, an Onyx, and a Iasper: closed and set in ouches of golde.

14 So the stones vvere according to the names of the children of Israel, even twelve [d] after their names, graven like signets, every one after his name, according to the twelve tribes.

15 After, they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of wrethen worke and pure gold.

16 They made also two bosses of gold, and two gold rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the breastplate.

17 And they put ‡ two wrethen chaines of gold in the two rings, in the corners of the breastplate.

CHAP XL.

1 The Tabernacle with the appertinances is reared up.
34 The glory of the Lord appeareth in the cloud covering the Tabernacle.

THen the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 In the a firſt day of the firſt moneth in the very firſt of the ſame moneth ſhalt thou ſet up the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

a After that Moſes had been 40 dayes, and 40 nights in the mount, that is from the beginning of Auguſt to the tenth of September, he came downe, and cauſed this worke to be done: which being finiſhed, was ſet up in Aoid, which moneth contained halfe March and halfe Aprill.

3 And thou ſhalt put therein the Arke of the Teſtimonie, and cover the Arke with the vaile.

4 Alſo thou ſhalt bring in the * Table, and ſet it in order as it doth require: thou ſhalt alſo bring in the Candleſticke, and light his lampes.

* Read Chap.26.35.

5 And thou ſhalt ſet the incenſe Altar b of gold before the Arke of the Teſtimonie; and put the c hanging at the doore of the Tabernacle.

b That is, the altar of perfume, or to burne incenſe on.
c This hanging or vaile was betweene the Sanctuary and the court.

6 Moreover, thou ſhalt ſet the burnt offring Altar before the doore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And thou ſhalt ſet the Laver betweene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou ſhalt appoint the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court gate.

9 After, thou ſhalt take the anoynting oyle, and anoint the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and hallow it with all the inſtruments thereof that it may be holy.

10 And thou ſhalt anoynt the Altar of the burnt offring, and all his inſtruments, and ſhalt ſanctifie the Altar, that it may bee an altar moſt holy.

11 Alſo thou ſhalt anoynt the Laver, and his foote, and ſhalt ſanctifie it.

12 Then thou ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſonnes unto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and wath them with water.

13 And thou ſhalt put upon Aaron the holy garments, and ſhalt anoynt him, and ſanctifie him, that he may miniſter unto me in the Prieſts office.

14 Thou ſhalt alſo bring his ſonnes and cloathe them with garments.

15 And ſhalt anoynt them as thou diddeſt anoynt their father, that they may miniſter unto mee in the Prieſts office: for their anoynting ſhall bee a ſigne, that the Prieſthood d ſhall be everlaſting unto them throughout their generations.

d Till both the Prieſthood and the ceremonies ſhould end, which was at Chriſts comming.

16 So Moſes did according to all that the Lord had commanded him; ſo did he.

17 ¶ * Thus

17 ¶ * Thus was the Tabernacle reared up the first day of the first moneth in e the second yeere.

18 Then Moses reared up the Tabernacle and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the barres of it, & reared up his pillars.

19 And hee spread the covering over the Tabernacle, and put the covering of that covering on high above it, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

20 ¶ And he tooke and put the f Testimonie in the Arke, and put the barres in the rings of the Arke, & set the Mercieseate on high upō the Arke.

21 He brought alſo the Arke into the Tabernacle, and hanged up the * covering vaile, and covered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

22 ¶ Furthermore hee put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in the Northside of the Tabernacle, without the vaile, 23 And set the bread in order before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

24 ¶ Alſo he put the Candlesticke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, over against the Table toward the Southside of the Tabernacle.

25 And hee ‖ lighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

26 ¶ Moreover, hee set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the vaile.

27 And burnt sweete incense thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

28 ¶ Alſo hee hanged up the vaile at the g doore of the Tabernacle.

29 After, he set the burnt offring Altar without the doore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and offred the burnt offring and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

30 ¶ Likewise he set the Laver betweene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

31 So Moses and Aaron, and his sonnes washed their hands and their feete thereat.

32 When they went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and when they approached to the Altar, they washed, as the Lord hath commanded Moses.

33 Finally, hee reared up the court round about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged up the vaile at the court gate: so Moses finished the worke.

34 ¶ * Then the cloude covered the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.

35 So Moses could not enter into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glory of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.

36 Now when the cloude ascended up from the Tabernacle, the children of Israel went forward in all their iourneyes.

37 But if the cloude ascended not, then they iourneyed not till the day that it ascended.

38 For h the cloude of the Lord was upon the Tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their iourneyes.

NOw the a Lord called Moses, and spake unto him out of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, saying,

2 Speake unto the children of Israel, and thou shalt say unto them, If any of you offer a sacrifice unto the Lord, ye shall offer your sacrifice of b cattell, as of beeves and of the sheepe.

3 * If his sacrifice be a burnt offring of the herde, he shall offer a male without blemish, presenting him of his owne voluntary will at the doore of the c Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

4 And hee shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offring, and it shalbe accepted † to the Lord, to be his atonement.

5 And d he shall kill the bullocke before the Lord, and the Priestes Aarons sonnes shall offer the blood, and shall sprinkle it round about upon the e altar, that is by the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then

a Hereby Moses declareth that hee taught nothing to the people but that which he received of God.

b So they could offer of none other sort, but of those which were commanded.

6 Then shall he slay the burnt offring, and cut it in pieces:

7 So the sonnes of Aaron the Priest shall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire.

8 Then the Priests Aarons sonnes shall lay the parts in order, ȳ head & the ‖ kall upon the wood that is in the fire which is upon the altar.

10 ¶ And if his sacrifice for the burnt offring be of the flocks (as of the sheepe, or of the goats) he shall offer a male without blemish.

14 ¶ And if his sacrifice be a burnt offring to the Lord of the foules, then shall he offer his sacrifice of the turtle doves, or of the yong pigeons.

15 And the Priest shall bring it unto the altar, and [i] wring the necke of it asunder, and burne it on the altar: and the blood thereof shall be ‖ shed upon the side of the altar.

CHAP. II.

1 The meate offring is after three sortes of fine flure vnbaken. 4 Of bread baken.

A Nd when any will offer a [a] meate offring unto the Lord, his offring shall be of fine floure, and he shall powre oyle upon it, and put incense thereon.

a Because the burnt offring could not be without the meate offring.

2 And shall bring it unto Aarons sonnes the Priests, and [b] he shall take thence his handfull of the floure, and of the oyle with all the incense, and the Priest shall burne it for a [c] memoriall upon the altar: for it is an offering made by fire for a sweete savour unto the Lord.

b The Priest.
c To signify that God remembreth him that offereth.

3 * But the remnant of the meate offring shall be Aaron and his sonnes: for it is [d] most holy of the Lords offring made by fire.

* Ecclu. 7. 31.
d Therefore none could eate of it but the Priest.

4 ¶ If thou bring also a meate offring baken in the oven, it shall be an unleavened cake of fine floure mingled with oyle, or an unleavened wafer anoynted with oyle.

5 ¶ But if thy [e] meate offring be an oblation of the frying pan, it shall be of fine floure unleavened, mingled with oyle.

e Which is a gift offered to God to pacifie him.

6 And thou shalt part it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: for it is a meate offring.

7 ¶ And if thy meate offring be an oblation made in the caldron, it shall be made of fine floure with oyle.

8 After, thou shalt bring the meate offring (that is made of these things) unto the Lord, and shalt present it unto the Priest, and he shall bring it to the altar.

9 And the priest shall take from the meate offring a * memoriall of it, and shall burne it upon the altar: for it is an oblation * made by fire for a sweete savour unto the Lord.

* Verse 2.
* Exod. 29. 18.

10 But that which is left of the meate offring, shall be Aarons and his sonnes: for it is most holy of the offrings of the Lord made by fire.

11 All the meate offrings which ye shall offer unto the Lord, shall be made without leaven: for ye shall neither burne leaven nor hony in any offring of the Lord made by fire.

12 ¶ In the oblation of the first fruites ye shall offer [f] them unto the Lord, but they shall not be burnt [g] upon the altar for a sweete savour.

f That is, fruites, which were sweete as hony, ye may offer.
g But reserved for the Priests.

13 (All the meate offrings also shalt thou season with * salt, neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the [h] covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meate offring, but upon all thine oblations thou shalt offer salt.

* Chap. 23. 14.
‖ Or, full eares: for the word signifieth a fruitfull field. Read 2 Chro. 26. 10. in the note.

15 After, thou shalt put oyle upon it, and lay incense thereon: for it is a meate offring.

16 And the priest shall burne the memoriall of it, even of that, that is beaten, and of the oyle of it with all the incense thereof: for it is an offring unto the Lord made by fire.

CHAP. III.

1 The maner of peace offrings, and beastes for the same. 17 The Israelites may not eate fat nor blood.

A Lso if his oblation be a [a] peace offring, if he will offer of the drove (whether it be male or female) he shall offer such as is without blemish before the Lord.

a A sacrifice of thanksgiving offered for peace and prosperity, either generally or particularly.

2 And shall put his hand upon the head of his offring, and kill it at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and Aarons sonnes the priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

3 So he shall offer [b] part of the peace offering, as a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, even the * fat that covereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is upon the inwardes, b One part was burnt, another was to the Priests, and the third to him that offered.

* Exod. 29. 22.

4 He shall also take away the two kidneis, and the fat that is on them, and upon ‖ the flanks, and the kall on the liver with the kidneis.

‖ Or, the which kidneis are neere the flankes.

5 And Aarons sonnes shall burne it on the altar, with the burnt offering, which is upon the wood that is on the fire: this is a sacrifice made by fire for a sweete savour unto the Lord.

6 ¶ Also if his oblation be a peace offring unto the Lord out of the flocke, whether it be [c] male or female, he shall offer it without blemish.

c In the peace offring it was indifferent to offer either male or female, but in the burnt offring onely the male: so here can be offered no birdes, but in the burnt offering they might: all there was consumed with fire, and in the peace offering but a part.

7 If he offer a Lambe for his [d] oblation, then he shall bring it before the Lord

8 And lay his hand upon the h[ead] of his offring, & shall kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and Aarons sonne shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

9 After,

9 After, of the peace offerings he shall offer [d] an offring made by fire unto the Lord: he shall take away the fat thereof, and the rump altogether, hard by the backe bone, and the fat that covereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is upon the inwards

10 Also hee shall take away the two kidneis, with the fat that is upon them, and upon the * flanks, and the kall upon the liver with the kidneis.

11 Then the Priest shall burne it upon the altar, as the meate of an offring made by fire unto the Lord.

12 ¶ Also if his offring be a goate, then shall he offer it before the Lord, 13 And shall put his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before [e] the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the sonnes of Aaron shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the altar round about.

14 Then hee shall offer thereof his offering, even an offering made by fire unto the Lord, the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards.

15 Also hee shall take away the two kidneis, and the fat that is upon them, and upon the flanks, and the kall upon the liver with the kidneis.

16 So the Priest shall burne them upon the altar, as the meate of an offering made by fire for a sweete savour: * all the fatte is the Lords.

17 This shalbe a perpetuall ordinance for your generations, throughout all your dwellings, so that ye shall eate neither f fat nor * blood.

d The burnt offring was wholy consumed, and of the offring made by fire onely the inwardes, &c. were burnt: the shoulder and breast, with the two lawes and the mawe were the Priests, and the rest his that offred.

1 The offring for sinnes done of ignorance. 3 For the Priest, the Congregation, the ruler, and private man.

MOreover, the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto the children of Israel, saying, If † any shall sinne through [a] ignorance, in any of the commandements of the Lord, (which ought not to be done) but shall doe contrarie to any of them,

3 If [b] the Priest that is anointed do sinne (according to the sinne of the people) then shall he offer for his sinne which hee hath sinned, a young bullocke without blemish unto the Lord for a sinne offring.

4 And he shall bring the bullocke unto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord, and shall put his hand upon the bullockes head, and [c] kill the bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is anointed, shall take of the bullockes blood, and bring it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shall dippe his finger in the blood, & sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the vaile of the [d] Sanctuary.

7 The Priest also shall put some of the blood upon the hornes of the altar of sweete incense, which is in the [e] Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shall hee powre * all the rest of the blood of the bullocke at the foote of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 And he shall take away all the fatte of the bullocke for the sinne offring: to wit, the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fatte that is about the inwardes.

9 He shall take away also the two kidneis, and the fat that is upon them, and upon the flankes, and the kall upon the liver with the kidneis.

10 As it was taken away from the bullocke of the peace offrings, and the Priest shall burne them upon the altar of burnt offering.

13 ¶ And if the [h] whole Congregation of Israel shall sinne through ignorance, and the thing be * hid from the eyes of the multitude, and have done against any of the commandements of the Lord which should not be done, and have offended.

14 When the sinne which they have committed shalbe knowen, then the Congregation shall offer a yong bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

15 And the [i] Elders of the Congregation shall put their handes upon the head of the bullocke before the Lord, and ‖ hee shall kill the bullocke before the Lord.

16 Then the Priest that is anoynted, shall bring of the bullocks blood into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 18 Also he shall put some of the blood upon the hornes of the altar, which is before the Lord, that is in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then shall he powre all the rest of the blood at the foot of the altar of burnt offring, which is at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

19 And he shall take all his fat from him, and ‖ burnt it upon the altar.

20 And the Priest shall doe with his bullocke, as he did with the bullocke for his sinne: so shall he doe with this: so the Priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shalbe forgiven them.

21 For he shall cary the bullocke without the hoste, and burne him as hee burned the first bullocke: for it is an offering for the sinne of the Congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler shall sinne, and doe through ignorance against any of the commandements of the Lord his God, which should not be done, and shall offend,

23 If one shew unto him his sinne, which hee hath committed, then shall he bring for his offring an ‖ hee goate without blemish,

24 And shall lay his hand upon the head of the hee goate, and kill it in [k] the place where he should kill the burnt offering before the Lord: for it is a sinne offring.

25 Then the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it upon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, and shall powre the rest of his blood at the foote of the burnt offering altar, 26 And shall burne all his fat upon the altar, as the fat of the peace offring: so the Priest shall [l] make an atonement for him, concerning his sinne, and it shalbe forgiven him.

27 ¶ Likewise if any of the ‖ people of the land shall sinne through ignorance in doing against any of the commandements of the Lord, which should not be done, and shall offend.

14 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

7 And the Prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him before the Lord, and it ſhall be forgiven him, whatſoever thing he hath done, and treſpaſſed therein.

8 ¶ Then the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

9 Commaund Aaron and his ſonnes, ſaying, This is the d lawe of the burnt offring. (it is the burnt offring becauſe it burneth upon the altar all the night unto the morning, and the fire burneth on the altar.)

10 And the Prieſt ſhall put on his linnen garment, and ſhall put on his linnen breeches upon e his fleſh, and take away the aſhes when the fire hath conſumed the burnt offering upon the altar, and he ſhall put them beſide the f altar.

11 After, he ſhall put off his garments, and put on other raiment, and cary the aſhes foorth without the hoſte unto a cleane place.

12 But the fire upon the altar ſhall burne thereon and never be put out: wherefore the Prieſt ſhall burne wood on it every morning, and lay the burnt offring in order upon it, and he ſhall burne thereon the fat of the peace offrings.

13 The fire ſhall ever burne upon the altar, and never goe out.

14 ¶ * Alſo this is the lawe of the meate offring, which Aarons ſonnes ſhall offer in the preſence of the Lord, before the altar.

23 For every meate offring of the Prieſt ſhall be burnt altogether, it ſhall not be eaten.

24 ¶ Furthermore, the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

26 The Prieſt that offreth this ſinne offring, ſhall eate it: in the holy place ſhall it be eaten, in the court of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

27 Whatſoever ſhall touch the fleſh thereof ſhalbe holy: and when there droppeth of the blood thereof upon a k garment, thou ſhalt waſh that whereon it droppeth in the holy place.

1 The lawe of the treſpaſſe offring. 11 Alſo of the peace offring. 23 The fat and the blood may not be eaten.

LIkewiſe this is the lawe of the a treſpaſſe offering, it is moſt holy.

2 In the place b where they kill the burnt offering, ſhall they kill the treſpaſſe offring, and the blood thereof ſhall he ſprinkle round about upon the altar.

3 All the fat thereof alſo ſhall c he offer, the rump, and the fat that covered the inwards.

4 After, hee ſhall take away the two kidneis, with the fat that is on them and upon the flankes, and the kall on the liver with the kidneis.

5 Then the Prieſt ſhall burne them vpon the altar, for an offring made by fire unto the Lord: this is a treſpaſſe offring.

6 All the males among the Prieſtes ſhall eate thereof, it ſhall be eaten in the holy place, for it is moſt holy.

7 As the ſinne offring is, ſo is the treſpaſſe offring, one d law ſerveth for both: e that wherewith the Prieſt ſhall make atonement, ſhall be his.

8 Alſo the Prieſt that offereth any mans burnt offring, ſhall haue the ſkinn of the burnt offring which he hath offered.

9 And all the meate offring that is baken in the oven, and that is dreſſed in the pan, and in the frying pan ſhall be the Prieſts that offereth it.

10 And every meate offring mingled with oyle, and that is f dry, ſhall pertaine unto all the ſonnes of Aaron, to all alike.

11 Furthermore, this is the lawe of the peace offrings, which he ſhall offer unto the Lord.

12 If he offer it to g giue thankes, then he ſhall offer for his thankes offering, unleauened cakes mingled with oyle, and unleavened wafers anointed with oyle, and fine floure fryed with the cakes mingled with oyle.

13 He ſhall offer alſo his offring with cakes of leavened bread, for his peace offrings, to giue thankes.

14 And of all the ſacrifice he ſhall offer one cake for an heave offring unto the Lord, and it

15 And Moses slew him, and tooke the blood, which he put upon the horne of the c Altar round about with his finger, & purified the altar, & powred the rest of the blood at the foot of the altar; so he sanctified d it, to make reconciliation upon it.

c Of the burnt offering.

d To offer for the sinnes of the people.

16 Then

16 Then hee tooke all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the kall of the liver, and the two kidneis with their fat, which Moſes burned upon the altar.

17 But the bullocke and his [e] hide, and his fleſh, and his doung, hee burnt with fire without the hoaſte as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

18 ¶ Alſo hee brought the ramme for the burnt offring, and Aaron and his ſonnes put their hands upon the head of the ramme.

19 So Moſes killed it, and ſprinkled the blood upon the altar round about,

20 And Moſes cut the ramme in pieces, and burnt the head with the pieces, and the fat,

21 And waſhed the inwardes and the legges in water: ſo Moſes burnt the ramme every whit upon the Altar: for it was a burnt offring for a ſweete ſavour, which was made by fire unto the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 ¶* After hee brought the other ramme, the ramme of conſecrations, and Aaron and his ſons layed their hands upon the head of the ramme, 23 Which Moſes [f] ſlewe, and tooke of the blood of it, and put it upon the lappe of Aarons right eare, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

24 Then Moſes brought Aarons ſonnes, and put of the blood on the lap of their right eares, and upon the thumbes of their right handes, and upon the great toes of their right feete, and Moſes ſprinkled the reſt of the blood upon the altar round about.

25 And he tooke the fatte and the rumpe, and all the fatte that was upon the inwardes, and the kall of the liver, and the two kidneis with their fat and the right ſhoulder.

26 Alſo he tooke of the basket of the vnleavened bread, that was before the Lord, one unleavened cake, and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right ſhoulder.

27 So he put *all in Aarons hands, and in his ſons hands, and ſhook it to & fro before the Lord.

28 After, Moſes took them out of their hands, and burnt them upon the altar for a burnt offring: for theſe were conſecrations for a ſweete ſavour, which were made by fire unto the Lord.

29 Likewiſe Moſes tooke the breaſt of the ramme of conſecrations, and ſhooke it to and fro before the Lord: for it was Moſes * portion as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

30 Alſo Moſes tooke of the anoynting oyle, and of the blood which was upon the Altar, and ſprinkled it upon Aaron, upon his garments, and upon his ſonnes, and on his ſonnes garments with him: ſo he ſanctified Aaron, his garments, and his ſonnes, and his ſonnes garments with him.

31 ¶ Afterward Moſes ſaid unto Aaron and his ſonnes, Seethe the fleſh at the doore of the [g] Tabernacle of the Congregation, and there * eate it with the bread that is in the basket of conſecrations, as I commanded, ſaying, Aaron and his ſonnes ſhall eate it.

32 But that which remaineth of the fleſh and of the bread, ſhall ye burne with fire.

33 And ye ſhall not depart from the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation ſeven dayes, vntill the dayes of your conſecrations bee at an ende: * for ſeven dayes, ſaide the Lord, ſhall hee [†] conſecrate you, 35 Therefore ſhall yee abide at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, day and night, ſeven dayes, and ſhall keepe the watch of the Lord, that ye die not: for ſo I am commanded.

36 So Aaron and his ſonnes did all things which the Lord had commanded by the [h] hand of Moſes.

CHAP. IX.

8 The firſt offrings of Aaron. 22 Aaron bleſſeth the people. 23 The glory of the Lord is ſhewed. 24 The fire commeth from the Lord.

AND in the eight day Moſes called Aaron and his ſonnes, and the Elders of Iſrael:

2 * Then hee ſaide unto Aaron, Take thee a yong calfe for a [b] ſinne offring, and a ramme for a burnt offring, both without blemiſh, and bring them before the Lord.

3 And unto the children of Iſrael thou ſhalt ſpeake, ſaying, Take yee an hee goate for a ſinne offring, and a calfe, and a lambe, both of a yeere olde, without blemiſh for a burnt offring:

4 Alſo a bullocke, and a ramme for peace offrings, to offer before the Lord, and a meate offring mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord will appeare unto you.

5 ¶ Then they brought that which Moſes commaunded before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the aſſembly drew neere, and ſtoode before the [c] Lord.

6 (For Moſes had ſaide, This is the thing, which the Lord commanded that yee ſhould doe, and the glory of the Lord ſhall appeare unto you.)

7 Then Moſes ſaide unto Aaron, Draw neere to the Altar, and offer thy ſinne offring, and thy burnt offring, and make an atonement for [d] thee and for the people: offer alſo the offring of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went unto the altar, and killed the calfe of the ſinne offring, which was for himſelfe.

9 And the ſonnes of Aaron brought the blood unto him, and he dipt his finger in the blood, and put it upon the hornes of the Altar, and powred the reſt of the blood at the foot of the Altar.

10 But the fat and the kidneis, and the kall of the liver of the ſinne offring, he [e] burnt unto the Altar, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

11 The fleſh alſo and the hide he burnt [illegible] fire without the hoaſte.

12 After, he ſlewe the burnt offring, and Aarons ſonnes brought unto him the blood, which he ſprinkled round about the Altar.

13 Alſo they brought the burnt offring unto him with the pieces thereof, and the head, and hee burnt them upon the Altar.

14 Likewiſe he did waſh the inwards and the legs, and [f] burnt them upon the burnt offring on the Altar.

15 ¶ Then he offred the peoples offring, and tooke a goat, which was the ſinne offring for the people, & ſlew it: & offred it for ſinne, as the firſt:

16 So hee offred the burnt offring and prepared it, according to the maner.

17 He preſented alſo the meate offring, and filled his hand thereof, and * beſide the burnt ſacrifice of the morning, he burnt this upon the altar.

2 What considerations the Priestes ought to haue in iudging the leprosie. 29 the blacke spot, or scab. 47 and the leprie of the garment.

MOreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

2 The man that shall haue in the skin of his flesh a swelling or a scab, or a white spot, so that a That it may be suspected to be the leprie. in the skinne of his flesh a it be like the plague of leprosie, then he shall be brought vnto Aaron the Priest, or vnto one of his sonnes the Priests, b That is, shrunke in, and be lower then the rest of the skinne.

† Ebr. shall pollute him.

3 And the Priest shall looke on the sore in the skin of his flesh: if the haire in the sore be turned into white, and the sore seene to be b lower then the skinne of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: therefore the Priest shall looke on him, and † pronounce him vncleane.

4 But if the white spot be in the skinne of his flesh, and seeme not to be lower then the skinne, nor the haire thereof be turned into white, then the Priest shall shut vp him that hath the plague, seuen dayes.

† Ebr. in his eyes.

5 After, the Priest shall looke vpon him the seuenth day: and if the plague seeme † to him to abide still, and the plague grow not in the skin, the Priest shall shut him vp yet seuen dayes more.

c As hauing the skin drawen together, or blackish.
* Ebr. shall cleanse him.

6 Then the Priest shall locke on him againe the seuenth day, and if the plague c be darke, and the sore grow not in the skin, then the priest shall * pronounce him cleane, for it is a scab: therefore he shall wash his cloathes, and be cleane.

7 But if the scab grow more in the skin, after that he is seene of the priest for to be purged, hee shall be seene of the priest yet againe.

‖ Or, be spread abroad.

8 Then the priest shall consider, and if the scab ‖ grow in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him d vncleane: for it is leprosie.

d As touching his bodily disease: his disease was not imputed to him for sinne before God, though it were the punishment of sinne.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shall be brought vnto the priest.

10 And the priest shall see him: and if the swelling be white in the skin, and haue made the haire white, and there be raw flesh in the swelling,

‖ Or, bud.

11 It is an old leprosie in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him vncleane, and shall not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 Also if the leprosie ‖ breake out in the skin, and the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his feete, whersoeuer the priest looketh, 13 Then the priest shall consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shall pronounce the plague to be e cleane, because it is all turned into whitenesse: so he shall be cleane.

e For it is not that contagious leprie that infecteth, but a kinde of scurfe, which hath not the flesh raw as the leprosie.

14 But if there be raw flesh on him when he is seene, he shall be vncleane.

15 For the priest shall see the raw flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: for the raw flesh is f vncleane, therefore it is the leprosie.

f That is, declareth that the flesh is not sound but is in danger to be leprous.

16 Or if the raw flesh change and be turned into white, then he shall come to the priest,

17 And the priest shall behold him: and if the sore be changed into white, then the priest shall pronounce the plague cleane, for it is cleane.

‖ Or, impostume.

18 ¶ The flesh also in whose skin there is ‖ a bile, and is healed,

19 And in the place of de bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot somwhat reddish, it shall be seene of the priest, 20 And when the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skinne, and the haire thereof be changed into white, the Priest then shall pronounce him g vncleane: for it is a plague of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

g None were exempted, but if the Priest pronounced him vncleane, he was put out from among the people: as appeareth by Mary the prophetesse. Num. 12. 14, and by king Vzziah. 2. Chron. 26. 20.

21 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white haires therein, and if it be not lower then the skin, but be darker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

22 And if it spred abroad in the flesh, the priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, and grow not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shall declare him to be vncleane.

24 ¶ If there be any flesh, whose skin there is an hote burning, and the quicke flesh of the burning haue a h white spot, somewhat reddish or pale.

h If he have a white spot in the place where the burning was, and was after healed.

25 Then the Priest shall looke vpon it: and if the haire in that spot be changed into white, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broken out in the burning: therefore the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white haire in the spot, and be no lower then the other skin, but be darker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

27 After, the Priest shall looke on him the seuenth day: if it be growen abroad in the skinne, then the priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darke, it is a ‖ rising of the burning: the priest shall therefore declare him cleane: for it is the drying vp of the burning.

‖ Or, swelling.

29 ¶ If also a man or a woman hath a sore on the head or in the beard.

30 Then the priest shall see the sore: and if it apppeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a small yellow i haire, then the priest shall pronounce him vncleane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

i Which was not wont to be there, or els smaller then in any other part of the body.

31 And if the priest looke on the sore of the blacke spot, and if it seeme not lower then the skinne, nor haue any blacke haire in it, then the priest shall shut up him that hath the sore of the blacke spot, seuen dayes.

32 After, in the seuenth day the priest shall looke on the sore: and if the blacke spot grow not, and there be in it no yellow haire, and the blacke spot seeme not lower then the skin,

33 Then hee shall be shauen, but the place of the blacke spot shall be not shaue: but the priest shall shut up him that hath blacke spot, seuen dayes more.

34 And the seuenth day the priest shall looke on the blacke spot: and if the blacke spot grow not in the skinne, nor seeme lower then the other skin, then the priest shall cleanse him, and he shall wash his cloathes, and be cleane.

35 But if the blacke spot grow abroad in the flesh after his cleansing, 36 Then the priest shall looke on it, and if the blacke spot grow in the skin, the priest shall not k seeke for the yellow haire: for it is vncleane.

k He shall not care whether the yellow haire be there or no.

37 But if the black spot seeme to him to abide, and that blacke haire grow therein, the blacke spot

spot is healed, he is cleane, and the priest shall declare him to be cleane.

38 ¶ Furthermore if there be any white spots in the skinne of the flesh of man or woman, 39 Then the priest shall consider: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darke and white withall, it is but a white spot broken out in the skinne: therefore he is cleane.

40 And the man whose haire is fallen off his head, and is balde, is cleane.

41 And if his head lose the haire on the forepart, and be balde before, he is cleane.

42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde forehead a white reddish sore, it is a leprosie springing in his bald head, or in his bald forehead.

43 Therefore the priest shall looke upon it, and if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde forehead, appearing like leprosie in the skinne of the flesh, 44 He is a leper and uncleane: therefore the priest shall pronounce him together uncleane: for the sore is in his head.

45 The leper also in whom the plague is, shall haue his cloathes m rent, and his head bare, and shall put a covering upon his n lips, and shall cry, I am uncleane, I am uncleane.

46 As long as the disease shall be upon him, he shallbe polluted, for he is uncleane: he shall dwell alone, * without the campe shall his habitation be.

47 ¶ Also the garment that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a woollen garment or a linnen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warp or in the woofe of linnen or of wollen, either in a skinne, or in any thing made of skinne,

49 And if the sore be greene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skinne, or in the warp, or in the woofe, or in any thing that is made of o skin, it is a plague of leprosie, and shalbe shewed unto the priest.

50 Then the priest shall see the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague, seuen dayes, 51 And shall looke on the plague the seuenth day: if the plague grow in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in the skinne, or in any thing that is made of skinne, that plague is a fretting leprosie and vncleane.

52 And he shall burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be wollen or linnen, or any thing that is made of skinne, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosie, therefore it shall be burnt in the fire.

53 If the priest yet see that the plague p grow not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatsoever thing of skinne it be,

54 Then the priest shall commaund them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it vp seven dayes more.

55 Againe the Priest shall looke on the plague, after it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his q colour, though the plague spread no further, it is uncleane: thou shalt burne it in the fire, for it is after inward, r whether the spot be in the bare place of the whole, or in part thereof.

56 And if the Priest see that the plague be darker, after that it is washed, he shall cut it out of the garment, or out of the skinne, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare still in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing made of skin, it is a spreading leprie: thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou haste washed the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, or whatsoever thing of skinne it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shall it be washed f the second time, and be cleane.

59 This is the law of the plague of leprosie in a garment of woollen or linnen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing of skinne, to make it cleane or uncleane.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The cleansing of the leper. 34 And of the house that he is in.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 * This is the a law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: that is, he shalbe brought unto the Priest.

3 And the priest shall goe out of the campe, and the priest shall consider him: and if the plague of leprosie be healed in the leper,

4 Then shall the priest command to take for him that is cleansed, two ‖ sparrowes aliue and b cleane, and cedar-wood and a skarlet lace, and hyssope.

5 And the priest shall command to kill one of the birds ouer c pure water in an earthen vessell.

6 After, he shall take the liue sparrow with the cedar-wood, and the skarlet lace, and the hyssope, and shall dip them and the liuing sparrow in the blood of the sparrow slaine, ouer the pure water.

7 And he shall sprinkle upon him, that must be cleansed of his leprosie, seuen times, and cleanse him, and shall d let goe the liue sparrow into the broad field.

8 Then he that shall be cleansed, shall wash his cloathes, and shaue off all his haire, and wash himselfe in water, so he shall be cleane: after that shall he come into the hoast, and shall tary without his tent seuen dayes.

9 So in the seventh day he shall shaue off all his haire both his head and his beard, and his eye browes: euen all his haire shall be shaue, and shall wash his cloathes, and shall wash his flesh in water: so he shall be cleane,

10 Then in the eight day he shall take two hee lambes without e blemish, and an ewe lambe of a yeare old without blemish, and three tenth deales of fine flowre for a meate-offering, mingled with oyle, and a pinte of oyle.

11 And the priest that maketh him cleane shall bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then the priest shall take one lambe, and offer him for a trespasse-offering, and the pinte of oyle, and * shake them to and fro before the Lord.

13 And he shall kill the lambe in the place where the sinne-offering and the burnt-offering are slaine, euen in the holy place: for as the * sinne-offering is the priests, so is the trespasse-offering: for it is most holy.

14 So the priest shall take of the blood of the trespasse-offering, and put it upon the lappe of the right eare of him that shall be cleansed, and upon the thumbe of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his foote.

15 The priest shall also take of the pint of oyle, k This order is appointed for the poore man.

32 This is the k Law of him which hath the plague of leproſie, who is not able in his cleanſing to offer the vvhole.

33 ¶ The Lord alſo ſpake vnto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying, 34 When ye be come vnto the land of Canaan which I giue you in poſſeſſion, if I ſend the plague of leproſie in an houſe of the land of your poſſeſſion, l This declareth that no plague nor puniſhment commeth to man without Gods prouidence and his ſeeing.

35 Then he that oweth the houſe ſhall come and tell the Prieſt, ſaying, Me thinke there is like a plague of leproſie in the houſe.

36 Then the Prieſt ſhall command them to emptie the houſe before the Prieſt goe into it to ſee the plague, that all that is in the houſe be not made vncleane, and then ſhall the Prieſt goe in to ſee the houſe.

37 And he ſhall marke the plague: and if the plague be in the wals of the houſe, and that there be ‖ deepe ſpots, greeniſh or reddiſh, which ſeeme to be lower then the wall.

‖ Or, blackeneſſe, or hollow ſtrakes.

38 Then the Prieſt ſhall goe out of the houſe to the doore of the houſe, and ſhall cauſe to ſhut vp the houſe ſeuen dayes.

39 So the Prieſt ſhall come againe the ſeuenth day: and if he ſee that the plague be increaſed in the walles of the houſe, 40 Then the Prieſt ſhall commaund them to take away the ſtones wherein the plague is, and they ſhall caſt them into a ‖ foule place without the citie.

‖ Or, polluted.

41 Alſo hee ſhall cauſe to ſcrape the houſe within round about, and powre the duſt, that they haue pared off, without the city in m an vncleane place.

m Where carions were caſt, and other filth, that the people might not be therewith infected.

42 And they ſhall take other ſtones, and put them in the places of thoſe ſtones, and ſhall take other morter, to plaiſter the houſe with.

43 But if the plague come againe and breake out in the houſe, after that hee hath taken away the ſtones, and after that hee hath ſcraped and plaiſtered the houſe, 44 Then the prieſt ſhall come and ſee: and if the plague grow in the houſe, it is a freating leproſie in the houſe: it is therefore vncleane.

45 And hee ſhall n breake downe the houſe with the ſtones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the ‖ mortar of the houſe, and hee ſhall carie them out of the citie vnto an vncleane place.

n That is, he ſhall command it to be pulled downe, as verſe 40.

46 Moreouer he that goeth into the houſe all the while that it is ſhut vp, hee ſhall be vncleane vntill the even.

47 He alſo that ſleepeth in the houſe ſhall waſh his cloathes: hee likewiſe that eateth in the houſe, ſhall waſh his cloathes.

48 But if the prieſt ſhall come and ſee, that the plague hath ſpread no further in the houſe, after the houſe be plaiſtered, the prieſt ſhall pronounce the houſe cleane, for the plague is healed.

49 Then ſhall he take to purifie the houſe, two ſparrowes, and cedar wood, and o skarlet lace, and hyſſop, o It ſeemeth that this was a lace or ſtring to binde the hyſſop to the wood, and ſo was made a ſprinkler: the Apoſtle to the Ebrewes calleth it ſcarlet wooll. Ebr. 9.19.

50 And hee ſhall kill one ſparrow over pure water in an earthen veſſell.

51 And ſhall take the cedar wood, and the hyſſope, and the skarlet lace with the liue Sparrow, and dip them in the blood of the ſlaine Sparrow, and in the pure water, and ſprinkle the houſe ſeuen times:

52 So ſhall he cleanſe the houſe with the blood of the ſparrow, and with the pure water, and with the liue ſparrow, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyſſope, and with the skarlet lace.

CHAP. XV.

1, 19 The manner of purging the uncleane issues both of men and women. 31 The children of Israel must be separate from all uncleannesse.

MOreover the Lord spake unto Moses, and to Aaron, saying, a Whose seede either in sleeping, or else of weaknes of nature issueth at his secret part.

2 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, Whosoever hath an issue from his a flesh, is uncleane, because of his issue.

3 And this shallbe his uncleannesse in his issue, whether his flesh avoideth his issue, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, this is b his uncleannesse.

b Of the thing wherefore he shall be uncleane.

4 Every bed whereon he lyeth that hath the issue, shallbe uncleane, and every thing whereon he sitteth, shallbe uncleane.

5 Whosoever also toucheth his bed, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shall be uncleane untill the even.

6 And he that sitteth on any thing, whereon he sate that hath the issue, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shall be uncleane untill the even.

7 Also he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shallbe uncleane untill the even.

8 If he also that hath the issue, spit upon him that is cleane, c he shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shall be uncleane untill the even.

c Of whom the uncleane man did spit.

9 And what d saddle soever he rideth upon, that hath the issue, shallbe uncleane, d The word signifieth every thing whereon a man rideth.

10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was under him, shall be uncleane untill the even: and he that beareth those things, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shallbe uncleane untill the even.

11 Likewise whomsoever he toucheth that hath the issue (and hath not washed his hands in water) shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shallbe uncleane untill the even.

* Chap. 2, 28.

12 * And the vessell of earth that he toucheth, which hath the issue, shall be broken: and every vessell of wood shall be rinsed in water.

e That is, be restored to his old state, and be healed thereof, 13 But if he that hath an issue, be e cleansed of his issue, then shall he count him seven dayes for his cleansing, and wash his cloathes, and wash his flesh in pure water: so shall he be cleane.

14 Then the eighth day he shall take unto him two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, and come before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and shall give them unto the Priest, 15 And the Priest shall make of the one of them a sinne-offering, and of the other a burnt-offering: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord for his issue.

16 Also if any mans issue of seed depart from him, he shall wash all his f flesh in water, and be uncleane untill the even.

f Meaning, all his body.

17 And every garment, and every skin whereupon shall be issue of seed, shall be even washed with water, and be uncleane unto the even.

18 If he that hath an issue of seed doe lie with a woman, they shall both wash themselves with water, and be uncleane untill the even.

19 ¶ Also when a woman shall have an issue, and her issue in her ‖ flesh shallbe blood, she shallbe put apart seven dayes: and whosoever toucheth her, shallbe uncleane untill the even.

‖ Or, secret part.

20 And whatsoever she lieth upon in g her separation, shallbe uncleane, and every thing that she sitteth upon, shallbe uncleane.

g That is, when shee hath her floures, whereby she is separate from her husband, from the Tabernacle and from touching of any holy thing.

21 Whosoever also toucheth her bed, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe with water, and shallbe uncleane unto the even.

22 And whosoever toucheth any thing that she sate upon, shall wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and shallbe uncleane untill the even:

23 So that whether he toucheth her bed, or any thing whereon she hath sit, he shallbe uncleane unto the even.

24 And if a man lie with her, and the flowres of her separation h touch him, he shallbe uncleane seven dayes, and all the whole bed whereon he lieth, shallbe uncleane.

h If any of her uncleannesse did onely touch him in the bed: for els the man that companied with such a woman, should die. Chap. 20. 8.

25 Also when a womans issue of blood runneth long time besides the time of her † floures, or when she hath an issue longer then her floures, all the dayes of the issue of her uncleannesse she shall be uncleane, as in the time of her floures.

† Ebr. separation.

26 Every bed whereon she lieth (as long as her issue lasteth) shallbe to her as the i bed of her separation: and whatsoever she sitteth upon, shall be uncleane, as her uncleannes when she is put apart.

i Shallbe uncleane as the bed whereon she lay when she had her naturall disease.

27 And whosoever toucheth these things, shall be unclean, & shall wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, and shallbe uncleane unto the even.

28 But if she be cleansed of her issue, then she shall k count her seven dayes, and after, she shallbe cleane.

k After the time that she is recovered.

29 And in the eighth day shee shall take unto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them unto the Priest at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

30 And the Priest shall make of the one a sinne-offring, and of the other a burnt-offring, and the Priest shall make an atonement for her before the Lord, for the issue of her uncleannesse.

31 Thus shall ye l separate the children of Israel from their uncleannesse, that they die not in their uncleannesse, if they defile my Tabernacle that is among them.

l Seeing that God required of his purity and cleanes: we cannot be his, except our filth and sinnes be purged with the blood of Iesus Christ, and so we learne to detest all sinne.

32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him from whom goeth an issue of seede whereby he is defiled.

33 Also of her that is sicke of her floures, and of him that hath a running issue, whether it be man or woman, and of him that lieth with her which is uncleane.

a The hie Priest entred into the Holiest of all, but once a yeare even in the moneth of September.

3 After this sort shall Aaron come into the Holy place: even with a young bullocke for a sinne-offering, and a ramme for a burnt-offering.

4 He shall put on the holy linnen coat, and shall have linnen bretches upon his ‖ flesh, and shall be girded with a linnen girdle, and shall cover his head with a linnen miter, these are the holy garments: therefore shall he wash his flesh in water, when he doth put them on.

‖ Or, privities.

5 And he shall take of the Congregation of the children of Israel, two hee-goates for a sinne-offring, and a ramme for a burnt-offring.

6 Then Aaron shall offer the bullocke for his sinne-offring, * and make an atonement for himselfe, and for his house.

* Hebr.9.7.

7 And hee shall take the two hee-goates, and present them before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 Then Aaron shall cast lots over the two hee-goats: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the b Scape-goate.

b In Ebrew it is called Azazel, which some say, is a mountaine neare Sinai, whither this goat was sent, but rather it is called the Scape-goate, becaufe it was not offred, but sent into the defert, as verse 22.

9 And Aaron shall offer the goat, upon which the Lords lot shall fall, and make him a sin-offring.

10 But the goat, on which the lot shall fall to be the Scape-goate, shallbe presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, and to let him goe (as a Scape-goate) into the wilderneſſe.

11 Thus Aaron shall offer the bullocke for his sinne-offring, and make a reconciliation for himselfe, and for his house, and shall kill the bullocke for his sinne-offring.

12 And hee shall take a censer full of burning coles from off the altar before the Lord, and his hand full of sweet incense beaten small, and bring it with in the c vaile, c The Holiest of all.

13 And shall put the incense upon the fire before the Lord, that the ‖ cloud of the incense may cover the Mercie-seat that is upon ‖ the Testimonie: so he shall not die.

‖ Or, the smoke.
‖ Or, the Arke.

14 And hee shall * take of the blood of the bullocke, * and sprinkle it with his finger upon the Mercie-seat d Eastward: and before the Mercie-seat shall hee sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

* Hebr.9.13. and 10,4.
* Chap.1.6.
d That is, on the side which was toward the people: for the head of the Sanctuary stood Westward.

15 ¶ Then shall he kill the goate that is the peoples sinne-offring, and bring his blood within the vaile and doe with that blood, as he did with the blood of the bullocke, and sprinkle it upon the Mercie-seat, and before the Mercie-seat.

16 So he shall purge the Holy place from the uncleannes of the children of Israel, and from their trespasses of all their sinnes: so shall he doe also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation e placed with them, in the middest of their uncleanneſſe.

e Placed among them which are uncleane.

17 * And there shall be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the Holy place, untill hee come out, and have made an atonement for himselfe, and for his household, and for all the Congregation of Israel.

* Luke 1,10.

18 After, he shall goe out unto the f altar that is before the Lord, and make a reconciliation upon it, and shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the hornes of the Altar round about.

f Whereupon the sweete incense and parfume was offered.

19 So shall hee sprinkle of the blood upon it within his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanneſſe of the children of Israel.

20 ¶ When he hath made an end of purging the Holy place, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the Altar, then he shall bring the live goat:

21 And Aaron shall put both his hands upon the head of the live goate, and confesse over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their trespasses in all their sinnes, putting them g upon the head of the goate, and shall send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wilderneſſe, g Herein this goat is a true figure of Iesus Christ, who beareth the sinnes of the people, Iesa. 53.9.

22 So the goat shall beare upon him all their iniquities into † the land that is not inhabited, and he shall let the goat goe into the wildernes.

† Ebr. the land of separations.

23 After, Aaron shall come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and put off the linnen cloathes, which he put on when he went into the Holy place, and leave them there.

24 He shall wash also his flesh with water in h the holy place, and put on his owne raiment, and come out, and make his burnt offering and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himselfe, and for the people.

h To the court where was the Laver, Exod.30.18.

25 Also the fat of the sinne offering shall hee burne upon the altar, 26 And he that caried foorth the goate called the Scape-goate, shall wash his cloathes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shall come into the hoast.

27 Also the bullocke for the burnt offring, and the goate for the sinne offring (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliation in the Holy place) shall one * cary out without the hoaste to be burnt in the fire, with their skinnes, and with their flesh, and with their doung.

* Chap.6.30. hebr.15.22.

28 And he that burneth them shall wash his cloathes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterward come into the hoast.

29 ¶ So this shallbe an ordinance for ever unto you: the tenth day of the i seventh moneth, yee shall k humble your soules, and doe no worke at all, whether it be one of the same countrey, or a stranger that soiourneth among you.

i Which was Tisri, and answereth to part of September, and part of October.

* Chap.23.7.

31 This shallbe a l Sabbath of rest unto you, and you shall humble your soules by an ordinance for ever.

l Or a rest which ye shall keepe most diligently.

32 And the Priest m whom hee shall anoynt, and whom he shall consecrate (to minister in his fathers stead) shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linnen cloathes and holy vestments, m Whom the Priest shall anoint by Gods commandement to succeed in his fathers roome.

33 And shall purge the holy Sanctuary and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and shall cleanse the altar, and make an atonement for the Priests and for all the people of the Congregation.

34 And this shallbe an everlasting ordinance unto you to make an atonement for the children of Israel for all their sinnes * once a yeere: and as the Lord commanded Moses, he did.

4 All sacrifices must be brought to the doore of the Tabernacle.
7 To devils they may not offer. 10 They may not eat blood.

A Nd the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto Aaron, and to his sonnes, and to all the children of Israel, and say unto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath a commanded, saying, a Least they should practise that idolatry, which they had learned among the Egyptians.

3 Whosoever he be of the house of Israel that killeth a bullocke, or lambe, or goate in the hoast, or that killeth it out of the hoast,

4 And

4 And bringeth it not unto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer an offring unto the Lord before the Tabernacle of the Lord, c blood shallbe imputed unto that man: he hath shed blood, wherefore that man shall be cut off from among his people.

c I do as much abhorre it as though he had killed a man, as Isa.66.3.

5 Therefore the children of Israel shall bring their offrings, which they would offer d abroad in the field, and present them unto the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation by the Priest, and offer them for peace-offerings unto the Lord.

d Whersoever they were mooved with foolish devotion to offer it.

6 Then the Priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the Altar of the Lord before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and burne the fat for a * sweet savour unto the Lord.

* Exod. 29.18. chap.4.31. e Meaning, whatsoever is not the true God. 1.Cor. 10.20. psal.95.5. f For idolatry is spirituall whoredome, because faith toward God is broken.

7 And they shall no more offer their offrings unto e devils, after whom they have gone a f whoring: this shallbe an ordinance for ever unto them in their generations.

8 ¶ Also thou shalt say unto them, Whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourne among them, that offereth a burnt-offering or sacrifice, 9 And bringeth it not unto the doore of the Tabernacle of ȳ Congregation to offer it unto the Lord, even that man shalbe cut off from his people.

10 ¶ Likewise whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, that eateth any blood, I will even set g my face against that person that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

g I will declare my wrath by taking vengeance on him, as chap. 20,3.

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it unto you to offer upon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for this blood shall make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, None of you shall eate blood: neither the stranger that sojourneth among you, shall eate blood.

13 Moreover whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, which by hunting taketh any beast or foule that may be h eaten, he shall powre out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust:

h Which the law permitteth to be eaten, because it is cleane.

14 For the life of all flesh is his blood, it is joyned with his life: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, * Yee shall eate the blood of no ‖ flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it, shall be cut off.

* Gen.9.4. ‖ Or, living creature.

15 And every person that eateth it which dieth alone, or that which is torne with beastes, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger, he shall both wash his cloathes, and wash himselfe in water, and be uncleane unto the even: after he shalbe ‖ cleane.

‖ Or, counted cleane.

16 But if he wash them not, nor wash his ‖ flesh, then he shall beare ‖ his iniquitie.

‖ Or, himselfe. ‖ Or, the punishments of his sinne.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Israelites ought not to follow the manners of the Egyptians and Canaanites. 6 The marriages that are unlawfull.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, I am the Lord your God.

3 After the a doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not doe: and after the manner of the land of Canaan, whither I will bring you, shall ye not doe, neither walke in their ordinances.

a Ye shall preserve your selves from these abominations following, which the Egyptians and Canaanites use.

4 But doe after my judgements, and keepe mine ordinances, to walke therein: I am the Lord your God.

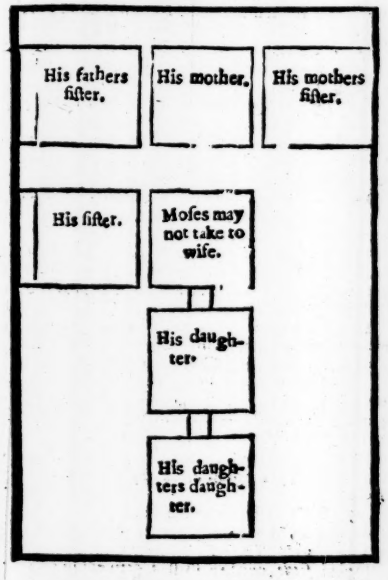
5 Ye shall keepe therefore my statutes, and my judgements, * which if a man doe, he shall then live in them: b I am the Lord.

* Ezek.20.11. rom.10.5. gal.3.12. b And therefore ye ought to serve me alone, as my people.

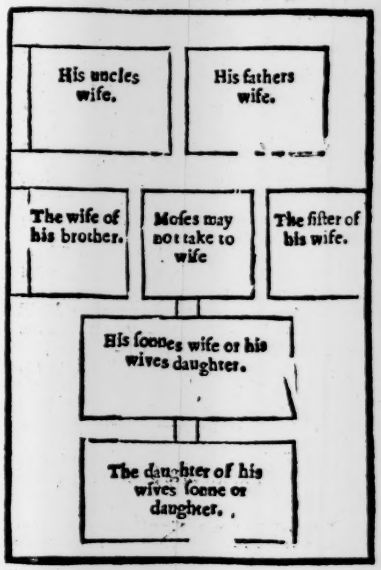
6 ¶ None shall come neare to any of the kinred of his flesh to c uncover her shame: I am the Lord.

c That is, to lie with her, though it be under title of marriage.

Consanguinitie hindring marriage.



Affinitie hindring marriage.



As Moses cannot contract matrimonie with the women that are so of kinne to him as is above specified, so also cannot mary his sister marie with the men that are in like degree. Note also, that besides the persons here specified, there are also meant those that ascend or descend of the same line, be it of blood or kinred, 7 Thou shalt not uncover the shame of thy father, nor the shame of thy mother, for she is thy mother, thou shalt not discover her shame.

8 * The shame of thy fathers [d] wife shalt thou not discover: for it is thy fathers shame.

9 Thou shalt not discover the shame of thy [e] sister, the daughter of thy father, or the daughter of thy mother, whether she be borne at home or borne without: thou shalt not discover their shame.

10 The shame of thy sonnes daughter, or of thy daughters daughter, thou shalt not, I say, uncover their shame: for it is thy [f] shame.

11 The shame of thy fathers wives daughter, begotten of thy father (for she is thy sister) thou shalt not, I say, discover her shame.

12 * Thou shalt not uncover the ‖ shame of thy fathers sister: for she is thy fathers kinswoman.

13 Thou shalt not discover the shame of thy mothers sister: for shee is thy mothers kinswoman.

14 Thou shalt not uncover the shame of thy [g] fathers brother: that is, thou shalt not goe in to his wife, for she is thine † aunt.

15 * Thou shalt not discover the shame of thy daughter in law: for she is thy sonnes wife: therefore thou shalt not uncover her shame.

16 * Thou shalt not discover the shame of thy [h] brothers wife: for it is thy brothers shame.

17 Thou shalt not discover the shame of thy wife and of her daughter, neither shalt thou take her sonnes daughter, nor her daughters daughter, to uncover her shame: for they are thy kinsfolks, and it were wickednesse.

18 Also thou shalt not take a wife with her sister, during her life to [i] vexe her, in uncovering her shame upon her.

19 * Thou shalt not also goe unto a woman to uncover her shame, as long as she is put [k] apart for her disease.

20 Moreover, thou shalt not give thy selfe to thy neighbours wife by carnall copulation, to be defiled with her.

21 * Also thou shalt not give thy † children to ‖ offer them unto [l] Molech, neither shalt thou defile the Name of thy God: for I am the Lord.

22 Thou shalt not lie with the male as one lieth with a woman: for it is abomination.

23 * Thou shalt not also lie with any beast to be defiled therewith, neither shall any woman stand before a beast, to lie downe thereto: for it is ‖ abomination.

24 Ye shall not defile your selves in any of these things: for in all these the Nations are defiled which I will cast out before you:

25 And the land is defiled: therefore I will [m] visite the wickednesse thereof upon it, and the land [n] shall vomit out her inhabitants.

26 Ye shall keepe therefore mine ordinances, and my judgements, and commit none of these abominations, as well hee that is of the same countrey, as the stranger that soiourneth among you.

27 (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled:

28 And shall not the land spue you out if yee defile it, as it [o] spued out the people that were before you?)

29 For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, the persons that do so, shall [p] be cut off from among their people.

30 Therefore shall ye keepe mine ordinances, that ye doe not any of the abominable customes, which have bene done before you, and that ye defile not your selves therein: for I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XIX.

A repetition of sundry Lawes and Ordinances.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto all the Congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, * Ye shall be [a] holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.

3 ¶ Ye shall feare every man his mother and his father, and shall keepe my Sabbath: for I am the Lord your God.

4 ¶ Ye shall not turne unto idoles, nor make your molten gods: I am the Lord your God.

5 ¶ And when ye shall offer a peace-offering unto the Lord, ye shall offer it [b] freely.

6 * It shall be eaten the day ye offer it, or on the morrow: and that which remaineth untill the third day, shallbe burnt in the fire.

7 For if it be eaten the third day, it shall be uncleane, it shall not be [c] accepted.

8 Therefore he that eateth it, shall beare his iniquitie, because hee hath defiled the hallowed thing of the Lord, and that person shallbe cut off from his people.

9 ¶ * When yee reape the harvest of your land, ye shall not reape every corner of your field, neither shalt thou gather the ‖ gleanings of thy harvest.

10 Thou shalt not gather the grapes of thy vineyard cleane, neither gather every grape of thy vineyard, but thou shalt leave them for the poore and for the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

11 ¶ Ye shall not steale, neither [d] deale falsely, neither lie one to another.

12 ¶ * Also ye shall not sweare by my Name falsely, neither shalt thou defile the Name of thy God: I am the Lord.

13 ¶ Thou shalt not do thy neighbour ‖ wrong, neither rob him. * The workemans hire shall not abide with thee untill the morning.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not curse the deafe, * neither put a stumbling block before the blind, but shalt feare thy God: I am the Lord.

15 ¶ Ye shall not doe unjustly in judgement: * Thou shalt not favour the person of the poore, nor honour the person of the mightie, but thou shalt judge thy neighbour justly.

16 ¶ Thou shalt not [e] walke about with tales among thy people. Thou shalt not [f] stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart, but thou shalt plainely rebuke thy neighbour, † and suffer him not to sinne.

18 ¶ Thou shalt not avenge, nor be mindfull of wrong against the children of thy people. * but thalt love thy neighbour as thy selfe: I am the Lord.

19 ¶ Ye shall keepe mine ordinances. Thou shalt not let thy cattell gender with [g] others of divers kindes. Thou shalt not sowe thy field with mingled seede, neither shall a garment of divers things, 11 But if the Priest buy any with money, hee shall eat of it, also he that is borne in his house: they shall eat of his meat.

12 If the Priests daughter also be maried unto a f stranger, she may not eat of the holy offerings.

f Who is not of the Priests kinred.

13 Notwithstanding if the Priests daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no childe, but is returned unto her fathers house, she shall eat of her fathers bread, as shee did in her * youth: but there shall no stranger eat thereof.

* Chap. 10, 14.

14 ¶ If a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, he shall put the g fift part thereunto, and give it unto the Priest with the hallowed thing.

g He shall give that and a fifth part over.

15 So shall they not defile the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord, 16 Neither cause the people to beare the iniquitie of their h trespasse, while they eate their holy thing: for I the Lord doe hallow them.

h For if they did not offer for their errour, the people by their example might commit the like offence.

17 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

18 Speake unto Aaron, and to his sonne, and to all the children of Israel, and say unto them, Whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers in Israel, that will offer his sacrifice for all their vowes, and for all their free offerings, which they use to offer unto the Lord for a burnt-offering, 19 Ye shall offer of your free minde a male without blemish of the beeves, of the sheepe, or of the goats.

20 Ye shall not offer any thing that hath a blemish: for that shall not be acceptable for you.

21 * And whosoever bringeth a peace-offring unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or for a free offring of the beeves, or of the sheep, his free offring shalbe perfect, no blemish shalbe in it.

* Deut. 15. 21. Eccl. 35. 12.

22 Blinde, or broken, or maimed, or having a ‖ wenne, or skirvie, or skabbed: these shall ye not offer unto the Lord, nor make an offring by fire of these upon the Altar of the Lord.

‖ Or, wart.

23 Yet a bullocke, or a sheepe that hath any * member superfluous, or lacking, such mayst thou present for a free offering, but for a vow it shall not be accepted.

* Chap. 21, 18.

24 Ye shall not offer unto the Lord that which is bruised or crushed, or broken, or cut away, neither shall ye make an offring thereof in your land,

25 Neither i of the hand of a stranger shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these, because their corruption is in them, there is a blemish in them: therefore shall they not be accepted for you.

i Ye shall not receive any unperfect thing of a stranger, to make it the Lords offring: which hee calleth the bread of the Lord.

26 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

27 When a bullocke, or a sheepe, or a goate shalbe brought forth, it shalbe even seven dayes under his damme: and from the eight day forth it shalbe accepted for a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.

28 As for the cow or the ewe, ye shall not * kill her, and her yong both in one day. * Deut. 22. 6.

29 So when ye will offer a thanke offring unto the Lord, ye shall offer willingly.

30 The same day shall it be eaten, ye shall leave * none of it to the morrow: I am the Lord. * Chap. 7. 15.

31 Therefore shall yee keepe my Commandements and doe them: for I am the Lord, 32 Neither shall ye k pollute my holy Name, but I will be hallowed among the children of Israel, I the Lord sanctifie you. k For whosoever doth otherwise then God commandeth, polluted his Name.

2 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, The feasts of the Lord which yee shall call the holy ‖ assemblies, even these are my feasts. ‖ Or, convocations.

3 * Sixe dayes ‖ shall worke be done, but in the seventh day shall be the Sabbath of rest, an holy ‖ convocation: ye shall doe no worke therein, it is the Sabbath of the Lord, in all your dwellings. * Exod. 20. 9. 10. ‖ Or, ye may worke. ‖ Or, assembly.

4 ¶ These are the feasts of the Lord, and holy convocations, which ye shall proclaime in their a seasons. a For the Sabbath was kept every weeke, and these other were kept but once every yeere.

5 In the first moneth and in the fourteenth day of the moneth at evening shallbe the Passeover of the Lord.

6 And on the fifteenth day of this moneth shallbe the feast * of unleavened bread unto the Lord, seven dayes yee shall eate unleavened bread. * Exod. 12. 15. Num. 28. 17.

7 In the first day yee shall have an holy convocation: ye shall doe no b servile worke therein. b Or bodily labour: save about that which one must eate, Exod. 22. 16.

8 Also ye shall offer sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord seven dayes, and in the c seventh day shallbe an holy convocation: ye shall doe no servile worke therein. c The first day of the feast and the seventh were kept holy: in the rest they might worke, except any feast were intermedled, as the feast of unleavened bread,

9 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

10 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and reape the harvest thereof, then yee shall bring ‖ a sheafe of the first fruits of your harvest unto the Priest, 11 And hee shall shake the sheafe before the Lord, that it may be acceptable for you: the morrow after the d Sabbath, the Priest shall shake it.

12 And that day when yee shake the sheafe, shall yee prepare a lambe without blemish of a yeere olde, for a burnt-offering unto the Lord:

13 And the meate-offering thereof shallbe two * tenth deales of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord of sweet favour: and the drinke-offering thereof the fourth part f of an hin of wine.

14 And ye shall eate neither bread nor parched corne, nor ‖ greene eares untill the selfe same day that ye have brought an offring unto your God: this shallbe a Law for ever in your generations and in all your dwellings.

15 ¶ Ye shall count also to you from the morrow after the g Sabbath, even from the day that ye shall bring the sheafe of the shake offering, seven ‖ Sabbaths, they shallbe complete.

17 Yee shall bring out of your habitations bread for the shake offering: they shall be two loaves of two tenth deales of fine floure, which shall be baken with [h] leaven for first fruits unto the Lord.

18 Also yee shall offer with the bread seven lambes without blemish of one yeere old, and a yong bullocke and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the Lord, with their meat offerings and their drinke offerings, for a sacrifice made by fire of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

19 Then yee shall prepare an hee goat for a sinne offering, and two lambes of one yeere old for peace offerings.

20 And the Priest shall shake them to and fro with the bread of the first fruits before the Lord, and with the two lambes: they shalbe holy to the Lord, for the [i] Priest.

21 So ye shall proclaime the same day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you: ye shall doe no servile worke therein: it shall be an ordinance for ever in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

22 * And when you reape the harvest of your land, thou shalt not rid cleane the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou make any after-gathering of thy harvest, but thalt leave them unto the poore and to the stranger, I am the Lord your God.

23 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

24 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say, In the [k] seventh moneth, and in the first day of the moneth shall yee [l] have a Sabbath, for the remembrance of [m] blowing the trumpets, an holy convocation.

25 Ye shall doe no servile worke therein, but offer sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.

26 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

27 The * tenth also of this seventh moneth shalbe a day of reconciliation: it shalbe an holy convocation unto you, and ye shall [n] humble your soules, and offer sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.

28 And ye shall doe no worke that same day: for it is a day of reconciliation, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God.

29 For every person that humbleth not himselfe that same day, shall even be cut off from his people.

30 And every person that shall doe any worke that same day, the same person also will I destroy from among his people.

31 Ye shall doe no maner worke therefore: this shall be a law for ever in your generations, throughout all your dwellings.

32 This shall be unto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shall humble your soules: in the ninth day of the moneth at even, from [o] even to even shall ye † celebrate your Sabbath.

33 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

34 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say, * In the fifteenth day of this seventh moneth, shall be for seven dayes the feast of Tabernacles unto the Lord.

35 In the first day shal be an holy convocation: ye shall doe no servile worke therein.

36 Seven dayes ye shall offer * sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, and in the eight day shallbe an holy convocation unto you, and ye shall offer sacrifices made by fire unto the Lord: it is the [p] solemne assembly, ye shall doe no servile worke therein.

37 These are the feastes of the Lord (which ye shall call holy convocations) to offer sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, as burnt offering, and meate offering, [q] sacrifice, and drinke offerings, every one upon his day.

38 Beside the Sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vowes, and beside all your free offrings, which ye shall give unto the Lord.

39 But in the fifteenth day of the seventh moneth, when yee have gathered in the fruite of the land, yee shall keepe an holy feast unto the Lord seven dayes: in the first day shall be a [r] Sabbath: likewise in the eight day shall be a Sabbath.

40 And yee shall take you in the first day the fruit of goodly trees, branches of palme trees, and the boughes of [s] thicke trees, and willowes of the brooke, and shall reioyce before the Lord your God seven dayes.

41 So yee shall keepe this feast unto the Lord seven dayes in the yeere, by a perpetuall ordinance through your generations: in the seventh moneth shall you keepe it.

42 Yee shall dwell in boothes seven dayes: all that are Israelites borne, shall dwell in boothes, 43 That your posterity may know that I have made the children of Israel to dwell in [t] boothes, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

44 So Moses declared unto the children of Israel the feastes of the Lord.

8 Every Sabbath he shall put them in rowes before the Lord evermore, receiving them of the children of Israel for an everlasting Covenant.

9 * And the bread shalbe Aarons and his sons, and they shall eate it in the holy place: for it is most holy unto him of the offerings of the Lord made by fire by a perpetuall ordinance.

2 The Sabbath of the ſeuenth yeere. 8 The Iubile in the fiftieth yeere. 14 Not to oppreſſe their brethren. 28 The ſale and redeeming of landes, houſes and perſons.

AND the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes in mount Sinai, ſaying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, and ſay vnto them, When yee ſhall come into the land which I giue you, the * land ſhall ‖ keepe Sabbath vnto the Lord.

3 a Sixe yeeres thou ſhalt ſowe thy field, and ſixe yeeres thou ſhalt cut thy vineyard, and gather the fruit thereof.

7 And for thy cattell, and for the beaſts that are in thy land, ſhall all the increaſe thereof be meate.

8 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt number ſeuen ‖ Sabbaths of yeeres vnto thee, euen ſeuen times ſeuen yeere: and the ſpace of the ſeuen Sabbaths of yeeres will be vnto thee nine and fourty yeere.

11 This fiftieth yeere ſhall be a yeere of Iubile vnto you: yee ſhall not ſowe, neither reape that which groweth of it ſelfe, neither gather the grapes thereof that are left vnlaboured.

12 For it is the Iubile, it ſhall be holy vnto you: yee ſhall eate of the increaſe thereof out of the field.

17 Oppreſſe not yee therefore any man his neighbour, but thou ſhalt feare thy God: for I am the Lord your God.

18 ¶ Wherefore yee ſhall obey mine ordinances, and keepe my lawes, and doe them, and yee ſhall dwell in the land ‖ in ſafetie.

19 And the land ſhall giue her fruit, and yee ſhall eate your fill and dwell therein in ſafetie.

20 And if ye ſhall ſay, What ſhall we eate the ſeuenth yeere, for we ſhall not ſowe, nor gather in our increaſe?

4 I will then send you a raine in due season, and the land shall yeeld her increase, and the trees of the field shall give their fruit.

a By promising abundance of earthly things, he stirreth the minde to consider the rich treasures of the spirituall blessings.

5 And your threshing shall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto sowing time, and you shall eate your bread in plenteousnesse, and dwell in your land safely.

6 And I will send peace in the land, and yee shall sleepe, and none * shall make you afraid: also I ‖ will rid evill beasts out of the land, and the b sword shall not go thorow your land.

* 2.Sam.22.37. Pſal 3.16.

25 And I will ſend a ſword upon you, that ſhall avenge the quarrell of my Covenant: and when ye are gathered in your cities, I will ſend the peſtilence among you, and ye ſhall be delivered into the hand of the enemie.

31 And I will make your cities deſolate, and bring your Sanctuarie unto nought, and p will not ſmell the ſavour of your ſweet odours.

p I will not accept your ſacrifices,

32 I will alſo bring the land into a wilderneſſe, and your enemies which dwell therein, ſhall be aſtoniſhed thereat.

33 Alſo I will ſcatter you among the heathen, and q will draw out a ſword after you, and your land ſhal be waſte, and your cities ſhalbe deſolate.

35 All the dayes that it lieth voide, it ſhall reſt, becauſe it did not reſt in your r Sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.

36 And upon them that are left of you, I will ſend even a ‖ faintneſſe into their hearts in the land of your enemies, and the ſounde of a leafe ſhaken ſhall chaſe them, and they ſhall ſflee as fleeing from a ſword, and they ſhall fall, no man purſuing them.

‖ Or, cowardneſſe.

s As if their enemies did chaſe them.

37 They ſhall fall alſo one upon another, as before a ſword, though none purſue them, and ye ſhall not be able to ſtand before your enemies:

38 And ye ſhall periſh among the heathen, and the land of your enemies ſhall eate you up.

39 And they that are left of you, ſhall pine away for their iniquity, in your enemies lands, and for the iniquities of their fathers ſhall they pine away with t them alſo.

t Foraſmuch as they are culpable of their fathers faults, they ſhalbe puniſhed as well as their fathers.

40 Then they confeſſe their iniquity, and the wickednes of their fathers for their treſpaſſe, which they have treſpaſſed againſt me, & alſo becauſe they have walked ſtubburnely againſt me.

41 Therefore I will walke ſtubburnly againſt them, and bring them into the land of their enemies: ſo then their uncircumciſed hearts ſhalbe humbled, and then they ſhall ‖ willingly beare the puniſhment of their iniquitie.

‖ Or, pray for their ſinne.

42 Then I will remember my Covenant with Iaakob, and my Covenant alſo with Izhak, and alſo my Covenant with Abraham will I remember, and remember the land.

43 u The land alſo in the meane ſeaſon ſhall be left of them, and ſhall enioy her Sabbaths while ſhe lieth waſte without them, but they ſhall willingly ſuffer the puniſhment of their iniquity, becauſe they deſpited my Lawes, and becauſe their ſoule abhorred mine ordinances.

u Whiles they are captives, and without repentance.

44 Yet notwithſtanding this, when they ſhall be in the land of their enemies, * I will not caſt them away, neither will I abhorre them, to deſtroy them utterly, nor to breake my Covenant with them: for I am the Lord their God:

* Deut.4.31. Rom.11.28.

CHAP. XXVII.

a Of divers vowes, and the redemption of the ſame. 28 A thing ſeparate from the uſe of man, cannot be ſold nor redeemed, but remaineth to the Lord.

MOreover, the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, If any man ſhall make a vow of a a perſon unto the Lord, by b thy eſtimation.

a As of his ſonne or his daughter.

b Which are the Prieſt.

3 Then thy eſtimation ſhall be this: a male from twenty yeare old unto ſixtie yeare olde ſhall be by thy eſtimation even fifty c ſhekels of ſilver, after the ſhekel of the Sanctuary.

c Read the value of the Shekel, Exod.30.13.

4 But if it be female, then thy valuation ſhall be thirty ſhekels.

5 And from five yeare olde to twentie yeare olde, thy valuation ſhall be for the male twenty ſhekels, and for the female ten ſhekels.

6 But from a d moneth olde unto five yeare olde, thy price of the male ſhall be five ſhekels of ſilver, and thy price of the female, three ſhekels of ſilver.

d He ſpeaketh of thoſe vowes whereby the fathers dedicated their children to God which were not of ſuch force, but they might be redeemed from them.

7 And from ſixtie yeare old and above, if he be a male, then thy price ſhall be fifteen ſhekels, and for the female ten ſhekels.

8 But

8 But if he be poorer e then thou haſt eſteemed him, then ſhall he preſent himſelfe before the Prieſt, and the Prieſt ſhall value him, according to the abilitie of him that vowed, ſo ſhall the Prieſt value him.

9 And if it be a f beaſt, whereof men bring an offering vnto the Lord, all that one giveth of ſuch vnto the Lord, ſhalbe holy.

10 He ſhall not alter it nor change it, a good for a bad, nor a bad for a good: and if he change beaſt for beaſt, then both this and that, which was charged for it, ſhalbe g holy.

11 And if it be any vncleane beaſt, of which men doe not offer a ſacrifice vnto the Lord, hee ſhall then preſent the beaſt before the Prieſt.

12 And the Prieſt ſhall value it, whether it be good or bad: and as thou valueſt it, which art the Prieſt, ſo ſhall it be.

13 But if he will buy it againe, then he ſhall giue the fifth part of it more aboue thy valuation.

14 ¶ Alſo when a man ſhall dedicate his houſe to be holy vnto the Lord, then the Prieſt ſhall value it, whether it be good or bad and as the Prieſt ſhall prize it, † ſo ſhall the value be.

15 But if he that ſanctified it, will redeeme his houſe, then he ſhall give thereto the fifth part of money more then thy eſtimation, and it ſhalbe his.

16 If alſo a man dedicate to the Lord any ground of his inheritance, then ſhalt thou eſteeme it according to the h ſeed thereof, an i Homer of barley-ſeed ſhallbe at fiftie ſhekels of ſilver.

17 If he dedicate his field immediatly from the yeare of Iubile, it ſhall be worth as thou doeſt eſteeme it.

18 But if he dedicate his field after the Iubile, then the Prieſt ſhall recken him the money according to the years that remaine vnto the yeare of Iubile, and it ſhalbe abated by thy eſtimation.

19 And if he that dedicateth it, will redeeme the field, then he ſhall put the fifth part of the price, that thou eſteemedſt it at, therevnto, and it ſhall remain his.

20 And if he will not redeeme the field, but the Prieſt k ſell the field to another man, it ſhalbe reſteemed no more.

21 But the field ſhalbe holy to the Lord, when it goeth out in the Iubile, as a field l ſeparate from common vſes: the poſſeſſion thereof ſhalbe the Prieſts.

22 If a man alſo dedicate vnto the Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the ground of his inheritance, 23 Then the Prieſt ſhall ſet the price to him, as * thou eſteemeſt it, vnto the yeare of Iubile, and he ſhall give m thy price the ſame day, as a thing holy vnto the Lord.

24 But in the yeare of Iubile, the field ſhall returne vnto him, of whom it was bought: to him I ſay, whoſe inheritance the land was.

25 And all the valuation ſhall be according to the ſhekel of * the Sanctuarie: a ſhekel conteineth twenty gerans.

26 * Notwithſtanding the firſt-borne of the beaſts, becauſe it is the Lords firſt-borne, none ſhall dedicate ſuch, be it bullock, or ſheep. For it is the n Lords.

27 But if it be an vncleane beaſt, then he ſhall redeeme it by thy valuation, and giue the fifth part more thereto: and it it be not redeemed, then it ſhall be ſold, according to thy eſtimation.

28 * Notwithſtanding, nothing ſeparate from the common vſe that a man doth ſeparate vnto the Lord of all that he hath (whether it be man or beaſt, or land of his inheritance) may be ſold nor redeemed: for every thing ſeparate from the common vſe is moſt holy vnto the Lord.

29 Nothing ſeparate from the common vſe, which ſhall be ſeparate from man, ſhall be redeemed, but o die the death.

30 Alſo all the tythe of the land both of the ſeed of the ground, and of the fruit of the trees is the Lords: it is holy to the Lord.

31 But if a man will redeeme any of his tithe, he ſhall adde the p fifth part thereto.

32 And every tithe of bullocke, and of ſheep and of all that goeth vnder the q rod, the tenth ſhall be holy vnto the Lord.

33 He ſhall not looke if it be good or bad, neither ſhall he change it: elſe if he change it, both it, and that it was changed withall, ſhall be holy, and it ſhall not be redeemed.

34 Theſe are the Commandements which the Lord commanded by Moſes vnto the children of Iſrael in Mount Sinai.

THE ARGVMENT.

FOraſmuch as God hath appointed that his Church in this world ſhall be vnder the croſſe, both becauſe they ſhould learne not to put their truſt in worldly things: and alſo feele his comfort when all other helpe faileth: he did not ſtraight way bring his people after their departure out of Egypt into the land which he had promiſed them: but ledde them to and fro for the ſpace of fourtie years: and kept them in contanuall exerciſes before they enjoyed it, trie their faith, and to teach them to forget the world: and to depend on him. Which triall did greatly profit to diſcerne the wicked and the hypocrites, from the faithfull and true ſeruants of God, who ſerued him with pure heart whereas the other, preferring their carnall affections to Gods glory, and making Religion to ſerue their purpoſe, murmured when they lacked to content their luſts, and diſpiſed them whom God had appointed rulers ouer them. By reaſon whereof they prouoked Gods terrible iudgements againſt them, and are ſet forth as a moſt notable example for all ages to beware how they abuſe Gods word: preferre their own luſts to his will, or deſpiſe his miniſters. Notwithſtanding, God is euer true in his promiſe, and gouerneth his by his holy Spirit, that either they fall not to ſuch inconueniences, or elſe returne to him quickely by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, hee giueth them ordinances and inſtructions, as well for Religion, as outward policie: he preſerueth them againſt all all craft and conſpiracie, and giveth them manifold victories againſt their enemies. And to aveyde all controverſies that might ariſe, he taketh avvay the occaſions, by dividing among all the tribes, both the land vvhich they had vvonne, and that alſo vvhich he had promiſed, as ſeemed beſt to his godly vviſedome.

CHAP. I.

a Moſes and Aaron with the twelve princes of the tribes are commanded of the Lord to number them that are able to go to warre. 49 The Levites are exempted for the ſervice of the Lord.

THe Lord ſpake againe unto Moſes in the wildernes of a Sinai, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, in the firſt day of the b ſecond moneth, in the ſecond yeare after they were come out of the land of Egypt, ſaying, 3 From twentie yeare old and above, all that goe forth to the warre in Iſrael: thou and Aaron ſhall number them throughout their armies.

4 And with you ſhallbe c men of every tribe, ſuch as are the heads of the houſe of their fathers.

C D The North side, which was in all points like. B C The West end, which was of fiftie cubites wide. In this space there were tenne pillars of equall height with the rest, whereunto the curtaines were fastened, to close the Courtin on that side. A D The East end, which was also of fiftie cubites breadth, so that the whole court was in length twise the breadth. The comming in was at the East end, right as it there hanged a wrought hanging of twentie cubits long, fastened up to foure pillars. E At the sides of the hanging there were curtaines of fifteene cubits in length, which were fastened on this side of the hanging, to three pillars, and on the other side to as many as the Figure sheweth.

39 The number of them also of the tribe of Dan was threescore and two thousand, and seven hundreth.

43 The number of them also of the tribe of Naphtali was three and fiftie thousand, and foure hundreth.

44 These are the ‖ summes which Moses, and Aaron numbred, and the Princes of Israel, the twelve men which were every one for the house of their fathers.

‖ Or, full sums.

45 So this was all the summe of the sonnes of Israel, by the houses of their fathers, from twenty yeare old and above, all that went to the warre in Israel.

47 But the Levites, after the tribes of their fathers were not numbred among g them.

g Which were warriours, but were appointed to the use of the Tabernacle.

48 For the Lord had spoken unto Moses, and said,

49 Onely thou shalt not number the tribe of Levi, neither take the summe of them among the children of Israel

50 But thou shalt appoint the Levites over the Tabernacle of the Testimony, and over all the instruments thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall beare the Tabernacle, and all the instruments thereof, and shall minister in it, and shall † dwell round about the Tabernacle.

† Heb. campe.

51 And when the Tabernacle goeth foorth, the Levites shall take it downe: and when the Tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up: for the h stranger that commeth neare, shall be slaine.

h Whosoever is not of the tribe of Levi.

52 Also the children of Israel shall pitch their tents every man in his campe, and every man under his standerd throughout their armies.

53 But the Levites shall pitch round about the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, least vengeance i come upon the Congregation of the children of Israel, and the Levites shall take the charge of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.

i By not having due regard to the Tabernacle of the Lord.

54 So the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses: so did they.

CHAP. II.

a The order of the tents, and the names of the Captaines of the Israelites.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

2 a Every man of the children of Israel shall campe by his standerd, and under the ensigne of their fathers house: farre off, about the Tabernacle of the Congregation shall they pitch.

a In the twelve tribes were foure principall standerds, so that every three tribes had their standerd.

3 On the East-side toward the rising of the sunne, shall they of the standerd of the hoaste of Iudah pitch according to their armies: and Nahshon the sonne of Amminadab shall be ‖ captaine of the sonnes of Iudah.

‖ Or, prince.

4 And his hoast and the number of them were seventie and foure thousand and sixe hundreth.

5 Next unto him shall they of the tribe b of Issachar pitch, and Nethaneel the sonne of Zuar shall be the captaine of the sonnes of Issachar:

b Iudah, Issachar, and Zebulun the sonnes of Leah were of the first standerd.

6 And his hoast and the number thereof were foure and fiftie thousand, and foure hundreth.

7 Then the tribe of Zebulun, and Eliab the sonne of Helon captaine over the sonnes of Zebulun:

8 And his hoaste and the number thereof seven and fiftie thousand and foure hundreth:

9 The whole number of the c hoaste of Iudah are an hundreth fourescore and sixe thousand, and foure hundreth according to their armies: they shall first set forth.

c Of them which were conteined under that name.

10 ¶ On the South side shall be the standerd of the the hoaste d of Reuben according to their armies: and the captaine over the sonnes of Reuben shallbe Elizur the sonne of Shedeur.

d Reuben and Simeon, the sonnes of Leah, and Gad the sonne of Zilpah her maide, were of the second standard.

11 And his hoaste and the number thereof, sixe and fourtie thousand and five hundreth.

12 And by him shall the tribe of Simeon pitch, and the captaine over the sonnes of Simeon shall be Shelumiel the sonne of Zurishaddai:

13 And his hoaste, and the number of them, nine and fiftie thousand and three hundreth.

14 And the tribe of Gad, and the captaine over the sonnes of Gad shallbe Eliasaph the sonne of ‖ Deuel:

‖ Or, Reuel.

15 And his hoaste and the number of them were five and fourtie thousand, sixe hundreth and fiftie.

16 All the number of the campe of Reuben were an hundreth and one and fiftie thousand, and foure hundreth and fiftie according to their armies, and they shall set foorth in the second place.

17 ¶ Then the Tabernacle of the Congregation shall goe with the hoaste of the Levites, in the e mids of the campe as they have pitched, so shall they goe forward, every man in his order, according to their standerds.

e Because it might be in equall distance from each one and all indifferently have recourse thereunto. f Because Ephraim and Manasseh supplied the place of Ioseph their father, they are taken to be Rahels children, so they and Beniamin make the third standerd.

18 ¶ The standerd of the campe of Ephraim shall be toward the West according to their armies: and the captaine over the sonnes of Ephraim shallbe Elishama the sonne of Ammihud:

19 And his hoaste and the number of them were fourtie thousand and five hundreth.

20 And by him shallbe the tribe of Manasseh and the captaine over the sonnes of Manasseh, shallbe Gamliel the sonne of Pedahzur:

21 And his hoast and the number of them were two and thirtie thousand and two hundreth.

22 And the tribe of Beniamin, and the captaine over the sonnes of Beniamin shallbe Abidan, the sonne of Gideoni:

23 And his hoaste, and the number of them were five and thirtie thousand and foure hundreth.

24 All the number of the campe of Ephraim were an hundreth and eight thousand and one hundred according to their armies, and they shall goe in the third place.

g Dan and Nephtali the sonnes of Bilha Rahels maid with Asher the sonne of Zilpah make the fourth standerd.

25 ¶ The standerd of the hoast of g Dan shallbe toward the North according to their armies: and the captaine over the children of Dan shallbe Ahiezer the sonne of Ammishaddai:

26 And his hoast and the number of them were two and threescore thousand and seven hundreth.

27 And by him shall the tribe of Asher pitch, and the captaine over the sonnes of Asher shallbe Pagiel the sonne of Ocran.

28 And his hoast and the number of them were one and fourtie thousand, and five hundreth.

29 ¶ Then the tribe of Naphtali, and the captaine over the children of Naphtali shallbe Ahira the sonne of Enan:

30 And his hoast and the number of them were three and fiftie thousand and foure hundreth.

31 All the number of the hoast of Dan was an hundreth and seven and fiftie thousand and sixe hundreth: they shall goe hindmost with their standerds.

h Which were of twentie yeeres and above.

32 ¶ These are the h summes of the children of Israel by the houses of their fathers, all the number of the hoaste, according to their armies, sixe hundreth and three thousand, five hundreth and fiftie.

33 But the Levites were not numbred among the children of Israel, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

34 And the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses: so they pitched according to their i standerds, and so they iourneyed every one with his families, according to the houses of their fathers.

i For vnder every one of the foure principall standerds were diuers signes to keepe every band.

12 Behold, I have even taken the Levites from among the children of Israel: for all the first borne that openeth the matrice among the children of Israel, and the Levites shallbe mine, g Any that would minister not being a Levite.

14 ¶ Moreover, the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderneſse of Sinai, saying, 15 Number the children of Levi after the houses of their fathers, in their families: every male from a moneth olde and aboue shalt thou number.

19 The sonnes also of Kohath by their families: Amram and Izehar, Hebron, and Vzziel.

20 And the sonnes of Merari by their families: Mahli and Mushi. These are the families of 21 Of Gerſhon came the family of the Libnites and the family of the Shimeites: theſe are the families of the Gerſhonites.

22 The ſumme whereof (h after the number of all the males from a moneth olde and above) was counted ſeven thouſand and five hundreth.

23 ¶ The families of the Gerſhonites ſhall pitch behinde the Tabernacle Weſtward.

24 The captaine and ‖ ancient of the houſe of the Gerſhonites ſhalbe Eliaſaph the ſonne of Lael.

25 And the charge of the ſonnes of Gerſhon in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, ſhall be the i Tabernacle, and the pauilion, the covering thereof, and the vaile of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

26 And the hanging of the court, and the vaile of the doore of the court which is neere the Tabernacle, and neere the Altar round about, and the cords of it for all the ſervice thereof.

27 * And of Kohath came the family of the Amramites, and the family of the Izeharites, and the family of the Hebronites, and the familie of the Uzzielites: theſe are the families of the Kohatites, 28 The number of all the males from a moneth olde and above, was eight thouſand and ſixe hundreth, having the k charge of the Sanctuarie.

29 The families of the ſonnes of Kohath ſhall pitch on the South ſide of the Tabernacle.

35 The captaine and the ancient of the houſe of the families of Merari ſhallbe Zuriel the ſonne of Abihail: they ſhall pitch on the Northſide of the Tabernacle.

38 ¶ Alſo on the forefront of the Tabernacle toward the Eaſt, before the Tabernacle, I ſay, of the Congregation Eaſtward ſhall Moſes and Aaron and his ſonnes pitch, having the charge of the Sanctuary, n and the charge of the children of Iſrael: but the ſtranger that commeth neere ſhall be ſlaine.

39 The whole ſumme of the Levites, which Moſes and Aaron numbred at the commandement of the Lord throughout their families, even all the males from a moneth old and above, was two and twentie o thouſand.

40 ¶ And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Number all the firſt-borne that are males among the children of Iſrael from a moneth old and above, and take the number of their names.

41 And thou ſhalt take the Levites to mee p for all the firſt-borne of the children of Iſrael (I am the Lord) and the cattell of the Levites for all the firſt-borne of the cattell of the children of Iſrael.

42 And Moſes numbred, as the Lord commaunded him, all the firſt-borne of the children of Iſrael.

43 And all the firſt-borne males rehearſed by name (from a moneth old and above) according to their number were two and twenty thouſand, two hundreth ſeventie and three.

44 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

45 Take the Levites for all the firſt-borne of the children of Iſrael, and the cattell of the Levites for their cattell, and the Levites ſhalbe mine, (I am the Lord.)

46 And for the redeeming of the two hundreth ſeventie and three, (which are moe then the Levites) of the firſt-borne of the children of Iſrael, 47 Thou ſhalt alſo take five ſhekels for every perſon: after the weight of the Sanctuarie ſhalt thou take it: * the ſhekel containeth twenty gerahs.

48 And thou ſhalt give the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redeemed, unto Aaron and to his ſonnes.

49 Thus Moſes tooke the redemption of them that were redeemed, being more then the Levites:

50 Of the q firſt-borne of the children of Iſrael tooke he the money: even a thouſand three hundreth threeſcore and five ſhekels, after the ſhekel of the Sanctuarie.

51 And Moſes gave the money of them that were redeemed, unto Aaron and to his ſonnes according to the word of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

* Exod. 30, 23. 25.

17 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying, 18 Ye ſhall not l cut off the tribe of the families of the Kohathites from among the Levites:

l Committing by your negligence that the holy things be not well wrapped, and ſo they by touching thereof periſh.

19 But thus do unto them that they may live and not die, when they come neere to the moſt holy things: let Aaron and his ſonnes come and appoint m them, every one to his office, and to his charge.

m Shewing what part euery man ſhall beare.

20 But let them not goe in, to ſee when the Sanctuarie is folden up, leaſt they die.

21 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

22 Take alſo the ſumme of the ſonnes of Gerſhon, every one by the houſes of their fathers, throughout their families:

23 From thirtie yeere old and above until fiftie yeere olde ſhalt thou number them, all that n enter into the aſſembly for to doe ſervice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

n Which were receiued into the company of them that miniſtred in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

24 This ſhallbe the ſervice of the families of the Gerſhonites to ſerve and to beare.

25 They ſhall beare the curtaines of the Tabernacle, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, his covering, and the covering of badgers skinnes, that is on high upon it, and the vaile of the o doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

o Which vaile hanged betweene the Sanctuarie and the court.

26 The curtaines alſo of the court, and the vaile of the entring in of the gate of the court, p which is neere the Tabernacle and neere the altar round about, with their coards: and all the inſtruments for their ſervice, and all that is made for them: ſo ſhall they ſerue.

p Which court compaſſed both the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the altar of burnt offering.

27 At the commandement of Aaron and his ſonnes ſhall all the ſervice of the ſonnes of the Gerſhonites be done, in all their charges and in all their ſervice, and yee ſhall appoint them to keepe all their charges.

29 ¶ Thou ſhalt number the ſonnes of Merary by their families, and by the houſes of their fathers.

30 From thirtie yeere old and above, even unto fiftie yeere olde ſhalt thou number them, all that enter into the aſſembly, to doe the ſervice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

31 And this is their office and charge according to all their ſervice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: the * boards of the Tabernacle with the barres thereof, and his pillars, and his ſockets, 32 And the pillars round about the court, with their ſockets and their pinnes, and their cords with all their inſtruments, even for all their ſervice: and by r name ye ſhall reckon the inſtruments of their office and charge.

r Ye ſhall make an inuentorie of all the things, which ye commit to their charge.

33 This is the ſervice of the families of the ſonnes of Merari, according to all their ſervice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation under the hand of Ithamar the ſonne of Aaron the Prieſt.

34 ¶ Then Moſes and Aaron and the Princes of the Congregation numbred the ſonnes of the Kohathites, by their families and by the houſes of their fathers.

35 From thirtie yeere old and above, even unto fifty yeere old, all that enter into the aſſembly for the ſervice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

40 So the numbers of them by their families, and by the houſes of their fathers were two thouſand ſixe hundreth and thirtie.

41 Theſe are the numbers of the families of the ſonnes of Gerſhon: of all that t did ſervice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, whom Moſes and Aaron did number according to the commandement of the Lord.

45 Theſe are the ſummes of the families of the ſonnes of Merari, whom Moſes and Aaron numbred according to the commandement of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

46 So all the numbers of the Levites, which Moſes, and Aaron, and the princes of Iſrael numbred by their families and by the houſes of their fathers, 48 So the number of them were eight thouſand ſiue hundreth and foureſcore.

CHAP. V.

2 The lepros and the polluted ſhallbe caſt forth. 6 The purging of ſinne. 15 The triall of the ſuſpected wife.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Command the children of Iſrael that they * put out of the hoaſte every leper, and every one that hath * and iſſue, and whoſoever is defiled by * the dead.

3 Both male and female ſhall ye put out: ‖ out of the hoaſte ſhall ye put them, that they defile not their a tents among whom I dwell.

4 And the children of Iſrael did ſo, and put them out of the hoaſte, even as the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael.

5 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

6 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, * When a man or woman ſhall commit any ſinne b that men commit, and tranſgreſſe againſt the Lord, when that perſon ſhall treſpaſſe,

7 Then they ſhall confeſſe their ſinne which they have done, and ſhall reſtore the damage thereof * with his principall, and put the fift part of it more thereto, and ſhall give it unto him, againſt whom he hath treſpaſſed.

8 But if the c men have no kinſeman, to whom he ſhould reſtore the damage, the damage ſhallbe reſtored to the Lord for the Prieſts vſe, beſides the ramme of the atonement, whereby hee ſhall make atonement for him.

9 And every offring of all the d holy things of the children of Iſrael, which they bring unto the Prieſt, ſhall be * his.

10 And every mans hallowed things ſhall be his: that is, whatſoever any man giveth the Prieſt, it ſhall be his.

11 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

12 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, If any mans wife e turne to evill, and commit a treſpaſſe againſt him,

13 So that another man lie with her fleſhly, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and kept cloſe, and yet ſhe be defiled, and there be no witneſſe againſt her, neither ſhee taken with the maner,

14 † If he be mooved with a ielous minde, ſo that he is ielous over his wife, which is defiled, or if he have a ielous mind, ſo that he is ielous over his wife, which is not defiled.

15 Then ſhall the man bring his wife to the Prieſt, and bring her offering with her, the tenth part of an Ephah of barley meale, but he ſhall not powre f oyle upon it, nor put incenſe thereon: for it is an offering of ielouſie, an offering for a remembrance, calling the ſinne to g minde.

16 And the Prieſt ſhall bring her, and ſet her before the Lord.

17 Then the Prieſt ſhall take h the holy water in an earthen veſſell, and of the duſt that is in the floure of the Tabernacle, even the Prieſt ſhall take it and put it into the water.

18 After the Prieſt ſhall ſet the woman before the Lord, and vncover the womans head, and put the offering of the memoriall in her hands: it is the ielouſie offering, and the Prieſt ſhall have bitter and i curſed water in his hand, 19 And the Prieſt ſhall charge her by an oathe, and ſay unto the woman, If no man have lien with thee, neither thou haſt turned to vncleanneſſe from thine huſband, be free from this bitter and curſed water.

20 But if thou haſt turned from thine huſband, and ſo art defiled, and ſome man hath lien with thee beſides thine huſband,

21 (Then the Prieſt ſhall charge the woman with an oathe of curſing, and the Prieſt ſhall ſay unto the woman:) The Lord make thee to be k accurſed, and deteſtable for the oathe among the people, and the Lord cauſe thy thigh to † rot, and thy belly to ſwell:

22 And that this curſed water may goe into thy bowels, to cauſe thy belly to ſwell, and thy thigh to rot. Then the woman ſhall anſwere, l Amen, Amen.

23 After, the Prieſt ſhall write theſe curſes in a booke, and ſhall m blot them out with the bitter water, 24 And ſhall cauſe the woman to drinke the bitter and curſed water, and the curſed water turned into bitterneſſe ſhall enter into her.

25 Then the Prieſt ſhall take the ielouſie offering out of the womans hand, and ſhall ſhake the offering before the Lord, and offer it upon the altar.

26 And the Prieſt ſhall take an handfull of the offring for a ‖ memoriall thereof, and burne it upon the n altar, and afterward make the woman drinke the water.

27 When he hath made her drinke the water, if ſhee be defiled and have treſpaſſed againſt her husband, then ſhall the curſed water, turned into bitterneſſe, enter into her, and her belly ſhall ſwell, and her thigh ſhall rot, and the woman ſhallbe accurſed among her people.

2 The lawe of the conſecration of the Nazarites. 24 The maner to bleſſe the people.

And

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,
2 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, When a man or a woman doth ſeparate themſelves to vow a vow of a [a] Nazarite, to ſeparate himſelfe unto the Lord,
3 Hee ſhall abſtaine from wine and ſtrong drinke, and ſhall drinke no ſowre wine nor ſowre drinke, nor ſhall drinke any liquor of grapes, neither ſhall eat freſh grapes nor dried.
4 As long as his abſtinence endureth, ſhall he eat nothing that is made of the wine of the vine, neither the kernels nor the huske.
5 While he is ſeparated by his vow, the * raſor ſhall not come upon his head, untill the dayes be out, in the which he ſeparateth himſelfe unto the Lord, he ſhallbe holy, and ſhall let the locks of the haire of his head grow.
6 During the time that hee ſeparateth himſelfe unto the Lord, hee ſhall come at no [b] dead bodie:
7 He ſhall not make himſelfe uncleane at the death of his father or mother, brother, or ſiſter: for the conſecration of his God is upon [c] his head.
8 All the dayes of his ſeparation hee ſhallbe holy to the Lord.
9 And if any die ſuddenly by him, or he beware, then the [d] head of his conſecration ſhallbe defiled, and he ſhall ſhave his head in the day of his cleanſing: in the ſeventh day he ſhall ſhave it.
10 And in the eighth day he ſhall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons to the Prieſt, at the doore of the tabernacle of the Congregation.
11 Then the Prieſt ſhall prepare the one for a ſinne-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering, and ſhall make an atonement for him, becauſe he ſinned by [e] the dead: ſo ſhall he hallow his head the ſame day.
12 And he ſhall [f] conſecrate unto the Lord the dayes of his ſeparation, and ſhall bring a lambe of a yeare olde for a treſpaſſe-offering, and the firſt [g] dayes ſhallbe void: for his conſecration was defiled.
13 ¶ This then is the lawe of the Nazarite: when the time of his conſecration is out, he ſhall come to the doore of the tabernacle of the Congregation,
14 And he ſhall bring his offering unto the Lord, an hee-lambe of a yeare olde without blemiſh, for a burnt-offering, and a thee-lambe of a yeare old without blemiſh, for a ſinne-offring, and a ramme without blemiſh, for peace-offerings,
15 And a basket of unleavened bread, of * Cakes of fine floure, mingled with oyle, and wafers of unleavened bread anoynted with oyle, with their meat-offering, and their drinke-offerings:
16 The which the Prieſt ſhall bring before the Lord, and make his ſinne-offering and his burnt-offering,
17 Hee ſhall prepare alſo the ram for a peace-offering unto the Lord, with the basket of unleavened bread, and the Prieſt ſhall make his meate-offering, and his drinke-offering.
18 And * the Nazarite ſhall ſhave the head [h] of his conſecration at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and ſhall take the haire of the head of his conſecration, and [i] put it in the fire which is under the peace-offering.
19 Then the Prieſt ſhall take the ſodden ſhoulder of the ramme, and an unleavened cake out of the basket, and a wafer unleavened, and put them upon the hands of the Nazarite, after hee hath ſhaven his conſecration.
20 And the Prieſt ſhall * ſhake them to and fro before the Lord: this is an holy thing for the Prieſt ‖ beſide the ſhaken breaſt, and beſides the heave ſhoulder: ſo afterward the Nazarite may drinke wine.
21 This is the law of the Nazarite, which hee hath vowed, and of his offering unto the Lord for his conſecration, [k] beſides that that he is able to bring: according to the vow which he vowed, ſo ſhall he do after the law of his conſecration.
22 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,
23 Speake unto Aaron and to his ſonnes, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye [l] bleſſe the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them,
24 The Lord bleſſe thee, and keepe thee,
25 The Lord make his face ſhine upon thee, and be merciſull unto thee, 26 The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.
27 So they ſhall put my [m] Name upon the children of Iſrael, and I will bleſſe them,

NOw when Moſes had finiſhed the ſetting up of the Tabernacle, and * anointed it and ſanctified it, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the altar with all the ‖ inſtruments thereof, and had anointed them, and ſanctified them,
2 Then the ‖ princes of Iſrael, heads over the houſes of their fathers, (they were the princes of the tribes, who were over them that were numbred) offred,
3 And brought their offering before the Lord, ſixe [a] covered charets, and twelve oxen: one charet for two princes, and for every one an oxe, and they offered them before the Tabernacle.
4 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,
5 Take theſe of them, that they may be to do the [b] ſervice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and thou ſhalt give them unto the Levites, to every man according unto his office.
6 So Moſes tooke the charets and the oxen, and gave them unto the Levites:
7 Two charets and foure oxen he gave to the ſonnes of Gerſhon, according unto their [c] office.
8 And foure charets and eighth oxen he gave to the ſonnes of Merari, according unto their office, under the hand of Ithamar the ſonne of Aaron the Prieſt.

10 ¶ The princes alſo offered in the [e] dedication for the altar in the day that it was anointed: then the princes offered their offering before the altar.

a The vſe of the ſiluer trumpets. 11 The Iſraelites depart from Sinai. 14 The captaines of the hoaſte are numbred. 30 Hobab refuſeth to goe with Moſes his ſonne in law.

AND the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

3 And when they ſhall blow with them, all the Congregation ſhall aſſemble to thee, before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

4 But if they blow with one, then the Princes, or heads over the thouſands of Iſrael ſhall come unto thee.

5 But if yee blow an alarm, then the campe of them that pitch on the [b] Eaſt part, ſhall goe forward.

6 If ye blow an alarme the ſecond time, then the hoaſt of them that lie on the [c] South-ſide, ſhall march: for they ſhall blow an alarme when they remoove.

7 But in the aſſembling the Congregation, ye ſhall blow without an alarme.

8 And the ſonnes of Aaron the Prieſt ſhall [d] blow the trumpets, and ye ſhall have them as a law for ever in your generations.

9 And when ye goe to warre in your land againſt the enemie that vexeth you, yee ſhall blow an alarme with the trumpets, and ye ſhall be remembred before the Lord your God, and ſhall be ſaved from your enemies.

10 Alſo in the day of your [e] gladneſſe, and in your feaſt-dayes, and in the beginning of your moneths, ye ſhall alſo blow the trumpets ‖ over your burnt-ſacrifices, and over your peace-offerings, that they may be a remembrance for you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

11 ¶ And in the ſecond yeare, in the ſecond moneth, and in the twentieth day of the moneth, the cloud was taken up from the Tabernacle of the Teſtimonie.

12 And the children of Iſrael departed on their ‖ journeys out of the deſert of Sinai, and the cloud reſted in the wildernеſſe of Paran.

13 So they [f] firſt tooke their journey at the commandement of the Lord by the hand of Moſes.

14 ¶ * In the firſt place went the ſtandard of the hoaſte of the children of Iudah according to their armies: and * Nahſhon the ſonne of Amminadab was over his band.

15 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Iſſachar was Nathaneel the ſonne of Zuar.

16 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Zebulun was Eliab the ſonne of Helon.

17 When the Tabernacle was taken downe, then the ſonnes of Gerſon and the ſonnes of Merari went forward bearing [g] the Tabernacle.

18 ¶ After, departed the ſtandard of the hoaſte of Reuben, according to their armies, and over his band was Elizur the ſonne of Shedeur.

19 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Simeon was Shelumiel the ſonne of Zuriſhaddai, 20 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Gad was Eliaſaph the ſonne of Deuel.

21 The Kohathites alſo went forward and [h] bare the * Sanctuarie, and the former did ſet up the Tabernacle againſt they came.

22 ¶ Then the ſtandard of the hoaſte of the children of Ephraim went forward according to their armies, and over his band was Eliſhama the ſonne of Ammiud.

23 And over the band of the tribe of the ſons of Manaſſeh was Gamliel the ſonne of Pedazur.

24 And over the band of the tribe of the ſons of Benjamin was Abidan the ſonne of Gideoni.

25 ¶ Laſt, the ſtandard of the hoaſte of the children of Dan marched, [k] gathering all the hoaſtes according to their armies: and over his band was Ahiezer the ſonne of Ammiſhaddai.

26 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Aſher was Pagiel the ſonne of Ocran.

27 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Naphtali was Ahira the ſonne of Enan.

28 ‖ Theſe were the remoovings of the children of Iſrael according to their armies, when they marched.

29 * After, Moſes ſaid vnto [m] Hobad the ſon of Reuel the Midianite, the father in law of Moſes, Wee goe into the place, of which the Lord ſaid, I will giue it you. Come thou with us, and we will doe thee good: for the Lord hath † romiſed good unto Iſrael.

30 And he anſwered him, I will not goe: but I will depart to mine owne countrey, and to my kinred.

31 Then he ſaid, I pray thee, leave us not: for thou knoweſt our camping places in the wildernеſſe: therefore thou mayeſt be † our guide.

32 And if thou goe with us, what goodneſſe the Lord ſhall ſhewe unto us, the ſame will wee ſhew unto thee.

33 ¶ So they departed from the [n] mount of the Lord, three dayes journey: and the Arke of the covenant of the Lord went before them in the three dayes journey, to ſearch out a reſting place for them.

34 And the cloud of the Lord was upon them by day, when they went out of the campe.

35 And when the Arke went forward, Moſes ſaid, * [o] Riſe up Lord, & let thine enemies be ſcattered, and let them that hate thee, flee before thee.

36 And when it reſted, hee ſaid, Returne, O Lord, to the † many thouſands of Iſrael.

2 Then the people cryed unto Moſes: and when Moſes prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called the name of ſ̄ place ‖ Taberah, becauſe the fire of the Lord burnt among them.

4 ¶ And a number of [a] people that was among them, fell a luſting, and [b] turned away, and the children of Iſrael alſo wept, and ſaid, Who ſhall give us fleſh to eate?

5 We remember the fiſh which we did eat in Egypt for [c] nought, the cucumbers, & the pepons, and the leekes, and the onions, and the garlicke.

g Am I their father, that thou may haue the charge of them but I?

14 I am not able to beare all this people alone, for it is too heavie for me.

15 Therefore if thou deale thus with mee, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy i sight, kill me, that I behold not my misery.

i I had rather die then to see my griefe and misery thus daily increase by their rebellion.

16 ¶ Then the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Gather vnto mee seuentie men of the Elders of Israel, whom thou knowest, that they are the Elders of the people, and gouernours over them, and bring them vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and let them stand there with thee.

17 And I will come downe, and talke with thee there, k and take of the Spirit, which is vpon thee, and put vpon them, and they shall beare the burthen of the people with thee: so thou shalt not beare it alone.

k I will distribute my spirit among them, as I haue done to thee.

18 Furthermore thou shalt say vnto the people, ‖ Be sanctified against to morrow, and ye shall eate flesh: for you haue wept in the eares of the Lord, saying, Who shall giue vs flesh to eate? for we were better in Egypt: therefore the Lord will giue you flesh, and ye shall eat.

* Isa.50.2. and 59.1.

23 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Is * the Lords hand shortened? thou shalt see now whether my worde shall come to passe vnto thee, or no.

24 ¶ So Moses went out, and told the people the words of the Lord, and gathered seuenty men of the Elders of the people, and set them round about the Tabernacle.

25 Then the Lord came downe in a cloud, and spake vnto him, and ‖ tooke of the Spirit that was vpon him, and put it vpon the seuentie Ancient men: and when the Spirit rested upon them, then they prophecied, and did not p cease.

‖ Or, separated, verse 17.

p From that day the spirit of prophecie did not faile them.

26 But there remained two of the men in the hoaste: the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Medad, and the Spirit rested vpon them, (for they were of them that were written, and went not out vnto the Tabernacle) and they prophecied in the hoaste.

27 Then there ranne a young man, and tolde Moses, and sayd, Eldad and Medad doe prophecie in the hoaste.

30 And Moses returned into the hoaste, he and the Elders of Israel.

31 Then there went foorth a winde from the Lord, and * brought quailes from the sea, and let them fall vpon the campe, a dayes iourney on this side, and a dayes iourney on the other side, round about the hoaste, and they were about two cubites above the earth.

4 Certaine men are ſent to ſearch the land of Canaan. 24 They bring of the fruit of the land. 31 Caleb comforteth the people againſt the diſcouraging of the other ſpies.

THen afterward the people remooued from Hazeroth, and pitched in the wilderneſſe of a Paran.

2 ¶ And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

3 b Send thou men out to ſearch the land of Canaan which I giue vnto the children of Iſrael: of every tribe of their fathers ſhall ye ſend a man, ſuch as are all rulers among them.

4 Then Moſes ſent them out of the wilderneſs of Paran at the commandement of the Lord: all thoſe men were ‖ heads of the children of Iſrael.

5 Alſo their names are theſe: of the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the ſonne of Zaccur:

6 Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphar the ſonne of Hori:

7 Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh:

8 Of the tribe of Iſſachar, Igal the ſonne of Ioſeph:

9 Of the tribe of Ephraim, ‖ Oſhea the ſonne of Nun:

10 Of the tribe of Beniamin, Palti the ſonne of Raphu:

11 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the ſonne of Sodi:

12 Of the tribe of Ioſeph, to wit, of the tribe of Manaſſeh, Gaddi the ſonne of Suſi:

13 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the ſonne of Gamalli:

14 Of the tribe of Aſher, Sethur the ſonne of Michael:

15 Of the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi the ſonne of Vophſi:

16 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuel the ſonne of Machi.

17 Theſe are the names of the c men, which Moſes ſent to ſpie out the lande: and Moſes called the name of Oſhea the ſonne of Nun, Iehoſhua.

18 So Moſes ſent them to ſpie out the land of Canaan, and ſaid to them, Go vp this way toward the South, and goe vp into the ‖ mountaines.

19 And conſider the land what it is, and the people that dwell therein, whether they be ſtrong, or weake, either few or many.

20 Alſo what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be d good or bad: and what cities they be, that they dwell in, whether they dwell in tents, or in walled townes.

21 And what the land is: whether it be fat or leane, whether there be trees therein, or not. And be of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land (for then was the time of the firſt ripe grapes.)

22 ¶ So they went vp, and ſearched out the land, from the wilderneſſe of e Zin vnto Rehob, to goe to Hamath.

23 And they aſcended toward the South, and came vnto Hebron, where were Ahiman, Sheſhai, and Talmai, the ſonnes of f Anak. And g Hebron was built ſeuen yeere before Zoan in Egypt.

24 * Then they came to the riuer of Eſhcol, and cut downe thence a branch with one cluſter of grapes, and they bare it vpon a barre betweene two, and brought of the pomegranates and of the figges.

25 That place was called the ‖ river Eſhcol, becauſe of the cluſter of grapes, which the children of Iſrael cut downe thence.

26 Then after fortie dayes they turned againe from ſearching of the land.

27 And they went and came to Moſes and to Aaron, and vnto all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, in the wilderneſſe of h Paran, to Kadeſh, and brought to them, and to all the Congregation tidings, and ſhewed them the fruit of the land.

28 And they told i him, and ſaid, We came vnto the land whither thou haſt ſent vs, and ſurely it floweth with * milke and hony, and here is of the fruit of it.

29 Neuertheleſſe the people be ſtrong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreouer, wee ſaw the k ſonnes of Anak there.

30 The Amalekites dwell in the South countrey, and the Hittites, and the Iebuſites, and the Amorites dwell in the mountaines, and the Canaanites dwell by the ſea, and by the coaſts of Iorden.

31 Then Caleb ſtilled the people ‖ before Moſes, and ſaid, Let vs goe vp at once, and poſſeſſe it: for vndoubtedly we ſhall ouercome it.

32 But the men that went vp with him, ſayd, We be not able to goe vp againſt the people: for they are ſtronger then we.

33 So they brought vp an euill report of the land which they had ſearched for the children of Iſrael, ſaying, The land which we haue gone thorow to ſearch it out, is a land that l eateth vp the inhabitants thereof: for all the people that wee ſaw in it, are men of great ſtature.

34 For there we ſaw gyants, the ſonnes of Anak, which come of the gyants: ſo that wee ſeemed in our ſight like graſſhoppers: and ſo we were in their ſight.

2 The people murmure againſt Moſes. 10 They would haue ſtoned Caleb and Ioſhua. 13 Moſes pacifieth God by his prayer. 45 The people that would enter into the land contrary to Gods will, are ſlaine.

THen all the Congregation lifted vp their voyce, and cried: and the a people wept that night.

2 And all the children of Iſrael murmured againſt Moſes and Aaron: and the whole aſſembly ſaid vnto them, Would God we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wilderneſſe: would God we were dead.

5 Then Moſes and Aaron [c] fell on their faces before all the aſſembly of the Congregation of the children of Iſrael.

6 * And Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun, and Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh two of them that ſearched the land, [d] rent their cloathes,

7 And, ſpake vnto all the aſſembly of the children of Iſrael, ſaying, The land which we walked thorow to ſearch it, is a very good land.

8 If the Lord love vs, hee will bring vs into this land, and giue it vs, which is a land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 But rebell not yee againſt the Lord, neither feare yee the people of the lande: for they are but [e] bread for vs: their ſhield is departed from them, and the Lord is with vs, feare them not.

10 And all the multitude ſayd, [f] Stone them with ſtones: but the glory of the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before all the children of Iſrael.

11 ¶ And the Lord ſayd vnto Moſes, How long will this people prouoke me, and how long will it be yer they beleeue me, for all the ſignes which I haue ſhewed among them?

12 I will ſmite them with the peſtilence and deſtroy them, and will make thee a greater nation and mightier then they.

13 But Moſes ſayd vnto the Lord, * When the Egyptians ſhall heare it, (for thou broughteſt this people by thy power from among them)

14 Then they ſhall ſay to the inhabitants of the land, (for they have heard, that thou Lord, art among this people, and that thou, Lord, art ſeene † face to face, and that thy cloude ſtandeth ouer them, and that thou * goeſt before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloude, and in a pillar of fire by night)

15 That thou wilt kill this people as [g] one man: ſo the heathen which have heard the fame of thee, ſhall thus ſay, 16 Becauſe the Lord was not * able to bring this people into the land which hee ſware vnto them, therefore hath hee ſlaine them in the wilderneſſe.

17 And now, I beſeech thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou haſt ſpoken, ſaying,

18 The Lord is * ſlowe to anger, and of great mercy, and * forgiuing iniquity and ſinne, but not making the wicked innocent, and * viſiting the wickedneſſe of the fathers vpon the children, in the third and fourth generation:

19 Be mercifull, I beſeech thee, vnto the iniquity of this people, according to thy great mercie, and as thou haſt forgiven this people from Egypt, even vntill now.

20 And the Lord ſayd, I have forgiven [h] it, according to thy requeſt.

21 Notwithſtanding, as I liue, all the earth ſhall be filled with the glory of the Lord.

22 For all thoſe men which have ſeene my glory, and my miracles which I did in Egypt, and in the wilderneſſe, and have tempted mee this [i] ten times, and have not obeyed my voyce, 23 Certainely they ſhall not ſee the lande, whereof I ſware vnto their fathers: neither ſhall any that prouoke me, ſee it.

24 But my ſeruant * Caleb, becauſe hee had another [k] ſpirit, and hath followed mee ſtill, even him will I bring into the land, whether he went and his ſeede ſhall inherite it.

25 Now the Amalekites and the Canaanites [l] remaine in the valley, wherefore turne backe to morow, and get you into the [m] wildernes, by the way of the red ſea.

26 ¶ After, the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying, 27 * How long ſhall I ſuffer this wicked multitude to murmure againſt me? I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Iſrael, which they murmure againſt me.

28 Tell them, As I * liue (ſaith the Lord) I will ſurely doe vnto you, even as yee haue ſpoken in mine eares.

29 Your carkeiſes ſhall fall in this wildernes, and all you that were * counted through all your numbers, from twenty yeere old and aboue, which haue murmured againſt me.

30 Ye ſhall not doubtleſſe come into the land, for the which I * lifted vp mine hand, to make you dwell therein, ſaue Caleb ȝ ſonne of Iephunneh, and Iothua the ſonne of Nun.

31 But your children (which ye ſayd ſhould be a prey:) them will I bring in, and they ſhall know the land which ye haue refuſed:

32 But euen your carkeiſes ſhall fall in this wilderneſſe.

33 And your children ſhall [n] wander in the wilderneſſe fourtie yeeres, and ſhall beare your [o] whoredomes, vntill your carkeiſes be waſted in the wilderneſſe.

34 After the number of the dayes in the which ye ſearched out the land, euen fourty dayes, * euery day for a yeere, ſhall you beare your iniquity, for * fourty yeeres, and ye [p] ſhall feele my breach of promiſe.

35 I the Lord haue ſayd, Certainely I will doe ſo to all this wicked company that are gathered together againſt mee: for in this wildernes they ſhallbe conſumed, and there they ſhall die.

36 And the men which Moſes had ſent to ſearch the land, (which when they came againe, made all the people to murmure againſt him, and brought vp a ſlander vpon the land,)

37 Even thoſe men that did bring vp that vile ſlander vpon the land, * ſhall die by a plague before the Lord.

38 But Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun, and Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh, of thoſe men that went to ſearch the land, ſhall liue.

39 ¶ Then Moſes tolde theſe ſayings vnto all the children of Iſrael, and the people ſorrowed greatly.

40 * And they roſe vp early in the morning, and gate them vp into the top of the mountaine, ſaying, Loe, wee be ready to goe vp to the place which the Lord hath promiſed: for we haue [q] ſinned.

41 But Moſes ſayd, Wherefore tranſgreſſe yee thus the commaundement of the Lord? it will not ſo come well to paſſe.

42 Goe not vp, (for the Lord is not among you) leaſt yee be ouerthrowen before your enemies.

43 For the Amalekites and the Canaanites are there before you, and yee ſhall fall by the ſword: for in as much as yee are turned away from the Lord, the Lord alſo will not be with you.

1 The offerings which the Iſraelites ſhould offer when they came into the land of Canaan. 32 The puniſhment of him that brake the Sabbath.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, * When ye be come into the a land of your habitations which I give unto you,

* Levit.23.10. a Into the land of Canaan.

3 And will make an offering by fire unto the Lord, a burnt-offering or a ſacrifice * ‖ to fulfill a vowe, or a free offering, or in your feaſts to make a * ſweet ſavour unto the Lord, of the herd or of the flocke,

4 Then * let him that offereth his offering unto the Lord, bring a meate-offering of a tenth deale of fine floure, mingled with the fourth part of an b Hin of oyle.

* Exod.29.18.

5 Alſo thou ſhalt prepare the fourth part of an Hin of wine to be powred on a lambe appointed for the burnt-offering, or any offring.

b Reade Exod. 29.40.

6 And for a ramme thou ſhalt for a meate-offering, prepare two tenth deales of fine flowre, mingled with the third part of an Hin of oyle.

7 And for a c drinke-offering thou ſhalt offer the third part of an Hin of wine, for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

c The liquor was ſo called, becauſe it was powred on the thing that was offered.

8 And when thou prepareſt a bullocke for a burnt-offering, or for a ſacrifice to fulfill a vowe or a peace-offering to the Lord.

9 Then let him offer with the bullocke a meat-offering of ‖ three tenth deale of fine flowre, mingled with halfe an Hin of oyle.

‖ Or, three Omers.

10 And thou ſhalt bring for a drinke-offering halfe an Hin of wine, for an offering made by fire of a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

11 Thus ſhal it be done for a bullocke, or for a ramme, or for a kid.

d Every ſacrifice of beaſts muſt have their meat-offering and drinke offring according to this proportion.

12 According to the number d that yee prepare to offer, ſo ſhal ye doe to every one according to their number.

13 All that are borne of the countrey, ſhall do theſe things thus, to offer an offering made by fire of ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

14 And if a ſtranger ſojourne with you, or whoſoever be among you in your generations, and will make an offering by fire of a ſweete ſavour unto the Lord, as ye doe, ſo he ſhall doe.

* Exod.12.49. chap.9.14.

15 * One ordinance ſhalbe both for you of the Congregation, and alſo for the ſtranger that dwelleth with you, even an ordinance for ever in your generations: as you are, ſo ſhall the ſtranger be before the Lord.

16 One law and one manner ſhall ſerve both for you & for the ſtranger that ſojourneth with you.

17 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

18 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, When yee be come into the land, to the which I bring you, 19 And when yee ſhall eate of the bread of the land, ye ſhal offer an heave-offering unto the Lord.

e Which is made of the firſt corne ye gather. * Levit. 23.14.

21 Of the firſt of your dough ye ſhal give unto the Lord an heave-offring in your generations.

22 And if yee f have erred, and not obſerved all theſe commandements, which the Lord hath ſpoken unto Moſes, f As by overſight or ignorance, reade Levit.4.1,13.

23 Even all that the Lord hath commanded you by the hand of Moſes, from the firſt day that the Lord commanded Moſes, and hence forward among your generations:

24 And if ſo be that ought be committed ignorantly of the g Congregation, then all the Congregation ſhall give a bullocke for a burnt-offering, for a ſweete ſavour unto the Lord, with the meate-offering and drinke-offering thereto, according to the * manner, and an hee-goate for a finne-offering.

g Some reade, from the eyes of the Congregation, that is, which is hid from the Congregation. * Levit.4.21.

25 And the Prieſt ſhall make an atonement for all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, and it ſhall be forgiven them: for it is ignorance: and they ſhall bring their offering for an offering made by fire unto the Lord, and their ſinne-offering before the Lord for their ignorance.

26 Then ſhall be forgiven all the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, and the ſtranger that dwelleth among them: for all the people were in ignorance

27 ¶ * But if any one perſon ſinne through ignorance, then he ſhall bring a thee-goate of a yeare old for a ſinne-offering. * Levit.4.27.

28 And the Prieſt ſhall make an atonement for the ignorant perſon, when hee ſinneth by ignorance before the Lord, to make reconciliation for him: and it ſhall be forgiven him.

29 Hee that is borne among the children of Iſrael, and the ſtranger that dwelleth among them, ſhall have both one law, who ſo doeth ſinne by ignorance.

30 ¶ But the perſon that doeth ought † preſumptuouſly, whether he be borne in the land, or a ſtranger, the ſame blaſphemeth the Lord: therefore that perſon ſhall be cut off from among his people.

† Ebr. with an high hand, that is, in contempt of God.

31 Becauſe he hath deſpiſed the word of the Lord, and hath broken his commandement: that perſon ſhalbe utterly cut off: his h iniquitie ſhall be upon him.

32 ¶ And while the children of Iſrael were in the wilderneſſe, they found a man that gathered ſtickes upon the Sabbath day.

33 And they that found him gathering ſtickes, brought him unto Moſes and to Aaron, and unto all the Congregation, 34 And they put him in * ward: for it was not declared what ſhould be done unto him. * Levit.24.12.

35 Then the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, This man ſhall die the death: and let all the multitude ſtone him with ſtones without the hoaſte.

36 And all the Congregation brought him without the hoaſte, and ſtoned him with ſtones, and he died, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

37 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

38 Speake unto the children of Iſrael, and bid them that they * make them fringes upon the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and put upon the fringes of the borders a ribband of blue ſilke. * Deut.22.12. matth.23.5.

39 And ye ſhall have the fringes that when ye looke upon them, ye may remember all the commandements of the Lord, and doe them: and that yee ſeeke not after your owne heart, nor after your owne eyes, after the which yee goe a i whoring:

CHAP. XVI.

1 The rebellion of Korah, Dathan and Abiram. 31 Korah and his companie perisheth. 41 The people the next day murmure. 49 14700 are slaine for murmuring.

NOw * Korah the sonne of Izhai, the sonne of Kohath, the sonne of Levi ‖ went apart with Dathan, and Abiram the sonne of Eliab, and On the sonne of Peleth, the sonnes of Reuben:

2 And they rose vp ‖ against Moses, with certaine of the children of Israel, two hundreth and fiftie captaines of the assembly, * famous in the Congregation, and men of renoume.

3 Who gathered themselves together against Moses, and against Aaron, and sayde unto them, a Ye take too much upon you, seeing all the Congregation is holy, b euery one of them, and the Lord is among them: wherefore then lift ye your selves aboue the Congregation of the Lord?

4 But when Moses heard it, he fell upon his face,

5 And spake to Korah and unto all his company, saying, To morow the Lord will shew who is his, and who is holy, and who ought to approach neere unto him: and whom he hath c chosen, he will cause to come neere to him.

6 This doe therefore, Take you censers, both Korah and all his company,

7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the Lord to morowe: and the man whom the Lord doeth chuse, the same shall be holy: d ye take too much upon you, ye sonnes of Levi.

8 Againe Moses sayd unto Korah, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Levi, 9 Seemeth it a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the multitude of Israel, to take you neere to himselfe, to do the service of the Tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the Congregation, and to minister unto them?

10 He hath also taken thee to e him, and all thy brethren, the sonnes of Levi with thee, and seeke yee the office of the Priest also?

11 For which cause, thou, and all thy companie are gathered together against the Lord: and what is Aaron, that ye murmure against him?

12 ¶ And Moses sent to call Dathan, and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab: who answered, We will not come up.

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought vs out f of a land that floweth with milke and hony, to kill us in the wilderneſſe, except thou make thy selfe lord and ruler over us also?

14 Also thou hast not brought us unto a land that floweth with milke and hony, neither given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou g put out the eyes of these men? wee will not come up.

15 Then Moses waxed very angrie, and sayd unto the Lord, * Looke not unto their offering: I have not taken so much as an asse from them, neither have I hurt any of them.

16 And Moses sayd unto Korah, Bee thou and all thy company h before the Lord: both thou, they, and Aaron to morrow.

17 And take every man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring yee every man his censer before the Lord, two hundreth and fiftie censers: thou also and Aaron, every one his censer.

18 So they tooke euery man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation with Moses and Aaron.

19 And Korah gathered all the i multitude against them unto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the Congregation.

20 And the Lord spake unto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

21 Separate your selves from among this Congregation, that I may consume them at once.

22 And they fell upon their faces and sayd, O God, the God of the spirits ‖ of all flesh, hath not one man onely sinned, and wilt thou be wroth with all the Congregation?

23 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

24 Speake unto the Congregation, saying, Get you away from about the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram.

25 Then Moses rose up, and went unto Dathan and Abiram, and the Elders of Israel followed him.

26 And he spake unto the Congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, least yee perish k in all their sinnes.

27 So they gat them away from the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram on every side: and Dathan and Abiram came out and stoode in the doore of their tents, with their wives, and their sonnes, and their little children.

28 And Moses sayd, Hereby shall yee know that the Lord hath sent me to do all these works: for I have not done them of mine owne l minde.

29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men, the Lord hath not sent me.

30 But if the Lord make m a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up with all that they have, and they goe downe quicke into ‖ n the pit: then yee shall understand that these men have provoked the Lord.

31 ¶ And assoone as he had made an ende of speaking all the words, even the ground clave asunder that was under them, 32 And the earth * opened her mouth, and swallowed them up with their families, and all the men that were with Korah, and all their goods.

33 So they and all that they had, went downe alive into the pit, and the earth covered them: so they perished from among the Congregation.

34 And all Israel that were about them, fled at the cry of them: for they sayd, Let vs flee, least the earth swallow us up.

35 But there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundreth and fiftie men that offered the incense.

36 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

37 Speake unto Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter the fire beyond the altar: for they are hallowed.

38 The censers, I say, of these sinners, that destroyed o themselves: and let them make of them broad plates for a covering of the Altar: for they offered them before the Lord, therefore they shallbe 41 ¶ But on the morrow all the multitude of the children of Iſrael murmured againſt Moſes and againſt Aaron, ſaying, Yee have killed the people of the Lord.

42 And when the Congregation was gathered againſt Moſes and againſt Aaron, then they ‖ turned their faces toward the tabernacle of the Congregation: and behold, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

‖ Or, ſtood with Moſes and Aaron.

43 Then Moſes and Aaron were come before the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

44 ¶ And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

45 Get you vp from among this Congregation: for I will conſume them quickly: then they fell vpon their faces.

46 And Moſes ſaid vnto Aaron, Take the cenſer and put fire therein of the r Altar, and put therein incenſe, and goe quicklie vnto the Congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the Lord: the plague is begun.

r For it was not lawfull to take any other fire, but of the altar of burnt offring. Leuit.10,1.

47 Then Aaron tooke as Moſes commanded him, and ran into the middes of the Congregation, and behold, the ſ plague was begun among the people, and he put incenſe, and made an atonement for the people.

ſ God had begun to puniſh the people.

48 And when he ſtood betweene the dead, and them that were alive, the t plague was ſtaied.

t God drew back his hand and ceaſed to puniſh them.

49 So they died of this plague fourteen thouſand and ſeven hundreth, beſide them that died in the conſpiracie of Korah.

c Though Iosephs tribe was divided into two in the diſtribution of the land, yet here it is but one, and Levi maketh a tribe.

* Exod.30.13. Levit.27,25. Chap.3,47. Ezek.45 12.

17 But the first borne of a kow, or the first borne of a sheepe, or the first borne of a goate shalt thou not i redeeme: for they are holy: thou shalt sprinkle their blood at the altar, and thou shalt burne their fat: it is a sacrifice made by fire for a sweet savour unto the Lord.

i Because they are appointed for sacrifice.

* Exod.29,26. Levit.7,30.

18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, * as the shake brest, and as the right shoulder shallbe thine.

19 All the heave offrings of the holy things which the children of Israel shall offer unto the Lord, have I given thee, and thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee, to be a duety for ever: it is a perpetuall covenant k of salt before the Lord, to thee, and to thy seed with thee.

k That is, sure, stable, and vncorruptible.

20 ¶ And the Lord said unto Aaron, Thou shalt have none inheritance in their l land: neither shalt thou have any part among them: * I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel.

l Of Canaan.

* Deut 10.9. and 18.2. Iosh.13,14.33. Exod.44,28.

21 For behold, I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance, for their service which they serve in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 Neither shall the children of Israel any more m come neere the Tabernacle of the Congregation, least they sustaine sinne, and die.

m To serve therein: for the Levites are put in their place.

23 But the Levites shall doe the service in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and they shall beare n their sinne: it is a law for ever in your generations, that among the children of Israel they possesse none inheritance.

n If they faile in their office they shalbe punished.

24 For the tithes of the children of Israel, which they shall offer as an offring unto the Lord, I have given the Levites for an inheritance, therefore I have said unto them, Among the children of Israel ye shall possesse none inheritance.

25 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

26 Speake also unto the Levites, and say unto them, When ye shall take of the children of Israel the tithes, which I have given you of them for your inheritance, then shall ye take an heave offering of that same for the Lord, even the tenth part of the tithe.

27 And your heave offering shallbe reckened unto you, as the o corne of the barne, or as the abundance of the winepresse.

o As acceptable as the fruit of your owne ground or vineyard.

28 So ye shall also offer an heave offering vnto the Lord of all your tithes, which ye shall receive of the children of Israel, and yee shall give thereof the Lords heave offring to Aaron the Priest.

29 Yee shall offer of all your p gifts all the Lords heave offerings: of all the q fat of the same shall ye offer the holy things thereof.

p Which ye have received of the children of Israel.

q Reade verse 12.

30 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have offred the fat thereof, then it shallbe counted unto the Levites, as the increase of the corne floore, or as the increase of the winepresse.

31 And ye shall eat it in all r places, yee, and your housholds: for it is your wages for your service in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

r As in the 11. verse.

32 And ye shall s beare no sinne by the reason of it, when yee have offered the fat of it: neither shall ye pollute the holy t things of the children of Israel, least ye die.

s Ye shall not be punished therefore.

t The offerings which the Israelites have offred to God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 The sacrifice of the red kow. 9 The sprinkling water. 11 He that toucheth the dead. 14 The man that dieth in a tent.

A Nd the Lord spake to Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

2 a This is the ordinance of the Law, which the Lord hath commanded, saying, Speake unto the children of Israel that they bring thee a red kow without blemish, wherein is no spot, upon the which never came yoke.

a According to this law and ceremony ye shall sacrifice the red kow.

3 And yee shall give her unto Eleazar the Priest, that he may bring her * without the hoaste, and cause her to b be slaine before his face.

* Hebr.13,11.

b By another Priest.

4 Then shall Eleazar the Priest take of her blood with his * finger, and sprinkle it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation seven times,

* Hebr.9,13.

5 And cause the kow to be burnt in his sight, with her * skinne, and her flesh, and her blood, and her doung shall he burne her.

* Exod.29,14. Levit.4,11,12.

6 Then shall the Priest take ceder wood, and hyssope, and scarlet lace, and cast them in the mids of the fire where the kow burneth.

7 Then shall the c Priest wash his cloathes, and hee shall wash his flesh in water, and then come into the hoaste, and the Priest shallbe vncleane vnto the even.

c Meaning, Eleazar.

8 Also hee that d burneth her, shall wash his cloathes in water, and wash his flesh in water, and be cleane vntill even.

d The inferiour Priest who killed her, and burned her.

9 And a man, that is cleane, shall take up the e ashes of the kow, and put them without the hoaste in a cleane place: and it shallbe kept for the Congregation of the children of Israel for a sprinkling water: it is a sinne offering.

e Or, the water of separation, because they that were separate for their vncleannesse, were sprinkled therewith and made cleane, Chap.8.7. It is also called holy water, because it was ordained to an holy vse, Chap.5,17.

10 Therefore hee that gathereth the ashes of the kow, shall wash his cloathes, and remaine vncleane vntill even: and it shallbe unto the children of Israel, and unto the stranger that dwelleth among them, a statute for ever.

11 Hee that toucheth the dead body of any man, shallbe vncleane even seven dayes.

f With the sprinkling water.

12 Hee shall purifie himselfe f therewith the third

third day, and the ſeventh day he ſhallbe cleane: but if hee purifie not himſelfe the third day, then the ſeventh day he ſhall not be cleane.

13 Whoſoever toucheth the corps of any man that is dead, and purgeth not himſelfe, defileth the Tabernacle of the Lord, and that perſon ſhallbe g cut off from Iſrael, becauſe the ſprinkling water was not ſprinkled upon him: he ſhallbe vncleane, and his vncleanneſſe ſhall remaine ſtill upon him.

g So that he ſhould not be eſteemed to be of the holy people, but as a polluted and excommunicate perſon.

14 This is the law. When a man dyeth in a tent, all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, ſhallbe vncleane ſeven dayes.

† Ebr. a couering of cloath.

15 And all the veſſels that be open, which have no † covering faſtened upon them, ſhallbe vncleane.

16 Alſo whoſoever toucheth one that is ſlaine with a ſword in the field, or a dead perſon, or a bone of a dead man, or a grave, ſhallbe vncleane ſeven dayes.

h Of the red kow burnt for ſinne.
i Water of the fountaine or river.
k One of the prieſts which is cleane.

17 Therefore for an vncleane perſon, they ſhall take of the burnt aſhes of the h ſinne offering, and i pure water ſhallbe put thereto in a veſſell.

18 And a k cleane perſon ſhall take hyſſope, and dippe it in the water, and ſprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the veſſels, and on the perſons that were therein, and upon him that touched the bone, or the ſlaine, or the dead, or the grave.

19 And the cleane perſon ſhall ſprinkle upon the vncleane the third day, and the ſeventh day, and he ſhall purifie himſelfe the ſeventh day, and l waſh his cloathes, and wath himſelfe in water, and ſhallbe cleane at even.

l Becauſe he had bene among them that were vncleane: or, els had touched the water, as ver. 21.

20 But the man that is vncleane, and purifieth not himſelfe, that perſon ſhall be cut off from among the Congregation, becauſe he hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lord: and the ſprinkling water hath not beene ſprinkled upon him: therefore ſhall he be vncleane.

21 And it ſhallbe a perpetuall law unto them, that he that ſprinkleth the ſprinkling water, ſhall waſh his cloathes: alſo he that toucheth the ſprinkling water, ſhallbe vncleane vntill the even.

22 And whatſoever the vncleane perſon toucheth ſhallbe vncleane: and the perſon that toucheth m him, ſhallbe vncleane vntill the even.

m That is, vncleane.

1 Miriam dieth. 2 The people murmure. 8 They have water out of the rocke. 14 Edom denieth the Iſraelites paſſage. 25, 28 The death of Aaron in whoſe roome Eleazar ſucceedeth.

THen the children of Iſrael came with the whole Congregation to the deſert of Zin in the firſt a moneth, and the people aboade at Cadeſh: where b Miriam died, and was buried there.

a This was fourtie yeeres after their departure from Egypt.
b Moſes and Aarons ſiſter.

2 But there was no water for the Congregation, and they c aſſembled themſelves againſt Moſes and againſt Aaron.

c Another rebellion was in Rayhidim, Exo. 17. and this was in Kadeſh.

3 And the people chode with Moſes, and ſpake, ſaying, Would God we had periſhed * when our brethren died before the Lord.

* Chap. 14. 33.

4 * Why have yee thus brought the Congregation of the Lord unto this wildernes, that both we and our cattell ſhould die there?

* Exod. 17. 2.

5 Wherefore now have ye made us to come up from Egypt, to bring us into this miſerable place, which is no place of ſeede, nor figges, nor vines, nor pomegranates? neither is there any water to drinke.

6 Then Moſes and Aaron went out from the aſſembly unto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fell upon their faces: and the glorie of the Lord appeared unto them.

7 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

8 Take the d rodde, and gather thou and thy brother Aaron the Congregation together, and ſpeake ye unto the rocke before their eyes, and it ſhall give forth his water, and thou ſhalt bring them water out of the rocke: ſo thou ſhalt give the Congregation and the beaſtes drinke.

d Wherewith thou diddeſt miracles in Egypt, and didſt divide the ſea.

9 Then Moſes tooke the rod from before the Lord, as he had commanded him.

10 And Moſes and Aaron gathered the Congregation together before the rocke: and Moſes ſaid unto them, Heare now ye rebels: e ſhall wee bring you water out of this rocke?

e The puniſhment which followed hereof, declared that Moſes and Aaron beleeved not the Lords promiſe, as appeareth verſe 12.

11 Then Moſes lift up his hand, and with his rod hee ſmote the rocke twiſe, and the water came out abundantly: ſo the Congregation, and their beaſtes dranke.

12 ¶ Againe, the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, and to Aaron, Becauſe yee beleeved mee not, to f ſanctifie mee in the preſence of the children of Iſrael, therefore yee ſhall not bring this Congregation into the land which I have given them.

f That the children of Iſrael ſhould beleeve, and acknowledge my power, and ſo honour mee.

13 This is the water of g Meribah, becauſe the children of Iſrael ſtrove with the Lord, and hee h was ſanctified in them.

g Or, ſtrive and contention. Chap. 27. 14.
h By ſhewing himſelfe almightie and maintaining his glory.

14 ¶ Then Moſes ſent meſſengers from Kadeſh vnto the king of i Edom, ſaying, Thus ſaith thy brother Iſrael, Thou knoweſt all the travell that we have had, i Becauſe Iaakob or Iſrael was Eſaus brother, who was called Edom.

15 How our fathers went downe into Egypt, and we dwelt in Egypt a long time, where the Egyptians handled us evill and our fathers, 16 But when we cried unto the Lord, he heard our voyce, and ſent an Angel, and hath brought vs out of Egypt, and beholde, wee are in the citie Kadeſh, in thine vtmoſt border.

17 I pray thee that wee may paſſe thorow thy countrey: we will not go thorow the fieldes nor the vineyards, neither will we drinke of the water of the welles: we will goe by the Kings way, ‖ and neither turne to the right hand nor to the left, vntill we be paſt thy borders.

‖ Or, highway.

18 And Edom anſwered him, ‖ Thou ſhalt not paſſe by me, leaſt I come out againſt thee with the ſword.

‖ Or, come not.

19 Then the children of Iſrael ſaid unto him, We will goe up by the hie way: and if I and my cattell drinke of thy water, I will then pay for it: I will onely (without any harme) go thorow on my feet.

20 Hee anſwered againe, Thou ſhalt not goe thorow. Then ‖ Edom came out againſt him with much people, and with a mightie power.

‖ Or, the Edomites.

21 Thus Edom denied to give Iſrael paſſage thorow his countrey: wherefore Iſrael k turned away from him.

k To paſſe by another way.

22 ¶ And when the children of Iſrael with all the Congregation departed from * Kadeſh, they came unto mount Hor.

* Chap. 33. 37.

23 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes and to Aaron in the mount Hor neere the coaſt of the land of Edom, ſaying, 24 Aaron ſhalbe l gathered unto his people: for he ſhall not enter into the land, which I have given unto the children of Iſrael, becauſe ye ‖ diſobeyed my commandement at the water of ‖ Meribah.

25 Take * Aaron and Eleazar his ſonne, and bring them into the mount Hor.

26 And cause Aaron to put off his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his sonne: for Aaron shall be gathered to his fathers, and shall die there.

27 And Moses did as the Lord had commanded: and they went into the Mount Hor, in the sight of all the Congregation.

28 And Moses put off Aarons cloathes, and put them upon Eleazar his sonne: * so Aaron died there in the top of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came downe from off the mount.

29 When all the Congregation saw that Aaron was dead, all the house of Israel ‖ wept for Aaron thirty dayes.

* Deut. 10, 6. and 32, 50.

CHAP. XXI.

3 Israel vanquisheth king Arad. 6 The fierie serpents are sent for the rebellion of the people. 24, 33 Sihon and Og are overcome in battell.

* Chap. 33. 40.

WHen * King Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt toward the South, heard tell that Israel came by the [a] way of the spies, then fought he against Israel, and tooke of them prisoners.

a By that way which their spies, that searched the dangers, found to be most safe.

2 So Israel vowed a vow unto the Lord, and said, If thou wilt deliver and give this people into mine hand, then will I vtterly destroy their cities.

3 And the Lord heard the voyce of Israel, and delivered them the Canaanites: and they vtterly destroyed them and their cities, and called the name of the place ‖ * Hormah.

‖ Or, destruction. * Iudge. 1, 17.

4 ¶ After they departed from the mount Hor by the way of the Red sea, to [b] compasse the land of Edom: and the people were sore grieved because of the way.

b For they were forbidden to destroy it, Deut. 2, 5.

5 And the people spake against God, and against Moses, saying, Wherefore have ye brought vs out of Egypt, to die in the wilderneſſe, for here is neither bread nor water, and our soule * loatheth this light [c] bread.

* Chap. 11. 6. c Meaning, Manna, which they thought did not nourish. * Wisd. 16, 1, 5. 1. Cor. 10, 9.

6 * Wherefore the Lord sent [d] fierie serpents among the people, which stung the people: so that many of the people of Israel died.

d For they that were stung therewith, were so inflamed with the heate thereof, that they died.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned: for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee: pray to the Lord, that hee take away the serpents from vs: and Moses prayed for the people.

8 And the Lord said unto Moses, Make thee a fierie serpent, and set it up for a ‖ signe, that as many as are bitten, may looke upon it, and live.

‖ Or, upon a pole.

9 * So Moses made a serpent of brasse, and set it up for a signe: and when a serpent had bitten a man, then he looked to the serpent of brasse, and ‖ lived.

* 2. King. 18, 4. Iob 3, 14.

‖ Or, recovered.

10 * And the children of Israel departed thence, and pitched in Oboth.

* Chap. 33, 43.

11 ¶ And they departed from Oboth, and pitched ‖ in Ie-abarim, in the wildernesse, which is before Moab on East side.

‖ Or, in the heapes of Abarim, or hils.

12 ¶ They removed thence, and pitched upon the river of Zared.

13 ¶ Thence they departed, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wildernesse, and commeth out of the coasts of the Amorites: (for Arnon is the boader of Moab, betweene the Moabites and the Amorites,)

14 Wherefore it shall be spoken in the [e] booke of the battels of the Lord, ‖ what thing he did in the red sea, and in the rivers of Arnon, e Which seemeth to be the booke of the Iudges, or as some thinke, a booke which is lost.

‖ Or, (How God destroyed) Vahab (the citie) with a whirlewinde and the valley of Arnon.

15 And at the streame of the rivers that goeth downe to the dwelling of Ar, and lieth upon the border of Moab.

16 ¶ And from thence they turned to Beer: the same is the well where the Lord said unto Moses, Assemble the people, and I will give them water.

17 ¶ Then Israel sang this song, Rise up ‖ well, [f] sing ye unto it.

‖ Or, spring. f Ye that receive the commoditie thereof, give praise for it.

18 ¶ The princes digged this well, the captaines of the people digged it, euen the [g] lawgiuer, with their staves. And from the wildernesse they came to Mattanah, g Moses and Aaron heads of the people onely smote the rocke with the rod or staffe, which gave water as a well that were deepe digged.

19 ¶ And from Mattanah to Nahaliel, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth, 20 ¶ And from Bamoth in the valley, that is in the plaine of Moab, to the top of Pisgah, that looketh toward Ieshimon.

21 ¶ Then Israel sent messengers unto Sihon, king of the Amorites, saying, 22 * Let me go thorow thy land: we will not turne aside into the fieldes, nor into the vineyards, neither drinke of the waters of the welles: we will goe by the kings way, vntill wee be past thy countrey.

* Deut. 2, 26. Iudg. 11, 19.

23 * But Sihon gave Israel no license to passe thorow his countrey, but Sihon assembled all his people, and went out against Israel into the wildernes, and he came to Iahoz, and fought against Israel.

* Deut. 29, 7.

24 * But Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and conquered his land, from Arnon unto [h] Iabok, even unto the children of Ammon, for the border of the children of Ammon was [i] strong.

* Iosh. 12, 2. Psal. 135, 11. amos 2, 9.

h The river.

i For the people were tall and strong like giants, Deut. 2, 20.

25 And Israel tooke all these cities, and dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites in Heshbon, and in all the † villages thereof.

26 For [k] Heshbon was the citie of Sihon the king of the Amorites, which had fought beforetime against the king of the Moabites, and had taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Arnon.

k For if it had beene the Moabites, the Israelites might not have possessed it, Deut. 2, 9.

27 Wherefore they that speake in proverbs, say, Come to Heshbon, let the citie of Sihon be built and repaired:

28 For ‖ a fire is gone out of Heshbon, and a flame from the citie of Sihon, and hath consumed Ar of the Moabites, and the lords of Bameth in Arnon.

‖ Meaning, want.

29 Wo be to thee, Moab: O people of [m] Chemosh, thou art vndone: he hath suffred his sonnes to be pursued, and his daughters take in captivity to Sihon the king of the Amorites.

m Chemosh was the idole of the Moabites, 1. King. 11, 33. who was not able to defend his worshippers, which tooke the idole for their father.

30 Their † empire also is lost from Heshbon unto Dibon, and we have destroyed them unto Nophah, which reacheth unto Medeba.

31 ¶ Thus Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorites.

32 And Moses sent to search out Iaazer, and they tooke the townes belonging thereto, and rooted out the Amorites that were there.

33 ¶ * And they turned, and went up toward Bashan: and Og the king of Bashan came out against them, hee, and all his people, to fight at Edrei.

* Deut. 3, 1. and 29, 7.

34 Then the Lord said unto Moses, Feare him not: for I have delivered him into thine hand, and all his people, and his land: * and thou shalt doe to him as thou diddest unto Sihon the king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.

* Psal. 35, 22.

35 They smote him therefore, and his sonnes, and all his people, vntill there was none left him: so they conquered his land.

CHAP. XXII.

1 King Balak sendeth for Balaam to curse the Israelites. 12 The Lord forbiddeth him to goe. 22 The Angel of the Lord meeteth him, and his asse speaketh. 38 Balaam protesteth that hee will speake nothing, but that which the Lord putteth in his mouth.

AFter, the children of Israel departed and pitched in the plaine of Moab on the [a] other side of Iorden from Iericho.

a Being at Iericho, it was beyond Iorden: but where the Israelites were, it was on this side.

2 ‖ Now Balak the sonne of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.

† Or, was vexed.

3 And the Moabites were sore afraid of the people, because they were many, and Moab ‖ fretted against the children of Israel.

4 Therefore Moab said unto the [b] Elders of Midian, Now shall this multitude licke up all that are round about us, as an oxe licketh up the grasse of the field: and Balak the sonne of Zippor was King of the Moabites at that time.

b Which were the heads and governours.

5 * He sent messengers therefore unto Balaam the sonne of Beor to Pethor (which is by the [c] river of the land of the children of his folke) to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, which cover the face of the earth, and lie over against me.

* Iosh. 24. 9.

c To wit, Euphrates upon the which stood this citie Pethor.

6 Come now therefore, I pray thee, and curse me this people (for they are stronger then I) so it may be that I shallbe able to smite them, and to drive them out of the land: for I know that hee, whom thou blessest, is blessed, and he whom thou curssest, shallbe cursed.

7 And the Elders of Moab, and the Elders of Midian departed, having [d] the rewward of the soothsaying in their hand, and they came unto Balaam, and told him the words of Balak.

d Thinking to bribe him with gifts to curse the Israelites.

8 Who answered them, Tary here this night, and I will give you an answere, as the Lord shall say unto me. So [e] the princes of Moab abode with Balaam.

e Whom before he called Elders: meaning the governours, and after calleth them servants: that is, subiects to their king.

9 Then God came unto Balaam, and said, What men are these with thee?

10 And Balaam sayd unto God, Balak the sonne of Zippor king of Moab hath sent unto me, saying, 11 Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, and covereth the face of the earth: come now, curse them for my sake: so it may be that I shallbe able to overcome them in battell, and to drive them out.

12 And God [f] said unto Balaam, Goe not thou with them, neither curse the people, for they are blessed.

f He warned him by a dreame, that he should not consent to the kings wicked request.

13 And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Balak, Returne unto your land: for the Lord hath refused to give [g] me leave to goe with you.

g Els he shewed himselfe willing, covetousnesse had so blinded his heart.

14 So the princes of Moab rose up, and went unto Balak, and said, Balaam hath refused to come with us.

15 Balak yet sent againe more princes, and more honourable then they.

16 Who came to Balaam, and said to him, Thus sayth Balak the sonne of Zippor, [h] Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from comming unto me.

h The wicked seeke by all meanes to further their naughtie enterprises, though they know that God is against them.

17 For I will promote thee unto great honour, and will doe whatsoever thou sayest unto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Balaam answered, and said unto the servants of Balak, * If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the Lord my God, to doe lesse or more.

* Chap. 24, 13.

19 But now, I pray you, tary here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord will say unto mee i more.

i Because he tempted God to requite him contrary to his commandement, his petition was granted, but it turned to his owne condemnation.

20 And God came unto Balaam by night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and goe with them: but onely what thing I say unto thee, that shalt thou doe.

21 So Balaam rose up early, and sadled his asse, and went with the princes of Moab.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he [k] went: and the Angel of the Lord stood in the way to be against him, as hee rode upon his asse, and his two servants were with him.

k Mooved rather with covetousnes, then to obey God.

23 And * when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord stand in the way, and his sword drawen in his hand, the asse turned out of the way, and went into the field, but Balaam smote the asse to turne her into the way.

* 2. Pet. 2, 16. Iude 11.

24 ‖ Againe the Angel of the Lord stood in a path of the vineyards, having a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other.

‖ The second time.

25 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe unto the wall, and dasht Balaams foote against the wall: wherefore hee smote her againe.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turne, either to the right hand, or the left.

27 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, shee ‖ lay downe vnder Balaam: therefore Balaam was very wroth, and smote the asse with a staffe.

‖ Or, fell.

28 Then the Lord [m] opened the mouth of the asse, and she said unto Balaam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me now three times?

m Gave her power to speake.

29 And Balaam said unto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, for now would I kill thee.

30 And the asse said unto Balaam, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden upon [n] since thy first time unto this day? have I used at any time, to doe thus unto thee? Who said, Nay.

n Since thou hast bene my master.

31 And the Lord [o] opened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the Angel of the Lord standing in the way with his sword drawen in his hand: then he bowed himselfe, and fell flat on his face.

o For whose eyes the Lord doeth not open, they can neither see his anger, nor his love.

32 And the Angel of the Lord said unto him, Wherefore hast thou now smitten thine asse three times? behold, I came out to withstand thee, because thy [p] way is not straight before me.

p Both thy heart is corrupt, and thine enterprise wicked.

33 But the asse saw me, and turned from me now three times: for else, if she had not turned from me, surely I had even now slaine thee, and saved her alive.

34 Then Balaam said unto the Angel of the Lord, I have sinned: for I wist not that thou stoodest in the way ‖ against me: now therefore if it displease thee, I will turne † home againe.

‖ Or, before me, or to meete me.

† Ebr. I will returne to mee.

35 But the Angel said unto Balaam, Goe with the men: but [q] what I say unto thee, that shalt thou speake. So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

q Because his heart was evill, his charge was renewed, that he should not pretend ignorance.

36 And when Balak heard that Balaam came, hee went out to meete him unto a city of Moab, which is in the [r] border of Arnon, even in the vtmost coast.

r Neere the place where the Israelites camped.

37 Then Balak said unto Balaam, Did not I send for thee to call thee? Wherefore camest thou not unto me? am I not able in deed to promote thee unto honour?

38 And Balaam made anſwere unto Balak, Lo, I am come unto thee, and can I now ſay [f] any thing at all? the worde that God putteth in my mouth that ſhall I ſpeake.

39 So Balaam went with Balak, and they came unto the city of Huzoth.

40 Then Balak offered bullockes, and ſheepe, and ſent thereof to Balaam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And on the morrow Balak tooke Balaam and brought him up into the hie places of [t] Baal, that thence hee might ſee the utmoſt part of the people.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Balaam cauſeth ſeven altars to be built. 5 God teacheth him what to anſwere. 9 Inſtead of curſing hee bleſſeth Iſrael. 19 God is not lik a man.

AND Balaam ſaid unto Balak, Build mee here ſeven altars, and prepare me here ſeven bullockes, and ſeven rammes.

2 And Balak did as Balaam ſaid, and [a] Balak and Balaam offered on every altar a bullocke and a ramme.

3 Then Balaam ſaid unto Balak, Stand by thy burnt offerings, and I will goe, if ſo be that the Lord will come and meete mee: and whatſoever he ſheweth me, I will tell thee: ſo he ‖ went forth alone.

4 And God [b] met Balaam, and Balaam ſaid unto him, I have prepared ſeven altars, and have offered upon every altar a bullocke and a ramme.

5 And the Lord [c] put an anſwere in Balaams mouth, and ſaid, Goe againe to Balak, and ſay on this wiſe.

6 So when hee turned unto him, loe, hee ſtood by his burnt offering, hee, and all the princes of Moab.

7 Then he uttered his ‖ parable, and ſaid, Balak the king of Moab hath brought mee from ‖ Aram out of the mountaines of the Eaſt, ſaying, Come, curſe Iaakob for my ſake: come, and [d] deteſt Iſrael.

8 How ſhall I curſe, where God hath not curſed? or how ſhall I deteſt, where the Lord hath not deteſted?

9 For from the toppe of the rockes I did ſee him, and from the hilles I did beheld him: loe, the people ſhall dwell by themſelves, and ſhall not be reckoned among the [e] nations.

10 Who can tell the [f] duſt of Iaakob, and the number of the fourth part of Iſrael? Let me [g] die the death of the righteous, and let my laſt end be like his.

11 Then Balak ſaid unto Balaam, What haſt thou done unto mee? I tooke thee to curſe mine enemies, and behold, thou haſt bleſſed them altogether.

12 And he anſwered, and ſaid, Muſt I not take heede to ſpeake that, which the Lord hath put in my mouth?

13 And Balak ſaid unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, whence thou mayeſt ſee them, and thou ſhalt ſee but the utmoſt part of them and ſhalt not ſee them all: therefore curſe them out of that place for my ſake.

14 ¶ And he brought him into ‖ Sede-ſophim to the top of Piſgah, and built ſeven altars, and offered a bullocke and a ramme on every altar.

15 After, hee ſaid unto Balak, Stand here by thy burnt offering, and I will meete the Lord yonder, 16 And the Lord met Balaam, and * put an anſwere in his mouth, and ſaid, Go againe unto Balak, and ſay thus. * Chap.22.35.

17 And when hee came to him, beholde, hee ſtood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab with him: ſo Balak ſaid unto him, What hath the Lord ſaid?

18 And he uttered his parable, and ſaid, Riſe up Balak, and heare: hearken unto me, thou ſonne of Zippor.

19 [h] God is not as man, that he ſhould lie, neither as the ſonne of man, that hee ſhould repent: hath he ſaid, and ſhall he not doe it? and hath he ſpoken, and ſhall he not accompliſh it? h Gods enemies are compelled to confeſſe that his governement is iuſt conſtant, and without change or repentance.

20 Behold, I have received commandement to bleſſe: for he hath bleſſed, and I cannot alter it.

21 Hee ſeeth none iniquitie in Iaakob, nor ſeeth no tranſgreſſion in Iſrael: the Lord his God is with him, and the ‖ ioyfull ſhout of a King is among them. ‖ They triumph as victorious kings over their enemies.

22 God brought them out of Egypt: their ſtrength is as an unicorne.

23 For there is no ſorcerie in Iaakob, nor ſoothſaying in Iſrael, [k] according to this time it ſhall be ſaid of Iaakob and of Iſrael, What hath God wrought? k Conſidering what God ſhall worke this time for the deliverance of his people, all the world ſhall wonder.

24 Behold, the people ſhall riſe up as a lyon, and lift up himſelfe as a yong lyon: hee ſhall not lye downe, till hee eate of the pray, and till hee drinke the blood of the ſlaine.

25 Then Balak ſaid unto Balaam, Neither curſe, nor bleſſe them at all.

26 But Balaam anſwered, and ſaid unto Balak, Tolde not I thee, ſaying, All that the Lord ſpeaketh, that muſt I doe?

27 ¶ Againe Balak ſaid unto Balaam, Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee unto another [l] place, if ſo be it will pleaſe God, that thou mayeſt thence curſe them for my ſake. l Thus the wicked imagine of God, that that which he will not grant in one place, he will doe it in another.

28 So Balak brought Balaam unto the top of Peor, that looketh toward Ieſhmon.

29 Then Balaam ſaid unto Balak, Make me here ſeven altars, and prepare me here ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rammes.

30 And Balak did as Balaam had ſaid, and offered a bullocke and a ramme on every altar.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Balaam propheſied of the great proſperitie that ſhould come unto Iſrael. 17 Alſo of the comming of Chriſt. 20 The deſtruction of the Amalekites, and of the Kenites.

WHen Balaam ſaw that it pleaſed the Lord to bleſſe Iſrael, then he went not, * as certaine times before, to ſee divinations, but ſet his face toward the [a] wilderneſſe. * Chap.23.3.15. a Where the Iſraelites camped.

2 And Balaam lift up his eyes, and looked upon Iſrael, which dwelt according to their tribes, and the Spirit of God came upon him.

3 * And he uttered his parable, and ſaid, Balaam the ſonne of Beor hath ſaid, and the man whoſe eyes [b] were ſhut up, hath ſaid, * Chap.23.7.18. b His eyes were ſhut up before in reſpect of the cleare viſions which he ſaw after: ſome reade, were open.

4 Hee hath ſaid which heard the wordes of God, and ſaw the viſion of the Almightie, and [c] falling in a traunce had his eyes opened: c Though he lay as in a ſleepe, yet the eyes of his mind were open.

5 ¶ How goodly are thy tents, O Iaakob, and thine habitations, O Iſrael! ‖ Or, tents.

6 As the valleys are they ſtretched foorth, as gardens by the rivers ſide, as the ‖ aloe-trees, which the Lord hath planted, as the cedars beſide the waters.

10 Then Balak was very angry with Balaam, and f smote his hands together: so Balak sayd vnto Balaam, I sent for thee to curse mine enemies, and behold, thou hast blessed them now three times.

11 Therefore now flee vnto thy place: I thought surely to promote thee vnto honour, but loe, the g Lord hath kept thee backe from honour.

g Thus the wicked burden God when they cannot compasse their wicked enterprises.

12 Then Balaam answered Balak, Told I not also thy messengers, which thou sentest vnto me, saying,

13 If Balak would give mee his house full of silver and gold, I cannot passe the commandement of the Lord, to doe either good or bad of mine owne mind: what the Lord shall command, that same will I speake.

14 And now behold, I goe vnto my people: come, I will † h aduertise thee what this people shall do to thy folke in the latter dayes.

h He gave also wicked counsell to cause the Israelites to sinne, that thereby God might forsake them, Chap. 31,16.

15 And he vttered his parable, and sayd, Balaam the sonne of Beor hath sayd, and the man whose eyes were shut vp hath sayd,

16 He hath said that heard the words of God, and hath the knowledge of the most High, and saw the vision of the Almighty, and falling in a trance had his eyes opened:

17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not neere: there shall come a i Starre of Iaakob, and a Scepter shall rise of Israel, and shall smite the k coastes of Moab, and destroy all the sonnes of l Sheth.

i Meaning, Christ.

k That is, the princes.

19 Hee also that shall have dominion shall be of Iaakob, and shall destroy the remnant of the m citie.

m Of the Edomites.

20 ¶ And when he looked on Amalek, he vttered his parable, and sayd, Amalek vvas the n first of the nation: but his latter end shall come to destruction.

n The Amalekites first made warre against Israel, as Chap.14.45.

21 And hee looked on the ‖ Kenites, and vttered his parable, and sayd, Strong is thy dwelling place, and o put thy nest in the rocke:

‖ Or, Midianites.

o Make thy selfe as strong as thou canst.

22 Nevertheless, ‖ the Kenite shallbe spoyled, vntill Asshur cary thee away captiue.

‖ Or, then Kain shalt.

23 Againe he vttered his parable, and said, Alas, p who shall liue when God doth this?

p Some reade, Oh who shall not perish when the enemie, that is, Antichrist, shall set himselfe vp as God?

24 The ships also shall come from the coastes of q Chittim, and subdue Asshur, and shall subdue Eber, and r hee also shall come to destruction.

15 ¶ Then Moses spake vnto the Lord, saying,

16 Let the Lord God of the d spirits of all flesh appoint a man over the Congregation.

d Who as hee hath created, so he governeth the hearts of all men.

17 Who may e goe out and in before them, and lead them out and in, that the Congregation of the Lord be not as sheepe, which have not a shepheard.

e That is, governe them and doe his duety, as 2.Chron.1,10.

18 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Take thee Ioshua the sonne of Nun, in whom is the Spirit, and f put thine hands vpon him, f And so appoint him governour.

19 And set him before Eleazar the Priest, and before all the Congregation, and give him a charge in their sight.

20 And g give him of thy glory, that all the Congregation of the children of Israel may obey.

g Commend him to the people as meete for the office and appointed by God.

21 And hee shall stand before Eleazar the Priest, who shall aske counsell for him * by the h judgement of Urim before the Lord : at his worde they shall go out, and at his worde they shall come in, both hee, and all the children of Israel with him, and all the Congregation.

* Exod.28.30.

h According to his office: signifying that the civill magistrate could execute nothing but that which he knew to be the will of God.

22 So Moses did as the Lord hath commanded him, and he tooke Ioshua, and set him before Eleazar the Priest, and before all the Congregation.

23 Then he put his hands vpon him, and gave him a i charge, as the Lord had spoken by the hand of Moses.

i How he should governe himselfe in his office.

CHAP. XXX.

3 Concerning vowes. 4 The vow of the maide. 7 Of the wife. 10 Of the widow or divorced.

THen Moses spake unto the children of Israel according to all that the Lord had commanded † him.

† Ebr. Moses.

2 Moses also spake unto the heads of the tribes a concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, a Because they might declare them to the Israelites.

3 Whosoever voweth a vow unto the Lord, or sweareth an oath to bind † himselfe by a bond, hee shall not † breake his promise, but shall doe according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

4 If a woman also vow a vow unto the Lord, and bind her selfe by a bond, being in her fathers house, in the time of her youth,

5 And her father heare her vowe and bond, wherewith shee hath bound her selfe, and her father hold his b peace concerning her, then all her vowes shall stand and every bond, wherewith she hath bound her selfe, shall stand.

b For in so doing he doth approove her.

6 But if her c father disallow her the same day that hee heareth all her vowes and bonds, wherewith shee hath bound her selfe, they shall not be of value, and the Lord will forgive her, because her father disallowed her.

c By not approoving or consenting to her vowes.

7 And if she have an husband when she voweth or d pronounceth ought with her lips, wherewith she bindeth her selfe, d Either by oath, or solemne promise.

8 If her husband heard it, and holdeth his peace concerning her, the same day he heareth it, then her vow shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bindeth her selfe shall stand in effect.

9 But if her husband disallow her the same day that hee heareth it, then shall hee make her vow which shee hath made, and that that shee hath pronounced with her lips, wherewith shee bound her e selfe, of none effect: and the Lord will forgive her.

e For she is in subjection to her husband, and can performe nothing without his consent.

10 But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced (wherewith she hath bound her selfe) shall stand in f effect with her.

f For they are not under the authoritie of the man.

11 And

g Her husband being alive.

11 And if ſhe vowed in her huſbands g houſe, or bound her ſelfe ſtraitly with an oathe:

12 And her husband hath heard it, and helde his peace concerning her, not diſallowing her, then all her vowes ſhall ſtand, and every bond, wherewith ſhee bound herſelfe, ſhall ſtand in effect.

13 But if her husband diſanulled them the ſame day that hee heard them, nothing that proceeded out of her lips concerning her vowes or concerning † her bonds, ſhall ſtand in effect: for her husband hath diſanulled them, and the Lord wil forgive her.

† Ebr. the bonds of her ſoule.

h To mortifie her ſelfe by abſtinence or other bodily exerciſe.

14 So every vowe, and every oathe or bond, made to h humble the ſoule, her husband may ſtabliſh it, or her husband may breake it.

i And warne her not the ſame day that he heareth it, as verſe 9.

15 But if her husband hold his peace concerning her from i day to day, then he ſtabliſheth all her vowes and all her bondes which ſhee hath made: he hath confirmed them becauſe he helde his peace concerning her the ſame day that hee heard them.

k Not the ſame day hee heard them, but ſome day after, the ſinne ſhalbe imputed to him and not to her.

16 But if hee k breake them after that he hath heard them, then ſhall he beare her iniquitie.

17 Theſe are the ordinances which the Lord commanded Moſes, betweene a man and his wife, and betweene the father and his daughter, being young in her fathers houſe.

CHAP. XXXI.

8 Five Kings of Midian and Balaam are ſlaine. 18 Onely the maides are reſerved alive. 27 The pray is equally divided. 50 A preſent given of Iſrael.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 * Revenge the children of Iſrael of the Midianites, and afterward thou ſhalt be * gathered unto thy people.

* Chap. 25. 17.
* Chap. 27. 13.

3 And Moſes ſpake to the people, ſaying, Harneſſe ſome of you unto warre, and let them goe againſt Midian, to execute the vengeance of the Lord a againſt Midian.

a As he had commanded, Chap. 25. 17. declaring alſo that the injurie done againſt his people is done againſt him.

4 A thouſand of every tribe throughout all the tribes of Iſrael ſhall ye ſend to the warre.

5 So there were taken out of the thouſands of Iſrael, twelve thouſand prepared unto warre, of every tribe a thouſand.

6 And Moſes ſent them to the warre, even a thouſand of every tribe, and ſent them with b Phinehas the ſonne of Eleazar the Prieſt to the warre: and the holy inſtruments, that is, the trumpets to blow vvere in his hand.

b For his great zeale that he bare to the Lord, Chap. 25. 13.

7 And they warred againſt Midian, as the Lord had commanded Moſes, and ſlewe all the males.

8 They ſlew alſo the kings of Midian among them that were ſlaine: * Evi, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, five kings of Midian, and they ſlewe c Balaam the ſonne of Beor with the ſword.

* Joſh. 13. 21.

c The falſe prophet who gave counſell how to cauſe the Iſraelites to offend their God.

9 But the children of Iſrael tooke the women of Midian priſoners, and their children, and ſpoyled all their cattell, and all their flockes, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities, wherein they dwelt, and all their ‖ villages with fire.

‖ Or, palaces and gorgeous buildings.

11 And they tooke all the ſpoyle, and all the pray both of men and beaſts.

12 And they brought the d captives and that which they had taken, and the ſpoyle unto Moſes and to Eleazar the Prieſt, and unto the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, into the campe in the plaine of Moab, which was by Iorden tovvard Iericho.

d As the women and litle children.

13 ¶ Then Moſes and Eleazar the Prieſt, and all the princes of the Congregation went out of the campe to meete them.

14 And Moſes was angry with the captaines of the hoaſte, with the captaines over thouſands, and captaines over hundreds, which came from the warre and battell.

15 And Moſes ſayd unto them, What? have ye ſaved all the e women?

e As though he ſayd, ye ought to have feared none.

16 Behold, * theſe cauſed the children of Iſrael through the * counſell of Balaam to commit a treſpaſſe againſt the Lord, f as concerning Peor, and there came a plague among the Congregation of the Lord.

* Chap. 25. 2.
* 2. Pet. 2. 15.
f For worſhipping of Peor.

17 Now therefore, * ſlay all the males among the g children, and kill all the women that have knowen man by carnall copulation.

* Iudg. 21. 11.
g That is, all the men-children.

18 But all the women-children that have not knowen carnall copulation, keepe alive for your ſelves.

19 And ye ſhall remaine without the hoaſte ſeven dayes, all that have killed any perſon, * and all that have touched any dead, and purifie both your ſelves and your priſoners the third day and the ſeventh.

* Chap. 19. 11.

20 Alſoo ye ſhall purifie every garment and all that is made of skinnes, and all worke of goates-haire, and all things made of wood.

21 ¶ And Eleazar the Prieſt ſayd unto the men of warre, which went to the battell, This is the ordinance ‖ of the Law which the Lord * commanded Moſes.

‖ Or, contained in the law.
* Chap. 19. 12.

22 As for golde, and ſilver, braſſe, yron, tinne, and lead:

23 Even all that may abide the fire, yee ſhall make it go through the fire, and it ſhalbe cleane: yet, it ſhalbe h purified with * the water of purification: and all that ſuffereth not the fire, ye ſhall cauſe to paſſe by the i water.

h The third day and before it be molten.
* Chap. 19. 9.
i It ſhalbe waſhed.

24 Yee ſhall waſh alſo your cloathes the ſeventh day, and ye ſhalbe cleane: and after ward yee ſhall come into the hoaſte.

25 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

26 Take the ſumme of the pray that was taken, both of perſons and of cattell, thou and Eleazar the Prieſt, and the chiefe fathers of the Congregation.

27 And divide the pray ‖ betweene the ſouldiers that went to the warre, and all the congregation.

‖ The pray is firſt divided equally among all.

28 And thou ſhalt take a tribute unto the Lord of the k men of warre, which went out to battell: one perſon of five hundreth, both of the perſons, and of the beeves, and of the aſſes, and of the ſheepe.

k Of the pray that falleth to the ſouldiers.

29 Ye ſhall take it of their halfe, and give it unto Eleazar the Prieſt, as an heave-offering of the Lord.

30 But of the halfe of the children of Iſrael thou ſhalt take l one, taken out of fiftie, both of the perſons, of the beeves, of the aſſes, and of the ſheepe, even of all the cattell, and thou ſhalt give them unto the Levites, which have the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord.

l The Iſraelites which had not beene at warre, of every fiftieth paid one to the Lord: and the ſouldiers one of every five hundreth.

31 And Moſes and Eleazar the Prieſt did as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

32 And the bootie, to vvit, the reſt of the pray which the men of warre had ſpoyled, was ſixe hundreth ſeventie and five thouſand ſheepe, 33 And ſeventie and two thouſand beeves.

34 And

34 And threescore and one thousand asses.
35 And two and thirty thousand persons in all, of women that had † lien by no man.

† Hebr. not knowen the bed of man.

36 And the halfe, to wit, the part of them that went out to warre, touching the number of sheepe, was three hundreth seven and thirtie thousand, and five hundreth.
37 And the [m] Lords tribute of the sheepe was sixe hundreth seventy and five.

m This is the portion that the souldiers gave to the Lord.

38 And the beeves were sixe and thirty thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was seventy and two.
39 And the asses were thirty thousand and five hundreth, whereof the Lords tribute was threescore and one:
40 And [n] of persons sixteene thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was two and thirty persons.

n Meaning, of the maides, or virgins which had not companied with man.

41 And Moses gave the tribute of the Lords offering vnto Eleazar the Priest, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
42 And of the [o] halfe of the children of Israel, which Moses divided from the men of warre.

o Of that part which was given vnto them in dividing the spoyle.

43 (For the halfe that perteined vnto the congregation, was three hundreth thirty and seven thousand sheepe and five hundreth, 44 And sixe and thirty thousand beeves.
45 And thirty thousand asses, and five hundreth
46 And sixteene thousand persons,)
47 Moses, I say, tooke of the halfe that perteined vnto the [p] children of Israel, one taken out of fiftie, both of the persons, and of the cattell, and gave them vnto the Levites, which have the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

p Which had not bene at warre.

48 † Then the captaines which were over thousands of the hoaste, the captaines over the thousands, and the captaines over the hundreths came vnto Moses:
49 And sayd to Moses, Thy servants have taken the summe of the men of warre which are vnder † our authority, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

† Hebr. vnder our hands.

50 [q] We have therefore brought a present vnto the Lord, what every man found of Iewels of gold, bracelets, and chaines, rings, eare-rings, and ornaments of the legs, to make an atonement for our soules before the Lord.

q The captaines by the free offering acknowledge the great benefit of God in preserving his people.

51 And Moses and Eleazar the Priest tooke the gold of them, and all wrought jewels.
52 And all the gold of the offering that they offered vp to the Lord (of the captaines over thousands and hundreds) was sixteene thousand seven hundreth and fiftie shekels.
53 (For the men of warre had spoyled, every man for him [r] selfe.)

r And gave no portion to their captaines.

54 And Moses and Eleazar the Priest tooke the gold of the captaines over the thousands, and ouer the hundreths, and brought it vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for a [s] memoriall of the children of Israel before the Lord.

s That the Lord might remember the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXXII.

The request of the Reubenites and Gadites. 16 and their promise vnto Moses. 20 Moses graunteth their request. 33 The Gadites, Reubenites, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh, conquere and build cities on this side Iorden.

NOw the children of [a] Reuben, and the children of Gad had an exceeding great multitude of cattell: and they saw the land of Iazer, and the land of [b] Gilead, that it was an apt place for cattell.

a Reuben came of Leah, and Gad of Zilpah her handmayde.
b Which mountaine was so named of the heape of stones that Iaakob made as a signe of the covenant betweene him and Laban, Gen. 31, 47.

2 Then the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben came, and spake vnto Moses and to Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the Princes of the Congregation, saying,
3 The land of Ataroth, and Dibon, and Iazer, and Nimrah, and Heshbon, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Nebo, and Beon,
4 Which countrey the Lord smote before the Congregation of Israel, is a land meete for cattell, and thy servants have cattell.
5 Wherefore, sayd they, if wee have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given vnto thy servants for a possession, and bring us not over Iorden.
6 And Moses said vnto the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren goe to warre, and ye tary here?
7 Wherefore now † discourage you the heart of the children of Israel to go over into the land, which the Lord hath given them?

† Hebr. breake.

8 Thus did your fathers, when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land.
9 For * when they went vp even vnto the ‖ river of Eshcol, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the children of Israel, that they would not goe into the land, which the Lord had given them.

* Chap. 13. 24. ‖ Or, valley.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the same day, and he did sweare, saying,
11 † None of the men that came out of Egypt, * from twenty yeare olde and above, shall see the land for the which I sweare vnto Abraham, to Izhak, and to Iaakob, because they have not ‖ wholy followed me:

† Hebr. if any of the men. * Chap. 14. 28, 29. ‖ Or, perfected and continued.

12 Except Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh the Kenesite, and Ioshua the sonne of Nun: for they have constantly followed the Lord.
13 And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and made him wander in the wildernesse fourtie yeares, untill all the generation that had done [c] evill in the sight of the Lord, was consumed.

c Because they murmured, neither would beleeve their report, which told the truth concerning the land.

14 And behold, ye are risen vp in your fathers stead as an increase of sinfull men still to augment the fierce wrath of the Lord toward Israel.
15 For if ye turne away from following him, hee will yet againe leave the people in the wildernesse, and [d] ye shall destroy all this folke.

d By your occasion.

16 And they went neare to him, and sayd, We will build sheepefolds heere for our sheepe, and for our cattell, and cities for our children.
17 But wee our selves will be ready armed to goe before the children of Israel, vntill we have brought them vnto their [e] place: but our children shall dwell in the defenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

e In the land of Canaan.

18 We will not returne vnto our houses, vntill the children of Israel have inherited, every man his inheritance.
19 Neither will we inherit with them beyond Iorden and on that side, because our inheritance is fallen to us on this side Iorden Eastward.
20 ¶ * And Moses sayd vnto them, If ye will doe this thing, and goe armed before the Lord to warre:

* Ios. 1. 13. f Before the Ark of the Lord.

21 And will goe every one of you in harnesse over Iorden before the Lord, vntill he have cast out his enemies from his sight:
22 And vntill the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shall returne and be innocent toward the Lord, and toward Israel: and this land shall be your possession [h] before the Lord.

g That is, the inhabitants of the land.
h The Lord will graunt you this land which ye require, Iosh. 1. 15.

23 But if yee will not doe so, behold, yee have sinned sinned against the Lord, and beſure, that your ſinne i will finde you out.

i Ye ſhall aſſuredly be puniſhed for your ſinne.

24 Build you then cities for your children, and foldes for your sheepe, and doe that yee have ſpoken.

25 Then the children of Gad and the children of Reuben ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying, Thy ſervants will doe as my lord commanded:

26 Our children, our wives, our ſheep, & all our cattell ſhall remaine there in the cities of Gilead, 27 But * thy ſervants will go every one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord ſayth.

* Ioſh. 4,12.

28 So concerning them, Moſes k commanded Eleazar the Prieſt, and Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun, and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Iſrael.

k Moſes gave charge that his promiſe made to the Reubenites, and others ſhould be performed after his death, ſo that they brake not theirs.

29 And Moſes ſayd vnto them, If the children of Gad and the children of Reuben will go with you over Iorden, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is ſubdued before you, ye ſhall give them the land of Gilead for a poſſeſſion:

30 But if they will not goe over with you armed, then they ſhall have their poſſeſſions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben anſwered, ſaying, As the l Lord hath ſayd vnto thy ſervants, ſo will we doe.

l This is attributed to the Lord, which his meſſenger ſpeaketh.

32 We will go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the poſſeſſion of our inheritance may be to us on this ſide Iorden.

33 * So Moſes gave vnto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and to halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh the ſonne of Ioſeph, the kingdome of Sihon king of the m Amorites, and the kingdome of Og king of Baſhan, the land with the cities thereof and coaſts, even the cities of the countrey round about.

* Deut. 3,12. Ioſh. 13,8. and 22,4.

m The Amorites dwelled on both ſides of Iorden: but here he maketh mention of them that dwelt on this ſide: and Ioſh. 10, 12. hee ſpeaketh of them that inhabited beyond Iorden.

34 ¶ Then the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, 35 And Atroth, Shophan, and Iazer, and Iogbehah,

36 And Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran, defenced cities: alſo ſheepefolds.

37 And the children of Reuben built Heſhbon, and Elealch, and Kiriathaim, 38 And Nebo, and Baalmeon, and turned their names, and Sibmah: and gave other names vnto the cities which they built.

* Gen. 50,23.

39 And the children * of Machir the ſonne of Manaſſeh went to Gilead, and tooke it, and put out the Amorites that dwelt therein.

40 Then Moſes gave Gilead vnto Machir the ſonne of Manaſſeh, and he dwelt therein.

* Deut. 3,14.

41 * And Iair the ſonne of Manaſſeh went and tooke the ſmall townes thereof, and called them n Havoth-Iair.

n That is the villages of Iair.

42 Alſo Nobah went and tooke Kenath, with the villages thereof, and called it Nobah after his owne name.

3 The coaſts and borders of the land of Canaan. 17 Certain men are aſſigned to divide the land.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Command the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, When yee come in the land of Canaan, this is the [a] land that ſhall fall unto your inheritance: that is, the land of Canaan with the coaſts thereof.

a Meaning, the deſcription of the land.

3 * And your South-quarter ſhall be from the wilderneſſe of Zin to the borders of Edom: ſo that your South-quarter ſhall bee from the ſalt Sea coaſt Eaſtward.

* Ioſh.15.1.

4 And the border ſhall compaſſe you from the South to ‖ Maaleh-akrabbim, and reach to Zin, and goe out from the South to Kadeſh-barnea: thence it ſhall ſtretch to Hazar-adder, and goe along to Azmon.

‖ Or, aſcending up of ſcorpions.

5 And the border ſhall compaſſe from Azmon unto the [b] river of Egypt, and ſhall goe out to the ſea.

b Which was Nilus, or as ſome thinke, Rhinocorura.

6 And your Weſt quarter ſhall be the great ſea: even that border ſhall be your Weſt coaſt.

c Which is called Mediterraneum.

7 And this ſhall be your North quarter, yee ſhall marke out your border from the great Sea unto mount [d] Hor.

d Which is a mountaine neere Tyre and Sydon, and not that Hor in the wildernesſe where Aaron died.

8 From mount Hor yee ſhall point out till it come unto Hamath, and the end of the coaſts ſhall be at Zedad.

9 And the coaſt ſhall reach out to Ziphron, and go out at Hazar-enan, this ſhall be your North quarter.

10 And yee ſhall marke out your Eaſt quarter from Hazar-enan to Shepham.

11 And the coaſt ſhal goe downe from Shepham to Riblah, and from the Eaſt ſide of Ain: and the ſame border ſhall deſcend and goe out at the ſide of the ſea of [e] Chinnereth Eaſtward.

e Which in the Goſpel is called the lake of Genezareth.

12 Alſo that border ſhall goe downe to Iorden, and leave at the ſalt ſea: this ſhalbe your land with the coaſts thereof round about.

13 ¶ Then Moſes commanded the children of Iſrael, ſaying, This is the land which ye ſhall inherit by lot, which the Lord commanded to give unto nine tribes, and halfe the tribe.

14 * For the tribe of the children of Reuben, according to the houſholds of their fathers, and the tribe of the children of Gad, according to their fathers houſholds, and halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh have receeived their inheritance.

* Chap.32.33. Ioſh.14.2.3.

15 Two tribes and an halfe tribe have receeived their inheritance on this ſide of Iorden toward Iericho full Eaſt.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord ſpake to Moſes, ſaying,

17 Theſe are the names of the men which ſhall divide the land unto you: * Eleazar the Prieſt, and Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun.

* Ioſh.19.51.

18 And yee ſhall take alſo a [f] prince of every tribe to divide the Land.

f One of the heads or chiefe men of every tribe.

19 The names alſo of the men are theſe: Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh.

20 And of the tribe of the ſonnes of Simeon, Shemuel the ſonne of Ammihud.

21 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the ſonne of Chiſlon.

22 Alſo of the tribe of the ſonnes of Dan, the prince Bukki, the ſonne of Iogli.

23 Of the ſonnes of Ioſeph: of the tribe of the ſonnes of Manaſſeh, the prince Hanniel the ſonne of Ephod.

24 And of the tribe of the ſonnes of Ephraim, the Prince Kemuel, the ſonne of Shiphtan.

25 Of the tribe alſo of the ſonnes of Zebulun, the prince Eliziphan, the ſonne of Parnach.

26 So of the tribe of the ſonnes of Iſſachar, the prince Pakiel, the ſonne of Azzan.

27 Of the tribe alſo of the ſonnes of Aſher, the prince Ahihud, the ſonne of Schelomi.

g And he judges over every piece of ground that ſhould fall to any by lot, to the intent that all things might be done orderly and without contention.

28 And of the tribe of the ſonnes of Naphtali, the prince of Pedahel, the ſonne of Ammihud.

29 Theſe are they, whom the Lord commanded to g divide the inheritance unto the children of Iſrael, in the land of Canaan.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Vnto the Levites are given cities and ſuburbs. 11 The cities of refuge. 16 The lawe of murther. 30 For one mans witneſſe ſhall no man be condemned.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes in the plaine of Moab by Iorden, toward Iericho, ſaying, 2 * Command the children of Iſrael, that they give unto the [a] Levites of the inheritance of their poſſeſſion, [b] cities to dwell in: yee ſhall give alſo unto the Levites the ſuburbs of the cities round about them.

* Ioſh.21.2.
a Becauſe they had no inheritance aſſigned them in the land of Canaan.
b God would have them ſcattered thorow all the land, becauſe the people might be preſerved by them in the obedience of God and his Law.

3 So they ſhall have the cities to dwell in, and their ſuburbs ſhalbe for their cattel, and for their ſubſtance, and for all their beaſts.

4 And the ſuburbs of the cities, which ye ſhall give unto the Levites, from the wall of the citie outward ſhall be a thouſand cubites round about.

c So that in all were three thouſand, and in the compaſſe of theſe two thouſand, they might plant and ſowe.

5 And yee ſhall meaſure without the citie of the Eaſt ſide, [c] two thouſand cubites: and of the South ſide, two thouſand cubites: and of the Weſt ſide, two thouſand cubites: and of the North ſide, two thouſand cubites: and the city ſhalbe in the mids: this ſhall be the meaſure of the ſuburbs of their cities.

d Meaning, from the next of the kinred, who ought to purſue the cauſe.

12 And theſe cities ſhalbe for you a refuge from thy d avenger, that he which killeth, die not, vntill he ſtand before the Congregation in iudgement.

g That is, with a bigge and dangerous ſtone: in Ebr. with a ſtone of his hand.

17 Alſo if hee ſmite him by caſting a g ſtone, wherewith he may be ſlaine, and hee die, hee is a murtherer, and the murtherer ſhall die the death.
18 Or if he ſmite him with an hand-weapon of wood, wherewith he may be ſlaine, if he die, he is a murtherer, and the murtherer ſhall die the death.

h That is, his next kinſman.

25 And the Congregation ſhall deliuer the ſlayer out of the hand of the auenger of blood, and the Congregation ſhall reſtore him vnto the citie of his refuge, whither hee was fled: and he ſhall abide there vnto ¶ death of the i hie Prieſt, which is anoynted with the holy oyle.

i Vnder this figure is declared, that our ſinnes could not be remitted, but by the death of the hie Prieſt Ieſus Chriſt.

26 But if the ſlayer come without the borders of the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled, 27 And the reuenger of blood finde him without the borders of the citie of his refuge, & the reuēger of blood ſlay ¶ k murtherer, he ſhalbe giltles.

k By the ſentence of the Iudge.

28 Becauſe he ſhould haue remained in the citie of his refuge, vntill the death of the hie Prieſt: and after the death of the hie Prieſt, the ſlayer ſhall returne vnto the land of his poſſeſſion.
29 So theſe things ſhall be a l lawe of iudgement vnto you, throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

l A lawe to iudge murthers done either of purpoſe, or vnadviſedly.

30 Whoſoeuer killeth any perſon, ¶ Iudge ſhall ſlay the murtherer, through * witneſſes: but * one witneſſe ſhall not teſtifie againſt a perſon to cauſe him to die.

* Deut. 17, 6. and 9, 15. † Matth. 18, 16. 2 Corinth. 13, 1.

31 ¶ Moreouer ye ſhall take no recompenſe for the life of the murtherer, which is m worthy to die: but he ſhall be put to death.

m Which purpoſely hath committed murther.

32 Alſo ye ſhall take no recompenſe for him that is fledde to the citie of his refuge, that hee ſhould come againe, and dwell in the land, before the death of the hie Prieſt.
33 So ye ſhall not pollute the land wherein ye ſhall dwell: for † blood defileth the land: and the land cannot be n cleanſed of the blood that is ſhed therein, but by the blood of him that ſhed it.

† Or, murther.

34 Defile not therefore the land which yee ſhall inhabite, for I dwell in the middes thereof: For I the Lord dwell among ¶ children of Iſrael.

n So God is mindfull of the blood wrongfully ſhed, that he maketh his dumbe creatures to demaund vengeance thereof.

CHAP. XXXVI.

An order for the marriage of the daughters of Zelophehad.

a It ſeemeth that the tribes contended who might marry theſe daughters to haue their inheritance: and therefore the ſonnes of Ioſeph propoſed the matter to Moſes.

THen the chiefe fathers of the familie of the ſonnes of Gilead, the ſonne of Machir, the ſonne of Manaſſeh, of the families of the ſonnes of Ioſeph, came, and ſpake before Moſes, & before the princes ¶ chiefe fathers of the children of Iſrael, 2 And ſayde, * The Lord commanded b my Lord to giue the land to inherit by lot to the children of Iſrael: and my lord was commanded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters, c Chap. 27, 1. Ioſh. 17, 3.

b Meaning, Moſes.

3 If they be married to any of the ſonnes of the other tribes of the children of Iſrael, then ſhall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, and ſhalbe put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they ſhalbe: ſo ſhall it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.
4 Alſo when the c Iubile of the children of Iſrael commeth, then ſhall their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they ſhall be: ſo ſhall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

c Signifying that in no time it could returne, for in the Iubile all things returned to their owne tribes.

5 Then Moſes commanded the children of Iſrael, according to the word of the Lord, ſaying, The tribe of the ſonnes of Ioſeph haue ſaid d wel.

d For the tribe could not haue continued, if the inheritance which was the maintenance thereof ſhould haue beene alienated to others.

6 This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, ſaying, They ſhall be wiues, to whom they thinke beſt, onely to the familie of the tribe of their father ſhall they marry:
7 So ſhall not the inheritance of the children of Iſrael remooue from tribe to tribe, for euery one of the children of Iſrael ſhall ioyne himſelfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

e When there is no male to inherite.

8 And euery daughter that poſſeſſeth any inheritance of the tribes of the children of Iſrael, ſhalbe wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the children of Iſrael may enioy euery man the inheritance of their fathers.
9 Neither ſhall the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euery one of the tribes of the childrē of Iſrael ſhall ſticke to his own inheritance.
10 As the Lord commanded Moſes, ſo did the daughters of Zelophehad.
11 For * Mahlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Noah the daughters of Zelophehad were maried vnto their fathers brothers ſonnes.

* Chap. 27, 1.

12 They were wiues to certaine of the families of the ſonnes of Manaſſeh the ſonne of Ioſeph: ſo their inheritance remained in the tribe of the familie of their father.
13 Theſe are the f commandements and lawes, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moſes, vnto the children of Iſrael in the plaine of Moab, by Iorden reward Iericho.

f Touching the ceremoniall and iudiciall lawes.

THE FIFTH BOOKE OF MOSES, CALLED *DEUTERONOMIE.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe vvonderfull love of God towarde his Church is lively set foorth in this booke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundry rebellions against God, for the space of fortie yeeres, Deut. 9 7. they had deserved to have beene cut off from the number of his people, and for ever to have beene deprived of the use of his holy vvord and sacraments: yet he did ever preserve his Church even for his owne mercies sake, and vvould still have his name called upon among them. VVherefore he bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giveth them their countrey, townes and goods, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (vvhose infidelitie, idolatry, adulteries, murmerings and rebellions, hee had most sharpely punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace, and keepe his lavv vvithout adding thereunto or diminishing therefrom. For by his vvord he vvould be knowen to be their God, and they his people, by his vvord he vvould governe his Church, and by the same they should learne to obey him: by his vvord he vvould discerne the false prophet from the true, light from darkenesse, ignorance from knowledge, and his owne people from all the other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish vvhatsoever is not agreable to his holy vvill, seeme it otherwise never so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise up Kings and governours, for the setting forth of his vvord and preservation of his Church: giving unto them an especiall charge for the executing thereof: vvhom therefore he vvilleth to exercise themselves diligently in the continuall study and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lord, love their subiects, abhorre coveteousnesse and vice, and vvhatsoever offendeth the majestie of God. And as he had before instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, both to his spirituall service, and also for the maintenance of that societie vvhich is betweene men: so hee prescribeth here anevv, all such lavves and ordinances, vvhich either concerne his Divine service, or els are necessarie for a common-vveale: appoynting unto every estate and degree their charge and duety: asvvell, hovv to rule and live in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship tovvard their neighbours, and to preserve that order vvhich God hath established among men: threatning vvithall most horrible plagues to them that transgresse his commandements, and promising all blessings and felicity to such as obserue and obey them.

* That is, a second law: so called, because the Law which God gave in mount Sinai, is here repeated, as though it were a new Law: and this booke is a commentarie or expositon of the ten commandements.

CHAP. I.

1 A briefe rehearsall of things done before, from Horeb vnto Kadesh-barnea. 32 Moses reproveth the people for their incredulitie. 44 The Israelites are ouercome by the Amorites because they fought against the commandement of the Lord.

THese be the wordes which Moses spake unto all Israel, on [a] this side Iorden in the wilderneſſe, in the plaine, [b] over against the red sea, betweene Paran and Tophell, and Laban, and Hazeroth, and Di-zahab.

2 There are eleven dayes iourney from [c] Horeb unto Kadesh-barnea, by the way of mount Seir.

3 And it came to passe in the first day of the eleventh moneth, in the fourtieth yeere that Moses spake unto the children of Israel according unto all that the Lord hath given him in commandement unto them.

4 After that he had slaine [d] * Sihon the King of the Amorites which dwelt [h] in Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, which dwelt at Ashtaroth in Edrei.

5 On this side Iorden at the land of Moab [e] began Moses to declare this lawe, saying,

6 The Lord our God spake unto us in [f] Horeb, saying, Ye have dwelt long enough in this mount.

7 Turne you and depart, and goe unto the mountaine of the Amorites, and unto all places neare thereunto in the plaine, in the mountaine, or in the valey: both Southward, and to the Sea side to the land of the Canaanites, and unto Lebanon: even unto the great river, the river [‖] Perah.

8 Beholde, I have set the land before you: go in and * possesse that land which the Lord sware unto your fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob, to give unto them and unto their seed after them.

9 ¶ And I spake [g] unto you the same time, saying, I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:

10 The Lord your God hath [h] multiplied you: and beholde, ye are this day as the starres of heaven in number.

11 (The Lord God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many moe as ye are, and blesse you, as he hath promised you.)

12 How can I alone [i] beare your cumbrance and your charge, and your strife?

13 Bring you men of wisedome and of understanding, and [k] knowne among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you:

14 Then he answered me and said, the thing is good that thou hast commanded us to doe.

15 So I tooke the chiefe of your tribes, [l] wise and knowne men, and made them rulers over you, captaines over thousands, and captaines over hundreds, and captaines over fiftie, and captaines over tenne, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your Iudges that same time, saying, Heare the controversies betweene your brethren, and * iudge righteously betweene every man and his brother, & the stranger [ŷ] is with him.

17 Ye shall have no respect of person in iudgement, * but shall heare the small as well as the great: ye shall not feare the face of man: for the iudgement is [m] Gods: and the cause that is too hard for you bring unto mee, and I will heare it.

18 Also I commanded you the same time all the things which ye should doe.

19 ¶ Then we departed from Horeb, and went through all that great and terrible wilderneſſe (as ye have seene) by the way of the mount Aine of the Amorites, as the Lord our God commanded us: and we came to Kadesh-barnea.

20 And * I saide unto you, Ye are come unto the mountaine of the Amorites, which the Lord our God doeth give unto us.

21 Behold, the Lord thy God hath layde the land before thee: goe up and possesse it, as the Lord the God of thy fathers hath saide unto thee: feare not, neither be discouraged.

28 Whither ſhall we goe up, our ʳ brethren have diſcouraged our hearte, ſaying, The people is greater, and taller then wee: the cities are great and walled up to heaven: and moreover wee have ſeene the ſonnes of the * Anakims there.

29 But I ſayd unto you, Dread not, nor bee afrayd of them.

34 Then the Lord heard the voyce of your wordes, and was wroth, and ſware, ſaying,

35 * Surely there ſhall not one of theſe men of this froward generation, ſee that good land, which I ſware to give unto your fathers, 36 Save Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh: hee ſhall ſee it, * and to him will I give the land that he hath troden upon, and to his children, becauſe he hath conſtantly followed the Lord.

37 * Alſo the Lord was angry with me for your ſakes, ſaying, * Thou alſo ſhalt not goe in thither, 38 But Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun which ſtandeth ᵗ before thee, he ſhall go in thither: encourage him: for he ſhall cauſe Iſrael to inherit it.

39 Moreover, your ᵘ children, which ye ſayde ſhould be a praye, and your ſonnes, which in that day had no knowledge betweene good and evill, they ſhall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they ſhall poſſeſſe it.

40 But as for you, turne backe, and take your iourney into the wildernesse by the way of the red Sea.

41 Then ye anſwered and ſaid unto me, We have ſinned againſt the Lord, ˣ we will go up, and fight according to all that the Lord our God hath commanded us: and ye armed you every man to the warre, and were ready to go up into ʸ mountaine.

42 But the Lord ſaid unto me, Say unto them, Goe not up, neither fight, (for I am ʸ not among you) leaſt ye fall before your enemies.

43 And when I told you, ye would not heare, but rebelled againſt the commandement of the Lord, and were preſumptuous, and went up into the mountaine.

44 Then the Amorites which dwelt in that mountaine came out againſt you, and chaſed you (as bees uſe to doe) and deſtroyed you in Seir, even unto Hormah.

45 And when ye came againe, ye wept before the Lord, but the Lord would not ᶻ heare your voyce, nor incline his eares unto you.

46 So ye abode in Kadeſh a long time, according to the time that ye had remained before.

4 Iſrael is forbidden to fight with the Edomites. 9 Moabites, 19 and Ammonites. 23 Sihon King of Heſhbon.

THen ᵃ we turned, and tooke our iourney into the wildernesse, by the way of the red Sea, as the Lord ſpake unto mee: and wee compaſſed mount Seir ᵇ long time.

4 And warne thou the people, ſaying, Yee ſhall go through the ᶜ coaſt of your brethren the children of Eſau, which dwell in Seir, and they ſhall be afrayd of you: take ye good heede therefore.

8 And when we were departed from our brethren the children of Eſau which dwelt in Seir: through the way of the ‖ plaine, from Elath, and from Ezion-gaber, wee turned and went by the way of the wilderneſſe of Moab.

21 A people that was great, and many, and tall, as the Anakims: but the Lord destroyed them before them, and they succeeded them in their inheritance, and dwelt in their stead.

25 This day will I l begin to send thy feare and thy dread, upon all people under the whole heaven, which shall heare thy fame, and shall tremble and quake before thee.
26 Then I sent messengers out of the wildernesse of Kedemoth unto Sihon King of Heshbon, with wordes of peace, saying,
27 ¶ * Let mee passe thorow thy land: I will go by the hie way: I will neither turne unto the right hand nor to the left.
28 Thou shalt sell me meate for money, for to eate, and shalt give mee water for money for to drinke: onely I will goe thorow on my foote, 31 And the Lord said unto mee, Beholde, I have begun to give Sihon and his land before thee: begin to possesse and inherite his land.

32 * Then came out Sihon to meete us, himselfe with all his people to fight at Iahaz.
33 But the Lord our God delivered him † into our power, and we smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people.

THen wee turned, and went up by the way of Bashan: * and Og King of Bashan a came out against us, he and all his people to fight at Edrei.
2 And the Lord sayde unto me, Feare him not, for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land into thine hand, and thou shalt doe unto him as thou diddest unto * Sihon King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.

1 God humbleth the Israelites to trie what they have in their heart. 5 God chastiseth them as his children. 14 The heart ought not to be proude of Gods benefites. 19 The forget fulnesse of Gods benefites causeth destruction.

YE shall keepe all the commandements which I command thee this day, for a to doe them: that ye may live, and be multiplied, and goe in, and possesse the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers.

a Shewing that it is not enough to heare the word, except we expresse it by example of life.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee this fourtie yeere in the wildernesse, for to humble thee, & to b prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements or no.

b Which is declared in afflictions, either by patience, or by grudging against Gods visitation.

3 Therefore he humbled thee, and made thee hungry, and fed thee with MAN, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know it, that he might teach thee that man lived not by c bread onely, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth a man live.

c Man liveth not by meat onely, but by the power of God, which giveth it strength to nourish us.

* Exod. 16, 15.

17 Beware least thou say in thine heart, My power, and the strength of mine owne hand hath prepared me this abundance.

18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is hee which i giveth thee power to get substance to establish his covenant which hee sware unto thy fathers, as appeareth this day.

i If things concerning this life, proceede onely of Gods mercye: much more spirituall gifties and life everlasting.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I k testifie unto you this day, that yee shall surely perish.

k Or take to witnesse the heaven and the earth, as Chap. 4. 26.

20 As the nations which the Lord destroyeth before you, so ye shall perish, because ye would not be obedient unto the voyce of the Lord your God.

CHAP. IX.

1 God doth not them good for their owne righteousnesse, but for his owne sake. 7 Moses putteth them in remembrance of their sinnes. 17 The two Tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

HEare, O Israel, thou shalt passe over Iorden a this day, to goe in and to possesse nations greater and mightier then thy selfe, and cities great and walled up to heaven, a Meaning shortly.

2 A people great and tall, even the children of the Anakims, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast b heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak?

b By the reporte of the spies. Num. 13. 26.

3 Understand therefore that this day the Lord thy God is hee which c goeth over before thee as a consuming fire: he shall destroy them, and hee shall bring them downe before thy face: so thou shalt cast them out and destroy them suddenly, as the Lord hath said unto thee.

c To guide thee and governe thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart (after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out before thee) saying, For my d righteousnesse the Lord hath brought mee in, to possesse this land: but for the wickednesse of these nations, the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

d Man of himselfe can deserve nothing but Gods anger, and if God spare any it commeth of his great mercy.

5 For thou entrest not to inherite their land for thy righteousnesse, or for thy upright heart, but for the wickednes of those nations, ỹ Lord thy God doth cast them out before thee, and that he might performe the word which the Lord thy God sware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

6 Vnderstand therefore, that the Lord thy God giveth thee not this good land to possesse it for thy righteousnes: for thou art a e stiffenecked people.

e Like stubborne oxen which will not endure their maysters yoke.

7 ¶ Remember and forget not, how thou provokedst the Lord thy God to anger in the wildernes: sfince the day that thou diddest depart out of the land of Egypt, untill yee came into this place, yee have rebelled against the Lord.

f Hee prooveth by the length of time, that their rebellions was most greate and intolerable.

8 Also in Horeb ye provoked the Lord to anger, so that the Lord was wroth with you, even to destroy you.

9 When I was gone up into the mount, to receive the Tables of stone, the Tables I say, of the Covenant, which the Lord made with you, and * I abode in ỹ mount fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, and I neither ate bread nor yet dranke water:

* Exod. 24. 18. and 34. 28.

10 * Then the Lord delivered me two tables of stone written with the g finger of God, and in them was conteyned according to all the wordes which the Lord had said unto you in the mount out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the assembly.

g That is, miraculously, and not by the hand of man.

11 And when the fourtie dayes and fourtie nightes were ended, the Lord gave mee the two tables of stone, the tables, I say, of the covenant.

12 And the Lord said unto me, * Arise, get thee downe quickly from hence: for thy people which thou

* Exod. 32. 7.

thou haſt brought out of Egypt, haue h corrupt their wayes: they are ſoone turned out of the way which I commanded them, they haue made them a molten image.

13 Furthermore the Lord ſpake unto me, ſaying, I haue ſeene this people, and behold, it is a ſtiffenecked people.

14 i Let mee alone, that I may deſtroy them, and put out their name from under heaven, and I will make of thee a mightie nation and greater then they be.

15 So I returned, and came downe from the mount (and the mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the Couenant were in my two hands.)

16 Then I looked, and behold, yee had ſinned againſt the Lord your God, for ye had made you a molten calfe, and had turned quickly out of the k way which the Lord had commanded you.

17 Therefore I tooke the two Tables, and caſt them out of my two handes, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I fell downe before the Lord, fourtie dayes, and fourty nights, as before: I neither ate bread nor dranke water, becauſe of all your ſinnes which yee had committed, in doing wickedly in the ſight of the Lord, in that yee prouoked him unto wrath, 19 (For I was afraid of the wrath and indignation, wherewith the Lord was mooued againſt you, euen to deſtroy you) yet the Lord heard mee at that time alſo.

20 Likewiſe the Lord was very angry with Aaron, euen to l deſtroy him: but at that time I prayed alſo for Aaron.

21 And I tooke your ſinne, I meane the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, and ſtamped him and ground him ſmall, euen unto very duſt: and I caſt the duſt thereof into the riuer, that deſcended out of the m mount.

22 Alſo *in Taberah, and in *Maſſah, *and in Kibroth-hattaauah ye prouoked the Lord to anger.

23 Likewiſe when the Lord ſent you from Kadeſh-barnea, ſaying, Go up, and poſſeſſe the land which I haue giuen you, then ye n rebelled againſt the commandement of the Lord your God, and beleeued him not, nor hearkened unto his voyce.

24 Ye haue bene rebellious unto the Lord, ſince the day that I knew you.

25 Then I fell downe before the Lord o fourty dayes, and fourty nights, as I fell downe before, becauſe § Lord had ſaid that he would deſtroy you.

26 And I prayed unto the Lord, and ſaid, O Lord God, deſtroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou haſt redeemed through thy greatnes, whom thou haſt brought out of Egypt by a mighty hand.

27 p Remember thy ſeruants Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob: looke not to the ſtubburneſſe of this people, nor to their wickednes, nor to their ſinne, 28 Leſt the country whence thou broughteſt them, ſay, *Becauſe the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which hee promiſed them, or becauſe he hated them, he caried them out to ſlay them in the wilderues.

29 Yet they are thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughteſt out by thy mighty power, and by thy ſtretched out arme.

§ The ſecond Tables put in the Arke. 8 The tribe of Levi is dedicate to the ſeruice of the Tabernacle. 12 What the Lord requireth of his. 16 The circumciſion of the heart. 17 God regardeth not the perſon. 21 The Lord is the praiſe of Iſrael.

IN the ſame time the Lord ſaid unto mee, * Hew thee two tables of ſtone like unto the firſt, and come up unto me into the mount, and make thee an Arke of wood,

2 And I will write upon the tables, the words that were upon the firſt Tables, which thou brakeſt, and thou ſhalt put them in the Arke.

3 And I made an Arke of a Shittim wood, and hewed two tables of ſtone like unto the firſt, and went up into the mountaine, and the two Tables in mine hand.

4 Then he wrote upon the Tables according to the firſt writing, (the tenne commandements, which the Lord ſpake unto you in the mount out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the b aſſembly) and the Lord gaue them unto me.

5 And I departed and came downe from the Mount, and put the Tables in the Arke which I had made: and there they bee, as the Lord commanded me.

6 ¶ And the children of Iſrael tooke their iourney from Beeroth of the children of Iaakan, to c Mosera, where Aaron died, and was buried, and Eleazar his ſonne became Prieſt in his ſtead.

7 ¶ From thence they departed unto Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Iorbath, a land of running waters.

8 ¶ The ſame time the Lord ſeparated the tribe of Levi to beare the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, and to ſtand before the Lord, to d miniſter unto him, and to bleſſe in his Name unto this day.

9 Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren: for the Lord is his e inheritance, as the Lord thy God hath promiſed him,

10 And I taried in the mount, as at the firſt time, fourty dayes and fourty nights, and the Lord heard mee at that time alſo, and the Lord would not deſtroy thee.

11 But the Lord ſaid unto me, Ariſe, goe forth in the iourney before the people, that they may goe in and poſſeſſe the land, which I ſware unto their fathers to giue unto them.

12 ¶ And now Iſrael, what doth the Lord thy God f require of thee, but to feare the Lord thy God, to walke in all his wayes, and to loue him, and to ſerue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſoule?

13 That thou keepe the commandements of the Lord and his ordinances, which I command thee this day, for thy wealth?

14 Behold, heauen, and the heauen of heauens is the Lords thy God, and the * earth, with all that therein is.

15 g Notwithſtanding, the Lord ſet his delight in thy fathers to loue them, and did chuſe their ſeede after them, euen you aboue all people, as appeareth this day.

16 h Circumciſe therefore the foreskin of your heart, and harden your neckes no more.

17 For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, mightie and terrible, which accepteth no * perſons, nor taketh reward:

18 Who doeth right unto the fatherleſſe and widow, and loueth the ſtranger, giuing him food and raiment.

19 Loue ye therefore the ſtranger: for ye were ſtrangers in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XI.

1 An exhortation to love God, and keepe his law. 10 The praise of Canaan. 18 To meditate continually the word of God. 19 To teach it unto the children. 26 Blessing and cursing.

THerefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God and shalt keepe that, which he commandeth to be kept: that is, his ordinances, and his lawes and his commandements alway.

2 And [a] consider this day (for I speake not to your children, which have neither knowen nor seene) the chastisements of the Lord your God, his greatnesse, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arme.

3 And his signes, and his actes, which he did in the middes of Egypt, unto Pharaoh the King of Egypt and unto all his land:

4 And what hee did unto the hoste of the Egyptians, unto their horses, and to their charets, when he caused the waters of the red Sea to overflowe them, as they pursued after you, and ☞ Lord destroyed them unto this day:

5 And [b] what he did unto you in the wildernesse, until ye came unto this place:

6 And what he did unto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Reuben, when the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them with their household, and their tents, and all their substance that † they had in the middes of all Israel.

7 For your eyes have seene all the great actes of the Lord which he did.

8 Therefore shall ye keepe [c] all the commandements, which I command you this day, that ye may be strong, and goe in and possesse the land whither ye goe to possesse it:

9 Also that ye may prolong your dayes in the land, which the Lord sware unto your fathers, to give unto them and to their seede, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 ¶ For the land whither thou goest to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence ye came, where thou sowedst thy seede, and wateredst it with thy ‖ [d] feete as a garden of herbes:

11 But the land whither ye goe to possesse it, is a land of mountaines and valleys, and drinketh water of the raine of heaven.

12 This land doth the Lord thy God care for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are alwayes upon it, from the beginning of the yeere, even unto the ende of the yeere.

13 ¶ If yee shall hearken therefore unto my commandements, which I commaund you this day, that ye love the Lord your God and serve him with all your heart, and with all your ☞ soule, 14 I also will give raine unto your land in due time, [e] the first raine and the latter, that thou mayest gather in thy wheate, and thy wine, and thine oyle.

15 Also I will send grasse in thy fields for thy cattell, that thou mayest eate, and have ynough.

16 But beware least your heart [f] deceive you, and least ye turne aside, and serve other gods, and worship them.

17 And so the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be noe raine, and that your land yeelde not her fruite, and ye perish quickely from the good land, which the Lord giveth you.

18 ¶ Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soule, and * binde them for a signe upon your hand, that they may be as a frontlet betweene your eyes, 19 And ye shall * teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest up.

20 And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thine house, and upon thy gates, 21 That your dayes may be multiplyed, and the dayes of your children, in the land which ☞ Lord sware unto your fathers to give them, as long as the heavens are above the earth.

22 ¶ For if ye keepe diligently all these Commandements, which I command you to doe that is, to love the Lord your God, to walke in all his wayes, and cleave unto him, 23 Then will the Lord cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall possesse great nations and mightier then you.

24 * All the places whereon the soles of [h] your feete shall tread, shalbe yours: your coast shalbe frō the wildernesse and from Lebanon, & frō ☞ River even the river Perath, unto the uttermost [i] Sea.

25 No man shall stand against you: for the Lord your God shall cast the feare and dreade of you upon all the land that yee shall treade upon, as he hath saide unto you.

26 ¶ Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 * The blessing, if you obey the commandements of the Lord your God, which I commande you this day:

28 And the * curse, if ye will not obey the Commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way, which I command you this day, to go after other gods which ye have not [k] knowne.

29 ¶ When the Lord thy God therefore hath brought thee into the land, whither thou goest to possesse it, then thou shalt put the * blessing upon mount Gerizim, and the curse upon mount Eball.

30 Are they not beyond Iorden on that part, [l] where the Sunne goeth downe in the land of the Canaanites, which dwell in the plaine over against Gilgall, beside ‖ the grove of Moreh?

31 For yee shall passe over Iorden, to goe in to possesse that land which ☞ Lord your God giveth you, and ye shall possesse it, and dwell therein.

32 Take heede therefore that ye * doe all the commandements and the lawes, which I set before you this day.

THese are the ordinances and the lawes, which ye shall observe and doe in the land, (which the Lord God [a] of thy fathers giveth thee to possesse it) as long as ye live upon the earth.

2 * Yee shall utterly destroy all the places wherein the nations which ye shall possesse, served their gods upon the high mountaines, and upon the hilles, and under every greene tree.

4 Ye shall c not do so unto the Lord your God,

5 But ye shall seeke the place which the Lord your God shall * choose out of your tribes, to put his Name there, and there to dwell, nd thither thou shalt come,

6 And ye shall bring thither your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the d offring of your hands, and your vowes, and your free offrings, and the first borne of your kine and of your sheepe.

7 And there yee shall eate e before the Lord your God, and ye shall reioyce in all that ye put your hand unto, both ye, and your households, because the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Yee shall not doe after all these things that we doe f here this day: that is, every man whatsoever seemeth him good in his owne eyes.

9 For ye are not yet come to rest, and to the inheritance which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

10 But when ye go over Iorden, and dwell in the land, which the Lord your God hath given you to inherit, and when he hath given you grest from all your enemies round about, and ye dwell in safetie,

11 When there shalbe a place which the Lord your good shall chuse, to cause his name to dwell there, thither shall ye bring all that I commaund you: your burnt offrings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the offring of your hands, and all your ‖ speciall vowes which ye vowe unto the Lord:

12 And yee shall reioyce before the Lord your God, ye, and your sonnes and your daughters, and your servants, and your maidens, and the Levite that is within your gates: * for hee hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 Take heede that thou offer not thy burnt offrings in every place that thou seest:

14 But in the place which the Lord shall h chuse in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offrings, and there thou shalt doe all that I command thee.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eate flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever thine heart desireth according to the i blessing of the Lord thy God which he had given thee: both the uncleane and the cleane may eate thereof, k as of the roe bucke, and of the hart.

16 Onely ye shall not eat the blood, but powre it upon the earth as water.

17 ¶ Thou maiest not eat within thy gates the l tithe of thy corne, nor of thy wine, nor of thine oyle, nor the first borne of thy kine, nor of thy sheepe, neither any of thy vowes which thou vowest, nor thy free offerings, nor the offering of thine hands,

18 But thou shalt eat it before the Lord thy God, in the place which the Lord thy God shall chuse, thou and thy sonne, & thy daughter, and thy servant, and thy maid, and the Levite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt reioyce before the Lord thy God, in all that thou putteste thine hand to.

19 * Beware, that thou forsake not the Levite, as long as thou livest upon the earth.

20 ¶ When the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as * he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh (because thine heart longeth to eate flesh) thou mayest eate flesh, whatsoever thine heart desireth.

21 If the place which the Lord thy God hath choſen to put his Name there, be farre from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy bullockes, and of thy sheep which the Lord hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eate in thy gates, whatsoever thine heart desireth.

22 But as the roe bucke, and the hart is eaten, so shalt thou eat them: both the uncleane and the cleane shall eate of them alike.

23 Onely bee † sure that thou eate not the blood: for the blood m is the life, and thou mayest not eate the life with the flesh.

24 Therefore thou shalt not eate it, but powre it upon the earth as water.

25 Thou shalt not eate it, that it may goe well with thee, and ỹ thy childrē after thee, when thou shalt do ỹ which is right in the sight of the Lord:

26 But thine n holy things which thou hast, and thy vowes thou shalt take up, and come unto the place which the Lord shall chuse.

27 And thou shalt make thy burnt offerings of the flesh, and of the blood upon the altar of the Lord thy God, and the blood of thine o ferings shall be powred upon the altar of the Lord thy God, and thou shalt eate the flesh.

28 Take heede, and heare all these wordes which I commaunde thee, that it may goe o well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the Lord thy God.

29 ¶ When the Lord thy God shall destroy the nations before thee, whither thou goest to possesse them, and thou shalt possesse them and dwell in their land, 30 Beware, lest thou be taken in p snare after them, after ỹ they be destroyed before thee, & lest thou aske after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods, that I may do so likewise?

31 Thou shalt not doe so unto the Lord thy God: for all abomination, which the Lord hateth, have they done unto their gods: for they have q burned both their sonnes and their daughters with fire to their gods.

32 Therefore whatsoever I commaund you, take heede you doe it: * thou shalt put nothing thereto, nor take ought therefrom.

13 ¶ Thou shalt g observe the feast of the Tabernacles seven dayes, when thou hast gathered in thy corne, and thy wine, 14 And thou shalt rejoyce in thy feast, thou and thy sonne, and thy daughter, and thy servant, and thy maid, and the Levite, & the stranger, & the fatherlesse, & the widow, that are within thy gates.

15 Seven dayes shalt thou keepe a feast unto the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall chuse: when the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all thine increase, and in all the workes of thine hands, thou shalt in any case be glad.

* Exod. 23.17. and 34.23.

16 ¶ * Three times in the yeere shall all the males appeare before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall chuse: in the feast of the unleavened bread, and in the feast of the weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacle: and they shall not appeare before the Lord * emptie.

18 ¶ Iudges and officers shalt thou make thee in all thy cities, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, throughout thy tribes: and they shall iudge the people with righteous iudgement.

19 Wrest not thou the Law, nor respect any person, neither take reward: for ỹ reward blindeth the eies of the wise, and perverteth the words of ỹ just.

20 That which k is just and right shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and possesse the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

k The magistrate must constantly followe the tenour of the Lawe, and in noting decline from iustice.

8 ¶ If there rise a matter too hard for thee in iudgement betweene blood and blood, betweene plea and plea, betweene plague, and plague, in the matter of controversie within thy gates, then shalt thou arise, and goe up unto the place which the Lord thy God shall chuse,

9 And thou shalt come unto the Priests of the Levites, and unto the f Iudge that shall be in those dayes, and aske, and they shall shewe thee the sentence of iudgement, f Who shall give sentence as the Priests counsell him by the Lawe of God.

10 And thou shalt do according to that thing, which they of that place (which the Lord hath chosen) shew thee, and thou shalt observe to doe according to all that they informe thee.

11 According to the Lawe, which they shall teach thee, and according to the iudgement which they shall tell thee, shalt g thou doe: thou shalt not decline from the thing which they shalt shew thee, neither to the right hand, nor the left.

g Thou shalt obey their sentence that the controversie may have an end.

12 And that man that will doe presumptuously, not hearkening unto the Priest (that standeth before the Lord thy God to h minister there) or unto the Iudge, that man shall die, and thou shalt take away evill from Israel.

3 ¶ And this shalbe the Priests duetie of the people, that they which offer sacrifice, whether it be bullocke or sheepe, shall give unto the Priest the [b] shoulder, and the two cheekes, and the maw.

[b] The right shoulder, Num.18.18.

4 The first fruites also of thy corne, of thy wine, and of thine oyle, and the first of the fleece of thy sheepe shalt thou given him.

5 For the Lord thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand and minister in the Name of the Lord, him, and his sonnes for ever.

6 ¶ Also when a Levite shalt come out of any of thy cities of all Israel, where he remained, and come with [c] all the desire of his heart unto the place, which the Lord shall chuse, [c] Meaning, to serve God unfainedly, and not to seeke ease.

7 Hee shall then minister in the Name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites, which remaine there before the Lord.

[d] Not constrained to live of himselfe.

8 They shall have like portions to eate beside that which commeth of the sale of his patrimony.

18 * I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren like unto thee, and will put my wordes in his mouth, and he shall speake unto them all that I shall commanded him.

19 And whosoever will not hearken unto my wordes, which he shall speake in my Name, I will [i] require it of him.

[i] By executing punishment upon him.

20 But the Prophet that shall presume to speake a word in my name, which I have not commanded him to speake, or that speaketh in my name of other gods, even the same Prophet shall die.

21 And if thou chinke in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord hath not spoken?

[k] Under this sentence he compriseth all the other tokens.

22 When a Prophet speaketh in the Name of the Lord, if the thing [k] followe not nor come to passe, ỹ is the thing which the Lord hath not spoken, but the Prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: thou shalt not therefore be afraid of him.

3 Thou shalt [a] prepare thee the way, and divide the coastes of the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherite, into three partes, that every [b] manslayer may flee thither.

[a] Make an open and ready way.
[b] Which killeth against his will, and bare no hatred in his heart.

4 ¶ This also is the cause wherfore the manslayer shall flee thither, & live: who so killeth his neighbour ignorantly, and hated him not in time passed:

5 As he that goeth unto the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand striketh with the axe to cut downe ỹ tree, if the head slip from the helve, and hit his neighbour that he dieth, the same [c] shall flee unto one of the cities, and live,

[c] That murther be not committed upon murther.

6 Least the * avenger of the bloode followe after the manslayer while his heart is chafed, and overtake him, because the way is long, and slay him, although he be not [l] worthy of death, because he hated him not in time passed.

* Num.35.12.
[l] Or, cannot be judged to death.

7 Wherefore I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt appoint out three cities for thee.

8 And when the Lord thy God [d] enlargeth thy coasts (as he hath ỹsworne unto thy fathers) and giveth thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers, [d] When thou goest over Iorden to possesse the whole land of Canaan.

9 (If thou keepe all these commandements to do them, which I command thee this day: to wit, that thou love the Lord thy God, & walke in his wayes for ever) * then thou shalt adde three cities moe for thee besides those three.

* Iosh.20.7.

10 That noe innocent bloode be shed within thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherite, [e] lest blood be upon thee.

[e] Lest thou be punished for innocent blood.

11 ¶ But if a man hate his neighbour, and lay waite for him, and rise against him, and smite any man that hee die, and flee unto any of these cities, 12 Then the [f] Elders of his citie shall send and fet thim thence, and deliver him to the hands of the avenger of the blood, that hee may die.

[f] The Magistrates.

13 Thine [g] eye shall not spare him, but thou shalt put away the cry of innocent blood from Israel, that it may goe well with thee.

[g] Then whosoever pardoneth murther, offendeth against the word of God.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not remoove thy neighbours marke, which they of olde time have set in thine inheritance, that thou shalt inherite in the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possesse it.

15 ¶ * One witnes shall not rise against a man for any trespasse, or for any sinne, or for any fault that he offendeth in, * but at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be stablished.

* Chap.17.9. Mat.18.16. Ioh.8.17.
* 2.Cor.13.1. Hebr.13.28.

16 ¶ If a false witnesse rise up against a man to accuse him of trespasse, 17 Then both the men which strive together, shall stand before the [h] Lord, even before the Priests & the Iudges, which shalbe in those daies.

[h] Gods presence is where his true ministers are assembled.

18 And the Iudges shall make diligent inquisition: and if the witnesse be found false, and hath given false witnesse against his brother, 19 * Then shall ye doe unto him as hee had thought to doe unto his brother: so thou shalt take evill away fooorth of the middes of thee.

* Pro.19.5. Dan.23.58.

20 And the rest shall heare this, and feare, and shall hencefoorth commit no more any such wickednesse 11 Therefore thine eye shall have no compassion, but * life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foote for foote.

CHAP. XX.

3 The exhortation of the Priest when the Israelites goe to battell. 5 The exhortation of the officers shewing who should goe to battell. 10 Peace must bee first proclaimed. 19 The trees that beare fruit must not be destroyed.

WHen [a] thou shalt goe foorth to warre against thine enemies, and shalt see horses and chariots, and people moe then thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lord thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

a Meaning, upon iust occasion: for God permitteth not his people to fight when it seemeth good to them.

2 And when ye are come neere unto the battell, then the Priest shall come forth to speake unto the people.

3 And shall say unto them, Heare, O Israel, yee are come this day unto battell against your enemies: * let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amased, nor adread of them.

* Chap.28.7.

4 For the Lord your God [b] goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, and to save you.

b Is present to defend you with his grace and power.

5 ¶ And let the officers speake unto the people, saying, What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not [c] dedicated it, let him go and returne to his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man dedicate it.

c For when they entred first to dwell in an house, they gave thankes to God, acknowledging that they had that benefite by his grace.

6 ¶ And what man is there that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not [d] eaten of the fruit? let him go to returne againe unto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another eate the fruit.

d The Ebrew word signifieth to make common or prophane, Levit.19.25.

7 And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him goe and returne againe unto his house, lest hee die in battell, and another man take her.

8 And let the officers speake further unto the people, and say, * Whosoever is afraid and faint hearted, let him goe and returne unto his house, lest his brethrens heart faint like his heart.

* Iud.7.3.

9 And after that the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, they shall make captaines of the armie to governe the people.

10 ¶ When thou commest neere unto a citie to fight against it, * thou shalt offer it peace.

* Num.21.21. chap.2.26.

11 And if it answere thee againe [e] peaceably, and open unto thee, then let all the people that is found therein, be tributaries unto thee, and serve thee.

e If it accept peace.

12 But if it will make no peace with thee, but make warre against thee, then shalt thou besiege it.

13 And the Lord thy God shall deliver it into thine hands, and thou shalt smite all the males thereof with the edge of the sword.

* Iosh.8.2.

14 Onely the women, and the children, * and the cattell, and all that is in the city, even all the spoile thereof shalt thou take unto thy selfe, and shalt eate the spoile of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God hath given thee.

15 Thus shalt thou doe unto all the cities, which are a great way off from thee, which are not of the cities of these [f] nations here.

f For God had appointed that the Canaanites should be destroyed, and made the Israelites executers of his will, chap.7.1.

16 But of the cities of this people, which the Lord thy God shall give thee to inherite, thou shalt save no person alive.

17 But shalt utterly destroy them, to wit, the Hittites, and the Amorites, the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Iebusites: as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee,

18 That they teach you not to doe [g] after their abominations, which they have done unto their gods, and so yee should sinne against the Lord your God.

g Some reade, For man shalbe in neede of the tree of the heide, to come out in the siege against thee.

19 ¶ When thou hast besieged a citie long time, and made warre against it to take it, destroy not the trees thereof, by smiting an axe into them: for thou mayest eat of them: therefore thou shalt not cut them downe to further thee in the siege, (for the tree of the field is mans life.)

20 Onely those trees which thou knowest are not for meate, those shalt thou destroy and cut downe, and make fortes against the city that maketh warre with thee untill thou subdue it.

CHAP. XXI.

2 Inquisition for murther. 11 Of the woman taken in warre. 15 The birthright cannot be changed for affection. 18 The disobedient child. 23 The body may not hang all night.

IF one bee found [a] slaine in the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possesse it, lying in the field, and it is not knowen who hath slain him, a This law declareth how horrible a thing murther is, seeing that for one man whole countrey shalbe punished, except remedie be found.

2 Then thine Elders and thy Iudges shall come forth, and measure unto the cities that are round about him that is slaine:

3 And let the Elders of that city, which is next unto the slaine man, take out of the drove an heifer that hath not bene put to labour, nor hath drawen in the yoke.

4 And let the Elders of that citie bring the heifer unto a ‖ stonie [b] valley, which is neither eared, nor sowen, and strike off the heifers necke there in the valley.

‖ Or, rough.

b That the blood shed of the innocent beasts in a filthie place, might make them abhorre the fact.

5 Also the Priests the sonnes of Levi (whom the Lord thy God hath chosen to minister, and to blesse in the Name of the Lord) shall come forth, and by their word shall all strife & plague be tried.

6 And all the Elders of that citie that came neere to the slaine man, shall wash their hands over the heifer that is beheaded in the valley:

7 And shall testifie, and say, Our hands have not shed this blood, neither have our eyes seen it.

8 [c] O Lord, bee mercifull unto thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, and lay no innocent blood to the charge of thy people Israel, and the blood shall be forgiven them.

c This was the prayer which the Priests made in the audience of the people.

9 So shalt thou take away the cry of innocent blood from thee, when thou shalt doe that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

10 ¶ When thou shalt goe to warre against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God shall deliver them into thine hands, and thou shalt take them captives,

11 And shalt see among the captives a beautifull woman, and hast a desire unto her, and wouldest take her to thy wife,

12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house, [d] and she shall shave her head, and pare her nailes, d Signifying that her former life must be changed before she could be joined to the people of God.

13 And she shall put off the garment that she was taken in, and she shall remaine in thine house, [e] and bewaile her father and her mother a moneth long: and after that thou shalt goe in unto her, and marry her, and she shalbe thy [f] wife.

e As having renounced parents and countrey

f This onely was permitted in the warres: otherwise the Israelites could not marry strangers.

14 And if thou have no favour unto her, then thou mayest let her go whither she will, but thou shalt not sell her for money, nor make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.

15 ¶ If a man have two wives, one loved and another [g] hated, and they have borne him children, both the loved and also the hated: if the first borne be the sonne of the hated, g This declareth that the pluralitie of wives came of corrupt affection.

16 Then when the time commeth, that hee appointeth his sonnes to be heires of that which he hath, hee may not make the sonne of the beloved first borne ‖ before the sonne of the hated, which is the first borne:

‖ Or, while the sonne of the hated liveth.

17 But he shall acknowledge the sonne of the hated for the first borne, and give him [h] double portion for all that hee hath: for he is the first of his strength, and to [i] him belongeth the right of first borne.

h As much as to two of the others.

i Except he bee unworthy, as was Reuben Iaakobs sonne.

18 ¶ If any man have a son that is stubburne and disobedient, which will not hearken unto the voyce of his father, nor the voyce of his [k] mother, and they have chastened him, and bee would not obey them, k For it is the mothers duety also to instruct her children.

19 Then shall his father and his mother take him, and bring him out unto the Elders of his city, and unto the gate of the place where he dwelleth,

20 And shall say unto the Elders of his citie, This our sonne is stubburne and disobedient, and hee will not obey our admonition: he is a riotous, and a drunkard.

21 Then all the men of his citie shall [l] stone him with stones unto death: so thou shalt take away evill from among you, that all Israel may heare it, and feare.

l Which death was also appointed for blasphemers and idolaters: so that to disobey the parents is most horrible.

22 ¶ If a man also have committed a trespasse worthy of death, and is put to death, and thou hangest him on a tree, 23 His body shall not remaine [m] all night upon the tree, but thou shalt bury him the same day: for the * curse of God is on him that is hanged. Defile not therefore thy land which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherite.

m For Gods Law by his death is satisfied, and nature abhorreth cruelty.

* Galat. 3. 13.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Hee commandeth to have care of our neighbours goods. 5 The woman may not weare mans apparell, nor man the womans. 6 Of the damme and her yong birds. 8 Why they should have battlements. 9 Not to mixe divers kinds together. 13 Of the wife not being found a virgin. 23 The punishment of adultery.

THou * shalt not see thy brothers oxe nor his sheepe goe astray, and a withdraw thy selfe from them, but shalt bring them againe unto thy brother.

* Exod. 23. 4.

a Although thou favvelt it not.

2 And if thy brother be not [b] neere unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it into thine house, and it shall remaine with thee, untill thy brother seeke after it, then shalt thou deliver it to him againe:

b Shewing that brotherly affection must be shewed not onely to them that dwell neere unto us, but also to them which are farre off.

3 In like maner shalt thou do with his [c] asse, and so shalt thou doe with his raiment, and shalt so doe with all lost things of thy brother, which he hath lost: if thou hast found them, thou shalt not withdraw thy selfe from them.

c Much more art thou bound to doe for thy neighbours person.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not see thy brothers asse nor his oxe fall downe by the way, and withdraw thy selfe from them, but shalt lift them up with him.

5 The [d] woman shall not weare that which perteineth unto the man, neither shall a man put on womans raiment: for all that doe so, are abomination unto the Lord thy God.

d For that were to alter the order of nature, and to despite God.

6 ¶ If thou finde a birdes nest in the way, in any tree, or on the ground vvhether they be yong or egges, and the damme sitting upon the yong, or upon the egges, [e] thou shalt not take the damme with the yong.

e If God detest cruelty done to little birds, how much more to man, made according to his image?

7 But shalt in any wise let the damme goe, and take the young to thee, that thou mayest prosper and prolong thy dayes.

8 ¶ When thou buildest a new house, thou shalt make a battelement on thy roofe, that thou lay not blood vpon thine house, if any man fall thence.

9 ¶ Thou shalt not [f] sowe thy vineyard with divers kinds of seedes, lest thou defile the increase of the seede which thou hast sowen, and the fruite of the vineyard.

f The tenor of this Law, is to walke in simplicity, and not to be curious of new inventions.

10 ¶ Thou shalt not plow with an oxe and an asse together.

11 ¶ Thou shalt not weare a garment of divers sorts, as of woollen and linnen together.

12 ¶ * Thou shalt make thee fringes upon the foure quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou covereſt thy selfe.

* Numb. 15. 38.

13 ¶ If a man take a wife, and when he hath lien with her, hate her,

14 And lay [g] slanderous things unto her charge, and bring up an evill name upon her, and say, I tooke this wife, and when I came to her, I found her not a mayd, g That is, be an occasion that she is slandered.

15 Then shall the father of the maide and her mother take and bring the signes of the maydes virginitie unto the Elders of the city to the gate.

16 And the maydes father shall say unto the Elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife and he hateth her:

17 And loe, he layeth slanderous things unto her charge, saying, I found not thy daughter a maide: loe, these are the tokens of my daughters virginitie: and they shall spread the [h] vesture before the Elders of the city.

h Meaning, the sheete, wherein the signes of her virginitie were.

18 Then the Elders of the city shall take that man and chastise him, i For the fault of the child redoundeth to the shame of the parents: therefore he was recompensed when she was faultlesse.

20 But if this thing bee true, that the mayd be not found a virgine, 21 Then they shall bring foorth the mayde to the doore of her fathers house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones to death: for shee hath wrought folly in Israel, by playing the whore in her fathers house: so thou shalt put evill away from among you.

22 ¶ * If a man be found lying with a woman married to a man, then they shall die even both twaine, to vvit, the man that lay with the wife, and the wife: so thou shalt put away evill from Israel.

23 ¶ If a mayd be bethroted unto a husband, and a man finde her in the towne and lie with her,

‖ Or, defiled.

25 ¶ But if a man finde a betrothed mayde in the field and force her, and lye with her, then the man that lay with her, shall die alone:

26 And unto the maid thou shalt doe nothing, because there is in the maid ‖ no cause of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour and woundeth him to death, so [k] is this matter.

‖ Or, no sinne worthy of death.

k Meaning, that the innocent cannot be punished.

27 For hee found her in the fields: the betrothed mayde cryed, and there was no man to succour her.

d Becauſe the Ebrew word ſignifieth not the naturall brother, and the word that ſignifieth a brother, is taken alſo for a kinſman: it ſeemeth that it is not meant that the naturall brother ſhould marrie his brothers wife, but ſome other of the kindred that was in that degree which might marrie.

6 And the firſt borne which ſhe beareth, ſhall ſucceed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Iſrael.

13 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the [j] taile, and thou shalt be above onely, and shalt not bee beneath, if thou obey the commandements of the Lord thy God which I command thee this day, to keepe and to doe them.

14 But thou shalt not decline from any of the words, which I commaund you this day, either to the * right hand or to the left, to goe after other gods to serve them.

15 ¶ * But if thou wilt not obey the voyce of the Lord thy God, to keepe and to doe all his commandements, and his ordinances, which I command thee this day, then all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee.

16 Cursed shalt thou be in the towne, and cursed also in the field.

17 Cursed shall thy basket be, and thy [j] dough:

18 Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheepe.

19 Cursed shalt thou bee when thou commest in, and cursed also when thou goest out.

20 The Lord shall send upon thee cursing, trouble, and [l] shame, in all that which thou settest thine hand to doe, untill thou be destroyed, and perish quickly, because of the wickednesse of thy works, whereby thou hast forsaken me.

21 The Lord shall make the pestilence cleave unto thee, untill he hath consumed thee from the land, whither thou goest to possesse it.

22 * The Lord shall smite thee with a consumption, and with the fever, and with a burning ague, and with fervent heate, and with the sword, and with [l] blasting, and with the mildew, and they shall pursue thee untill thou perish.

23 And thine heaven that is over thine head, shalbe [k] brasse, and the earth [ỹ] is under thee, yron.

24 The Lord shall give thee for the raine of thy land, dust and ashes, even from [l] heaven shall it come downe upon thee, untill thou be destroyed.

25 And the Lord shall cause thee to fall before thine enemies: thou shalt come out one way against them, and shalt flee seven wayes before them, and shalt be [l] scattered through all the kingdomes of the earth.

26 And thy [m] carkeis shall bee meat unto all foules of the aire, and unto the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

27 The Lord will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emeroids, and with the skab, and with the itch, that thou canst not be healed.

28 And the Lord shall smite thee with madnesse, and with blindnesse, and with astonying of heart.

29 Thou shalt also grope at noone dayes, as the [n] blinde groperh in darkenesse, and shalt not prosper in thy wayes: thou shalt never but be oppressed with wrong, and be powled evermore, and no man shall succour thee.

30 Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not [†] eat the fruit.

31 Thine oxe shall be slaine before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine asse shall be violently taken away before thy face, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheepe shall be given unto thine enemies, and no mã shal rescue them for thee.

32 Thy sonnes and thy daughters shalbe given unto another people, and thine eyes [o] shall still looke for them, even till they fall out, and there shall be no power in thine hand.

33 The fruite of thy land and all thy labours shall a people which thou knowest not, eate, and thou shalt never but suffer wrong, and violence alway:

34 So that thou shalt bee madde for the sight which thine eyes shall see.

35 The Lord shall smite thee in the knees, and in the thighes, with a sore botch, that thou canst not be healed: even from the sole of the foot unto the top of thine head.

36 The Lord shall bring thee and thy [p] King (which thou shalt set over thee) unto a nation, which neither thou nor thy fathers have knowen, and there thou shalt serve other gods, even wood and stone,

[a] He will make thee the most excellent of all people.

[b] When thou thinkest thy selfe forsaken.

[c] Thou shalt live wealthily.

[e] All thine enterprises shall have good successe.

49 The Lord shall bring a nation upon thee from farre, even from the end of the world, flying swift as an egle: a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand:

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The people are exhorted to observe the commandements. 10 The whole people from the highest to the lowest are comprehended under Gods covenant. 19 The punishment of him that flattereth himselfe in his wickednesse. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

THese are the a words of the covenant which the Lord commanded Moses to make with a That is, the articles, or conditions.

the children of Israel, in the land of Moab, beside the covenant which hee had made with them in b Horeb.

b As the first giving of the Law, which was fourty yeeres before.

2 ¶ And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Ye have seene all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt unto Pharaoh and unto all his servants, and unto all his land.

3 The c great tentations which thine eyes have seene, those great miracles and wonders:

c The proofes of my power.

4 Yet the Lord hath not d given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and eares to heare, unto this day.

d Hee sheweth that it is not in mans power to understand the misteries of God, if it be not given him from above.

5 And I have led you fourty yeeres in the wildernesse: your cloaths are not waxed olde upon you, neither is thy shooe waxed olde upon thy foote.

6 Yee have eaten no e bread, neither drunke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might know how that I am the Lord your God.

e Made by mans arte, but Manna, which is called the bread of Angels.

7 After, yee came unto this place, and Sihon King of Heshbon, and Og King of Bashan came out against us unto battell, and we slew them,

8 And tooke their land, and gave it for an inheritance unto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

9 * Keepe therefore the wordes of this covenant and doe them, that yee may prosper in all that ye shall doe.

* Chap. 4. 6. 1. King. 2. 3.

10 Ye stand this day every one of you before the Lord your f God: your heads of your tribes, your Elders and your officers, even all the men of Israel:

f Who knoweth your hearts, and therefore ye may not thinke to dissemble with him.

11 Your children, your wives, and thy stranger that is in the campe, from the hewer of thy wood, unto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou shouldest g passe into the covenant of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day, g Alluding to them, that when they made a sure covenant, divided a beast in twaine, and past betweene the parts divided, Gene. 15. 10.

13 For to establish thee this day a people unto himselfe, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworne unto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

14 Neither make I this covenant and this oathe with you onely, 15 But as well with him that standeth here with us this day before the Lord our God, as with him h that is not here with us this day.

h Meaning, their posteritie.

16 For yee know, how we have dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how wee passed thorowe the middes of the nations, which ye passed by.

17 And ye have seene their abominations and their idoles (wood and stone, silver and golde) which were among them.

18 That there should not be among you man nor woman, nor familie, nor tribe, which should turne his heart away this day from the Lord our God, to goe and serve the gods of these nations, and that there should not be among you i any roote that bringeth foorth * gall and wormewood, i Such fruite, as the bitter fruite thereof might choke and destroy you.

* Actes 8. 23.

19 So that when he heareth the wordes of this curse, he ‖ blesse himselfe in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, although I walke according to the stubburnesse of mine owne heart, thus adding k drunkennesse to thirst.

‖ Or, flatter.

k For as he that is thirstie desireth to drinke much, so he that followeth his appetite, seeketh by all meanes, and yet cannot be satisfied.

20 The Lord will not be mercifull unto him, but then the wrath of the Lord and his ielousie shall smoke against that man, and every curse that is written in this booke, shall light upon him, and the Lord shall put out his name from vnder heaven, 21 And the Lord shall separate him unto evill out of all the tribes of Israel, according unto all the curses of the covenant, that is written in the booke of this Law.

22 So that the l generation to come, even your children, that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a farre land, shall say, when they shall see the plagues of this land, and the diseases thereof, wherewith the Lord shall smite it:

l Gods plagues upon them that rebell against him, shall be so strange, that all ages shall be astonished.

23 (For all that land shall burne with brimstone and salt: it shall not be sowen, nor bring foorth, nor any grasse shall growe therein, like as in the overthrowing of * Sodom and Gomorah, Admah, and Zeboim, which the Lord overthrew in his wrath and in his anger.)

* Gen. 19. 24. 25.

24 Then shall all nations say, * Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this land? how fierce is this great wrath?

* 1. King. 9. 8. Iere. 22. 8.

25 And they shall answere, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord God of their fathers, which hee had made with them, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

26 And went and served other gods, and worshipped them: even gods which they knew not, and ‖ which had given them nothing,

‖ Or, which had not given them a land to possesse.

27 Therefore the wrath of the Lord waxed hot against this land, to bring upon it every curse that is written in this booke, 28 And the Lord hath rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and hath cast them into another land, as appeareth this day.

29 The m secret things belong to the Lord our God, but the things revealed belong unto us, and to our children for ever, that we may doe all the words of this Law.

m Moses hereby prooveth their curiositie, which seeke those things that are onely known to God: and their negligence that regard not that, which God hath revealed unto them, as the Law.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Mercie shewed when they repent. 6 The Lord doth circumcise the heart. 11 All excuse of ignorance is taken away. 15, 19 Life and death is set before them. 20 The Lord is their life which obey him.

NOw when all these things shall come upon thee, either the blessing or the curse which I have set before thee, and thou shalt a turne into thine heart, among all the nations whither the Lord thy God hath driven thee, a By calling to remembrance, both his mercies and plagues.

2 And shalt returne unto the Lord thy God, and obey his voyce in all that I command thee this day: thou, and thy children with all thine b heart and with all thy soule, b In true repentance is none hypocrisie.

3 Then the Lord thy God will cause thy captives to returne, and have compassion upon thee, and will returne, to gather thee out of all the people where the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.

4 Though thou were cast unto the utmost part of heaven, from thence wil the Lord thy God gather thee, and from thence will he c take thee, c Even to the worldes ende.

5 And the Lord thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possesse it, and bee will shew thee favour, and will multiply thee above thy fathers.

d And bring thee into thy countrey.

6 And the Lord thy God will e circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seede, that thou mayest love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, that thou mayest live.

e God will purge all thy wicked affections, which thing is not in thine owne power to doe.

7 And the Lord thy God will lay all these curses upon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, and that persecute thee.

f Returne thou therefore, and obey the voyce of the Lord, and doe all his commandements, which I command thee this day.

9 And the Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in every worke of thine hand, in the fruite of thy body, and in the fruite of thy cattell, and in the fruite of the land for thy wealth: for the Lord will turne againe, and g reioyce over thee to do thee good, as he reioyced over thy fathers,

10 Becauſe thou ſhalt obey the voyce of the Lord thy God, in keeping his commandements and his ordinances, which are written in the booke of this law, when thou ſhalt returne unto the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy ſoule.

11 ¶ For this commandement which I command thee this day, is h not hid from thee, neither is it farre off.

12 It is not in heaven, that thou ſhouldeſt ſay, *Who ſhall go up for us to heaven, and bring it us, and cauſe us to heare it, that we may doe it?

13 Neither is it beyonde the i ſea, that thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Who ſhall goe over the ſea for us, and bring it us, & cauſe us to heare it, ỹ we may do it?

14 But the k word is very neare unto thee: even in thy mouth, and in thine heart, for to l do it.

15 Beholde, I have ſet before thee this day life and good, death and evill, 16 In that I commande thee this day, m to love the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and to keepe his commandement, and his ordinances, and his lawes, that thou mayeſt n live, and be multiplied, and that the Lord thy God may bleſſe thee in the land, whither thou goeſt to poſſeſſe it.

17 But if thine heart turne away, ſo that thou wilt not obey, but ſhalt be ſeduced and worſhip other gods, and ſerve them,

18 I pronounce unto you this day, ỹ ye ſhall ſurely periſh, ye ſhall not prolong your dayes in ỹ land, whither thou paſſeſt over Iorden to poſſeſſe it.

19 * I call heaven and earth to record this day againſt you, that I have ſet before you life and death, bleſſing and curſing: therefore o chuſe life, that both thou and thy ſeede may live.

20 By loving the Lord thy God, by obeying his voyce, and by cleaving unto him: for hee is thy life, and the length of thy dayes, that thou mayeſt dwell in the land which the Lord ſware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob, to give them.

CHAP. XXXI.

Moſes preparing himſelfe to dy, appointeth Ioſhua to rule the people. 9 He giveth the law to the Leuites, that they ſhould read it to the people. 19 God giveth them a ſong as a witneſſe be-twene him and them. 23 God confirmeth Ioſhua. 25 Moſes ſheweth them that they will rebell after his death.

THen Moſes went and ſpake theſe wordes unto all Iſrael,

2 And ſaide unto them, I am an hundreth and twenty yeere olde this day: I a can no more goe out and in: alſo the Lord hath ſaide unto mee, * Thou ſhalt not goe over this Iorden.

3 The Lord thy God he will goe over before thee: hee will deſtroy theſe nations before thee, and thou ſhalt poſſeſſe them. * Ioſhua, he ſhall goe before thee, as the Lord hath ſaide.

6 Plucke ‖ up your heeres therefore, and be ſtrong: dreade not, nor be afraide of them: for the Lord thy God himſelfe doeth goe with thee: hee will not faile thee, nor forſake thee.

7 ¶ And Moſes called Ioſhua, and ſaide unto him in the ſight of all Iſrael, Be c of a good courage and ſtrong: for thou ſhalt goe with this people unto the land which the Lord hath ſworne unto their fathers, to give them, and thou ſhalt give it them to inherite.

8 And the Lord himſelfe doeth d goe before thee: hee will be with thee: hee will not faile thee, neither forſake thee: feare not therefore, nor be diſcomforted.

9 ¶ And Moſes wrote this law, and delivered it unto the Prieſts the ſonnes of Levi (which bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord) and unto all the Elders of Iſrael.

10 And Moſes commanded them, ſaying, * Every ſeventh yeere * when the yeere of freedome ſhalbe in the feaſt of the Tabernacles:

11 When all Iſrael ſhall come to appeare e before the Lord thy God, and the place which hee ſhall chuſe, thou ſhalt reade this Law before all Iſrael that they may heare it.

12 Gather the people together: men, and women, and children, and thy ſtranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and that they may learne, and feare the Lord your God, and keepe and obſerve all the wordes of this Law,

13 And that their children which f have not knowen it, may heare it, and learne to feare the Lord your God, as long as ye live in the land, whither ye goe over Iorden to poſſeſſe it.

14 ¶ Then the Lord ſaide unto Moſes, Behold, thy dayes are come, that thou muſt dy: Call Ioſhua, and ſtand ye in the Tabernacle of the Congregation that I may give him a ‖ charge. So Moſes and Ioſhua went, and ſtood in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

15 And the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle in the pillar of a g cloude: and the pillar of the cloude ſtood over the doore of the Tabernacle.

16 ¶ And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Behold, thou ſhalt ſleep with thy fathers, and this people will riſe up, and go a whoring after the gods of a ſtrange land (whither they goe to dwell therein) and will forſake me, & breake my covenant which I have made with them.

17 Wherefore my wrath will waxe hote againſt them at that day, and I will forſake them, and will h hide my face from them: then they ſhall be conſumed, and many adverſities and tribulations ſhall come upon them: ſo then they will ſay, Are not theſe troubles come upon mee, becauſe God is not with me?

18 But I will ſurely hide my face in that day, becauſe of all the evill which they ſhall commit, in that they are turned unto other gods.

19 Now therefore write yee this i ſong for you, and teach it the children of Iſrael: put it in their mouthes, that this ſong may bee my witneſſe againſt the children of Iſrael.

20 For I will bring them into the land (which I ſware unto their fathers) that floweth with milke and hony, and they ſhall eate and fill themſelves, and waxe fat: & then ſhall they turne unto other gods, and ſerve them, and contemne mee, and breake

22 ¶ Moses therefore wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Israel.

* Iosh.1.6. 23 And God gave Ioshua the sonne of Nun a charge, and said, * Be strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land, which I sware unto them, and I will be with thee.

24 ¶ And when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this Law in a booke untill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commanded the Levites, which bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, saying, 27 For I know thy rebellion and thy stiffenecke: behold, I being yet alive with you this day, yee are rebellious against the Lord: how much more then after my death?

n As governours, judges, and magistrates.

28 Gather unto mee all the Elders of your tribes, and your n officers, that I may speake the words in their audience, and call heaven and earth to record against them.

29 For I am sure that after my death, ye will utterly be corrupt and turne from the way which I have commanded you: therefore evill will come upon you at the length, because ye will commit evill in the sight of the Lord, by provoking him to anger through the o worke of your hands.

o By idolatry, and worshipping images, which are the worke of your hands.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israel the words of this song, untill he had ended them.

CHAP. XXXII.

The song of Moses conteining 7 Gods benefits toward the people, 15 and their ingratitude toward him. 20 God threatneth them, 21 and speaketh of the vocation of the Gentiles. 46 Moses commandeth to teach the Law to the children. 49 God forewarneth Moses of his death.

HEarken, ye a heavens, and I will speake: and let the earth heare the words of my mouth.

a As witnesse of this peoples ingratitude.

2 My b doctrine shall droppe as the raine, and my speech shall still as the dew, as the showre upon the herbes, and as the great raine upon the grasse.

b He desireth that he may speake to Gods glory, and that the people, as the greene grasse, may receive the dew of his doctrine.

3 For I will publish the Name of the Lord: give ye glory unto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the c mighty God: for all his wayes are judgement. God is true, and without wickednesse: just and righteous is he.

c The Ebrewe word is rocke, noting that God onely is mighty, faithfull and constant in his promise.

5 They have corrupted themselves toward him by their vice, not being his children, but a froward and crooked generation.

6 Doe ye so reward the Lord, O foolish people and unwise? is not he thy father, that hath bought thee? he hath d made thee, and proportioned thee.

d Not according to the common creation but he hath made thee a new creature by his spirit.

7 ¶ Remember the dayes of old: consider the yeeres of so many generations: aske thy father, and he will shew thee: thine Elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most high God divided to the nations their inheritance, when hee deputed the sonnes of Adam, he appointed the borders of the e people, according to the number of the children of Israel.

e When God by his providence divided the world, he lent for a time that portion to the Canaanites, which should after be an inheritance for all his people Israel.

9 For the Lords portion is his people: Iakob is the lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in the land of the wildernes, in a waste and roaring wildernesse: he led him about, he taught him, and kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an eagle stirreth up her nest, f fluttereth over her birds, stretched out her wings, taketh them, and beareth them on her wings, f To teach them to flie.

12 So the Lord alone led him, and there was no ‖ strange god with him.

‖ Or, god of strange nations.

13 Hee caried him up to the hie places of the g earth, that he might eate the fruites of the fields, and hee caused him to sucke h hony out of the stone, and oyle out of the hard rocke:

g Meaning, of the land of Canaan, which was hie in respect of Egypt.

14 Butter of kine, and milke of sheepe with fat of the lambes, and rams fed in Bashan, and goats, with the fat of the graines of wheate: and the red † licour of the grape hast thou drunke.

h That is, abundance of all things even in the very rocks.

† Ebr. blood.

15 ¶ But he that should have beene i upright, when he waxed fat, spurned with his heele: thou art fat, thou art grosse, thou art laden with fatnes: therefore hee forsooke God that made him, and regarded not the strong God of his salvation.

i He sheweth what is the principall end of our vocation.

16 They provoked him with k strange gods: they provoked him to anger with abominations.

k By changing his service for their superstitions.

17 They offered unto devils, not to God, but to gods whom they knew not: l new gods that came newly up, whom their fathers feared not.

l Scripture calleth new, whatsoever man inventeth, be the errour never so old.

18 Thou hast forgotten the mightie God, that begate thee, & hast forgotten God ỹ formed thee.

19 The Lord then saw it, and was angry, for the provocation of his m sonnes and of his daughters.

m He calleth them Gods children, not to honour them, but to shew them from what dignity they are fallen.

20 And hee said, I will hide my face from them: I will see what their end shall be: for they are a froward generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They have mooved me to ielousie with that which is not God: they have provoked me to anger with their vanities: * and I will moove them to ielousie with those which are no n people: I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.

* Rom.10.19.

22 For fire is kindled in my wrath, and shall burne unto the bottome of hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountaines.

23 I will spend plagues unto them: I will bestow mine arrowes upon them.

24 They shall be burnt with hunger, and consumed with heate, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the venime of serpents creeping in the dust.

25 The sword shall o kill them without, and in the chambers feare: but the young man and the yonng woman, the suckling with the man of gray haire.

o They shalbe slaine both in the field and at home.

26 I have said, I would scatter them abroad: I would make their remembrance to cease from among men, 27 Save that I feared the furie of the enemie, lest their adversaries should p waxe proud, and lest they should say, Our high have and not the Lord hath done all this.

p Rejoycing to see the godly afflicted, & attributing that to themselves, which is wrought by Gods hand.

28 For they are a nation void of counsell, neither is there any understanding in them.

36 For the Lord ſhall iudge his people, and ‖ repent toward his ſervants, when he ſeeth that their power is gone, and none f ſhut up in hold nor left abroad.

39 Behold now, for I, I am he, and there is no gods with me: * I kill, and give life: I wound, and I make whole: * neither is there any that can deliver out of mine hand.

40 For I ‖ lift up mine hand to heaven, and ſay, I live for ever.

41 If I whet my glittering ſword, and mine hand take holde on iudgement, I will execute vengeance on mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrowes drunke with blood, (and my ſword ſhall eate fleſh:) for the blood of the ſlaine, and of the captaines, when I begin to take vengeance of the enemie.

43 * Ye nations, praiſe his people: for hee will avenge the u blood of his ſervants, & will execute vengeance upon his adverſaries, and will be mercifull unto his land, and to his people.

44 ¶ Then Moſes came and ſpake all the words of this ſong in the audience of the people, he and ‖ Hoſhea the ſonne of Nun.

45 When Moſes had made an end of ſpeaking all theſe words to all Iſrael, 46 Then he ſaid unto them, * Set your hearts unto al the wordes which I teſtifie againſt you this day, that yee may command them unto your children; that they may obſerve and doe all ſ wordes of this Law.

47 For it is no x vaine word concerning you, but it is your life, & by this word ye ſhall prolong your dayes in the land, whither yee goe over Iorden to poſſeſſe it.

48 * And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes the ſelfe ſame day, ſaying,

49 Goe up into this mountaine of Abarim, unto the mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, that is over againſt Ierich: and behold the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Iſrael for a poſſeſſion,

50 And die in the mount which thou goeſt up unto, and thou ſhalt be * gathered unto thy people, * as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered unto his people, 52 Thou ſhalt therefore ſee the lande before thee, but ſhalt not goe thither, I meane, into the land which I give the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Moſes before his death bleſſeth all the tribes of Iſrael. 26 There is no god like to the God of Iſrael. 29 Nor any people like unto his.

NOw this is the a bleſſing wherewith Moſes the man of God bleſſed the children of Iſrael before his death, and ſayd,

2 The Lord came from Sinai, and roſe up from Seir unto them, and appeared clearly from mount Paran, and he came with ten b thouſands of Saints, and at his right hand a fierie Law for them.

3 Though hee love the people, yet c all thy Saints are in thine hands: and they are humbled at d thy feete, to receive thy words.

4 Moſes commanded us a Law for an e inheritance of the Congregation of Iaakob.

5 Then ‖ he was among the ‖ righteous people, as King, when the heads of the people, and the tribes of Iſrael were aſſembled.

6 ¶ Let f Reuben live, and not die, though his men be a ſmall number.

7 ¶ And thus he bleſſed Iudah, and ſaid, Heare, O Lord, ſ voyce of Iudah, and bring him unto his people: his hands ſhalbe g ſufficient for him, if thou helpe him againſt his enemies.

8 ¶ And of Levi he ſaid, Let thy * Thummim and thine Urim bee with thine Holy one, whom thou diddeſt proove in Maſſah, and didſt cauſe him to ſtrive at the waters of Meribah.

9 Who ſaid unto his father and to his mother, h I have not ſeene him, neither knew he his brethren, nor knew his owne children: for they obſerved thy word, and kept thy Covenant.

10 They ſhall teach Iaakob thy iudgements, and Iſrael thy Law: they ſhall put incenſe before thy face, and the burnt offering upon thine Altar.

11 Bleſſe, O Lord, his ſubſtance, and accept the worke of his hands: i ſmite thorow the loynes of them that riſe againſt him, and of them that hate him, that they riſe not againe.

5 So Moſes the ſervant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the worde of the Lord.

6 And [c] he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab over againſt Beth-peor, but no man knoweth of his ſepulchre unto [d] this day.

7 Moſes was now an hundreth and twentie yeere olde when he died, his eye was not dimme, nor his naturall force abated:

8 And the children of Iſrael wept for Moſes in the plaine of Moab thirtie dayes: ſo the dayes of weeping and mourning for Moſes were ended.

9 And [e] Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun was full of the ſpirit of wiſedome: for Moſes had put his hands upon him. And the children of Iſrael were obedient unto him, and did as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

THE BOOKE OF IOSHVA.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this booke the holy Ghoſt ſetteth moſt lively before our eyes the accompliſhment of Gods promiſe, who as hee promiſed by the mouth of Moſes, that a Prophet ſhould be raiſed up unto the people like unto him, whom hee willeth to obey, Deut. 18.15: ſo hee ſheweth himſelfe here true in his promiſe, as at all other times, and after the death of Moſes his faithfull ſervant, raiſeth up Ioſhua to be ruler and governour over his people, that neither they ſhould bee diſcouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor have occaſion to diſtruſt Gods promiſes hereafter. And becauſe that Ioſhua might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people alſo might have none occaſion to grudge, as though he were not approoved of God: hee is adorned with moſt excellent gifts and graces of God, both to governe the people with counſell, and to defend them with ſtrength, that he lacketh nothing which either belongeth to a valiant captaine, or a faithfull miniſter. So he overcommeth all difficulties, and bringeth them into the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he divideth among the people and appointeth their borders: hee eſtabliſheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembrance of Gods manifold benefites, aſſuring them of his grace and favour, if they obey God, and contrariewiſe of his plagues and vengeance, if they diſobey him. This hiſtorie doth repreſent Ieſus Chriſt the true Ioſhua, who leadeth us into eternall felicitie, which is ſignified unto us by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Geneſis to the end of this booke are conteined 2567. yeeres. For from Adam unto the flood are 1656. from the flood unto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea 423. and from thence to the death of Ioſeph 290. So that the Geneſis conteineth 2369, Exodus 140, the other three bookes of Moſes 40, Ioſhua 27. So the whole maketh 2576. yeeres.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

1 The Lord encouraged Ioſhua to invade the land. 4 The borders and limits of the lands of the Iſraelites. 5 The Lord promiſeth to aſſiſt Ioſhua, if he obey his word. 11 Ioſhua commandeth the people to prepare themſelves to paſſe over Iorden, 12 and exhorteth the Reubenites to execute their charge.

NOw after the a death of Moſes the ſervant of the Lord, the Lord ſpake unto Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun, Moſes miniſter, ſaying,

2 Moſes my ſervant is dead: now therefore ariſe, goe over this Iorden, thou, and all this people unto the land which I give them, that is, to the children of Iſrael.

3 * Every place that the ſole of your foote ſhall tread upon, have I given you, as I ſaid unto Moſes.

4 * From the b wilderneſſe and this Lebanon even unto the great river, the river ‖ Perath: all the lande of the c Hittites, even unto the great d Sea toward the going downe of ſ̄ ſunne, ſhall be your coaſt.

5 There ſhall not a man be able to withſtand thee all ſ̄ dayes of thy life: as I was with Moſes, ſo will I be with thee: * I will not leave thee, nor forſake thee.

6 * Be ſtrong and of a good courage: for unto this people ſhalt thou divide the lande for an inheritance, which I ſware unto their fathers to give them.

7 Onely be thou ſtrong, and ‖ of a moſt valiant courage, that thou mayeſt obſerve and doe according to all the Law which Moſes my ſervant hath commanded thee: * thou ſhalt not turne away from it to the right hand, nor to the left, that thou mayeſt e proſper whitherſoever thou goeſt.

8 Let not this booke of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and f night, that thou mayeſt obſerve and doe according to all that is written therein: for then ſhalt thou make thy way proſperous, and then ſhalt thou ‖ have good ſucceſſe.

9 Have not I commanded thee, ſaying, Bee ſtrong and of a good courage, feare not, nor bee diſcouraged? for I ſ̄ Lord thy God will be with thee whitherſoever thou goeſt.

10 ¶ Then Ioſhua commanded the officers of the people, ſaying,

11 Paſſe through the hoſte, and command the people, ſaying, Prepare you victuals: for g after three dayes ye ſhall paſſe over this Iorden, to goe in to poſſeſſe the land, which the Lord your God giveth you to poſſeſſe it.

12 And unto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh ſpake Ioſhua, ſaying, 13 * Remember the worde, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you, ſaying, The Lord your God hath given you reſt, & hath given you this h land.

14 ¶ Your wives, your children, and your cattell ſhall remaine in the land which Moſes gave you ‖ on this ſide Iorden: but ye ſhall goe over before your brethren armed, all that be men of warre, and ſhall helpe them,

15 Vntill the Lord have given your brethren reſt as well as to you, and untill they alſo ſhall poſſeſſe the land, which the Lord your God giveth them: then ſhall yee returne unto the land of your poſſeſſion, and ſhall poſſeſſe it, which land Moſes the Lords ſervant i gave you on this ſide Iorden toward the ſunne riſing.

16 Then they anſwered Ioſhua, ſaying, All that thou haſt commanded us, we will doe, and whitherſoever thou ſendeſt us, we will goe.

17 As we obeyed Moſes in all things, k ſo will we obey thee: onely the Lord thy God bee with thee, as he was with Moſes.

18 Whoſoever ſhall rebell againſt thy commandement, and will not obey thy wordes in all that thou commaundeſt him, let him bee put to death: onely be ſtrong and of good courage.

CHAP. II.

1 Ioſhua ſendeth men to ſpie Iericho, whom Rahab hideth. 11 She confeſſeth the God of Iſrael. 12 She requireth a ſigne for her deliverance. 21 The ſpies returne to Ioſhua with comfortable tidings.

THen Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun ſent out of a Shittim two men to ſpie ſecretly, ſaying, Goe view the lande, and alſo Iericho, and they went, and * came into an ‖ harlots houſe, named Rahab, and lodged there.

2 Then report was made to the king of Iericho, ſaying, Behold, there came men hither to night, of the children of Iſrael, to ſpie out the countrey,

3 And the king of Iericho ſent unto Rahab ſaying, b Bring foorth the men that are come to thee, and which are entred into thine houſe: for they be come to ſearch out all the land.

4 (But the woman had taken the two men, and hid them.) Therefore ſaid ſhe thus, There came men unto me, but I wiſt not whence they were.

5 And when they ſhut the gate in the darke, the men went out, whither the men went, I wote not: follow yee after them quickely, for yee ſhall overtake them.

6 (But ſhe had brought them up to the c roofe of the houſe, and hid them with the ſtalks of flax, which ſhe had ſpread abroad upon the roofe.)

7 And certaine men purſued after them, the way to Iorden, unto the foordes, and aſſoone as they which purſued after them, were gone out, they ſhut the gate.

8 ¶ And before they were aſleepe, ſhee came up unto them upon the roofe, 9 And ſayd unto the men, I know that the Lord hath given you the land, and that the d feare of you is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint becauſe of you.

10 For wee have heard how the Lord * dried up the water of the redSea * before you when yee came out of Egypt, and what you did unto the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other ſide Iorden, unto * Sihon and to Og, whom ye vtterly deſtroyed:

11 And when wee heard it, our hearts ‖ did faint, and there remained no more ‖ courage in any becauſe of you: for e the Lord your God, he is the God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, ſweare unto me by the Lord, that as I have ſhewed you mercy, ye will alſo ſhew mercy unto my fathers houſe, and give me a true token,

13 And that ye will ſave alive my father and my mother, and my brethren, and my ſiſters, and all that they have: and that yee will deliver our † ſoules from death.

5 (Now Ioshua had sayd unto the people, * Sanctifie your selves: for to morrow the Lord will doe wonders among you)

6 Also Ioshua spake unto the Priests, saying, Take up the Arke of the covenant, and goe over before the people: so they tooke up the Arke of the covenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ Then the Lord sayd unto Ioshua, This day will I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, which shall know, that * as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

* Chap. 1.5.

8 Thou shalt therefore command the Priests that beare the Arke of the covenant, saying, When yee are come to the brinke of the waters of Iorden, ye shall stand still c in Iorden.

c Even in the chanell where the streame had runne, as verse 17.

9 ¶ Then Ioshua said unto the children of Israel, Come hither, and heare the wordes of the Lord your God.

10 And Ioshua said, d Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and that he will certainly cast out before you the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Iebusites.

* Ecclus 24.30. 1. Chron 12.15.
f Because the river was accustomed at this time to be full, the miracle is so much the greater.

16 Then the waters that came downe from above, stayed and rose upon an heape, and departed farre from the citie of Adam that was beside Zaretan: but the waters that came downe toward the Sea of the wildernesse, even the salt Sea, failed and were cut off: so the people went right over against Iericho.

a At Chap. 3.17.
b Meaning, the place where they should campe.

4 Then Ioshua called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of every tribe a man.

5 And

5 And Ioſhua ſaid unto them, Go over before the Arke of the Lord your God, even through the middes of Iorden, and take up every man of you a ſtone upon his ſhoulder according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Iſrael.

a God commandeth that not only we our ſelves profit by this wonderfull workes, but that our poſteritie may know the cauſe thereof and glorifie his Name.

6 That this may be a ſigne among you, that when your [c] children ſhall aske their fathers in time to come, ſaying, What meant you by theſe ſtones?

7 Then yee may anſwere them, That the waters of Iorden were cut off before the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord: for when it paſſed through Iorden, the waters of Iorden were cut off: therefore theſe ſtones are a memoriall unto the children of Iſrael for ever.

8 Then the children of Iſrael did even ſo as Ioſhua had commanded, and tooke up twelve ſtones out of the mids of Iorden as the Lord had ſaid unto Ioſhua, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Iſrael, and caried them away with them unto the lodging, and laid them downe there.

d Beſides the twelve ſtones which were carried by the tribes and ſet up in Gilgal.

9 And Ioſhua ſet up [d] twelve ſtones in the mids of Iorden, in the place where the feet of the Prieſtes, which bare the Arke of the Covenant ſtood, & there have they continued unto this day.

10 ¶ So the Prieſts, which bare the Arke, ſtood in the mids of Iorden, untill every thing was finiſhed that the Lord had commanded Ioſhua to ſay unto the people, according to all that Moſes charged Ioſhua: then the people haſted and went over.

11 When all the people were cleane paſſed over, the Arke of the Lord went over alſo, and the Prieſts [e] before the people.

e Meaning, in the preſence or ſight of the people.

* Num. 32, 27, 29.

13 Even fortie thouſand prepared for warre, went before the [f] Lord unto battell, into the plaine of Iericho.

f That is, before the Arke.

14 That day the Lord magnified Ioſhua in the ſight of all Iſrael, and they [‖] feared him, as they feared Moſes all the dayes of his life.

‖ Or, reverenced him.

15 And the Lord ſpake unto Ioſhua, ſaying, g Becauſe the Arke teſtified Gods preſence, and the Tables of the Law conteined therein, ſignified Gods will toward his people.

17 Ioſhua therefore commanded the Prieſts, ſaying, Come ye up out of Iorden.

18 And when the Prieſts that bare the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord, were come up out of the mids of Iorden, and aſſoone is the ſoles of the Prieſts feete were ſet on the drie land, the waters of Iorden returned unto their place, and flowed over all the bankes thereof, as they did before.

19 ¶ So the people came up out of Iorden the tenth day of the [h] firſt moneth, and pitched in Gilgal, in the Eaſtſide of Iericho.

h Called Abib or Niſan, conteining part of March and part of April.

20 Alſo the twelve ſtones, which they tooke out of Iorden, did Ioſhua pitch in Gilgal.

21 And he ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, ſaying, When your childrē ſhall aske their fathers in time to come, and ſay, What meane theſe ſtones?

22 Then ye ſhall ſhew your children, and ſay, Iſrael came over this Iorden on drie land:

1 The Canaanites are afraide of the Iſraelites. 2 Circumciſion is commanded the ſecond time. 10 The paſſeouer is kept. 12 Manna ceaſeth. 13 The Angel appeareth unto Ioſhua.

NOw when all the Kings of the [a] Amorites, which were beyond Iorden Weſtward, and all the Kings of the Canaanites which were by the Sea, heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of Iorden before the children of Iſrael untill they were gone over, their heart fainted: and there was no courage in them any more becauſe of the children of Iſrael.

a The Amorites were on both ſides Iorden, whereof two kings were ſlaine already on the ſide toward Moab.

2 ¶ That ſame time the Lord ſaid unto Ioſhua, * Make thee ſharpe knives, [b] and returne, and circumciſe the ſonnes of Iſrael the ſecond time.

* Exod 4.25.

b For now they had left it off about 49 yeeres.

3 Then Ioſhua made him ſharpe knives, and circumciſed the ſonnes of Iſrael in [c] the hill of the foreskinnes.

c Gilgal was ſo called, becauſe they were there circumciſed.

4 And this is the cauſe why Ioſhua circumciſed all the people, even the males that came out of Egypt, becauſe all the men of warre were dead in the wilderneſſe by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out, were circumciſed: but all the people that were borne in the wilderneſſe by the way after they came out of Egypt, were [d] not circumciſed.

d For they looked dayly to remoove at the Lords commandement, which thing they that were new circumciſed, could not doe without great danger.

6 For the children of Iſrael walked fourtie yeeres in the wilderneſſe, till all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt, were conſumed, becauſe they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: unto whom the Lord ſware that he would not ſhew them the land, * which the Lord had ſworne unto their fathers, that he would give us, even a land that floweth with milke and hony.

7 So their ſonnes whom he raiſed up in their ſtead, Ioſhua circumciſed: for they were uncircumciſed, becauſe they circumciſed them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an end of circumciſing all the people, they abode in the places in the campe till they [e] were whole.

* Numb. 14.29.

e For their ſore was ſo grieuous, that they were not able to remoove.

9 After, the Lord ſaid unto Ioſhua, This day I have taken away the [f] ſhame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, unto this day.

f By bringing you into this promiſed land, contrary to the wicked opinion of the Egyptians: for the foreskin wherewith you were like to the Egyptians.

10 ¶ So the children of Iſrael abode in Gilgal, and kept the feaſt of the Paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at even, in ỹ plaine of Iericho.

11 And they did eate of the corne of the land, on the morrow after the Paſſeouer, unleavened bread, and parched corne in the ſame day.

12 And the MAN ceaſed on the morrow after they had eaten of the corne of the land, neither had the children of Iſrael MAN any more, but did eate of the fruite of the land of Canaan that yeere.

13 ¶ And when Ioſhua was by Iericho, he lift up his eyes and looked: and behold, there ſtood a * man againſt him, having a ſword drawen in his hand: and Ioſhua went unto him, and ſaid unto him, Art thou on our ſide, or on our adverſaries?

* Exod. 23 23.

14 And he ſaid, Nay, but as a captaine of the hoſte of the Lord am I now come: then Ioſhua fell on his face to the earth, and [g] did worſhip, and ſaid unto him, What ſaith the Lord unto his ſervant?

g In that that Ioſhua worſhippeth him, he acknowledgeth him to be God: and in that that he calleth himſelf a true Lords captaine, he declareth himſelfe to be Chriſt.

15 And the captaine of the Lords hoſte ſayd unto Ioſhua, * Looſe thy ſhooe off thy foote: for the place whereon thou ſtandeſt, is holy: and Ioſhua did ſo.

a The Lord inſtructeth Ioſhua what he ſhould doe as touching Iericho. 6 Ioſhua commandeth the Prieſts and warriers what to do. 20 The walls fall. 22 Rahab is ſaved. 24 All is burnt ſaue gold and mettall. 26 The curſe of him that buildeth the citie.

NOw Iericho was a ſhut up, and b cloſed, c becauſe of the children of Iſrael, none might goe out nor enter in.

a That none could goe out.
b That none could come in.
c For feare of the Iſraelites.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto Ioſhua, Beholde, I have given into thine hand Iericho and the king thereof, and the ſtrong men of warre.

3 All ye therefore that be men of warre, ſhall compaſſe the citie, in going round about the citie d once: thus ſhall you doe ſixe dayes:

d Every day one.

4 And ſeven Prieſts ſhall beare ſeven trumpets of e rams hornes before the Arke: and the ſeventh day ye ſhall compaſſe the citie ſeven times, and the Prieſts ſhall blow with the trumpets.

e That the conqueſt migat not be aſſigned to mans power, but to the mercy of God, which with moſt weake things can overcome that which ſeemeth moſt ſtrong.

5 And when they make a long blaſt with the rams horne, and yee heare the ſound of the trumpet, all the people ſhall ſhout with a great ſhout: then ſhall the wall of the citie fall downe flat, and the people ſhall aſcend up, every man ſtreight before him.

6 ¶ Then Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun called the Prieſts and ſaid unto them, Take up the Arke of the Covenant, and let ſeven Prieſts beare ſeven trumpets of rams hornes before the Arke of the Lord.

7 But he ſaid unto the people, f Goe and compaſſe the citie: and let him that is armed go forth before the Arke of the Lord.

f This is chiefly meant by the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh.

8 ¶ And when Ioſhua had ſpoken unto the people, the ſeven prieſts bare the ſeven trumpets of rams hornes, and went foorth before the Arke of the Lord, and blew with the trumpets, and the arke of the Covenant of the Lord followed them,

9 ¶ And the men of armes went before the prieſts and blew the trumpets: then the g gathering hoſte came after the Arke, and they went and blew the trumpets.

g Meaning, the rereward, wherein was the ſtandard of the tribe of Dan, Num. 10, 25.

10 (Now Ioſhua had commanded the people, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſhout, neither make any noiſe with your voyce, neither ſhall a word proceed out of your mouth, untill the day that I ſay unto you, Shout, then ſhall ye ſhout.)

11 So the Arke of the Lord compaſſed the citie, and went about it h once: then they returned into the hoſt, and lodged in the campe.

h For that day.

12 And Ioſhua roſe early in the morning, and the Prieſts bare the Arke of the Lord.

13 Alſo ſeven Prieſts bare ſeven trumpets of rammes hornes, and went before the Arke of the Lord, and going blew with the trumpets: and the men of armes went before them, but the i gathering hoſte came after the Arke of the Lord, as they went and blew the trumpets.

i The tribe of Dan was ſo called, becauſe it marched laſt and gathered up whatſoever was left of others.

14 And the ſecond day they compaſſed the citie once, and returned into the hoſte: thus they did ſixe dayes.

15 And when the ſeventh day came, they roſe earely, even with the dawning of the day, and compaſſed the citie after the ſame manner k ſeven times: onely that day they compaſſed the citie ſeven times.

k Beſide every day once for the ſpace of ſix dayes.

16 And when the Prieſts had blowen the trumpets the ſeventh time, Ioſhua ſaid unto the people, Shoute: for the Lord hath given you the citie.

17 And the citie ſhall be l an execrable thing, both it, and all that are therein, unto the Lord: onely Rahab the harlot ſhall live, ſhee, and all that are with her in the houſe: for * ſhee hid the meſſengers that we ſent.

l That is appointed wholy to be deſtroyed.

* Chap. 2, 4.

18 Notwithſtanding, be ye ware of the execrable thing, leſt ye make your ſelves execrable, and in taking of the execrable thing, make alſo the hoſte of Iſrael * execrable, and trouble it.

* Levit. 27, 21. Num. 21, 2. deut. 13, 15, 17.

19 But all ſilver, and gold, and veſſels of braſſe, and yron ſhalbe m conſecrate unto the Lord, and ſhall come into the Lords treaſurie.

m And therefore cannot be put to any private uſe, but muſt be firſt molten, and then ſerve for the Tabernacle.

20 So the people ſhouted, when they had blowen trumpets: for when the people had heard the ſound of the trumpets, they ſhouted with a great ſhout: and the * wall fell downe flat: ſo the people went up into the citie, every man ſtraight before him: * and they tooke the citie.

* Hebr. 11. 30.
* 2. Mac. 12, 15, 16.

21 And they utterly deſtroyed all that was in the cities both man and woman, yorg, and olde, and oxe, and ſheepe, and aſſe with the edge of the ſword.

22 But Ioſhua had ſaid unto ŷ two men that had ſpied out ŷ countrey, Goe into the harlots houſe, and bring out thence the woman, and all that ſhe hath, * as ye ſware to her.

* Chap. 2, 14. hebr. 1, 31.

23 So the young men that were ſpies, went in and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that ſhee had: alſo they brought out all her family, and put them n without the hoſte of Iſrael.

n For it was not lawfull for ſtrangers to dwell among the Iſraelites, till they were purged, 24 After, they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: onely the ſilver and the golde, and the veſſels of braſſe and yron, they put unto the treaſure of the o houſe of the Lord.

o Meaning, the Tabernacle.

25 So Ioſhua ſaved Rahab the harlot, and her fathers houſhold, and all that ſhee had, and ſhee p dwelt in Iſrael, even unto this day, becauſe ſhe had hid the meſſengers, which Ioſhua ſent to ſpie out Iericho.

p For ſhe was married to Salmon prince of the tribe of Iudah, Matth. 1, 5.

26 ¶ And Ioſhua ſware at that time, ſaying, Curſed be the man before the Lord, that riſeth up, and buildeth the city Iericho: q he ſhall lay the foundation thereof in his eldeſt ſonne, and in his yongeſt ſonne ſhall he ſet up the gates of it.

q He ſhall build it to the deſtruction of all his ſtocke, which thing was fulfilled in Hiel of Beth el, 1. King. 16, 34.

27 So the Lord was with Ioſhua, and he was famous through all the world.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord is angry with Achan. 4 They of Ai put the Iſraelites to flight. 6 Ioſhua prayeth to the Lord. 16 Ioſhua enquireth out him that ſinned, and ſtoneth him and all his.

BUt the children of Iſrael committeth a treſpaſſe in the a excommunicate thing: for * Achan the ſonne of Carmi, the ſonne of Zabdi, the ſonne of Zerah of the tribe of Iudah, tooke of the excommunicate thing: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt the children of Iſrael.

a In taking that which was cõmanded to be deſtroyed.
* Chap. 22. 20. 1. chro. 2, 7.

2 And Ioſhua ſent men from Iericho to b Ai, which is beſide Bethauen, on the Eaſtſide of Bethel, and ſpake unto them, ſaying, Goe up, and view the countrey. And the men went up and viewed Ai.

b This was a citie of the Amorites: for there was another ſo called among the Amorites, Iere. 49, 3. The firſt Ai is called Aiah; Iſ. 10, 28.

3 And returned to Ioſhua, and ſaid unto him, Let not all the people goe up, but let as it were two or three thouſand men goe up, and ſmite Ai, and make not all the people to labour thither, for they are few.

4 So there went up thither of the people about three thouſand men, and they fled before the men of Ai.

5 And the c men of Ai ſmote of them upon a thirty and ſixe men: for they chaſed them from before the gate unto Shebarim, and ſmote them in the going downe: wherefore the hearts of the people melted away like water, c God would by this overthrowe make them more earneſt to ſearch out and punith the ſinne committed.

6 ¶ Then

6 Then Ioshua rent his cloathes, and fell to the earth vpon his face before the Arke of the Lord, vntill the eventide, he, and the Elders of Israel, and put dust vpon their heads.

7 And Ioshua said, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore hast thou brought this people over Iorden, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs? would God we had beene content to dwell on the d other side Iorden.

d This infirmity of his faith sheweth how we are inclined of nature to distrust.

8 Oh Lord what shall I say, when Israel turne their backes before their enemies?

9 For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land shall heare of it, and shall compasse us, and destroy our name out of the earth: and what wilt thou doe vnto thy mightie e Name?

e When thine enemies shall blaspheme thee and say, that thou wast not able to defend vs from them.

10 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshua, Get thee vp: wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Israel hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my couenant, which I commanded them: for they haue euen taken of § excommunicate thing, and haue also stollen, and dissembled also, and haue put it even with their owne stuffe.

12 Therefore the children of Israel cannot stand before their enemies: but haue turned their backes before their enemies, because they be execrable: neither wil I be with you any more, except ye f destroy the excommunicate from among you.

f Then to suffer wickednesse vnpunished, is to refuse God willingly.

13 Vp therefore, sanctifie the people, and say, Sanctifie your selves against to morow: for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, There is an execrable thing among you, O Israel, therefore yee cannot stand against your enemies, vntill ye haue put the g execrable thing from among you.

g Meaning the man that tooke of the thing forbidden.

14 In the morning therefore ye shall come according to your tribes, and the tribe which the Lord taketh, shall come according to the families: and the family which the Lord shall take, shall come by the household: and the household which the Lord shall take, shall come man by man.

15 And he that is h taken with the excommunicate thing, shall be burnt with fire, hee and all that he hath, because he hath transgressed the couenant of the Lord, and because he hath wrought folly in Israel.

h That is found guilty, either by lottes, or by the iudgement of Vrim. Num. 27, 21.

16 ¶ So Ioshua rose vp early in the morning, and brought Israel by their tribes: and the tribe of Iudah was taken.

17 And he brought the families of Iudah, and tooke the families of the Zarhites, and he brought the family of the Zarhites man by man, and Zabdi was taken.

18 And hee brought his household, man by man, and Achan the sonne of Carmi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zerah of the tribe of Iudah was taken.

19 Then Ioshua said vnto Achan, My sonne, I beseech thee, giue glory to the Lord God of Israel, and i make confession vnto him, and shew me now what thou hast done: hide it not from me.

i By declaring trueth: for God is glorified when the trueth is confessed.

20 And Achan answered Ioshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the Lord God of Israel, and thus, and thus haue I done.

21 I sawe among the spoile a goodly k Babylonish garment, and two hundreth shekels of siluer, and a wedge of gold of fiftie shekels weight, and I couered them, and tooke them: and behold, they lie hid in the earth in the mids of my tent, and the siluer vnder it.

k Such a rich garment as the Itares of Babylon did weare.

22 ¶ Then Ioshua sent messengers, which ran vnto the tent, and behold, it was hid in his tent, and the siluer under it.

23 Therefore they tooke them out of the tent and brought them vnto Ioshua, and vnto all the children of Israel, and laid them before the Lord.

‖ Or, orphem. l Some reade a plate: others, a rod. and some a tongue.

24 Then Ioshua tooke Achan the ‖ sonne of Zerah, and the siluer, and the garment, and the l wedge of gold, and his m sonnes, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and all Israel with him, brought them vnto the valley of Achor.

m This iudgement only appertaineth to God, and to whom he will reueale it, to man he had commanded not to punish the childe for the fathers fault, Deut. 24. 16.

25 And Ioshua said, n In as much as thou hast troubled vs, the Lord shall trouble thee this day: and all Israel threw stones at him, and burned them with fire, and stoned them with stones.

n He declareth that this is Gods iudgement because he had offended, and caused others to be slaine.

26 And they cast vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and so the Lord turned from his fierce wrath: therefore he called the name of that place, The valley of Achor, vnto this day.

3 The siege. 19 and winning of Ai. 29 The king thereof is hanged. 30 Ioshua setteth vp an altar. 32 Hee writeth the Law vpon stones. 35 and readeth it to all the people.

AFter, the Lord said vnto Ioshua, * Feare not, neither be thou faint hearted: take all the men of warre with thee and arise, go vp to Ai: behold, I haue giuen into thine hand the king of Ai, and his people, and his city, and his land.

* Deut. 1, 19. and 7, 18.

2 And thou shalt done to Ai and to the king thereof, as thou diddest vnto * Iericho and to the king thereof: neuertheless the spoile thereof and * the cattell thereof shall ye take vnto you for a pray: thou shalt lie in wait against the citie on the a backside thereof.

a Meaning on the Westside, as vers. 5.

3 ¶ Then Ioshua arose, and all the men of warre to go vp against Ai: and Ioshua chose out thirty thousand strong men, and valiant, and sent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye b shall lie in wait against the citie on the backside of the citie: goe not very farre from the city, but be ye all in a readinesse.

b God would not destroy Ai by miracle, as Iericho, to the intent that otherwhiles might feare the power and politie of his people.

5 And I and all the people that are with me, will approach vnto the citie: and when they shall come out against vs, as they did at the first time, then will we flee before them.

6 For they will come out after vs, till we have brought them out of the citie: for they will say, They flee before vs as at the first time: so we will flee before them.

7 Then you shall rise vp from lying in waite and ‖ destroy the city: for the Lord your God will deliuer it into your hand.

‖ Or, driue out (the inhabitants) of the citie.

8 And when ye have taken the citie, yee shall set it on fire; according to the commaundement of the Lord shall ye doe: behold, I haue charged you.

9 ¶ Ioshua then sent them foorth, and they went to lie in waite, and aboade betweene Beth-el and Ai, on the Westside of Ai: but Ioshua lodged that night c among the people.

c With the rest of the armie.

10 And Ioshua rose vp earely in the morning, and d numbred the people: and he and the Elders of Israel went vp before the people against Ai.

d That is, viewed or mustred them, & set them in aray.

11 Also the men of warre that were with him went vp and drew neere, and came against the citie, and pitched on the North side of Ai: and there was a valley betweene them and Ai.

12 And hee tooke about fiue thousand men, e and set them to lie in waite betweene Beth-el and Ai on the West side of the citie.

e He sent these few, that other which lay in ambush might not be discovered.

13 And the people set all the hoste that was on the North side against the city, and the liers in waite on the West, against the citie: and Ioshua went the same night into the f mids of the valley.

f To the intent that they in the citie might the better discouer his armie.

14 ¶ And when the king of Ai saw it, then the men of the city hasted and rose vp early, and went out against Israel to battell, he and all his people, at the time appointed, before the plaine: for hee knew not that any lay in waite against him on the backeside of the city.

g As they which fained to flee for feare.

15 Then Ioshua and all Israel g*as* beaten before them, fled by the way of the wilderneſſe.

16 And all the people of the city were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after Ioshua, and were drawen away out of the citie.

17 So that there was not a man left in Ai, nor in Beth-el, that went not out after Israel: and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel.

h Or, lift vp the banner, to signifie when they shall invade the city.

18 Then the Lord said vnto Ioshua, h Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand, toward Ai; for I will giue it into thine hand: and Ioshua stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, toward the city.

19 And they that lay in wait, arose quickly out of their place, and ranne as soone as he had stretched out his hand, and they entred into the citie, and tooke it, and hasted, and set the city on fire.

20 And the men of Ai looked behind them, and saw it: for loe, the smoke of the city ascended vp ‖ to heauen, and they had no ‖ power to flee this way or that way: for the people that fled to the wilderneſſe, turned backe vpon the pursuers.

‖ Or, toward the heauens.

‖ Or, place.

21 When Ioshua and all Israel saw that they that lay in waite, had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city mounted vp, then they turned againe and slew the men of Ai.

i Which came out of the ambush.

22 Also the i other issued out of the citie against them: so were they in the middes of Israel, these being on the one side, and the rest on the other side: & they slew them, so that they let none of them * remaine nor escape.

* Deut. 7, 2.

23 And the King of Ai they tooke aliue, and brought him to Ioshua.

24 And when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, that is, in the wilderneſſe where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, untill they were consumed, all the Israelites returned vnto Ai, and k smote it with the edge of the sword.

k For the fire, which they had before set in the citie, was not to consume it, but to signifie vnto Ioshua that they were entred.

25 And all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelue thousand, euen all the men of Ai.

26 For Ioshua drewe not his hand backe againe which hee had stretched out with the speare, untill he had vtterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.

* Num. 31, 22, 26. as verse 2.

27 * Onely the cattell and the spoyle of this citie, Israel tooke for a prey unto themselves, according unto the worde of the Lord, which hee commanded Ioshua.

28 And Ioshua burnt Ai, and made it an heape for l euer, and a wilderneſſe unto this day.

l That it could neuer be built againe.

29 And the king of Ai hee hanged on a tree, unto the euening. And assoone as the sunne was downe, Ioshua commanded m that they should take his carkeis downe from the tree, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the city, and * lay thereon a great heape of stones, that remaineth unto this day.

m According as it was commanded, Deut. 21, 23.

* Chap. 7, 25, 26.

30 ¶ Then Ioshua built an altar unto the Lord God of Israel, in mount Ebal, 31 As Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the * booke of the Law of Moses, an altar of whole stone, over which no man had lift any yron: and they offered thereon burnt offrings unto the Lord, and sacrificed peace offrings.

* Exod. 20, 25. deut. 27. 5.

32 Also he wrote there upon the stones, a n rehearsall of the Law of Moses, which hee wrote in the presence of the children of Israel.

n Meaning, the ten commandements, which are the summe of the whole Law.

33 And all Israel (and their Elders, and officers and their Iudges stood on this side of the Arke, and on that side, before the Priests of the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord) as well the stranger, as he that is borne in the countrey: halfe of them were over against mount Gerizim, and halfe of them over against mount Ebal, * as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded before, that they should blesse the children of Israel.

* Deut. 11, 29. and 27. 12. 13.

34 Then afterward hee reade all the wordes of the Law, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the booke of the Law.

35 There was not a worde of all that Moses had commanded, which Ioshua reade not before all the Congregation of Israel, * as well before the o women and the children, as the stranger that was conuersant among them.

* Deut. 31, 11, 12.

o So neither yong nor olde, man nor woman, were exempted from hearing the word of the Lord.

A Nd when all the Kings that a were beyond Iorden, in the mountaines and in the valleys, and by all the coastes of the b great Sea over against Lebanon, (as the Hittites, and the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Iebusites) heard thereof, † Ebr. one mouth.

3 ¶ * But the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Ioshua had done unto Iericho, and to Ai.

* 2. Sam. 21. 1.

4 And therefore they wrought craftily: for they went, and fained themselues ambassadors, and tooke olde sackes upon their asses, and olde bottels for wine, both rent and c bound vp.

c Becanse they were all worne.

5 And olde shooes and clouted upon their feete: also the raiment upon them was old, and all their prouision of bread was dried, and mouled.

6 So they came to Ioshua into the hoaste to Gilgal, and said unto him, and unto the men of Israel, Wee be come from a farre countrey: now therefore make a league with us.

7 Then the men of Israel said unto the d Hiuites, It may be that thou dwellest among us, how then can I make a league with thee?

d For the Gibeonites and the Hiuites were alone people.

8 And they said unto Ioshua, We are thy seruants. Then Ioshua said unto them, Who are ye, and whence come ye?

9 And they answered him, From a very farre countrey thy seruants are come for e the Name of the Lord thy God: for wee haue heard his fame and all that he hath done in Egypt, e Euen the idolaters for feare of death will pretend to honour the true God, and receiue his religion.

10 And all that he hath done to the two kings of the Amorites that were beyond Iorden, to Sihon king of Heshon, and to Og king of Bashan, which were at Ashtaroth.

them, and say unto them, Wee are your seruants: now therefore make ye a league with us.

12 This our bread we tooke it hote with us for victuals out of our houses, the day we departed to come unto you: but now behold, it is dried, and it is mouled.

13 Also the bottels of wine which wee filled, were new, and loe, they be rent, and these our garments and our shoes are old, by reason of the exceeding great iourney.

14 ¶ And the g men accepted their tale concerning their victuals, and counselled not with the mouth of the Lord.

15 So Ioshua made peace with them, and made a league with them, that he would suffer them to liue: also the Princes of the Congregation sware unto them.

16 ¶ But at the end of three dayes, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Israel tooke their h iourney, and came unto their cities the third day, and their cities were Gibeon, and Chephirah, and Beeroth, and Kiriath-iearim.

18 And the children of Israel slew them not because the Princes of the Congregation had sworne unto them by the Lord God of Israel: wherefore all the Congregation i murmured against the Princes.

19 Then all the Princes said unto all the Congregation, Wee haue sworne unto them by the Lord God of Israel: now therefore we may not touch them.

20 But this we will doe to them, and let them liue, least the wrath be upon us, because of the k oath which we sware unto them.

21 And the Princes said unto them againe, Let them liue, but they shall hew wood, and draw water unto all the Congregation, as the Princes appoint them.

22 Ioshua then called them, and talked with them, and said, Wherefore haue yee beguiled us, saying, Wee are very farre from you, when yee dwell among us?

23 Now therefore yee are accursed, and there shall none of you be freed from being bond men, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water for l the house of my God.

24 And they answered Ioshua, and said, Because it was tolde thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had * commanded his seruant Moses to giue you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land out of your sight, therefore wee were exceeding sore afraid for our liues at the presence of you, and haue done this thing.

25 And beholde now, wee are in thine hand: doe as it seemeth good and right in thine eyes to doe unto us.

26 Euen so did hee unto them, and deliuered them out of the m hand of the children of Israel, that they slew them not.

27 And Ioshua appointed them that same day to be hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the Congregation, and for the n altar of the Lord unto this day, in the place which he should chuse.

CHAP. X.

1 Five kings make warre against Gibeon whom Iosua discomfiteth. 11 The Lord rained haile stones and slew many. 12 The Sunne standeth at Iosuas prayer. 26 The five kings are hanged. 29 Many more cities and kings are destroyed.

NOw when Adoni-zedek king of Ierusalem had heard how Ioshua had taken Ai and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Iericho and to the king thereof, so he had done to * Ai and to the king thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them,

2 Then they feared exceedingly: for Gibeon was a great citie, as one of the royall cities: for it was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof were mightie.

3 Wherefore a Adoni-zedek king of Ierusalem sent unto Hoham king of Hebron, and unto Piram king of Iarmuth, and unto Iapia king of Lachish, and unto Debir king of Eglon, saying,

4 Come up unto mee, and helpe mee, that wee may smite Gibeon: for they haue made peace with Ioshua and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the fiue kings of the Amorites, the king of Ierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Iarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon, gathered themselues together, and went up, they with all their hoastes, and besieged Gibeon, and made b warre against it.

6 And the men of Gibeon went unto Ioshua, euen to the hoast to Gilgal, saying, Withdraw not thine hand from thy seruants: come up to us quickely, and saue us, and helpe us: for all the kings of the Amorites, which dwell in the mountaines, are gathered together against us.

7 So Ioshua ascended from Gilgal, he, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 ¶ And the Lord said unto Ioshua, c Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shall stand against thee.

9 Ioshua therefore came unto them suddenly: for he went up from Gilgal all the night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israel, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth up to Beth-horon, and smote them to Azekah, and to Makkedah.

11 And as they fled from before Israel, and were in the going downe to Beth-horon, the Lord cast downe great stones from heauen upon them, untill Azekah, and they died: they were more that died with the d haile stones, then they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword.

12 ¶ Then spake Ioshua to the Lord, in the day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, *Sunne, stay thou in Gibeon, and thou Moone, in the valley of Aialon.

13 And the Sunne abode, and the moone stood still, untill the people auenged themselues upon their enemies: (is not this written in the booke of e Iasher?) so the Sunne abode in the middes of the heauen, and hasted not to goe downe for a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord fought for Israel.

15 ¶ After, Ioshua returned, and all Israel with him unto the campe to Gilgal:

16 But the fiue kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedah.

17 And it was told Ioshua, saying, The fiue kings are found hid in a caue at Makkedah.

18 Then Ioshua said, Roule great stones upon

4 And they came out and all their hosts with them, many people, as the sand that is on the sea shore, for multitude, with horses and charets exceeding many.

5 So all these kings met together, and came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, for to fight against Israel.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Iosh., Be not afraid for them: for to morow about this time will I deliver them all slaine before Israel: thou shalt d hough their horses, and burne their charets with fire.

d That neither they should serve to the vse of warre, nor the Israelites should put their trust in them.

7 Then came Iosh. and all the men of warre with him, against them by the waters of Merom suddenly, and fell vpon them.

8 And the Lord gaue them into the hand of Israel: and they smote them, and chased them vnto great Zidon, and vnto e Misrephothmaim, and vnto the valley of Mizpeh Eastward, and smote them vntill they had none remaining of them.

e Which signifieth hot waters, or according to some, brine pits.

9 And

9 And Ioshua did unto them as the Lord bade him: hee honghed their horses, and burnt their charets with fire.

10 ¶ At that time also Ioshua turned backe, and tooke Hazor, and smote the King thereof with the sword: for Hazor beforetime was the head of all those kingdomes.

11 Moreover they smote all the [f] persons that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying all, leaving none alive, and hee burnt Hazor with fire.

12 So all the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them did Ioshua take, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed them, * as Moses the servant of the Lord had commanded.

13 But Israel burnt none of the cities that stood still in their [g] strength, save Hazor onely, that Ioshua burnt.

14 And all the spoile of these cities and the cattell, the children of Israel tooke for their pray, but they smote every [h] man with the edge of the sword untill they had destroyed them, not leaving one alive.

15 ¶ As the Lord * had commanded Moses his servant, so did Moses * command Ioshua, and so did Ioshua, he left nothing undone of all that the Lord had commanded Moses.

16 So Ioshua tooke all this land of the mountaines, and all the South, and all the land of Goshen, and the low countrey, and the plaine, and [i] the mountaine of Israel, and the low countrey of the same.

17 From the mount [k] Halak, that goeth up to Seir, even unto ‖ Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon, under mount Hermon: and all their kings he tooke, and smote them, and slew them.

18 Ioshua made warre long time with all those Kings.

19 Neither was there any city that made peace with the children of Israel, * save those Hivites that inhabited Gibeon: all other they tooke by battell.

20 For it came of the Lord, to [l] harden their hearts that they should come against Israel in battell, to the intent that they should destroy them utterly, and shewe them no mercy, but that they should bring them to nought, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

21 ¶ And that same season came Ioshua, and destroyed the Anakims out of the mountaines: as out of Hebron, out of Debir, out of Anab, and out of all the mountaines of Iudah, and out of all the mountaines of Israel, Ioshua destroyed them utterly with their cities.

22 There was no Anakim left in the land of the children of Israel, onely in Azzah, [m] in Gath, and in Ashdod were they left.

23 So Ioshua tooke the whole land, according to all that the Lord had said unto Moses: and Ioshua gave it for an inheritance unto Israel, * according to their portions through their tribes: then the land was at rest without warre.

1 The borders and coasts of the land of Canaan. 8 The possession of the Reubenites, Gadites, and of halfe the tribe of Manasseh. 14 The Lord is the inheritance of Levi. 22 Balaam was slaine.

NOw when Ioshua was olde, and [a] stricken in yeeres, the Lord said unto him, Thou art olde and † growen in age, and there remaineth exceeding much land to be [b] possessed:

2 This is the land that remaineth, all the ‖ regions of the Philistims, and all Geshuri.

3 From † Nilus which is † in Egypt, even unto the borders of Ekron Northward: this is counted of the Canaanites, even five Lordships of the Philistims, the Azzithites, and the Ashdodites, the Eshkelonites, the Gittites, and the Ekronites, and the Avites:

4 From the South, all the land of the Canaanites, and the ‖ cave that is beside the Sidonians, unto Aphek, and to the borders of the Amorites:

5 And the land of the Giblites, and all Lebanon toward the Sun rising from ‖ Bahal-gad under mount Hermon, untill one come to Hamath.

6 All the inhabitants of the mountaines from Lebanon unto [c] Misrephothmaim, and all the Sidonians, I will cast them out from before the children of Israel: onely divide thou it by lot unto the Israelites, to inherite, as I have commanded thee.

7 Now therefore divide this land to inherite, unto the nine tribes, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

8 For with halfe thereof the Reubenites and the Gadites have received their inheritance, * which Moses gave them beyond Iorden Eastward, even as Moses the servant of the Lord had given them.

9 From Aroer that is on the brinke of the river Arnon, and from the citie that is in the mids of the ‖ river, and all the plaine of Medeba unto Dibon,

10 And all the cities of Sihon king of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, unto the borders of the children of Ammon,

11 And Gilead, and the borders of the Geshurites and of the Maachathites, and all mount Hermon, with all Bashan unto Salcah:

12 All the kingdome of Og in Bashan, which reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edrei: (who remained of * the rest of the gyants) for these did Moses smite, and cast them out:

13 But the children of Israel [d] expelled not the Geshurites nor the Maachathites: but the Geshurites and the Maachathites dwell among the Israelites even unto this day.

14 Onely unto the tribe of Levi he gave none inheritance, but the sacrifices of the Lord God of Israel are [e] his inheritance, as he said unto him.

15 ¶ Moses then gave unto the tribe of the children of Reuben inheritance, according to their families.

16 And their coast was from Aroer, that is on the brinke of the river Arnon, and from the city that is in the middes of the river, and all the plaine which is by Medeba:

17 Heshbon with all the cities thereof, that are in the plaine: Dibon and ‖ Bamoth-baal, and Beth-baal-meon:

18 And Iahazah, and Kedemoth, & Mephaath:

19 Kiriathaim also, and Sabmah, and Zereth-shahar in the mount of ‖ Emek:

20 And Beth-peor, and * Ashdoth-pisgah, and Beth-iesh imoth:

21 And all the cities of the plaine, and all the kingdome of Sihon king of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, whom Moses * smote with the Princes of Midian, Evi and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, the dukes of Sihon, dwelling in the countrey.

22 And [f] Balaam the sonne of Beor the soothsayer did the children of Israel slay with the sword, among them that were slaine.

23 And the border of the children of Reuben was Iorden with the coasts. This was the inheritance of the children of Reuben according to their families, with the cities and their villages.

24 ¶ Also Moses gave inheritance unto the tribe of Gad, even unto the children of Gad according to their families.

25 And their coasts were Iazer, and all the cities of Gilead, and halfe the land of the children of Ammon unto Aroer, which is before Rabbah:

26 And from Heshbon unto Ramoth, Mizpeh, and Betonim: and from Mahanaim unto the borders of Debir:

27 And in the valley of Beth-aram, and Beth-nimrah, and Succoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdome of Sihon king of Heshbon unto Iorden and the borders even unto the sea coast of Cinnereth, [g] beyond Iorden Eastward.

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad, after their families, with the cities and their villages.

29 ¶ Also Moses gave inheritance unto the halfe tribe of Manasseh: and this belonged to the halfe tribe of the children of Manasseh according to their families.

30 And their border was from Mahanaim, even all Bashan, to wit, all the kingdome of Og king of Bashan, and all the townes of Iair which are in Bashan, threescore cities, 31 And halfe Gilead, and Ashtaroth, and Edrei, cities of the kingdome of Og in Bashan, * were given unto the [h] children of Machir the sonne of Manasseh to halfe of the children of Machir after their families.

32 These are the heritages, which Moses did distribute in the plaine of Moab beyond Iorden toward Iericho Eastward.

33 * But unto the tribe of Levi Moses gave none inheritance: for the Lord God of Israel is their inheritance, * as he said unto them.

3 For Moses had given inheritance unto [a] two tribes and an halfe tribe, beyond Iorden: but unto the Levites he gave none inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Ioseph were [b] two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim, therefore they gave no part unto the Levites in the land, save cities to dwell in, with the suburbs of the same for their beasts and their substance.

5 * As the Lord had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did when they divided the land.

concerning c thee and me in Kadesh-barnea.

7 Fourty yeere olde was I, when Moses the servant of the Lord sent me from Kadesh-barnea to espie the land, and I brought him word againe, as I thought in mine heart.

8 But my d brethren that went up with mee, discouraged the heart of the people: yet I followed still the Lord my God.

9 Wherefore Moses sware the same day, saying, Certainely the land whereon thy feete have troden, shall be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for ever, because thou hast followed constantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore behold now, the Lord hath kept me alive, as he promised: this is the fourty and fift yeere since the Lord spake this thing unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wildernesse: and now loe, I am this day fourescore and five yeere olde:

11 And yet am as * strong at this time, as I was when Moses sent me: as strong as I was then, so strong am I now, either for warre, or † for gouernement.

13 Then Ioshua blessed him, and gave unto Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh, Hebron for an inheritance.

THis then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Iudah by their families: even * to the border of Edom and the wildernesse of * Zin, Southward on the South coast.

2 And their South border was the salt Sea coast, from the a point that looketh Southward,

3 And it went out on the Southside toward Maaleh-akrabbim, and went along to Zin, and ascended up on the Southside unto Kadesh-barnea, and went along to Hezron, and went up to Adar, and fet a compasse to Karkaa.

4 From thence went it along to Azmon, and reached unto the river of Egypt, and the ende of that coast was on the Westside: this shalbe your South coast.

5 Also the East border shallbe the salt Sea, vnto the b ende of Iorden: and the border on the North quarter from the point of the Sea, and from the end of Iorden.

6 And this border goeth up to Beth-hogla, and goeth along by the North side of Beth-arabah: so the border from thence goeth up to the c stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

3 And goeth downe Weſtward to the coaſt of Iaphleti, vnto the coaſt of Beth-horon the nether, and to Gezer, and the ends b thereof are at the Sea.

b Of their inheritance.

4 So the children of Ioſeph, Manaſſeh and Ephraim c tooke their inheritance.

c Seuerally, firſt Ephraim, and then Manaſſeh.

5 ¶ Alſo the borders of the children of Ephraim according to their families, even the borders of their inheritance on the Eaſt ſide were Atroth-addar, vnto Beth-horon the vpper.

6 And this border goeth out to the Sea vnto Michmethah on the North ſide, and this border returneth returneth Eaſtward vnto Taanath-ſhiloh, and paſſeth it on the Eaſt ſide vnto Ianohah, 7 And goeth downe from Ianohah vnto Ataroth, and Naarath, and commeth to Iericho, d and goeth out at Iorden.

d For ſo farre the coaſtes reach.

8 And this border goeth from Tappuah Weſtward vnto the river Kanah, and the endes thereof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.

9 And the e ſeparate cities for the children of Ephraim vvere among the inheritance of the children of Manaſſeh: all the cities with their villages.

e Becauſe Ephraims tribe was far greater then Manaſſeh, therefore he had moe cities.

10 And they caſt not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanite dwelt among the Ephraimites vnto this day, and ſerved vnder tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The portion of the halfe tribe of Manaſſeh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad. 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries. 14 Manaſſeh and Ephraim require a greater portion of heritage.

THis was alſo the lot of the tribe of Manaſſeh: for he was the * firſt borne of Ioſeph, to vvit, of Machir the firſt borne of Manaſſeh, and the father of Gilead: now becauſe he was a man of warre, he had Gilead and Baſhan.

* Gen. 41, 51. and 46, 20. and 50. 23. Num. 32, 39.

2 And alſo * of the a reſt of the ſonnes of Manaſſeh by their families, even of the ſonnes of Abiezer, and of the ſonnes of Helek, and of the ſons of Azriel, and of the ſons of Shechem, and of the ſonnes of Hepher, and of the ſonnes of Shemida: theſe were the males of Manaſſeh, the ſonne of Ioſeph according to their families.

* Num. 26, 33. and 27, 1. and 36, 2. 11.

a For the other halfe tribe had their portion beyond Iorden.

3 ¶ * But Zelophehad the ſonne of Hephir, the ſonne of Gilead, the ſonne of Machir, the ſonne of Manaſſeh, had no ſonnes, but daughters: and theſe are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah:

4 Which came before Eleazar the Prieſt, and before Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun, and before the princes, ſaying, The Lord commanded Moſes to give vs an inheritance among our b brethren: therefore according to the commandement of the Lord, hee gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

b Among them of our tribe.

5 And there fell ten portions to c Manaſſeh, beſide the land of Gilead and Baſhan, which is on the other ſide of Iorden, c In the land of Canaan: five to the males: and other five to the daughters of Zelophehad.

6 Becauſe the daughters of Manaſſeh did inherite among his ſonnes: and Manaſſehs other ſonnes had the land of Gilead.

7 ¶ So the borders of Manaſſeh were from Aſher to Michmethah that lieth before d Sechem, and this border goeth on the right hande, even to the inhabitants of Entappuah.

d Meaning, the cities it ſelfe.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manaſſeh, but d Tappuah beſide the border of Manaſſeh belongeth to the ſonnes of Ephraim.

9 Alſo this border goeth downe vnto the ‖ riuer Kanah Southward to the river: theſe cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manaſſeh: and the border of Manaſſeh is on the Northſide of the river, and the ends of it are at the e Sea.

‖ Or, the brooke of reedes.

e That is, toward the maine ſea.

10 The South pertaineth to Ephraim, and the North to Manaſſeh, and the ſea is his border: and they met together in f Aſher Northward, and in Iſſachar Eaſtward.

f In the tribe of Aſher, and tribe of Iſſachar.

11 And Manaſſeh had in Iſſachar and in Aſher, Beth-ſhean, and herrownes, and Ibleam, and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dor, with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of Taanach with her townes, and the inhabitants of Megiddo with the towns of the ſame, even three countreys.

12 Yet the children of Manaſſeh g could not deſtroy thoſe cities, but the Canaanites dwelled ſtill in that land.

g For at the firſt they lacked courage, and after agreed with them on condition, contrary to Gods commandement.

13 Neverthelеſſe, when the children of Iſrael were ſtrong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but caſt them not out wholly.

14 Then the children of Ioſeph ſpake vnto Ioſhua, ſaying, Why haſt thou given me but one lot, and one portion to inherite, ſeeing I am a great people, foraſmuch as the Lord hath h bleſſed me hitherto?

h According to my father Iacobs prophecie, Gen. 41. 19.

15 Ioſhua then anſwered them, If thou be much people, get thee vp to the wood, and cut trees for thy ſelfe there in the land of the Perizites, and of the gyants, i if mount Ephraim be too narrow for thee.

i If this mount be not large enough, why doeſt not thou get more by deſtroying Gods enemies, as he hath commanded?

16 Then the children of Ioſeph ſayd, The mountaine will not be enough for vs: and all the Cannaanites that dwell in the low countrey have charets of yron, aſwell they in Bethſhean, and in the townes of the ſame, as they in the valley of Izreel.

17 And Ioſhua ſpake vnto the houſe of Ioſeph, to Ephraim and to Manaſſeh, ſaying, Thou art a great people, and haſt great power, and ſhalt not have one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine ſhall be thine: for it is a wood, and thou ſhalt cut it downe: and the ends of it ſhall be thine, k and thou ſhalt caſt out the Canaanites, though they have yron charets, and though they be ſtrong.

k So that thou ſhalt enlarge thy portion thereby.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Tabernacle ſet in Shiloh. 4 Certaine are ſent to diuide the land to the other ſeuen tribes. 21 The lot of the children of Beniamin.

AND the whole Congregation of the children of Iſrael came together at Shiloh: for they ſet vp the a Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was ſubiect vnto them.

a For they had now remoued it from Gilgal, and ſet it vp in Shiloh.

2 Now there remained among the children of Iſrael ſeven tribes, to whom b they had not diuided their inheritance.

b As Eleazar, Ioſhua, and the heads of the tribes had done to Iudah, Ephraim, and halfe of Manaſſeh.

3 Therefore Ioſhua ſayd vnto the children of Iſrael, how long are you ſo ſlacke to enter and poſſeſſe the land which the Lord God of your fathers hath given you?

4 Give from among you for every tribe three men, that I may ſend them, and that they may riſe and walke through the land, and diſtribute it according to c their inheritance, and returne to me.

5 And that they may diuide it vnto them into ſeven parts, (Iudah ſhall abide in his coaſt at the South, and the houſe of Ioſeph ſhall d ſtande in their coaſts at the North.)

c That is, into ſeven portions, to every tribe one.

d For theſe had their inheritance al ready appointed.

6 Ye ſhall deſcribe the land therefore into ſeuen parts, and ſhall bring them hither to me, and I will caſt lots for you here before the e Lord our God.

e Before the Arke of the Lord.

7 But the Levites ſhall have no part among you: for the f Prieſthood of the Lord is their inheritance: alſo Gad and Reuben and halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh have received their inheritance beyond Iorden Eaſtward, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord gave them.

f That is, the ſacrifices and offerings, Chap. 13. 14.

8 ¶ Then the men aroſe, and went their way, and Ioſhua charged them that went to deſcribe the the land, saying, Depart, and go thorow the land, and g describe it, and returne to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

9 So the men departed, and passed through ỹ land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a booke, and returned to Ioshua into the camp at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Ioshua h cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord, and there Ioshua diuided the land vnto the children of Israel, according to their portions.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamin came forth according to their families, and the coast of their lot lay i betweene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

12 And their coast on the North side was from Iorden, and the border went vp to the side of Iericho on the North part, and went vp through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the wilderneſſe of Beth-aven:

13 And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, even to the South side of Luz (the same is k Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar, neere the mount that lieth on the South-side of Beth-horon the nether.

14 So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the mount that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kiriath-baall (which is Kiriath-iearim) a citie of the children of Iudah: this is the West quarter.

15 And the South quarter is from the end of Kiriath-iearim, and this border goeth out ‖ Westward, and commeth to the fountaine of waters of Nephtoah.

16 And this border descendeth at the ende of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Benhinnom, which is in the valley of the ‖ giants Northward, and descendeth into the valley of Hinnom by the side of ‖ Iebusi Southward, and goeth downe to En-rogel,

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to l Enthemesh, and stretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the * stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

18 So it goeth along to the side over against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After, this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northward: and the ends thereof, that is, of the border, reach to the point of the salt Sea Northward, and to the m end of Iorden Southward: this is the South coast.

20 Also Iorden is the border of it on the East side: this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamin by the coastes thereof round about, according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Beniamin, according to their families, are Iericho, and Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz, 22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaraim, and Beth-el.

23 And Anim, and Parah, and Ophrah,

24 And Chephar, Ammonai, and Ophni, and Gaba: twelve cities with their villages:

25 Gibeon, and Ramah, and Beeroth,

26 And Mizpeh, and Chephirah, and Mozah,

27 And Rekem, and Irpeel, and Taralah,

28 And Zela, and Eleph, and Iebusi, (which is n Ierusalem) Gibeah, and Kiriath: foureteene cities with their villages: this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamin, according to their families.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The portion of Simeon, 10 Of Zebulun, 17 Of Issachar, 24 Of Asher, 32 Of Naphtali, 40 Of Dan. 49 The possession of Ioshua.

A Nd the second lot came out to Simeon, even for the tribe of the children of Simeon, according to their families: and their inheritance was in the a midst of the inheritance of the children of Iudah.

2 Now they had in their inheritance Beer-sheba, and Sheba, and Moladah,

3 And Hazar-shual, and Balah, and Azem,

4 And Eltolad, and Bethul, and Hormah,

5 And Ziklag, and Beth-marcaboth, and Hazar-susah,

6 And Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhen: thirteen cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmon, and Ether, and Ashan: foure cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities, vnto Baalath-beer, and ‖ Ramath, Southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon, according to their families.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Iudah came the inheritance of the children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Iudah was too b much for them: therefore the children of Simeon had their inheritance within their inheritance.

10 ¶ Also the third lot arose for the children of Zebulun, according to their families: and the coasts of their inheritance came to Sarid,

11 And their border goeth vp c Westward, even to Maralah, and reacheth to Dabbasheth, and meeteth with the riuer that lieth before Iokneam,

12 And turneth from Sarid Eastward toward the Sunne rising vnto the border of Chisloth-tabor, and goeth out to Daberah, and ascendeth to Iaphia, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastward toward the Sunne rising to Gittah-hepher, to Ittah-kazin, and goeth forth to Rimmon, and turneth to Neah.

14 And this border compasseth it on the North side to Hannathon, and the ends thereof are in the valley of Iiphtah-el.

15 And Kattah, and Nahallal, and Shimron, and Idolah, and d Beth-lehem: twelve cities with their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun, according to their families, that is, these cities and their villages.

17 ¶ The fourth lot came out to Issachar, even for the children of Issachar, according to their families.

18 And their coast was Izreelah, and Chesulloth, and Shunem,

19 And Hapharaim, and Sihon, and Anaharah,

20 And Harabbith, and Kibhon, and Abez,

21 And Remeth, and e Enganim, and En-haddah, and Beth-pazzez, 22 And this coast reacheth to Tabor, and Shahazimah, and Beth-shemesh, and the ends of their coast reach to Iorden: sixteene cities with their villages.

23 This a According to Iaakobs prophecie, that he should be scattered among the other tribes, Gen. 49. 7.

‖ Or, Remath-negeb.

b But this large portion was given them by Gods prouidence to declare their increase in time to come.

c Meaning, toward the great Sea.

d There was another Beth-lehem in the tribe of Iudah.

e There was another citie of this name in the tribe of Iudah: for vnder diuers tribes certaine cities had all one name, and were distinguished by the tribe onely.

g By writing the names of every country and city.

h That every one should be content with Gods appointment.

i Their inheritance bordered vpon Iudah and Ioseph.

k Which was in the tribe of Ephraim: another Beth-el was in the tribe of Beniamin.

‖ Or, to the Sea.

‖ Or, Rephaim.

‖ Or, Ierusalem.

l Which is in the tribe of Ephraim.

* Chap. 15, 6.

m To the very strait, where the riuer runneth into the salt sea.

n Which was not wholy in the tribe of Beniamin, but part of it was also in ỹ tribe of Iudah.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families: that is, the cities and their villages.

24 ¶ Also the fift lot came out for the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families.

25 And their coast was Helcath, and Hali, and Beten, and Achshaph, 26 And Alammelech, and Amad, and Misheal, and came to Garmel Westward, and to Shihor Libnath.

f Ioyneth to the tribe of Zebulun, which lay more Eastward.

27 And turneth toward the Sunne rising to Beth-dagon, and commeth to f Zebulun, and to the valley of Iiphta-hel, toward the North side of Beth-emek, and Neiel, and goeth out on the left side of Cabul, 28 And to Ebron, and Rehob, and Hammon, and Kanah, vnto great Zidon.

g Which was Tyrus a strong citie in the sea.

29 Then the coast turneth to Ramah and to the strong city of g Zor, and this border turneth to Hosah, and the endes thereof are at the Sea from Hebel to Achzib.

30 Vmmah also and Aphek, and Rehob: two and twentie cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Asher, according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

32 ¶ The sixt lot came out to the children of Naphtali, even to the children of Naphtali according to their families.

h These cities were in the countrey of Zaananim.

33 And their coast was from h Heleph, and from Allon in Zaannanim, and Adaminekeb, and Iabneel, even to Lakum, and the ends thereof are at Iorden.

34 So this coast turneth Westward to Aznoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hukkok, and reacheth to Zebulun on the South side, and goeth to Asher on the West side, and to Iudah ‖ by Iorden toward the sunne rising.

‖ Or, even vnto Iorden.

35 And the strong cities are Ziddim, Zer, and Hammath, Rakkath, and i Cinnereth, i Of the which the lake of Genezareth had his name.

36 And Adamah, and Ramah, and Hazor,

37 And Kedesh, and Edrei, and En-hazor,

38 And Iron, and Migdal-el, Horem, and Beth-anah, and Beth-shemesh: nineteene cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Naphtali according to their families: that is, the cities and their villages.

40 ¶ The seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan, according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was Zorah, and Eshtaol, and Ir-shemesh, 42 And Shaalabbin, and Aijalon, and Ithlah,

43 And Elon, and Temnathah, and Ekron,

44 And Eltekeh, and Gibbethon, and Baalah,

45 And Iehud, and Bene-berak, and Gath-rimmon, k Called Ioppe.

46 And Me-iarkon, and Rakkon, with the border that lieth before k Iapho.

‖ According as Iaakob had prophecied, Genes. 49.17. * Iud. 18.29.

47 But the coast of the children of Dan fell out too little for them: therefore the children of Dan went vp to ‖ fight against Leshem, and tooke it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Leshem, * Dan, after the name of Dan their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families, that is, these cities and their villages.

49 ¶ When they had made an end of dividing the land by the coasts thereof, then the children of Israel gave an inheritance vnto Iosshua the sonne of Nun among them.

50 According to the word of the Lord they gave him the citie which hee asked, even * Timnath-serah in mount Ephraim: and hee built the citie and dwelt therein.

* Chap. 24.30.

51 * These are the heritages which Eleazar the Priest, and Iosshua the sonne of Nun, and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel divided by lot in Shiloh before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: so they made an end of dividing the countrey.

CHAP. XXI.

The cities given to the Leuites. 41 in number eight and fourtie. 44 The Lord according to his promise giue the children of Israel rest.

THen came the ‖ principall fathers of the Levites vnto Eleazar the Priest, and vnto Iosshua the sonne of Nun, and vnto the chiefe fathers of the tribe of the children of Israel,

‖ Or, the chiefe of the fathers.

2 And spake vnto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, * The Lord commanded a by the hand of Moses, to giue vs cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattell.

* Num. 35.2. a By Moses, by whose ministerie God shewed his power.

3 So the children of Israel gave vnto the Levites, out of their inheritance at the commande-

ment of the Lord these cities with their suburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the b Kohathites: and the children of Aaron the priest, which were of the Levites, had by lot, out of the tribe of Iudah, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Beniamin c thirteene cities.

5 And the rest of the children of Kohath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh ten cities.

6 Also the children of Gershon had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteene cities.

7 The children of Merari according to their families had out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities.

8 So the children of Israel gave by lot unto the Levites these cities with their suburbs, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses.

9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities which are here named.

10 And they were the childrens of d Aaron being of the families of the Kohathites, and of the sonnes of Levi, (for theirs was the first lot.)

11 So they gave them Kiriah-erba of the fathers of Anock (which is Hebron) in the mountaine of Iudah, with the suburbs of the same round about it.

12 (But the land of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to * Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh to be his possession.)

13 ¶ Thus they gave to the e children of Aaron the Priest, a citie of refuge for the slayer, even Hebron with her suburbs, and Libnah with her suburbs,

14 And Iattir with her suburbs, and Eshtemoa with her suburbs,

15 And Holon with her suburbs, and Debir with her suburbs,

16 And Ain with her suburbs, and Iuttah with her suburbs, Beth-shemeth with her suburbs: nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Beniamin they gave Gibeon with her f suburbs, Geba with her suburbs, 18 Anathoth with her suburbs, and Almon with her suburbs: foure cities, 19 All the cities of the children of Aaron Priests, were thirteene cities with their suburbs.

20 ¶ But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Levites, g which were the rest of the children of Kohath (for the cities of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephraim.)

21 They gave them the citie of refuge for the slayer, h Shechem with her suburbs in mount Ephraim, and Gezer with her suburbs, 22 And Kibzaim with her suburbs, and Bethhoron with her suburbs: foure cities.

23 And out of the tribe of Dan, Eltekeh with her suburbs, Gibbethon with her suburbs, 24 Aijalon with her suburbs, Gath-rimmon with her suburbs: foure cities.

25 And out of the i halfe tribe of Manasseh, Tanach with her suburbes, and Gath-rimmon with her suburbs: two cities.

26 All the cities for the other families of the children of Kohath were ten with their suburbs.

27 ¶ Also vnto the children of Gershon of the families of the Levites, they gave out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, the city of refuge for the slayer, k Golan in Bathan with her suburbs, and Beesh-terah with her suburbs: two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kishon with her suburbs, Dabereh with her suburbs, 29 Iarmuch with her suburbs, En-gannim with her suburbs: foure cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Asher, Mishal with her suburbs, Abdon with her suburbs.

31 Helkah with her suburbs, and Rehob with her suburbs: foure cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, the city of refuge for the slayer, Kedesh in ‖ Galil, with her suburbs, and Hammoth-dor with her suburbes, and Kartah with her suburbs: three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families, were thirteene cities with their suburbs.

34 ¶ Also vnto the families of the children of Merari the l rest of the Levites, they gave out of the tribe of Zebulun, Iokneam with her suburbs, and Kartah with her suburbs,

35 Dimnah with her suburbs, Nahalal with her suburbs: foure cities,

36 And out of the tribe of Reuben, m Bezer with her suburbs, and Iahazah with her suburbs, 37 Kedemoth with her suburbs, and Mephaath with her suburbs: foure cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Gad they gave for a citie of refuge for the slayer, Ramoth in Gilead with her suburbs, and Mahanaim with her suburbes, 39 Heshbon with her suburbs, and Iazer with her suburbs: foure cities in all.

40 So all the cities of the children of Merari according to their families (which were the rest of the families of the Levites) were by their lot, twelve cities.

41 And all the cities of the Levites n within the possession of the children of Israel, were eight and fourtie with their suburbs.

42 These cities lay euery one severally with their suburbs round about them: so were all these cities.

43 ¶ So the Lord gave vnto Israel all the land, which he had sworne to give vnto their fathers: and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

44 Also the Lord gave them rest round about according to all that hee had sworne vnto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them: for the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand.

45 * There failed nothing of all the good things, which the Lord had sayd vnto the house of Israel, but all came to passe.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Reuben, Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh are sent againe to their possessions. 10 They build an altar for a memoriall. 15 The Israelites reproue them. 21 Their answere for defence of the same.

THen a Iohua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh,

2 And sayd vnto them, Yee have kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord b commanded you, and have obeyed my voyce in all that I commanded you:

3 You haue not forsaken your brethren this long season vnto this day, but have diligently kept

b He meaneth them that were Priests: for some were but Levites.

c Every tribe gave more or fewer cities according as their inheritance was great or little, Numb. 35. 8.

4 And now the Lord hath given reſt unto your brethren, as hee promiſed them: therefore now returne ye, and go to your tents, to the land of your poſſeſſion, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord hath * given you beyond Iorden.

* Num. 32 33. Chap. 13, 8.

5 But take diligent heede, to doe the commandement and Law, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you: that is, * that ye e love the Lord your God, and walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandements, and cleaue unto him, and ſerve him with all your heart, and with all your ſoule.

6 So Ioſhua d bleſſed them, and ſent them away, and they went unto their tents.

d He commanded them to God, and prayed for them.

7 ¶ Now unto one halfe of the tribe of Manaſſeh Moſes had given a poſſeſſion in Baſhan: and unto the other halfe thereof gave Ioſhua among their brethren on this ſide Iorden Weſtward: therefore when Ioſhua ſent them away unto their tents, and bleſſed them,

8 Thus he ſpake unto them, ſaying, Returne with much riches unto your tents, and with a great multitude of cattell, with ſilver and with gold, with braſſe and with yron, and with great abundance of rayment: divide the ſpoyle of your enemies with your e brethren.

e Which remayned at home and went not to the warre. Num. 31, 27. a Sam 30, 24.

9 ¶ So the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh returned, and departed from the children of Iſrael from Shiloh (which is in the land of Canaan) to goe unto the countrey of Gilead to the lande of their poſſeſſion, which they had obteined according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moſes.

10 ¶ And when they came unto the † borders of Iorden (which are in the land of Canaan) then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſeh, built f there an altar by Iorden, a great altar to ſee too.

† Ebr. Celiloth, which country alſo was called Canaan, becauſe the Amorites dwelling there were called Canaanites.

f That is, beyond Iorden: for ſometime the whole countrey on both ſides of Iorden is meant by Canaan.

11 ¶ When the children of Iſrael heard ſay, Behold, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſeh have built an altar in the forefront of the land of Canaan, upon the borders of Iorden at the paſſage of the children of Iſrael:

12 When the children of Iſrael heard it, then the whole Congregation of the children of Iſrael gathered them together at Shiloh, to goe up g to warre againſt them.

g Such now was their zeale, that they would rather loſe their lives, then ſuffer the true religion to be changed or corrupted.

13 Then the children of Iſrael ſent unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manaſſeh into the lande of Gilead, Phinehas the ſonne of Eleazar ℣ Prieſt, 14 And with him ten princes, of every chiefe houſe a prince, according to all the tribes of Iſrael: for every one vvas chiefe of their fathers houſehold among the ‖ thouſands of Iſrael.

‖ Or, multitude.

15 ¶ So they went unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manaſſeh, unto the land of Gilead, and ſpake with them, ſaying, 16 Thus ſayth h the whole Congregation of the Lord, What tranſgreſſion is this that ye have tranſgreſſed againſt the God of Iſrael, to turne away this day from the Lord, in that ye have built you an altar for to rebell this day againſt the Lord?

17 Have we too little for the wickedneſſe * of Peor, whereof we are not i cleanſed unto this day, though a plague came upon the Congregation of the Lord?

i Meaning, God is not fully pacified, foraſmuch as no puniſhment can be ſufficient for ſuch wickednesſe and idolatry.

18 Yee alſo are turned away this day from the Lord: and ſeeing ye rebel to day againſt the Lord, even to morrow he will be wroth with all the Congregation of Iſrael.

19 Notwithſtanding, if the land of your poſſeſſion be k uncleane, come ye over unto the land of the poſſeſſion of the Lord, wherein the Lords Tabernacle dwelleth, and take poſſeſſion among us: but l rebell not againſt the Lord, nor rebell not againſt us in building you an altar, beſide the altar of the Lord our God.

k In your iudgement.

l To uſe any other ſervice then God hath appointed, is to rebell againſt God, 1. Sam. 15, 23.

20 Did not Achan the ſonne of Zerah treſpaſſe grievouſly in the execrable thing, and wrath fell on * all the Congregation of Iſrael? and this man alone m periſhed not in his wickednes.

* Chap. 7, 1. 5.

m Signifying, that if many ſuffered for one mans fault, for the fault of many, all ſhould ſuffer.

21 ¶ Then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manaſſeh anſwered, and ſayd unto the heads over the thouſands of Iſrael, 22 The Lord God of gods, the Lord God of gods, he knoweth, and Iſrael himſelfe ſhall know: if by rebellion, or by tranſgreſſion againſt the Lord vve have done it, ſave thou us not this day.

23 If wee have built us an altar to returne away from the Lord, either to offer thereon burnt offering, or meate offering, or to offer peace offerings thereon, let the Lord n himſelfe require it:

n Let him puniſh us.

24 And if we have not rather done it for feare of this thing, ſaying, In time to come your children might ſay unto our children, What have ye to doe with the Lord God of Iſrael?

25 For the Lord hath made Iorden a border betweene us and you, yee children of Reuben and of Gad: therefore ye have no part in the Lord: ſo ſhall your children make our children o ceaſe from fearing the Lord.

o Or, to turne backe from the true God.

26 Therefore we ſayd, We will now goe about to make us an altar, not for burnt offring, nor for ſacrifice, 27 But it ſhall be a * witneſſe betweene us and you, and betweene our generations after us, to execute the ſervice of the Lord before him, in our burnt offerings, and in our ſacrifices, and in our peace offerings, and that your children ſhould not ſay to our children in time to come, Yee have no part in the Lord.

* Gen. 31, 48. Chap. 24, 27. verſe 34.

28 Therefore ſayd we, If ſo be that they ſhould ſo ſay to us, or to our p generations in time to come, then will wee anſwere, Behold the faſhion of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt offering, nor for ſacrifice, but it is a witneſſe betweene us and you.

p They ſignifie a wonderfull care that they bare toward their poſteritie, that they might live in the true ſervice of God.

29 God forbid, that we ſhould rebell againſt the Lord, and turne this day away from the Lord, to build an altar for burnt offering, or for meate offering, or for ſacrifice, ſave the altar of the Lord our God that is before his Tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phinehas the Prieſt, and the princes of the Congregation and heads over the thouſands of Iſrael, which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reuben, and children of Gad, and the children of Manaſſeh ſpake, † they were well content.

q By preſerving and governing us.

32 ¶ Then

32 ¶ Then Phinehas the ſonne of Eleazar the prieſt with the princes, returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, unto the land of Canaan, to the children of Iſrael, and brought them anſwere:

16 Then the people answered and sayd, God forbid, that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods.

17 For the Lord our God, he brought us and our fathers out the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and he did those great miracles in our sight, and preserved us in all the way that wee went, and among all the people through whom wee came.

18 And the Lord did cast out before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the Lord, h for he is our God.

19 And Ioshua sayd unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord: for he is an holy God: he is a jelous God: he will not pardon your iniquity nor your sinnes.

20 If yee forsake the Lord and serve strange gods, * then he will returne and bring evill upon you, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21 And the people sayd unto Ioshua, Nay, but we will serve the Lord.

22 And Ioshua sayd unto the people, Yee are witnesses i against your selves, that yee have chosen you the Lord, to serve him: and they sayd, We are witnesses.

23 Then put away now, sayd he, the strange k gods which are among you, and bow your hearts unto the Lord God of Israel.

24 And the people sayd unto Ioshua, The Lord our God will we serve, & his voyce will we obey.

25 So Ioshua l made a covenant with the people the same day, and gave them an ordinance and law in Shechem.

26 And Ioshua wrote these words in the booke of the Law of God, and tooke a great stone, and ‖ pitched it there vnder an ‖ oke that was in the Sanctuary of the Lord.

27 And Ioshua sayd unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witnesse unto us: for it m hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spake with us: it shalbe therefore a witnes against you, least you denie your God.

28 Then Ioshua let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

29 And after these things, Ioshua the sonne of Nun, the servant of the Lord died, being an hundreth and ten yeeres olde.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in * Timnath-serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the North side of mount Gaash.

31 And Israel n served the Lord all the dayes of Ioshua, and all the dayes of the Elders that overlived Ioshua, and which had knowen all the workes of the Lord that he had done for Israel.

32 And the * bones of Ioseph, which the children of Israel brought out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem in a parcel of ground, which Iaakob bought of * the sons of Hemor the father of Shechem, for an hundreth pieces of silver, & the children of Ioseph had them in their inheritance.

THE BOOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

ALbeit there is nothing that more provoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasant and hainous that can turne backe Gods love from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Canaan, and saw the trueth of Gods promise performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefites and giving thankes for the same, they fell to most horrible oblivion of Gods graces, contrary to their solemne promise made unto Ioshua, and so provoked his vengeance (as much as in them stood) to their utter destruction. Whereof as they had most evident signes by the mutability of their state: (for he suffered them to be most cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slaverie, to the intent they might feele their owne miseries, and so call unto him, and be delivered.) So to shew that his mercies endure for ever, he raised up from time to time such as should deliver them, and assure them of his favour and grace, if they would turne to him by true repentance. And these deliverers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were executers of Gods iudgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised up as it seemed best to God, for the governance of his people. They were fourteene in number beside Ioshua, and governed from Ioshua unto Saul the first King of Israel. Ioshua and those unto the time of Saul, ruled 377 yeeres. In this booke are many notable poynts declared, but two especially: first, the battell that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true Religion against idolatry and superstition; next, what great danger that common-wealth is in, when as God giveth not a Magistrate to reteine his people in the pureneese of Religion and his true service.

17 For the Lord our God, he brought us and our fathers out the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and he did those great miracles in our sight, and preserved us in all the way that wee went, and among all the people through whom wee came.

h How much more are we bound to serve God in Christ, by whom we have received the redemption of our soules?

18 And the Lord did cast out before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the Lord, h for he is our God.

19 And Ioshua sayd unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord: for he is an holy God: he is a jelous God: he will not pardon your iniquity nor your sinnes.

i Chap. 23, 15.

20 If yee forsake the Lord and serve strange gods, * then he will returne and bring evill upon you, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

i If you doe the contrary, your owne mouthes shall condemne you.

21 And the people sayd unto Ioshua, Nay, but we will serve the Lord.

22 And Ioshua sayd unto the people, Yee are witnesses i against your selves, that yee have chosen you the Lord, to serve him: and they sayd, We are witnesses.

23 Then put away now, sayd he, the strange k gods which are among you, and bow your hearts unto the Lord God of Israel.

k Out of your hearts and otherwise.

24 And the people sayd unto Ioshua, The Lord our God will we serve, & his voyce will we obey.

l By joyning God and the people together: also by repeated the promises and threatnings out of the Law.

25 So Ioshua l made a covenant with the people the same day, and gave them an ordinance and law in Shechem.

26 And Ioshua wrote these words in the booke of the Law of God, and tooke a great stone, and ‖ pitched it there vnder an oke that was in the Sanctuary of the Lord.

‖ Or, elme.

27 And Ioshua sayd unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witnesse unto us: for it m hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spake with us: it shalbe therefore a witnes against you, least you denie your God.

m Rather then mans dissimulation should not be punished, the dumme creatures shall cry for vengeance.

28 Then Ioshua let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

29 And after these things, Ioshua the sonne of Nun, the servant of the Lord died, being an hundreth and ten yeeres olde.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in * Timnath-serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the North side of mount Gaash.

* Gen 19, 50. Iudges 2, 9.

31 And Israel n served the Lord all the dayes of Ioshua, and all the dayes of the Elders that overlived Ioshua, and which had knowen all the workes of the Lord that he had done for Israel.

n Such are the people commonly as their rulers are.

32 And the * bones of Ioseph, which the children of Israel brought out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem in a parcel of ground, which Iaakob bought of * the sons of Hemor the father of Shechem, for an hundreth pieces of silver, & the children of Ioseph had them in their inheritance.

* Gen. 50, 25. Exod. 13, 19.

* Gen. 33, 19.

33 Also Eleazar the sonne of Aaron died, whom they buried in † the hill of Phinehes his sonne, which was given him in mount Ephraim.

THE BOOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more provoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasant and hainous that can turne backe Gods love from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Canaan, and saw the trueth of Gods promise performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefites and giving thankes for the same, they fell to most horrible oblivion of Gods graces, contrary to their solemne promise made unto Ioshua, and so provoked his vengeance (as much as in them stood) to their utter destruction. Whereof as they had most evident signes by the mutability of their state: (for he suffered them to be most cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slaverie, to the intent they might feele their owne miseries, and so call unto him, and be delivered.) So to shew that his mercies endure for ever, he raised up from time to time such as should deliver them, and assure them of his favour and grace, if they would turne to him by true repentance. And these deliverers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were executers of Gods iudgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised up as it seemed best to God, for the governance of his people. They were fourteene in number beside Ioshua, and governed from Ioshua unto Saul the first King of Israel. Ioshua and those unto the time of Saul, ruled 377 yeeres. In this booke are many notable poynts declared, but two especially: first, the battell that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true Religion against idolatry and superstition; next, what great danger that common-wealth is in, when as God giveth not a Magistrate to reteine his people in the pureness of Religion and his true service.

CHAP. I.

1 After Ioshua was dead, Iudah wat constitute captaine.
6 Adoni-bezek is taken. 14 The request of Achsah.
16 The children of Keni. 28 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

a By the iudgement of Vrim, reade Exod. 28, 30. num. 27, 21. 1. sam. 28, 6.
b Who shall be our captaine?

AFter that Ioshua was dead, the children of Israel a asked the Lord, saying, b Who shall goe up for vs against the Canaanites to fight first against them?

2 And the Lord sayd, Iudah shall goe up: behold, I haue given the land into his hand.

c For the tribe of Simeon had their inheritance within the tribe of Iudah, Ioſh. 19, 1.

3 And Iudah sayd unto Simeon his c brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites: and I likewise will goe with thee into thy lot: so Simeon went with him.

4 Then Iudah went up, and the Lord delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hands, and they slew of them in Bezek ten thousand men.

5 And

‖ Or, the lord of Bezek.

5 And they found ‖ Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought againſt him, and ſlew the Canaanites, and the Perizzites.

d This was Gods iuſt iudgement, as the tyrant himſelfe confeſſeth, that as he had done, ſo did he receive. Levit. 24, 19, 20.

6 But Adoni-bezek fled, and they perſued after him, and caught him, and d cut off the thumbes of his hands and of his feet.

7 And Adoni-bezek ſaid, Seuentie Kings having the thumbes of their hands and of their feete cut off, gathered bread vnder my table: as I have done, ſo God hath rewarded me, ſo they brought him to Ieruſalem, and there he died.

e Which was afterward built againe, and poſſeſſed by the Iebuſites, 2. Sam. 5, 6.

8 (Now the children of Iudah had fought againſt Ieruſalem, and hath taken it and ſmitten it with the edge of the ſword, and had ſet the e city on fire.)

9 ¶ Afterward alſo the children of Iudah went downe to fight againſt the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountaine, and toward the South, and in the low countrey.

* Chap. 1, 14.
f Theſe three were gyants and the children of Anak.

10 And Iudah went againſt the Canaanites that dwelt in Hebron, which Hebron before time was called * Kiriath-arba: and they ſlew f Sheſhai, and Ahiman, and Talmai.

11 And from thence hee went to the inhabitants of Debir, and the name of Debir in old time was Kiriath-ſepher.

12 And Caleb ſayd, Hee that ſmiteth Kiriath-ſepher, and taketh it, even to him will I give Achſah my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniel the ſonne of Kenaz Calebs yonger brother tooke it, to whom he gave Achſah his daughter to wife.

g Reade Ioſh. 15, 18.

14 And when ſhe came to him, ſhee mooued him to aske of her father a field, g and ſhe lighted off her aſſe, and Caleb ſayd vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 And ſhe anſwered him, Give me, a bleſſing: for thou haſt given me a South countrey, give me alſo Springs of water: and Caleb gave her the ſprings above, and the ſprings beneath.

h This was one of the names of Moſes father in law, reade Num. 10, 29.

16 ¶ And the children of h Keni Moſes father in law went vp out of the citie of the palme trees with the children of Iudah, into the wilderneſſe of Iudah, that lieth in the South of Arad, and went and dwelt among the people.

17 But Iudah went with Simeon his brother, and they ſlewe the Canaanites that inhabited Zephath, and vtterly deſtroyed it, and called the name of the citie * Hormah.

* Numb. 21, 3.
i Theſe cities and others were afterward poſſeſſed of the Philiſtims, 2. Sam. 6, 17.

18 Alſo Iudah tooke i Azzah with the coaſts thereof, and Askelon with the coaſts thereof, and Ekron with the coaſts thereof.

19 And the Lord was with Iudah, and he poſſeſſed the mountaines: for hee could not drive out the inhabitants of the valleyes, becauſe they had charets of yron.

* Numb. 14, 24. Ioſh. 14, 13. and 15, 14.

20 And they gave Hebron vnto Caleb, as * Moſes had ſayd, and he expelled thence the three ſonnes of Anak.

k For after that the tribe of Iudah had burnt it, they built it againe.

21 But the children of Beniamin did not caſt out the Iebuſites, that k inhabited Ieruſalem: therefore the Iebuſites dwell with the children of Beniamin in Ieruſalem vnto this day.

22 ¶ They alſo that were of the houſe of Ioſeph, went vp to Beth-el, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the houſe of Ioſeph cauſed to viewe Beth-el (and the name of the city before time was * Luz,)

* Gen. 28, 19.

24 And the ſpies ſaw a man come out of the citie, and they ſayd vnto him, Shew vs, wee pray thee, the way into the citie, * and wee will ſhew thee mercie.

* Ioſh. 2, 14.

25 And when hee had ſhewed them, the way into the citie, they ſmote the citie with the edge of the ſword, but they let the man and all his houſhold depart.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 ¶ * Neither did Manaſſeh deſtroy Bet-ſhean with her townes, nor Taanach with her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam with her towns, neither the inhabitants of Megiddo with her townes: l but the Canaanites dwelled ſtill in that land.

* Ioſh. 17, 11.
l Wherefore God permitted the Canaanites to dwell ſtill in the land, reade Chap. 3, 4.

28 Neverthelеſſe when Iſrael was ſtrong they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ * Likewiſe Ephraim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them.

* Ioſh. 16, 10.

30 ¶ Neither did m Zebulun expell the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitants of Nahalol, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

m That is, the tribe of Zebulun as is alſo to be underſtood of the reſt.

31 ¶ Neither did Aſher caſt out the habitants of Accho, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob, 32 But the Aſherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them n out.

n But made them pay tribute as the others did.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Bethſhemeſh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anath, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: neverthelеſſe the inhabitants of Beth-ſhemeſh, and of Beth-anath became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amorites ‖ drove the children of Dan into the mountaine: ſo that they ſuffered them not to come downe to the valley.

‖ Or, afflicted them.

35 And the Amorites ‖ dwelt ſtill in mount Heres in Aijalon, and in Shaalbim, and when the o hand of Ioſephs familie prevailed, they became tributaries:

‖ Or, would dwell.
o Meaning, when he was ſtronger then they.

36 And the coaſt of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbim, even from p Selah and vpward.

p Which was a citie in Arabia, or as ſome reade, from the rocke.

CHAP. II.

1 The Angel rebuketh the people, becauſe they had made peace with the Canaanites. 11 The Iſraelites fell to idolatry after Ioſhuas death. 14 They are deliuered into the enemies hands. 16 God deliuereth them by Iudges. 21 Why God ſuffered idolaters to remaine among them.

A Nd an a Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgal to Bochim, and ſayd, I made you to goe vp out of Egypt, and have brought you vnto the land which I had ſworne vnto your fathers, and ſayd, I will never breake my covenant with you.

a That is, meſſenger, or prophet, as ſome thinke, Phinehas.

2 * Yee alſo ſhall make no covenant with the inhabitants of this land, * but ſhall breake downe their altars: but yee have not obeyed my voyce. Why have ye done this?

* Deut. 7, 2.
* Deut. 12, 3.

3 Wherefore, I ſayd alſo, I will not caſt them out before you, but they ſhall be * as thornes vnto your ſides, & their gods ſhalbe your ‖ deſtruction.

* Ioſh. 23, 13.
‖ Or, ſnare.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord ſpake the words vnto all the children of Iſrael, the people lift vp their voyce, and wept.

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, place, ‖ Bochim, and offered ſacrifices there unto the Lord.

‖ Or, weeping.

6 ¶ Now when Ioſhua had [b] ſent the people away, the children of Iſrael went every man into his inheritance, to poſſeſſe the land.

b After that he had divided to every man his portion by lot, Ioſh. 24.28.

7 And the people had ſerved the Lord all the dayes of Ioſhua, and all the dayes of the Elders that outlived Ioſhua, which had ſeen all the great [c] works of the Lord that he did for Iſrael.

c Meaning, the wonders and miracles.

8 But Ioſhua the ſonne of Nun the ſervant of the Lord died, when he was an hundreth and ten yeeres old:

9 And they buried him in the coaſtes of his inheritance, in [d] Timnath-heres in mount Ephraim, on the Northſide of mount Gaaſh.

d Heres, by turning the letters backward is Sereh, as Ioſh. 24.30.

10 And ſo all that generation was gathered unto their fathers, and another generation aroſe after them, which neither knew the Lord, nor yet the workes which he had done for Iſrael.

11 ¶ Then the children of Iſrael did wickedly in the ſight of the Lord, and ſerved [e] Baalim, e That is, all maner of idoles.

12 And forſooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt and followed other gods, even the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed unto them, and provoked the Lord to anger.

13 So they forſooke the Lord, and ſerved * Baal, and [f] Aſhtaroth.

* Chap. 10.6.

f Theſe were Idoles, which had the forme of an ewe or ſheepe among the Sidonians.

14 And the wrath of the Lord was hote againſt Iſrael, and he delivered them into the hands of ſpoylers, that ſpoyled them, & he * ſold them into the handes of their enemies round about them, ſo that they could no longer ſtand before their enemies.

* Pſal. 44.12. Iſa. 50.1.

15 [g] Whitherſoever they went out, the [h] hand of the Lord was ſore againſt them, as the Lord had ſaid, and as the Lord had ſworne unto them: ſo he puniſhed them ſore.

g In all their enterprises.

h The vengeance.

16 ¶ Notwithſtanding, the Lord raiſed up ‖ Iudges, which † delivered them out of the hands of their oppreſſours.

‖ Or, magiſtrates.

† Ebr. ſaved.

17 But yet they would not obey their Iudges: for they went a whoring after other gods, and worſhipped them, and turned quickly out of the [i] way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandements of the Lord: they did not ſo.

i Meaning, from the true religion.

18 And when the Lord had raiſed them up Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the dayes of the Iudge (for the Lord † had compaſſion of their gronings, [k] becauſe of them that oppreſſed them and tormented them.)

k Seeing their cruelties.

19 Yet * when the Iudge was dead, they returned, and † did worſe then their fathers, in following other gods to ſerve them and worſhip them: they ceaſed not from their owne inventions, nor from their rebellious way.

* Chap. 3.12.

† Ebr. corrupt themſelves.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he ſaid, Becauſe this people hath tranſgreſſed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and hath not obeyed my voyce,

21 Therefore will I no more caſt out before them any of the [l] nations, which Ioſhua left when he died, l As the Hivites, Iebuſites, Amorites, &c.

22 That through them I may [m] proove Iſrael, whether they will keepe the way of the Lord, to walke therein, as their fathers kept it, or not.

m So that both outward enemies and falſe prophets are but a triall to proove our faith, Deut. 13.3. and chap. 3.1.

23 So the Lord left thoſe nations, and drove them not out immediatly, neither delivered them into the hand of Ioſhua.

CHAP. III.

1 The Canaanites were left to trie Iſrael. 9 Othniel delivereth Iſrael. 12 Ehud killeth King Eglon. 31 Shamgar killeth the Philiſtims.

THeſe now are the nations which the Lord left, that he might prove Iſrael by them (even as many of Iſrael as had not knowen all the [a] warres of Canaan, a Which were atchieved by the hand of God, and not by the power of man.

2 Onely to make the generations of the children of Iſrael to know, and to teach them warre, which doubtleſſe their predeceſſors knew [b] not,)

b For they truſted in God, & he fought for them.

3 Five princes of the Philiſtims, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hivites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Baalhermon untill one come to Hemath.

4 And theſe remained to proove Iſrael by them, to wit, whether they would obey the commandements of the Lord, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moſes.

5 And the children of Iſrael dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Iebuſites,

6 And they tooke [c] their daughters to bee their wives, and gave their daughters to their ſonnes, and ſerved their gods.

c Countrary to Gods commandement, Deut. 7.3.

7 ¶ So the children of Iſrael did wickedly in the ſight of the Lord, and forgate the Lord their God, and ſerved Baalam, and [d] Aſheroth.

d Trees or woods erected for idolatrie.

8 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he ſold them into the hand of Chuſhan-riſhathaim King of ‖ Aram-naharaim, and the children of Iſrael ſerved Chuſhan-riſhathaim eight yeeres.

‖ Or, Meſopotamia.

9 ¶ And when the children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord, the Lord ſtirred up a Saviour to the children of Iſrael, and hee ſaved them, even Othniel the ſonne of Kenaz, Calebs yonger brother.

10 And the [e] Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he iudged Iſrael, and went out to warre; and the Lord delivered Chuſhan-riſhathaim king of ‖ Aram into his hand, and his hand prevailed againſt Chuſhan-riſhathaim.

e He was ſtirred up by the Spirite of the Lord.

‖ Or, Syria.

11 So the land had reſt [f] fourty yeeres, and Othniel the ſonne of Kenaz died.

f That is, 32 under Ioſhua, and eight under Othniel.

12 ¶ Then the children of Iſrael againe committed wickednes in the ſight of the Lord: and the Lord [g] ſtrengthened Eglon king of Moab againſt Iſrael, becauſe they had committed wickedneſſe before the Lord.

g So that the enemies of Gods people have no power over them, but by Gods appointment.

13 And he gathered unto him the children of Ammon, and Amalek, and went and ſmote Iſrael, and they poſſeſſed the citie of palme trees.

14 So the children of Iſrael ſerved Eglon king of Moab eighteene yeeres.

15 But when the children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord, the Lord ſtirred them up a ſaviour, Ehud the ſonne of Gera the ſonne of ‖ Iemini, a man ‖ lame of his right hand: and the children of Iſrael ſent a preſent by him unto Eglon king of Moab.

‖ Or, Beniamin.

‖ Or, left handed.

16 And Ehud ‖ made him a dagger with two edges of a cubite length, and he did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh,

‖ Or, caused a dagger to be made.

17 And he preſented the gift unto Eglon king of Moab (and Eglon was a very fat man.)

18 And when he had now preſented the preſent, he ſent away the people that bare the preſent, h Or, as ſome reade, from the places of idoles.

19 But he turned againe from the [h] quarries, that were by Gilgal, and ſaid, I have a ſecret errand unto thee, O King. Who ſaid, Keepe [i] ſilence: and i Till all be departed.

all that ſtood about him went out from him.

20 Then Ehud came unto him, (and he ſate alone in a ſummer parler, which he had) and Ehud ſayd, I haue a meſſage vnto thee from God. Then he aroſe out of his throne.

21 And Ehud put foorth his left hand, and tooke the dagger from his right thigh, and thruſt it vnto his belly, 22 So that the haft went in after the blade, and the fatte cloſed about the blade, ſo that hee could not draw the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

‖ Or, hall.

23 Then Ehud gate him out into the ‖ porch, and ſhut the doores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

† Ebr. he covereth his feete.

24 And when hee was gone out, his ſeruants came: who ſeeing that the doores of the parler were locked, they ſaid, Surely † he doeth his eaſement in his ſummer chamber.

25 And they taried till they were aſhamed: and ſeeing hee opened not the doores of the parler, they tooke the key and opened them, and behold, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehud eſcaped (while they taried) and was paſſed the quarries, and eſcaped vnto Seirath.

‖ Or, cauſed the trumpet to be blowen, Num. 10, 2, 3.

27 And when he came home, he ‖ blew a trumpet in mount Ephraim, and the children of Iſrael went downe with him from the mountaine, and he went before them.

28 Then ſaid he vnto them, Follow mee: for the Lord hath delivered your enemies, even Moab into your hand. So they went downe after him, and tooke the paſſages of Iorden toward Moab, and ſuffered not a man to paſſe ouer.

‖ Or, ſtrong, and bigge bodied.

29 And they ſlew of the Moabites the ſame time about tenne thouſand men, all ‖ fedde men, and all were warriours, and there eſcaped not a man.

† Ebr. humbled.
k Meaning, the Iſraelites.
l So that it is not the number, nor the meanes that God regardeth, when he will get the victory.

30 So Moab was † ſubdued that day, vnder the hand of Iſrael: and the k land had reſt foureſcore yeeres.

31 ¶ And after him was Shamgar the ſonne of Anath, which ſlew of the Philiſtims ſixe hundreth men with an oxe l goade, and hee alſo delivered Iſrael.

CHAP. IIII.

2 Iſrael ſinne and are giuen into the hands of Iabin. 4 Deborah iudgeth Iſrael, and exhorteth Barak to deliuer the people. 15 Siſera fleeth, 17 and is killed by Iael.

AND the children of Iſrael ‖ began againe to doe wickedly in the ſight of the Lord when Ehud was dead.

‖ Ebr. added, or continued to doe euill.

2 And the Lord ſold them into the hande of a Iabin King of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor, whoſe chiefe captaine was called Siſera, which dwelt in b Harosheth of the Gentiles.

a There was another Iabin, whom Ioſhua killed and burnt his city Hator Ioſh. 11, 13.
b That is, in a wood, or ſtrong place.

3 Then the children of Iſrael cried vnto the Lord: (for he had nine hundreth charets of yron, and twentie yeeres he had vexed the children of Iſrael very ſore.)

4 ¶ And at that time Deborah a Propheteſſe the wife of Lapidoth c iudged Iſrael.

c By the ſpirit of prophecie, reſolving of controverſies and declaring the will of God.

5 And this Deborah dwelt vnder a palme tree, betweene Ramah and Beth-el in mount Ephraim, and the children of Iſrael came vp to her for iudgement.

6 Then ſhe ſent and called Barak the ſonne of Abinoam out of Kedeſh of Naphtali, and ſaid vnto him, Hath not the Lord God of Iſrael d commanded, ſaying, Goe, and draw toward mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thouſand men of the children of Naphtali, and of the children of Zebulun?

d And reuealed vnto me by the ſpirit of prophecy.

7 And I will draw vnto thee to the * ‖ river Kiſhon, Siſera the captaine of Iabins armie with his charets, and his multitude, and will deliver him into thine hand.

* Pſal. 83. 9 10.
‖ Or, valley.

8 And Barak ſaid vnto her, e If thou wilt go with me, I will goe: but if thou wilt not go with me, I will not goe.

e Fearing his owne weakenes and his enemies power, he deſireth the propheteſſe to goe with him to aſſure him of Gods will from time to time.

9 Then ſhee anſwered, I will ſurely goe with thee, but this iourney that thou takeſt, ſhall not be for thine honour: for the Lord ſhall ſell Siſera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah aroſe and went with Barak to Kedeſh.

10 ¶ And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedeſh, and ‖ he went vp on his feete with ten thouſand men, and Deborah went vp with him.

‖ Or, he led after him 10000 men.

11 (Now Heber the Kenite, which was of the ‖ children of * Hobab the father in law of Moſes, was departed from the * Kenites, and pitched his tent f vntill the plaine of Zaanaim, which is by Kedeſh.)

‖ Or, poſteritie.
* Num. 10, 29.
* Ebr. from Kain.
f Meaning, that he poſſeſſed a great part of that countrey.

12 Then they ſhewed Siſera, that Barak the ſonne of Abinoam was gone vp to mount Tabor.

13 And Siſera called for all his charets, even nine hundreth charets of yron, and all the people that were with him from Harosheth of the Gentiles, vnto the river Kiſhon.

14 Then Deborah ſaid vnto Barak, g Vp: for this is the day that the Lord hath delivered Siſera into thine hand. Is not the Lord gone out before thee: So Barak went downe from mount Tabor, and ten thouſand men after him.

g She ſtill encourageth him to this enterpriſe by aſſuring him of Gods favour and ayde.

15 And the Lord deſtroyed Siſera and all his charets, and all his hoſte with the edge of the ſword before Barak, ſo that Siſera lighted downe off his charet, and fled away on his feete.

16 But * Barak purſued after the charets, and after the hoſte vnto Harosheth of the Gentiles: and all the hoſte of Siſera fell vpon the edge of the ſword: there was not a man left.

* Pſal. 83, 10.

17 Howbeit Siſera fledde away on his feete to the tent of Iael the wife of h Heber the Kenite: (for peace was betweene Iabin the king of Hazor, and betweene the houſe of Heber the Kenite.)

h Whoſe anceſtors were ſtrangers, but worſhipped the true God, and therefore were ioyned with Iſrael.

18 And Iael went out to meete Siſera, and ſaid vnto him, Turne in, my lord, turne into me: feare not. And when he had turned in vnto her into her tent, ſhe covered him with a ‖ mantell.

‖ Or, blanket.

19 And he ſaid vnto her, Give me, I pray thee, a litle water to drinke: for I am thirſty. And ſhe opened * a bottle of milke, and gave him drinke, and covered him.

* Chap. 5, 25.

8 They chose new gods: then was warre in the gates. Was there a d shield or speare seene among fourtie thousand of Israel?

d They had no heart to resist their enemies.

9 Mine heart is set on the governours of Israel, and on them that are willing among the people: praise ye the Lord.

11 For the noise of the archers appaised among the g drawers of water: there shall they rehearse the righteousnesse of the Lord, his righteousnesse of his townes in Israel: then did the people of the Lord goe downe to the gates.

12 Up Deborah, up, arise, and sing a song: arise Barak, and leade h thy captivitie captive, thou sonne of Abinoam.

CHAP. VI.

1 Israel is oppressed of the Midianites for their wickednesse. 14 Gideon is sent to bee their deliverer. 37 He asketh a signe.

AFterward the children of Israel committed wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hands of Midian seven yeeres.

2 And the hand of Midian prevailed against Israel, a and because of the Midianites the children of Israel made them dennes in the mountaines, and caves, and strong holds.

a For feare of the Midianites, they fled into the dennes of the mountaines.

3 When Israel had sowen, then came up the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the ‖ East, and came upon them.

‖ Or, of Kedem.

4 And camped by them, and destroyed the fruite of ỹ earth, even till thou come unto b Azzah, and left no foode for Israel, neither sheepe, nor oxe, nor asse.

b Even almost the whole countrey.

5 For they went up, and their cattell, and came with their tents as grashoppers in multitude: so that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroy it.

6 So was Israel exceedingly impoverished by the Midianites: therefore the c children of Israel cryed unto the Lord.

c This is the ende of Gods punishments, to call his to repentance, that they may seeke for helpe of him.

7 ¶ And when the children of Israel cryed unto the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent unto the children of Israel a Prophet, who sayd unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have brought you up from Egypt, and have brought you out of the house of bondage,

9 And I have delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppreſſed you, and have caſt them out before you, and given you their land.

10 And I ſaid unto you, I am the Lord your God: * feare not the gods of the Amorites in whoſe land you dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice.

11 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord came, and ſate under the oke which was in Ophrah, that pertained unto Ioaſh the father of the Ezrites, and his ſon Gideon threſhed wheate by the winepreſſe, ‖ to hide it from the Midianites.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and ſaid unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whome Gideon anſwered, d Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with us, why then is all this come upon us? & where bee all his miracles which our fathers told us of, and ſaid, Did not the Lord bring us out Egypt? but now the Lord hath forſaken us, and delivered us into the hand of ỹ Midianites.

14 And the e Lord looked upon him, and ſaid, Go in this thy f might, & thou ſhalt ſave Iſrael out of the handes of the Midianites: have not I ſent thee?

15 And he anſwered him, Ah my Lord, whereby ſhall I ſave Iſrael? behold, my ‖ father is poore in Mnaſſeh, and I am the leaſt in my fathers houſe.

16 Then the Lord ſaid unto him, I will therefore be with thee, and thou ſhalt ſmite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And hee anſwered him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thy ſight, then ſhew mee g a ſigne, that thou talkeſt with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, untill I come unto thee, and bring mine offering, and lay it before thee. And he ſaid, I will tary untill thou come againe.

19 ¶ Then Gideon went in, and make readie a kidde, and unleavened bread of an h Ephah of floure, and put the fleſh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oke, and preſented it.

20 And the Angel of God ſayd unto him, Take the fleſh and the unleavened bread, and lay them upon this ſtone, and powre out the broth: and he did ſo.

21 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord put foorth the end of the ſtaffe that he held in his hand, and touched the fleſh and the unleavened bread: and there aroſe up fire i out of the ſtone, and conſumed the fleſh and the unleavened bread, ſo the Angel of the Lord departed out of his ſight.

22 And when Gideon perceived that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideon then ſaid, Alas, my Lord God: * for becauſe I have ſeene an Angel of the Lord face to face, I ſhall die.

23 And the Lord ſaid unto him, Peace be unto thee: feare not, thou ſhalt not die.

24 Then Gideon made an altar there unto the Lord, and called it ‖ Iehovah-ſhalom: unto this day it is in Ophrah, of the father of the Ezrites.

25 ¶ And the ſame night the Lord ſaid unto him, Take thy fathers young bullocke, & another bullocke k of ſeven yeeres olde, and deſtroy the altar of Baall that thy father hath, & cut downe the grove that is by it;

26 And build an altar unto the Lord thy God upon the top of this rocke, in a plaine place: and take the ſecond bullocke, and offer a burnt offering with the wood of the l grove, which thou ſhalt cut downe.

27 Then Gideon tooke ten men of his ſervants, and did as the Lord bade him: but becauſe he feared to doe it by day for his fathers houſhold and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the citie aroſe early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baall was broken, and ỹ grove cut downe that was by it, and the m ſecond bullocke offered upon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they ſaid one to another, Who hath done this thing? and when they had inquired and asked, they ſaid, Gideon ỹ ſonne of Ioaſh hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie ſaid unto Ioaſh, Bring out thy ſonne, that he may die: for he hath deſtroyed ỹ altar of Baall, and hath alſo cut downe the grove that was by it.

31 And Ioaſh ſaid unto all that ſtood by him, Will yee plead Baals cauſe? or will yee ſave him? n he that will contend for him, let him die or the morning. If bee be God, let him pleade for himſelfe againſt him that hath caſt downe his altar.

32 And in that day was Gideon called Ierubbaall, that is, Let Baall plead for himſelfe becauſe he hath broken downe his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites, and they of the Eaſt, were gathered together, and went and pitched in the valley of Izreel.

34 But the Spirit of the Lord † came upon Gideon, * and he blew a trumpet, and o Abiezer was ioyned with him.

35 And he ſent meſſengers thorowout all Manaſſeh, which was alſo ioyned with him, and hee ſent meſſengers unto Aſher, and to Zebulun and to Nephtali, and they came up to meet them.

36 Then Gideon ſaid unto God, p If thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid, 37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wooll in the threſhing place: if the dewe come on the fleece onely and it be drie upon all ỹ earth, then ſhal I be ſure, that thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid.

38 And ſo it was: for he roſe up earely on the morow, and thruſt the fleece together, and wringed ỹ dew out of ỹ fleece, and filled a bowle of water.

39 Againe, Gideon ſaid unto God, Be not angrie with me, that * I may ſpeake once more: let me proove once againe, I pray thee, with ỹ fleece: let it now bee drie onely upon the fleece, and let dew be upon all the ground.

40 And God did ſo the ſame night: for it was q drie upon the fleece onely, and there was dewe on all the ground.

3 Now therefore proclaime in the audience of the people, and say, * Who so is timerous or fearefull, let him returne, and depart early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twentie thousand: so ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people are yet too many: bring them downe unto the water, and I will [b] trie them for thee there: and of whom I say unto thee, This man shall goe with thee, the same shall goe with thee: and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This man shall not goe with thee, the same shall not goe.

5 So he brought downe the people unto the water. And the Lord said unto Gideon, As many as lap the water with their tongues, as a dog lappeth, them put by themselves, and every one that shall bowe downe his knees to drinke, [c] put apart.

6 And the number of them that lapped by putting their hands to their mouthes, were three hundreth men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled downe upon their knees to drinke water.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said unto Gideon, By these three hundreth men that lapped, will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the other [d] people goe every man unto his place.

8 ¶ So the people tooke vitailes † with them, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel, every man unto his tent, and ‖ reteined the three hundreth men: and the host of Midian was beneath him in a valley.

9 ¶ And the same night the Lord said unto him, Arise, [e] get thee downe unto the host: for I have delivered it into thine hand.

10 But if thou feare to goe downe, then goe thou, and Phurah thy servant down to the host,

11 And thou shalt hearken what they say, and so shall thine hands be strong to go downe unto the host. Then went hee downe and Phurah his servant unto the outside of the souldiers that were in the host.

12 ¶ And the Midianites, and the Amalekites and all * they of the East, lay in the valley like grashoppers in multitude, and their camels were without number, as the sand which is by the sea side for multitude.

13 And when Gideon was come, beholde, a man told a dreame unto his neighbour, and said, Behold, I dreamed a dreame, and loe, a [f] cake of barley bread tumbled from above into the host of Midian, and came into a tent, and smote it that it fell, and overturned it, that the tent fell downe.

14 And his fellow answered, and said, This is nothing else save the sword of Gideon the sonne of Ioash a man of Israel: for into his hand hath God delivered Midian and all the host.

15 When Gideon heard the dreame tolde, and the interpretation of the same, he [g] worshipped, and returned unto the host of Israel, and said, Up: for the Lord hath delivered into your hand the host of Midian.

16 And hee divided the three hundreth men into three bandes, and gave every man a trumpet in his hand with emptie pitchers, and ‖ lampes [h] within the pitchers.

17 And he said unto them, Looke on me, and do likewise, when I come to the side of the host: even as I doe, so doe you.

18 When I blow with a trumpet and all that are with me, blow ye with trumpets also on every side on the host, and say, [i] For the Lord, and for Gideon.

19 ¶ So Gideon and the hundreth men that were with him, came unto the outside of the host, in the beginning of the middle watch, and they raised up the watchmen, and they blew with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew with trumpets and brake the pitchers, and held the lampes in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right handes to blowe withall: and they cryed, The [k] sword of the Lord and of Gideon.

21 And they stood, every man in his place round about the host: and all the host ‖ ranne, and cryed, and fled.

22 And the three hundreth blew with trumpets, and * the Lord set every mans sword upon his [l] neighbour, and upon all the host: so the host fled to Beth-hashittah in Zererah, and to the border of Abel-meholah, unto Tabbah.

23 Then the men of Israel being gathered together out of Naphtali, and out of Asher, and out of all Manasseh, pursued after the Midianites.

24 And Gideon sent messengers unto all mount Ephraim, saying, Come downe against the Midianites, and take before them the [m] waters unto Beth-barah and Iorden. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered together and tooke the waters unto Beth-barah, and Iorden.

25 And they tooke two * princes of the Midianites, Oreb and Zeeb, and slew Oreb upon the rocke Oreb, and slew Zeeb at [n] the wine presse of Zeeb, and pursued the Medianites, and brought the heads of Oreb & Zeeb to Gideon beyond Iorden.

10 ¶ Now Zebah and Zalmunna were [g] in Karkor, and their hostes with them, about fifteene thousand, all that were left of all the hostes of them of the East: for there was slaine an hundreth and twenty thousand men, that drew swords.

17 Also hee brake downe the towre of * Penuel, and slew the men of the citie.

18 ¶ Then saide he unto Zebah and Zalmunna, What maner of men were they, whom ye slew at Tabor? And they answered, ‖ As thou art, so were they, every one was like the children of a king.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, Rise thou and fall upon us: for as [l] the man is, so is his strength. And Gideon arose and slew Zebah and Zalmunna, and tooke away the ‖ ornaments, that were on their camels necks.

22 ¶ Then the men of Israel said unto Gideon, Reigne thou over us, both thou, and thy sonne, and thy [m] sonnes sonne: for thou hast delivered us out of the hand of Midian.

23 And Gideon said unto them, I will not reigne over you, neither shall my childe reigne over you, but the Lord shall reigne over you.

24 Againe Gideon said unto them, [n] I would desire a request of you, that you would give mee every man the eares rings of his pray (for they hath golden eares rings because they were Ismaelites.)

25 And they answered, Wee will give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the eares rings of his praye, 26 And the weight of the golden eares rings that he required, was a thousand and seven hundreth shekels of gold, beside collers ‖ and iewels, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Midian, and beside the chaines that were about the camels neckes.

27 And Gideon made an [o] Ephod thereof, and put it in Ophrah his citie: and all Israel went a whoring there after it, which was the destruction of Gideon and his house.

28 Thus was Midian brought low before the children of Israel, so that they lift up their heads no more: and the countrey was in quietnesse fourtie yeeres in the dayes of Gideon.

29 ¶ Then Ierubbaal the sonne of Ioash went, and dwelt in his owne house.

30 And Gideon had seventy sonnes † begotten of his body: for he had many wives.

31 And his concubine that was in Shechem, bare him a sonne also, whose name he called Abimelech.

32 So Gideon the sonne of Ioash died in a good age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Ioash his father in Ophrah, of the [p] father of the Ezrites.

33 But when Gideon was dead, the children of Israel turned away, and went a whoring after Baalim, and made [q] Baal-berith their god.

34 And the children of Israel remembred not the Lord their God, which had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every side.

CHAP. IX.

1 Abimelech usurpeth the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Iotham proposeth a parable. 23 Hatred betweene Abimelech and the Sichemites. 26 Gaal conspireth against him, and is ouercome. 53 Abimelech is wounded to death by a woman.

THen Abimelech the sonne of Ierubbaal went to Shechem unto his [a] mothers brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family, and house of his mothers father, saying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechem, Whether is better for you, that all the sonnes of Ierubbaal, which are seventie persons, reigne over you, either that one reigne over you? Remember also, that I am your [b] bone, and your flesh.

3 Then his mothers brethren spake of him in the audience of all the men of Shechem, all these words: and their hearts were mooved to follow Abimelech: for said they, He is our brother.

4 And they gave him seventie pieces of silver out of the house of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired ‖ vaine and light fellowes which followed him.

5 And he went unto his fathers house at Ophrah, and [c] slew his brethren, the sonnes of Ierubbaal, about seventy persons upon one stone: yet Iotham the yongest sonne of Ierubbaal was left: for he hi[d] himselfe.

6 ¶ And all the men of Shechem gathered together with all the house of [d] Millo, and came and made Abimelech King in the plaine, where the stone was erected in Shechem.

7 And when they told it to Iotham, he went and stood in the top of mount Gerizim, and lift up his voyce, and cried, and said unto them, Hearken unto me, you men of Shechem, that God may hearken unto you.

8 [e] The trees went foorth to anoint a King over them, and said unto the Olive tree, Reigne thou over us.

9 But the Olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatnesse, wherewith by mee they honour God and man, and goe to advance mee above the trees?

e By this parable he declareth that those that are not ambitious, are most worthy of honour, and that the ambitious abuse their honour both to their owne destruction and others.

10 Then the trees said to the figtree, Come thou, and be king over us.

11 But the figtree answered them, Should I forsake my sweetnesse, and my good fruit, and go to advance me above the trees?

12 Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and be king over us.

13 But the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, whereby I cheere God and man, and goe to advance me above the trees?

‖ Or, thistle, or brier.

14 Then said all the trees unto the ‖ bramble, Come thou, and reigne over us.

15 And the bramble said unto the trees, If ye will in deed anoint mee king over you, come, and put your trust under my shadow: and if not, the fire shall come out of the bramble, and consume the Cedars of Lebanon.

f Abimelech shall destroy the nobles of Shechem.

16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and uncorruptly to make Abimelech King, and if yee have dealt well with Ierubbaall and with his house, and have done unto him according to the deserving of his hands, § Ebr. he cast his life farre from him.

17 (For my father fought for you, and † adventured his life, and delivered you out of ỹ hands of Midian.

18 And yee are risen up against my fathers house this day, and have slaine his children, about seventy persons upon one stone, and have made Abimelech, the sonne of his maide-servant, king over the men of Shechem, because hee is your brother.)

19 If ye then have dealt truely and purely with Ierubbaall, and with his house this day, then g reioyce yee with Abimelech, and let him reioyce with you.

g That he is your King, and you his subiects.

20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimelech, and consume the men of Shechem and the house of Millo: also let a fire come foorth from the men of Shechem, and from the house of Millo, and consume Abimelech.

21 And Iotham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother.

22 So Abimelech reigned three yeere over Israel.

h Because the people consented with the king in shedding innocent blood, therefore God destroyeth both one and the other.

23 But God h sent an evill spirit betweene Abimelech, and the men of Shechem: and the men of Shechem brake their promise to Abimelech, 24 That the cruelty toward the seventy sonnes of Ierubbaal and their blood might come and be layd upon Abimelech their brother, which had slaine them, and upon the men of Shechem, which had ayded him to kill his brethren.

25 So the men of Shechem set men in wait for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 Then Gaall the sonne of Ebed came with his brethren, and they went to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.

i Before they were afraid of Abimelechs power, and durst not go out of the citie.

27 Therefore they i went out into the field, and gathered in their grapes, and trode them, and made merie, and went into the house of their gods, and did eate and drinke, and cursed Abimelech.

28 Then Gaall the sonne of Ebed said, Who is Abimelech? and who is Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the sonne of Ierubbaall? and Zebul is his officer? Serve rather the men of Hamor the father of Shechem: for why should wee serve him?

29 Now would God this people were under mine hand: then would I put away Abimelech. And he said to k Abimelech, Increase thine army and come out.

k Braggingly, as though hee had been present, or to his captaine Zebul.

30 ¶ And when Zebull the ruler of the citie heard the words of Gaal the sonne of Ebed, his wrath was kindled, 31 Therefore hee sent messengers unto Abimelech † privily, saying, Beholde, Gaal the sonne of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem, and behold, they fortifie the citie against thee.

† Ebr. craftily.

32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in waite in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning assoone as the sunne is up, and assault the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shall come out against thee, doe to him † what thou canst.

† Ebr. what thine hand can finde.

34 ¶ So Abimelech rose up, and all the people that were with him by night: and they lay in wait against Shechem in foure bands.

35 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed went out, and stood in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimelech rose up, and the folke that were with him from lying in wait.

36 And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, Behold, there come people downe from the tops of the mountaines: and Zebull said unto him, The l shadow of the mountaines seeme men unto thee.

l Thou art afraid of a shadow.

37 And Gaal spake againe, and said, See, there come folke downe † by the middle of the land, and another band commeth by the way of the plaine of ‖ Meonenim.

† Ebr. by the navill.

‖ Or, charmers.

38 Then said Zebul unto him, Where is now thy mouth that said, Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Goe out now, I pray thee and fight with them.

39 And Gaall m went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.

m As their captaine.

40 But Abimelech pursued him, and hee fled before him, and many were overthrowen and wounded even unto the entring of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaall and his brethren that they should not dwell in Shechem.

42 ¶ And on the morrow the people went out into the field: which was told Abimelech.

n Which were of his company.

43 And hee tooke the n people, and divided them into three bands, and laid wait in the fields, and looked, and behold, the people were come out of the citie, and he rose up against them, and smote them.

44 And Abimelech, and the bands that were with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entring of the gate of the citie: and the two other bands ranne upon all the people that were in the field, and slew them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought against the citie all that day, he tooke the citie, and slew ỹ people that was therein, and destroyed the citie, & sowed o salt in it.

o That it should be unfruitfull, & never serve to any use.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shechem heard it, they entred into an holde of the house of the god p Berith.

p That is, of Baal-berith, as chap. 8. 33.

47 And it was told Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gate him up to mount

Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him: and Abimelech tooke axes with him, & cut downe boughes of trees, and tooke them, and bare them on his ſhoulder, and ſayd unto the folke that were with him, What ye have ſeene me doe, make haſte, and do like me.

49 Then all the people alſo cut downe every man his bough, and followed Abimelech, and put them to the holde, and ſet the holde on fire with them: ſo all the men of the tower of Shechem [q] died alſo, about a thouſand men and women.

[q] Meaning, that all were deſtroyed as well they in the tower, as the other.

50 ¶ Then went Abimelech to Tebez, and beſieged Tebez, and tooke it.

51 But there was a ſtrong tower within the citie, and thither fled all the men and women, and all the chiefe of the citie, and ſhut it to them, and went up to the top of the tower.

52 And Abimelech came unto the tower, and fought againſt it, and went hard unto the doore of the tower to ſet it on fire.

53 But a certaine woman * caſt a piece of a milſtone upon Abimelechs head, and brake his braine pan.

* 2. Sam. 11, 21.

54 Then Abimelech called haſtily his page that bare his harneſſe, and ſayd unto him, Drawe thy ſword and ſlay mee, that men ſay not of mee, A woman ſlew him. And his page [r] thruſt him thorow, and he died.

[r] Thus God by ſuch miſerable death taketh vengeance on tyrants even in this life.

55 And when the men of Iſrael ſaw that Abimelech was dead, they departed every man unto his owne place.

56 Thus God rendred the wickedneſſe of Abimelech, which hee did unto his father in ſlaying his ſeventy brethren.

57 Alſo all the wickednes of the men of Shechem did God bring upon their heads. So upon them came the [f] curſe of Iotham the ſonne of Ierubbaal.

[f] For making a tyrant their king.

9 Moreover, the children of Ammon went over Iorden to fight againſt Iudah, and againſt Beniamin, and againſt the houſe of Ephraim: ſo that Iſrael was ſore tormented.

10 Then the children of Iſrael [c] cried unto the Lord, ſaying, Wee have ſinned againſt thee, even becauſe wee have forſaken our owne God, and have ſerved Baalim.

[e] That is, from this preſent danger.

16 Then they put away the ſtrange gods from among them, and [f] ſerved the Lord: and ‖ his ſoule was grieved for the miſerie of Iſrael.

8 Then the Elders of Gilead ſaid unto Iphtah, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou mayeſt go with us, and fight againſt the children of Ammon, and bee our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Iphtah ſaid unto the Elders of Gilead, If ye bring mee home againe to fight againſt the children children of Ammon, if the Lord give them before me, ſhall I be your head?

† Ebr, be the hearer.

10 And the Elders of Gilead ſaid unto Iphtah, The Lord † be witneſſe betweene us, if we do not according to thy words.

11 Then Iphtah went with the Elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and captaine over them: and Iphtah rehearſed all his wordes before the Lord in Mizpeh.

12 ¶ Then Iphtah ſent meſſengers unto the king of the children of Ammon, ſaying, What haſt thou to doe with mee, that thou art come againſt me, to fight in my land?

* Num.21.13.

13 And the king of the children of Ammon anſwered unto the meſſengers of Iphtah, *Becauſe Iſrael tooke my land, when they came up from Egypt, from Arnon unto Iabbok, and unto Iorden: now therefore reſtore thoſe lands † quietly.

† Ebr, in peace.

14 Yet Iphtah ſent meſſengers againe unto the king of the children of Ammon,

* Deut.2.9.

15 And ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Iphtah, *Iſrael tooke not the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon.

16 But when Iſrael came up from Egypt, and walked through the wilderneſſe unto the red ſea, then they came to Kadeſh.

* Num.20.14,20.

17 *And Iſrael ſent meſſengers unto the king of Edom, ſaying, Let me, I pray thee, goe thorow thy land: but the king of Edom would not conſent: and alſo they ſent unto the king of Moab, but he would not: therefore Iſrael abode in Kadeſh.

18 Then they went through the wilderneſſe, and compaſſed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and came by the Eaſt ſide of the land of Moab, and pitched on the other ſide of Arnon, *and came not within the coaſt of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.

* Num.21.13. and 22.14.

Deut.2.36.

19 Alſo Iſrael * ſent meſſengers unto Sihon, king of the Amorites, the king of Heſhbon, and Iſrael ſaid unto him, Let us paſſe, we pray thee, by thy land unto our ‖ place.

‖ Or, countrey.

20 But Sihon g conſented not to Iſrael, that he ſhould goe through his coaſt: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Iahaz, and fought with Iſrael.

g He truſted them not to goe thorow his countrey.

21 And the Lord God of Iſrael gave Sihon, and all his folke into the hands of Iſrael, and they ſmote them: ſo Iſrael poſſeſſed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey.

* Deut.2.36.

22 And they poſſeſſed * all the coaſt of the Amorites, from Arnon unto Iabbok, and from the wilderneſſe even unto Iorden.

23 Now therefore the Lord God of Iſrael hath caſt out the Amorites before his people Iſrael, and ſhouldeſt thou poſſeſſe it?

24 Wouldeſt not thou poſſeſſe that which Chemoſh thy god giveth thee to poſſeſſe? So whomſoever § h Lord our God driveth out before us, them wil we poſſeſſe.

h For we ought more to beleeve and obey God, then thou thine idoles.

i Meaning, their townes.

27 Wherefore I have not offended thee: but thou doeſt me wrong to warre againſt mee, The Lord the Iudge k be iudge this day betweene the children of Iſrael, and the children of Ammon.

k To puniſh the offender.

28 Howbeit the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not unto the words of Iphtah, which he had ſent him.

29 ¶ Then the l Spirit of the Lord came upon Iphtah, and he paſſed over to Gilead, and to Manaſſeh, and came to Mizpeh in Gilead, and from Mizpeh in Gilead he went unto the children of Ammon.

l That is, the ſpirit of ſtrength and zeale.

30 And Iphtah m vowed a vow unto the Lord, and ſaid, If thou ſhalt deliver the children of Ammon into mine hands, m As the Apoſtle commendeth Iphtah for his worthy enterprize in delivering the people, Hebr.11.32. ſo by his raſh vow and wicked performance of the ſame, his victory was defaced: and here we ſee that the ſinnes of the godly doe not utterly extinguiſh their faith.

31 Then that thing that commeth out of the doores of mine houſe to meete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammon, ſhall be § Lords, and I will offer it for a burnt-offering.

‖ Or, the plaine,

32 And ſo Iphtah went unto the children of Ammon to fight againſt them, and the Lord delivered them into his hands.

33 And hee ſmote them from Aroer even till thou come to Minnith, twenty cities, and ſo forth to ‖ Abel of the vineyards, with an exceeding great ſlaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were humbled before the children of Iſrael.

34 ¶ Now when Iphtah came to Mizpeh unto his houſe, beholde, his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: he had none other ſonne, nor daughter.

n According to the maner after the victory.

35 And when he ſaw her, he o rent his clothes, and ſayd, Alas my daughter, thou haſt brought me lowe, and art of them that trouble me: for I have opened my mouth unto the Lord, and can not goe backe.

o Being overcome with blind zeale, and not conſidering whether the vow was lawfull or no, 36 And ſhee ſaid unto him, My father, if thou haſt opened thy mouth unto the Lord, doe with mee as thou haſt promiſed, ſeeing that the Lord hath avenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammon.

37 Alſo ſhee ſayd unto her father, Doe thus much for me: ſuffer me two moneths, that I may go to the mountaines, and p bewaile my virginitie, I and my fellowes.

p For it was counted as a ſhame in Iſrael, to die without children, and therefore they rejoyced to be married.

38 And he ſaid, Go: and he ſent her away two moneths: ſo ſhe went with her companions, and lamented her virginity upon the mountaines.

39 And after the ende of two moneths, ſhee turned againe unto her father, who did with her according to his vowe which he had vowed, and ſhe had knowen no man. And it was a cuſtome in Iſrael:

40 The daughters of Iſrael went yeere by yeere to lament the daughter of Iphtah the Gileadite, foure dayes in a yeere.

c I put my life in mine hands, and went upon the children of Ammon: so the Lord delivered them into mine hands. Wherefore then are yee come upon me now to fight against me?

4 Then Iphtah gathered all the men of Gilead, and fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead smote Ephraim, because they said, Ye Gileadites are runnagates of Ephraim d among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.

d Ye runne from us, and chose Gilead, and now in respect of us, ye are nothing.

5 Also the Gileadites tooke the passages of Iorden before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, said, Let me passe, then the men of Gilead said unto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he said, Nay.

e Which signifieth the fall of waters, or an eare of corne.

6 Then said they unto him, Say now e Shibboleth: and he said Sibboleth: for he could not so pronounce: then they tooke him, and slew him at the passages of Iorden: and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites two and forty thousand.

7 And Iphtah iudged Israel sixe yeere: then died Iphtah the Gileadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gilead.

f Some thinke that this was Boaz the husband of Ruth.

8 ¶ After him f Ibzan of Beth-lehem iudged Israel.

9 Who had thirtie sonnes and thirty daughters, which he sent out, and tooke in thirty daughters from abroad for his sonnes: and hee iudged Israel seven yeere.

10 Then Ibzan died, and was buried at Bethlehem.

11 ¶ And after him iudged Israel Elon, a Zebulonite, and he iudged Israel ten yeere.

12 Then Elon the Zebulonite died, and was buried in Aijalon in the countrey of Zebulun.

13 ¶ And after him Abdon the sonne of Hillel the Pirathonite iudged Israel.

14 And he had fortie sonnes and thirty † nephewes that rode on seventy ‖ affecolts: and hee iudged Israel eight yeeres.

* 1. Sam. 1, 11.
b Meaning, hee should be separate from the world, and dedicate to God.
c If flesh be not able to abide the sight of an Angel, how muchlesse the presence of God?

5 For loe, thou shalt conceive and beare a sonne, and no rasor shall * come on his head: for the child shallbe a b Nazarite unto God from his birth: and he shall begin to save Israel out of the hands of the Philistims.

6 ¶ Then the wife came and tolde her husband, saying, A man of God came unto mee, and the fashion of him was like the fashion of the Angel of God exceeding c fearefull, but I asked him not whence he was, neither told he me his name,

7 But hee said unto mee, Behold, thou shalt conceive and beare a sonne, and now thou shalt drinke no wine nor strong drinke, neither eate any uncleane thing, for the childe shall bee a Nazarite to God from his birth to the day of his death.

d He sheweth himselfe ready to obey Gods will, and therefore desireth to know farther.

8 Then Manoah d prayed to the Lord, and sayd, I pray thee, my Lord, let the man of God, whom thou sentest, come againe now unto us, and teach us what wee shall doe unto the childe when he is borne.

9 And God heard the voyce of Manoah, and the Angel of God came againe unto the wife, as she sate in the field, but Manoah her husband was not with her.

e It seemeth that the Angel appeared unto her twise in one day.
f He calleth him man, because he so seemed, but he was Christ the eternall word, which at his time appointed became man.

10 ¶ And the wife made haste and ranne, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto mee, that came unto me e to day.

11 And Manoah arose and went after his wife, and came to the f man, and sayd unto him, Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? and he sayd, Yea.

12 Then Manoah sayd, Now let thy saying come to passe: but how shall we order the childe, and doe unto him?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, The woman must beware of all that I sayd unto her.

g Any thing forbidden by the Law.

14 She may eate of nothing that commeth of the vine tree: she shall not drinke wine nor strong drinke, nor eate any g uncleane thing: let her observe all that I have commanded her.

15 Manoah then said unto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let us retaine thee, untill we have made ready a kid for thee.

h Shewing, that he sought not his owne honour, but Gods, whose messenger he was.

16 And the Angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, Though thou make me abide, I will not eat of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offering, offer it unto the h Lord: for Manoah knew not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

17 Againe Manoah said unto the Angel of the Lord, What is thy name, that when thy saying is come to passe, we may honour thee?

‖ Or, merveilous.

18 And the Angel of the Lord said unto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, which is ‖ secret?

i God sent fire from heaven to consume their sacrifice, to confirme their faith in his promise.

19 Then Manoah took a kid with a meat offering, and offered it upon a stone unto the Lord: and the Angel did i wondrously, whiles Manoah and his wife looked on.

20 For when the flame came up toward heaven from the altar, the Angel of the Lord ascended up in the flame of the altar, and Manoah and his wife beheld it, and fell on their face unto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare unto Manoah and his wife) Then Manoah knew that it was an Angell of the Lord.

* Exod. 33, 20. chap. 6, 22.

22 And Manoah said unto his wife, * We shall surely die, because we have seene God.

k These graces that we have received of God, and his accepting of our obedience, are sure tokens of his love toward us, so that nothing can hurt us.

23 But his wife sayd unto him, If the Lord would kill us, hee would not have received a k burnt offring, and a meat offring of our hands, neither would he have shewed us all these things, nor would now have told us any such.

24 ¶ And the wife bare a sonne, and called his name Samson: and the childe grew, and the Lord blessed him.

25 And the Spirit of the Lord beganne to ‖ strengthen

‖ Or, to come upon him at divers times.

CHAP. XIV.

Samson desireth to have a wife of the Philistims. 6 He killeth a lion. 12 Hee propoundeth a riddle. 19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forsaketh him, and taketh another.

NOw Samson went downe to Timnath, and saw a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistims,

2 And he came up and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seene a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistims: now therefore † give me her to wife.

† Ebr. take her for me to wife.

3 Then his father and his mother sayd unto him, Is there a never a wife among the daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou must goe to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistims? And Samson said unto his father, Give me her, for she pleaseth me well.

a Though his parents did iustly reprove him, yet it appeareth that this was the secret worke of the Lord, verse 4.

4 But his father and his mother knewe not that it came of the Lord, that he should seeke an occasion against the Philistims: for at that time the Philistims reigned over Israel.

b To fight against them for the deliverance of Israel.

5 ¶ Then went Samson, and his father and his mother downe to Timnath, and came to the vineyards of Timnath: and behold, a young lion roared upon him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord c came upon him, and hee tare him, as one should have rent a kid, and had nothing in his hand, neither told he his father nor his mother what he had done.

c Whereby he had strength and boldnesse.

7 And hee went downe, and talked with the woman which was beautifull in ỹ eyes of Samson.

8 ¶ And within a fewe dayes, when hee returned ‖ to receive her, hee went aside to see the carkeis of the lion: and behold, there was a swarme of bees, and honie in the body of the lyon.

‖ Or, to take her to his wife.

9 And hee tooke thereof in his handes, and went eating, and came to his father and to his mother, and gave unto them, and they did eate: but he told not them, that he had taken the hony out of the body of the lyon.

10 So his father went downe unto the woman, and Samson made there a d feast: for so used the young men to doe.

d Meaning, when he was maried.

11 And when e they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

e That is, her parents or friends.

12 Then Samson said unto them, I will now put foorth a riddle unto you: and if you can declare it mee within seven dayes of the feast, and finde it out, I will give you thirtie sheets, and thirtie f change of garments.

f To weare at feasts, or solemne dayes.

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then shall yee give me thirtie sheets, and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put foorth thy riddle, that we may heare it.

14 And hee said unto them, Out of the eater came meate, and out of the strong came sweetenesse: and they could not in three dayes expound the riddle.

15 And when the seventh day was g come, they said unto Samsons wife, Entise thine husband that he may declare us the riddle, lest wee burne thee and thy fathers house with fire. Have ye called us ‖ to possesse us? is it not so?

g Or, drew neere: for it was the fourth day.

‖ Or, to impoverish us.

16 And Samsons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hatest me, and lovest me not: for thou hast put foorth a riddle unto the h children of my people, and hast not told it me. And he said unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father, nor my mother, and shall I tell it thee?

h Unto them which were of my nation.

17 Then Samsons wife wept before him, i seven dayes, while their feast lasted, and when the seventh day came, he told her, because shee was importunate upon him: so she told the riddle to the children of her people.

i Or, to the seventh day beginning at the fourth.

18 And the men of the citie said unto him the seventh day before the sunne went downe, What is sweeter then honie? and what is stronger then a Lion? Then said he unto them, k If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

k If ye had not used the help of my wife.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he went downe l to Ashkelon, and slew thirtie men of them and spoiled them, and gave change of garments unto them, which expounded the riddle: and his wrath was kindled, and he went up to his fathers house.

l Which was one of the five chiefe cities of the Philistims.

20 Then Samsons wife was given to his companion, whom he had used as his friend.

CHAP. XV.

4 Samson tieth firebrands to the foxes tailes. 6 The Philistims burne his father in law and his wife. 15 With a iawbone of an asse hee killeth a thousand men. 19 Out of a great tooth in the iaw God gave him water.

BUt within a while after, in the time of wheate harvest, Samson visited his wife with a kidde, saying, I will a goe into my wife into the chamber: but her father would not suffer him to go in.

a That is, I will use her as my wife.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou hadst hated her: therefore gave I her to thy companion. Is not her yonger sister fairer then shee? take her, I pray thee, in stead of the other.

3 Then Samson said unto them, Now am I more b blameless then the Philistims: therefore will I doe them displeasure.

b For through his father in lawes occasion, he was mooved againe to take vengeance of the Philistims.

4 ¶ And Samson went out, and tooke three hundreth foxes, and tooke firebrands, and turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrand in the midst betweene two tailes.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, and burnt up both the c ricks and the standing corne, with the vineyards and olives.

c Or, that which was reaped and gathered.

6 Then the Philistims said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson the sonne in law of the d Timnite, because hee had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. Then the Philistims came up and e burnt her and her father with fire.

d Or, the citizen of Timnath.

e So the wicked punish not vice for love of iustice, but for feare of danger which else might come to them.

7 And Samson said unto them, Though yee have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and then I will cease.

8 So hee smote them ‖ hip and thigh with a mightie plague: then hee went and dwelt in the top of the rocke Etam.

‖ Or, horsemen and footmen.

9 ¶ Then the Philistims came up, and pitched in Iudah, and ‖ were spread abroad in Lehi.

‖ Or, camped.

10 And the men of Iudah said, Why are yee come up unto us? And they answered, To f binde Samson are we come up, and to doe to him as he hath done to us.

f And so being our prisoner to punish him.

11 Then three thousand men of Iudah went to the top of the rocke Etam, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that the Philistims are rulers over us? g Wherefore then hast thou done thus unto us? And he answered them, As they did unto me, so have I done unto them.

g Such was their grosse ignorance, that they iudged God great benefits to be a plague unto them.

12 Againe they said unto him, Wee are come to binde thee, and to deliver thee into the hand of of the Philistims. And Samson said unto them, Sweare unto me, that yee will not fall upon mee your selves.

h Thus they had rather betray their brother then use the meanes that God had given for their deliverance.

13 And they answered him, saying, No, but we will bind thee and h deliver thee unto their hand, but wee will not kill thee. And they bound him with two new coards, and brought him from the rocke.

14 When hee came to Lehi, the Philistims shouted against him, and the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and the coardes that were upon his armes, became as flaxe that was burnt with fire: for the bands loosed from his hands.

i That is, of an asse lately slaine.

15 And hee found a i new iawbone of an asse, and put foorth his hand, and caught it, and slew a thousand men therewith.

16 Then Samson said, With the iaw of an asse are heapes upon heapes: with the iawe of an asse have I slaine a thousand men.

17 And when hee had left speaking, he cast away the iawbone out of his hand, and called that place, ‖ Ramath-Lehi.

‖ Or, the lifting up of the iaw.

18 And he was sore a thirst, and k called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast given this great deliverance into the hand of thy servant: and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?

k Whereby appeareth that he did these things in faith, and so with a true zeale to glorifie God, and deliver his country.

19 Then God brake the cheeke tooth, that was in the iaw, and water came thereout: and when he had drunke, his spirit came againe, and hee was revived: wherefore the name thereof is called, ‖ En-hakkore, which is in Lehi unto this day.

‖ Or, the fountaine of him that prayed.

20 And hee iudged Israel in the dayes of the Philistims twentie yeeres.

CHAP. XVI.

3 Samson carrieth away the gates of Azzah. 18 He was deceived by Deliah. 30 Hee pulleth downe the house upon the Philistims, and dieth with them.

THen went Samson to a Azzah, and saw there ‖ an harlot, b and went in unto her.

a One of the five chiefe cities of the Philistims.

‖ Or, vitailer.

2 And it was told to the Azzahites, Samson is come hither. And they went about, and layed wait for him all night in the gate of the citie, and were quiet all the night, saying, Aliide ‖ till the morning early, and we shall kill him.

b That is, he lodged with her.

‖ Or, to the light of the morning.

3 And Samson slept till midnight, and arose at midnight, and tooke the doores of the gates of the citie and the two postes, and lift them away with the bars, and put them upon his shoulders, and caried them up to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

4 And after this hee loved a woman by the ‖ river of Sorek, whose name was Deliah:

‖ Or, plaine.

5 Unto whom came the princes of the Philistims, and said unto her, Entise him, and see wherein his great strength lieth, and by what meanes we may overcome him, that we may binde him, and punish him, and every one of us shall give thee eleven hundreth c shekell of silver.

c Of the value of a shekell reade Gen. 23, 15.

6 ¶ And Deliah said to Samson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bound, to doe thee hurt.

‖ Or, new withs.

7 Samson then answered unto her, If they binde me with seven ‖ greene coards, that were never dried, then shall I be weake, and be as another man.

8 And the princes of the Philistims brought her seven greene coards that were not drie, and she bound him therewith.

9 (And she had d men lying in wait with her in the chamber) Then shee said unto him, The Philistims be upon thee, Samson. And hee brake the coards, as a threede of tow is broken, when e it feeleth fire: so his strength was not knowen.

d Certaine Philistims in a secret chamber.

e When fire commeth neere it.

10 ¶ After Delilah said unto Samson, See, thou hast mocked me, and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, f tell me wherewith thou mightest be bound.

f Though her falshood tended to make him lose his life, yet his affection so blinded him, that he could not beware.

11 Then hee answered her, If they binde me with new ropes that never were occupied, then shall I be weake, and be as an other man.

12 Delilah therefore tooke new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said unto him, The Philistims be upon thee, Samson: (and men lay in waite in the chamber) and he brake them from his armes, as a threed.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hitherto thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tell me how thou mightest be bound. g And hee said unto her, If thou plattedst seven lockes of mine head with the threeds of the woufe.

g It is impossible if we give place to our wicked affections, but at length we shalbe destroyed.

14 And she fastened it with a pinne, and said unto him, The Philistims be upon thee, Samson. And hee awoke out of his sleepe, and went away with the ‖ pinne of the webbe, and the woufe.

‖ Or, beame.

15 Againe she said unto him, How canst thou say, h I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not tolde mee wherein thy great strength lyeth.

h For this Samson used to say, I love thee.

16 And because shee was importunate upon him with her words continually, and vexed him, his soule was paineth unto the death.

17 Therefore he tolde her all his i heart, and said unto her, There never came rasor upon mine head: for I am a Nazarite unto God from my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shaven, my strength will goe from me, and I shall be weake and be like all other men.

i Thus his immoderate affections toward a wicked woman caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, and become slave unto them whom he should have ruled.

18 And when Delilah saw that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, and called for the Princes of the Philistims, saying, Come up once againe: for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the Princes of the Philistims came up unto her, and brought the money in their hands.

19 And shee made him sleepe upon her knees, and she called a man, and made him to shave off the seven lockes of his head, and thee begonne to vexe him, and his strength was gone k from him.

k Not for the losse of his haire, but for the contempt of the ordinance of God, which was the cause that God departed from him.

20 Then she said, The Philistims be upon thee: Samson. And hee awoke out of his sleepe, and thought, I will go out now as at other times, and shake my selfe, but hee knew not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistims tooke him, and put out his eyes, and brought him downe to Azzah, and bound him with fetters: and hee did grinde in the prison house.

22 And the haire of his head began to l grow againe after that it was shaven.

l Yet had he not his strength againe, till he had called upon God, and reconciled himselfe.

23 Then the Princes of the Philistims gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto Dagon their god, and to reioyce: for they said, Our god hath delivered Samson our enemie into our hands.

24 Also when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our God hath delivered into our handes our enemie and destroyer of our countrey, which hath slaine many of us.

25 And

25 And when their hearts were merie, they sayd, Call Samson, that he may make us pastime: So they called Samson out of the prison house, and he m was a laughing stocke unto them, and they set him betweene the pillars.

26 Then Samson sayd unto the servant that led him by the hand, Leade me, that I may touch the pillars that ỹ house standeth upon, and that I may leane to them.

27 (Now the house was full of men and women, and there were all the princes of the Philistims: also upon the roofe were about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Samson ‖ played)

28 Then Samson called unto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke upon me: O God, I beseech thee, strengthen me at this time onely, that I may be † at once n avenged of the Philistims for my two eyes.

29 And Samson layd hold on the two middle pillars whereupon the house stood, and on which it was borne up: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then said Samson, o Let mee loose my life with the Philistims: and hee bowed him with all his might, and the house fell upon the princes, and upon all the people that were therein: so the dead which he slew at his death, were more then they which he had slaine in his life.

31 Then his brethren, and all the house of his father came downe and tooke him, and brought him up and buried him betweene Zorah and Eshtaol, in the sepulchre of Manoah his father: now he had iudged Israel twenty yeeres.

3 And when he had restored the eleven hundreth shekels of silver to his mother, his mother sayd, I had dedicate the silver to the Lord of mine hand for my sonne, to make b a graven and molten image. Now therefore I will give it thee againe.

4 And when he had restored the money unto his mother, his mother tooke two hundreth shekels of silver, and gave them to the founder, which made thereof a graven and molten image, and it was in the house of Michah.

10 Then Michah sayd unto him, Dwell with me, and bee unto me a father and a Priest, and I will give thee ten shekels of silver by yeere, and a sute of apparell, and thy meate and drinke. So the Levite went in.

11 And the Levite was h content to dwell with the man, and the yong man was unto him as one of his owne sonnes.

IN those dayes there was no a king in Israel, and at the same time the tribe of Dan sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that time all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Israel.

2 Therefore the children of Dan sent of their familie, five men out of their coastes, even men expert in warre, out of Zorah and Eshtaol to view the land, and search it out, and sayd unto them, b Goe, and search out the land. Then they came to mount Ephraim to the house of Michah, and lodged there.

3 When they were in the house of Michah, they knew the evoyce of the yong man the Levite: and being turned in thither, they sayd unto him, Who brought thee hither? or what makest thou in this place? and what hast thou to doe here?

4 And he answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Michah with me, and hath hired me, and I am his Priest.

5 Againe they sayd unto him, Aske counsell now of God, that wee may know whether the way which we goe, shall be prospercus.

6 And the Priest sayd unto them, d Goe in peace: for the Lord guideth your way which yee goe.

7 Then the five men departed, and came to Laish, and saw the people that were therein, which dwelt careleſſe, after the maner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, because no man † made any trouble in the land, or usurped any dominion: also they were farre from the Zidonians, and had no businesse with other men.

8 ¶ So they came againe unto their brethren to Zorah and Eshtaol: and their brethren sayd unto them, What have ye done?

9 And they answered, Arise, that we may goe up against them: for we have seene the land, and surely it is very good, and e doe ye sit still? be not slouthfull to goe and enter to possesse the land:

3 And Samſon ſlept till midnight, and aroſe at midnight, and tooke the doores of the gates of the citie and the two poſtes, and lift them away with the bars, and put them upon his ſhoulders, and caried them up to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

‖ Or, plaine.

4 And after this hee loved a woman by the ‖ river of Sorek, whoſe name was Delilah:

5 Unto whom came the princes of the Philiſtims, and ſaid unto her, Entiſe him, and ſee wherein his great ſtrength lieth, and by what meanes we may overcome him, that we may binde him, and puniſh him, and every one of us ſhall give thee eleven hundreth c ſhekels of ſilver.

c Of the value of a ſheke'l reade Gen. 23. 15.

6 ¶ And Delilah ſaid to Samſon, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great ſtrength lieth, and wherewith thou mighteſt be bound, to doe thee hurt.

‖ Or, new withs.

7 Samſon then anſwered unto her, If they binde me with ſeven ‖ greene coards, that were never dried, then ſhall I be weake, and be as another man.

8 And the princes of the Philiſtims brought her ſeven greene coards that were not drie, and ſhe bound him therewith, 9 (And ſhe had d men lying in wait with her in the chamber) Then ſhee ſaid unto him, The Philiſtims be upon thee, Samſon. And hee brake the coards, as a threede of tow is broken, when e it feeleth fire: ſo his ſtrength was not knowen.

d Certaine Philiſtims in a ſecret chamber.

e When fire commeth neere it.

10 ¶ After Delilah ſaid unto Samſon, See, thou haſt mocked me, and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, f tell me wherewith thou mighteſt be bound.

f Though her falſhood tended to make him loſe his life, yet his affection ſo blinded him, that he could not beware.

11 Then hee anſwered her, If they binde me with new ropes that never were occupied, then ſhall I be weake, and be as an other man.

12 Delilah therefore tooke new ropes, and bound him therewith, and ſaid unto him, The Philiſtims be upon thee, Samſon: (and men lay in waite in the chamber) and he brake them from his armes, as a threed.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah ſaid to Samſon, Hitherto thou haſt beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tell me how thou mighteſt be bound. g And hee ſaid unto her, If thou plaiteſt ſeven lockes of mine head with the threeds of the woufe.

g It is impoſſible if we give place to our wicked affections, but at length we ſhalbe deſtroyed.

14 And ſhe faſtened it with a pinne, and ſaid unto him, The Philiſtims be upon thee, Samſon. And hee awoke out of his ſleepe, and went away with the ‖ pinne of the webbe, and theſe woufe.

‖ Or, beame.

15 Againe ſhe ſaid unto him, How canſt thou ſay, h I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou haſt mocked me theſe three times, and haſt not tolde mee wherein thy great ſtrength lyeth.

h For this Samſon uſed to ſay, I love thee.

16 And becauſe ſhee was importunate upon him with her words continually, and vexed him, his ſoule was paineth unto the death.

17 Therefore he tolde her all his i heart, and ſaid unto her, There never came raſor upon mine head: for I am a Nazarite unto God from my mothers wombe: therefore if I be ſhaven, my ſtrength will goe from me, and I ſhall be weake and be like all other men.

i Thus his immoderate affections toward a wicked woman cauſed him to loſe Gods excellent gifts, and become ſlave unto them whom he ſhould have ruled,

18 And when Delilah ſaw that he had tolde her all his heart, ſhe ſent, and called for the Princes of the Philiſtims, ſaying, Come up once againe: for he hath ſhewed me all his heart. Then the Princes of the Philiſtims came up unto her, and brought the money in their hands.

19 And ſhee made him ſleepe upon her knees, and ſhe called a man, and made him to ſhave off the ſeven lockes of his head, and ſhee begonne to vexe him, and his ſtrength was gone k from him.

k Not for the loſſe of his haire, but for the contempt of the ordinance of God, which was the cauſe that God departed from him.

20 Then ſhe ſaid, The Philiſtims be upon thee: Samſon. And hee awoke out of his ſleepe, and thought, I will go out now as at other times, and ſhake my ſelfe, but hee knew not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philiſtims tooke him, and put out his eyes, and brought him downe to Azzah, and bound him with fetters: and hee did grinde in the priſon houſe.

22 And the haire of his head began to l grow againe after that it was ſhaven.

i Yet had he not his ſtrength againe, till he had called upon God, and reconciled himſelfe.

23 Then the Princes of the Philiſtims gathered them together for to offer a great ſacrifice unto Dagon their god, and to reioyce: for they ſaid, Our god hath delivered Samſon our enemie into our hands.

24 Alſo when the people ſaw him, they praiſed their god: for they ſaid, Our God hath delivered into our handes our enemie and deſtroyer of our countrey, which hath ſlaine many of us.

25 And

25 And when their hearts were merie, they ſayd, Call Samſon, that he may make us paſtime: So they called Samſon out of the priſon houſe, and he m was a laughing ſtocke unto them, and they ſet him betweene the pillars.

m Thus by Gods iuſt iudgements they are made ſlaves to infidels which neglect their vocation in defending the faithfull.

26 Then Samſon ſayd unto the ſervant that led him by the hand, Leade me, that I may touch the pillars that ſ houſe ſtandeth upon, and that I may leane to them.

27 (Now the houſe was full of men and women, and there were all the princes of the Philiſtims: alſo upon the roofe were about three thouſand men and women, that beheld while Samſon ‖ played)

‖ Or, was mocked.

28 Then Samſon called unto the Lord, and ſayd, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke upon me: O God, I beſeech thee, ſtrengthen me at this time onely, that I may be † at once n avenged of the Philiſtims for my two eyes.

† Ebr. take one vengeance.
n According to my vocation which is to execute Gods iudgements upon the wicked.

29 And Samſon layd hold on the two middle pillars whereupon the houſe ſtood, and on which it was borne up: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then ſaid Samſon, o Let mee looſe my life with the Philiſtims: and hee bowed him with all his might, and the houſe fell upon the princes, and upon all the people that were therein: ſo the dead which he ſlew at his death, were more then they which he had ſlaine in his life.

o He ſpeaketh not this of deſpaire, but humbling himſelfe for neglecting his office and the offence thereby given.

31 Then his brethren, and all the houſe of his father came downe and tooke him, and brought him up and buried him betweene Zorah and Eſhtaol, in the ſepulchre of Manoah his father: now he had iudged Iſrael twenty yeeres.

CHAP. XVII.

3 Michahs mother according to her vow, made her ſonne two idols. 5 He made his ſonne a Prieſt for his idoles, 10 and after he hired a Levite.

a Some thinke this hiſtory was in the time of Othniel, or as Joſephus writeth, immediately after Joſhua.

THere a was a man of mount Ephraim, whoſe name was Michah.

2 And he ſayd unto his mother, The eleven hundreth ſhekels of ſilver that were taken from thee, for ſ which thou curſedſt, and ſpakeſt it, even in mine hearing, behold, the ſilver is with me, I tooke it. Then his mother ſayd, Bleſſed be my ſonne of the Lord.

b Contrary to the commandement of God and true religion practiſed under Joſhua, they forſooke the Lord and fell to idolatrie.
* Chap. 8, 27.
c He would ſerve both God and Idoles.
* Gen. 31, 19. Hoſea. 3, 4.
d By Teraphim ſome underſtande certaine idoles, having the likeneſſe of a man, but others underſtand thereby all maner of things and inſtruments belonging unto thoſe, who ſought for any anſwer at Gods hands, as Chap. 18, 5, 6.
† Ebr. filled the hand of one.
* Chap. 21, 25.
e For where there is no Magiſtrate fearing God, there can be no true religion, or order.

3 And when he had reſtored the eleven hundreth ſhekels of ſilver to his mother, his mother ſayd, I had dedicate the ſilver to the Lord of mine hand for my ſonne, to make b a graven and molten image. Now therefore I will give it thee againe.

4 And when he had reſtored the money unto his mother, his mother tooke two hundreth ſhekels of ſilver, and gave them to the founder, which made thereof a graven and molten image, and it was in the houſe of Michah.

5 And this man Michah had an houſe of gods, and made an * c Ephod, and * d Teraphim, and † conſecrated one of his ſonnes, who was his Prieſt.

6 * In thoſe dayes there was no e King in Iſrael, but every man did that which was good in his owne eyes.

7 ¶ There was alſo a yong man out of Bethlehem Iudah, f of the familie of Iudah: who was a Levite, and ſoiourned there.

f Which Bethlehem was in the tribe of Iudah.

8 And the man departed out of the city, even out of Beth-lehem Iudah, to dwell where he could finde a place: and as hee iourneyed, hee came to mount Ephraim to the houſe of Michah.

9 And Michah ſayd unto him, Whence commeſt thou? And the Levite anſwered him, g I came from Beth-lehem Iudah, and goe to dwell where I may finde a place.

g For in thoſe dayes the ſervice of God was corrupt in all eſtates, and the Levites were not looked unto.

10 Then Michah ſayd unto him, Dwell with me, and bee unto me a father and a Prieſt, and I will give thee ten ſhekels of ſilver by yeere, and a ſute of apparell, and thy meate and dricke. So the Levite went in.

11 And the Levite was h content to dwell with the man, and the yong man was unto him as one of his owne ſonnes.

h Not conſidering that he forſooke the true worſhipping of God for to maintaine his owne belly.

12 And Michah conſecrated the Levite, and the yong man was his Prieſt, and was in the houſe of Michah.

i Thus the idolaters perſwade themſelves of Gods favour, when indeede he doth deteſt them.

13 Then ſaid Michah, Now I know that the Lord will be i good unto me, ſeeing I have a Levite to my Prieſt.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 The children of Dan ſend men to ſearch the land. 11 Then come the ſixe hundreth and take the gods, and the Prieſt of Michah away. 27 They deſtroy Laiſh, 28 They build it againe. 30 And ſet up Idolatrie.

a Meaning, no ordinary Magiſtrate to puniſh vice according to Gods word.

IN thoſe dayes there was no a king in Iſrael, and at the ſame time the tribe of Dan ſought them an inheritance to dwell in: for unto that time all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Iſrael.

2 Therefore the children of Dan ſent of their familie, five men out of their coaſtes, even men expert in warre, out of Zorah and Eſhtaol to view the land, and ſearch it out, and ſayd unto them, b Goe, and ſearch out the land. Then they came to mount Ephraim to the houſe of Michah, and lodged there.

b For the portion which Joſhua gave them, was not ſufficient for all their tribe.

3 When they were in the houſe of Michah, they knew the c voyce of the yong man the Levite: and being turned in thither, they ſayd unto him, Who brought thee hither? or what makeſt thou in this place? and what haſt thou to doe here?

c They knew him by his ſpeech that he was a ſtranger there.

4 And he anſwered them, Thus and thus dealeth Michah with me, and hath hired me, and I am his Prieſt.

5 Againe they ſayd unto him, Aske counſell now of God, that wee may know whether the way which we goe, ſhall be proſperous.

6 And the Prieſt ſayd unto them, d Goe in peace: for the Lord guideth your way which yee goe.

d Thus God graunteth the idolaters ſometime their requeſts to their deſtruction that delight in error.

7 Then the five men departed, and came to Laiſh, and ſaw the people that were therein, which dwelt careleſſe, after the maner of the Zidonians, quiet and ſure, becauſe no man † made any trouble in the land, or uſurped any dominion: alſo they were farre from the Zidonians, and had no buſineſſe with other men.

† Ebr. made them aſhamed.

8 ¶ So they came againe unto their brethren to Zorah and Eſhtaol: and their brethren ſayd unto them, What have ye done?

9 And they anſwered, Ariſe, that we may goe up againſt them: for we have ſeene the land, and ſurely it is very good, and e doe ye ſit ſtill? be not ſlouthfull to goe and enter to poſſeſſe the land:

e Loſe ye this good occaſion through your ſlouthfulneſſe?

10 (If ye will goe, ye ſhall come unto a careleſſe people, and the countrey is large) for God hath given it into your hand. It is a place which doeth lacke nothing that is in the world.

11 ¶ Then there departed thence of the familie mille of the Danites, from Zorah and from Eshtaol, sixe hundreth men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And they went up, and pitched in Kiriath-iearim in Iudah: wherefore they called that place ‖ Mahaneh-Dan unto this day: and it is behinde Kiriath-iearim.

13 And they went thence unto mount Ephraim, and came to the house of Michah.

14 Then answered the five men that went to spie out the country of Laish, and said unto their brethren, † Know yee not, that there is in these houses an Ephod, and Teraphim, and a graven and a molten image? Now therefore consider what ye have to doe.

15 And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the yong man the Levite, even unto the house of Michah, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the sixe hundreth men appointed with their weapons of war, which were of the children of Dan, stood by the entring of the gate.

17 Then the five men that went spie out the land, went in thither, and tooke the ‖ graven image and the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image: and the Priest stood in the entring of the gate with the sixe hundred men that were appointed with weapons of warre.

18 And the other went into Michahs house, and fet the graven image, the Ephod and the Teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the Priest unto them, What doe ye?

19 And they answered him, Holde thy peace: lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and come with us to be our father and Priest. Whether is it better that thou shouldest be a Priest unto the house of one man, or that thou shouldest be a Priest unto a tribe and to a family in Israel?

20 And the Priests heart was glad, and hee tooke the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the graven image, and went among the [h] people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children, and cattell, and the substance [i] before them.

22 ¶ When they were farre off from the house of Michah, the men that were in the houses neere to Michahs house gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan.

23 And cried unto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and said unto Michah, What ayleth thee that thou makest an outcry?

24 And he said, Ye have taken away my [k] gods, which I made, and the Priest, and go your wayes: and what have I more? how then say yee unto me, What ayleth thee?

25 And the children of Dan sayd unto him, Let not thy voyce be heard among us, lest † angry fellowes runne upon thee, and thou lose thy life with the lives of thine household.

26 So the children of Dan went their wayes: and when Michah saw that they were too strong for him, hee turned and went backe unto his house.

27 And they tooke the ‖ things which Michah had made, and the Priest which he had, and came unto Laish, unto a quiet people, and without mistrust, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the citie with fire:

28 And there was none to ‖ helpe, because [m] Laish was farre from Zidon, and they had no businesse with other men: also it was in the valley that lieth by Beth-rehob. After, they built the citie, and dwelt therein.

29 * And called the name of the city Dan, after the name of Dan their father, which was borne unto Israel: howbeit the name of the citie was Laish at the beginning.

30 Then the children of Dan set them up the [n] graven image: and Ionathan the sonne of Gershon, the sonne of Manasseh, and his sonnes were the Priests in the tribe of the Danites, untill the day of the [o] captivity of the land.

31 So they set them up the graven image, which Michah had made, all the while the house of God was in Shiloh.

CHAP. XIX.

1 A Levites wife being unchaste forsooke her husband, and her tooke her againe. 25 At Gibeah she was most villanously abused to the death. 29 The Levite cutteth her in pieces, and sendeth her to the twelve tribes.

A Lso in those dayes, when there was no king in Israel, a certaine Levite dwelt on the side of mount Ephraim, and tooke to wife a * concubine out of Beth-lehem Iudah.

2 And his concubine played the whore † there, and went away from him unto her fathers house to Beth-lehem Iudah, and there continued the space of foure moneths.

3 And her husband arose and went after her, to speake † friendly unto her, & to bring her againe, he had also his servant with him, and a couple of asses: and she brought him unto her fathers house, and when the yong womans father saw him, he reioyced ‖ of his comming.

4 And his father in law, the yong womans father received him: and he abode with him three dayes: so they did eat and drinke & lodged there.

5 ¶ And when the fourth day came, they arose early in the morning, and, † hee prepared to depart: then the yong womans father said unto his sonne in law, ‖ Comfort thine heart with a morsell of bread, and then goe your way.

6 So they sate downe and did eate and drinke, both of them together. And the [a] yong womans father said unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tary all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man rose up to depart, his father in law ‖ was earnest: therefore he returned, and lodged there.

8 And hee arose up early the fifth day to depart, and the young womans father said, [b] Comfort thine heart, I pray thee: and they taried untill after midday, and they both did eate.

9 Afterward when the man arose to depart with his concubine and his seruant, his father in law, the yong womans father said unto him, Behold now, the day † draweth toward even: I pray you, tary all night: behold, ‖ the sunne goeth to rest: lodge here, that thine heart may bee merrie, and to morrow get you early upon your way, and goe to the [c] tent.

10 But the man would not tary, but arose, and departed, and came over against Iebus, (which is Ierusalem) and his two asses laden, and his concubine were with him.

11 When they were neere Iebus, the day ‖ was sore spent, and the servant said unto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turne unto this citie of the Iebusites, and lodge all night there.

12 And his master answered him, [d] Wee will not turne into the city of strangers that are not of

‖ Or, the tents of Dan.

† Because they before had had good successe, they would that their brethren should be encouraged by hearing the same tidings.

‖ So superstition blinded them that they thought Gods power was in these idoles, and that they should have good successe by them, though by violence & robbery they did take them away.

h With the sixe hundreth men.
i Suspecting them what did pursue them.

k This declareth what opinion the idolaters have of their idoles.

‖ Or, deliver them.

m Which after was called Cesarea Philippi.

a That is, his concubines father.

‖ Or, compelled him.

b Meaning, that he should refresh himselfe with meate, as verse 5.

‖ Or, the day lodgeth.

c To wit, to the towne or citie where he dwelt.

‖ Or, went downe.

of the children of Israel, but we will goe foorth to Gibeah.

13 And he said unto his servant, Come, and let us drawe neere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.

14 So they went forward upon their way, and the Sunne went downe upon them neere to Gibeah, which is in Beniamin.

15 ¶ Then they turned thither to goe in and lodge in Gibeah: and when he came, he sate him downe in a street of the city: for there was no man that ‖ tooke them into his house to lodging.

‖ Or, gathered them.

16 And behold there came an olde man from his worke out of the field at even, and the man was of mount Ephraim, but dwelt in Gibeah: and the men of the place were the children of [e] Iemini.

e That is, of the tribe of Beniamin.

17 And when he had lift up his eyes, he saw a ‖ wayfaring man in the streets of the citie: then this olde man saide, Whither goest thou, and whence camest thou?

‖ Or, a man walking.

18 And hee answered him, Wee came from Beth-lehem Iudah, unto the side of mount Ephraim: from thence am I: and I went to Beth-lehem Iudah, and goe now to the [f] house of the Lord: and no man receiveth me to house, f To Shiloh of Mizpeh were the Arke was.

19 Although we have strawe and provender for our asses, and also bread and wine for me and thine handmaid, and for the boy that is with thy servant: we lacke nothing.

20 And the old man said, ‖ Peace be with thee: as for all that thou lackest, shalt thou finde with me: onely abide not in the street all night.

‖ Or, be of good comfort.

21 ¶ So hee brought him into his house, and gave fodder unto the asses: and they washed their feete, and did eate and drinke.

22 And as they were making their hearts merrie, behold, the men of the citie, † wicked men beset the house round about, and [g] smote at the doore, and spake to this olde man the master of the house, saying, Bring foorth the man that came into thine house that we may know him.

† Ebr. men of Belial, that is, given to all wickednesse. g To the intent they might breake it.

23 And * this man the master of the house went out unto them, and said unto them, Nay my brethren, doe not so wickedly, I pray you, seeing that this man is come into mine house, doe not this villenie.

* Gen. 19, 6.

24 Behold, here is my daughter, a virgine, and his concubine: them will I bring out now, [h] and humble them, and doe with them what seemeth you good: but to this man doe not this villenie.

h That is, abuse them, as Gen 19, 8.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: therefore the man tooke his concubine, and brought her out unto them: and they knew her and abused her all the night unto the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her goe.

26 So the woman came in the dawning of the day, and [i] fell downe at the doore of the mans house where her lord was, till the light day.

i She fell downe dead, as verse 27.

27 And her ‖ lord arose in the morning, and opened the doores of the house, and went out to goe his way, and beholde, the woman his concubine was ‖ dead at the doore of the house, and her hands lay upon the threshold.

‖ Or, husband. ‖ Or, fallen.

28 And hee said unto her, up, and let us goe: but she answered not. Then he tooke her up upon the asse, and the man rose up, and went unto his [k] place.

k Meaning, home unto mount Ephraim.

29 And when hee was come to his house, hee tooke a knife and laid hand on his concubine, and divided her in pieces with her bones into twelve parts, and sent her through all quarters of Israel.

30 And all that saw it, said, There was no [l] such thing done or seene since the time that the children of Israel came up from the land of Egypt unto this day: consider the matter, consult and give sentence.

l For this was like the sinne of Sodom, for the which God rained downe fire and brimstone from heaven.

CHAP. XX.

1 The Israelites assemble at Mizpeh, to whom the Levite declareth his wrong. 13 They sent for them that did the villenie. 45 The Israelites are twise overcome, 46 And at length get the victorie.

THen * all the children of Israel went out, and the Congregation was gathered together as a one man, from Dan to Beersheba, with the land of Gilead, unto the [b] Lord in Mizpeh.

* Hos. 10, 9.

a That is all with one consent. b To aske counsell.

2 And the † chiefe of all the people, and all the tribes of Israel assembled in the Congregation of the people of God foure hundreth thousand footmen that [c] drew sword.

† Ebr. corners. c Meaning, men able to handle their weapons.

3 (Now the children of Beniamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Mizpeh) Then, the children of Israel [d] said, How is this wickednesse committed?

d To the Levite.

4 And the same Levite, the womans husband that was slaine, answered and said, I came unto Gibeah that is in Beniamin with my concubine to lodge.

5 And the ‖ men of Gibeah arose against me, and beset the house round about upon mee by night, thinking to have slaine mee, and have forced my concubine that she is dead.

‖ Or, chiefe, or lords.

6 Then I tooke my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent [e] her thorowout all the contrey of the inheritance of Israel: for they have committed abomination and villeny in Israel.

e That is, her pieces, to every tribe a piece, Chap. 19, 29.

7 Behold, yee are all children of Israel, give your advise, and counsell herein.

8 Then all the people arose as one man, saying, There shall not a man of us goe to his tent, neither any turne into his [f] house.

f Before we have revenged this wickednesse.

9 But now this is that thing which wee will doe to Gibeah: vve will goe up by lot against it,

10 And we will take ten men of the hundreth throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundreth of the thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand to bring [g] vitaile for the people, that they may doe (when they come to Gibeah of Beniamin) according to all the villenie, that it hath done in Israel.

g These onely should have the charge to provide for vitaile for the rest.

11 ¶ So all the men of Israel were gathered against the city, knit together as one man.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent men thorow all the [h] tribe of Beniamin, saying, What wickednesse is this that is committed among you?

h That is, every familie of the tribe.

13 Now therefore deliver us those wicked men which are in Gibeah, that wee may put them to death, and put away evill from Israel: but the children of Beniamin [i] would not obey the voyce of their brethren the children of Israel.

i Because they would not suffer the wicked to be punished, they declared themselves to maintaine them in their evill, and therefore were all iustly punished.

14 But the children of Beniamin gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Gibeah, to come out and fight against the children of Israel.

15 ¶ And the children of Beniamin were numbred at that time, out of the cities, sixe & twenty thousand men that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were numbred seven hundreth chosen men.

16 Of all this people vvere seven hundreth chosen men, being * left handed: all these could sling stones at an haire breadth, and not faile.

* Chap. 3, 15.

17 ¶ Also the men of Israel beside Beniamin, were numbred foure hundreth thousand men that that drew sword, even all men of warre.

18 And the children of Israel arose, and went up [k] to the house of God, and asked of God, saying, Which of us shall goe up first to fight against the children of Beniamin? and the Lord said, Iudah shall be first.

19 Then the children of Israel rose up early and camped against Gibeah.

20 And the men of Israel went out to battell against Beniamin, and the men of Israel put themselves in aray to fight against them beside Gibeah.

21 And the children of Beniamin came out of Gibeah, and slew downe to the ground of the Israelites that day [l] two and twenty thousand men.

22 And the people, the men of Israel plucked up their hearts, and set their battel againe in aray in the place where they put them in aray the first day.

23 (For the children of Israel had gone up and wept before the Lord unto the evening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shall I goe againe to battell against the children of Beniamin my brethren? and the Lord said, Goe up against them.)

24 ¶ Then the children of Israel came neere against the children of Beniamin the second day.

25 Also the second day Beniamin came forth to meete them out of Gibeah, and slew downe to the ground of the children of Israel againe eighteene thousand men: † all they could handle the sword.

26 Then all the children of Israel went up, and all the people came also unto the house of God, and wept, and sate there before the Lord, and fasted that day unto the evening, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israel asked the Lord (for [m] there was the Arke of the Covenant of God in those dayes, 28 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron [n] stood before it at that time) saying, Shall I yet goe any more to battell against the children of Beniamin my brethren, or shall I cease? And the Lord said, Goe up: for to morrow I will deliver them into your hand.

29 And Israel set men to lie in wait round about Gibeah.

30 And the children of Israel went up against the children of Beniamin the third day, and put themselves in aray against Gibeah, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Beniamin comming out against the people, were [o] drawen from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kill as at other times, even by the wayes in the field (whereof one goeth up to the house of God, and the other to Gibeah) upon a thirty men of Israel.

32 (For the children of Beniamin sayd, They are fallen before us, as at the first. But the children of Israel said, Let us flee and plucke them away from the citie unto the hie [p] wayes.)

33 And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place, and put themselves in aray at Baaltamar: and the men that lay in wait of the Israelites came foorth of their place, even out of the medowes of Gibeah.

34 And they came over against Gibeah, tenne thousand chosen men of all Israel, and the battell was sore: for they knew not that the [q] evill was neere them.

35 ¶ And the Lord smote Beniamin before Israel, and the children of Israel destroyed of the Beniamites the same day five and twentie thousand and an hundreth men: all they could handle the sword.

36 So the children of Beniamin saw that they were striken downe: for the men of Israel [r] gave place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beside Gibeah.

37 And they that lay in wait hasted, and brake forth toward Gibeah, and the ambushment ‖ drew themselves along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sword.

38 Also the men of Israel had appointed a certaine time with the ambushments, that they should make a great flame and smoke arise up out of the citie.

39 And when the men of Israel retired in the battell, Beniamin began to [s] smite and kill of the men of Israel about thirtie persons: for they said, Surely they are striken downe before us, as in the first battell.

40 But when the flame began to rise out of the citie as a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascend up to heaven.

41 Then the men of Israel turned [t] againe, and the men of Beniamin were astonied: for they saw that evill was neere unto them.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Israel unto the way of the wilderneſſe, but the battell overtooke them: also they which came out of the cities, slew them [u] among them.

43 Thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and ‖ chased them at ease, and overran them, even over against Gibeah on the East side.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamin eighteene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wildernes unto the rocke of Rimmon: and the Israelites [x] glained of them by the way five thousand men, and pursued after them unto Gidom, and slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that all that were slaine that day of Beniamin, were [y] five and twenty thousand men that drew sword, which were all men of warre.

47 * But sixe hundreth men turned and fled to the wildernes unto the rocke of Rimmon, and abode in the rocke of Rimmon foure moneths.

48 Then the men of Israel turned unto the children of Beniamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword, from the men of the city unto the beasts, and all that came to hand: also they set on fire all the [z] cities that they could come by.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The Israelites sweare that they will not marry their daughters to the Beniamites. 10 They slay them of Iabesh Gilead, and give their virgins to the Beniamites. 21 The Beniamites take the daughters of Shiloh.

MOreover, the men of Israel [a] sware in Mizpeh, saying, None of us shall give his daughter unto the Beniamites to wife.

2 And the people came unto the house of God and abode there till even before God, and lift up their voyces, and wept with great lamentation,

3 And said, O Lord God of Israel, why is this come to passe in Israel, that this day one tribe of Israel should want?

4 ¶ And on the morrow the people rose up and made there an [b] altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.

5 Then

† All they drawing the sword.

[m] To wit, in Shiloh.

[n] Or, served in the Priests office at those dayes: for the Iewes write, that he lived three hundreth yeeres.

[o] By the policie of the children of Israel.

[p] Meaning, crosswayes or pathes to divers places.

[q] They knew not that Gods iudgement was at hand to destroy them.

[r] Retired to draw them after.

‖ Or, made a long sound with a trumpet.

[s] For they were waxen hardie by the two former victories.

[t] And withstood their enemies.

[u] For they were compassed in on every syde.

‖ Or, drove them from their rest.

[x] They slew them by one and one, as they were scattered abroad.

[y] Besides eleven hundreth that had bene slaine in the former battels.

* Chap. 20. 13.

[z] If they belonged to the Beniamites.

[a] This oath came of rashnesse, and not of iudgement: for after they brake it, in shewing secretly the meanes to marry with certaine of their daughters.

[b] According to their custome, when they would consult with the Lord.

5 Then the children of Iſrael ſaid, Who is he among all the tribes of Iſrael, that came not up with the Congregation unto the Lord? for they had made a great oath concerning him that came not up to the Lord to Mizpeh, ſaying, Let him die the death.

c Or, repented that they had deſtroyed their brethren, as appeareth verſe 15.

6 And the children of Iſrael c were ſory for Beniamin their brother, and ſaide, There is one tribe cut off from Iſrael this day.

7 How ſhall wee doe for wives to them that remaine, ſeeing we have ſworne by the Lord, that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?

d Condemning them to be fauours of vice, which would not put their hand to puniſh it.

8 Alſo they ſaid, Is there any of the tribes of Iſrael that d came not up to Mizpeh to the Lord? and behold, there came none of Iabeſh Gilead unto the hoſte, and to the Congregation.

9 For when the people were viewed, behold, none of the inhabitants of Iabeſh Gilead were there.

† Ebr. children of ſtrength.

10 Therefore the Congregation ſent thither twelve thouſand men of the † moſt valiant, and commanded them, ſaying, Goe and ſmite the inhabitants of Iabeſh Gilead with the edge of the ſword, both women and children.

* Num. 31,17.

11 * And this is it that ye ſhall doe: ye ſhall utterly deſtroy all the males, and all the women that have lien by men.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Iabeſh Gilead foure hundreth maides, virgins ỹ had knowen no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the hoaſte to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, e To wit, about foure moneths after the diſcomfiture, Chap. 20,47.

13 ¶ Then the whole Congregation e ſent and ſpake with the children of Beniamin that were in the rocke of Rimmon, & called ‖ peaceably unto them:

‖ Or, friendly.

14 And Beniamin came againe at that time, and they gave them wives which they had ſaved alive of the women of Iabeſh Gilead: but they had not f ſo ynough for them.

f For there lacked two hundreth.

15 And the people were ſory for Beniamin, becauſe the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Iſrael.

16 Therefore the Elders of the Congregation ſaid, How ſhall we doe for wives to the remnant? for the women of Beniamin are deſtroyed.

g Beniamin muſt be reſerved to have the twelfth portion in the inheritance of Iaakob.

17 And they ſaide, There muſt be g an inheritance for them that be eſcaped of Beniamin, that a tribe be not deſtroyed out of Iſrael.

18 Howbeit wee may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Iſrael had ſworne, ſaying, Curſed be he that giveth a wife to Beniamin.

h He deſcribeth the place where the maides uſed yeerely to daunce as the maner then was, and to ſing Pſalmes and ſongs of Gods workes among them.

19 Therefore they ſaid, Behold, there is a feaſt of the Lord every yere in Shiloh, in a place, which is on the h Northſide of Beth-el, and on the Eaſtſide of the way that goeth up from Beth-el to Shechem, and on the South of Lebonah.

20 Therefore they commanded ỹ children of Beniamin, ſaying, Goe, & lie in wait in the vineyards.

21 And when ye ſee that the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come yee out of the vineyards, and catch you every man a wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and goe in the land of Beniamin.

i Though they thought hereby to perſwade men that they kept their othe, yet before God it was broken.

22 And i when their fathers or their brethren come unto us to complaine, wee will ſay unto them, Have pitie on them for our ſakes, becauſe we reſerved not to each man his wife in the war, and becauſe ye have not given unto them hitherto, ye have ſinned.

23 And the children of Beniamin did ſo, and tooke wives of them that danced according to their k number: which they tooke, and went away, and returned to their inheritance, and repaired the cities and dwelt in them.

k Meaning, two hundreth.

24 So the children of Iſrael departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe, and to his family, and went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

* Chap. 17,6. and 13,1. and 29,1.

25 * In thoſe dayes there was no king in Iſrael, but every man did ỹ which was good in his eyes.

THE BOOKE OF RVTH.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis Booke is intituled after the name of Ruth: vvhich is the principall perſon ſpoken of in this treatiſe. VVherein alſo figuratiuely is ſet foorth the ſtate of the Church vvhich is ſubiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giveth good and ioyfull iſſue: teaching us to abide vvith patience till God deliver us out of troubles. Herein alſo is deſcribed howv Ieſus Chriſt, vvho according to the fleſh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of vvhom the Lord Ieſus did vouchſafe to come, notvvithſtanding ſhee vvas a Moabite of baſe condition, and a ſtranger from the people of God: declaring unto us thereby that the Gentiles ſhould bee ſanctified by him, and ioyned vvith his people, and that there ſhould be but one ſheepefold, and one ſhepheard. And it ſeemeth that this hiſtorie appertaineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 3 He and his ſonnes die. 19 Naomi and Ruth come to Beth-lehem.

† Eb. iudged.

IN the time that the Iudges † ruled, there was a dearth in the a land, and a man of Beth-lehem b Iudah went for to ſoiourne in the countrey of Moab, hee, and his wife, and his two ſonnes.

a In the land of Canaan.

b In the tribe of Iudah, which was alſo called Beth-lehem Ephrathah, becauſe there was another city ſo called in the tribe of Zebulun.

2 And the name of the man vvas Elimelech, and the name of his wife, Naomi, and the names of his two ſonnes, Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem Iudah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimelech the husband of Naomi died, and ſhe remained with her two ſonnes, 4 Which tooke them wives of the c Moabites: the ones name vvas Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeeres.

c By this wonderfull providence of God Ruth became one of Gods houſehold, of whome Chriſt came.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion dieth alſo both twaine: ſo the woman was left, deſtitute of her two ſonnes, and of her husband.

6 ¶ Then ſhee aroſe with her daughters in law, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for ſhe had heard ſay in the countrey of Moab, that the Lord had d viſited his people, and given them bread.

d By ſending them plentie againe.

7 Wherefore ſhee departed out of the place where ſhe was, and her two daughters in lawe with her, and they went on their way to returne unto the land of Iudah.

8 Then Naomi ſaid unto her two daughters in law, Goe, returne eche of you unto her owne mothers houſe: the Lord ſhew favour unto you, as ye have done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grant you, that you may finde reſt, either of you in the houſe of her husband. And when ſhee kiſſed them, they lift up their voyce and wept.

10 And they ſaid unto her, Surely we will returne with thee unto thy people.

11 But Naomi ſaid, Turne againe my daughters: for what cauſe will ye goe with mee? are there any more ſonnes in my wombe, that they may be your husband?

12 Turne againe my daughters: go your way: for I am too old to have an husband. If I ſhould ſay, I have hope, and if I had an husband this night: yea, and if I had borne ſonnes.

13 Would ye tary for them, till they were of age? would ye be deterred for them from taking of husbands? nay my daughters: for it grieveth mee ‖ much for your ſakes that the hande of the Lord is gone out againſt me.

14 Then they lift up their voyce and wept againe, and Orpah [f] kiſſed her mother in law, but Ruth abode ſtill with her.

15 And Naomi ſaid, Behold, thy ſiſter in lawe is gone backe unto her people, and unto her gods: [g] returne thou after thy ſiſter in law.

16 And Ruth anſwered, Intreate mee not to leave thee, nor to depart from thee: for whither thou goeſt, I will goe: and where thou dwelleſt, I will dwell: thy people ſhall be my people, and thy God my God.

17 ¶ Where thou dieſt, will I die, and there will I be buried. The Lord do ſo to me and more alſo, if ought but death depart thee and me.

18 ¶ When ſhe ſaw that ſhe was ſtedfaſtly minded to goe with her, ſhe left ſpeaking unto her.

19 So they went both untill they came to Beth-lehem: and when they were come to Beth-lehem, it was [h] noiſed of them through all the citie, and they ſaid, Is not this Naomi?

20 And ſhe anſwered them, Call me not ‖ Naomi, but call me ‖ Mara: for the Almightie hath given me much bitterneſſe.

21 I went out full, and the Lord hath cauſed me to returne empty: why call ye me Naomi, ſeeing the Lord hath humbled me, and the Almightie hath brought me unto adverſitie?

22 So Naomi returned and Ruth the Moabiteſſe her daughter in law with her, when ſhe came out of the countrey of Moab: and they came to Beth-lehem in the beginning of [i] barley harveſt.

[e] Hereby it appeareth that Naomi by dwelling among idolaters, was waxen cold in the true zeale of God, which rather hath reſpect to ỹ eaſe of the body, then to the comfort of the ſoule.

‖ Or, more then you.

[f] When ſhee toke leave and departed.

[g] No perſwaſions can prevaile to turne them backe from God, whom he hath choſen to be his.

[h] Whereby appeareth that ſhe was of a great familie of good reputation.

‖ Or, beautifull.

[i] Which was in the moneth Niſan, that containeth part of March and part of Aprill.

CHAP. II.

1 Ruth gathered corne in the fields of Boaz. 8 The gentleneſſe of Boaz toward her.

[a] Both for vertue, authoritie, and riches.

[b] This her humilitie declareth her great affection toward her mother in law, foraſmuch as ſhe ſpareth no paines nor diligence to get both their livings.

THen Naomis husband had a kinſman, one of great [a] power of the family of Elimelech, and his name was Boaz.

2 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſaid unto Naomi, I pray thee, let me goe to the field, and [b] gather eares of corne after him, in whoſe ſight I find favour. And ſhe ſaid unto her, Goe my daughter.

3 ¶ And ſhe went, and came and gleaned in the field after the reapers, and it came to paſſe, that ſhee met with the portion of the field of Boaz, who was of the familie of Elimelech.

4 And behold, Boaz came from Beth-lehem, and ſaid unto the reapers, The Lord be with you: and they anſwered him, The Lord bleſſed thee.

5 Then ſaid Boaz unto his ſervant that was appointed over the reapers. Whoſe maide is this?

6 And the ſervant that was appointed over the reapers, anſwered, and ſaid, It is the Moabitiſh maid, that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Moab:

7 And ſhee ſaid unto us; I pray you, let mee gleane and gather after the reapers ‖ among the ſheaves: ſo ſhee came, and hath continued from that time in the morning unto now, ſave that ſhe taried a little in the houſe.

‖ Or, certaine handfuls.

8 ¶ Then ſaid Boaz vnto Ruth, Heareſt thou, my daughter? goe to none other field to gather, neither goe from hence: but abide heere by my maidens.

9 [c] Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reape, and go thou after the maidens. Have I not charged the ſervants, that they touch thee not? Moreover when thou art athirſt, go unto the veſſels, and drinke of that which the ſervants hath drawen.

[c] That is, take heede in what field they doe reape.

10 Then ſhee fell on her face, and bowed her ſelfe to the ground, and ſaid unto him, How have I found favour in thine eyes, that thou ſhouldeſt know me, ſeeing I am a [d] ſtranger?

[d] Even of the Moabites, which are enemies to Gods people.

11 And Boaz anſwered and ſaid unto her, All is tolde and ſhewed me that thou haſt done unto thy mother in law, ſince the death of thine husband, and how thou haſt left thy father and thy mother, and the land where thou waſt borne, and art come unto a people which thou kneweſt not in time paſt, 12 The Lord recompenſe thy worke, and a full reward be given thee of the Lord God of Iſrael, under whoſe [e] wings thou art come to truſt.

[e] Signifying, that ſhe ſhall never want any thing, if ſhe put her truſt in God, and live under his protection.

13 Then ſhe ſayd, Let me finde favour in thy ſight, my lord: for thou haſt comforted mee, and ſpoken comfortably unto thy maid, though I be not like to one of thy maides.

14 And Boaz ſaid unto her, At the meale time come thou hither, and eate of the bread, and dippe thy morſell in the vineger. And ſhe ſate beſide the reapers, and hee reached her parched corne: and ſhe did eate, and was ſufficed, and [f] left thereof.

[f] Which ſhee brought home to her mother in law.

15 ¶ And when ſhee arofe to gleane, Boaz commanded his ſervants, ſaying, Let her gather among the ſheaves, and doe not rebuke her.

16 Alſo let fall ſome of the ſheaues for her, and let it lie, that ſhe may gather it up, and rebuke her not.

17 So ſhe gleaned in the field untill evening, and ſhee threſhed that ſhee had gathered, and it was about an * Ephah of barley.

* Exod. 16. 36.

18 ¶ And ſhe tooke it up, and went into the city, and her mother in law ſaw what ſhe had gathered: Alſo ſhe [g] tooke forth, and gave to her that which ſhe had reſerved, when ſhe was ſufficed.

[g] To wit, of her bagge, as is in the Chalde text.

19 Then her mother in law ſayde unto her, Where haſt thou gleaned to day? and where wroughteſt thou? bleſſed be he, that knew thee. And ſhee ſhewed her mother in law, with whom ſhe had wrought, and ſaid, The mans name with whom I wrought to day, is Boaz.

20 And Naomi ſaid unto her daughter in law, Bleſſed be he of the Lord: for hee ceaſeth not to doe good to the living and to the [h] dead. Againe Noami ſaid unto her, The man is neere unto us, and of our affinitie.

[h] To my husband and children, when they were alive, and now to us.

21 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſaid, He ſaid alſo certainely unto me, Thou ſhalt be with my ſervants, untill they have ended all mine harveſt.

22 And Naomi anſwered vnto Ruth her daughter in law, It is beſt, my daughter, that thou goe out

‖ Or, fall upon thee.

out with his maides, that they ‖ meet thee not in another field.

‖ Or, returned to her mother in law.

23 Then she kept her by the maids of Boaz, to gather unto the end of barley harveſt, and of wheat harveſt, and ‖ dwelt with her mother in law.

CHAP. III.

1 Naomi giveth Ruth counſell. 8 Shee ſleepeth at Boaz feete. 12 He acknowledgeth himſelfe to be her kinſeman.

a Meaning, that ſhe would provide her of an husband, with whome ſhe might live quietly.

‖ Or, in this arme.

A Fterward Naomi her mother in law ſaid unto her, My daughter, ſhall not I ſeeke a reſt for thee, that thou mayeſt proſper?

2 Now alſo is not Boaz our kinſeman, with whoſe maides thou waſt? Behold, he winoweth barley to night in the ‖ floore.

3 Waſh thy ſelfe therefore, and anoint thee, and put thy raiment upon thee, and get thee downe to the floore: let not the b man know of thee, untill he have left eating and drinking.

b Boaz, nor yet any other.

4 And when hee ſhall ſleepe, marke the place where he layeth him downe, and go, and uncover the place of his feete, and lay thee downe, and he ſhall tell thee what thou ſhalt doe.

5 And ſhe anſwered her, All that thou biddeſt me, I will doe.

6 ¶ So ſhe went downe unto the floore, and did according to all that her mother in law bade her.

c That is, had refreſhed himſelfe among his ſervants.

7 And when Boaz had eaten and drunken, and c cheared his heart, hee went to lie downe at the ende of the heape of corne, and ſhe came ſoftly, and uncovered the place of his feete, and lay downe.

‖ Or, turned himſelfe from one ſide to another.

8 And at midnight the man was afraid ‖ and caught hold: and loe, a woman lay at his feete.

9 Then he ſaid, Who art thou? And ſhee anſwered, I am Ruth thine handmaid: ſpread therefore the wing of thy garment over thine handmaid: for thou art the kinſeman.

d Thou ſheweſt thy ſelfe from time to time more vertuous.

10 Then he ſaid, Bleſſed be thou of the Lord, my daughter: thou haſt d ſhewed more goodnes in the latter end, then at the beginning, in as much as thou followedſt not young men, were they poore or rich.

11 And now my daughter, feare not: I will doe to thee all that thou requireſt: for all the citie of my people doeth know that thou art a vertuous woman.

12 And now, it is true that I am thy kinſeman, howbeit there is a kinſman neerer then I.

e If he will take thee to be his wife by the title of affinitie, according to Gods law, Deut. 25.5.

13 Tarie to night, and when morning is come, if he e will doe the duetie of a kinſman unto thee, well, let him doe the kinſmans duetie: but if hee will not doe the kinſmans part, then will I doe the duetie of a kinſeman, as the Lord liveth: ſleepe untill the morning.

‖ Or, mantile.

14 ¶ And ſhee lay at his feete untill the morning: and ſhe aroſe before one could know another: for he ſaid, Let no man know, that a woman came into the floore.

15 Alſo he ſaid, Bring the ‖ ſheet that thou haſt upon thee, and hold it. And when ſhe held it, hee meaſured ſixe meaſures of barley, and layed them on her, and ſhe went into the citie.

f Perceiuing by her comming home, that hee had not taken her to his wife, ſhe was aſtonied.

16 And when ſhee came to her mother in law, ſhe ſaid, f Who art thou, my daughter? And ſhe told her all that the man had done to her, 17 And ſaid, Theſe ſixe meaſures of barley gave he mee: for hee ſaid to mee, Thou ſhalt not come emptie unto thy mother in law.

18 Then ſaid ſhe, My daughter, ſit ſtill, untill thou know how the thing will fall: for the man will not be in reſt, untill he hath finiſhed the matter this ſame day.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Boaz ſpeaketh to Ruths next kinſeman touching her marriage. 7 The ancient cuſtome in Iſrael. 10 Boaz marrieth Ruth, of whom he begetteth Obed. 18 The generation of Pharez.

T Hen went Boaz up to the a gate, and ſate there, and beholde, the kinſeman, of whom Boaz had ſpoken, came by: and he ſaid, b Ho, ſuch one, come, ſit downe heere. And hee turned, and ſate downe.

a Which was the place of judgement.

b The Hebrewes here uſe two words which have no proper ſignification, but ſerve to note a certaine perſon, as we ſay, Ho firray, or ho, ſuch a one.

2 Then he tooke ten men of the Elders of the citie, and ſaid, Sit yee downe here. And they ſate downe.

3 And he ſaid unto the kinſeman, Naomi, that is come againe out of the countrey of Moab, will ſell a parcell of land, which was our brother Elimelechs.

‖ Or, inhabitants.

4 And I thought to advertiſe thee, ſaying, Buy it before the ‖ aſſiſtants, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeeme it, redeeme it: but if thou wilt not redeeme it, tell me: for I know that there is none c beſides thee to redeeme it, and I am after thee. Then he anſwered, I will redeeme it.

c For thou art the neat of the kin.

5 Then ſaid Boaz, What day thou buyeſt the field of the hand of Naomi, thou muſt alſo buy it of Ruth the Moabiteſſe the wife of the dead, to ſtir up the name of the dead, upon his d inheritance.

d That his inheritance might beare his name that is dead.

6 And the kinſeman anſwered, I cannot redeeme it, leſt I deſtroy mine owne inheritance: redeeme my right to thee, for I cannot redeeme it.

7 Now this was the maner before time in Iſrael, concerning redeeming and changing for to ſtabliſh all things: a man did plucke off his ſhoe, and gave it his neighbour: and this was a ſure e witneſſe in Iſrael.

e That he had reſigned his right, Deut. 25.9.

8 Therefore the kinſeman ſaid to Boaz, Buy it for thee: and he drew of his ſhoe.

9 And Boaz ſaid unto the Elders and unto all the people, Yee are witneſſes this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelechs, and all that was Chilions and Mahlons, of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabiteſſe the wife of Mahlon, have I bought to be my wife, to ſtir up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his f place: ye are witneſſes this day.

f Or, of the citie where he remained.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the Elders ſaid, We are witneſſes: the Lord make the wife that commeth into thine houſe, like Rahel and like Leah, which twain did build the houſe of Iſrael: and that thou mayeſt doe worthily in g Ephrathah, and be famous in Beth-lehem.

g Ephrathah & Bethlehem are both one.

12 And that thine houſe bee like the houſe of Pharez (* whō Thamar bare unto Iudah) of ỹ ſeed which ỹ Lord ſhall give thee of this yong woman.

* Gen. 38.29.

13 ¶ So Boaz tooke Ruth, and ſhee was his wife: and when hee went in unto her, the Lord gave that ſhe conceived, and bare a ſonne.

14 And the women ſaid unto Naomi, Bleſſed be the Lord, which hath not left thee this day without a kinſeman, and h his name ſhallbe continued in Iſrael.

h He ſhall leaue continuall poſteritie.

15 And this ſhall bring thy life againe, and cheriſh thine olde age: for thy daughter in law which loveth thee, hath borne unto him, and ſhe is better to thee then i ſeven ſonnes.

i Meaning, many ſonnes.

16 And Naomi tooke the childe, and laide it in her lap, and became nourſe unto it.

* 1.Chron.2 4. Mat.1 3.
k This genealogy is brought in, to proove that David by succession came of the house of Iudah.

17 And the woman her neighbours gave it a name, saying, There is a childe borne to Naomi, and called the name thereof Obed: the same was the father of Ishai, the father of David.

18 ¶ These now are the generations of * k Pharez: Pharez begate Hezron, 19 And Hezron begate Ram, and Ram begate Amminadab,

20 And Amminadab begate Nahshon, and Nahshon begate Salmon, 21 And Salmon begate Boaz, and Boaz begate Obed,

22 And Obed begate Ishai, and Ishai begate David.

THE FIRST BOOKE OF SAMVEL.

THE ARGVMENT

According as God had ordained, Deut. 17.14 that when the Israelites should bee in the land of Canan, he would appoint them a king: so here in the first booke of Samuel is declared the state of this people under their first king Saul who not content with that order which God had for a time appointed for the government of his Church, demaunded a king, to the intent they might be as other nations, and in a greater assurance as they thought: not because they might the better thereby serve God, as beeing under the safegard of him which did represent Iesus Christ the true deliverer therefore he gave them a tyrant & an hypocrite to rule over them, that they might learne that the person of a king is not sufficient to defend them except God by his power preserve and keepe them And therefore hee punisheth the ingratitude of his people, and sendeth them continuall warres both at home and abroad. And because Saul whom of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a king, did not acknowledge Gods mercie toward him, but rather disobeyed the word of God, and was not zealous of his glory, he was by the voyce of God put downe from his estate, and David the true figure of Messiah placed in his stead, whose patience modestie, constancie, persecution by open enemies, fained friends and dissembling flatterers are left to the Church and to every member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state and vocation.

CHAP. I.

1 The genealogie of Elkanah father of Samuel. 2 His two wifes. 3 Hannah was barren, and prayed to the Lord. 25 Her answere to Eli. 20 Samuel is borne. 24 She doth dedicate him to the Lord.

a There were two Ramaths. so that in this city in mount Ephraim were Zophim, that is, the learned men and Prophets.

THere was a man of one of the two a Ramathaim Zophim, of mount Ephraim, whose name was Elkanah the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Elihu, the sonne of Tohu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephrathite.

2 And hee had two wives: the name of one was Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnah: and Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

* Deut.16,16.

3 * And this man went up out of his citie every yeere, to worship and to sacrifice unto the Lord of hostes in b Shiloh, where were the two sonnes of Ely, Hophni, and Phinehas, Priests of the Lord.

b For the Arke was there at that time.

4 And on a day, when Elkanah sacrificed, he gave to Peninnah his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters portions.

c Some reade, a portion with an heavy cheere.

5 But unto Hannah he gave a worthy c portion: for hee loved Hannah, and the Lord had made her barren.

6 ¶ And her aduersarie vexed her sore, forasmuch as she upbraided her, because the Lord had made her barren.

7 (And so did he yeere by yeere) and as oft as shee went up to the house of the Lord, thus shee vexed her, that she wept and did not eat.

8 Then said Elkanah her husband to her, Hannah, why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee then ten d sonnes?

d Let this suffice thee, that I love thee no lesse, then if thou hadst many children.

9 So Hannah rose up after that they had eaten and dronke in Shiloh (and Eli the Priest sate upon a stoole by one of the postes of the e Temple of the Lord) e That is, of the house where the Arke was.

10 And shee was troubled in her minde, and prayed unto the Lord, and wept sore:

11 Also she vowed a vow, and said, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt looke on the trouble of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but give unto thine handmaid a manchilde, then I will give him unto the Lord all the dayes of his life, * and there shall no rasor come upon his head.

* Numb.6.5. Iudg.13.5.

12 And as shee continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

13 For Hannah spake in her heart: her lips did moove onely, but her voyce was not heard: therefore Eli thought she had beene dronken.

14 And Eli said unto her, How long wilt thou be dronke? Put away ‖ thy drunkennesse from thee.

‖ Ebr. thy wine.

15 Then Hannah answered, and said, Nay my Lord but I am a woman ‖ troubled in spirit: I have drunke neither wine nor strong drinke, but have * powred out my soule before the Lord.

‖ Ebr. of an hard spirit. * Psal.42.5.

16 Count not thine handmaide ‖ for a wicked woman: for of the abundance of my complaint and my griefe have I spoken hitherto.

‖ Ebr. for a daughter of Belial.

17 Then Eli answered, and said, Goe in peace, and the God of Israel grant thy petition that thou hast asked of him.

18 She said gaine, Let thine handmaid finde f grace in thy sight: so the woman went her way and did eate, and looked no more sad.

f That is, pray unto the Lord for me.

19 ¶ Then they rose up early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah. Now Elkanah knew Hannah, his wife, and the Lord g remembred her.

20 For in processe of time Hannah conceived and bare a son, and shee called his name Samuel, Because said she, I have asked him of the Lord.

g According to her petition.

21 ¶ So the man h Elkanah, and all his house, went up to offer unto the Lord the yeerely sacrifice and his vow:

h This Elkanah was a Levite, 1 Chron.6.27. and as some write once a yeere they accustomed to appeare before the Lord with their families.

22 But Hannah went not up: for she said unto her husband I will tarie untill the childe be weined, then I will bring him that hee may appeare before the Lord, and there abide for ever.

23 And Elkanah her husband said unto her, Doe

Doe what ſeemeth thee beſt: tary untill thou haſt weined him: onely the Lord accompliſh his i word. So the woman abode, and gave her ſon ſucke untill ſhe weined him.

i Becauſe her prayer tooke effect, therefore it was called the Lords promiſe. * Exod.16,36.

24 ¶ And when ſhe had weined him, ſhee tooke him with her with three bullocks and an * Ephan of floure and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the houſe of the Lord in Shiloh, and the childe was † yong.

† Ebr. a childe.

25 And they ſlew a bullocke, and brought the childe to Eli.

26 And ſhe ſayd, Oh my lord, as thy k ſoule liveth, my lord, I am the woman that ſtood with thee here praying unto the Lord.

k That is, moſt certainely.

27 I prayed for this childe, and the Lord hath given me my deſire which I asked of him.

28 Therefore alſo I have † given him unto the Lord: as long as he liveth he ſhall be given unto the Lord: and he l worſhipped the Lord there.

† Ebr. lent. l Meaning, Eli gave thanks to God for her.

CHAP. II.

1 The ſong of Hannah. 12 The ſonnes of Eli, wicked. 13 The new uſe of the Preſts. 18 Samuel miniſtreth before the Lord. 20 Eli bleſſeth Elkanah and his wife. 23 Eli reproveth his ſonnes. 27 God threatneth Prieſtes to Eli. 31 Eli is menaced for not chaſtiſing his children.

AND Hannah a prayed, and ſayd, Mine heart reioyceth in the Lord, mine b horne is exalted in the Lord: my mouth is c enlarged over mine enemies, becauſe I reioyce in thy ſalvation.

a After that ſhe had obtained a ſonne by prayer, ſhe gave thanks.
b I have recouered ſtrength and glory by the benefite of the Lord.
c I can anſwere them that reprove my barreneſſe

2 There is none holy as the Lord: yea, there is none beſides thee: & there is no god like our God.

d In that yee condemne my barrenneſſe, ye ſhew your pride againſt God.

3 Speak d no more preſumptuouſly: let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the Lord is a God of knowledge, and by him enterpriſes are eſtabliſhed.

4 The bow and the mighty men are broken, and the weake have girded themſelves with ſtrength.

5 They that were full, are hired foorth for e bread, and the hungry are no more hired, ſo that the barren hath borne ſ ſeven: and thee that had many children is feeble.

e They ſel their labours for neceſſary foode.
f Or, many.

6 * The Lord killeth and maketh alive: bringeth downe to the grave and raiſeth up.

* Deut.32.39. Wiſd.16.13. 1.Sa.13.a.

7 The Lord maketh poore and maketh rich: bringeth low, and exalteth.

8 * He raiſeth up the poore out of the duſt, and lifteth up the begger from § dunghill, to ſet them among f princes, and to make them inherit the ſeat of glory: for the pillars of the earth are the g Lord: and he hath ſet the world upon them.

* Pſal.113.7.
f He preferreth to honour, and putteth downe according to his owne will, though mans iudgement be contrary.
g Therefore he may diſpoſe all things according to his will.

9 He will keepe the feet of his Saints, and the wicked ſhall keepe ſilence in darkeneſſe: for in his owne might ſhall no man be ſtrong.

10 The Lords adverſaries ſhall be deſtroyed, and out of heaven ſhall he * thunder upon them: the Lord ſhall iudge the ends of the world, and ſhall give power unto his h King, and exalt the horne of his Anointed.

* Chap.7.10.
h She grounded her prayer on Ieſus Chriſt which was to come.

11 And Elkanah went to Ramah to his houſe, and the childe did miniſter unto the i Lord before Eli the Prieſt.

i In all that Eli commanded him.

12 ¶ Now the ſonnes of Eli were wicked men, and k knew not the Lord.

k That is, they neglected his ordinance.

13 For the Prieſts cuſtome toward the people was this: when any man offred ſacrifice, § Prieſts ‖ boy came, while the fleſh was ſeething, and a fleſhhooke with three teeth in his hand.

‖ Or, ſonne.

14 And thruſt it into the kettle, or into the caldron, or into the panne, or into the pot: l all that the fleſhhooke brought up, the Prieſt tooke for himſelfe: thus they did unto all the Iſraelites, that came thither to Shiloh.

l Tranſgreſſing the order appointed in the Law. Leu 7.31. for their bellies take.

15 Yea, before they burnt the m fat, the Prieſts boy came and ſaid unto the man that offered, Give me fleſh to roſt for the Prieſt: for he will not have ſodden fleſh of thee, but raw.

m Which was commanded firſt to have bene offered to God.

16 And if any man ſayd unto him, Let them burn the fat according to the ‖ cuſtome, then take as much as thine heart n deſireth: then we would anſwere, No, but thou ſhalt give it now: and if thou wilt not, I will take it by force.

‖ Or, Lawe.
n Not paſſing for their owne profit, ſo that God might be ſerved aright.

17 Therefore the ſinne of the yong men was very great before the Lord: for men o abhorred the offering of the Lord.

o Seeing the horrible abuſe thereof.

18 ¶ Now Samuel being a young childe miniſtred before the Lord, girded with a linnen * Ephod.

* Exod.28.4.

19 And his mother made him a litle coat, and brought it to him from yeere to yeere, when ſhe came up with her husband, to offer the yeerely ſacrifice.

20 And Eli bleſſed Elkanah and his wife, and ſayd, The Lord give thee ſeed of this woman, for ‖ the petition that ſhe asked of the Lord: and they departed unto their place.

‖ Or, for the thing that ſhe hath lent to the Lord: to wit, Samuel.

21 And the Lord viſited Hannah, ſo that ſhee conceived, and bare three ſonnes, and two daughters. And the child Samuel grew before the Lord.

22 ¶ So Eli was very olde, and heard all that his ſonnes did unto all Iſrael, and how they lay with the women that p aſſembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

p Which was (as the Ebrewes write) after their trauaile, when they came to be purified, reade Exod.38.8. Levit.12.6.

23 And hee ſayd unto them, Why doe ye ſuch things? for of all this people I heare evill reports of you.

24 Doe no more, my ſonnes: for it is no good report that I heare, which is, that yee make the Lords people to q treſpaſſe.

q Becauſe they contemne their duety to God, verſe 17.

25 If one man ſinne againſt another, the Iudge ſhall iudge it: but if a man ſinne againſt the Lord, who will plead for him? Notwithſtanding they obeyed not the voyce of their father, becauſe the Lord r would ſlay them.

r So that to obey good admonitions is Gods mercy, and to diſobey them is his iuſt iudgement for ſinne.

26 ¶ (Now the childe Samuel profited, and grew, and was in favour both with the Lord and alſo with men.)

27 And there came a man of God unto Eli, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Did not I plainly appeare unto the houſe of thy ſ father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaohs houſe?

ſ To wit, Aaron,

28 And I choſe him out of all the tribes of Iſrael to be my Prieſt, to offer upon my altar, and to burne incenſe, and to weare an Ephod before me, and * I gave unto the houſe of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Iſrael.

* Levit.10.14.

29 Wherefore have you t kicked againſt my ſacrifice and mine offering, which I commanded in my Tabernacle, and honoureſt thy children above me, to make your ſelves fat of the firſt fruits of all the offerings of Iſrael my people?

t Why have you contemned my ſacrifices, and as it were troden them under foote?

30 Wherefore the Lord God of Iſrael ſaith, I ſaid, that thine houſe, and the houſe of thy father ſhould walke before mee for ever: but now the Lord ſaith, u It ſhall not be ſo: for them that honour me, I will honour, and they that deſpiſe me, ſhall be deſpiſed.

u Gods promiſes are only effectuall to ſuch as he giveth conſtancie unto, to feare and obey him.

31 Behold, the dayes come, that I will cut off thine x arme, and the arme of thy fathers houſe, that there ſhall not be an old man in thine houſe.

x Thy power and authoritie.

32 And thou y ſhalt ſee thine enemie in the habitation of the Lord in all things wherewith God ſhall bleſſe Iſrael, and there ſhall not be an old man in thine house for ever.

33 Nevertheleſſe, I will not deſtroy every one of thine from mine altar, to make thine eyes to faile, and to make thine heart ſorowfull: and all the multitude of thine houſe ſhall ‖ die when they be men.

‖ Or, when they come to mans age.

34 And this ſhallbe a ſigne unto thee, that ſhall come upon thy two ſonnes Hophni and Phinehas: in one day they ſhall die both.

35 And I will ſtirre me up a [z] faithfull Prieſt, that ſhall do according to mine heart, and according to my mind: and I wil build him a ſure houſe, and he ſhall walke before mine Anointed for ever.

z Meaning, Zadok, who ſucceeded Abiathar, and was the figure of Chriſt.

36 And all that are left in thine houſe, ſhall come and [a] bow downe to him for a piece of ſilver and a morſell of bread, and ſhall ſay, Appoint me, I pray thee, to one of the Prieſts offices, that I may eate a morſell bread.

a That is, ſhall be inferiour unto him.

CHAP. III.

1 There was no manifeſt viſion in the time of Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuel three times. 11 And ſheweth what ſhall come upon Eli and his houſe. 18 The ſame declareth Samuel to Eli.

NOw the childe Samuel miniſtred unto the Lord [a] before Eli: and the word of the Lord was [b] precious in thoſe dayes: for there was no manifeſt viſion.

a The Chalde text readeth, whiles Eli lived.
b Becauſe there were very few Prophets to declare it.

2 And at that time, as Eli lay in his [c] place, his eyes began to waxe dimme that he could not ſee.

c In the Court next to the Tabernacle.

3 And yet the [d] light of God went out, Samuel ſlept in the Temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

d That is, the lampes which burnt in the night.

4 Then the Lord [e] called Samuel: and he ſaid, Here I am.

e Ioſephus writeth that Samuel was twelve yeeres olde, when the Lord appeared to him.

5 And he ranne unto Eli, and ſaid, Here am I, for thou calledſt me. But he ſaid, I called thee not: goe againe and ſleepe. And he went and ſlept.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuel. And Samuel aroſe, and went to Eli, and ſaid, I am here: for thou diddeſt call me. And he anſwered, I called thee not my ſonne: goe againe and ſleepe.

7 Thus did Samuel, before hee knewe [f] the Lord, and before the word of the Lord was reveaſed unto him.

f By viſion.

8 And the Lord called Samuel againe the third time: and he aroſe, and went to Eli, and ſaid, I am here: for thou haſt called me. Then Eli [g] perceived that the Lord had called the child.

g Such was the corruption of thoſe times that the chiefe Prieſt was become dull and negligent to underſtand the Lords appearing.

9 Therefore Eli ſaid unto Samuel, Goe and ſleepe: and if he call thee, then ſay, Speake Lord, for thy ſervant heareth. So Samuel went, and ſlept in his place.

10 ¶ And the Lord came, and ſtood, and called as at other times, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel anſwered, Speake, for thy ſervant heareth.

11 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Samuel, Behold, I will doe a thing in Iſrael, whereof whoſoever ſhall heare, his two * eares ſhall [h] tingle.

* 2. King. 21, 12.
h God declareth what ſudden feare ſhall come upon men, when they ſhall heare that the Arke is taken, and alſo ſee Elies houſe deſtroyed.

12 In that day I will raiſe up againſt Eli all things which I have ſpoken concerning his houſe: when I begin, I will alſo make an end.

13 And I have told him that I will iudge his houſe for ever, for the iniquitie which he knoweth, becauſe his ſonnes ran into a ſlaunder, and hee ſtayed them not.

14 Now therefore I have ſworne unto the houſe of Eli, that the wickednes of Elis houſe ſhall not be purged with ſacrifice nor offring for ever.

i Meaning, that his poſteritie ſhould never enioy the chiefe Prieſts office.

15 Afterward Samuel ſlept untill the morning, and opened the doores of the houſe of the Lord, and Samuel feared to ſhew Eli the viſion.

16 ¶ Then Eli called Samuel, and ſaid, Samuel my ſonne. And he anſwered, Here I am.

17 Then he ſaid, What is it, that the Lord ſaid unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me. God [k] doe ſo to thee, and more alſo, if thou hide any thing from me, of all that he ſayd unto thee.

k God puniſh thee after this and that ſort, except thou tell me truth, Ruth 1, 17.

18 Samuel tolde him every whit, and hid nothing from him. Then he ſaid, It is the Lord: let him doe what ſeemeth him good.

19 ¶ And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and let none of his words fall to the ground.

l The Lord accompliſhed whatſoever hee had ſayd.

20 And all Iſrael from Dan to Beer-ſheba knew ‖ that faithfull Samuel was the Lords Prophet.

‖ Or, that Samuel was the faithfull Prophet of the Lord, † For by the word of the Lord.

21 And the Lord appeared againe in Shiloh: for the Lord revealed himſelfe to Samuel in Shiloh by † his word.

CHAP. IV.

1 Iſrael is overcome by the Philiſtims. 4 They doe fet the Arke, wherefore the Philiſtims doe feare. 10 The Arke of the Lord is taken. 11 Eli and his children die. 19 The death of the wife of Pinees the ſonne of Eli.

AND Samuel ſpake unto all Iſrael: † and Iſrael went out againſt the Philiſtims to battell, and pitched beſide ‖ Eben-ezer: and the Philiſtims pitched in Aphek.

† From the departure of the Iſraelites out of Egypt, unto the time of Samuel, are about 397. yeere.
‖ Or, ſtone of helpe, chap. 7. 12.

2 And the Philiſtims put themſelves in aray againſt Iſrael: and when they ioyned the battell, Iſrael was ſmitten downe before the Philiſtims: who ſlewe of the armie in the fielde about foure thouſand men.

3 So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Iſrael ſaid, [a] Wherefore hath the Lord ſmitten us this day before the Philiſtims? let us bring the Arke of the covenant of the Lord out of Shiloh unto us, that when it commeth among us, it may ſave us out of the hand of our enemies.

a For it may ſeeme that this warre was undertaken by Samuels commandement.

4 Then the people ſent to Shiloh, and brought from thence the Arke of the covenant of the Lord of hoſtes, who [b] dwelleth betweene the Cherubims: and there were ŷ two ſonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, with the Arke of the covenant of God.

b For he uſed to appeare to the Iſraelites betweene the Cherubims over the Arke of the covenant. Exod. 25. verſ. 17.

5 And when the Arke of the covenant of the Lord came into the hoſte, all Iſrael ſhouted a mighty ſhoute, ſo that the earth rang againe.

6 And when the Philiſtims heard the noiſe of the ſhoute, they ſaid, What meaneth the ſound of this mighty ſhout in the hoſt of the Ebrewes? and they underſtood, that the Arke of the Lord was come into the hoſte.

7 And the Philiſtims were afraid, and ſayd, God is come in the hoſte: therefore ſayd they, [c] Woe unto us: for it hath not beene ſo heretofore.

c Before wee fought againſt men, and now God is come to fight againſt us.

8 Wo unto us, who ſhall deliver us out of the hand of theſe mightie Gods? theſe are the Gods that ſmote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the [d] wilderneſſe.

d For in the red ſea in the wildernes the Egyptians were deſtroyed, which was the laſt of all his plagues. * Ioſ 13. 1.

9 Be ſtrong and play the men, O Philiſtims, that ye be not ſervants unto the Ebrewes, *as they have ſerved you: be valiant therefore, and fight.

10 And the Philiſtims fought, and Iſrael was ſmitten downe, and fled every man into his tent: and there was an exceeding great ſlaughter, for there fell of Iſrael [e] thirty thouſand footmen.

e David alluding to his place, Pſal. 78. 63. ſaith they were conſumed with fire: meaning they were ſuddenly deſtroyed.

11 And the Arke of God was taken, and the two ſonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas died.

12 And there ranne a man of Beniamin out of the army, and came to Shiloh the ſame day with his clothes [f] rent, and earth upon his head.

f In token of ſorowe and mourning.

13 And when he came, loe, Eli ſate upon a ſeat seat by the way side, waiting: for his heart g feared for the Arke of God: and when the man came into the citie to tell it, all the citie cried out.

g Least it should be taken of ỹ enemies.

14 And when Eli heard the noise of the crying, he sayd, What meaneth this noise of the tumult? and the man came in hastily, and told Eli.

15 (Now Eli was fourescore and eighteene yeere old, and * his eyes were dim that hee could not see.)

* Chap. 3. 2.

16 And the man said unto Eli, I came from the armie, and I fled this day out of the hoste: and he said, What thing is done, my sonne?

17 Then the messenger answered, and said, Israel is fled before the Philistims, and there hath been also a great slaughter among the people: and moreover thy two sonnes, Hophni and Phinehas h are dead, and the Arke of God is taken.

h According as God had afore sayd.

18 ¶ And when he had made mention of the Arke of God, Eli fell from his seate backward by the side of the gate, and his necke was broken, and he died: for hee was an old man and heauie: and he had ‖ iudged Israel fourtie yeeres.

‖ Or, gouerned.

19 And his daughter in law, Phinehas wife, was with child, neere ‖ her trauaile: and when she heard the report that the Arke of God was taken, and that her father in law and her husband were dead, she*i bowed her selfe, and trauailed: for her paines came upon her.

‖ Or, to crie out.

i And setled her body toward her trauaile.

20 And about the time of her death, the women that stood about her, sayd unto her. Feare not: for thou hast borne a sonne: but she answered not, nor regarded it.

21 And she named the childe ‖ Ichabod, saying, The glory is departed from Israel, because the Arke of God was taken, and because of her father in law and her husband.

‖ Or, No glory, or, where is the glory?

k She uttered her great sorow by repeating her words.

22 Shee sayd againe, k The glory is departed from Israel: for the Arke of God is taken.

CHAP. V.

a The Philistims bring the Arke into the house of Dagon, which idole fell downe before it. 6 The men of Ashdod are plagued, 8 The Arke is caried into Gath, and after to Ekron.

a Which was one of the fiue principall cities of the Philistims.

b Which was their chiefe idole, and as some write from the nauill downeward was like a fish, and upward like a man.

THen the Philistims tooke the Arke of God, and caried it from Eben-ezer unto a Ashdod.

2 Even the Philistims tooke the Arke of God, and brought it into the house of bDagon, and set it by Dagon.

3 And when they of Ashdod rose the next day in the morning, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face on the ground before the Arke of the Lord, and they tooke up Dagon, and set him in his place againe.

4 Also they rose up early in the morning the next day, and behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face on the ground before the Arke of the Lord, and the head of Dagon and the two palmes of his hands were cut off upon the threshold: onely the stumpe of Dagon was left to him.

c Thus in stead of acknowledging the true God by this miracle, they fall to a farther superstition.

* Psal. 78, 66.

5 Therefore the Priests of Dagon, and all that come into Dagons house, c tread not on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod, unto this day.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauie upon them of Ashdod, and destroyed them, and smote them with the * emerods, both Ashdod, and the coasts thereof.

7 And when the men of Ashdod saw this, they sayd, Let not the Arke of the God of Israel abide with us: for his hand is sore upon us and upon Dagon our god.

8 They sent therefore, and gathered all the princes of the Philistims unto them, and sayde, d What shall wee doe with the Arke of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israel bee caried about unto Gath: and they caried the Arke of the God of Israel about.

d Though they had felt Gods power, and were afraid thereof, yet they would farther try him, which thing God turned to their destruction and his glory.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and hee smote the men of the citie both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Ekron: and assoone as he Arke of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cried out, saying, They have brought the Arke of the God of Israel to us to slay us and our people.

11 Therefore they sent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philistims, and sayd, Send e away the Arke of the God of Israel, and let it returne to his owne place, that it slay us not and our people: for there was a destruction and death thorowout all the citie, and the hand of God was very sore there.

e The wicked when they feele the hand of God, grudge and reiect him, where the godly humble themselues, and crie for mercy.

12 And the men that dyed not, were smitten with the emerods: and the cry of the citie went up to heaven.

CHAP. VI.

1 The time that the Arke was with the Philistims, which they sent againe with a gift. 12 It commeth to Beth-shemesh. 17 The Philistims offer golden emerods. 19 The men of Beth-shemesh are stricken for looking into the Arke.

SO the Arke of the Lord was in the contrey of the Philistims a seuen moneths.

a They thought by continuance of time the plague would haue ceased, and so would haue kept the Arke still.

2 And the Philistims called the Priests and the Soothsayers, saying, What shall we doe with the Arke of the Lord? tell us wherewith we shall send it home againe.

3 And they sayd, If you send away the Arke of the God of Israel, send it not away emptie, but giue unto it b a sinne offering: then shall yee bee healed, and it shall bee knowen to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

b The idolaters confesse there is a true God, who punisheth sinne iustly.

4 Then sayd they, What shall be the sinne offering, which wee shall give unto it? And they answered, Five golden emerods, and fiue golden mise, according to the number of the princes of the Philistims: for one plague was on you all, and on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shall make the similitudes of your emerods, and ỹ similitudes of your mise that destroy the land: so yee shall giue glory unto the God of Israel, that hee may take his hand from you, and from your c gods, and from your land.

c This is Gods iudgement upon the idolaters, that knowing the true God, they worship him not a right.

6 Wherefore then should yee harden your hearts, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts, when hee wrought wonderfully among them, * did they not let them goe, and they departed?

* Exod. 12. 31.

7 Now therefore make a new cart, and take two milch kine, on whom there hath come no yoke: and tie the kine to the cart, and bring the calves home from them.

8 Then take the Arke of the Lord, and set it upon the cart, and put the d iewels of gold which ye giue it for a sinne offring in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may goe.

d Meaning, the golden emerods and the golden mise.

e The God of Israel.

f The wicked attribute allmost all things to fortune and chance, where as indeed there is nothing done without Gods prouidence and decree.

9 And take heede, if it goe up by the way of his owne coast to Beth-shemesh, it is e hee that did us this great evill; but if not, we shall know then, that it is not his hand that smote us, but it was a f chance that happened us.

10 And the men did ſo: for they tooke two kine that gave milke, and tied them to the cart, and ſhut the calves at home.

11 So they ſet the Arke of the Lord upon the cart, and the coffer with the miſe of golde, and with the ſimilitudes of their emerods.

12 And the kine went the ſtraight way to Beth-ſhemeſh, and kept one path, and lowed as they went, and turned neither to ſ right hand nor to the left: alſo the princes of the Philiſtims went after g them unto the borders of Beth-ſhemeſh.

g For the triall of the matter.

13 Now they of Beth-ſhemeſh were reaping their wheat harveſt in the valey, and they lift up their eyes, and ſpied the Arke, and reioyced when they ſaw it.

14 ¶ And the cart came into the field of Ioſhua a Beth-ſhemite, and ſtood ſtill there. There was alſo a great ſtone, and h they clave the wood of the cart, and offered the kine for a burnt offering unto the Lord.

h To wit, the men of Beth-ſhemeſh, which were Iſraelites.

15 And the Levites tooke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, and put them on the great ſtone, and the men of Beth-ſhemeſh offered burnt offering, and ſacrificed ſacrifices that ſame day unto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philiſtims had ſeene it, they returned to Ekron the ſame day.

17 ¶ So theſe are the golden emerods, which the i Philiſtims gave for a ſinne offring to the Lord: for i Aſhdod one, for Gaza one, for Askelon one, for Gath one, and for Ekron one.

i Theſe were the five principall cities of the Philiſtims, which were not all conquered unto the time of David.

18 And golden miſe, according to the number of all the cities of the Philiſtims, belonging to the five princes, both of walled townes, and of townes unwalled unto the great ſtone of ‖ Abel, whereon they ſet the Arke of the Lord: which ſtone remaineth unto this day in the field of Ioſhua the Beth-ſhemite.

‖ Or, the plaine, or lamentation.

19 And he ſmote of the men of Beth-ſhemeſh becauſe they k had looked in the Arke of the Lord: he ſlew even among the people fiftie thouſand men and threeſcore and ten men: and the people lamented, becauſe the Lord had ſlaine the people with ſo great a ſlaughter.

k For it was not lawfull to any either to touch or to ſee it, ſave onely to Aaron and his ſonnes, Num. 4. 15,20.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-ſhemeſh ſayd, Who is able to ſtand before this holy Lord God? and to whom ſhall he goe from us?

21 And they ſent meſſengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-iearim, ſaying, The Philiſtims have brought againe the Arke of the Lord: come ye downe, and take it up to you.

CHAP. VII.

a The Arke is brought to Kiriath-iearim. 3 Samuel exhorteth the people to forſake their ſinnes, and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philiſtims fight againſt Iſrael, and are overcome. 16 Samuel iudgeth Iſrael.

THen the men of a Kiriath-iearim came, and tooke up the Arke of the Lord, and brought it into the houſe of Abinadab in the hill: and they ſanctified Eleazar his ſonne, to keepe the Arke of the Lord.

a A citie in the tribe of Iudah, called alſo Kiriath-baal, Ioſh. 15,60.

2 (For while the Arke abode in Kiriath-iearim, the time was long, for it was twentie yeeres) and all the houſe of Iſrael lamented b after the Lord.

b Lamented for their ſinnes, and followed the Lord.

3 ¶ Then Samuel ſpake unto all the houſe of Iſrael, ſaying, If ye be come againe unto the Lord with all your heart, * put away the ſtrange gods from among you, and * Aſhtaroth, and direct your hearts unto the Lord, and ſerve him * onely, and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of the Philiſtims.

* Ioſh.24.15.23.
* Iudg.2.13.
* Deut.6.4.matt. 4.10.

4 Then the children of Iſrael did put away * Baalim and Aſhtaroth, and ſerved the Lord onely.

* Iudg 2.12,13.

5 And Samuel ſaid, Gather all Iſrael to c Mizpeh, and I will pray for you unto the Lord.

c For Shiloh was now defolate, becauſe the Philiſtims had taken thence the Arke.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpeh, and d drew water, and powred it out before the Lord, and faſted the ſame day, and ſaid there, We have ſinned againſt the Lord. And Samuel iudged the children of Iſrael in Mizpeh.

d The Chalde text hath, that they drew water out of their heart: that is, wept abundantly for their ſinnes.

7 When the Philiſtims heard that the children of Iſrael were gathered together to Mizpeh, the Princes of the Philiſtims went up againſt Iſrael: and when the children of Iſrael heard that, they were afraid of the Philiſtims.

8 And the children of Iſrael ſaid to Samuel, Ceaſe not to e crie unto the Lord our God for us, that hee may ſave us out of the hand of the Philiſtims.

e Signifying, that in the prayers of the godly, there ought to be a vehement zeale.

9 Then Samuel tooke a ſucking lambe, and offered it all together for a burnt offering unto the Lord, and Samuel cried unto the Lord for Iſrael, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuel offered the burnt offering, the Philiſtims came to fight againſt Iſrael: but the Lord f thundered with a great thunder that day upon the Philiſtims, and ſcattered them: ſo they were ſlaine before Iſrael.

f According to the prophecie of Hannah Samuels mother, Chap. 2,10.

11 And the men of Iſrael went from Mizpeh, and purſued the Philiſtims, and ſmote them untill they came under Beth-car.

12 Then Samuel tooke a ſtone, and pitched it betweene Mizpeh and g Shen, and called the name thereof Eben-ezer, and he ſaid, Hitherto hath the Lord holpen us.

g Which was a great rocke over againſt Mizpeh.

13 ¶ So the Philiſtims were brought under, and they came no more againe into the coaſts of Iſrael: and the hand of the Lord was againſt the Philiſtims all the dayes of Samuel.

14 Alſo the cities which the Philiſtims had taken from Iſrael, were reſtored to Iſrael, from Ekron even to Gath: and Iſrael delivered the coaſts of the ſame out of the hands of the Philiſtims: and there was a peace betweene Iſrael and the h Amorites.

h Meaning, the Philiſtims.

15 And Samuel iudged Iſrael all the dayes of his life.

16 And went about yeere by yeere to Beth-el, and Gilgall, and Mizpeh, and iudged Iſrael in all thoſe places.

17 Afterward he returned to Ramah: for there was his houſe, and there he iudged Iſrael: alſo he built an i altar there unto the Lord.

i Which was not contrary to the Law: for as yet a certaine place was not appointed.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Samuel maketh his ſonnes Iudges over Iſrael, who follow not his ſteppes. 5 The Iſraelites aske a King. 11 Samuel declareth in what ſtate they ſhould be under the King. 19 Notwithſtanding, they aske one ſtill, and the Lord willeth Samuel to graunt unto them.

WHen Samuel was now become olde, hee a made his ſonnes Iudges over Iſrael, a Becauſe he was not able to beare the charge.

2 (And the name of his eldeſt ſonne was b Ioel, and the name of the ſecond Abiah) even Iudges in Beer-ſheba.

b Who was alſo called Vaſhni. 1.Chron.6.28.

3 And his ſonnes walked not in his wayes, but turned aſide after lucre, and * tooke rewards, and perverted the iudgement.

* Deut.16.19.

4 ¶ Wherefore all the Elders of Iſrael gathered them together, and came to Samuel unto c Ramah.

c For there his houſe was, Chap. 7.17.

5 And ſaid unto him, Behold, thou art olde, and and thy ſonnes walke not in thy wayes: * make us now a King to iudge us like all nations.

6 But the thing [d] diſpleaſe Samuel, when they ſayd, Give us a king to iudge us: and Samuel prayed unto the Lord.

7 And the Lord ſaid unto Samuel, Heare the voyce of the people in all that they ſhall ſay unto thee: for they have not caſt thee away, but they have caſt me away, that I ſhould not reigne over them.

8 As they have ever done ſince I brought them out of Egypt even unto this day, (and have forſaken me, and ſerved other gods) even ſo doe they unto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken unto their voyce: howbeit, yet [e] teſtifie unto them, and ſhew them the maner of the king that ſhall reigne over them.

10 ¶ So Samuel told all the words of the Lord unto the people that asked a king of him.

11 And hee ſaid, This ſhall bee the [f] maner of the king that ſhall reigne over you: he will take your ſonnes, and appoint them to his charets, and to be his horſemen, and ſome ſhall runne before his charet.

12 Alſo he will make them his captaines over thouſands, and captaines over fifties, and to eare his ground, and to reape his harveſt, and to make inſtruments of warre, and the things that ſerve for his charets.

13 He will alſo take your daughters and make them Apothecaries, and Cookes, and Bakers.

14 And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your beſt Olive trees, and give them to his ſervants.

15 And hee will take the tenth of your ſeede, and of your vineyards, and give it to his ‖ Eunuches, and to his ſervants.

16 And hee will take your men-ſervants, and your maid-ſervants, and the chiefe of your yong men, and your aſſes, and put them to his worke.

17 He will take the tenth of your ſheepe, and ye ſhall be his ſervants.

18 And ye ſhall cry out at that day, becauſe of your king, whom ye have choſen you, and the Lord will not [g] heare you at that day.

19 But the people would not heare the voyce of Samuel, but did ſay, Nay, but there ſhall bee a king over us.

20 And we alſo will bee like all other nations, and our king ſhall iudge us, and goe out before us and fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuel heard all the words of the people, he rehearſed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord ſaid to Samuel, ‖ Hearken unto their voyce, and make them a king. And Samuel ſaid unto the men of Iſrael, Goe every man unto his citie.

CHAP. IX.

Saul ſeeking his fathers aſſes, by the counſell of his ſervant goeth to Samuel. 9 The Prophets called Seers. 15 The Lord revealeth to Samuel Sauls comming, commanding him to anoint him king. 22 Samuel bringeth Saul to the feaſt.

THere was now a man of Beniamin, [a] mighty in power, named * Kiſh, the ſonne of Abiel, the ſonne of Zeror, the ſonne of Bechorath, the ſonne of Aphiah, the ſonne of a man of Iemini.

2 And he had a ſonne called Saul, [b] a goodly yong man and a faire: ſo that among the children of Iſrael there was none goodlier then hee: from the ſhoulders upward, he was higher then any of the people.

3 And the aſſes of Kiſh, Sauls father, were loſt: therefore Kiſh ſaid to Saul his ſonne, Take now one of the ſervants with thee, and ariſe, goe and [c] ſeeke the aſſes.

4 So he paſſed through mount Ephraim, and went thorow the lande of Shaliſhah, but they found them not. Then they went thorow the land of Shalim, and there they were not: hee went alſo thorow ✠ land of Iemini, but they found them not.

5 When they came to the land of [d] Zuph, Saul ſaid unto his ſervant that was with him, Come and let us returne, leſt my father leave the care of aſſes, and take thought for us.

6 And he ſaid unto him, Behold now, in this city is a man of God, and he is an honorable man: all that he ſaid commeth to paſſe: let us now goe thither, if ſo be that he can ſhew us what way we may goe.

7 Then ſaide Saul to his ſervant, Well then, let us goe: but what ſhall we bring unto the man? For the ‖ bread is ſpent in our veſſels, and there is no preſent to bring to the man of God: what have wee?

8 And the ſervant anſwered Saul againe, and ſaid, Behold, I have found about mee the fourth part of a [e] ſhekell of ſilver; that will I give the man of God, to tell us our way.

9 (Beforetime in Iſrael when a man went to ſeeke an anſwere of God, thus he ſpake, Come, and let us goe to the [f] Seer: for he that is called now a Prophet, was in the old time called a Seer)

10 Then ſaid Saul to his ſervant, Well ſayde, come, let us go, ſo they went into the citie where the man of God was.

11 ¶ And as they were going up the hie way to the citie, they found maids that came out to draw water, and ſaide unto them, Is there here a Seer?

12 And they anſwered them, and ſaide, Yea: loe, he is before you, make haſte now, for hee came this day to the citie, for there is an [g] offering of the people this day in the hige place.

13 When ye ſhall come into the citie, ye ſhall find him ſtraight way yet he come vp to the high place to eate, for the people will not eate vntill he come, becauſe hee will [h] bleſſe the ſacrifice, and then eate they that bee bidden to the feaſt: now therefore goe vp, for even now ſhall ye find him.

14 Then they went vp into the citie, and when they were come into the middes of the citie, Samuel came out againſt them, to goe up to the hie place.

15 ¶ * But the Lord had revealed to Samuel † ſecretly (a day before Saul came) ſaying, 16 To morow about this time I will ſend thee a man out of the land of Beniamin, him ſhalt thou anoint to bee governour over my people Iſrael, that he may [i] ſave my people out of the hand of the Philiſtims; for I have looked upon my people, and their cry is come unto me.

17 When Samuel therefore ſaw Saul, the Lord anſwered him, See, this is the man whom I ſpake to thee of, he ſhall rule my people.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the middes of the gate, and ſaid, Tell me, I pray thee, where the Seers houſe is.

19 And Samuel anſwered Saul, and ſaid, I am the Seer; goe vp before me unto the high place; for ye ſhall eate with me to day, and to morow I will let thee goe, and will tell thee all that is in hine [k] heart.

22 And Samuel tooke Saul and his ſervant, and brought them into the [m] chamber, and made them ſit in the chiefeſt place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie perſons.

23 And Samuel ſaide unto the cooke, Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, and whereof I ſaid unto thee, Keepe it with thee.

CHAP. X.

1 Saul is anoynted King by Samuel. 9 God changeth Sauls heart, and he prophecieth. 17 Samuel aſſembleth the people and ſheweth them their ſinnes. 21 Saul is choſen King by lot. 25 Samuel writeth the Kings office.

THen Samuel tooke a viole of [a] oyle, and powred it upon his head, and kiſſed him, and ſaid, Hath not the Lord anointed thee to be governor over his inheritance?

2 When thou ſhalt depart from me this day, thou ſhalt find two men by * Rahels ſepulchre in the border of Beniamin, even at Zelzah, and they will ſay unto thee, The [b] aſſes which thou wenteſt to ſeeke, are found, and loe, thy father hath left the care of the aſſes, and ſoroweth for you, ſaying, What ſhall I doe for my ſonne?

3 Then ſhalt thou go forth from thence, and ſhalt come to the ‖ plaine of Tabor, and there ſhall meet thee three men going up to God to Beth-el, one carying three kiddes, and another carying three loaues of bread, and another carying a bottell of wine:

4 And they will aske thee † if all be well, and will give thee the two loaues of bread, which thou ſhalt receiue of their hands.

5 After that ſhalt thou come to the [c] hill of God, where is the gariſons of the Philiſtims: and when thou art come thither to the citie, thou ſhalt meete a companie of Prophets comming downe from the hie place with a viole, and a tymbrell, and a pipe, and an harpe before them, and they ſhall propheſie.

6 Then the ſpirit of the Lord will come upon thee, and thou ſhalt prophecie with them, and ſhalt be turned into another man.

7 Therefore when theſe ſignes ſhall come unto thee, doe as occaſion ſhall ſerve: for God is with thee.

8 And thou ſhalt goe downe before mee to Gilgal: and I alſo will come downe unto thee to offer burnt offerings, and to ſacrifice ſacrifices of peace. * Tarie for me ſeven dayes, till I come to thee, and ſhew thee what thou ſhalt doe.

9 And when he had turned his † backe to go from Samuel, God gaue him another [d] heart; and all thoſe tokens came to paſſe that ſame day.

10 ¶ And when they came thither to the hill, behold, the company of Prophets met him, and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he ‖ prophecied among them.

11 Therefore all the people that knew him before, when they ſaw that hee prophecied among the Prophets, ſayd ech to other, What is come unto the ſonne of Kiſh? * is Saul alſo among the Prophets?

12 And one of the ſame place anſwered, and ſayd, But who is their [e] father? Therefore it was a proverbe, Is Saul alſo among the [f] Prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophecying, he came to the high place.

14 And Sauls uncle ſayd unto him, and to his ſervant, Whither went ye? And he ſaid, To ſeeke the aſſes: and when wee ſaw that they were no where, we came to Samuel.

15 And Sauls uncle ſaid, Tell me, I pray thee, what Samuel ſaid unto you.

16 Then Saul ſaid unto his uncle, He tolde us plainly that the aſſes were found: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuel ſpake, tolde he him not.

17 ¶ And Samuel [g] aſſembled the people unto the Lord in Mizpeh.

18 And hee ſayd unto the children of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, I have brought Iſrael out of Egypt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 But ye have this day caſt away your God, who onely delivereth you out of all your adverſities and tribulations: and ye ſaid unto him, No, but appoint a king over us. Now therefore ſtand ye before the Lord according to your tribes, and according to your thouſands.

20 And when Samuel had gathered together all the tribes of Iſrael, the tribe of Beniamin was [h] taken.

21 Afterward hee aſſembled the tribe of Beniamin, according to their families, and the familie of Matri was taken. So Saul the ſonne of Kiſh was taken, and when they ſought him, he could not be found.

22 Therefore they asked the Lord againe, if that man ſhould yet come thither. And the Lord anſwered, Beholde, he [i] hath hid himſelfe among the ſtuffe.

23 And they ranne, and brought him thence: and when he ſtood among the people, hee was higher then any of the people from the ſhoulders upward.

24 And Samuel ſayd to all the people, See yee not him, whom the Lord hath choſen, that there is none like him among all the people? and all the people ſhowted and ſaid, † God ſave the King.

1 Nahash the Ammonite warreth against Iabesh Gilead, who asketh helpe of the Israelites. 6 Saul promiseth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are slaine. 14 The kingdome is renewed.

THen Nahash the Ammonite [a] came up, and besieged Iabesh Gilead: and all the men of Iabesh said unto Nahash, Make a covenant with us, and we will be thy servants.

[a] After that Saul was chosen king: for feare of whom they asked a king, as Chap. 12,12.

2 And Nahash the Ammonite answered them, On this condition I will make a covenant with you, that I may thrust out all your [b] right eyes, and bring that shame upon all Israel.

[b] This declareth that the more neere the tyrants are to their destruction, the more cruell they are.

3 To whom the Elders of Iabesh said, Give us seven dayes respit, that wee may send messengers unto all the coastes of Israel, and then if no man deliver us, we will come out to thee.

4 ¶ Then came the messengers to Gibeah of Saul, and tolde these tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people lift up their voyces and wept.

5 And behold, Saul came following the cattell out of the field, and Saul said, What aileth this people that they weepe? And they told him the tidings of the men of Iabesh.

[c] God gave him the spirit of strength and courage to goe against this tyrant.

6 Then the Spirit of God [c] came upon Saul, when hee heard those tidings, and hee was exceeding angry,

7 And tooke a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them thorowout all the coasts of Israel by the hands of messengers, saying, Whosoever commeth not foorth after Saul, and after [d] Samuel, so shall his oxen be served. 9 Then [e] they said unto the messengers that came, So say unto the men of Iabesh Gilead, To morow by then the Sunne be hote, yee shall have helpe. And the messengers came and shewed it to the men of Iabesh, which were glad.

[f] That is, to the Ammonites. dissembling that they had hope of ayde.

10 Therefore the men of Iabesh said, To morow we will come out unto [f] you, and ye shall doe with us all that pleaseth you.

11 ¶ And when the morow was come, Saul put the people in three bands, and they came in upon the hoste in the morning watch, and slewe the Ammonites untill the heate of the day: and they that remained, were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

[g] By this victory the Lord wonne the hearts of the people to Saul. [h] By shewing mercy he thought to overcome their malice.

12 Then the people said unto Samuel, [g] Who is he that said, Shall Saul reigne over us? bring those men that we may slay them.

13 But Saul sayd, There shall no man [h] die this day: for to day the Lord hath saved Israel.

14 ¶ Then said Samuel unto the people, Come, that we may goe to Gilgal, and renew the kingdome there.

[i] In signe of thanksgiving for the victory.

15 So all the people went to Gilgal, and made Saul King there before the Lord in Gilgal: and there they offred [i] peace offrings before the Lord: and there Saul and all the men of Israel reioyced exceedingly.

CHAP. XII.

1 Samuel declaring to the people his integritie, reproveth their ingratitude. 19 Godly miracle causeth the people to confesse their sinne. 20 Samuel exhorteth the people to follow the Lord.

SAmuel then said unto all Israel, Behold, I haue [a] hearkened unto your voyce in all that yee sayd unto mee, and have appointed a King over you.

[a] I have granted your petition.

2 Now therefore behold, your King walketh [b] before you, and I am olde and gray headed, and behold, my sonnes are with you: and I have walked before you from my childehood unto this day.

[b] To governe you in peace and warre.

3 Behold, here I am: * beare record of me before the Lord, and before his anoynted. [c] Whose oxe have I taken? or whose asse have I taken? or whom have I done wrong to? or whom have I hurt? or of whose hand have I received any bribe, to blinde mine eyes therewith, and I will restore it you?

* Ecclus. 46.19.

[c] God would that this confession should bee a patterne for all them that have any charge or office.

4 Then they sayd, Thou hast done us no wrong, nor hast hurt us, neither hast thou taken ought of any mans hand.

5 And he said unto them, The Lord is witnesse against you, and his [d] Anoynted is witnesse this day, that ye have found nought in mine handes. And they answered, He is witnesse.

[d] Your King, who is anoynted by the commandement of the Lord.

6 Then Samuel said unto the people, It is the Lord that ‖ made Moses and Aaron, and that brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt.

‖ Or, exalted.

7 Now therefore stand still, that I may reason with you before the Lord according to all the ‖ righteousnesse of the Lord, which he shewed to you and to your fathers.

‖ Or, benefites.

8 * After that Iaakob was come into Egypt, and your fathers cryed unto the Lord, then the Lord * sent Moses and Aaron which brought your fathers out of Egypt, and made them dwell in this place.

* Gene. 46, 5, 6.

* Exod. 4.16.

9 * And when they forgat the Lord their God, he sold them into the hand of Sisera [e] captaine of the hoste of Hazor, and into the hand of the Philistims, and into the hand of the king of Moab, and they fought against them.

* Iudg. 4.2.

[e] Captaine of Iabins hoste King of Hazor.

10 And they cried unto the Lord, and said, We have sinned, because wee haue forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth. Now therefore deliver us out of the hands of our enemies, and we will serve thee.

11 Therefore the Lord sent Ierubbaal [f] and Bedan and * Iphtah, and * Samuel, and delivered you out of the hands of your enemies on every side, and ye dwelled safe.

[g] Leaning God to seeke the helpe of man, Chap. 8.5.

13 Now therefore behold the King whom ye have chosen, and whom ye have desired: loe therefore, the Lord hath set a King over you.

14 If ye will feare the Lord and serve him, and heare his voyce, and not disobey the word of the Lord, both yee, and the king that reigneth over you, shall [h] follow the Lord your God.

[h] Yee shall be preserved as they that follow the Lords will.

15 But if ye will not obey the voice of the Lord, but disobey the Lords mouth, then shall the hand of the Lord be upon you, and on your [i] fathers.

[i] Meaning, the governours.

16 Now

16 Now also ſtand and ſee this great thing which the Lord will doe before your eyes.

17 Is not now wheat harveſt? I will call unto the Lord, and he ſhall ſend thunder and raine, that ye may perceive and ſee, how that your wickedneſs is k great, which ye have done in the ſight of the Lord in asking you a king.

k In that ye have forſaken him, who hath all power in his hand, for a mortall man.

18 Then Samuel called unto the Lord, and the Lord ſent thunder and raine the ſame day: and all the people feared the Lord and Samuel exceedingly.

19 And all the people ſayd unto Samuel, Pray for thy ſervants unto the Lord thy God, that wee die not: for wee have ſinned in asking us a King, beſide l all our other ſinnes.

l Not onely at other times, but now chiefly.

20 ¶ And Samuel ſaid unto the people, Feare not, (ye have indeede done all this wickedneſſe, m yet depart not from following the Lord, but ſerve the Lord with all your heart, m He ſheweth that there is no ſinne ſo great, but it ſhalbe forgiven, if the ſinner turne againe to God.

21 Neither turne ye backe: for that ſhould bee after vaine things which cannot profit you, nor deliver you, for they are but vanitie.)

22 For the Lord will not forſake his people for his great Names ſake: becauſe it hath pleaſed the Lord to make you n his people.

n Of his free mercy, and not of your merits, and therefore he will not forſake you.

23 Moreover God forbid, that I ſhould ſinne againſt the Lord, and ceaſe praying for you, but I will ſhew you the good and right way.

24 Therefore feare you the Lord, and ſerve him in the trueth with all your o hearts, and conſider how great things he hath done for you.

o Vnfainedly, and without hypocriſie.

25 But if ye doe wickedly, ye ſhall periſh, both ye and your King.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The Philiſtims are ſmitten of Saul and Ionathan. 13 Saul being diſobedient to Gods commandement, is ſhewed of Samuel that he ſhall not reigne. 19 The great ſlavery, wherein the Philiſtims kept the Iſraelites.

SAul now had beene King a one yeere, and hee reigned b two yeeres over Iſrael.

a Whiles theſe things were done.
b Before he tooke upon him the ſtate of a King.

2 Then Saul choſe him three thouſand of Iſrael: and two thouſand were with Saul in Michmaſh, and in mount Beth-el, and a thouſannd were with Ionathan in Gibeah of Beniamin: and the reſt of the people he ſent every one to his tent.

3 And Ionathan ſmote the garriſon of the Philiſtims, that was in the c hill: and it came to the Philiſtims eares: and Saul blew the d trumpet throughout all the land, ſaying, Heare, O yee Ebrewes.

c Of Kiriath-iearim, were the Arke was, Chap. 10. 5.
d That every one ſhould prepare themſelves to warre.

4 And all Iſrael heard ſay, Saul hath deſtroyed a garriſon of the Philiſtims: wherefore Iſrael was had in abomination with the Philiſtims: and the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 ¶ The Philiſtims alſo gathered themſelves together to fight with Iſrael, thirty thouſand charets, and ſixe thouſand horſemen: for the people vvas like the ſand which is by the ſeas ſide in multitude, and came up, and pitched in Michmaſh Eaſtward from e Beth-aven.

e Which was alſo called Beth el, in the tribe of Beniamin.

6 And when the men of Iſrael ſaw that they were in a ſtrait (for the people vvere in diſtreſſe) the people hid themſelves in caves, and in holes, and in rocks, and in towers, and in pits.

7 And ſome of the Ebrewes went over Iorden unto the land of f Gad and Gilead: and Saul was yet in Gilgal, and all the people for feare followed him.

f Where the two tribes and the halfe remained.

8 And he taried ſeven dayes, according unto the time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal, therefore the people were g ſcattered from him.

g Thinking that the abſence of the Prophet was a ſigne, that they ſhould loſe the victory.

9 And Saul ſayd, Bring a burnt offering to me and peace offrings: and he offered a burnt offering.

10 And aſſoone as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, beholde, Samuel came: and Saul went foorth to meete him, to † ſalute him.

† Ebr. bleſſe him.

11 And Samuel ſaid, What haſt thou done? Then Saul ſaid, Becauſe I ſaw that the people was h ſcattered from mee, and that thou cameſt not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philiſtims gathered themſelves together to Michmaſh, h Though theſe cauſes ſeeme ſufficient in mans iudgement: yet becauſe they had not the word of God, they turned to his deſtruction.

12 Therefore ſaid I, the Philiſtims will come downe now upon mee to Gilgal, and I have not made ſupplication unto the Lord. I was bolde therefore and offered a burnt offering.

13 And Samuel ſaid to Saul, Thou haſt done fooliſhly: thou haſt not kept the commandement of the Lord thy i God, which hee commanded thee: for the Lord had now eſtabliſhed thy kingdome upon Iſrael for ever.

i Who willed thee to obey him and reſt upon the words ſpoken by his Prophet.

14 But now thy kingdome ſhall not continue: the Lord hath ſought him a k man after his owne heart, and the Lord hath commaunded him to be governour over his people, becauſe thou haſt not kept that which the Lord had commaunded thee.

k That is, David.

15 ¶ And Samuel aroſe, and gate him up from Gilgal unto l Gibeach of Beniamin: and Saul numbred the people that were found with him, about ſixe hundreth men.

l And went to his city Ramah.

16 And Saul and Ionathan his ſonne, and the people that were found with them, had their abiding in Gibeah of Beniamin, but the Philiſtims pitched in Michmaſh.

17 And there came out of the hoaſte of the Philiſtims ‖ three bands to deſtroy, one band turned unto the way of Ophrah unto the land of Shual,

‖ Or, the deſtroyers: to wit, the captains came out with three bands.

18 And another band turned toward the way to Beth-horon, and the m third band turned toward the way of the coaſt that loketh toward the valley of Zeboim, toward the wildemeſſe.

m So that to mans iudgemen all theſe three armies would have overrunne the whole country.

19 Then there was no ſmith found throwout all the land of Iſrael: for the Philiſtims ſaid: Leſt the Ebrewes make them ſwords or ſpeares.

20 Wherefore, all the Iſraelites went downe to the Philiſtims, to ſharpen every man his ſhare, his mattocke, and his axe, and his weeding hooke.

21 Yet they had a file for the ſhares, and for the mattocks, and for the picke-forks, and for the axes, and for to ſharpen the goads.

22 So when the day of battell was come, there was neither n ſword nor ſpeare found in the hands of any of the people that were with Saul and with Ionathan: but onely with Saul and Ionathan his ſonne was there found.

n To declare that the victory onely came of God, and not by their force.

23 And the garriſon of the Philiſtims came out to the paſſage of Michmaſh.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Ionathan and his armour bearer put the Philiſtims to flight. 24 Saul bindeth the people by an oath, not to eate till evening. 32 The people eate with the blood. 38 Saul would put Ionathan to death. 45 The people deliver him.

THen on a day Ionathan the ſonne of Saul ſaid unto the young man that bare his armour, a Come and let us goe over toward the Philiſtims garriſon, that is yonder on the other ſide, but hee told not his father.

a By this example God would declare to Iſrael that the victory did not conſiſt in multitude or armour, but onely came of his grace.

2 And

2 And Saul taried in the border of Gibeah vnder a pomegranate tree, which was in Migron, and the people that were with him, vvere about fixe hundred men.

* Chap.4.21.

3 And Ahiah the ſonne of Ahitub, * Ichabods brother, the ſonne of Phinehas, the ſonne of Eli, vvas the Lords prieſt in Shiloh, and ware an Ephod: and the people knew not that Ionathan was gone.

4 ¶ Now in the way whereby Ionathan ſought to go over to the Philiſtims gariſon, there was a ‖ ſharpe rocke on the one ſide, and a ſharpe rocke on the other ſide: the name of the one vvas called Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

‖ Or, like a tooth.

5 The one rocke ſtretched from the North toward Michmas, and the other vvas from the South toward Gibeah.

6 And Ionathan ſayd to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us goe over vnto the gariſon of theſe b vncircumciſed: it may bee that the Lord will worke with us: for it is ‖ not hard to the Lord * to ſave with many, or with few.

b To wit, the Philiſtims.

‖ Or, none can let the Lord.

* 2 Chron. 14.11.

7 And he that bare his armour, ſaid unto him, Doe all that is in thine heart: goe where it pleaſeth thee: behold, c I am with thee as thine heart deſireth.

c I will follow thee whithersoever thou goeſt.

8 Then ſaid Ionathan, Behold, we goe over unto thoſe men, and will ſhew our ſelves unto them.

9 d If they ſay on this wiſe to us, Tarie vntill we come to you, then wee will ſtand ſtill in our place, and not goe up to them.

d This he ſpake by the ſpirit of prophecie, forasmuch hereby God gave him aſſurance of the victory.

10 But if they ſay, Come up unto us, then we will go up: for * the Lord hath delivered them into our hand: and this ſhallbe a ſigne unto us.

* 1 Mac.4.30.

11 So they both ſhewed themſelves unto the gariſon of the Philiſtims: and the Philiſtims ſaid, See, the Ebrewes come out of the e holes where in they had hid themſelves.

e Thus they ſpake contemptuouſly and by deriſion.

12 And the men of the gariſon anſwered Ionathan and his armour bearer, and ſaid, Come up to us for we will ſhew you a thing. Then Ionathan ſaid unto his armour bearer, Come up after mee: for the Lord hath delivered them into the hand of Iſrael.

13 So Ionathan went up upon f his hands and upon his feete, and his armour bearer after him: and ſome fell before Ionathan, and his armour bearer ſlew others after him.

f That is, he crept up, or went up with all haſte.

14 And the g firſt ſlaughter which Ionathan and his armour bearer made, was about twenty men, as it were within halfe an acre of land which two oxen plovv.

g The ſecond was when they ſlewe one another, and the third when the Iſraelites chaſed them.

15 And there was a feare in the hoaſt, and in the field, and among all the people: the gariſon alſo, and they that went out to ſpoile, were afraid themſelves: and the earth h trembled: for it was ſtricken with feare by God.

h In that the inſenſible creatures tremble for feare of Gods iudgement, it declareth how terrible his vengeance ſhallbe againſt his enemies.

16 ¶ Then the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Beniamin ſaw: and behold, the multitude was diſcomfited, and ſmitten as they went.

17 Therefore ſayd Saul unto the people that were with him, Search now, and ſee, who is gone from us. And when they had numbred, behold, Ionathan and his armour bearer were not there.

18 And Saul ſaid unto Ahiah, Bring hither the Arke of God (for the Arke of God was at that time with the children of Iſrael.)

19 ¶ And while Saul talked unto the Prieſt, the noyſe that was in the hoaſte of the Philiſtims, ſpread farther abroad, and increaſed: therefore Saul ſaid unto the Prieſt, i Withdraw thine hand.

i Let the Ephod alone: for I have no leaſure now to take counſell of God, Num.27.21.

20 And Saul was aſſembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battell: and behold, * every mans ſword was againſt his fellow, and there was a very great diſcomfiture.

* Iudg.7.21,22.

21 Moreover, the Ebrewes that were with the Philiſtims before time, and were come with them into all parts of the hoaſt, even they alſo turned to bee with the k Iſraelites that were with Saul and Ionathan.

k Though before for feare of the Philiſtims they declared themſelves as enemies to their brethren.

22 Alſo all the men of Iſrael which had hid themſelves in mount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philiſtims were fled, they followed after them in the battell.

23 And ſo the Lord ſaved Iſrael that day: and the battell continued unto Beth-aven.

24 And at that time the men of Iſrael were preſſed vvith hunger: for Saul charged the people with an oathe, ſaying, l Curſed be the man that eateth † foode till night, that I may bee avenged of mine enemies: ſo none of the people taſted any ſuſtenance.

l Such was his hypocriſie and arrogancie, that hee thought to attribute to his policie that which God had given by the hand of Ionathan.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where hony lay upon the ground.

† Ebr. bread.

26 And the people came into the wood, and behold, the hony dropped, and no man mooved his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the m oathe.

m That is, the puniſhment, if they breake their oathe.

27 But Ionathan heard not when his father charged the people with the oathe: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hand, and dipt it in an hony combe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his n eyes received ſight.

n Which were dimme before for wearineſſe and hunger.

28 Then anſwered one of the people, and ſaid, Thy father made the people to ſweare, ſaying, Curſed bee the man that eateth ſuſtenance this day: and the people were ‖ faint.

‖ Or, weary.

29 Then ſaid Ionathan, My father hath o troubled the land: ſee now how mine eyes are made cleare, becauſe I have taſted a little of this hony?

o By making this cruell law.

30 How much more, if the people had eaten to day of the ſpoile of their enemies which they found? for had there not beene now a greater ſlaughter among the Philiſtims?

31 ¶ And they ſmote the Philiſtims that day, from Michmas to Aialon: and the people were exceeding faint.

32 So the people turned to the ſpoyle, and tooke ſheepe, and oxen, and calves and ſlew them on the ground, and the people did eat them * with the blood.

* Levit.7.27. and 16.26. deut. 12.16.

33 Then men tolde Saul, ſaying, Behold, the people ſinne againſt the Lord, in that they eate with the blood. And he ſaid, Ye have trespaſſed: P roule a great ſtone unto me this day.

p That the blood of the beaſt that ſhallbe ſlaine, may be preſſed out upon us.

34 Againe Saul ſaid, Goe abroad among the people, & bid them bring me every man his oxe, and every man his ſheepe, and ſlay them here, and eate, and ſin not againſt the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people brought every man his oxe in his hand that night, and ſlew them there.

35 Then Saul made an altar unto the Lord, and that ‖ was the firſt altar that hee made unto the Lord.

‖ Or, of that ſtone began he to build an altar.

36 ¶ And Saul ſaid, Let us goe downe after the Philiſtims by night, and ſpoile them vntill the morning ſhine, and let us not leave a man of them. And they ſaid, Doe whatſoever thou thinkeſt beſt. Then ſaid the Prieſt, Let us q draw neere q To take counſell of him.

neere hither unto God.

37 So Saul asked of God, saying, Shall I goe downe after the Philiſtims? wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Iſrael? But he anſwered him not at that time.

38 ¶ And Saul ſaid, * All † yee chiefe of the people, come ye hither, and know, and ſee by whome this ſinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liveth, which ſaveth Iſrael, though it be done by Ionathan my ſonne, he ſhall die the death. But none of all the people anſwered him.

40 Then he ſaid unto all Iſrael, Be ye on one ſide, and I and Ionathan my ſonne will be on the other ſide. And the people ſaid unto Saul, Doe what thou thinkeſt beſt.

41 Then Saul ſaid unto the Lord God of Iſrael, Give ‖ a perfect lot. And Ionathan and Saul were taken, but the people eſcaped.

42 And Saul ſayd, Caſt lot betweene mee and Ionathan my ſonne. And Ionathan was taken.

43 Then Saul ſaid to Ionathan, Tell me what thou haſt done. And Ionathan told him, and ſaid, I taſted a little hony with the end of the rod, that was in mine hand, and loe, I muſt die.

44 Againe Saul anſwered, God doe ſo and more alſo, vnleſſe thou die the death, Ionathan.

45 And the people ſaid unto Saul, ‖ Shall Ionathan die, who hath ſo mightily delivered Iſrael? God forbid. As the Lord liveth, there ſhall not one haire of his head fall to the ground: for hee hath wrought with God this day. So the people delivered Ionathan that he died not.

46 Then Saul came up from the Philiſtims, and the Philiſtims went to their owne place.

47 ¶ So Saul held the kingdome over Iſrael, and fought againſt all his enemies on every ſide, againſt Moab, and againſt the children of Ammon, and againſt Edom, and againſt the Kings of Zobah, and againſt the Philiſtims: and whitherſoever he went, he ‖ handled them as wicked men.

48 Hee gathered alſo an hoaſte, and ſmote † Amalek, and delivered Iſrael out of the hands of them that ſpoyled them.

49 Now the ſonnes of Saul were Ionathan, ᵘ and Iſhui, and Malchiſhua: and the names of his two daughters, the elder was called Merab, and the yonger was named ˣ Michal.

50 And the name of Sauls wife was Ahinoam the daughter of Ahimaaz: and the name of his chiefe captaine was ʸ Abner the ſonne of Ner, Sauls vncle.

51 And Kiſh was Sauls father: and Ner the father of Abner was the ſonne of Abiel.

52 And there was ſore warre againſt the Philiſtims all the dayes of Saul: and ᶻ whoſoever Saul ſaw to bee a ſtrong man, and meete for the warre, he tooke him unto him.

CHAP. XV.

3 Saul is commaunded to ſlay Amalek. 9 Hee ſpareth Agag, and the beſt things. 19 Samuel reproveth him. 28 Saul is reiected of the Lord, and his Kingdome given to another. 33 Samuel heweth Agag in pieces.

AFterward Samuel ſaid unto Saul, * The Lord ſent me to anoynt thee King over his people, over Iſrael: now therefore ᵃ obey the voyce of the words of the Lord.

2 Thus ſaid the Lord of hoaſtes, I remember what Amalek did to Iſrael, * how they laid waite for them in the way, as they came up from Egypt.

3 Now therefore goe, and ſmite Amalek, and deſtroy ye all that perteineth unto them, and have no compaſſion on them, but ᵇ ſlay both man and woman, both infant and ſuckling, both oxe, and ſheepe, both camell, and aſſe.

4 ¶ And Saul aſſembled the people, and ‖ numbred them in Telaim, two hundreth thouſand footemen, and ten thouſand men of Iudah.

5 And Saul came to a citie of Amalek, and ‖ ſet watch at the river.

6 And Saul ſaid unto the ᶜ Kenites, Goe, depart, and get you downe from among the Amalekites, leſt I deſtroy you with them: for ye ſhewed mercy to all the children of Iſrael, when they came up from Egypt: and the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

7 So Saul ſmote the Amalekites from Havilah, as thou commeſt to Shur, that is before Egypt,

8 And tooke Agag the King of the Amalekites alive, and deſtroyed all the people with the edge of the ſword.

9 But Saul and the people ſpared Agag, and the better ſheepe, and the oxen, and the fat beaſts, and the lambes, and all that was good, and they would not deſtroy them; but every thing that was vile and nought worth, that they deſtroyed.

10 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Samuel, ſaying, 11 It ᵉ repenteth mee that I have made Saul King: for he is turned from me, and hath not performed my commandements. And Samuel was mooved, and cryed unto the Lord all night.

12 And when Samuel aroſe early to meete Saul in the morning, one told Samuel, ſaying, Saul is gone to Carmel; and behold, he hath made him there a place, from whence hee returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgal.

13 ¶ Then Samuel came to Saul, and Saul ſaid unto him, Bleſſed be thou of the Lord, I have fulfilled the ᶠ commandement of the Lord.

14 But Samuel ſayd, What meaneth then the bleating of the ſheepe in mine eares, and the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

15 And Saul anſwered, They have brought them from the Amalekites: for the people ſpared the beſt of the ſheepe, and of the oxen, to ſacrifice them unto the Lord thy God, and the remnant have we deſtroyed.

16 Againe Samuel ſaid to Saul, Let me tell thee what the Lord hath ſaid to me this night. And he ſaid unto him, Say on.

17 Then Samuel ſaid, When thou waſt ᵍ little in thine owne ſight, waſt thou not made the head of the tribes of Iſrael? for the Lord anointed thee King over Iſrael.

18 And the Lord ſent thee on a iourney, and ſaid, Goe, and deſtroy thoſe ſinners the Amalekites, and fight againſt them, untill thou deſtroy them.

19 Now, wherefore haſt thou not obeyed the voice of the Lord, but haſt turned to the pray, and haſt done wickedly in the ſight of the Lord?

20 And Saul ſaid unto Samuel, Yea, ʰ I have obeyed the voyce of the Lord, and have gone the way which the Lord ſent mee, and have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and have deſtroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people tooke of the ſpoile, ſheepe and oxen, and the chiefeſt of the things which ſhould have beene deſtroyed, to offer unto the Lord

22 And Samuel ſaid, Hath the Lord as great pleaſure in burnt offerings and ſacrifices, as when the voyce of § Lord is obeyed? behold, * to obey is better then ſacrifice, and to hearken is better then the fat of rammes.

† Ecclеſ.4.17. hoſ.6.6.7. matth.9.13. and 12.7.

23 For i rebellion is as the ſinne of witchcraft, and tranſgreſſion is wickedneſſe and idolatry. Becauſe thou haſt caſt away the word of the Lord, therefore hee hath caſt away thee from being king.

i God hate h nothing more then the diſobedience of his Commandement, though the intent ſeeme never ſo good to man.

24 Then Saul ſaid unto Samuel, I have ſinned: for I have tranſgreſſed the Commaundement of the Lord, and thy words, becauſe I feared the people, and obeyed their voyce.

25 Now therefore I pray thee, take away my k ſinne, and turne againe with mee, that I may worſhip the Lord.

k This was not true repentance, but diſſimulation, fearing the loſſe of his kingdome.

26 But Samuel ſaid unto Saul, I will not returne with thee: for thou haſt caſt away the worde of the Lord, and the Lord hath caſt away thee, that thou ſhalt not be King over Iſrael.

27 And as Samuel turned himſelfe to go away, he caught the lappe of his coate, and it rent.

28 Then Samuel ſaid unto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Iſrael from thee this day, and hath given it to thy l neighbour, that is better then thou.

l That is, to David.

29 For indeed the m ſtrength of Iſrael will not lye nor repent: for he is not a man that he ſhould repent.

m Meaning, God, who maintaineth and preſerveth his.

30 Then hee ſaid, I have ſinned: but honour mee, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, and before Iſrael, and turne againe with me, that I may worſhip the Lord thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuel turned againe, and followed Saul: and Saul worſhipped the Lord.

32 Then ſaid Samuel, Bring yee hither to mee Agag the king of the Amalekites: and Agag came unto him ‖ pleaſantly, and Agag ſayd, Truely the n bitterneſſe of death is paſſed.

‖ Or, in bonds.

n He ſuſpected nothing leſſe then death, or as ſome write, he paſſed not for death.

33 And Samuel ſaid, * As thy ſword hath made women childleſſe, ſo ſhall thy mother be childleſſe among other women. And Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the Lord in Gilgal.

† Exod.17.11. num.14.45.

34 ¶ So Samuel departed to o Ramah, and Saul went up to his houſe to Gibeah of Saul.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samuel is reproved of God, and is ſent to anoint David. 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The Spirit of the Lord commeth upon David. 14 The wicked ſpirit is ſent upon Saul. 19 Saul ſendeth for David.

THe Lord then ſaid unto Samuel, How long wilt thou mourne for Saul, a ſeeing I have caſt him away from ſeigning over Iſrael? fill thine horne with oyle and come, I will ſend thee to Iſhai the Bethlehemite: for I have provided me a King among his ſonnes.

a Signifying, that we ought not to ſhew our ſelves more pitifull then God, nor to lament them whom hee caſteth out.

2 And Samuel ſaid, How can I go? for if Saul ſhall heare it, he will kill me. Then the Lord anſwered, Take an heifer † with thee, and ſay, I am come b to doe ſacrifice to the Lord.

‖ Ebr. in thine hand.

b That is to make a peace offring, which might be done though the Arke was not there.

3 And call Iſhai to the ſacrifice, and I will ſhew thee what thou ſhalt doe, and thou ſhalt anoynt unto me him whom I name unto thee.

4 So Samuel did that the Lord bad him, and came to Beth-lehem, and the elders of the towne were c aſtonied at his comming, and ſaid, Commeſt thou peaceably?

c Fearing leſt ſome grieuous crime had beene committed, becauſe the Prophet was not wont to come thither.

5 And he anſwered, Yea: I am come to doe ſacrifice unto the Lord: ſanctifie your ſelves, and come with me to the ſacrifice. And hee ſanctified Iſhai and his ſonnes, and called them to the ſacrifice.

6 And when they were come, hee looked on Eliab, and ſaid, Surely the Lords d Anointed is before him.

d This King that Eliab had beene appointed of God to be made King.

7 But the Lord ſaid unto Samuel, Looke not on his countenance, nor on the height of his ſtature, becauſe I have refuſed him: for God ſeeth not as man ſeeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the * heart.

† 1. Chron. 28.9. iere. 11.20. and 17.10. and 20.12. pſal. 7.10.

8 Then Iſhai called Abinadab, and made him come before Samuel. And he ſaid, Neither hath the Lord choſen this.

9 Then Iſhai made Shammah come. And hee ſaid, Neither yet hath the Lord choſen him.

10 Againe Iſhai made his ſeven ſons to come before Samuel, and Samuel ſaid unto Iſhai, The Lord hath choſen none of theſe.

11 Finally, Samuel ſaid unto Iſhai, † Are there no more children but theſe? And he ſaid, There remaineth yet a little one behinde, that keepeth the ſheepe. Then Samuel ſaid vnto Iſhai, * Send and fetch him: for we will not ſit downe, till he be come hither.

† Ebr. are the children ended?

12 And hee ſent, and brought him in: and he was ruddy, and of a good countenance, and comly viſage. And the Lord ſaid, Ariſe, and anoynt him: for this is he.

13 Then Samuel tooke the horne of oyle, and anoynted him in the middes of his brethren. And the * Spirit of the Lord ‖ came upon David, from that day forward: then Samuel roſe up, and went to Ramah.

* Acts 7.45. and 13.22.

† Or, proſpered.

14 ¶ But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an e evill ſpirit ſent of the Lord, vexed him.

e The wicked ſpirits are at Gods commandements to execute his will againſt the wicked.

15 And Sauls ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold now, the evill ſpirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our Lord therefore command thy ſervants that are before thee, to ſeeke a man that is a cunning player upon the harpe: that when the evill ſpirit of God commeth upon thee, hee may play with his hand, and thou mayeſt be eaſed.

17 Saul then ſaid unto his ſervants, Provide me a man, I pray you, that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 Then anſwered one of his ſervants, and ſaid, Behold, I have ſeene a f ſonne of Iſhai, a Bethlehemite, that can play, and is ſtrong, valiant, and a man of warre, and wiſe in matters, and a comely perſon, and the Lord is with him.

f Though David was now anointed King by the Prophet, yet God would exerciſe him in ſundry forts before hee had the vſe of his kingdome.

19 ¶ Wherefore Saul ſent meſſengers unto Iſhai, and ſaid, Send me David thy ſonne, which is with the ſheepe.

20 And Iſhai tooke an aſſe laden with bread and a flagon of wine and a kid, and ſent them by the hand of David his ſonne unto Saul.

21 And David came to Saul, and ‖ ſtood before him: and he loved him very well, and he was his armour bearer.

‖ Or, ſerved him.

22 And Saul ſent to Iſhai, ſaying, Let David now remaine with me: for he hath found favour in my ſight.

23 And ſo when the evill ſpirit of God came upon Saul, David tooke an harpe and played with his his hand, and Saul was g refreshed and was easèd: for the evill spirit departed from him.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philistims make warre against Israel. 10 Goliath defieth Israel. 19 David is sent to his brethren. 34 The strength and boldnesse of David. 47 The Lord saveth not by sworde nor speare. 50 David killeth Goliath, and the Philistims flee.

NOw the Philistims gathered their armies in battell, and came together to Shochoh which is in Iudah, and pitched betweene Shochoh and Azekah, ‖ in the coast of Dammim.

‖ Or, in Ephesdammim.

‖ Or, of the oke.

2 And Saul, and the men of Israel assembled and pitched in the valley ‖ of Elah, and put themselves in battell aray to meet the Philistims.

3 And the Philistims stood on a mountaine on the one side, and Israel stood on a mountaine on the other side: so a valley was betweene them.

a Betweene the two campes.

4 ¶ Then came a man betweene them a both out of the tents of the Philistims, named Goliath of Gath: his height was sixe cubites and an hand breadth.

‖ Or, coate of plate.

b That is, 156. lib. 4. ounces after halfe an ounce the shekel: and 600. shekels weight amounteth to 18. lib. 3. quarters.

5 And had an helmet of brasse upon his head, and a ‖ brigandine upon him: and the weight of his brigandine was five thousand b shekels of brasse.

‖ Or, greaves.

6 And he had ‖ boots of brasse upon his legs, and a shield of brasse upon his shoulders.

7 And the shaft of his speare was like a weavers beame: and his spare head weyghed sixe hundreth shekels of yron: and one bearing a shielde went before him.

8 And he stood, and cried against the hoaste of Israel, and said unto them, Why are ye come to set your battell in aray? am not I a Philistim, and you servants to Saul? chuse you a man for you, and let him come downe to me.

† Elr. smite me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and † kill me, then will we be your servants: but if I overcome him, and kill him, then shall ye be our servants, and serve us.

10 Also the Philistim said, I defie the host of Israel this day: give me a man, that we may fight ‖ together.

‖ Or, hand to hand.

11 When Saul and all Israel heard those words of ỹ Philistim, they were discouraged, and greatly afraid.

* Chap. 16, 1.

12 ¶ Now this David was the * sonne of an Ephrathite of Beth-lehem Iudah, named Ishai, which had eight sonnes: and ‖ this man was taken for an old man in the dayes of Saul.

‖ Or, he was counted among them that bare office.

13 And the three eldest sonnes of Ishai went and followed Saul to the battell: and the names of his three sonnes that went to battell were Eliab the eldest, and the next Abinadab, and the thirde Shammah.

14 So David was the lest: and the three eldest went after Saul.

e To serve Saul, as chap. 16. vers. 19.

15 David also e went, but hee returned from Saul to feede his fathers sheepe in Beth-lehem.

16 And the Philistim drew neere in the morning, and evening, and continued fourtie dayes.

d Though Ishai meant one thing, yet Gods providence directed David to another end.

17 And Ishai said unto David his son, d Take now for thy brethren an Ephah of this parched corne, and these ten cakes, and run to the hoaste to thy brethren.

e If they have laid any thing to gage for their necessity, redeeme it out.

18 Also carie these ten fresh cheeses unto the captaine, and locke how thy brethren fare, and receive their e pledge.

19 (Then Saul and they, and all the men of Israel were in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistims.)

20 ¶ So David rose up early in the morning, and left the sheepe with a keeper, and tooke and went as Ishai had commaunded him, and came within the compasse of the hoaste: and the hoaste went out in aray, and shouted in the battell.

21 For Israel and the Philistims had put themselves in aray, armie against armie.

22 And David left the things which he bare, under the hands of the keeper of the † cariage, and ranne into the hoast, and came, and asked his brethren † how they did.

† Elr. vessels.

† Elr. of peace.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man that was betweene the two armies, came up, (whose name was Goliath the Philistim of Gath) out of the ‖ army of the Philistims, and spake f such words, and David heard them.

‖ Or, valley.

f As are above rehearsed, ver. 8. and 9.

24 And all the men of Israel when they sawe the man, ranne away from him, and were sore afraide.

25 For every man of Israel said, Saw yee not this man that commeth up? even to revile Israel is hee come up: and to him that killeth him, will the King give great riches, and will give him his * daughter, yea, and make his fathers house g free in Israel.

* Iosh. 15, 19.

g From taxes and Payments.

26 ¶ Then David spake to the men that stood with him, and sayd, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistim, and taketh away the h shame from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised Philistim, that hee should revile the hoaste of the living God?

h This dishonour that he doeth to Israel.

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shall it bee done to the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spake unto the men, and Eliab was very angry with David, and sayd, Why camest thou downe hither? and with whom hast thou left those few sheepe in the wildernes? I know thy pride and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to see the battell.

29 Then David said, What have I now done? Is there not a i cause?

i For his fathers sending was a iust occasion, and also he felt himselfe inwardly mooved by Gods Spirit.

30 And hee departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former words.

31 ¶ And they that heard the wordes which David spake, rehearsed them before Saul, which caused him to be brought.

32 So David sayd to Saul, Let no mans heart faile him, because of him: thy servant will goe, and fight with this Philistim.

33 And Saul said to David, Thou art not k able to goe against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boy, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

k Here Satan proveth Davids faith by the infidelity of Saul.

34 And David answered unto Saul, Thy servant kept his fathers sheepe, and there came a lyon, and likewise a beare, and tooke a sheepe out of the flocke, l David by the experience that he hath had in time past of Gods help, nothing doubteth to overcome this danger, seeing he was zealous for Gods honour.

35 And I went out after him and smote him, and tooke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 So thy servant slew both the lyon, and the beare: therefore this uncircumcised Philistim shall bee as one of them, seeing he hath railed on the hoaste of the living God.

37 ¶ More-

37 ¶ Moreover David said, The Lord hath delivered me out of the paw of the lyon, and out of the paw of the beare, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saul said unto David, [m] Goe, and the Lord be with thee.

m For by these examples he sawe that the power of God was with him.

38 And Saul put his raiment upon David, and put an helmet of brasse upon his head, and put a brigandine upon him.

39 Then girded David his sword upon his raiment, and ‖ began to go: for he never prooved it: and David saide unto Saul, I cannot goe with these: for I am not accustomed. Wherefore David put them off him.

‖ Or, assayed.

40 Then tooke he his [n] staffe in his hand, and chose him fiue smoothe stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepheards bagge or scrippe, and his sling was in his hand, and hee drew neere to the Philistim.

n To the intent that by these weake meanes, God might onely be knowen to be the authour of this victorie.

41 ¶ And the Philistim came and drew neere unto David, and the man that bare the shield went before him.

42 Now when the Philistim looked about and sawe David, hee disdained him: for hee was but yong, ruddie, and of a comely face.

43 And the Philistim said unto David, Am I a dog, that thou commest to me with staves? And the Philistim [o] cursed David by his gods.

o He sware by his gods that hee would destroy him.

44 And the Philistim said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh unto the foules of the heaven, and to the beasts of the field.

45 ¶ Then said David to the Philistim, Thou commest to me with a sword, and with a speare, and with a shield, but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israel, whom thou hast rayled upon.

p David being assured both of his cause and of his calling, prophecieth of the destruction of the Philistims.

46 This [p] day shall the Lord close thee in mine hand, and I shall smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I will giue the carkeises of the host of the Philistims this day unto the foules of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth, that all the world may know that Israel hath a God.

47 And that all this assembly may know, that the Lord saueth not with sword nor with speare, (for the battell is the Lord) and he will give you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and draw neere unto David, David [q] hasted and ran to fight against the Philistim.

q Being moued with a fervent zeale to be revenged upon this blasphemer of Gods name.

49 And David put his hand in his bagge, and tooke out a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone sticked in his forehead, and he fell groveling to the earth.

50 So David * overcame the Philistim with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Philistim, and slew him, when David had no sword in his hand.

* Ecclus 7.4. 1.mach.4.30.

51 Then David ran, and stood upon the Philistim, and tooke his sword and drew it out of his sheat, and slewe him, and cut off his head therewith. So when the Philistims saw that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israel and Iudah arose, and shouted, and followed after the Philistims, untill they came to the ‖ valley, and unto the gates of Ekron: and the Philistims fell down wounded by the way of Shaaraim, euen to Gath and to Ekron.

‖ Or, Gai the city.

53 And the children of Israel returned from pursuing the Philistims, and spoiled their tents.

‖ Or, house at Bethlehem.

54 And David tooke the head of the Philistim, and brought it to Ierusalem, and put his armour in his ‖ tent.

55 ¶ When Saul saw David goe forth against the Philistim, he said unto Abner the captaine of his host, Abner, [r] whose sonne is this yong man? and Abner answered, As thy soule liveth, O king, I cannot tell.

r That is, of what family and tribe is he? or els hee had forgotten David, albeit he had received so great a benefit by him.

56 Then the King said, Enquire thou whose sonne this yong man is.

57 And when David was returned from the slaughter of the Philistim, then Abner tooke him and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

58 And Saul saide to him, Whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? And David answered, I am the sonne of thy servant Ishai the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The amitie of Ionathan and David. 2 Saul enuieth David for the praise that the women gaue him. 11 Saul would haue slaine David. 17 He promiseth him Merab to wife, but giueth him Michal. 27 David deliuereth to Saul two hundreth foreskinnes of the Philistims. 29 Saul feareth David, seeing that the Lord is with him.

AND when hee had made an end of speaking unto Saul, the [a] soule of Ionathan was knit with the soule of David, and Ionathan loued him as his owne soule.

a His affection was fully bent toward him.

2 And Saul tooke him that day, and would not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Ionathan and David made a covenant: for he loued him as his owne soule.

4 And Ionathan put off the robe that was upon him, and gaue it David, and his garments, euen to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

5 And David went out whithersoeuer Saul sent him, and behaued himselfe [b] wisely: so that Saul set him over the men of warre, and hee was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls servants.

b That is, he prospered in all his doings.

6 ¶ When they came againe, and David returned from the slaughter of the [c] Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Israel singing and dancing to meete king Saul, with timbrels, with instruments of ioy, and with rebeckes.

c To wit, Goliath.

7 And the women † sang by course in their play, and said, * Saul hath slaine his thousand, and David his ten thousand.

† Ebr. answered, playing.
* Chap.21.11. and 29.5. ecclus.47.6.7.

8 Therefore Saul was exceeding wroth, and the saying displeased him, and he said, They have ascribed unto David ten thousand, and to me they haue ascribed but thousand, and what can hee haue more saue the kingdome?

9 Wherefore Saul [d] had an eye on David from that day forward.

d Because he bare him enuie and hatred.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the evill spirit of God came upon Saul, and hee [e] prophecied in the middes of the house: and David played with his hand like as at other times, and there was a speare in Sauls hand.

e That is, spake as a man beside himselfe: for so the people abused this word, when they could not understand.

11 And Saul tooke the speare, and said, I will smite David through to the wall. But David avoided twise out of his presence.

12 And Saul was afraid of David, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him from him, and made him a captaine over a thousand, and he went out and in before the people.

f Meaning, he was captaine over the people.

14 And David behaved himselfe wisely in all his wayes: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saul saw that he was very wise, he was afraid of him.

16 For all Israel and Iudah loved David, because he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ Then Saul said to David, Beholde mine eldest daughter Merab, her I will giue thee to wife: only be a valiant sonne unto mee, and g fight the Lords battels: for Saul thought, Mine hand shall not be upon him, but the hand of the Philistims shall be upon him.

g Fight against them that warre against Gods people.

18 And David answered Saul, What am I? and what is my life, or the family of my father in Israel, that I should be sonne in law to the King?

19 Howbeit when Merab Sauls daughter should haue beene giuen to David, h she was giuen unto Adriel a Meholathite to wife.

h By whom hee had five sonnes which David put to death at the request of the Gibeonites 2. Sam. 21. 8.

20 ¶ Then Michal Sauls daughter loued David: and they shewed Saul, and the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saul said, I will giue him her, that she may be a i snare to him, and that the hand of the Philistims may bee against him. Wherefore Saul said to David, Thou shalt this day bee my sonne in law in the one of the twaine.

i So his hypocrisie appeareth: for under pretence of favour he sought his destruction.

22 And Saul commanded his servants, Speake with David secretly, and say, Behold, the king hath a favour to thee, and all his servants loue thee: be now therefore the Kings sonne in law.

23 And Sauls servants spake these wordes in the eares of David. And David said, k Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a kings sonne in law, seeing that I am a poore man and of small reputation?

k Meaning that hee was not able to endow his wife with riches.

24 And then Saul servants brought him word againe, saying, Such words speake David.

25 And Saul said, This wise shall ye say to David, The king desireth no dowrie, but an hundred foreskinnes of the Philistims, to bee avenged of the Kings enemies: for Saul thought to make David fall into the hand of the Philistims.

26 And when his servants tolde David these wordes, it pleased David well, to bee the l Kings sonne in law: and the dayes were not expired.

l Because hee thought himselfe able to compasse the Kings request.

27 Afterward David arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistims two hundreth men: and David brought their foreskinnes, and m they gave them wholly to the King that hee might be the Kings sonne in law: therefore Saul gaue him Michal his daughter to wife.

m Meaning, David and his souldiers.

28 Then Saul sawe, and understood that the Lord was with David, and that Michal the daughter of Saul loved him.

29 Then Saul was more and more afraid n of David, and Saul became allway Davids enemie.

n To be deprived of his kingdome.

30 And when the Princes of the Philistims went forth, at their going forth o David behaved himselfe more wisely then all the servants of Saul, so that his name was much set by.

o That is, David had better successe against the Philistims then Sauls men.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Ionathan declareth to David the wicked purpose of Saul. 11 Michal his wife saveth him. 18 David commeth to Samuel. 23 The Spirit of prophecie commeth on Saul.

THen Saul spake to Ionathan his sonne, and to all his servants, that they should a kill David: but Ionathan Sauls sonne had a great favour to David.

a Before Saul sought Davids life secretly, but now his hypocrisie bursteth to vpon cruelrie.

2 And Ionathan told David, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slay thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heed unto thy selfe unto the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thy selfe.

3 And I will goe out and stand by my father in the field where thou bart, and will commune with my father of thee, and I will see what hee saith, and will tell thee.

b That I may giue thee warning what to doe.

4 ¶ And Ionathan spake good of David unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king sinne against his servant, against David: for hee hath not sinned against thee, but his workes haue beene to thee very good.

5 For hee † did * put his life in danger, and slew the Philistim, and the Lord wrought a great salvation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and thou reioycedst: wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, and slay David without a cause?

† Ebr. hee put his soule in his hand. * Iudge. 12. 3. 1. sam 28. 21. psal. 119. 109

6 Then Saul hearkened unto the voyce of Ionathan, and Saul c sware, As the Lord liveth, he shall not die.

c Whatsoever he pretended outwardly, yet his heart was full of malice.

7 So Ionathan called David, and Ionathan shewed him all those words, and Ionathan brought David to Saul, and hee was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶ Againe the warre began, and David went out and fought with the Philistims, and slew them with a great slaughter, and they fled from him.

9 ¶ And the evill spirit of the Lord was upon Saul, as hee sate in his house having his speare in his hand, and David d played with his hand.

d He played on his harpe to mitigate the rage of the evill spirit, as Chap. 16. 23.

10 And Saul intended to smite David to the wall with the speare: but hee turned a side out of Sauls presence, and he smote the speare against the wall: but David fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Saul also sent messengers unto Davids house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning: and Michal Davids wife told it him, saying, If thou saue not thy selfe this night, to morrow thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michal e let David downe through a window: and hee went, and fled, and escaped.

e Thus God mooved both the sonne and daughter of this tyrant to favour David against their father.

13 Then Michal tooke an image, and laid it in the bed, and put a pillow stuffed with goats haire under the head of it, and covered it with a cloath.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to see David, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I my slay him.

f Behold, how the tyrants to accomplish their rage, neither regard oath nor friendship, God nor man.

16 And when the messengers were come in, behold, an image was in the bed with a pillowe of goats haire under the head of it.

17 And Saul said unto Michal, Why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemie, that hee is escaped? And Michal answered Saul, Hee said unto me, Let me goe, or els I will kill thee.

18 ¶ So David fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and told him all that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and dwelt in g Naiothin Ramah.

g Naioth was a schoole where the word of God was studieth, neere to Ramah.

19 But one told Saul, saying, Behold, David is at Naioth in Ramah.

20 And Saul sent messengers to take David, and when they saw a company of Prophets prophecying, & Samuel standing h as appointed over them, the Spirit of God fell upon the messengers of Saul, and they also i prophecied.

h Being their chiefe instructer.

i Changed their minides and praised God.

21 And when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophecied likewise: againe Saul sent the third messengers, and they prophecied also.

22 Then went hee himselfe to Ramah, & came to a great well that is in Sechu, and hee asked, and said, Where are Samuel and David? And one said, Behold, they be at Naioth in Ramah.

k With a minde to persecute them.

23 And hee k went thither, even to Naioth in Ramah, and the Spirit of God came upon him also, and hee went prophecying untill hee came to Naioth in Ramah.

a Ionathan comforteth Dauid. 3 They renue their leagues. 33 Saul would haue killed Ionathan. 38 Ionathan aduertiſeth Dauid by three arrowes, of his fathers furie.

A Nd Dauid [a] fled from Naioth in Ramah, and came and ſaid before Ionathan, What haue I done? what is mine iniquitie? and what ſinne haue I committed before thy father, that he ſeeketh my life?

a For Saul was ſtayed, and prophecied a day and a night by Gods prouidence, that Dauid might haue time to eſcape.

2 And hee ſaid vnto him, God forbid, thou ſhalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing great nor ſmall, but hee will † ſhew it me: and why ſhould my father hide this thing from me? he will not doe it.

† Ebr. reueale it in mine eare.

3 And Dauid ſware againe, and ſaid, Thy father knoweth that I haue found grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Ionathan ſhall not know it, leaſt he be ſorie: but indeed, as the Lord liueth, and as thy ſoule liueth, there is but a [b] ſtep betweene mee and death.

b I am in great danger of death.

4 Then ſaid Ionathan vnto Dauid, Whatſoeuer thy ſoule † requireth, that will I doe vnto thee.

† Eb. ſaith.

5 And Dauid ſaid vnto Ionathan, Behold, to morow is the [c] firſt day of the moneth, and I ſhould ſit with the king at meate: but let me goe, that I may hide my ſelfe in the fieldes vnto the third day at euen.

c At what time there ſhould be a ſolemne ſacrifice, Num 28 11. to the which they added peace offerings and feaſts. d Reade Chap. 3. 21.

6 If thy father make mention of mee, then ſay, Dauid aſked leaue of me, that hee might goe to Bethlehem to his owne citie: for there is a [d] yeerely ſacrifice for all that family.

7 And if hee ſay thus, It is well, thy ſeruant ſhall haue peace: but if he be angry, be ſure that wickednes is concluded of him.

* Chap. 18. 3. and 23 18.

8 So ſhalt thou ſhew mercie vnto thy ſeruant: * for thou haſt ioyned thy ſeruant into a couenant of the Lord with thee, and if there be in mee iniquitie, ſlay thou mee: for why ſhouldeſt thou bring me to thy father?

e That he were fully determined. f If thy father doe fauour.

9 ¶ And Ionathan anſwered, God keepe that from thee: for if I knew that wickednes were [e] concluded of my father to come vpon thee, would not I tell it thee?

10 Then ſaid Dauid to Ionathan, Who [f] ſhall tell me? how ſhall I know, if thy father anſwere thee cruelly?

11 And Ionathan ſaid to Dauid, Come and let vs goe out into the field: and they twaine went out into the field.

12 Then Ionathan ſaid to Dauid, O Lord God of Iſrael, when I haue groped my fathers mind to morow at this time, or within this three dayes, and if it be well with Dauid, and I then ſend not vnto thee, and ſhew it thee, b The Lord puniſh me moſt grieuouſly.

13 The Lord [g] doe ſo and much more vnto Ionathan: but if my father haue minde to doe thee euill, I will ſhew thee alſo, and ſend thee away, that thou mayeſt goe in peace: and the Lord be with thee as he hath beene with my father.

h I know that if thou wereſt now preferred to the Kingdome, thou wouldeſt not deſtroy mee, but ſhew thy ſelfe friendly to my poſteritie.

14 Likewiſe I require not whiles I liue: for doubt not but thou wilt ſhew me the mercy of the Lord, [h] that I die not.

15 But I require that thou cut not off thy mercie from mine houſe for euer: no, not when the Lord hath deſtroyed the enemies of Dauid, euery one from the earth.

16 So Ionathan made a bond with the houſe of Dauid, ſaying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And againe Ionathan ſware vnto Dauid, becauſe he loued him (for hee loued him as his owne ſoule.)

18 Then ſaid Ionathan to him, To morow is the firſt day of the moneth: and thou ſhalt bee ‖ locked for, for thy place ſhall be emptie.

‖ Or, mentioned.

19 Therefore thou ſhalt hide thy ſelfe three dayes, then thou ſhalt goe downe quickly and come to the place where thou diddeſt hide thy ſelfe, when this matter was in hand, and ſhalt remaine by the ſtone † Ezel.

† Ebr. of the way, becauſe it ſerued as a ſigne to ſhew the way to them that paſſed by.

20 And I will ſhoot three arrowes on the ſide thereof, as though I ſhot at a marke.

21 And after I will ſend a boy, ſaying, Goe ſeeke the arrowes. If I ſay vnto the boy, See, the arrowes are on this ſide thee, bring them and come thou: for it is † well with thee, and no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

† Ebr. peace.

22 But if I ſay thus vnto the boy, Behold, the arrowes are beyond thee, goe thy way: for the [i] Lord hath ſent thee away.

i The Lord is the authour of thy departure.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue ſpoken of, behold, the Lord be betweene thee and me for euer.

24 ¶ So Dauid hid himſelfe in the field: and when the firſt day of the moneth came, the king ſate to eate meate.

25 And the king ſate, as at other times vpon his ſeate, euen vpon his ſeat by the wall: and Ionathan aroſe, and Abner ſate by Sauls ſide, but Dauids place was emptie.

26 And Saul ſaid nothing that day: for hee thought, Some thing hath befallen him, though he were [k] cleane, or elſe becauſe hee was not purified.

k Yet he might haue ſome buſineſſe to let him.

27 But on the morow, which was the ſecond day of the moneth, Dauids place was emptie againe: and Saul ſaid vnto Ionathan his ſonne, Wherefore commeth not [l] the ſonne of Iſhai to meate, neither yeſterday nor to day?

l Thus he ſpeaketh contemptuouſly of Dauid.

28 And Ionathan anſwered vnto Saul, Dauid required of me, that hee might goe to Beth-lehem.

29 For he ſaid, Let me goe, I pray thee: for our familie offereth [m] a ſacrifice in the citie, and my brother hath ſent for me: therefore now, if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, and ſee my [n] brethren: this is the cauſe that hee commeth not vnto the kings table.

m That is, a peace offring.

n Meaning, all his kinſefolke.

30 Then was Saul angry with Ionathan, and ſaid vnto him, Thou [o] ſonne of the wicked rebellious woman, doe not I know, that thou haſt choſen the ſonne of Iſhai to thy confuſion, and to the confuſion and ſhame of thy mother?

o Thou art euer contrary vnto me as thy mother is.

31 For as long as the ſonne of Iſhai liueth vpon the earth, thou ſhalt not be eſtabliſhed, nor thy kingdome: wherefore now ſend and fet him vnto me, for he † ſhall ſurely die.

† Ebr. ſonne of death.

32 And Ionathan anſwered vnto Saul his father, and ſaid vnto him, Wherefore ſhall he [p] die? what hath he done?

p For it were too great tyrannie to put one to death and not to ſhew the cauſe why.

33 And Saul caſt a ſpeare at him to hit him, whereby Ionathan knew, that it was determined of his father to ſlay Dauid.

34 ¶ So Ionathan aroſe from the table in a great anger, and did eate no meat the ſecond day of the moneth: for he was ſory for Dauid, and becauſe his father had reuiled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Ionathan went out into the field, q at the time appointed with David, and a little boy with him.

36 And he said unto his boy, Runne now, seeke the arrowes which I shoote: and as the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrow was that Ionathan had shot, Ionathan cryed after the boy, and said, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Ionathan cryed after the boy, r Make speede, haste and stand not still: and Ionathans boy gathered up the arrowes, and came to his master.

39 But the boy knew nothing: only Ionathan and David knew the matter.

40 Then Ionathan gaue his † bow and arrowes unto the boy that was with him, and said unto him, Goe, carie them into the citie.

41 ¶ Assoone as the boy was gone, David arose out of a place that was toward the s South, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe three times: and they kissed one another, and wept both twaine, till David exceeded.

42 Therefore Ionathan said to David, Goe in peace: that which we haue t sworne both of us in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord bee betweene me and thee, and betweene my seede and betweene thy seed, let it stand for ever.

43 And hee arose and departed, and Ionathan went into the citie.

q For this was the third day, as it was agreed upon, verse 5.

r By these words he admonished David what hee ought to doe.

2 David fleeth to Nob to Ahimelech the Priest. 6 Hee getteth of him the shewbread to satisfie his hunger. 7 Doeg Sauls servant was present. 10 David fleeth to King Achish. 13 and there faineth himselfe mad.

THen came David to a Nob to Ahimelech the Priest, and Ahimelech was astonished at the meeting of David, and said unto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

2 And David said to Ahimelech the Priest, The b King hath commanded me a certaine thing, and hath said unto me, Let no man know where about I sent thee, and what I haue commanded thee: and I haue appointed my servants to such and such places.

3 Now therefore if thou hast ought under thine hand, give me fiue cakes of bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered David, and said, There is no common bread under mine hand, but heere is * hallowed bread, if the young men haue kept themselves, at least from c women.

5 David then answered the Priest, and said unto him, Certainely women haue beene separate from us these two three dayes sine I came out: and the d vessels of the young men were holy, though the way were prophane, and how much more then shall every one e bee sanctified this day in the vessell?

6 So the priest gaue him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there, saue the shewbread that was taken from before the Lord, to put hot bread there, the day that it was taken away.

7 (And there was the same day one of the servants of Saul f abiding before the Lord, named Doeg the Edomite, the ‖ chiefest of Sauls heardmen.)

8 And David said unto Ahimelech, Is there not here under thine hand a speare or a sword? for I have neither brought my sword nor mine harnesse with me, because the kings businesse requited haste.

9 And the priest said, The sword of Goliath the Philistim, whom thou slewest in the * valley of Elah, behold, it is wrapt in a cloth behind the g Ephod: if thou wilt take that to thee, take it: for there is none other saue that here: and David said, There is none to that, give it me.

10 And David arose and fledde the same day from the h presence of Saul, and went to Achish the king of Gath.

11 And the servants of Achish said unto him, Is not this David the * King of the land? did they not sing unto him in dances, saying, * Saul hath slaine his thousand, and David his ten thousand?

12 And David † considered these words, and was sore afraid of Achish the king of Gath.

13 And hee changed his behaviour before them, and fained himselfe mad in their hands, and i scrabled on the doores of the gate, and let his spettle fall downe upon his beard.

14 Then said Achish unto his servants, Lo, ye see the man is beside himselfe, wherefore haue ye brought him unto me?

CHAP. XXII.

1 David hideth himselfe in a cave. 2 Many that were in trouble came unto him. 9 Doeg accuseth Ahimelech. 18 Saul causeth the Priests to be slaine. 20 Abiathar escapeth

DAvid therefore departed thence, and saued himselfe in the caue a of Adullam: and when his brethrē and all his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

2 And there gathered unto him all men that were in trouble, and all men that were in debt, and all those that were vexed in minde, and hee was their ‖ prince, and there were with him about foure hundreth men.

3 ¶ And David went thence to Mizpeh in b Moab, and said unto the King of Moab, I pray thee, let my father and my mother come and abide with you, till I know what God will doe for me.

4 And he c brought them before the King of Moab, and they dwelt with him all the while that David was in d the hold.

5 And the Prophet Gad said unto David, Abide not in the hold, but depart and goe into the land of Iudah. Then David departed and came into the forrest of Hareth.

6 ¶ And Saul heard that David was e discovered, and the men ŷ were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeah under a tree in Ramah, having his speare in his hand, and all his servants stood about him.

7 And Saul said unto his servants that stood about him, Heare now, ye sonnes f of Iemini, will the sonne of Ishai giue every one of you fieldes and vineyards? will hee make you all captaines ouer thousands, and captaines over hundreds:

10 Who asked counsell of the Lord for him, and gave him victuals, and he gaue him also the sword of Goliath the Philistim.

11 Then the King sent to call Ahimelech the Priest the sonne of Ahitub, and all his fathers house, to wit, h the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

h Which were the remnant of the house of Eli, whose house God threatned to, punish.

12 And Saul said, Heare now thou sonne of Ahitub. And he answered, Here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saul said unto him, Why haue yee conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishai, in that thou hast given him victuall, and a sword, and hast asked counsell of God for him, that hee should rise against me, and lie in waite as appeareth this day?

14 And Ahimelech answered the King, and said, Who is so faithfull among all thy servants as David, being also the kings sonne in law, and goeth at thy commandement, and is honourable in thine house?

i Haue I not at other times also, when he had great affaires, consulted with the Lord for him?

15 i Haue I this day first begun to aske counsell of God for him? be it farre from me, let not the king impute any thing unto his servant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy servant knew nothing of all this, lesse nor more.

16 Then the King said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

‖ Or, footmen.

17 And the King sayd unto the ‖ sergeants that stood about him, Turne, and slay the Priests of the Lord, because their hand also is with David, and because they knew when he fledde, and shewed it not to me. But the servants of the King k would not moove their hands to fall upon the Priests of the Lord.

k For they knew that they ought not to obey the wicked commandement of the King in slaying the innocents.

18 Then the king said to Doeg, Turne thou and fall upon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ranne upon the Priests, and slew that same day fourescore and five persons, that did weare a linnen Ephod.

19 Also Nob the citie of the Priests smote hee with the edge of the sword, both man and woman, both child and suckling, both oxe and asse, and sheepe with the edge of the sword.

l This was Gods providence, who according to his promise preserved some of the house of Eli, Chap. 2. 33.

20 But one of the sonnes of Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitub (whose name was Abiathar) escaped and fled after David.

21 And Abiathar shewed David, that Saul had slaine the Lords Priests.

22 And David said unto Abiathar, I knew it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would tell Saul. I am the cause of the death of all the persons of thy fathers house.

‖ Or, he that taketh thy life, shall take mine also.

23 Abide thou with mee, and feare not: for ‖ he that seeketh my life, shall seeke thy life also: for with me thou shalt be in safegard.

CHAP. XXIII.

5 David chaseth the Philistims from Keilah. 13 David departeth from Keilah, and remaineth in the wildernesse of Ziph. 16 Ionathan comforteth David. 28 Sauls enterprise is broken in pursuing David.

a Which was a city in the tribe of Iudah, Ios. 15. 44.

THen they tolde David, saying, Behold, the Philistims fight against a Keilah, and spoile the barnes.

2 Therefore David asked counsell of the Lord, saying, Shall I goe and smite these Philistims? And the Lord answerd David, Go and smite the Philistims, and saue Keilah.

3 And Davids men said unto him, See, we be afraid here in b Iudah, how much more if wee come to Keilah against the hoaste of the Philistims?

b That is, in the mids of Iudah, much more when we come to the borders against our enemies.

4 Then David asked counsell of the Lord againe. And the Lord answered him, and said, Arise, goe downe to Keilah: for I will deliver the Philistims into thine hand.

5 ¶ So David and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistims, and brought away their cattell, and smote them with a great slaughter: thus David saued the inhabitants of Keilah.

9 ¶ And David having knowledge that Saul imagined mischiefe against him, said to Abiathar the Priest, d Bring the Ephod.

d To consult with the Lord by Vrim and Thummim.

10 Then said David, O Lord God of Israel, thy servant hath heard, that Saul is about to come to Keilah to destroy the city for my sake.

11 Will the lords of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? and will Saul come downe as thy servant hath heard? O Lord God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the Lord said, He will come downe.

12 Then said David, Will the ‖ lords of Keilah deliver me up, and the men that are with me, into the hand of Saul? And the Lord said, They will deliver thee up.

‖ Or, gouernours.

13 ¶ Then David and his men, which were about six hundreth, arose and departed out of Keilah, and went ‖ whither they could. And it was told Saul, that David was fled from Keilah, and he left off his iourney.

‖ Or, to and fro, as having no certaine place to go to.

20 Now therefore, O king, come downe according to all that thine heart can desire, and our part shall bee to deliver him into the Kings hands.

24 Then they aroſe and went to Ziph before Saul, but David and his men were in the wildernesſe of Maon, in the plaine on the right hand of Ieſhimon.

25 Saul alſo and his men went to ſeeke him, and they told David: wherefore he came downe unto a rocke, and abode in the wildernesſe of i Maon. And when Saul heard that, hee followed after David in the wildernesſe of Maon.

‖ Or, the proverbe of an ancient man.

15 After whom is the king of Iſrael come out? after whom doeſt thou purſue? after a dead dogge, and after a flea?

16 The Lord therefore be iudge, and iudge betweene thee and me, and ſee, and pleade my cauſe, and † deliver me out of thine hand.

† Hebr. iudge.

17 When David had made an end of ſpeaking theſe words to Saul, Saul ſaid, f Is this thy voyce, my ſonne David? and Saul lift up his voyce, and wept.

f Though he was a moſt cruel enemie to David, yet by his great gentleneſſe his conſcience compelled him to yeeld.

18 And ſaid to David, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou haſt rendred me good, and I have rendred thee evill.

19 And thou haſt ſhewed this day, that thou haſt dealt well with me: foraſmuch as when the Lord had cloſed me in thine hands, thou killedſt me not.

20 For who ſhall find his enemie, and let him depart † free? wherefore the Lord render thee † good for that thou haſt done unto me this day.

† Hebr. a good way.

21 For now behold, I g know that thou ſhalt be king, and that the kingdome of Iſrael ſhall be eſtabliſhed in thine hand.

g Though this tyrant ſaw and confeſſed the favour of God toward David, yet he ceaſeth not to perſecute him againſt his owne conſcience.

22 Sweare now therefore unto me by the Lord, that thou wilt not deſtroy my ſeede after me, and that thou wilt not aboliſh my name out of my fathers houſe.

23 So David ſware unto Saul, and Saul went home: but David and his men went up unto the holde.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuel dieth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lord killeth Nabal. 43 Abigail and Ahinoam Davids wiues. 44 Michal is given to Phalti.

THen * Samuel died, and all Iſrael aſſembled, and mourned for him, and buried him in his a owne houſe at Ramah. And David aroſe and went downe to the wildernesſe of Paran.

* Chap. 28.3. eccluſ. 46.13.20. a That is, among his owne kinred.

2 Now in b Maon was a man, who had his poſſeſſion in Carmel, and ſ man was exceeding mightie, and had three thouſand ſheepe, and a thouſand goats, and he was ſhearing his ſheepe in Carmel.

b Moan and Carmel were cities in the tribe of Iudah, Carmel the mountaine was in Galile.

3 The name alſo of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail, and thee was a woman of ſingular wiſedome, and beautifull, but the man was churliſh, and evill conditioned, and was of the family of Caleb.

4 And David heard in the wildernesſe, that Nabal did ſheare his ſheepe.

† Hebr. of peace.

5 Therefore David ſent ten young men, and David ſaid unto the young men, Goe up to Carmel, and goe to Nabal, and aske him in my name ‖ how he doeth.

e Some reade, ſo mayeſt thou liue in proſperitie the next yeere, both thou, &c.

6 And thus ſhall ye ſay ‖ for ſalutation, Both thou, and thine houſe, and all that thou haſt, bee in peace, wealth and proſperitie.

‖ Hebr. ſay liue.

7 Behold,

7 Behold, I have heard, that thou haſt ſhearers: now thy ſhepheards were with us, and wee did them no hurt, neither did they miſſe any thing all the while they were in Carmel.

8 Aske thy ſervants, and they will ſhewe thee. Wherefore let theſe young men finde favour in thine eyes: (for wee come in a good ſeaſon) give, I pray thee, whatſoever [d] commeth to thine hand unto thy ſervants, and to thy ſonne David.

9 ¶ And when Davids yong men came, they told Nabal all thoſe wordes in the name of David, and held their peace.

10 Then Nabal anſwered Davids ſervants, and ſayd, Who is David? and who is the [e] ſonne of Iſhai? there bee many ſervants now a dayes, that breake away every man from his maſter.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my fleſh that I have killed for my ſhearers, and give it unto men, whom I know not whence they be?

12 ¶ So Davids ſervants turned their way, and went againe, and came and told him all thoſe things.

13 And David ſaid unto his men, Gird every man his ſword about him. And they girded every man his ſword. David alſo girdid his ſword. And about foure hundreth men went up after David, and two hundreth abode by the ‖ cariage.

14 Now one of the ſervants told Abigail Nabals wife, ſaying, Behold, David ſent meſſengers out of the wilderneſſe to ſalute our maſter, and he ‖ railed on them.

15 Notwithſtanding the men were very good [f] unto us, and we had no diſpleaſure, neither miſſed we any things as long as wee were converſant with them, when we were in the fields.

16 They were as a wall unto us both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping ſhee pe.

17 Now therefore take heed, & ſee what thou ſhalt doe: for evill ‖ will ſurely come upon our maſter, and upon all his family: for he is ſo wicked, that a man cannot ſpeake to him.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haſte, and tooke two hundreth ‖ cakes, and two bottels of wine, & fiue ſheepe ready dreſſed, and fiue meaſures of parched corne, and an hundreth ‖ frailes of raiſins, and two hundreth of figs, and laded them on aſſes.

19 Then ſhe ſaid unto her ſervants, Go yo before me: behold, I will come after you: yet ſhee told not her [g] husband Nabal.

20 And as ſhe rode on her aſſe, ſhe came down by a ſecret place of the mountaine, and behold, David and his men came downe againſt her, and ſhe met them.

21 And David ſaid, In deed I have kept all in vaine that this fellow had in the wildern eſſe, ſo that nothing was miſſed of all that pertained unto him: for he hath required me evill for good.

22 So and more alſo doe God unto the enemies of David: for ſurely I will not leaue of all that he hath by the dawning of the day, any that [h] piſſeth againſt the wall.

23 And when Abigail ſaw David, ſhe haſted and lighted off her aſſe, and fell before David on her face, and bowed herſelfe to the ground, 24 And fell at his feete, and ſayd, Oh, my lord, I have committed the iniquity, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid ſpeake ‖ to thee, and heare thou the words of thine handmaid.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked man, Nabal: for as his name is, ſo is hee: ‖ Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid ſawe not the young men of my lord whom thou ſenteſt.

26 Now therefore, my lord, as the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoule liveth (the Lord, I ſay, that hath withholden thee from comming to ſhed blood, and that thine [i] hand ſhould not ſaue thee) ſo now thine enemies ſhall be as Nabal, and they that intend to doe my lord evill.

27 And now this ‖ bleſſing which thiee handmaid hath brought unto my lord, let it be given unto the yong men that ‖ follow my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgive the treſpaſſe of thine handmaide: for the Lord will make my lord a [k] ſure houſe, becauſe my lord fighteth the battels of the Lord, and none evill hath beene found in thee ‖ in all thy life.

29 Yet [l] a man hath riſen up to perſecute thee, and to ſeeke thy ſoule, but the ſoule of my lord ſhall bee bound in the [m] bundle of life with the Lord thy God: and the ſoule of thine enemies, ſhall God caſt out, as out of the middle of a ſling

30 And when the Lord ſhall have done to my lord all the good that he hath promiſed thee, and ſhall have made thee ruler over Iſrael, 31 Then ſhall it be no griefe unto thee, nor offeece of minde unto my lord, that he hath not ſhed blood cauſeleſſe, nor that my lord hath [n] not preſerved himſelfe: and when the Lord ſhall have dealt well with my lord, remembred thine handmayd.

32 Then David ſaid to Abigail, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, which ſent thee this day to meete me.

33 And bleſſed be thy counſell, and bleſſed be thou, which haſt kept me this day from comming to ſhed blood, [o] and that mine hand hath not ſaved me.

34 For in deed, as the Lord God of Iſrael liveth, [p] who hath kept mee backe from hurting thee, except thou haddeſt haſted and met mee, ſurely there had not been left unto Nabal by the dawning of the day, any that piſſeth againſt the wall.

35 Then David received of her hand that which ſhe had brought him, and ſaid to her, Goe up in peace to thine houſe: behold, I have heard thy voyce, and have ‖ granted thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, hee made a feaſt in his houſe, like the feaſt of a king, and Nabals heart was merry within him, for hee was very drunken: wherefore ſhee told him [q] nothing, neither leſſe nor more, untill the morning aroſe.

37 Then in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife tolde him thoſe words, and his heart dyed within him, and he was like [r] a ſtone.

38 And about ten dayes after, the Lord ſmote Nabal, that he dyed.

39 ¶ Now when David heard that Nabal was dead, he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord, that hath ‖ iudged the cauſe of my rebuke of the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his ſervant from evill: for the Lord hath recompenſed the wickednes of Nabal upon his owne head. 1 Dauid was diſcouered vnto Saul by the Ziphims. 12 Dauid taketh away Sauls ſpeare, and a pot of water that ſtood at his head. 21 Saul confeſſeth his ſinne.

‖ Or, the wildernes.

2 Then Saul aroſe, and went downe to the wildernes of Ziph, hauing three thouſand [a] choſen men of Iſrael with him, for to ſeeke Dauid in the wildernes of Ziph.

a That is, of the moſt ſkilfull and valiant ſouldiers.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Ieſhimon by the way ſide. Now Dauid abode in the wildernes, and hee ſaw that Saul came after him into the wildernes.

4 (For Dauid had ſent out ſpies, and vnderſtood that Saul was come ‖ in very deed.)

‖ Or, to a certaine place.

5 Then Dauid aroſe, and came to the place where Saul had pitched, and when Dauid beheld the place where Saul lay, and * Abner the ſonne of Ner which was his chiefe captaine, (for Saul lay in the fort, and the people pitched round about him.)

* Chap. 14, 50. and 17, 55.

6 Then ſpake Dauid, and ſaid to Ahimelech the [b] Hittite, and to Abiſhai the ſonne of Zeruiah, brother to [c] Ioab, ſaying, Who will goe downe with me to Saul to the hoaſte? Then Abiſhai ſaid, I will goe downe with thee.

b Who was a ſtranger, and not an Iſraelite.
c Who afterward was Dauids chiefe captaine.

7 So Dauid and Abiſhai came downe to the people by night: and behold, Saul lay ſleeping within the fort, and his ſpeare did ſticke in the ground at his ‖ head: and Abner and the people lay round about him.

‖ Or, bolſter.

8 ¶ Then ſaid Abiſhai to Dauid, God hath cloſed thine enemie into thine hand his day: now therefore I pray thee, let me ſmite him once with a ſpeare to the earth, and I will not ſmite him [d] againe.

d Meaning, hee would make him ſure at one ſtroke.

9 And Dauid ſaid to Abiſhai, Deſtroy him not: for who can lay his hand [e] on the Lords anointed, and be guiltleſſe?

e To wit, in his owne priuate cauſe: for Iehu ſlew two Kings at Gods appointment, 2 King. 9, 24.

10 Moreouer Dauid ſayd, As the Lord liueth, either the Lord ſhall ſmite him, or his day ſhall come to die, or he ſhall deſcend into battell, and periſh.

11 The Lord keepe me from laying mine hand vpon the Lords anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the ſpeare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs goe hence.

12 So Dauid tooke the ſpeare and the pot of water from Sauls head: and they gate them away, and no man ſaw it, nor marked it, neither did any awake, but they were all aſleepe: for † the Lord had ſent a dead ſleepe vpon them.

† Heb. the heauie ſleepe of the Lord was fallen vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went into the other ſide, and ſtood on the top of an hill afarre off, a great ſpace being betweene them.

14 And Dauid cried to the people, and to Abner the ſonne of Ner, ſaying, † Heareſt thou not, Abner? Then Abner anſwered and ſayd, Who art thou that crieſt to the King?

† Heb. Anſwereſt,

15 ¶ And Dauid ſaid to Abner, Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Iſrael? wherefore then haſt thou not kept thy Lord the King? for there came one of the folke in to deſtroy the king thy lord.

f Eſteemed moſt valiant and meete to ſaue the King.

16 This is not well done of thee: as the Lord liueth, yee are ‖ worthy to die, becauſe yee haue not kept your maſter the Lords anointed: and now ſee where the Kings ſpeare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

† Heb. ſonnes of death.

17 And Saul knew Dauids voyce, and ſaid, Is this thy voyce, g my ſonne Dauid? and Dauid ſayd, It is my voyce, my lord, O King.

g Hereby it appeareth, that the hypocrite perſecuted Dauid againſt his owne conſcience, and contrary to his promiſe.

18 And he ſaid, Wherefore doeth my lord thus perſecute his ſeruant? for what haue I done? or what euill is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beſeech thee, let my Lord the King heare the words of his ſeruant, If the Lord haue ſtirred thee vp againſt me, [h] let him ſmel the ſauour of a ſacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, curſed bee they before the Lord: for they haue caſt mee out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, ſaying, Go, ſerue [i] other gods.

h Let his angers toward us be pacified by a ſacrifice.
i As much as lay in them, they compelled him to idolatry, becauſe they forced him to flee to the idolaters.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Iſrael is come out to ſeeke a flea, as one would hunt a partridge in the mountaines.

21 Then ſaid Saul, I haue ſinned: Come againe, my ſonne Dauid: for I will doe thee no more harme, becauſe my ſoule was [k] precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I haue done fooliſhly, and haue erred exceedingly.

k Because thou ſauedſt my life this day.

22 Then Dauid anſwered, and ſayd, Behold the Kings ſpeare, let one of the yong men come ouer and fet it.

23 And let the Lord reward euery man according to his [l] righteouſneſſe and faithfulneſſe: for the Lord had deliuered thee into mine hands this day, but I would not lay mine hand vpon the Lords anointed.

l Thus he proteſteth his innocencie toward Saul, not defending his iuſtice in the ſight of God, in whoſe preſence none is righteous, Pſal. 143. and 130, 3.

24 And behold, like as thy life was much ſet by this day in mine eyes: ſo let my life be ſet by in the eyes of the Lord, that he may deliuer mee out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul ſayd to Dauid, Bleſſed art thou, my ſonne Dauid: for thou ſhalt doe great things, and alſo preuaile. So Dauid went his way, and Saul returned to his [m] place.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achiſh King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 8 Dauid deſtroyeth certaine of the Philiſtims. 10 Achiſh is deceiued by Dauid.

AND Dauid ſaid in his heart, I ſhall now [a] periſh one day by the hand of Saul: is it not better for mee that I ſaue my ſelfe in the land of the Philiſtims, and that Saul may haue no hope of mee to ſeeke mee any more in all the coaſts of Iſrael, and ſo eſcape out of his hand?

a Dauid diſtruſteth Gods protection, and therefore fleeth vnto the idolaters, who were enemies to Gods people.

2 Dauid therefore aroſe, and he, and the ſixe hundreth men that were with him, went vnto Achiſh the ſonne of Maoch king of Gath.

3 And Dauid [b] dwelt with Achiſh at Gath, hee, and his men, euery man with his houſhold, b Thus God by his prouidence changeth the enemies hearts, and maketh them to fauour his in their neceſſity.

Dauid

David with his two wives, Ahinoam the Izreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was told Saul that David was fled to Gath: so he sought no more for him.

5 And David said unto Achish, If I have now found grace in thine eyes, [e] let them give mee a place in some other city of the countrey, that I may dwell there: for why should thy servant dwell in the head-city of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achish gave him Ziklag that same day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth unto the kings of Iudah unto this day.

7 ¶ And † the time that David dwelt in the countrey of the Philistims, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 Then David and his men went up, and invaded the [d] Geshurites, and the Girzites, and the Amalekites: for they inhabited the land from the beginning, from the way, as thou goest to Shur, even unto the land of Egypt.

9 And David smote the land, and left neither man nor woman alive, and tooke sheepe, and oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparell, and returned and came to Achish.

10 And Achish sayd, ‖ Where have yee been a roving this day? And David answered, Against the South of Iudah, and against the South of the [e] Ierahmeelites, and against the South of the Kenites.

11 And David saved neither man nor woman alive, to bring them to Gath, saying, Least they should tell on us, and say, So did David, and so will be his maner all the while that hee dwelleth in the countrey of the Philistims.

12 And Achish beleeved David, saying, ‖ Hee hath made his people of Israel utterly to abhorre him: therefore he shalbe my servant for ever.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 David hath the chiefe charge promised about Achish. 3 Saul consulteth with a witch, and hee causeth him to speake with Samuel. 18 Who declareth his ruine.

NOw at that time the Philistims assembled their bands and armie to fight with Israel: therefore Achish said to David, [a] Be sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battell, thou, and thy men.

2 And David said to Achish, Surely thou shalt know what thy servant can doe. And Achish said to David, Surely I will make thee keeper of mine head for ever.

3 (* Samuel was then dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah his owne citie: and Saul had [b] put away the sorcerers, and the Soothsayers out of the land.)

4 Then the Philistims assembled themselves and came and pitched in Shunem: and Saul assembled all Israel, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul saw the hoaste of the Philistims, he was afrayd, & his heart was sore astonied.

6 Therefore Saul asked counsell of the Lord, and the Lord answered him not, neither by dreames, nor by [c] Urim, nor yet by Prophets.

7 ¶ Then said Saul unto his servants, Seeke me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may goe to her, and aske of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman at En-dor that hath a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saul [d] changed himselfe, and put on other raiment, and hee went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, conjecture unto mee by the familiar spirit, and bring mee him up whom I shall name unto thee.

9 And the woman said unto him, Beholde, thou knowest what Saul hath done, how he hath destroyed the sorcerers, and the soothsayers out of the land: wherefore then seekest thou to take me in a snare tot cause me to die?

10 And Saul sware to her by the Lord, saying, As the Lord liveth, ‖ no harme shall come to thee for this thing.

11 Then said the woman, Whom shall I bring up unto thee? And hee answered, Bring mee up [e] Samuel.

12 And when the woman saw Samuel, shee cried with a loud voyce, and the woman spake to Saul, saying, Why hast thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the king said unto her, Be not afraid: for what sawest thou? And the woman said unto Saul, I saw ‖ gods ascending out of the earth.

14 Then he said unto her, What fashion is hee of? And she answered, An olde man commeth up lapped in a mantle: and Saul knew that it was [f] Samuel, and he inclined his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe.

15 ¶ And Samuel said to Saul, Why hast thou disquieted mee, to bring me up? Then Saul answered, I am in great distresse: for the Philistims make warre against mee, and God is departed from mee, and answereth mee no more, neither † by Prophets, neither by dreames: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayest tell me, what I shall doe.

16 Then said Samuel, Wherefore then doest thou aske of mee, seeing, the Lord is gone from thee, and is thine enemie?

17 Even the Lord hath done to [g] him, as hee spake * by mine ‖ hand: for the Lord will rent the kingdome out of thine hand, and give it thy neighbour David.

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voyce of the Lord, nor executedst his fierce wrath upon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this unto thee this day.

19 Moreover the Lord will deliver Israel with thee into the hands of the Philistims: [h] and to morrow shalt thou and thy sonnes bee with mee, and the Lord shall give the hoast of Israel into the hands of the Philistims.

20 Then Saul fell straightway all along on the earth, and was sore [i] afrayde because of the words of Samuel, so that there was no strength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

21 Then the woman came unto Saul, and saw that he was sore troubled, and said unto him, See, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voyce, and I [k] have put my soule in mine hand, and have obeyed thy words which thou saidest unto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also unto the voyce of thine handmaid, and let mee set a morsell of bread before thee, that thou mayest eate and get thee strength, and goe on thy journey.

23 But he refused and said, I will not eate: but his servants and the woman together compelled him, and he obeyed their voyce: so he arose from the earth, and sate on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she hasted, and killed it, and tooke floure, and kneaded it, and baked of it [l] unleavened bread,

5 Is not this David, of whom they ſang in dances, ſaying, * Saul ſlew his thouſand, & David his ten thouſand?

* Chap. 18, 7. and 21, 11.

6 ¶ Then Achiſh called David, and ſaid unto him, As the Lord liveth, thou haſt beene upright and good in my ſight, when thou d wenteſt out and in with mee in the hoaſte, neither have I found evill with thee, ſince thou cameſt to mee unto this day, but † the princes doe not favour thee.

d That is, waſt converſant with me.

7 Wherefore now returne, and goe in peace, that thou diſpleaſe not the princes of the Philiſtims.

8 ¶ And David ſaid unto Achiſh, But what have I done? and what haſt thou found in thy ſervant as long as I have beene with thee unto this day, that I may e not go and fight againſt the enemies of my Lord the King?

e This diſſimulation cannot be excuſed: for it grieved him to goe againſt the people of God.

9 Achiſh then anſwered and ſayd to David, I know thou pleaſeſt me as an Angel of God: but the princes of the Philiſtims have ſayd, Let him not goe up with us to battell.

10 Wherefore now riſe up early in the morning with thy f maſters ſervants that are come with thee: and when ye be up early, as ſoone as ye have light, depart.

f With them that fled unto thee from Saul.

11 So David and his men roſe up early to depart in the morning, and to returne into the land of the Philiſtims: and the Philiſtims went up to Izreel.

CHAP. XXX.

2 The Amalekites burnt Ziklag. 5 David two wiues are taken priſoners. 6 The people would ſtone him. 8 He aſketh counſell of the Lord, and purſuing his enemies recouereth the pray. 24 He diuideth it equally. 26 And ſendeth part to his friends.

a After that hee departed from Achiſh.

b That is, deſtroyed the citie.

BUt when David and his men were come to Ziklag a the third day, the Amalekites had invaded upon the South, even unto Ziklag, and had b ſmitten Ziklag and burnt it with fire,

2 And had taken the women that were therein, priſoners, both ſmall and great, and ſlew not a man, but caried them away, and went their wayes.

3 ¶ So David and his men came to the citie, and behold, it was burnt with fire, and their ſ wives and their ſonnes, and their daughters were taken priſoners.

c For theſe onely remained in the citie, when the men were gone to warre.

4 Then David and the people that was with him, lift up her voyces and wept, untill they could weepe no more.

5 Davids two wives were taken priſoners alſo, Ahinoam the Izreelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And David was in great ſorrow: for the people d intended to ſtone him, becauſe the hearts of all the people were vexed every man for his ſonnes and for his daughters: but David comforted himſelfe in the Lord his God.

d Thus weefee, that in troubles and adverſitie we doe not conſider Gods Providence, but like raging beaſt forget both our owne duety and contemne Gods appointment over us.

7 ¶ And David ſaid unto Abiather the Prieſt Abimelechs ſonne, I pray thee, bring mee the Ephod. And Abiathar brought the Ephod to David.

8 Then David asked counſell of the Lord, ſaying, Shall I follow after this company? ſhall I overtake them? And he anſwered him, Follow: for thou ſhalt ſurely overtake them, and e recover all.

e Though God ſeeme to leave us for a time, yet if we truſt in him, we ſhalbe ſure to find comfort.

9 ¶ So David and the ſixe hundreth men that were with him, went, and came to the river Beſor, where a part of them abode:

10 But David and foure hundreth men followed (for two hundreth abode behind, being too weary to goe ouer the river Beſor.)

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to David, and gave him f bread, and hee did eate, and they gave him water to drinke.

f God by his prouidence both provided for the neceſſity of this poore ſtranger, and made him a guide to David to accompliſh his enterpriſe.

12 Alſo they gave him a few figges, and two cluſters of raiſins: and when hee had eaten, his ſpirit came againe to him: for hee had eaten no bread, nor drunke any water in three dayes, and three nights.

13 ¶ And David ſaid unto him, To whome belongeſt thou? and whence art thou? And hee ſaid, I am a yong man of Egypt, and ſervant to an Amalekite: and my maſter left me three dayes agoe becauſe I fell ſicke.

14 We roued upon the South of Chereth, and upon the coaſt belonging to Iudah, and upon the South of Caleb, and we burnt Z klag with fire.

15 And David ſaide unto him, Canſt thou bring me to this company? And he ſaid, g Sweare unto my by God, that thou will neither kill mee, nor deliver me into the hands of my maſter, and I will bring thee to this company.

g For others were in all ages had in moſt reverence, even among the heathen.

16 ¶ And when he had brought him thither, behold, they lay ſcattered abroad upon all the earth, h eating and drinking, and dauncing, becauſe of all the great pray that they had taken out of the land of the Philiſtims, and out of the land of Iudah.

h The wicked in their pompe and pleaſures conſider not the iudgement of God, which is then at hand to ſmite them.

17 And David ſmote them from the twilight euen unto the evening i of the next morowe, ſo that there eſcaped not a man of them, ſave foure hundreth yong men, which rode upon camels, and fled.

i Some reade, and unto the morow of the two evenings: that is, three dayes.

18 And David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken: alſo David reſcued his two wives.

19 And they lacked nothing, ſmall or great, ſonne or daughter, or of the ſpoile of all that they had taken away; David recovered them all.

20 David

20 David alſo tooke all the ſheepe, and the oxen, and they drave them before his cattell, and ſaid, This is Davids k pray.

k Which the Amalekites had taken of others, and David from them, beſides the goods of Ziklag.

21 ¶ And David came to the two hundreth men that were too wearie for to follow David: whom they had made alſo to abide at the river Beſor: and they came to meet David, and to meet the people that were with him: ſo when David came neere to the people, hee ſaluted them.

22 Then anſwered all the evill and wicked of the men that went with David, and ſayd, Becauſe they went not with us, therefore will wee give them none of the praye that wee have recovered, ſave to every man his l wife and his children: therefore let them cary them away and depart.

l Vnder theſe are comprehended the cattell and goods, which apperteined to every man.

23 Then ſaid David, Yee ſhall not doe ſo, my brethren, with that which the Lord hath given us, who hath preſerved us, and delivered the company that came againſt us, into our hands.

24 For who will obey you in this matter? but as his part is that goeth downe to the battel, ſo ſhall his part be, that tarieth by the ſtuffe: they ſhall part alike.

25 m So from that day forward he made it a ſtatute and a law in Iſrael, untill this day.

m Some referre theſe words to David, that hee alledged an olde cuſtome and law, as if it were written. it is both now, and hath beene ever.

26 ¶ When David therefore came to Ziklag, hee ſent of the pray unto the Elders of Iudah and to his friends, ſaying, See, there is a bleſſing for you of the ſpoile of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He ſent to them of Beth-el, and to them of South Ramoth, and to them of Iattir, 28 And to them of Aroer, and to them of Siphmoth, and to them of Eſhtemoa,

29 And to them of Rachal, and to them of the cities of the Ierahmeelites, and to them of the cities of the Kenites, n Shewing himſelfe mindfull of their benefits towards him.

30 And to them of Hormah, and to them of Chor-aſhan, and to them of Athach, 31 And to them of Hebron, and n to all the places where David and his men had haunted.

THE SECOND BOOKE of Samuel.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke and the former beare the title of Samuel, becauſe they containe the conception nativitie and the whole courſe of his life, and alſo the lives and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saul and David, whom he anoynted and conſecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the firſt booke containeth thoſe things, which God brought to paſſe among this people vnder the government of Samuel and Saul ſo this ſecond booke declareth the noble actes of David after the death of Saul when hee began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdome: and how the ſame by him was wonderfully augmented: alſo his great troubles and dangers which he ſuſtained both within his houſe and without: whas horrible and dangerous inſurrections, conſpeares and treaſons were wrought againſt him, partly by falſe counſellers, fained friends and flatterers, and partly by ſome of his owne children and people: and how by Gods aſſiſtance he overcame all difficulties, and enioyed his kingdome in reſt and peace. In the perſon of David the Scripture ſetteth forth Chriſt Ieſus the chiefe King, who came of David according to the fleſh, and was perſecuted on every ſide with out ward and inward enemies, as well in his owne perſon, as in his members, but at length hee overcommeth all his enemies, and giveth his Church victorie againſt all power both ſpirituall and temporall: and ſo reigneth with them, King for evermore.

CHAP. I.

4 It was tolde Dauid of Sauls death. 15 He cauſeth him to be ſlaine that brought the tidings. 19 He lamenteth the death of Saul and Ionathan.

AFter the death of Saul, when David was returned from the * ſlaughter of the Amalekites, and had beene two dayes in Ziklag,

2 Beholde, a man came the third day out of the hoſte from Saul with a his cloathes rent, and earth upon his head: and when he came to David, hee fell to the earth, and did obeiſance.

3 Then David ſaid unto him, Whence commeſt thou? And hee ſaid unto him, Out of the hoſte of Iſrael I am eſcaped.

4 And David ſaid unto him, What is done? I pray thee, tell me. Then he ſaid, that the people is fled from the battell, and many of the people are overthrowen, and dead, and alſo Saul and Ionathan his ſonne are dead.

5 And David ſaid unto the young man that tolde it him, How knoweſt thou that Saul and Ionathan his ſonne be dead?

6 Then the young man that told him, anſwered, b As I came to mount Gilboa, behold, Saul leaned upon his ſpeare, and loe, the charets and ‖ horſemen followed hard after him.

7 And when he looked backe, he ſaw me, and called me. And I anſwered, Here am I.

8 And he ſaid unto me, Who art thou? And I anſwered him, I am an c Amalekite.

9 Then ſaid he unto me, I pray thee, † come upon me, and ſlay mee: for anguiſh is come upon me, becauſe my d life is yet whole in me.

10 So † I came upon him, and ſlew him, and becauſe I was ſure that hee could not liue, after that he had fallen, I tooke ŷ crowne that was upon his head and the bracelet that was on his arme, and brought them hither unto my lord.

11 Then David tooke holde on his cloathes, * and rent them, and likewiſe all the men that were with him.

12 And they mourned and wept, and faſted untill even, for Saul and for Ionathan his ſonne, and for the people of the Lord, and for the houſe of Iſrael, becauſe they were ſlaine with the ſword.

13 ¶ e Afterward David ſaid unto the young man that tolde it him, Whence art thou? And he anſwered, I am the ſonne of a ſtranger an Amalekite.

14 And David ſaid unto him, * How waſt thou not afraid, to put foorth thine hand to deſtroy the Anoynted of the Lord?

15 Then David called one of his young men, and ſaid, Goe neere, and fall upon him. And hee ſmote him that he died.

16 Then ſaid David unto him, f Thy blood be upon thine owne head: for thine owne mouth hath teſtified againſt thee, ſaying, I haue ſlaine the Lords Anoynted.

17 ¶ Then David mourned with this lamentation over Saul, and over Ionathan his ſonne.

18 (Alſo hee bade them teach the children of Iuda to g ſhoote, as it is written in the booke of * ‖ Iaſher.)

19 O noble Iſrael, hee is ſlaine upon thy hie places: how are the mighty overthrowen!

20 * Tell it not in Gath, nor publiſh it in the ſtreetes of Aſhkelon, leaſt the daughters of the Philiſtims reioyce, leaſt the daughters of the uncircumciſed triumph.

21 Ye mountaines of Gilboa, upon you be neither dewe nor raine, nor i be there fieldes of offerings: for there the ſhield of the mightie is caſt downe, the ſhield of Saul, as though he had not beene anoynted with oyle.

22 The bow of Ionathan never turned backe, neither did the ſword of Saul returne empty from the blood of the ſlaine, and from the fatte of the mightie.

23 Saul and Ionathan were lovely and pleaſant in their liues, and in their deaths they were not k divided: they were ſwifter then eagles, they were ſtronger then lions.

24 Ye daughters of Iſrael, weepe for Saul, which clothed you in ſkarlet, l with pleaſures, and hanged ornaments of gold upon your apparell.

25 How were the mighty ſlaine in the middes of the battell! O Ionathan, thou waſt ſlaine in thine hie places.

26 Woe is me for thee, my brother Ionathan: very kinde haſt thou beene unto me: thy love to me was wonderfull, paſſing the love of m women: how are the mighty overthrowen, and the weapons of warre deſtroyed!

CHAP. II.

1 David is anoynted King in Hebron. 9 Abner maketh Iſh-boſheth King over Iſrael. 15 The battell of the ſeruants of David and Iſh-boſheth. 32 The buriall of Aſahel.

AFter this, David a asked counſell of the Lord, ſaying, Shall I goe up into any of the cities of Iudah? And the Lord ſaid unto him, Goe up. And David ſaid, Whither ſhall I goe? Hee then anſwered, Unto b Hebron.

2 So David went up thither, and his two wives alſo, Ahinoam the Izreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite,

3 And David brought up the men that were with c him, every man with his houſhold, and they dwelt in the cities of Hebron.

4 ¶ Then the men of Iudah came, and there they anoynted David King over the houſe of Iudah. And they told David, ſaying, * that the men of Iabeſh Gilead buried Saul.

5 And David ſent meſſengers unto the men of Iabeſh Gilead, and ſaid unto them, Bleſſed are yee of the Lord, that yee haue ſhewed ſuch kindneſſe unto your lord Saul, that you haue buried him.

6 Therefore now the Lord ſhewe mercy and d trueth unto you: and I will recompenſe you this benefit, becauſe ye haue done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands bee ſtrong, and be you valiant: albeit your maſter Saul bee dead, yet neverthelеſſe the houſe of Iudah hath anoynted me e King over them.

8 ¶ But Abner the ſonne of Ner that was captaine of Sauls hoſte, tooke Iſh-boſheth the ſonne of Saul, and brought him to Mahanaim, 9 And made him King over Gilead, and over the Aſhurites, and over Izreel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Iſrael.

10 Iſh-boſheth Sauls ſonne was fourtie yeere old when he began to reigne over Iſrael, and reigned two yeere: but the houſe of Iudah followed David.

11 (And the time which David reigned in Hebron over the houſe of Iudah, was ſeven yeere and ſixe g moneths.)

out of Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13 And Ioab the ſonne of Zerviah, and the ſervants of David went out and met one another by the poole of Gibeon: and they ſate downe, the one on the one ſide of the poole, and the other on the other ſide of the poole.

h Let us ſee how they can handle their Weapons.

14 Then Abner ſaid to Ioab, Let the young men now ariſe, and h play before us. And Ioab ſaid, Let them ariſe.

15 Then there aroſe and went over twelve of Beniamin by number, which pertained to Iſh-boſheth the ſonne of Saul, and twelve of the ſervants of David.

i Meaning, his adverſary.

16 And every one caught his i fellow by the head, and thruſt his ſword in his fellowes ſide, ſo they fell downe together: wherefore the place was called ‖ Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

‖ Or, the field of ſtrong men.

17 And the battell was exceeding ſore that ſame day: for Abner and the men of Iſrael k fell before the ſervants of David.

k After that theſe foure and twenty were ſlaine.

18 And there were three ſonnes of Zerviah there, Ioab, and Abiſhai, and Aſahel. And Aſahel was as light on foote as a wilde roe.

19 And Aſahel followed after Abner, and in going he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behind him, and ſaid, Art thou Aſahel? And he anſwered, Yea.

21 Then Abner ſaid, Turne thee either to the right hand or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his ‖ weapons: but Aſahel would not depart from him.

‖ Or, ſpoile.

22 And Abner ſaid to Aſahel, Depart from mee: l wherefore ſhould I ſmite thee to the ground? how then ſhould I be able to hold up my face to Ioab thy brother?

l Why doeſt thou provoke me to kill thee?

23 And when hee would not depart, Abner with the hinder end of the ſpeare ſmote him under the m fift rib, that the ſpeare came out behinde him: and hee fell downe there, and dyed in his place. And as many as came to the place where Aſahel fell downe, and dyed, ſtood ſtill.

m Some reade, in thoſe partes, where as the lively parts lie: as the heart, the lungs, the liver, the milt, and the gall.

24 Ioab alſo and Abiſhai purſued after Abner: and the ſunne went downe when they were come to the hill Ammah, that lieth before Giah by the way of the wildernesſe of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Beniamin gathered themſelves together after Abner, and were on an heape, and ſtood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Ioab, and ſaid, Shall the n ſword devoure for ever? knoweſt thou not, that it will be bitternesſe in the latter end? how long then ſhall it bee, or thou bid the people returne following their brethren?

n Shall we not make an end of murthering?

27 And Ioab ſaid, As God liveth, if thou hadſt not o ſpoken, ſurely even in the morning the people had departed every one backe from his brother.

o If thou hadſt not provoked them to battell, as verſe 14.

28 ¶ So Ioab blew a trumpet, and all the people ſtood ſtill, and purſued after Iſrael no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night through the ‖ plaine, and went over Iorden, and paſſed through all Bithron till they came ‖ to Mahanaim.

‖ Or, wilderneſſe. ‖ Or, to the tents.

30 Ioab alſo returne backe from Abner: and when hee had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Davids ſervants nineteene men, and Aſahel.

31 But theſe ſervants of David had ſmitten of Beniamin, and of Abners men, ſo that there p hundreth and threeſcore men dyed.

p Thus God would confirme David in his kingdome by the deſtruction of his adverſaries.

32 And they tooke up Aſahel, and buried him in the ſepulchre of his father, which was in Bethlehem: and Ioab and his men went all night, and when they came to Hebron, the day aroſe.

CHAP. III.

1 Long warre betweene the houſes of Saul and David. 2 The children of David in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to David. 27 Ioab killeth him.

THere was then a long warre betweene the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David: but David waxed ſtronger, and the houſe of Saul waxed weaker.

a That is, without intermiſſion endu-ring two yeeres, which was the whole reigne of Iſh-boſheth.

2 ¶ And unto David were children borne in Hebron: and his eldeſt ſonne was Ammon of Ahinoam the Izreelite.

3 And his ſecond, was b Chileab of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: and the third, Abſalom the ſonne of Maachah the daughter of Talmai the king of Geſhur.

b Who is called alſo Daniel. 1.Chron 3.1.

4 And the fourth, Adonijah the ſonne of Haggith: and the fifth, Shephatiah the ſonne of Abital:

5 And the ſixt, Ithream by Eglah Davids wife: theſe were borne to David in c Hebron.

c Within ſeven yeeres and ſixe monthes.

6 ¶ Now while there was warre betweene the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David, Abner made all his power for the houſe of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Rizpah, the daughter of Aijah. And Iſh-boſheth ſayd to Abner, Wherefore haſt thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Iſh-boſheth, and ſaid, Am I a d dogs head, which againſt Iudah do ſhew mercy this day unto the houſe of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his neighbours, and haue not delivered thee into the hand of David, that thou chargeſt mee this day with a fault concerning this woman?

d Doeſt thou eſteeme me no more then a dog, for all my ſervice done to thy fathers houſe?

9 e So doe God to Abner, and more alſo, except, as the Lord hath ſworne to David, even ſo I doe to him.

e We ſee how the wicked can not abide to be admoniſhed of their faults, but ſeeke their diſpleaſure, which goe about to bring them from their wickednes.

10 To remoove the kingdom from the houſe of Saul, that the throne of David may bee ſtabliſhed over Iſrael, and over Iudah, even from Dan to Beer-ſheba.

11 And hee durſt no more anſwere to Abner: for he feared him:

‖ Or, ſecretly.

12 ¶ Then Abner ſent meſſengers to David ‖ on his behalfe, ſaying, Whoſe is the land? who ſhould alſo ſay, Make covenant with me, and behold, mine hand ſhall be with thee, to bring all Iſrael unto thee.

13 Who ſaid, Well, I will make a covenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that thou ſee not my face, except thou bring Michal Sauls daughter when thou commeſt to ſee me.

14 ¶ Then David ſent meſſengers to Iſh-boſheth Sauls ſonne, ſaying, Deliver me my wife Michal, which I married for * an hundreth foreſkins of the Philiſtims.

* 2.Sam.18.25. 27.

15 And Iſh-boſheth ſent, and tooke her from her husband * Phaltiel the ſonne of Laiſh.

* 1.Sam.25.44.

16 And her husband went with her, and came weeping behind her, unto Bahurim: then ſaid Abner unto him, Goe, and returne. So he returned.

f Rather for malice that he bare toward Iſh-boſheth, then for loue he bare to David.

17 ¶ And Abner had f communication with the Elders of Iſrael, ſaying, Ye ſought for David in in times past, that he might be your King.

18 Now then doe it: for the Lord hath spoken of David, saying, By the hand of my servant David I will save my people Israel out of the hands of the Philistims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

† Ebr. in the eares of Beniamin.

19 Also Abner spake † to Beniamin, and afterward Abner went to speake with David in Hebron, concerning all that Israel was content with, and the whole g house of Beniamin.

g Who chalenged the Kingdom, because of their father Saul.

20 So Abner came to David to Hebron, having twenty men with him, and David made a feast unto Abner, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abner said unto David, I will rise up, and goe gather all Israel unto my lord the King, that they may make a covenant with thee, and that thou mayest reigne over all that thine heart desireth. Then David let Abner depart, who went ‖ in peace.

‖ Or, without harme.

22 ¶ And behold, the servants of David and Ioab came h from the campe, and brought a great pray with them (but Abner was not with David in Hebron: for he had sent him away, and he departed in peace.)

h From warre against the Philistims.

23 When Ioab, and all the host that was with him were come, men told Ioab, saying Abner the sonne of Ner came to the King, and hee hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioab came to the King, and sayd, i What hast thou done? behold, Abner came unto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and hee is departed?

i Here appeareth the malicious mind of Ioab, who would have had the King to slay Abner for his private grudge.

25 Thou knowest Abner the sonne of Ner: for he came to deceive thee, and to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doest.

26 ¶ And when Ioab was gone out from David, hee sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Sirah unknowing to David.

27 And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, * Ioab tooke him aside in the gate to speake with him ‖ peaceably, and smote him under the fift rib, that hee dyed, for the blood of * Asahel his brother.

* 1 King. 2.5.
‖ Or, secretly.
* Chap. 2.23.

28 ¶ And when afterward it came to Davids eare, he said, I and my Kingdome are k guiltlesse before the Lord for ever, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner.

k The Lord knoweth that I did not consent to his death.

29 Let the blood fall on the head of Ioab, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Ioab be never without sonne that haue runing issues, or leper, or that leaneth on a staffe, or that doeth fall on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Ioab and l Abishai his brother slew Abner, because hee had slaine their brother Asahel at Gibeon in battel.)

l Abishai is said to slay him with Ioab, because he consented to the murther.

31 And David sayd to Ioab, and to all the people that were with him, Rent your clothes, and put on sackecloath, and mourne m before Abner: and King David himselfe followed the beare.

m Meaning, before the corps.

32 And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, the King lift up his voyce, and wept beside the sepulchre of Abner, and all the people wept.

33 And the King lamented over Abner, and said, Dyed Abner n as a foole dyeth?

n He declareth that Abner dyed not as a wretch or vile person, but as a valiant man might doe, being traiterously deceived by the wicked.

34 Thine hands were not bound, nor thy feete tyed in fetters of brasse; but as a man falleth before wicked men, so diddest thou fall. And all the people wept againe for him.

35 Afterward all the people came to cause David eate o meate while it was yet day, but David sware, saying, So doe God to mee and more also, if I taste bread, or ought els till ꝑ sunne be downe.

o According to their custome, which was to banquet at burials.

36 And all the people knew it, and it p pleased them: as whatsoever the King did, pleased all the people.

p It is expedient sometime not onely to conceive inward sorow, but also that it may appeare to others, to the intent that they may be satisfied.

37 For all the people and all Israel understood that day, how that it was not the Kings deed that Abner the sonne of Ner was slaine.

38 And the King said unto his servants, Know ye not, that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?

39 And I am this day weake and newly anoynted King: and these men the sonnes of Zerviah be too ‖ hard for me: the Lord reward the doer of evill according to his wickednesse.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Baanah and Rechab slay Ish-bosheth the sonne of Saul.
12 David commandeth them to be slaine.

A Nd when Sauls a sonne heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, then his hands were b feeble, and all Israel was afraid, a That is, Ish-bosheth.

b Meaning, that he was discouraged.

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bands: the one called Baanah, and the other called Rechab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Beerothite of the children of Beniamin: (for c Beeroth was reckoned to Beniamin, c This city Beeroth was in the tribe of Beniamin, Ioſh. 18. 25.

3 Because the Beerothites fled to d Gittaim, and soiorned there, unto this day.)

d After the death of Saul, for feare of the Philistims.

4 And Ionathan Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his feete: he was five yeere olde when the tidings came of Saul and Ionathan out of Israel: then his nourse tooke him, and fled away, And as shee made haste to flee, the child fell, and began to halte, and his name was Mephibosheth.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah went and came in the heate of the day to the house of Ish-bosheth (who slept on a bed at noone.)

6 And behold, Rechab and Baanah his brother came into the middes of the house, as they e would have wheate, and they f smote him under the fift rib, and fled.

e They disguised themselves as marchants, which came to buy wheate.
f There is nothing so vile and dangerous, which the wicked will not enterprise in hope of lucre and favour.

7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bed in his bed chamber, & they smote him, and slew him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away through the ‖ plaine all the night.

‖ Or, wildernesse.

8 And they brought the head of Ish-bosheth unto David to Hebron, and said to the king, Behold the head of Ish-bosheth Sauls sonne thine enemie, who sought after thy life: and the Lord hath avenged my Lord the King this day of Saul, and of his seede.

9 Then David answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said unto them, As the Lord liveth, who hath delivered my soule out of all adversitie,

* Chap. 1.15.
g Forasmuch as neither the example of him that slew Saul, nor duetie to their master nor the innocency of the person, nor reverence of the place, nor time did moove them, they deserved most grievous punishment.

10 When one * tolde mee, and sayd that Saul was dead, (thinking to haue brought good tidings) I tooke him and slew him in Ziklag, who thought that I would haue given him a reward for his tidings:

11 How g much more when wicked men haue slaine a righteous person in his owne house, and upon his bed? shall I not now therefore require his blood at your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 Then David commanded his young men, & they slew them, and cut off their hands and their feete, and hanged them up over the poole in Hebron: but they tooke the head of Ish-bosheth, and burieth it in the sepulchre of * Abner in Hebron.

CHAP. V.

3 David is made King over all Israel. 7 Hee taketh the fort of Zion. 19 He asketh counsell of the Lord. 23 And overcommeth the Philistims twise.

THen * came all the tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and said thus, Beholde, we are thy a bones and thy flesh.

* 1.Chron.11.1.

a Wee are of thy kinred, and most neere ioyned unto thee.

2 And in time past when Saul was our King, thou leddest Israel in and out: and the Lord hath said to thee, * Thou shalt feede me people Israel, and thou shalt be a captaine over Israel.

* Psal.78.71.

3 So all the Elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron: and King David made a covenant with them in Hebron b before the Lord, and they anoynted David King over Israel.

b That is, taking the Lord to witnesse: for the Arke was as yet in Abinadabs house.

4 ¶ David was thirtie yeere olde when he began to reigne: and he reigned fortie yeere.

5 In Hebron hee reigned over Iudah * seven yeere, and sixe moneths: and in Ierusalem hee reigned thirty and three yeeres over Israel and Iudah.

* Chap.2.11.

5 ¶ The King also and his men went to Ierusalem unto the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land: who spake unto David, saying, Except thou take away the c blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking that David could not come thither.

c The children of God called idoles blinde and lame guides: therefore the Iebusites meant that they should proove that their gods were neither blinde nor lame.

7 But David tooke the fort of Zion: this is the citie of David.

8 Now David had said theame day, Whosoever smiteth the Iebusites, and getteth up to the gutters and smiteth the lame and blinde, which Davids soule hateth, I will preferre him: * therefore they said, The blinde and the lame shall not d come into that house.

* 2.Chron.11.6.

d The idoles should enter no more into that place.

9 So David dwelt in that fort, and called it the citie of David, and David built round about it, from e Millo, and inward.

e He built from the towne house round about to his owne house, 2.Chron.11.8.

10 And David prospered and grewe: for the Lord God of hostes was with him.

11 ¶ Hiram also king of † Tyrus sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they built David an house.

† Hir, Zor.

12 Then David knew that the Lord had stablished him King over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

13 And David tooke him moe * concubines and wives out of Ierusalem, after he was come from Hebron, and moe sonnes and daughters were borne to David.

* 2.Chron.3.9.

* 1.Chron.3.5.

14 * And these be the names of the sonnes, that were borne unto him in Ierusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, and Nathan, and Salomon,

15 And Ibhar, and Elishua, and Nepheg, and Iaphia, 16 And Elishama, and Eliada, and Eliphalet.

* 1.Chron.14.3. and 11,16.

17 ¶ * But when the Philistims heard that they had anoynted David king over Israel, all the Philistims came up to seeke David: and when David heard, he went downe to a fort.

18 But the Philistims came, and f spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.

19 Then David f asked counsell of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up to the Philistims? wilt thou deliver them into mine hands? And the Lord answered David, Goe up: for I will doubtlesse deliver the Philistims into thine hands.

f By Abiathar the Priest.

20 ¶ * Then David came to Baal-perazim, and smote them there, and said, The Lord hath diuided mine enemies asunder before me, as waters be divided asunder: therefore he called the name of that place, ‖ Baal-perazim.

* Isa.28.21.

‖ Or, the plaine of diuisions.

21 And there they left their images, and David and his men * burnt them.

22 Againe the Philistims came up, and spread themselves in the valley of g Rephaim.

* 2.Chron.14.12.

23 And when David asked counsell of the Lord, hee answered, Thou shalt not goe up, but turne about behinde them, and come upon them over against the mulberie trees.

g Meaning, the valley of giants, which David called Baal-perazim, because of his victorie.

24 And when thou heareſt the noise of one going in the tops of the mulberie trees, then remoove: for then shall the Lord go out before thee to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

25 Then David did so as the Lord had commanded him, and smote the Philistims from Geba, untill thou come to h Gazer.

h Which was in the tribe of Benjamin, but the Philistims did possesse it.

CHAP. VI.

3 The Arke is brought forth of the house of Abinadab. 7 Vzzah is stricken, and dieth. 14 Dauid danceth before it, 16 and is therefore despised of his wife Michal.

AGaine David gathered together all the ‖ chosen men of Israel, even thirtie thousand,

‖ Or, chiefe.

2 * And David arose, and went with all the people that were with him from a Baale of Iudah, to bring up from thence the Arke of God, whose Name is called by the Name of the Lord of hoastes, that dwelleth upon it betweene the Cherubims.

* 1.Chron.13.5,6.

a This was a city in Iudah called also Kiriath-iearim, Iosh.15.9.

3 And they put the Arke of God upon a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Abinadab that was in b Gibeah. And Vzzah and Ahio the sonnes Abinadab did drive the new cart.

b Which was an hie place of the city of Baale.

4 And when they brought the Arke of God out of the house of * Abinadab, that was at Gibeah, Ahio went before the Arke.

* 1.Sam.7,1.

5 And David and all the house of Israel c played before the Lord on all instruments made of firre, and on harpes, and on Psalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals.

c Prayſed God, and sang Psalmes.

6 ¶ * And when they came to Nachons threshing floore, Vzzah put his hand to the Arke of God, and held it: for the oxen did shake it.

* 1.Chron.13.10.

7 And the Lord was very wroth with Vzzah, and God d smote him in the same place for his fault, and there he dyed by the Arke of God.

d Here wee see what danger it is to follow good intentions or to doe any thing in Gods service without his expresse Word.

8 And David was displeased because the Lord had † smitten Vzzah: and he called the name of the place ‖ Perez-Vzzah untill this day.

† Or, made a breach.

‖ Or, the diuision of Vzzah.

9 Therefore David that day feared the Lord, and said, How shall the Arke of the Lord come to me?

10 So David would not bring the Arke of the Lord unto him into the city of David, but David caried it into the house of Obed-edom e a Gittite.

e Who was a Livite, and had dwelt in Gittaim, 1.Chron. 15.21.

11 And the Arke of the Lord continued in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite, three moneths, and the Lord blessed Obed-edom, and all his household.

12 And one tolde King David, saying, * The Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that hee hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore

* 1 Chron.15.25.

therefore David went and [f] brought the Arke of God from the house of Obed-edom, into the citie of David with gladnesse.

13 And when they that bare the Arke of the Lord had gone sixe paces, he offered an oxe, and a fat beast.

14 And David danced before the Lord with all his might, & was girded with a linnen [g] Ephod.

15 So David and all the house of Israel brought the Arke of the Lord with shouting, and sound of trumpet.

16 And as the Arke of the Lord came into the citie of David, Michal Sauls daughter looked through a window, and sawe King David leape, and dance before the Lord, and she [h] despised him in her heart.

17 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, in the mids of the Tabernacle that David had pitched for it: then David offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings before the Lord.

18 And assoone as David had made an ende of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, he * blessed the people in the Name of the Lord of hoastes, 19 And gave among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Israel, aswell to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine: so all the people departed every one to his house.

20 ¶ Then David returned to [i] blesse his house, & Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meete David, and said, O how glorious was the King of Israel this day, which was uncovered to day in the eyes of the maidens of his servants, as a ‖ foole uncovereth himselfe!

21 Then David sayd unto Michal, It was before the Lord, which chose me rather then thy father, and all his house, and commaunded mee to bee ruler over the people of the Lord, even over Israel: and therefore will I play before the Lord.

22 And will yet bee more vile then thus, and will bee low in mine owne sight, and of the very same maid servants, which thou hast spoken of, shall I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Michal the daughter of Saul had [l] no childe unto the day of her death.

a David would build God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathan. 8 God putteth David in minde of his benefits. 12 He promiseth continuance of his kingdome and posteritie.

AFterward * when the King sate in his house, and the Lord had given him rest round about from all his enemies,

2 The King said unto Nathan the Prophet, Behold, now I dwell in an house of cedar trees, and the Arke of God remaineth within the [a] curtaines.

3 Then Nathan said unto the king, Goe, and doe all that is in thine heart: for the Lord is with thee

4 ¶ And the same night the word of the Lord came unto Nathan, saying,

5 Goe and tell my servant David, Thus saith the Lord, [b] Shalt thou build mee an house for my dwelling?

6 For I have dwelt in no house since the time that I brought the children of Israel out of Egypt unto this day, but have walked in a tent and a tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I have walked with all the children of Israel, spake I one [c] word with any of the tribes of Israel when I commanded the Iudges to feed my people Israel? or said I, Why build ye not me an house of cedar trees?

8 Now therefore so say unto my servant David, Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, * I tooke thee from the sheepe-coate following the sheepe, that thou mightest bee ruler over my people, over Israel.

9 And I was with thee whereſoever thou hast walked, and have destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and have made thee a [d] great name, like unto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant it, that they may dwell in a place of their owne, and moove [e] no more, neither shall wicked people trouble them any more as beforetime, 11 And since the time that I set Iudges over my people of Israel) and I will give thee rest from all thine enemies: also the Lord telleth thee, that he will make thee an house.

12 * And when thy dayes be fulfilled, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and I will set up thy seede after thee, which shall proceede out of thy body, and will stablish his kingdome.

13 * Hee shall build an house for my Name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdome for ever.

14 * I will be his father, and he shall bee my sonne: and if he * sinne, I will chasten him with the [f] rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men.

15 But my mercy shall not depart away from him, and I tooke it from Saul whom I have put away before thee.

16 And thine house shalbe stablished and thy kingdome for ever before thee, even thy throne shalbe [g] stablished for ever.

17 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, Nathan spake thus unto David.

18 ¶ Then King David went in, and sate before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lord God, therefore thou hast spoken also of thy servants house for a great while: but † doeth this appertaine to [h] man, O Lord God?

20 And what can David say more unto thee? for thou, Lord God, knowest thy servant.

21 * For thy words sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowen unto thy servant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our eares.

23 * And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel? whose God went and redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and doe for i you great things, and terrible for k thy land, O Lord, even for thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt from the l nations, and their gods?

1 David overcommeth the Philistims, and other strange nations, and maketh them tributaries to Israel.

AFter * this now, David smote the Philistims and subdued them, and David tooke ‖ the bridle of bondage out of the [a] hand of the Philistims.

2 And hee smote Moab, and measured them with a cord, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with [b] two cords to put them to death, and with one full cord to keepe them alive: so became the Moabites Davids servants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ David smote also Hadadezar the sonne of Rehob king of Zobah, as he went to ‖ recover his border at the river † Euphrates.

4 And David tooke of them a thousand and seven hundreth horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and David ‖ destroyed all the charets, but he reserved an hundreth charets of them.

5 ¶ Then came the ‖ Aramites of ‖ Dammesek to succour Hadadezar king of Zobah, but David slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand men.

6 And David put a garison in [c] Aram of Dammesek: and the Aramites became servants to David, [d] and brought gifts. And the Lord saved David whereſoever he went.

7 And David tooke the shields of golde that belonged to the servants of Hadadezer, & brought them to [e] Ierusalem.

8 And out of Betah, and Berothai (cities of Hadadezer) king David brought exceeding much brasse.

9 ¶ Then Toi king of ‖ Hamath heard how David had smitten all the hoste of Hadadezer.

9 David restoreth all the lands of Saul to Mephibosheth the sonne of Ionathan. 10 He appointeth Ziba to see to the profit of his lands.

AND David said, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him mercie for [a] Ionathans sake?

2 And there was of the houshold of Saul a servant whose name was Ziba, and when they had called him unto David, the king said unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he said, I thy servant am he.

3 Then the King said, Remaineth there yet none of the house of Saul, on whom I may shew the [b] mercie of God? Ziba then answered the King, Ionathan hath yet a sonne * lambe of his feete.

CHAP. X.

4 The meſſengers of David are villanouſly entreated of the king of Ammon. 7 Ioab is ſent againſt the Commonites.

AFter this the * King of the children of Ammon died, and Hanun his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

* 1.Chron.19.1.

2 Then ſaide David, I will ſhewe kindneſſe unto Hanun the ſonne of Nahaſh, as his father a ſhewed kindneſſe unto mee. And David ſent his ſervants to comfort him for his father. So Davids ſervants came into the lande of the children of Ammon.

a The children of God are not unmindfull of a benefit received.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid vnto Hanun their lord, † Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father, that he hath ſent comforters to thee? hath not David rather ſent his ſervants unto thee, b to ſearch the city, and to ſpie it out, and to overthrow it?

† Ebr. in their eyes doeth David.

b Their arrogant malice would not ſuffer them to ſee the ſimplicitie of Davids heart: therefore their counſel turned to the deſtruction of their countrey.

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Davids ſervants, and ſhaved off the halfe of their beard, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 ¶ When it was tolde unto David, he ſent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly aſhamed) and the king ſaid, Tary at Iericho, untill your beards be growen, then returne.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon ſawe that they c ſtanke in the ſight of David, the children of Ammon ſent and hired the ‖ Aramites of the houſe of Rehob, and the Aramites of Zoba, twentie thouſand footmen, and of king Maacah a thouſand men, and of Iſh-tob twelve thouſand men.

c That they had deſerved Davids diſpleaſure, for the injurie done to his ambaſſadours.

‖ Or, Syrians.

7 And when David heard of it, he ſent Ioab, and all the hoaſte of the ſtrong men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out and put their armie in aray at the entring in of the gate, and the Aramites of d Zoba, and of Rehob, and of Iſh-tob, and of Maacah were by themſelves in the field.

d Theſe were diverſ parts of the countrey of Syria, whereby appeareth that the Syrians ſerved where they might have entertainment, as now the Switzers doe.

9 When Ioab ſaw that the front of the battell was againſt him before and behind, he choſe of all the choiſe of Iſrael, and put them in aray againſt the Aramites.

10 And the reſt of the people, he delivered into the hand of Abiſhai his brother, that hee might put them in aray againſt the children of Ammon.

11 And he ſaid, If the Aramites be ſtronger then I, thou ſhalt helpe me: and if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, I will come and ſuccour thee.

e Here is declared wherefore warre ought to be undertaken: of the defence of true religion and Gods people.

12 Be ſtrong and let us be valiant for e our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord doe that which is good in his eyes.

13 Then Ioab, and the people that was with him, joyned in battell with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon ſawe that the Aramites fled, they fled alſo before Abiſhai, and entred into the city. So Ioab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Ieruſalem.

15 ¶ And when the Aramites ſaw that they were ſmitten before Iſrael, they gathered them together.

‖ Or, Hadarezer.

16 And ‖ Hadadezer ſent, and brought out the Aramites that were beyond the ‖ River: and they came to Helam, and Shobach the captaine of the hoaſte of Hadadezer vvent before them.

‖ Or, Euphrates.

17 When it was ſhewed David, then he gathered all Iſrael together, and paſſed over Iorden, and came to Helam: and the Aramites ſet themſelves in aray againſt David, and fought with him:

f Meaning, the greateſt part.

18 And the Aramites fled before Iſrael: and David deſtroyed g ſeven hundreth charets of the Aramites and fourtie thouſand horſemen, and ſmote Shobach the captaine of his hoaſte, who died there.

g Which were the cheefeſt and moſt principall: for in all he deſtroyed 7000. as 1.Chron.19.18. of the ſouldiers which were in 700. charets.

19 And when all the kings, that vvere ſervants to Hadadezer, ſaw that they fell before Iſrael, they made peace with Iſrael, and ſerved them. And the Aramites feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

AND when the yeare was a expired in the time when kings goe foorth to battell, David ſent * Ioab, and his ſervants with him, and all Iſrael, who deſtroyed the children of Ammon, and beſieged Rabbah: but David remained in Ieruſalem.

a The yeare following about the ſpring-time.

* 1.Chron.20.1.

2 And when it was evening-tide, David aroſe out of his b bed, and walked upon the roofe of the kings palace: and from the roofe hee ſawe a woman waſhing her ſelfe: and the woman was very beautifull to looke upon.

b Whereupon he uſed to reſt at afternoone. as was tend of Iſh-boſheth, Chap.4.7.

3 And David ſent and inquired what woman it was: and one ſaid, Is not this Bath-ſheba the daughter of Eliam, wife to Uriah the c Hittite?

c Who was not an Iſraelite borne, but converted to the true religion.

4 Then David ſent meſſengers, and tooke her away: and ſhee came unto him and hee lay with her: (now ſhee was * purified from her uncleanneſſe) and ſhe returned unto her houſe.

* Levit.15.19. and 18.19.

5 And the woman conceived: therefore ſhee ſent and d told David, and ſaid, I am with childe.

d Fearing leaſt ſhe ſhould be ſtoned according to the Law.

6 ¶ Then David ſent to Ioab, ſaying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Ioab ſent Uriah to David.

7 And when Uriah came unto him, David demanded him how Ioab did, and how the people fared, and how the warre proſpered.

8 Afterward David ſaide to Uriah, e Goe downe to thine houſe, and waſh thy feet. So Uriah departed out of the kings palace, and the king ſent a preſent after him.

e David thought that if Vriah lay with his wife, his fault might be cloked.

9 But Uriah ſlept at the doore of the kings palace with all the ſervants of his lord, and went not downe to his houſe.

10 Then they told David, ſaying, Uriah went not downe to his houſe: and David ſayd unto Uriah, Commeſt thou not from thy journey? why dieſt thou not goe downe to thine houſe?

11 Then Uriah anſwered David, f The Arke and Iſrael, and Iudah dwell in tents: and my lord Ioab and the ſervants of my lord abide in the open fields: ſhall I then goe into mine houſe to eat and drinke, and lie with my wife? by thy life, and by the life of thy ſoule, I will not doe this thing.

f Hereby God would touch Davids conſcience, that ſeeing the fidelitie and religion of his ſervant, he would declare himſelfe ſo forgetfull of God, and injurious to his ſervant.

12 Then David ſaid unto Uriah, Tary yet this day, and to morow I will ſend thee away. So Uriah aboade in Ieruſalem that day, and the morrow, 13 Then David called him, and he did eate and drinke before him, and he made him g drunke: and at even he went out to lie on his couch with the ſervants of his lord, but went not downe to his houſe.

g He made him drinke more liberally then he was woont to doe, thinking hereby he would have lien by his wife,

14 And on the morow David wrote a letter to Ioab, and ſent it by the hand of Uriah,

15 And

15 And he wrote ‖ thus in the letter, h Put yee Uriah in the forefront of the strength of the battell, and recule yee backe from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

16 ¶ So when Ioab besieged the city, hee assigned Uriah unto a place, where hee knew that strong men were.

17 And the men of the city came out, and fought with Ioab: and there fell of the people of the servants of David, and Uriah the Hittite also dyed.

18 Then Ioab sent and tolde David all the things concerning the warre.

19 ¶ And hee charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast made an ende of telling all the matters of the warre unto the King,

CHAP. XII.

1 David reprooved by Nathan, confesseth his sinne. 18 The childe conceived in adultery, dieth. 24 Salomon is borne. 29 Rabbah is taken. 31 The citizens are grievously punished.

a Because David lay now drowned in sinne, the loving mercie of God, which suffereth not his to perish, waketh his conscience by this similitude, and bringeth him to repentance.

THen the Lord sent a Nathan unto David, who came to him, and said unto him, There were two men in one citie, the one rich, and the other poore.

2 The rich man had exceeding many sheepe and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, save one little sheepe which he had bought and nourished up: and it grew up with him, and with his children also, and did eate of his owne morsels, and dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bosome, and was unto him as his daughter.

§ Or, wayfaring man.

‖ Or, sparted.

4 Now there came a ‖ stranger unto the rich man, who ‖ refused to take of his owne sheepe, and of his owne oxen to dresse for the stranger that was come unto him, but tooke the poore mans sheepe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 Then ‖ David was exceeding wroth with the man, and said unto Nathan, As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this thing, § shall surely die.

‖ Ebr. the anger of David was kindled by her in the Infin. of death.

6 And hee shall restore the lambe * foure fold, becausse he did this thing, and had no pitie thereof.

* Exod. 22. 1.

7 Then Nathan said to David, Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, * I anoynted thee King over Israel, and delivered thee out of the hand of Saul.

* 1. Sam. 16. 13.

8 And gaue thee thy lords b house, and thy lords c wives into thy bosome, and gave thee the house of Israel, and of Iudah, and would moreover (if that had beene too little) have given thee d such and such things.

b For David succeeded Saul in his kingdome c The Iewes vnderstand this of Eglah and Michal, or of Rizpah and Michal.

d That is, greater things than these for Gods love and benefits sacred vnto him, if by their ingratitude they slay him not.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to doe evill in his sight? thou hast killed Uriah the Hittite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sword of the e children of Ammon.

e Thou hast most cruelly given him in to the hands of Gods enemies.

10 Now therefore the sword shall never depart from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus said the Lord, Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thine owne house, and will * take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this f sunne.

* Deut. 28. 30. Chap. 16. 22.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I will doe this thing before all Israel, and before the sunne.

f Meaning, openly, as at noone dayes.

13 Then David said unto Nathan, * I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, The Lord also hath g put away thy sinne, thou shalt not die.

* Ecclus. 47. 11.

g For the Lord seeketh but that the sinner would turne to him.

14 Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to h blaspheme, the childe that is borne unto thee, shall surely die.

h In saying, that the Lord hath appointed a wicked man to reigne over his people.

15 ¶ So Nathan departed unto his house: and the Lord stroke the childe that Uriahs wife bare unto David, and it was sicke.

16 David therefore besought God for the childe, and fasted, and i went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

i To wit, to his privie chamber.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose to come unto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did hee eate k meate with them.

k Thinking by his instant prayer that God would have restored his child, but God hath otherwise determined.

18 So on the seventh day the childe died: and the servants of David feared to tell him that the childe was dead: for they said, Behold, while the childe was alive, we ‖ spake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voyce: how then shall wee say unto him, The childe is dead, ‖ to vexe him more?

‖ Ebr. and he will doe himselfe evill.

19 But when David saw that his servants whispered, David perceived that the childe was dead: therefore David said unto his servants, Is the childe dead? And they sayd, He is dead.

20 Then David l arose from the earth, and washed and anoynted himselfe, and changed his apparell, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshipped, and afterward came to his own house, and bade that they should set bread before him, and he did eate.

l Shewing that our lamentations ought not to be excessive, but moderate: and that we must prayse God in all his doings.

21 Then m said his servants unto him, What thing is this that thou hast done? thou diddest fast and weepe for the childe while it was alive, but when the childe was dead, thou diddest rise up, and eate meate.

m As they which considered not that God granteth many things to the desires and teares of the faithfull, 22 And hee ſaid, While the childe was yet aliue, I faſted, and wept: for I ſaid, Who can tell vvhether God wil haue mercy on me, that the child may liue?

23 But now being dead, wherefore ſhould I now faſt? a Can I bring him againe any more? I ſhall goe to him, but he ſhall not returne to mee.

24 ¶ And Dauid comforted Bath-ſheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, * and ſhe bare a ſonne, and o hee called his name Salomon, alſo the Lord loued him.

25 For the Lord had ſent † by Nathan the p Prophet: therefore q * he called his name Iedidiah, becauſe the Lord loued him.

26 ¶ Then Ioab fought againſt Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and tooke the ‖ citie of the Kingdome.

27 Therefore Ioab ſent meſſengers to Dauid, ſaying, I haue fought againſt Rabbah, and haue taken the citie of r waters.

28 Now therefore, gather the reſt of the people together, and beſiege the citie, that thou maieſt take it, leaſt † the victorie be attributed to me.

29 So David gathered all the people together, and went againſt Rabbah, and beſieged it, and tooke it.

30 * And hee tooke their kings crowne from his head, (which weighed a ſ talent of gold, with precious ſtones) and it was ſet on Dauids head: and hee brought away the ſpoile of the citie in exceeding great abundance.

31 And hee carried away the people that was therein, and put them vnder t ſawes, and vnder yron harrowes, and vnder axes of yron, and caſt them into the tile-kilne: euen thus did hee with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then David and all the people returned vnto Ieruſalem.

a By this conſideration he appeaſed his ſorrow.

14 Amnon Dauids ſonne defileth his ſiſter Tamar. 20 Tamar is comforted by her brother Abſalom. 29 Abſalom therefore killeth Amnon.

NOw after this, ſo it was, that Abſalom the ſonne of David having a fayre ſiſter, whoſe name vvas a Tamar, Amnon the ſonne of David loued her.

2 And Amnon was ſo ſore vexed, that he fell ſicke for his ſiſter Tamar: for ſhe was a b virgin, and it ſeemed hard to Amnon to doe any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Ionadab, the ſonne of Shimeah Davids brother: and Ionadab was a very ſubtill man,

4 Who ſaid vnto him, Why art thou, the kings ſonne, ſo leane from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? Then Amnon anſwered him, I love Tamar my brother Abſaloms ſiſter.

5 And Ionadab ſaid vnto him, c Lie downe on thy bed, and make thy ſelfe ſicke: and when thy father ſhall come to ſee thee, ſay vnto him, I pray thee let my ſiſter Tamar come, and giue mee meat, and let her dreſſe meat in my ſight, that I may ſee it, and eat it of her hand.

6 ¶ So Amnon lay downe, and made himſelfe ſicke: and when the king came to ſee him, Amnon ſaid vnto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my ſiſter come, and make me a couple of d cakes in my ſight, that I may receiue meat at her hand.

7 Then David ſent home to Tamar, ſaying, Goe now to thy brother Amnons houſe, and dreſſe him meate, b And therefore kept in her fathers houſe, as virgins were accuſtomed.

c Here wee ſee that there is no enterpriſe ſo wicked that can lacke counſell to further it.

d Meaning, ſome delicate and deintie meats.

8 ¶ So Tamar went to her brother Amnons houſe, and he lay downe: and ſhee tooke ‖ floure, and knead it, and made cakes in his ſight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And ſhee tooke a pan, and e powred them out before him, but he would not eat. Then Amnon ſaid, Cauſe yee every man to goe out from f mee: ſo every man went from him.

10 Then Amnon ſaid vnto Tamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eate of thine hand. And Tamar tooke the cakes which ſhe had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when ſhe had ſet them before him to eat, hee tooke her, and ſaid vnto her, Come, lie with mee, my ſiſter.

12 But ſhe anſwered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force mee: for no ſuch thing * ought to be done in Iſrael: commit not this folly.

13 And I, † whither ſhall I cauſe my ſhame to goe? and thou ſhalt be as one of g the fooles in Iſrael: now therefore I pray thee ſpeake to the king, for hee will not denie me vnto thee.

14 Howbeit hee would not hearken vnto her voice, but being ſtronger then ſhee, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, ſo that the hatred wherewith hee hated her, was greater then the love wherewith hee had loued her: and Amnon ſaid vnto her, Up, get thee hence.

16 And ſhe anſwered him, † There is no cauſe: this evill (to put me away) is greater then ỹ other that thou diddeſt vnto me: but hee would not heare her.

17 But called his † ſervant that ſerved him, and ſaid, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the doore after her.

18 (And ſhee had a garment of h divers colours vpon her: for with ſuch garments were the Kings daughters that were virgins, apparelled) Then his ſervant brought her out, and locked ỹ doore after her.

19 And Tamar put aſhes on her head, and rent the garment of divers colours which was on her, and laide her hand on her head, and went her way, crying.

20 And Abſalom her brother ſayd vnto her, Hath Amnon thy brother beene with thee? Now yet bee ‖ ſtill, my ſiſter: hee is thy brother: let not this thing griene thine heart. So Tamar remained deſolate in her brother Abſaloms houſe.

21 ¶ But when King David heard all theſe things, he was very wroth.

13 Then the woman said, Wherefore then hast thou g thought such a thing against the people of God? or why doeth the King, as one which is faultie, speake this thing, that hee will not bring againe his banished?

g Why doest thou giue contrary sentence in thy sonne Absalom?

14 For we must needs die, and we are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up againe: neither doeth God ‖ spare any person, yet doeth hee appoint h meanes, not to cast out from him, him that is expelled.

‖ Or, accept.

h God hath provided wayes (as sanctuaries) to save them off times, whom man judgeth worthy death.

15 Now therefore, that I am come to speake of this thing unto my lord the King, the cause is that the people i haue made me afraid: therefore thine handmayd said, Now will I speake unto the King: it may be that the king will performe the request of his handmayd.

i For I thought they would kill this mine heire.

16 For the king will heare, to deliver his handmayd out of the hand of the man that would destroy mee, and also my sonne from the inheritance of God.

17 Therefore thine handmayd saith, The word of my lord the king shall now be † comfortable: for my lord the King is even as an k Angel of God in hearing of good and bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

† Ebr. rest.

k Is of great wisdome to discerne right from wrong.

18 Then the king answered, and said unto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speake.

19 And the king said, Is not l the hand of Ioab with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, and said, As thy soule liveth, my lord the King, I will not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for even thy servant Ioab bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmayd.

l Hast not thou done this by the counsell of Ioab?

20 For to the intent that I m should change the forme of speech, thy servant Ioab hath done this thing, but ‖ my lord is wise according to the wisdome of an Angel of God, to understand all things that are in the earth.

m By speaking rather in a parable then plainely.

‖ Or, none can hide ought from the King.

21 ¶ And the king said unto Ioab, Behold now, I have [n] done this thing, goe then, and bring the yong man Absalom againe.

22 And Ioab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe and [†] thanked the King. Then Ioab said, This day thy servant knoweth, that I haue found grace in thy sight, my lord the king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his servant.

23 ¶ And Ioab arose, and went to Geshur, and brought Absalom to Ierusalem.

24 And the King said, Let him [o] turne to his owne house, and not see my face. So Absalom turned to his owne house, and saw not the kings face.

25 Now in all Israel there was none to be so much praised for beauty as Absalom: from the sole of his foote even to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for at every yeares end he polled it: because it was too heavy for him, therefore hee polled it) hee weighed the haire of his head as two hundreth [p] shekels by the kings weight.

27 And Absalom had three sonnes, and one daughter named Tamar, which was a faire woman to looke upon.

28 ¶ So Absalom dwelt the space of two yeares in Ierusalem, and saw not the kings face.

29 Therefore Absalom sent for Ioab to send him to the King, but he would not come to him: and when he sent againe, he would not come.

30 Therefore he said unto his servants, Behold, Ioab hath a [‖] fielde by my place, and hath barley therein: go and set it [q] on fire: and Absaloms servants set the field on fire.

31 Then Ioab arose, and came to Absalom unto his house, and sayd unto him, Wherefore haue thy servants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Absalom answered Ioab, Behold, I sent for thee, saying, Come thou hither, and I will send thee to the king, for to say, Wherefore am I come from Geshur? It had bene better for me to haue bene there still: now therefore let mee see the kings face: and [r] if there be any trespasse in mee, let him kill mee.

33 Then Ioab came to the king, and told him: and hee called for Absalom, who came to the king, and bowed himselfe to the ground on his face before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.

1 The practises of Absalom to aspire to the kingdome. 14 David and his flee. 31 Davids prayer. 34 Hushai is sent to Absalom to discover his counsell.

[†] After this, Absalom prepared him charets, and horses, and fifty men to [a] runne before him.

2 And Absalom rose up early, and stood hard by the entring in of the gate: and every man that had any [‖] matter, and came to the king for judgement, him did Absalom call unto him, and sayde, Of what city art thou? And hee answered, Thy servant is of one of the [b] tribes of Israel.

3 Then Absalom sayd unto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man, deputed of the king to heare thee.

4 Absalom said moreover, [c] Oh that I were made Iudge in the land, that every man which hath any matter of controversie, might come to mee, that I might doe him justice.

5 And when any man came neare to him, and did him obeysance, hee put foorth his hand, and tooke him, and kissed him.

6 And on this manner did Absalom to all Israel, that came to the King for judgement: so Absalom [d] stale the hearts of the men of Israel.

7 ¶ And after [e] fourtie yeares, Absalom said unto the King, I pray thee, let mee go to Hebron, and render my vowe which I have vowed unto the Lord.

8 For thy servant vowed a vowe when I remained at Gesthur, in Aram, saying, If the Lord shall bring mee againe indeed to Ierusalem, I will [f] serve the Lord.

9 And the King said unto him, Goe in peace. So he arose, and went to Hebron.

10 ¶ Then Absalom sent spyes throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When yee heare the sound of the trumpet, ye shall say, Absalom reigneth in Hebron.

11 ¶ And with Absalom went two hundreth men out of Ierusalem, that were [g] called: and they went in their simplicitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Absalom sent for Ahithopel the Gilonite Davids counseller, from his city Giloh, while hee offered sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people [†] encreased still with Absalom.

13 ¶ Then came a messenger to David, saying, The hearts of the men of Israel are turned after Absalom.

14 Then David said unto all his servants that were with him at Ierusalem, Up, and let us flee: for wee shall not escape from [h] Absalom: make speede to depart, least he come suddenly and take us, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

15 And the kings servants said unto him, Behold, thy servants are ready to do according to all that my lord the king shall [†] appoint.

16 So the king departed and all his household [†] after him, and the king left ten concubines to keepe the house.

17 And the king went foorth and all the people after him, and taried in a [‖] place [i] farre off.

18 And all his servants went about him, and all the [k] Cherethites and all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites, even sixe hundreth men which were come after him from Gath, went before the king.

19 Then said the King to [l] Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore commest thou also with us? Returne and abide with the King, for thou art a stranger, depart thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou camest yesterday, and should I cause thee to wander to day and goe with us? I will go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and cary againe thy [m] brethren: mercie and [n] trueth be with thee.

21 And Ittai answered the King, and said, As the Lord liveth, and as me lord the king liveth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there surely will thy servant be.

22 Then David said to Ittai, Come, and goe forward. And Ittai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and [o] all the people went forward, but the King passed over the brooke Kidron: and all the people went over toward the way of the wildernesse.

24 ¶ And loe, Zadok also was there, and all the Levites with him, [p] bearing the Arke of the covenant of God: and they set downe the Arke of God, and Abiathar went [q] up untill the people were all come out of the city.

§ The counsell of the crafty worldlings doth more harme then the open force of the enemie.

32 ¶ Then David came to the top of the mount where he worshipped God: and behold, Hushai the Archite came against him with his coate torne, and having earth upon his head.

33 Vnto whom David sayd, If thou goe with me, thou shalt be a burden unto me.

34 But if thou returne to the citie, and say unto Absalom, I will be thy ᵘ servant, O King (as I have beene in time past thy fathers servant, so will I now be thy servant) then thou mayest bring me the counsell of Ahithophel to nought.

ᵘ Though Hushai dissembled here at the Kings request, yet may we not use this example to excuse our dissimulation.

35 And hast thou not there with thee Zadok and Abiathar the Priests? therefore whatsoever thou shalt heare out of the Kings house, thou shalt shew to Zadok and Abiathar the Priests.

36 Behold, there are with them their two sonnes: Ahimaaz Zadoks sonne, and Ionathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shall yee send mee every thing that ye can heare.

37 So Hushai Davids friend went into the citie: and Absalom came into Ierusalem.

‖ Or, figge cakes.

ᵇ Commonly there are no viler traitors then they, which vnder pretence of friendship accuse others.

3 And the King said, But where is thy masters sonne? Then Ziba answered the King, Behold, he remaineth in Ierusalem: for he said, This day shall the house of Israel restore me the kingdome of my father.

* 1 Sam. 24. 15. and Chap. 3. 8.

10 ¶ But the King sayd, What have I to doe with you, yee sonnes of Zeruiah? for he curseth even because the Lord hath ᶠ bidden him curse David: who dare then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

ᶠ David felt that this was the iudgment of God for his sinne and therefore humbleth himselfe to his rod.

11 And David said to Abishai, and to all his servants, Behold, my sonne which came out of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: then how much more now may this sonne of Ieemini? Suffer him to curse: for the Lord hath bidden him.

12 It may bee that the Lord will looke on ‖ mine affliction, and ᵍ doe me good for his cursing this day.

‖ Or, my teares.

ᵍ Meaning, that the Lord will send comfort to his when they are oppressed.

13 And as David and his men went by the way, Shimei went by the side of the mountaine over against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came the King and all the people that were with him weary, and refreshed themselves ʰ there.

ʰ To wit, at Bahurim.

15 ¶ And Absalom, and all the people the men of Israel, came to Ierusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

16 And when Hushai the Archite, Davids friend, was come unto Absalom, Hushai sayd unto Absalom, ‖ God saue the King, God saue the King.

‖ Ebr. let the king live.

17 Then Absalom sayd to Hushai, Is this thy kindnesse to thy ⁱ friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 Hushai then answered unto Absalom, Nay, but whom the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Israel chuse, his will I be, and with them will I dwell.

19 And ‖ moreover, unto whom shall I doe service? not to his sonne? as I served before thy father, so will I before thee.

20 ¶ Then spake Absalom to Ahithophel, Giue counsell what we shall doe.

21 And ᵏ Ahithophel sayd unto Absalom, Go in to thy fathers concubines, which hee hath left to keepe the house: and when all Israel shall heare that thou art abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shall be strong.

ᵏ Suspecting the change of the Kingdome, and so his owne overthrow, he giveth such counsel as might most hinder his fathers reconciliation: and also declare to the people that Absalom was in highest authority.

22 So they spread Absalom a tent upon the top of the house, and Absalom went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counſell of Ahithophel which he counſelled in thoſe dayes, was like as one had aſked counſell at the oracle of God: ſo was all the counſell of Ahithophel both with David and with Abſalom.

3 And I will bring againe all the people unto thee, and when all ſhall returne, (b the man whom thou ſeekeſt being ſlaine) all the people ſhall be in peace.

b Meaning, David.

4 And the ſaying † pleaſed Abſalom well, and all the Elders of Iſrael.

7 Huſhai then anſwered unto Abſalom, The counſell that Ahithophel hath given, is not c good at this time.

c Huſhai ſheweth himſelfe faithfull to David in that hee reproveth this wicked counſell and purpoſe.

8 For, ſaid Huſhai, thou knoweſt thy father, and his men, that they be ſtrong men, and are chafed in minde as a beare robbed of her whelps in the field: alſo thy father is a valiant warriour, and will not ‖ lodge with the people.

‖ Or, tary all night.

† Ebr. melt.

11 Therefore my counſell is, that all Iſrael be gathered unto thee, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba as the ſand of the Sea in number, and that thou go to battell in thine owne perſon.

12 So ſhall wee come upon him in ſome place, where we ſhall find him, and ‖ wee will upon him as the dew falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, wee will not leave him one.

‖ Or, we will campe againſt him.

13 Moreover, if he be gotten into a city, then ſhall all the men of Iſrael bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, vntill there be not one ſmall ſtone found there.

14 ¶ Then Abſalom and all the men of Iſrael ſaid, The counſell of Huſhai the Archite, is better, then the counſell of Ahithophel: for the Lord had ‖ determined to deſtroy the d good counſell of Ahithophel, that the Lord might e bring evill upon Abſalom.

‖ Or, commanded.
d That counſell which ſeemed good at the firſt to Abſalom, verſ. 4.
e For by the counſell of Huſhai, hee went to the battell, where he was deſtroyed.

15 Then ſaid Huſhai unto Zadok and to Abiathar the Prieſts, Of this and that manner did Ahithophel and the Elders of Iſrael counſell Abſalom: and thus and thus haue I counſelled.

16 Now therefore ſend quickely, and ſhew David, ſaying, Tarie not this night in the fields of the wilderneſſe, but rather get thee f over, leaſt the king be deuoured, and all the people that are with him.

f That is, over Iorden.

17 ¶ Now Ionathan and Ahimaaz aboade by g En-rogel: (for they might not be ſeene to come into the city) and a maid went, and told g them, and they went and ſhewed king David.

‖ Or, the well of Rogel.
g Meaning, the meſſage from their fathers.

18 Nevertheleſſe, a young man ſaw them, and told it to Abſalom. Therefore they both departed quickely, and came to a mans houſe in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And h the wife tooke and ſpread a covering over the wells mouth, and ſpread grounde corne thereon, that the thing ſhould not be knowen.

h Thus God ſendeth ſuccour to his, in their greateſt dangers.

20 And when Abſaloms ſervants came to the wife into the houſe, they ſaid, Where is Ahimaaz and Ionathan? And the woman anſwered them, They bee gone over the i brooke of water. And when they had ſought them, and could not finde them, they returned to Ieruſalem.

i The Chalde text readeth: Now they have paſſed the Iorden.

21 And aſſoon as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king David, and ſaid unto him, Vp, and get you quickly over the water: for k ſuch counſell hath Ahithophel given againſt you.

k To wit, to purſue thee with all haſte.

22 Then David aroſe, and all the people that were with him, and they went over Iorden i vntill the dawning of the day, ſo that there lacked not one of them, that was not come over Iorden.

l They travelled all night, and by morning had all their company paſſed over.

23 ¶ Now when Ahitophel ſaw that his counſell was not followed, hee ſadled his aſſe, and aroſe, and hee went home unto his city, and put his houſhould in order, and m hanged himſelfe, and died, and was buried in his fathers grave.

m Gods juſt vengeance even in this life is powred on them which are enemies, traitours, or perſecutours of his Church.

24 ¶ Then David came to Mahanaim. And Abſalom paſſed over Iorden, hee, and all the men of Iſrael with him.

25 And Abſalom made Amaſa captaine of the hoaſte in the ſtead of Ioab: which Amaſa was a mans ſonne named Ithra, an Iſraelite, that went in to Abigail the daughter of n Nahaſh, ſiſter to Zerviah Ioabs mother.

n Who was alſo called Iſhai Davids Father.

26 So Iſrael and Abſalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And when David was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the ſonne of Nahaſh out of Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and Machir the ſonne of Ammiel out of Lo-debar, and Barzelai the Gileadite out of Rogel,

28 o Brought beds, and baſens, and earthen veſſels, and wheat, and barley, and floure, and parched corne, and beanes, and lentiles, and parched corne, o God ſheweth himſelfe moſt liberall to his, when they ſeeme to be vtterley deſtitute.

29 And they brought hony, and butter, and ſheepe, and cheeſe of kine for David, and for the people that were with him, to eat: for they ſaid, The people is hungry, and wearie, and thirſtie in the wilderneſſe.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 David diuideth his armie into three parts. 9 Abſalom is hanged, ſtaine, and caſt into a pit. 33 David lamenteth the death of Abſalom.

THen David a numbred the people that were with him, and ſet over them captaines of thouſands, and captaines of hundreds.

a For certaine of the Reubenites, Gadites, and of the halfe tribe, could not beare the inſolencie of the ſonne againſt the father, and therefore ioyned with David,

2 And David ſent foorth the third part of the people under the hand of Ioab, and the third part part under the hand of Abiſhai Ioabs brother, the ſon of Zeruiah: and the other third part under the hand of Ittai the Gittite. And the King ſaid unto the people, I will goe with you my ſelfe alſo.

3 But the people anſwered, Thou ſhalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not regard us, neither will they paſſe for us, though halfe of us were ſlaine: but thou art b now worth ten thouſand of us: therefore now it is better that thou ſuccour us out of the citie.

b Signifying that a good governour ought to be ſo deare unto his people, that they will rather looſe their lives, then that ought ſhould come unto him.

4 Then the King ſaid unto him, What ſeemeth you beſt, that will I doe. So the king ſtood by the gate ſide, and all the people came out by hundreths and by thouſands.

5 And the king commanded Ioab and Abiſhai, and Ittai, ſaying, Entreate the yong man Abſalom gently for my ſake. And all the people heard when the King gave all the Captains charge concerning Abſalom.

6 So the people went out into the fielde to meete Iſrael, and the battell was in the c wood of Ephraim:

c So called, becauſe the Ephraimites (as ſome ſay) fed their cattell beyond Iorden in this wood.

7 Where the people of Iſrael were ſlaine before the ſervants of David: ſo there was a great ſlaughter that day, even of twentie thouſand.

8 ¶ For the battell was ſcattered over all the countrey: and the wood devoured much more people that day then did the ſword.

9 ¶ Now Abſalom met the ſervants of David, and Abſalom rode upon a mule, and the mule came under a great thicke oke: and his heade caught hold of the oke, and he was taken up ‖ betweene the heaven and the earth: and the mule that was vnder him went away.

‖ This is a terrible example of Gods vengeance againſt them that are rebels or diſobedient to their parents.

10 And one that ſaw it, told Ioab, ſaying, Behold, I ſaw Abſalom hanged in an oake.

11 Then Ioab ſaid unto the man that tolde him, And haſt thou indeed ſeene? Why then didſt not thou there ſmite him to the ground, and I would have given thee ten * ſhekels of ſilver, and a girdle?

* Gen. 23, 15.

12 Then the man ſaid unto Ioab, Though I ſhould † receive a thouſand ſhekels of ſilver in mine hand, yet would I not lay mine hand upon the Kings ſonne: for in our hearing the King charged thee, and Abiſhai, and Ittai, ſaying, Beware leaſt any touch the yong man Abſalom.

13 If I had done it, it had beene † the danger of my life: for nothing can be hid from the King: yea, thou thy ſelfe wouldeſt have beene againſt me.

14 Then ſaid Ioab, I will not thus tarie with thee. And he tooke three darts in his hand, and thruſt them † through Abſalom, while he was yet a live in the mids of the oake.

† Ebr. in the heart of Abſalom.

15 And ten ſervants that bare Ioabs armour, compaſſed about and ſmote Abſalom, and ſlewe him.

16 Then Ioab d blew the trumpet, and the people returned from purſuing after Iſrael: for Ioab held backe the people.

d For he had pity of the people, which was ſeduced by Abſaloms flattery.

17 And they tooke Abſalom, and caſt him into a great e pit in the wood, and laid a mightie great heape of ſtones upon him: and all Iſrael fled every one to his tent.

e Thus God turned his vaine glory to ſhame.

18 Now Abſalom in his life time had taken and reared him up a pillar, which is in the * Kings dale: for he ſaid, I have no f ſonne to keepe my name in remembrance: and he called the pillar after his owne name, and it is called unto this day, Abſaloms place.

* Gen 14, 17.

f It ſeemed that God had puniſhed him in taking away his children, Chap. 14, 27.

19 ¶ Then ſaid Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok, I pray thee, let mee runne and beare the King tidings that the Lord hath † delivered him out of the hand of his enemies.

† Ebr. iudged.

20 And Ioab ſayd unto him, Thou g ſhalt not bee the meſſenger to day, but thou ſhalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou ſhalt beare none: for the Kings ſonne is dead.

g For Ioab bare a good affection to Ahimaaz and doubted how David would take the report of Abſaloms death.

21 Then ſayd Ioab to Cuſhi, Go tell the King what thou haſt ſeene. And Cuſhi bowed himſelfe unto Ioab, and ranne.

22 Then ſaid Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok againe to Ioab, What, I pray thee, if I alſo runne after Cuſhi? and Ioab ſayd, Wherefore now wilt thou runne my ſonne, ſeeing that thou haſt no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Then hee ſayd unto him, Runne. So Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plaine, and overwent Cuſhi.

24 Now David ſate betweene the two h gates. And the watchman went to the top of the gate upon the wall, and lift up his eyes, and ſawe, and behold, a man came running alone.

h He ſate in the gate of the city of Mahanaim.

25 And the watchman cried, and told the king. And the King ſayd, If he be alone, † hee bringeth tidings. And he came apace, and drew neere.

† Ebr. tidings are in his mouth.

26 And the watchman ſaw another man running, and the watchman called unto the porter, and ſayd, Behold, another man runneth alone. And the King ſaid, He alſo bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman ſaid, † Me thinketh the running of the foremoſt is like the running of Ahimaaz, the ſonne of Zadok. Then the King ſayd, Hee is a i good man, and commeth with good tidings.

‖ Ebr. I ſee the running.

i Hee had experience of his fidelity Chap. 17, 21.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and ſayd unto the King? Peace be vnto thee: and he fell downe to the earth upon his face before the King, and ſayd, Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who hath ‖ ſhut up the men that lift up their hands againſt my Lord the King.

‖ Or, delivered up.

29 And the King ſayd, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe? And Ahimaaz anſwered, When Ioab ſent the Kings k ſervant, and me thy ſervant, I ſaw a great tumult, but I knew not what.

k To wit, Cuſhi, who was an Ethiopian.

30 And the King ſayd unto him, Turne aſide, and ſtand here: ſo he turned aſide, and ſtood ſtill.

31 And behold, Cuſhi came, and Cuſhi ſayd, † Tidings my lord the King: for the Lord hath delivered thee this day out of the hand of all that roſe againſt thee.

† Ebr. tidings is brought.

32 Then the king ſayd unto Cuſhi, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe? And Cuſhi anſwered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that riſe againſt thee to doe thee hurt, be as that young man is.

33 And the king was l mooved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and as hee went, thus he ſaid, O my ſonne Abſalom, my ſonne, my ſonne Abſalom, would God I had died for thee, O Abſalom, my ſonne, my ſonne.

l Becauſe he conſidereth both the iudgement of God againſt his ſinne, and could not otherwiſe hide his fatherly affection toward his ſonne.

CHAP. XIX.

7 Ioab encourageth the king. 8 Iſrael is reſtored. 23 Shimei is pardoned. 24 Mephiboſheth meeteth the king. 36 Barzillai departeth. 41 Iſrael ſtriveth with Iudah.

AND it was told Ioab, Behold, the king weepeth and mourneth for Abſalom.

2 Therefore the ‖ victory of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard ſay that day, The king ſoroweth for his ſonne.

‖ Ebr. ſalvation, or deliverance.

3 And

3 And the people went that day into the citie ‖ secretly, as people confounded hide themselves when they flee in battell.

‖ Or, by ſtealth.

4 So the King [a] hid his face, and the king cried with a loud voyce, My ſonne Abſalom, Abſalom my ſonne, my ſonne.

a At they do that mourne.

5 Then Ioab came into the [b] houſe to the King, and ſayd, Thou haſt ſhamed this day the faces of all thy ſervants, which this day have ſaved thy life, and the lives of thy ſonnes, and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines.

b At Mahanaim.

6 In that thou loveſt thine enemies, and hateſt thy friends: for thou haſt declared this day, that thou regardeſt neither thy ‖ princes, nor ſervants: therefore this day I perceive, that if Abſalom had lived, and we all had died this day, that then it would have † pleaſed thee well.

‖ Or, captaines.

7 Now therefore up, come out, and ſpeake † comfortably unto thy ſervants: for I ſweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there will not tary one man with thee this night: and that will be worſe unto thee, then all the evill that fell on thee from thy youth hitherto.

† Ebr. to the heart of thy ſervant.

8 Then the king aroſe, and ſate in the [c] gate: and they told unto all the people, ſaying, Behold, the king doeth ſit in the gate: and all the people came before the king: for Iſrael had fled every man to his tent.

c Where the moſt reſort of the people haunted.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at [d] ſtrife throwout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, The King ſaved us out of the hand of our enemies, and hee delivered us out of the hande of the Philiſtims, and now he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

d Every one blamed another and ſtrove who ſhould firſt bring him home.

10 And Abſalom, whom we anoynted over us, is dead in battell: therefore why are ye ſo ſlow to bring the king againe?

11 But King David ſent to Zadok and to Abiathar the [e] Prieſts, ſaying, Speake unto the Elders of Iudah, and ſay, Why are yee behinde to bring the King againe to his houſe (for the ſaying of all Iſrael is come unto the King, even to his houſe.)

e That they ſhould reproove the negligence of the Elders, ſeeing the people were ſo forward.

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my fleſh are ye: Wherefore then are ye the laſt that bring the King againe?

13 Alſo ſay yee to Amaſa, Art thou not my bone and my fleſh? God doe ſo to mee, and more alſo, if thou be not captaine of the hoaſte to me for ever in the [f] roome of Ioab.

f By this policie David thought that by winning of the captaine, he ſhould have the hearts of all the people.

14 So hee bowed the hearts of all the men of Iudah, as of one man: therefore they ſent to the King, ſaying, Returne thou with all thy ſervants.

15 ¶ So the king returned, and came to Iorden. And Iudah came to Gilgall, for to goe to meete the king, and to conduct him over Iorden.

16 ¶ And [g] Shimei the ſonne of Gera, the ſonne of Iemini, which was of Bahurim, haſted and came downe with the men of Iudah to meete king David.

g Who had before reviled him, Chap. 16, 13.

17 And a thouſand men of Beniamin with him, and * Ziba the ſervant of the houſe of Saul, and his fifteene ſonnes and twenty ſervants with him: and they went over Iorden before the king.

* Chap. 16, 2.

18 And there went over a boate to cary over the kings houſhold, and to do him pleaſure. Then Shimei the ſonne of Gera fell before the king, when he was come over Iorden,

* Chap. 16, 15. h For in his adverſitie he was his moſt cruell enemie, and now in his proſperitie, ſeeketh by flattery to creepe into favour.

19 And ſaid unto the king, Let not my lord impute * wickednes unto mee, nor remember the thing that thy ſervant did [h] wickedly when my lord the King departed out of Ieruſalem, that the king ſhould take it to his heart.

20 For thy ſervant doeth knowe, that I have done amiſſe: therefore behold, I am the firſt this day of all the houſe of [i] Ioſeph that am come to goe downe to meete my lord the king.

i By Ioſeph hee meaneth Ephraim, Manaſſeh and Beniamin, whereof he was: becauſe theſe three were under one ſtandard, Num. 2, 18.

21 But Abiſhai the ſonne of Zeruiah anſwered, and ſaid, Shall not Shemei die for this, becauſe he curſed the Lords anoynted?

22 And David ſaid, What have I to doe with you, ye ſonnes of Zerviah, that this day ye ſhould be adverſaries unto me? ſhall there any man die this day in Iſrael? for doe not I know that I am this day king over Iſrael?

23 Therefore the king ſaid unto Shimei, Thou ſhalt not [k] die, and the king ſware unto him.

k By my hands, or during my life, as reade 1. King. 2, 8, 9.

24 ¶ And Mephiboſheth the ſonne of Saul came downe to meete the king, and had neither waſhed his feete, nor dreſſed his beard, nor waſhed his cloathes from the time the king departed, untill he returned in peace.

25 And when [l] he was come to Ieruſalem, and met the king, the king ſaid unto him, Wherefore wenteſt not thou with me, Mephiboſheth?

l When Mephiboſheth being at Ieruſalem had met the King.

26 And he anſwered, My lord the King, my ſervant deceived me: for thy ſervant ſaid, I would have mine aſſe ſadled to ride thereon, for to goe with the king, becauſe thy ſervant is lame.

27 And he hath * accuſed thy ſervant unto my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an [m] angel of God: doe therefore thy pleaſure.

* Chap. 16, 3.

28 For all my fathers houſe were [n] but dead men before my lord the king, yet diddeſt thou ſet thy ſervant among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therefore have I yet to crie any more unto the king?

m Able for his wiſdom to iudge in all matters.

n Worthy to die for Sauls cruelty toward thee.

29 And the king ſaid unto him, Why ſpeakeſt thou any more of thy matters? I have ſaid, Thou and Ziba, divide the [o] lands.

o David did evill in taking his lands from him before he knew the cauſe: but much worſe, that knowing the truth he did not reſtore them.

30 And Mephiboſheth ſaide unto the king, Yea, let him take all, ſeeing my lord the king is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillai the Gileadite came downe from Rogelim, and went over Iorden with the king, to conduct over Iorden.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, even foureſcore yeere olde, and hee had provided the king of ſuſtenance, while hee lay at Mahanaim; for hee was a man of very great ſubſtance.

33 And the king ſaid unto Barzillai, Come over with mee, and I will feede thee with mee in Ieruſalem.

34 And Barzillai ſaid unto the king, † Howe long have I to live, that I ſhould goe up with the king to Ieruſalem?

† Ebr. how many dayes are the yeeres of my life?

35 I am this day foureſcore yeere olde; and can I diſcerne betweene good or evill? Hath thy ſervant any taſte in that I eat, or in that I drinke? Can I heare any more the voyce of the ſinging men and women? wherefore then ſhould thy ſervant be any more a [p] burthen unto my lord the king?

p He thought it not meete to receive benefits of him to whom he was not able to do ſervice againe.

36 Thy ſervant will goe a little away over Iorden with the king, and why will the king recompenſe it me with ſuch a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy ſervant turne backe againe, that I may die in mine owne citie, and be buried in the grave of my father and of my mother; but behold thy ſervant [q] Chimham, let him goe with my lord the King, and doe to him what ſhall pleaſe thee.

q My ſonne.

38 And the king anſwered, Chimham ſhall go with with mee, and I will doe to him that thou ſhalt be content with: and whatſoever thou ſhalt ‖ require of mee, that I will doe for thee.

‖ Or, chuſe.

39 So all the people went over Iorden: and the king paſſed over: and the king kiſſed Barzillai, and ‖ bleſſed him, and he returned unto his owne place.

‖ Or, bade him fare well.

40 ¶ Then the king went to [r] Gilgal, and Chimham went with him, and all the people of Iudah conducted the king, and alſo halfe the people of [f] Iſrael.

r Where the tribe of Iudah tarried to receive him.

f Which had taken part with the King.

41 And behold, all the men of Iſrael came to the king, and ſaid unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Iudah ſtollen thee away, and haue brought the king and his houſhold, and all Davids men with him over [t] Iorden?

t Toward Ieruſalem.

42 And all the men of Iudah anſwered the men of Iſrael, Becauſe the king is neare of kinne to us: and wherefore now be ye angry for this matter? haue we eaten of the kings coſt, or have we taken any bribes?

43 And the men of Iſrael anſwered the men of Iudah, and ſaid, Wee haue ten parts in the king, and haue alſo more right to David then yee: why then did yee diſpiſe us, ‖ that our adviſe ſhould not be firſt had in reſtoring our king? And the words of the men of Iudah were fiercer then the words of the men of Iſrael.

‖ Or, haue not we firſt ſpoken to bring home the King? Verſe 11.

CHAP. XX.

1 Sheba raiſeth Iſrael againſt David. 10 Ioab killeth Amaſa traiterouſly. 22 The head of Sheba is deliuered to Ioab. 23 Davids chiefe officers.

THen there was come [a] thither a wicked man (named Sheba the ſonne of Bichri, a man of Iemini) and hee blew the trumpet, and ſaid, Wee haue no part in [b] David, neither haue we inheritance in the ſonne [c] of Iſhai, every man to his tents, O Iſrael.

a Where the ten tribes contended againſt Iudah.

b As they of Iudah ſay.

c Hee though by ſpeaking contemptuouſly of the King, to ſtirre the people rather to ſedition, or elſe by cauſing Iſrael to depart, though that they of Iudah would haue leſſe eſteemed him.

2 So every man of Iſrael went from David and followed Sheba the ſonne of Bichri: but the men of Iudah cleave faſt unto their King, from [d] Iorden even to Ieruſalem.

d For Gilgal, which were neere Iorden

3 When David then came to his houſe to Ieruſalem, the king tooke the ten women his * concubines, that he had left behind him to keepe the houſe, and put them in ward, and fed them, but lay no more with them: but they were encloſed unto the day of their death, living in widowhood.

* Chap. 16, 22.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the King to [e] Amaſa, Aſſemble mee the men of Iudah within three dayes, and be thou here preſent.

e Who was his chiefe captaine in Ioabs roome, Chap. 19, 13.

5 So Amaſa went to aſſemble Iudah, but hee taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

6 Then David ſaid to Abiſhai, Now ſhall Sheba the ſonne of Bichri do us more harme then did Abſalom: take thou therefore thy [f] lords ſervants and follow after him, leaſt he get him walled cities, and eſcape us.

f Either them which had beene under Ioab or Davids men.

7 And there went out after him Ioabs men, and the * Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men: and they departed out of Ieruſalem, to follow after Sheba the ſonne of Bichri.

* Chap. 8, 18.

8 When they were at the great ſtone, which is in Gibeon, Amaſa went before them, and Ioabs [g] garment that he had put on, was girded unto him, and upon it was a ſword girded, which hanged on his loynes in the ſheath, and as he went, it uſed to fall out.

g Which was his coate, that he vſed to weare in the warres.

9 And Ioab ſayde to Amaſa, Art thou in † health, my brother? and Ioab tooke Amaſa by the beard with the right hand to kiſſe him.

† Ebr. peace.

10 But Amaſa tooke no heede to the ſword that was n Ioabs hand: for therewith hee ſmote him in the fifth rib, and ſhed out his bowels to the ground, and † ſmote him not the ſecond time: ſo he died: then Ioab and Abiſhai his brother followed after Sheba the ſonne of Bichri.

† Ebr. doubled not his ſtroke.

11 And one of Ioabs men [h] ſtood by him, and ſaid, He that favoureth Ioab, and hee that is of Davids part, let him goe after Ioab.

h Heſtood by Amaſa at Ioabs appointment.

12 And Amaſa wallowed in blood in the mids of the way: and when the man ſaw that all the people ſtood ſtill, he remooved Amaſa out of the way into the field, and caſt a cloath upon him, becauſe he ſaw that every one that came by him, ſtood ſtill.

13 ¶ When he was remooved out of the way, every man went after Ioab, to follow after Sheba the ſonne of Bichri.

14 And he went through all the tribes of Iſrael unto Abel, and [i] Bethmaachah and all places of Berim, and they gathered together, and went alſo after him.

i Vnto the citie Abel, which was neere to Bethmaachah.

15 So they came, and beſieged him in Abel, neare to Bethmaachah, and they caſt up a mount againſt the city, and the people thereof ſtood on the ramper, and all the people that was with Ioab, [k] deſtroyed and caſt downe the wall.

k That is, hee was about to overthrow it.

16 Then cryed a wiſe woman out of the city, Heare, heare, I pray you, ſay unto Ioab, Come thou hither, that I may ſpeake with thee.

17 And when he came neare unto her, the woman ſaid, Art thou Ioab? And he anſwered, Yea. And ſhee ſaid to him, Heare the words of thine handmaid. And he anſwered, I doe heare.

18 Then ſhee ſpake thus, [l] They ſpake in the olde time, ſaying, They ſhould aske of Abel: and ſo they have continued.

l She ſheweth that the olde cuſtome was not to deſtroy a citie before peace was offered, Deut. 20, 10, 11.

19 I am [m] one of them that are peaceable, and faithfull in Iſrael: and thou goeſt about to deſtroy a city, and a mother in Iſrael: why wilt thou devoure the inheritance of the Lord?

m She ſpeaketh in the name of the citie.

20 And Ioab anſwered, and ſaid, God forbid, God forbid it mee, that I ſhould devoure or deſtroy it.

21 The [o] matter is not ſo, but a man of mount Ephraim (Sheba the ſonne of Bichri by name) hath lift up his hand againſt the kirg, even againſt David: deliver us him onely, and I will depart from the city. And the woman ſaid unto Ioab, Behold, his head ſhallbe throwen to thee over the wall.

n Hearing his fault told him, hee gave place to reaſon, and required onely him that was author of the treaſon.

22 Then the woman went unto all the people with her wiſedome, and they cut off the head of Sheba the ſonne of Bichri, and caſt it to Ioab: then he blew the trumpet, and † they retired from the city, every man to his tent: and Ioab returned to Ieruſalem unto the King.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Three deare yeares. 9 The vengeance of the ſinnes of Saul lighteth on his ſeven ſonnes, which are hanged. 15 Foure great battels, which David had againſt the Philiſtims.

Then

THen there was a famine in the dayes of David three yeeres † together: and David † asked counsell of the Lord. and the Lord answered, It is for Saul, and for his bloody house, because he slew the a Gibeonites.

2 Then the King called the Gibeonites, and said unto him, (Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but * a remnant of the Amorites, unto whom the children of Israel had sworne: but Saul sought to slay them for his zeale toward the children of Israel and Iudah.)

3 And David sayde unto the Gibeonites, b What shall I doe for you, and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that ye may bleese the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, Wee will have no silver nor golde of Saul nor of his house, neither for us shalt thou kill c any man in Israel. And he said, What ye shall say, that will I doe for you.

5 Then they answered the king, The man that consumed us, and that imagined evill against us, so that wee are destroyed from remaining in any coast of Israel,

6 Let seven men of his d sonnes be delivered unto us, and wee will hang them up e unto the Lord in Gibeah of Saul, the Lords chosen. And the king said, I will give them.

7 But the king had compassion on Mephibosheth the sonne of Ionathan the sonne of Saul, because of the * Lords oath, that was betweene them, even betweene David and Ionathan the sonne of Saul.

8 But the king tooke the two sonnes of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom shee bare unto Saul, even Armoni and Mephibosheth, and the five sonnes of f Michal, the daughter of Saul, whom shee bare to Adriel the sonne of Barzillai the Meholathite.

9 And hee delivered them unto the hands of the Gibeonites, which hanged them in the mountaine before the Lord. so they † died all seven together: and they were slaine in the time of harvest: in the g first dayes, and in the beginning of barley harvest.

10 Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah tooke b sackecloath and hanged it up for her upon the rocke, from the beginning of harvest, untill i water dropped upon them from the heaven, and suffered neither the birds of the aire to ‖ light on them by day, nor beasts of the field by night.

11 ¶ And it was tolde David, what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And David went and tooke the bones of Saul and the bones of Ionathan his sonne from the citizens of Iabesh Gilead, which had stollen them from the street of Beth-shan, were the Philistims had * hanged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saul in Gilboa.

13 So hee brought thence the bones of Saul, and the bones of Ionathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and of Ionathan his sonne buried they in the country of Benjamin in Zelah, in the grave of Kish his father: and when they had performed all that the King had commanded, God was then k appeased with the land.

15 ¶ Againe the Philistims hath warre with Israel: and David went downe, and his servants with him, and they fought against the Philistims, and David fainted.

16 Then Ishi-benob which was of the sonnes of l Haraphah (the head of whose speare weighed three hundreth m shekels of brasse) even he being girded with a new sword, thought to have slaine David.

17 But Abishai the sonne of Zerviah succoured him, and smote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Davids men sware unto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with us to battell, least thou quench the n light of Israel.

18 ¶ And after this also there was a battell with the Philistims at o Gob, then Sibbechai the Hushathite slew Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Haraphah.

19 And there was yet another battell in Gob with the Philistims, where Elhanah the sonne of Iaare-oregim, a Bethlemite slewe p Goliath the Gittite: the staffe of whose speare was like a weavers beame.

20 Afterward there was also a battell in Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and had on every hand sixe fingers, and on every foote sixe toes, foure and twentie in number: who was also the sonne of Haraphah.

21 And when he reviled Israel, Ionathan the sonne of * Shima the brother of David slew him.

22 These foure were borne to Haraphah in Gath, and died by the hand of David, and by the hands of his servants.

14 The Lord thundred from heaven, and the most High gave his voyce.

15 He shot arrowes also, and scattered them: to wit, lightning, and destroyed them.

i He alludeth to the miracle of the red Sea.

16 The i chanels also to the sea appeared, even the foundations of the world were discovered by the rebuking of the Lord, and at the blast of the breath of his nostrels.

17 Hee sent from above, and tooke mee: hee drew me out of many waters.

18 Hee delivered me from my strong enemie, and from them that hated mee: for they were too strong for mee.

k I was so beset, that all meanes seemed to faile.

19 They k prevented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my stay.

20 And brought me forth into a large place: he delivered me, because he favoured me.

l Toward Saul and mine enemies.

21 The Lord rewarded mee according to my l righteousnesse: according to the pureneſſe of mine hands he recompensed me.

m I attempted nothing without his commandement.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not m wickedly against my God.

23 For all his Lawes were before me, and his statutes: I did not depart therefrom.

24 I was upright also toward him, and have kept me from my wickednesse.

25 Therefore the Lord did reward me according to my righteousnes, according to my pureneſſe before his eyes.

26 With the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the upright man thou wilt shew thy selfe upright.

n Their wickednesse is cause that thou seemest to forget thy wonted mercy.

27 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the n froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

28 Thus thou wilt save the poore people: but thine eyes are upon the hautie, to humble them.

29 Surely thou art my light, O Lord: and the Lord will lighten my darkeneſſe.

30 For by thee have I broken thorow an hoste, and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

o The maner that God useth to succour his, never faileth.

31 The way of God is o uncorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

32 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty, save our God?

33 God is my strength in battell, and maketh my way upright.

p He useth extraordinary meanes to make me win most strong holds.

‖ Or, steele.

34 He maketh my feete like p hindes feete, and hath set me upon mine high places.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, that a bowe ‖ of brasse is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation, and thy loving kindneſſe hath caused me to increase.

37 Thou had enlardged my steps under me, and mine heeles have not slid.

38 I have persued mine enemies, and destroyed them, and have not turned againe untill I had consumed them.

39 Yea, I have consumed them and trust them thorow, and they shall not arise, but shall fall under my feete.

q He acknowledgeth that God was the author of his victories, who gave him strength.

40 For thou hast q girded me with power to battell, and them that arose against mee, hast thou subdued under me.

41 And thou hast given mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

42 They looked about, but there was none to save them, even unto the r Lord, but he answered them not.

r The wicked in their necessity are compelled to flee to God, but it is too late.

43 Then did I beate them as small as the dust of the earth: I did tread them flat as the clay of the streete, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou hast also delivered me from the contentions of my s people: thou hast preserved mee to be the head over nations: the people which I knew not, doe serve me.

s Meaning, of the Iewes, who conspired against me.

45 Strangers t shall be in subiection to me: assoone as they heare, they shall obey me.

t Not willingly obeying me, but dissemblingly.

46 Strangers shall shrinke away, and feare in their privie chambers.

47 Let the Lord live, u and blessed bee my strength: and God, even the force of my salvation be exalted.

u Let him shew his power, that is the governour of all the world.

48 It is God that giveth mee power to revenge me, and subdue the people under me.

49 And rescueth me from mine enemies: (thou also hast lift mee up from them that rose against me, thou hast delivered me from the cruell man.

50 Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the * nations, and will sing unto thy Name,)

1 The last words of David. 6 The wicked shall be plucked up as thornes. 8 The name and faites of his mighty men. 15 Hee desired water, and would not drinke it.

THese also be the a last words of David, David the sonne of Ishai saith, even the man who was set vp on high, the anoynted of the God of Iaakob, and the sweete singer of Israel saith, a Which he spake after that he had made the Psalme.

2 The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his word was in my b tongue, b Meaning, hee spake nothing but by the motion of Gods Spirit.

3 The God of Israel spake to me, the strength of Israel said, Thou shalt beare rule over men, being iust, and ruling in the feare of God,

4 Even as the morning light when the sunne riseth, the morning, I say, without clouds, so shall mine house be, and not as the c grasse of the earth is by the bright raine.

c Which groweth quickely, and fadeth soone.

5 For so shall not mine house bee with God: for hee hath made with mee an everlasting covenant perfect in all points, and sure: therefore all mine health and whole desire is, that hee will not make it d grow so.

d But that my kingdome may continue for ever according to his promise.

6 But the wicked shalbe every one as thornes thrust away, because they cannot bee taken with hands.

7 But the man that shall touch them, must bee defenced with yron, or with the shaft of a speare: and they shall bee burnt with fire in the same place.

8 ¶ These bee the names of the mighty men whom David had: Hee that sate in the seate of e wisedome, being chiefe of the princes, was Adino of Ezni, he slew eight hundreth at one time.

e As one of ‡ Kings counsell.

him onely to spoile.

11 After him was * Shammah the sonne of Age the Hararite : for the Philistims assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a field of lentils, and the people fled from the Philistims.

12 But he stood in the middes of the field, and defended it, and slew the Philistims : so the Lord gave [b] great victory.

13 ¶ Afterward three of the thirty captaines went downe, and came to David in the harvest time unto the cave of Adullam, and the hoste of the Philistims pitched in the valley of ‖ Rephaim.

14 And David was then in an holde, and the garison of the Philistims was then in Beth-lehem.

15 And David [i] longed, and said, Oh, that one would give me to drinke of the water of the well of Bethlehem which is by the gate.

16 Then the three mighty brake into the host of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that way by th gate, and tooke and brought it to David, who would not drinke thereof, but [k] powred it for an offering unto the Lord,

17 And said, O Lord, be it farre from me, that I should do this. Is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives ? therefore he would not drinke it. These things did these three mighty men.

18 ¶ * And Abishai the brother of Ioab, the sonne of Zeruiah, was chiefe among the three, and hee lifted up his speare against three hundreth, ‖ and slew them, and hee had the name among the three.

19 For he was most excellent of the three, and was their captaine, but hee attained not unto the first three.

20 And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada the sonne of ‖ a valiant man, which had done many actes, and was of Kabzeel, slew two strong men of Moab : he went downe also, and slew a lion in the mids of a pit in the time of snow.

21 And he slew an Egyptian a ‖ man of great stature, and the Egyptian had a l speare in his hand, but he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

22 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

23 He was honourable among [m] thirty, but he attained not to the first three; and David made him of his counsell.

1 David causeth the people to be numbred. 10 He repenteth, and chuseth to fall into Gods hands. 15 Seventie thousand perish with the pestilence.

AND the wrath of the Lord was againe kindled [a] against Israel, and [b] he mooved David against them, in that he said, Goe, number Israel and Iudah.

2 For the King sayd to Ioab the capiaine of the hoaste, which was with him, Go speedily now through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan even to Beer-sheba, and number ye the people, that I may know the [c] number of the people.

3 And Ioab sayd unto the King, The Lord thy God increase the people an hundreth folde more then they bee, and that the eyes of my lord the King may see it : but why doeth my lord the king desire this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the kings word prevailed against Ioab and against the capitaines of the hoaste: therefore Ioab and the captaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the king to number the people of Israel.

5 ¶ And they passed over Iorden, and pitched in Aroer at the right side of the city that is in the mids of the ‖ valley of Gad, and toward Iazer.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to ‖ Tahtim-hodshi, so they came to Dan Iaan, and so about to Zidon.

7 And came to the fortresse of ‖ Tyrus, and to all the cities of the Hivites and of the Canaanites, and went toward the South of Iudah, even to Beersheba.

8 ¶ So when they had gone about all the land, they returned to Ierusalem at the end of nine moneths and twenty dayes.

9 ¶ And Ioab delivered the number and summe of the people unto the the king: and there were in Israel [d] eight hundreth thousand strong men that drew swords, and the men of Iudah were [e] five hundreth thousand men.

10 Then Davids heart smote him, after that he had numbred the people : and David said unto the Lord, I have sinned exceedingly, in that I have done : therefore now, Lord, I beseech thee, take away the trespasse of thy servant : for I have done very foolishly.

11 ¶ And when David was up in the morning, the word of the Lord came unto the Prophet Gad Davids [f] Seer, saying, 12 Goe, and say unto David, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall doe unto thee.

thou flee three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be three dayes pestilence in thy land? now advise thee, and see, what answere I shall give to him that sent mee.

14 ¶ And David said unto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: let us fall now into the hand of the Lord (for his mercies are great) and let mee not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel from the morning euen unto the time appoynted: and there dyed of the people from [b] Dan even to Beersheba seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand upon Ierusalem to destroy it, the Lord * repented of the evill, and said to the Angel, that destroyed the people. It is sufficient, [i] holde nowe thine hand. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing place of Araunah the Iebusite.

17 And David spake unto the Lord (when he saw the Angel that smote the people) and saide, Behold, I have sinned, yea, I have done wickedly, but these sheepe, what have they [k] done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against mee and against my fathers house.

18 ¶ So Gad came the same day to David, and said unto him, Go up, reare an altar unto the Lord in the threshing floore of Araunah the Iebusite.

19 And David (according to the saying of Gad) went up, as the Lord had commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, and sawe the king and his servants comming toward him, and Araunah went out, and bowed himselfe before the King on his face to the ground.

21 And Araunah said, Wherefore is my lord [l] the king come to his servant? Then David answered, to buy the threshing floore of thee for to build an altar unto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah saide unto David, Let my lord the King take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes, behold the oxen for the burnt offering, and chaffes, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah [m] as a king give unto the king: and Araunah said unto the king, The Lord thy God be favorable unto thee.)

24 Then the king said unto Araunah, Not so, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and will not offer burnt offering unto the Lord my God of that which doth cost mee nothing. So David bought the threshing floore, and the oxen for [n] fiftie shekels of silver.

25 And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offred burnt offerings & peace offrings, and the Lord was appeased toward the land, and the plague ceased from Israel.

THE FIRST BOOKE OF THE KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcause the children of God should looke for no continuall rest and quietnesse in this world, the holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this booke the varietie and change of things which came to the people of Israel from the death of David, Salomon, and the rest of the Kings, unto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preserved by Gods protection, (who then favoureth them when his word is truely set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished and concord maintained) fall to decay and come to nought, as appeareth by the dividing of the kingdome under Roboam and Ieroboam which before were but all one people, and now by the iust punishment of God were made two whereof Iudah and Beniamin clave to Roboam, and this was called the kingdome of Iudah: and the other ten tribes held with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdome of Israel. The King of Iudah had his throne in Ierusalem, and the king of Israel in Samaria, after it was built by Amri Ahabs father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh, should come of the stocke of David, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudah is here described, from Salomon to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphat, who raigned over Iudah in Ierusalem as Ahab did over Israel in Samaria.

NOw when King David was [a] olde, and stricken in yeeres, they covered him with cloathes, but no [b] heate came into him

2 Wherefore his servants sayd unto him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a yong virgin, and let her ‖ stand before the king, and cherish him: and let her lie in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

3 So they sought for a faire yong maide thorowout all the coasts of Israel, and found one Abishah [c] a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministred to him, but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adonijah the sonne of Haggith, exalted himselfe, saying, I will be king. And he gate him charets and horsemen, and [d] fifty men to run before him.

11 Wherefore Nathan ſpake unto Beth-ſheba the mother of Salomon, ſaying, Haſt thou not heard that Adonijah the ſonne * of Haggith doth reigne, and David our lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, and I will now give thee counſell, how to ſave thine owne g liue, and the life of thy ſonne Salomon.

13 Goe, and get thee in unto King David, and ſay unto him, Diddeſt not thou my lord, O King, ſweare unto thine handmaid, ſaying, Aſſuredly, Salomon thy ſonne ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne? why is then Adonijah King?

14 Beholde, while thou yet talkeſt there with the King, I alſo will come in after thee, and h confirme thy words.

15 ¶ So Bath-ſheba went in unto the King into the chamber, and the king was very olde, and Abiſhag the Shunammite miniſtred unto the King.

16 And Beth-ſheba bowed and made obeyſance unto the king. And the king ſayd, What is thy matter?

17 And ſhe anſwered him, My Lord, thou ſwareſt by the Lord thy God unto thine handmayde, ſaying, Aſſuredly Salomon thy ſonne ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne.

18 And behold, now is Adonijah king, and now my Lord, O King, thou knoweth i it not.

19 And he hath offred many oxen, and fat cattell, and ſheepe, & hath called all the ſonnes of the King, and Abiathar the Prieſt, and Ioab the Captaine of the hoſte: but Salomon thy ſervant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, O King, knoweth that the eyes of all Iſrael are on thee, that thou ſhouldeſt tell them, who ſhould ſit on the throne of my lord the King after him.

21 For els when my lord the King ſhall ſleepe with his fathers, I and my ſonne Salomon ſhalbe k reputed † vile.

22 And lo, while ſhe yet talked with the king, Nathan alſo the Prophet came in.

23 And they told the King, ſaying, Beholde, Nathan the Prophet. And when he was come in to the King, he made obeyſance before the king upon his face l to the ground.

24 And Nathan ſaid, My lord, O king, haſt thou ſaid, Adonijah ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne?

25 For hee is gone downe this day, and hath ſlaine many oxen, and fat cattell, and ſheepe, and hath called all the kings ſons, and the captaines of the hoſte, and Abiathar the Prieſt: and behold, they eate and drinke before him, and ſay, † God ſave king Adonijah.

26 But mee thy ſervant, and Zadok the Prieſt, and Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada, and thy ſervant Salomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou had not ſhewed it unto thy m ſervant, who ſhould ſit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 ¶ Then king David anſwered and ſaid, Call me Bath-ſheba. And ſhe came in to the kings preſence, and ſtood before the King.

29 And the King ſware, ſaying, As the Lord liveth, who hath redeemed my ſoule out of all adverſitie, 30 That as I n ſware unto thee by the Lord God of Iſrael, ſaying, Aſſuredly Salomon thy ſonne ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne in my place: ſo will I certainely doe this day.

31 Then Bath-ſheba bowed her face to the earth, and did reverence unto the king, and ſaid, God ſave my lord king David for ever.

32 ¶ And king David ſaid, Call me Zadok the Prieſt, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada. And they came before the King.

33 Then the king ſaid unto them, Take with you the o ſervants of your lord, and cauſe Salomon my ſonne to ride upon mine owne mule, and cary him downe to Gihon.

34 And let Zadok the prieſt and Nathan the Prophet anoynt him there king over Iſrael, and blow ye the trumpet, and ſay, God ſave king Salomon.

35 Then come up after him, that he may come and ſit upon my throne: and he ſhall be king in my ſtead: for I have † appoinged him to be prince over Iſrael, and over Iudah.

36 Then Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada anſwered the king, and ſaid, So be it, and the Lord God of my lord the king † ratifie it.

37 As the Lord hath beene with my lord the king, ſo be he with Salomon, and exalt his throne about the throne of my lord king David.

38 So Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the Prophet, Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada, and the Cherethithes, and the Pelethites went downe and cauſed Salomon to ride upon king Davids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the prieſt tooke an horne of p oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anoynted Salomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people ſaid, God ſave king Salomon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and reioyced with great ioy, ſo that the earth † rang with the ſound of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gheſtes that were with him, heard it (and they had made an end of eating) and when Ioab heard the ſound of the trumpet, he ſaid, What meaneth this noiſe and uproare in the city?

42 And as he yet ſpake, behold, Ionathan the ſonne of Abiathar the prieſt came: and Adonijah ſaid, Come in: for thou art a ‖ worthy man, and bringeſt p good tidings.

43 And Ionathan anſwered, and ſaid to Adonijah, Verely our lord king David hath made Salomon king.

44 And the king hath ſent with him Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they have cauſed him to ride upon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet have anoynted him king in Gihon, and they are gone up from thence with ioy, and the city is mooved: this is the noiſe that yee have heard.

46 And Salomon alſo ſitteth on the throne of the kingdome.

47 And moreover the kings ſervants came r to bleſſe our lord king David, ſaying, God make the name of Salomon more famous then thy name, and exalt his throne above thy throne: therefore the king worſhipped upon the ſ bed.

fit on my throne this day, even in my sight.

49 Then all the ghestes that were with Adonijah, were afraid, and rose up, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Adonijah fearing the presence of Salomon, arose and went, and tooke hold on the hornes of the t altar.

t Which David his father had built in the floore of Araunah, as 2.Sam.24.25.

51 And one told Salomon, saying, Behold, Adonijah doeth feare king Salomon: for loe, he hath caught hold on the hornes of the altar, saying, Let King Salomon sweare unto me this day, that he will not slay his servant with the sword.

52 Then Salomon said, If hee will shew himselfe a worthy man, there shall not an haire of him fall to the earth, but if wickednes be found in him, he shall die.

53 Then king Salomon sent, and they brought him from the altar, and hee came and did obeysance unto King Salomon. And Salomon sayd unto him, Goe to thine house.

THen the dayes of David drew neere that hee should die, and hee charged Salomon his sonne, saying,

2 I goe the a way of all the earth: be strong therefore, and shew thy selfe a man,

3 And take heede to the b charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and keepe his statutes, and his commandements, and his iudgements, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that thou mayest * ‖ prosper in all that thou doest, and in every thing whereunto thou trustest thee.

5 Thou knowest also what Ioab the sonne of Zerviah did to mee, and what hee did to the two captaines to the hoastes of Israel, unto * Abner the sonne of Ner, and unto * Amasa the sonne of Iether, whom he slew, and d shed blood of battell in peace, and e put the blood of warre upon his girdle that was about his loynes, and in his shooes that were on his feet.

* 2.Sam.3.27.

* 2.Sam.20.10.

d He shed his blood in time of peace, as if there had bene warre.

e He put the bloody sword into his sheath.

* 2.Sam.19.31.

f That is, they dealth mercifully with me.

8 ¶ And beholde, with thee * is Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Iemini, of Bahurim, which cursed mee with an horrible curse in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but hee came downe to meet me at Iorden, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, * I will not slay thee with the sword.

10 So * David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of David.

* Act.2.29. and 13.36.

11 And the dayes which David * reigned upon Israel, were fourtie yeeres: seven yeeres reigned he in Hebron, and thirtie and three yeeres reigned he in Ierusalem.

* 2 Sam 5.4. and 1.chron.29.26.27.

12 ¶ * Then sate Salomon upon the throne of David his father, and his kingdome was established mightily.

* 1.Chron.29.23.

13 And Adonijah the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon: and shee said, h Commest thou peaceably? and hee sayd, Yea.

h For she feared least hee would worke treason against the king.

14 He said moreover, I have a sute unto thee. And she said, Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israel set i their faces on mee, that I should reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, and is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

i In signe of their favour and consent.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one requeſt, † refuse me not. And shee said unto him, Say on.

† Ebr. cause not my face to turne away.

17 And he said, Speake, I pray thee, unto Salomon the King, (for he will not say thee nay,) that he give me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba said, Well, I will speake for thee unto the King.

19 ¶ Bath-sheba therefore went unto King Salomon, to speake unto him for Adonijah: and the king rose to meete her, and k bowed himselfe unto her, and sate downe on his throne: and hee caused a seate to be set for the kings mother, and she sate at his right hand.

k In token of reverence, and that others by his example might have her in greater honour.

20 Then shee said, I desire a small requeſt of thee, say mee not nay. Then the King said unto her, Aske on, my mother: for I will not say thee nay.

21 She said then, Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 But king Salomon answered and said unto his mother, And why doest thou aske Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? aske for him the l kingdome also: for he is mine elder brother, and hath for him both Abiathar the Priest, and Ioab the sonne of Zerviah.

l Meaning, that if he should have granted Abishag, which was so deare to his father, he would afterward have aspired to the kingdome.

23 Then King Salomon sware by the Lord, saying, God doe so to me and more also, if Adonijah hath not spoken this word against his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Lord liveth, who hath established me, and set mee on the throne of David my father, who hath also made mee an house, as he * promised, Adonijah shall surely die this day.

* 2.Sam.7.12,13.

25 And King Salomon sent by the hand of Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, and hee ‖ smote him that he died.

‖ Or, fell upon him.

26 ¶ Then the King said unto Abiathar the Priest, Go to Anathoth unto thine owne ‖ fields: for thou art † worthy of death: but I will not this day kill thee, because thou m bearest the Arke of the Lord God before David my father, and because thou hast suffered in all, wherein my father hath bene afflicted.

‖ Or, possessions.

m When hee fled before Absalom, 2.Sam.15.24.

27 So Salomon cast out Abiathar from being Priest unto the Lord, that he might * fulfill the words of the Lord, which hee spake against the house of Eli in Shiloh.

* 1.Sam.2.31.35.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Ioab: (for Ioab had n turned after Adonijah, but hee turned not after Absalom) and Ioab fled unto the Tabernacle cle of the Lord, and caught holde on the hornes of the altar.

29 And it was told king Salomon, that Ioab was fled unto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and beholde, he is by the o altar. Then Salomon sent Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, saying, Goe, fall upon him.

o Thinking to be saved by the holinesse of the place.

30 And Benaiah came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, and said unto him, Thus saith the King, Come out. And he said, Nay, but I will die here. Then Benaiah brought the king worde againe, saying, Thus said Ioab, and thus he answered me.

31 And the king said unto him, Do as he hath said, and p smite him, and bury him, that thou maiest take away the blood, which Ioab shedde causeles, from me, and from the house of my father.

p For it was lawfull to take the wilfull murtherer from the altar, Exod. 21, 14.

32 And the Lord shall bring his blood upon his owne head, for he smote two men more righteous and better then he, and slew them with the sword, and my father David knew not: to wit, * Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of the hoast of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Iether captaine of the hoaste of Iudah.

* 2 Sam. 3. 27.
* 2 Sam. 20. 9.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne upon the q head of Ioab, and on the head of his seede for ever: but upon David, and upon his seede, and upon his house and upon his throne shall there be peace for ever from the Lord.

q Ioab shalbe iustly punished for the blood that he hath cruelly shed.

34 So Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada went up, and smote him and slew him, and he was buried in his owne house in the wildernesse.

35 And the King put Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada in his roume over the hoaste: and the king set Zadok the r Priest in the roume of Abiathar.

r And so tooke the office of the hie Priest from the house of Eli, and restored it to the house of Phinehas.

36 ¶ Afterward the king sent, and called Shimei and saide unto him, Build thee an house in Ierusalem, and dwell there, and depart not thence any whither.

37 For that day that thou goest out, and passest over the river of Kidron, know assuredly, that thou shalt die the death: thy blood shallbe upon thine owne head.

38 And Shimei said unto the king, The thing is good: as my lord the king hath said, so will thy servant doe. So Shimei dwelt in Ierusalem many dayes.

Thus God appointeth the wayes and meanes to bring his iust iudgements upon the wicked.

39 And after three yeeres two of the s servants of Shimei fled away unto Achish sonne of Maachah king of Gath: and they told Shimei, saying, Behold, thy servant be in Gath.

40 And Shimei arose, and sadled his asse, and went to Gath to Achish, to seeke his servants: and t Shimei went, and brought his servants from Gath.

t His covetous mind moved him rather to venture his life, then to lose his worldly prosit, which he had by his servants.

41 And it was told Salomon, that Shimei had gone from Ierusalem to Gath, and was come againe.

42 And the King sent and called Shimei, and said unto him, Did I not make thee to sweare by the Lord, and protested unto thee, saying, That day that thou goest out, and walkest any whither, know assuredly that thou shalt die the death? And thou saidest unto me, The thing is good, that I have heard.

u Yet though thou wouldest denie, yet thine owne conscience would accuse thee for reviling and doing wrong to my father, 2 Sam. 16, 5.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the oathe of the Lord, and the commandement wherewith I charged thee?

44 The King saide also to Shimei, u Thou knowest all the wickednesse whereunto thine heart is privie, that thou diddest to David my father: the Lord therefore shall bring thy wickednesse upon thine owne head.

45 And let king Salomon be blessed, and the throne of David established before the Lord for ever.

46 So the king commanded Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada: who went out and smote him that he died. And the * kingdome was x established in the hand of Salomon.

* 2 Chron. 1. 1.
x Because all his enemies were destroyed.

1 Salomon taketh Pharaohs daughter to wife. 5 The Lord appeareth to him, and giveth him wisdome. 17 The pleading of the two harlots, and Salomons sentence therein.

SAlomon * then made affinity with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and tooke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the a citie of Dauid, untill hee had made an end of building his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

* Chap. 7. 8.
a Which was Beth-lehem.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in the b hie places, because there was no house built unto the Name of the Lord, untill those dayes.

b Where altars were appointed before the temple was built to offer unto the Lord.

3 And Salomon loved the Lord, walking in the ordinances of David his c father: onely hee sacrificed and offred incense in the hie places.

c For his father had commanded him to obey the Lord and walke in his wayes, Chap. 2. 3.

4 And the king went to d Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chiefe hie place: a thousand burnt offrings did Salomon offer upon that altar.

d For there the Tabernacle was, 2 Chron. 1. 3.

5 In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night: and God said, Aske what I shall give thee.

6 And Salomon said, Thou hast shewed unto thy servant David my father great mercy, ‖ when he walked before thee in trueth, and in righteousnesse, and in uprightnesse of heart with thee: and thou hast e kept for him this great mercie, and hast given him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeareth this day.

‖ Or, as he walked.
e Thou hast performed thy promise.

7 And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy servant king in stead of David my father: and I am but a yong childe, and know not how to f goe out and in.

f That is, to behave himselfe in executing this charge of ruling.

8 And thy servant is in the midst of thy people, which thou hast chosen, even a great people, which cannot be told nor numbred for multitude.

9 * Give therefore unto thy servant an ‖ understanding heart, to iudge thy people: that I may discerne betweene good and bad: for who is able to iudge this thy g mighty people?

* 2 Chron. 1. 10.
‖ Or, obedient.
g Which are so many in number.

10 And this pleased the Lord well, that Salomon had desired this thing.

11 And God saide unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine h enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe understanding to heare iudgement, h That is, that thine enemie should die.

12 Beholde, I have done according to thy wordes: loe, I have given thee a wise and understanding heart, so that there hath bene none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall arise the like unto thee.

13 And I have also * given thee that, which thou hast not asked, both riches and honour, so that among the Kings there ‖ shall be none like unto thee all thy dayes.

* Matth. 6. 33. wisd. 7. 11.
‖ Or, hath been.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to keepe mine ordinances and my commandements, * as thy father David did walke, I will prolong thy dayes.

* Chap. 15. 5.

15 And

15 And when Salomon awoke, behold it was i a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stood before the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings, and made peace-offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

i He knew that God had appeared unto him in a dreame.

16 ¶ Then came two ‖ harlots unto the king, and k stood before him.

‖ Or, victuallers.
k By this example it appeareth that God kept promise with Salomon in graunting him wisedome.

17 And the one woman said, Oh my Lord, I and this woman dwell in one house, and I was delivered of a childe with her in the house.

18 And the third day after that I was delivered, this woman was delivered also, and we were in the house together: no stranger was with us in the house save we twaine.

19 And this womans sonne died in the night:
for she overlay him.

20 And she arose at midnight, and l tooke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaide slept, and layed him in her bosome, and layed her dead sonne in my bosome.

l She stale the quicke childe away, because she might both avoide the shame and punishment.

21 And when I arose in the morning to give my sonne sucke, behold, he was dead: and when I had well considered him in the morning, behold, it was not my sonne, whom I had borne.

22 Then the other woman said, Nay, but my sonne liveth, and thy sonne is dead. Againe shee said, No, but thy sonne is dead, and mine alive:
thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, She saith, This that liveth is my sonne, and the dead is thy sonne: and the other saith, Nay, but the dead is thy sonne, and the living is my sonne.

m Except God give Iudges understanding, the impudencie of the trespasser shall overthrow the iust cause of the innocent.

24 Then the king said, m Bring mee a sword:
and they brought out a sword before the king.

25 And the king said, Divide yee the living childe in twaine, and give the one halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

n Her motherly affection herein appeareth that she had rather indure the rigour of the Law, then see her childe cruelly slaine.

26 Then spake the woman, whose the living child was, unto the king, for her compassion was kindled toward her sonne, and shee said, Oh my lord, give her the living child and n slay him not:
but the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it.

27 Then the king answered and said, Give her the living child, and slay him not: this is his mother.

28 And all Israel heard the iudgement which the king had iudged, and they feared the king: for they saw that the wisedome of God was in him to doe iustice.

CHAP. IV.

1 The princes and rulers under Salomon. 22 The purveyance for his victuals. 26 The number of his horses. 31 His bookes and writings.

was the kings friend,

6 And Ahishar was over the houshold, and bute.

* Chap. 5. 14.

7 ¶ And Salomon had twelve officers over

10 The sonne of Hesed in Aruboth, to whom pertained Shochoh, and all the land of Hepher:

11 The sonne of Abinadab in all the region of Dor, which had Taphath the daughter of Salomon to wife.

12 Baana the sonne of Ahilud in Taanach, by Zartanah beneath Izreel, from Beth-shean ‖ to Abelmeholah, even till beyond over against Iokmeam.

‖ Or, to the plaine.

13 The sonne of Geber in Ramoth Gilead, and his were the townes of d Iair, the sonne of Manasseh, which are in Gilead, and under him was the region of Argob, which is in Bashan: threescore great cities with walles and barres of brasse.

d Which townes bare Iairs name, because hee tooke them of the Canaanites, Numb. 32. 41.

14 ¶ Ahinadab the sonne of Iddo had to Ma-hanaim:

15 Ahimaaz in Naphtali, and hee tooke Bas-math the daughter of Salomon to wife:

16 Baanah the sonne of Hushai in Asher and in Aloth:

17 Iehoshaphat the sonne of Paruah in e Issa-char:

e Salomon observed not the division that Joshua made, but divided it as might best serve for his purpose.

18 Shimei the sonne of Elah in Beniamin:

19 Geber the sonne of Uri in the countrey of Gilead, the land of Sihon king of the Amorites, and of Og king of Bashan, and was officer alone in the land.

20 Iudah and Israel were many, as the sand of the sea in number, f eating, drinking, and making merrie.

f They lived in all peace and securitie.

21 * And Salomon reigned over all king-domes, from the River unto the land of the Philistims, and unto the border of Egypt, and they brought presents, and served Salomon all the dayes of his life.

* Ecclus. 47. 15.

over all the h kings on the other side the River:

‖ Or, Gaza.
h For they were all tributaries unto him.

25 And Iudah and Israel dwelt without feare every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree, from i Dan, even to Beer-sheba, all the dayes of Salomon.

i Throughout all Israel.

26 ¶ And Salomon had * fourtie thousand stalles of horses for his charets, and twelve thousand horsemen.

* 2. Chron. 9. 25.

27 And these officers provided victuall for king Salomon, and for all that came to king Salomons table, every man his moneth, and they suffered to lacke nothing.

28 Barley also and straw for the horses and mules, brought they unto the place where the officers were, every man according to his charge.

* Ecclus. 47. 14. 15, 16.

29 ¶ * And God gave Salomon wisedome and understanding exceeding much, & k a large heart, even as the sand that is on the sea shore,

k Meaning, great understanding and able to comprehend all things.

30 And Salomons wiſedome excelled the wiſdome of all the children of the 1 East, and all the wiſedome of Egypt.

1 To wit, the Philoſophers and Aſtronomers, which were iudged moſt wiſe.

31 For hee was wiſer then any man: yea, then were Ethan the Ezrahite, then Heman, then Chalcol, then Darda the ſonnes of Mahol: and he was famous thorowout all nations round about.

32 And Salomon ſpake three thouſand m proverbs: and his ſongs were a thouſand and five.

m Which for the moſt part are thought to have periſhed in the captivitie of Babylon.

33 And hee ſpake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon, even unto the n hyſſope that ſpringeth out of the wall: he ſpake alſo of beaſts, and of foules, and of creeping things, and of fiſhes.

n From the hieſt to the loweſt.

34 And there came of all people to heare the wiſedome of Salomon, from all kings of the earth, which had heard of his wiſedome.

AND Hiram king of ‖ Tyrus ſent his ſervants unto Salomon, (for hee had heard that they had anoynted him king in the roome of his father) becauſe Hiram had ever loved David.

* 2.Chron.2,3.

2 * And Salomon ſent him to Hiram, ſaying,

3 Thou knoweſt that David my father could not build an houſe unto the name of the Lord his God, for the warres which were about him on every ſide, vntill the Lord had put ‖ them vnder the ſoles of his feete.

‖ Or, his enemies.

4 But now the Lord my God hath given me a reſt on every ſide, ſo that there is neither adverſarie, nor evill to reſiſt.

a He declareth that he was bound to ſet forth Gods glory, for as much as the Lord had ſent him reſt and peace.

5 And beholde, I purpoſe to build an houſe unto the Name of the Lord my God, * as the Lord ſpake unto David my father, ſaying, Thy ſonne, whom I will ſet upon thy throne for thee, he ſhall build an houſe unto my Name.

* 2.Sam.7,13. 2.Chron.22,10.

6 Now therefore commaund, that they hew me cedar trees out of Lebanon, and my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants, and unto thee will I give the b hire for thy ſervants, according to all that thou ſhalt appoint: for thou knoweſt that there are none among vs, that can hew timber like unto the Sidonians.

b This was his equitie, that hee would not receive a benefite without ſome recompence.

7 ¶ And when c Hiram heard the wordes of Salomon, he reioyced greatly, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord this day, which hath given unto David a wiſe ſonne over this mightie people.

c In Hiram is prefigurate the vocation of the Gentiles, who ſhould helpe to build the Spirituall Temple.

8 And Hiram ſent to Salomon, ſaying, I have conſidered the things, for the which thou ſenteſt unto me, and will accompliſh all thy deſire, concerning the cedar trees and firre trees.

9 My ſervants ſhall bring them downe from Lebanon to the ſea: and I will convey them by ſea ‖ in rafts unto the place that thou ſhalt ſhew mee, and will cauſe them to be diſcharged there, and thou ſhalt receive them: now thou ſhalt doe mee a pleaſure to miniſter food for d my familie.

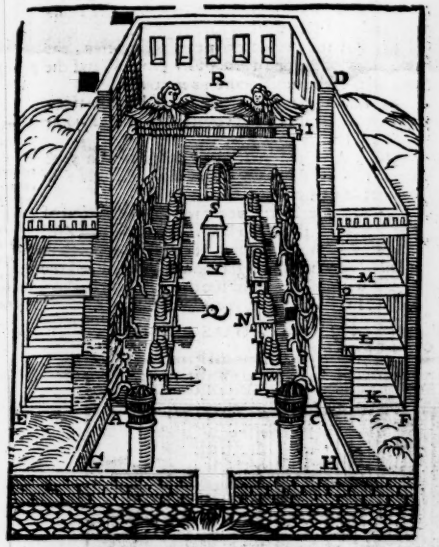
THE TEMPLE UNCOVERED.



The cause why we uncovered and set open the Temple, without seeing foorth the wall that is before it, is, that the order of those things that are within might be seene more lively. A B The length of the Temple of threescore cubites. A C The breadth of twentie cubites within, and not measuring the thicknesse of the walles. This also was the length of the porch without the Temple. C D The height of thirtie cubites. E F The chambers of the Priests, which compassed about the Temple on three sides, South, West, and North, and were of three heights. G H The breadth of the porch ten cubites. I The windowes of the Temple. K The first chamber was five cubites broad. L The second sixe. M The third seven. 13 And I will g dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

g According as he promised unto Moses, Exod.25.22.

14 So Salomon built the house, and finished it.

15 And built the walles of the house within, with boards of Cedar-tree from the pavement of the house unto b the walles of the sieling, and within he covered them with wood, and covered the floore of the house with planks of firre.

b Meaning, unto the roofe, which was also sieled.

16 And he built twentie cubits in the sides of the house with boards of Cedar, from the floore to the walles, and hee prepared a place within it for the oracle, even the most holy place.

17 But the i house, that is, the Temple before it, was fourtie cubits long.

i For when he spake of the house in the first verse, he meant both the Oracle, and the Temple.

18 And the Cedar of the house within was carved with ‖ knops, and graven with floures: all was Cedar, so that no stone was seene.

19 ¶ Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the mids of the k house within, to set the Arke of the covenant of the Lord there.

k That is, in the most inward place of the house.

20 And the place of the oracle within was twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and twentie cubites high: and he covered it with pure gold, and covered the altar with Cedar,

21 So Salomon covered the house within with pure golde, and hee † shut the place of the oracle with chaines of golde, and covered it with golde.

† Hebr. he drew through chaines of gold before.

22 And he overlaid all the house with golde, untill all the house was made perfite. Also he covered the l whole altar, that was before the oracle, with golde.

l Meaning, the altar of incense. Exod.30.1.

23 And within the oracle he made two Cherubims of ‖ Olive-tree, ten cubits high.

‖ Or, Pine-trees.

24 The wing also of the one Cherub was five cubites, and the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites: from the uttermost part of one of his wings unto the uttermost part of the other of his wings, were ten cubits.

25 Also the other Cherub was of ten cubits: both the Cherubims were of one measure and one side.

E The court of the people. 2 chron.4.9. and 6.12. which is called the great porch, and in Actes 3.11. the porch of Salomon. This court is often taken in the Scripture of the New Testament for the Temple, Matth.21.13 Actes 3.2.3. for the people did not passe up further, but did worship in this court. This is the place wherein Christ and his Apostles used to preach, and whence Christ did cast the buyers and sellers. 28 And hee [m] overlaide the Cherubims with golde.

29 And hee carved all the walles of the house round about with graven figures of Cherubims and of Palme-trees, and graven flowers within and without.

30 And the floore of the house hee covered with gold within and without.

31 And in the entring of the oracle he made two doores of Olive trees: and the upper post and side postes were five square.

32 The two doores also were of Olive-tree, and he graved them with graving of Cherubims, and Palme-trees, and graven floures, and covered them with golde, and laid [n] thin golde upon the Cherubims and upon the Palme-trees.

33 And so made he for the doore of the Temple, postes of Olive-trees foure square.

34 But the two doores were of firre-tree, the two sides of the one doore were ‖ round, and the two sides of the other doore were round.

35 And he graved Cherubims, and Palme-trees, and carved floures, and covered the carved worke with gold finely wrought.

36 ¶ And hee built the [o] court within with three rowes of hewen stone, and one rowe of beames of Cedar.

37 In the fourth yeere was the foundation of the house of the Lord laid in the moneth of Zif:

38 And in the eleventh yeere in the moneth of [p] Bul, (which is the eight moneth) he finished the house with all the furniture thereof, and in every point: so was he seven yeere in building it.

5 And all the doores, and the side posts with the wondowes were foure square, and window was over against window in three rankes.

6 And he made a porch of pillars fiftie cubits long, and thirtie cubits broad, and the porch was before d them, even before them were thirtie pillars.

7 ¶ Then he made a porch e for the throne, were he indged, even a porch of indgement, and it was sieled with cedar from pavement to pavement.

8 And in his house where he dwelt was another hall more inward then the porch which was of the same worke. Also Salomon made an house for Pharaohs daughter (* whom he had taken to wife) like unto this porch.

9 All these were ‖ of costly stones, hewed by measure, and sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundation unto f the stones of an ‖ hand breadth, and on the outside to the great court.

12 ¶ And the great court round about was with three rowes of hewed stones, and a row of cedar beames h so was it to the inner court of the house of the Lord, and to the porch of the house.

THE FORME OF THE PILLAR.

A B The height of a pillar eighteene cubits, the compasse of a pillar was twelve cubits.
D E The height of the chapiter or round ball upon the pillar of five cubits height.
F In the middes, were two rowes of pomegranates: the rest is the networke and floured lilies, as before.

16 And ‖ hee made two ‖ chapiters of molten brasse to set on the tops of the pillars: the height of one on the chapiters was five cubites, and the height of the other chapiter was five cubits.

17 He made grates like networke and ‖ wreathen worke like chaines for the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars, even seven for the one chapiter, and seven for the other chapiter.

18 So hee made the pillars and two rowes of pomegranates round about in the one grate to cover the chapiters that were upon the top. And thus did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars were after k lilie worke in the porch, foure cubits.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillars had also above, ‖ over against the belly ‖ within the networke pomegranates: for two hundreth pomegranates were in the two ranks about upon † either of the chapiters.

21 And he set up the pillars in the l porch of the Temple. And when hee had set up the right pillar, he called the name thereof m Iachin: and when he had set up the left pillar, hee called the name thereof n Boaz.

22 And upon the top of the pillars was worke of lilies: so was the workemanship of the pillars finished.

23 ¶ And he made a molten o sea of ten cubits wide from brim to brim, round in compasse, and five cubites high, and a line of thirty cubits did compasse it about.

27 ¶ And he made ten bases of brasse, one base was foure cubites long, and foure cubites broad, and three cubites high.

28 ¶ And the worke of the bases was on this maner. They had borders, and the borders were betweene the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were betweene the ledges, were lions, bulles and Cherubims: and upon the ledges there was a base above: and beneath the lions and bulles, were additions made of thinne worke.

q The mouth of the great base or frame entred into the chapiter, or pillar that bare up the caldron.

32 And vnder the borders were foure wheeles, and the axeltrees of the wheele ioyned to the base: and the height of a wheele was a cubit, and halfe a cubit.

r Which was called the pillar, chapiter, or small base, wherein the caldron stood.

36 And upon the tables of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof hee did grave Cherubims, lions and palmetrees, on the side of every one, and additions round about.

37 Thus made hee the ten bases, They had all one casting, one measure, and one size.

38 ¶ Then made hee s ten caldrons of brasse, one caldron conteined fourtie baths, and every caldron was foure cubits, one caldron was upon one base throughout the ten bases.

s To keepe waters for the vse of the sacrifices.

39 And he set the bases, five on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house. And he set the sea on the right side of the t house Eastward toward the South.

t To wit, of the Temple or Sanctuary.

40 ¶ And Hiram made caldrons, and besomes, and basins, and Hiram finished all the worke that hee made to King Salomon for the house of the Lord:

CHAP. VIII.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple. 10 A cloud filleth the Temple. 14 The King blesseth the people.

THen King Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, euen all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel unto † him in Ierusalem, for to a bring up the Arke of the covenant of the Lord from the city of David, which is Zion.

† Ebr. Salomon.

a For David brought it from Obed-edom, and placed it in the Tabernacle, which he had made for it 2. Sam. 6,17.

2 And all the men of Israel assembled unto King Salomon at the feast in the moneth of b Ethanim, which is the seventh moneth.

b Concerning part of September & part of October, in the which moneth they held three solemne feasts, Num. 29,12.

3 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Priests tooke the Arke,

4 They

4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, and they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the Tabernacle: thoſe did the Prieſts and Levites bring vp.

5 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled vnto him, vvere with him before the Arke, offering ſheepe and beeves, which could not be told, nor numbred for multitude.

6 So the c Prieſtes brought the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the oracle of the houſe into the moſt holy place, even vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

c That is, the Kohathites, Num. 4.5.

7 For the Cherubims ſtretched out their wings over the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims covered the Arke, and the barres thereof above.

8 And they d drewe out the barres, that the endes of the bartes might appeare out of the Sanctuary before the oracle, but they were not ſeene without: and there they are vnto this day.

d They drawe them onely out ſo farre as they might be ſeene: for they might not pull them altogether out, Exod. 25.15.

9 Nothing vvas in the Arke e ſave the two tables of ſtone which Moſes had put there at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

e For it is like that the enemies when they had the Arke in their hands, took away the rodde of Aaron and the pot with Man. * Exod. 40.34.

10 And when the Prieſtes were come out of the Sanctuary, the * cloud filled the houſe of the Lord, 11 So that the Prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter, becauſe of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of the Lord.

* 2. Chron. 6.1.

12 Then ſpake Salomon, The Lord x ſaid, that he would dwell in the darke cloud.

13 I have built thee an houſe to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for f ever.

f He ſpake according to the tenour of Gods promiſe which was conditionally that they ſhould ſerve him aright.

14 ¶ And the King turned his face and bleſſed all the Congregation of Iſrael: for all the Congregation of Iſrael ſtood there.

15 And hee ſayd, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael who ſpake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, ſaying, 16 Since the day that I brought my people Iſrael out of Egypt, I choſe no citie of all the tribes of Iſrael, to build an houſe that my Name might be there: but I have choſen * David to be over my people Iſrael.

17 And it was in the heart of David my father, to build an houſe to the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael, 19 Nevertheles thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſonne that ſhall come out of thy loines, he ſhall build the houſe vnto my Name.

20 And the Lord hath † made good his word that he ſpake: and I am riſen vp in the roume of David my father, and ſit on the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed, and have built the houſe for the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

22 ¶ Then Salomon ſtoode before * the altar of the Lord in the ſight of all the Congregation of Iſrael, and ſtretched out his hands toward heaven.

* 2. Mac. 2.8.

23 And ſaid, * O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepeſt covenant and mercie with thy ſervants that walke before thee, with h all their heart.

h Vnfainedly and without all hypocriſie.

24 Thou that haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that thou haſt promiſed him: for thou ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore, now Lord God of Iſrael, keepe with thy ſervant David my father that thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, * Thou ſhalt not want a man in my ſight to ſit vpon the throne of Iſrael: ſo that thy children take heed to their way, that they walke before me, as thou haſt walked in my ſight.

i He is raviſhed with the admiration of Gods mercies, who being incomprehenſible and Lord over all will become familiar with men.

28 But have thou reſpect vnto the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crie and prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee this day:

34 Then heare thou in heaven, and be mercifull vnto the ſinnes of thy people Iſrael, and bring them againe vnto the land, which thou gaueſt vnto their fathers.

35 ¶ When heaven ſhall be n ſhut vp, and there ſhalbe no raine becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee, and ſhall pray in this place, and confeſſe thy Name, and turne from their ſinne, when thou doeſt afflict them.

n So that there be a drought to deſtroy the fruite of the land.

36 Then heare thou in heaven, and pardon the ſin of thy ſervants and of thy people Iſrael (when thou haſt taught them the good way wherein they may walke) and give raine vpon the land that thou haſt given thy people to inherite.

37 ¶ When there ſhall be famine in the land, when there ſhall be peſtilence, when there ſhalbe blaſting, mildew, graſhopper or catterpiller, when their enemies ſhall beſiege them in the † cities of their land, or any ſickneſſe,

38 Then what prayer, and ſupplication ſoever ſhalbe shalbe made of any man or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know the plague in his owne o heart, and stretch forth his hands in this house.

o For such are most meete to receiue Gods mercies.

39 Heare thou then in heaven, in thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and do, and giue euery man according to all his wayes, as thou knoweſt his heart, (for thou onely knoweſt the hearts of all the children of men.)

40 That they may feare thee as long as they liue in the land, which thou gaueſt unto our fathers.

p Hee meaneth such as should be turned from their idolatry to serue the true God.

41 Moreouer as touching the p ſtranger that is not of thy people Israel, who ſhall come out of a farre countrey for thy Names ſake.

42 (When they ſhall heare of thy great Name, and of thy mighty hand, and of thy ſtretched out arme) and ſhall come and pray in this house, 43 Heare thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth for unto thee: that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee, as to thy people Israel: and that they may know that thy b Name is called upon this house which I have built.

q That this is the true religion wherewith thou wilt be worshipped.

44 ¶ When thy people ſhall go out to battell againſt their enemie by the way that thou ſhalt ſend them, and ſhall pray unto the Lord * toward the way of the citie which thou haſt choſen, and toward the house that I haue built for thy Name.

* Dan.6.10.

45 Heare thou then in heaven their prayer and their ſupplication, and ‖ iudge their cauſe.

‖ Or, maintaine their right.

46 If they ſinne againſt thee, (* for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliuer them unto the enemies, ſo that they cary them away priſoners unto the land of the enemies, either farre or neere,

* 2.Chron.6.36. Eccleſ.7.22. 1.Ioh.1.8,10.

‖ Or, if they repent.

47 Yet ‖ if they turne againe unto their heart in the land (to the which they be caried away captives) and returne and pray unto thee r in the land of them that caried them away captiues, ſaying, We haue ſinned, we haue tranſgreſſed, and done wickedly, r Though the Temple was the chiefe place of prayer, yet hee ſeeludeth not them, that being let with neceſſity call upon him in other places.

48 If they turne againe unto thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoule in the land of their enemies, which led them away captiues, and pray unto thee towward ſ the way of their land, which thou gaueſt unto their fathers, and towward the citie which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I haue built for thy Name, ſ As Daniel did, Dan.6.10.

49 Then heare thou their prayer and their ſupplication in heauen thy dwelling place, and ‖ iudge their cauſe,

‖ Or, auenge their wrong.

50 And be mercifull unto thy people that haue ſinned againſt thee, and unto all their iniquities (wherein they haue tranſgreſſed againſt thee) and cauſe that they which led them away captiues, may t haue pitie and compaſſion on them.

t Hee vnderſtood by faith, that God of enemies would make friends unto them that did conuert unto him.

51 For they be thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughteſt out of Egypt from the middes of the yron furnace.

52 Let thine eyes be open unto the prayer of thy ſeruant, and unto the prayer of thy people Israel, to hearken unto them, in all that they call for unto thee.

53 For thou didſt ſeparate them to thee from among all people of the earth for an inheritance, as thou ſaideſt by the hand of Moſes thy ſeruant, when thou broughteſt our * fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.

* Exod.29,6.

54 And when Salomon had made an end of praying all this u prayer and ſupplication unto the Lord, hee roſe from before the altar of the Lord, from kneeling on his knees, and ſtretching of his hands to heauen, u Salomon is a figure of Chriſt, who continually is the Mediatour betweene God and his Church.

55 And ſtood and bleſſed all the Congregation of Israel, with a loud voyce, ſaying, 56 Bleſſed be the Lord that hath giuen reſt unto his people Israel, according to all that he promiſed: there hath not failed one word of all his good promiſe which he promiſed by the hand of Moſes his ſeruant.

57 The Lord our God be with us, as hee was with our fathers, that he forſake us not, neither leaue us, x He concludeth that man of himſelfe is enemie unto God, and that all obedience to his Law proceedeth of his meere mercie.

58 That hee may x bow our hearts unto him, that we may walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandements, and his ſtatutes, and his lawes, which he commanded our fathers.

59 All theſe my words, which I haue prayed before the Lord, be neere unto the Lord our God day and night, that hee defend the cauſe of his ſeruant, and the cauſe of his people Israel † alwayes as the matter requireth, 60 That all the people of the earth may know, that the Lord is God, and none other.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfit with the Lord our God, to walke in his ſtatutes, and to keepe his commandements, as this day.

62 ¶ * Then the king and all Israel with him offered ſacrifice before the Lord.

* 2.Chron.7.4.

63 And Salomon offered a ſacrifice of peace offerings which he offered unto the Lord, to wit, two and twenty thouſand beeves, and an hundreth and twenty thouſand ſheepe: ſo the King and all the children of Israel dedicated the y houſe of the Lord.

y Before the oracle where the Arke was.

64 The ſame day did the King hallow the middle of the court, that was before the houſe of the Lord: for there hee made burnt-offerings, and the meate-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings, becauſe the * braſen altar that was before the Lord, was too little to receiue the burnt-offrings, and the meate-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offrings.

* 2.Chron.7.7.

65 And Salomon made at that time a feaſt and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, even from the entring in of z Hamath unto the river of Egypt, before the Lord our God, a ſeuen dayes and ſeuen dayes, euen fourteene dayes.

z That is, from North to South: meaning all the countrey.

a Seuen dayes for the dedication, and ſeuen for the feaſt.

CHAP. IX.

2 The Lord appeareth the ſecond time to Salomon. 11 Salomon giueth cities to Hiram. 20 The Canaanites become tributaries. 28 He ſendeth forth a nauie for gold.

WHen * Salomon had finiſhed the building of the houſe of the Lord, and the Kings palace, and all that Salomon deſired and minded to doe,

* 2.Chron.7.11.

2 Then the Lord appeared unto Salomon the ſecond time, as he * appeared unto him at Gibeon.

* Chap.3.5.

3 And the Lord ſayd unto him, I haue heard thy prayer and thy ſupplication, that thou haſt made before mee: I haue hallowed this houſe (which thou haſt built) to * put my Name there for euer, and mine eyes, and my heart ſhall be there perpetually.

* Chap.8.29. Deut.12.11.

4 And

a If thou walke in my feare, and withdraw thy ſelfe from the common manner of men, which follow their ſenſualitie.

4 And a if thou wilt walke before me (as David thy father walked in pureneſſe of heart and in righteouſnes) to doe according to all that I have commanded thee, and keepe my ſtatutes, and my judgements,

5 Then will I ſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdome upon Iſrael for ever, as I promiſed to David thy father, ſaying, * Thou ſhalt not want a man upon the throne of Iſrael.

* 2 Sam. 7. 12. 1. Chron. 22. 10.

6 But if yee and your children turne away from mee, and will b not keepe my Commandements, and my ſtatutes (which I have ſet before you) but goe and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them, b God declareth that diſobedience againſt him, is the cauſe of his diſpleaſure, and ſo of all miſerie.

7 Then will I cut off Iſrael from the lande, which I have given them, and the houſe which I have hallowed * for my Name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and Iſrael ſhall be a c proverbe, and a common talke among all people.

* Ierem. 7. 14.

c The world ſhall make of you a mocking ſtocke for the vile contempt and abuſing of Gods moſt liberall benefits.

8 Even this high houſe ſhall be ſo: every one that paſſeth by it, ſhalbe aſtonied, and ſhall hiſſe, and they ſhall ſay, * Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and to this houſe?

* Deut. 29. 24. Ierem. 22. 8.

9 And they ſhall anſwere, Becauſe they forſooke the Lord their God, which brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worſhipped them, and ſerved them, therefore hath the Lord brought upon them all this evill.

10 * And at the end of twentie yeeres, when Salomon had builded the two houſes, the houſe of the Lord, and the Kings palace,

* 2 Chron. 8. 1.

11 (For the which Hiram the King of ‖ Tyrus had brought to Salomon timber of Cedar, and firre trees, and golde, and whatſoever he deſired) then king Salomon gave to Hiram twentie cities in the land of ‖ Galil.

‖ Or, Zor.

‖ Or, Galile.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyrus to ſee the cities which Salomon had given him, and they pleaſed him not.

13 Therefore hee ſayd, What cities are theſe which thou haſt given me, my brother? And he called them the land of ‖ Cabul unto this day.

‖ Or, dirtie, or barren.

14 And Hiram had ſent the King d ſixe ſcore e talents of gold.

d For his tribute toward the building.

e The common talent was about threeſcore pound weight.

15 ¶ And this is the cauſe of the tribute, why King Salomon raiſed tribute, to wit, to build the houſe of the Lord, and his owne houſe, and f Millo, and the wall of Ieruſalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

f Millo was as the towne houſe or place of aſſembly which was open above.

16 Pharaoh king of Egypt had come up, and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and ſlewe the Canaanites that dwelt in the citie, and gave it for a preſent unto his daughter Salomons wife.

17 (Therefore Salomon built Gezar and Bethhoron the nether,

18 And Baalath, and Tamor in the wilderneſſe of the land,

19 And all the cities g of ſtore, that Salomon had, even cities for charets, and cities for horſemen, and all that Salomon deſired and would build in Ieruſalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion)

g Cities for his munitions of warre.

20 All the people that were h left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Iebuſites, which were not of the children of Iſrael:

h Theſe were as bondmen and paid what was required, either labour or money.

21 To wit, their children that were left after them in the land whom the children of Iſrael were not able to deſtroy, thoſe did Salomom make tributaries unto this day.

22 But of the children of Iſrael did Salomon * make no bondmen: but they were men of warre and his ſervants, and his princes, and his captaines, and rulers of his charets and his horſemen.

* Levit 25. 39.

23 Theſe were the princes of the officers, that were over Salomons worke: even i five hundreth and fiftie, and they ruled the people that wrought in the worke.

i The overſeers of Salomons worke, were divided into three parts: the firſt conteined 3300. the ſecond 3300. and the third 550. which were Iſraelites: ſo here are conteined the two laſt parts, which make 550. more, 2. Chron. 8. 10.

24 ¶ And Pharaohs daughter came up from the citie of David unto the houſe which Salomon had built for her: then did he build Millo.

25 And thriſe a yeere did Salomon offer burnt offrings and peace offrings upon the altar which he built unto the Lord: and he burnt incenſe upon the Altar that was before the Lord, when hee had finiſhed the houſe.

26 ¶ Alſo king Salomon made a navie of ſhips in Ezeon-geber, which is beſide Eloth, and the brinke of the red ſea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram ſent with the navie, his ſervants, that were mariners, and had knowledge of the ſea, with the ſervants of Salomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and fet from thence k foure hundreth and twentie talents of gold, and brought it to king Salomon.

k In the 2. Chron. 8. 18. is made mention of thirtie more, which ſeeme to have beene employed for their charges.

CHAP. X.

The Queene of Saba commeth to heare the wiſedome of Salomon. 13 His royall throne. 23 His power and magnificence.

AND the * Queene of a Sheba hearing the fame of Salomon (concerning the Name of the Lord) came to proove him with hard queſtions.

* 2. Chron. 9. 1. Matth. 12. 42. Luke 11. 31.

a Ioſephus ſaith, that ſhee was Queene of Ethiopia, and that Sheba was the name of the chiefe citie of Meroe, which is an yland of Nilus.

2 And ſhee came to Ieruſalem with a very great traine, and camels that bare ſweete odours, and golde exceeding much, and precious ſtones: and ſhee came to Salomon, and communed with him of al that was in her heart.

3 And Salomon declared unto her all her queſtions: nothing was hid from the king, which he expounded not unto her.

4 Then the Queene of Sheba ſaw all Salomons wiſedome, and the houſe that he had built,

5 And the b meat of his table, and the ſitting of his ſervants, and the order of his miniſters, and their apparell, and his drinking veſſels, and his burnt offrings, that he offered in the houſe of the Lord, and † ſhe was greatly aſtonied.

b That is, the whole order, and trade of his houſe.

† Ebr. there was no more ſpirit in her.

6 And ſhee ſayd unto the King, It was a true word that I heard in mine owne land of thy ſayings, and of thy wiſedome.

7 Howbeit I beleeved not this report, till I came, and had ſeene it with mine eyes: but loe, the one halfe was not tolde mee: for thou haſt more wiſedome and proſperitie, then I have heard by report.

8 Happy are thy men, happy are theſe thy ſervants, which ſtand ever before thee, and heare thy c wiſedome.

c But much more happy are they, which heare the wiſedome of God revealed in his word.

9 Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, which d loved thee, to ſet thee on the throne of Iſrael, becauſe the Lord loved Iſrael for ever, and made thee king to doe e equitie and righteouſneſſe.

d It is a chiefe ſigne of Gods favour, when godly and wiſe rulers ſit in the throne of juſtice.

10 And ſhe gave the king ſixe ſcore talents of golde, and of ſweete odours exceeding much, and precious ſtones. There came no more ſuch abundance of ſweete odours, as the Queene of Sheba gave to king Salomon.

e This is the cauſe, why Kings are appointed.

11 The navie alſo of Hiram (that caried gold from Ophir) brought likewiſe great plentie of * Almuggim trees from Ophir, and precious ſtones.

* 2. Chron. 9. 10.

12 And the king made of the Almuggim trees pillars for the houſe of the Lord, and for the kings palace, palace, and made harps and psalteries for singers. There came no more such Almuggim trees, nor were no more seene unto this day.

13 And King Salomon gave unto the Queene of Sheba, whatsoever she would aske, besides that, which Salomon gave her of his † kingly liberalitie: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both she and her servants.

† Ebr. by the hand of the King.

14 ¶ Also the weight of gold, that came to Salomon in one yeere, was sixe hundreth threescore and sixe * talents of gold,

* Exod. 25.39.

15 Besides that he had of merchant men and of the marchandises of them that sold spices, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the princes of the ‡ countrey.

‡ To wit, of Arabia, which for the great abundance of all things was called Happy.

16 And king Salomon made two hundreth targets of beaten golde, sixe hundreth shekels of gold went to a target:

17 And three hundred shields of beaten gold, three pound of gold went to one shield: and the King put them in the * house of the wood of Lebanon.

* Chap. 7.2.

18 ¶ Then the King made a great throne of yvorie, and covered it with the best golde.

¶ THE ROYAL THRONE OF SALOMON.

19 And the throne had sixe steps, and the top of the throne was round behinde, and there were § stayes on either side on the place of the throne, and two lyons standing by the stayes.

§ As the chaire bowes, or places to leane upon.

20 And there stood twelve lyons on the sixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

21 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde, none were of silver: for it was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

22 For the King had on the sea the navie of Tharshish with the navie of Hiram: once in three yeere came the navie of h Tharshish and brought gold and silver, yvorie, and apes and peacocks.

h By Tharshish is meant Cilicia, which was abundant in varietie of precious things.

23 So King Salomon exceeded all the kings of the earth both in riches and in wisedome.

24 And all the world sought to see Salomon, to heare his wisdome, which God had put in his heart.

25 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of golde, and raiment, and armour, and sweet odours, horses and mules, from yeere to yeere.

26 Then Salomon gathered together * charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the charet cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

* 2.Chron. 1.14.

27 And the King ‖ gave silver in Ierusalem as stones, and gave cedars as the wilde figtrees that grow abundantly in the plaine.

‖ Or, he made silver as plenteous as stones.

28 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: ‖ the kings merchants received the linnen for a price.

‖ Or, for the company of the kings merchants did receive a number at a price.

29 There came up and went out of Egypt some charet worth sixe hundreth shekels of silver: that is, one horse an hundreth and fifty. And thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites and to the Kings of Aram by their † meanes.

† Ebr. hands.

CHAP. XI.

1 Salomon hath a thousand wives and concubines, which bring him to idolatrie. 14 His God raiseth up adversaries against him. 43 He dieth.

BVt King Salomon loved * many a outlandish women: both the daughter of Pharaoh, and the women of Moab, Ammon, Edom, Zidon, and Heth,

* Deut. 17.17. Eccles. 47.22.23. a Which were idolaters.

2 Of the nations whereof the Lord had sayd unto the children of Israel, * Goe not yee in to them, nor let them come in to you: for surely they will turne your hearts after their gods, to them, I say, did Salomon ioyne in love.

* Exod. 34.16.

3 And he had seven hundreth wives, that were ‖ princesses, and three hundreth b concubines, and his wives turned away his heart.

‖ Or, Queenes. b To whom appertained no dowrie.

4 For when Salomon was old, his wives turned his heart after other gods, so that his heart was not c perfect with the Lord his God as was the heart of David his father.

c He served not God with a pure heart.

5 For Salomon followed * Ashtaroth the god of the Zidonias, and d Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites, * Iud. 2.13. d Who was also called Molech, verse 7. reade 2 King. 23.10.

6 So Salomon wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, but continued not to follow the Lord, as did David his father.

7 Then did Salomon build an hie place for Chemosh, the e abomination of Moab, in the mountaine that is over against Ierusalem, and unto Molech the abomination of the children of Ammon.

e Thus the Scripture termeth whatsoever man doeth reverence and serve as God.

8 And so did he for all his outlandish wives, which burnt incense and offered unto their gods.

9 Therefore the Lord was angrie with Salomon, because hee had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israel, * which had appeared unto him twise.

* Chap. 3.5. and 9.2.

10 And had given him a * charge concerning this thing, that he should not follow other gods: but hee kept not that, which the Lord had commanded him.

* Chap. 6.12.

11 Wherefore the Lord sayde unto Salomon, Forasmuch as f this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my Covenant, and my statutes (which I commanded thee) * I will surely rent thy kingdome from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

f That thou hast forsaken me and worshipped idoles. * Chap. 2.15.

12 Notwithstanding in thy dayes I will not do it, because of David thy father, but I will rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Howbeit I will not rent all the kingdome, but will give one g tribe to thy sonne, because of g Because the tribes of Iudah and Beniamin had their possessions mixed, they are here taken as one tribe.

David

Dauid my ſeruant, and becauſe of Ieruſalem which I haue choſen.

14 ¶ Then the Lord ſtirred vp an aduerſarie vnto Salomon, euen Hadad the Edomite, of the kings [h] ſeede, which was Edom.

15 * For when Dauid was in Edom, and Ioab the captaine of the hoſt had ſmitten all the males in Edom, and was gone vp to bury the [i] ſlaine,

16 (For ſixe moneths did Ioab remaine there and all Iſrael, till hee had deſtroyed all the males in Edom.)

17 Then this Hadad [k] fled, and certaine other Edomites of his fathers ſeruants with him, to goe into Egypt, Hadad being yet a litle childe.

18 And they aroſe out of Midian, and came to Paran, and tooke men with them out of Paran, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gaue him an houſe, and appointed him victailes and gaue him land.

19 So Hadad [l] found great fauour in the ſight of Pharaoh, and he gaue him to wife the ſiſter of his owne wife, euen the ſiſter of Tahpenes the Queene.

20 And the ſiſter of Tahpenes bare him Genubath his ſon, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaohs houſe: and Genubath was in Pharaohs houſe among the ſonnes of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that Dauid ſlept with his fathers, and that Ioab the captaine of the hoaſte was dead, Hadad ſayd to Pharaoh, Let me depart, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaoh ſayd vnto him, What haſt thou lacked with mee, that thou wouldeſt thus goe to thine owne countrey? And he anſwered, Nothing, but in any wiſe let me goe.

23 ¶ * And God ſtirred him vp another aduerſary, Rezon the ſonne of Eliada, which [m] fled from his lord Hadadezar king of Zobah.

24 And hee gathered men vnto him, and had bin captaine ouer the company, when Dauid ſlew them. And they went to Damaſcus, and dwelt there, [n] and they made him king in Damaſcus.

25 Therefore was he an aduerſary to Iſrael all the dayes of Salomon, beſides the euill that Hadad did, he alſo abhorred Iſrael, and reigned ouer Aram.

26 ¶ * And Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat an Ephrathite of Zereda Salomons ſeruant (whoſe mother was called Zeruah a widow) lift vp his hand againſt the king.

27 And this was the cauſe that he lift vp his hand againſt the king, When Salomon built Millo, hee repaired the broken places of the citie of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboam was a man of ſtrength and courage, and Salomon ſeeing that the yong man was meete for the worke, hee made him [o] ouerſeer of all the labour of the houſe of Ioſeph.

29 And at that time, when Ieroboam went out of Ieruſalem, the Prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way, having a new garment on him, and they two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and [p] rent it in twelue pieces.

31 And ſayd to Ieroboam, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Behold, I will rent the kingdome out of the hands of Salomon, and will giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But hee ſhall haue one tribe for my ſeruant Dauids ſake, and for Ieruſalem the citie, which I haue choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael.

33 Becauſe they haue forſaken mee, and haue worſhipped Aſhtaroth the god of the Zidonians, and Chemoſh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the Ammonites, and haue not walked in my wayes (to [‖] do right in mine eyes, & my ſtatutes, and my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

34 But I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hand: for I will make him prince all his life long for Dauid my ſeruants ſake, whom I haue choſen, and who kept my commandements and my ſtatutes.

35 * But I will take the kingdome out of his ſonnes hand, and will giue it vnto thee, euen the ten tribes.

36 And vnto his ſonne will I giue one tribe, that Dauid my ſeruant may haue a [q] light alway before mee in Ieruſalem the citie, which I haue choſen mee to put my Name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou ſhalt reigne † euen as thine heart deſireth, and ſhalt be king ouer Iſrael.

38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I command thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and doe right in my ſight, to keepe my ſtatutes and my commandements as Dauid my ſeruant did, then will I be with thee, and build thee a ſure houſe, as I built vnto Dauid, and will giue Iſrael vnto thee.

39 And I will [r] for this afflict the ſeede of Dauid, [ſ] but not for euer.

40 ¶ Salomon ſought therefore to kill Ieroboam, and Ieroboam aroſe, and fled into Egypt vnto Shiſhak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt vntill the death of Salomon.

41 And the reſt of the words of Salomon, and all that hee did, and his wiſedome, are they not written in the [t] booke of the acts of Salomon?

42 The time that Salomon reigned in Ieruſalem ouer all Iſrael, was * fourtie yeere.

43 And Salomon ſlept with his fathers: and was buried in the citie of Dauid his father: and Rehoboam his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboam ſucceedeth Salomon. 3 Hee refuſeth the counſell of the Ancient. 20 Ieroboam reigneth ouer Iſrael. 21 God commandeth Rehoboam not to fight. 28 Ieroboam maketh golden calues.

AND * Rehoboam went to Shechem: for all Iſrael were come to Shechem, to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat heard of it (who was yet in Egypt, * whither Ieroboam had fled from king Salomon, and [‖] dwelt in Egypt.)

3 Then they ſent and called him: and Ieroboam and all the Congregation of Iſrael came and and ſpake vnto Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our * yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous ſeruitude of thy father, and his ſore yoke which hee put vpon vs, [a] lighter, and we will ſerue thee.

5 And he ſaid vnto them, Depart yet for three dayes, then come againe to mee. And the people departed.

9 And hee sayd unto them, c What counsell give yee, that we may answere this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke, which thy father hath put upon us, lighter?

c There is nothing harder for them that are in authority, then to bridle their affections, and to follow good counsell.

10 Then the yong men that were brought up with him, spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou say unto this people, that have spoken unto thee, and sayd, Thy father hath made our yoke heavie, but make thou it lighter unto us: even thus shalt thou say unto them, My ‖ least part shall be d bigger then my fathers loynes.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had e appointed, saying, Come to me againe the third day.

13 And the king answered the people sharpely, and left the olde mens counsell that they gave him,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, and I will make your yoke more grievous: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king regarded them not, the people answered the king thus, saying, What portion have wee in f David? wee have none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. To your tents, O Israel: now see to thine owne house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents.

f Though their cause were good, yet it is most hard for the people to bridle their affections, as these vile wordes declare.

17 Howbeit over the children of Israel, which dwelt in the cities of Iudah, did Rehoboam reigne still.

18 ¶ Now the king Rehoboam sent Adoram the receiver of the tribute, and all Israel stoned him to death: then the king Rehoboam † made speede to get him up to his charet, to flee to Ierusalem.

† He strengthened himselfe.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house g of David unto this day.

g By the just judgement of God for Salomons sinne.

20 ¶ And when all Israel had heard that Ieroboam was come againe, they sent and called him to the assembly, and made him king over all Israel: none followed the house of David, but the tribe of Iudah * onely.

* Chap. 12. 13.

21 And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he h gathered all the house of Iudah with the tribe of Beniamin, an hundreth and fourescore thousand of chosen men (which were good warriours) to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon.

h For as yet hee perceived not that the Lord had so appointed it.

22 * But the word of God came unto Shemajah the i man of God, saying,

* 2. Chron. 11. 2.

i That is, the Prophet.

23 Speake unto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and unto all the house of Iudah and Beniamin, and the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus sayth the k Lord, Ye shall not goe up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel: returne every man to his house: for this thing is done by mee. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned, and departed according to the word of the Lord.

k Who of his just judgement will punish the trespasser, and of his mercy spare the innocent people.

25 ¶ Then Ieroboam built Sechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Ieroboam thought in his heart, Now shall the kingdome returne to the house of David.

27 If this people goe up and doe sacrifice in the house of the Lord l at Ierusalem, then shall the hearts of this people turne againe unto their lord, even to Rehoboam king of Iudah: so shall they kill me, and goe againe to Rehoboam king of Iudah.

l He feared least his people should have by this meanes bene entised to rebell against him.

28 Whereupon the king tooke counsell, and made two calves of golde, and sayd unto them, m It is too much for you to goe up to Ierusalem: Behold, O Israel, thy gods which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

m So crafty are carnall perswasions of princes, when they will make a religion to serve to their appetite.

29 And he set the one in Beth-el, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people went (because of the one) even to Dan.

31 Also he made an n house of hie places, and made priests of the lowest of the people, which were not of the sonnes of Levi.

n That is, a temple, where altars were built for idolatry.

32 And Ieroboam made a feast the o fifteenth day of the eight moneth, like unto the feast that is in Iudah, and offered on the altar. So did he in Beth-el, and offered unto the calves that hee had made: and hee placed in Beth-el the priests of the hie places, which he had made.

o Because hee would the more binde the peoples devotion to his idolatry, he made a new holy day, besides those that the Lord had appointed in the Law.

33 And hee offered upon the altar, which hee had made in Beth-el, the fifteenth day of the eight moneth, (even in the moneth which hee had forged of his owne heart) and made a solemne feast unto the children of Israel, and hee went up to the altar, to burne incense.

A Nd behold, there came a a man of God out of Iudah (by the commandement of the Lord) unto b Beth-el, and Ieroboam stood by the Altar to offer incense.

a That is, a Prophet.

b Not that that was called Luz in Beniamin, but an other of that name.

2 And he cried against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and sayd, O altar, altar, thus sayth the Lord, Behold, a childe shalbe borne unto the house of David, * Iosiah by name, and upon thee shall he sacrifice the priests of the high places that burne incense upon thee, and they shall burne mens bones upon thee.

3 And he gave a signe the same time, saying, This is the c signe, that the Lord hath spoken, Behold, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are upon it, shall ‖ fall out.

c By this signe ye shall know that the Lord hath sent me.

‖ Or, be powred out.

4 And when the king had heard the saying of the man of God, which hee had cried against the altar in Beth-el, Ieroboam stretched out his hand for the altar, saying, d Lay holde on him: but his hand which hee put foorth against him, dried up, and hee could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also clave asunder, and the ashes fell fell out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had given by the † commandement of the Lord.

† Ebr. mouth.

6 Then the king answered and saide unto the man of God, e I beseech thee, pray unto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for mee, that mine hand may be restored unto mee. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the Kings hande was restored, and became as it was afore.

e Though the wicked humble themselves for a time, when they feele Gods judgement, yet after they returne to their olde malice, and declare that they are but vile hypocrites.

7 Then the King sayd unto the man of God, Come home with mee, that thou mayest ‖ dine, and I will give thee a reward.

‖ Or, take sustenance.

8 But the man of God sayd unto the King, If thou wouldest give me halfe thine house, I would not goe with thee, neither would I eate bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so ‖ was it charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, f Eate no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

‖ Or, he charged me: to wit, an Angel.

f Seeing he had the expresse word of God, he ought not to have declined therefrom neither for the perswasion of man nor Angel.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ And an olde Prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his sonnes came and told him all the works, that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el, and the words which he had spoken unto the king, told they their father.

12 And their father saide unto them, What way went he? and his sonnes † shewed him what way the man of God went, which came from Iudah.

† Ebr. looked.

13 And he sayde unto his sonnes, Saddle mee the asse. Who sadled him the asse, and hee rode thereon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oke: and he sayd unto him, Art thou the man of God, that camest from Iudah? And he sayd, † Yea.

† Ebr. I am.

15 Then he sayd unto him, g Come home with me, and eat bread.

g This he did of a simple mind, thinking it his duetie to declare friendship to a Prophet.

16 But hee answered, I may not returne with thee, nor goe in with thee, neither will I eat bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the worde of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eat no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to goe by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he sayd unto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, and an h Angel spake unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eate bread and drinke water: but he lied unto him.

h His fault is here double: first, in that hee suffereth not the Prophet to obey Gods expresse commandement: and next, that he faineth to have a revelation to the contrary.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eate bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the word of the Lord came unto the Prophet, that brought him againe:

21 And hee cried unto the man of God that came from Iudah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, i Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandement which the Lord thy God commanded thee, i God would reproove his folly by him, who was the occasion to bring him into errour.

22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread and drunke water in the place (whereof he did say unto thee, Thou shalt eate no bread nor drinke any water) thy carkeis shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And when he had eaten bread and drunke, he saddled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whom he had brought againe, 24 And when he was gone, k a lion met him by the way, and slew him, and his body was cast in the way, and the asse stood thereby: the Lion stood by the corps also.

k By this fearefull example, God setteth foorth how dangerous a thing it is for men to behave themselves coldly, or deceitfully in their charge whereunto God hath called them.

25 And behold, men that passed by, saw the carkeis cast in the way, and the Lion standing by the corps: and they came and told it in the towne where the old Prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, hee sayd, It is the man of God, who hath been disobedient unto the Commandement of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath delivered him unto the Lion, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake unto him.

27 ‖ And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me the asse. And they sadled him.

‖ Or, he charged.

28 And hee went and found his body cast in the way, and the asse and the Lion stood by the corps: and the Lion had l not eaten the body, nor torne the asse.

l To declare that this was only the judgement of God: for if the Lion had done it for hunger, hee would also have devoured the body in which he had prepared for himselfe.

29 And the Prophet tooke up the bodie of the man of God, and laid it upon the asse, and brought it againe, and the olde Prophet came to the city, to lament and bury him.

30 And he layd his body in his m owne grave, and thy lamented over him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, bury yee me also in the sepulchre, where in the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which he cried by the word of the Lord against the altar that is in Beth-el, and against all the houses of the hie places, which are in the cities of Samaria, shall surely come to passe.

33 Howbeit after this Ieroboam n converted not from his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people priests of the hie places. Who would, might † consecrate himselfe and be of the priests of the hie places.

n So the wicked profit not by Gods threatnings, but go backward, and become worse and worse, 2 Tim. 3. 13.

34 And this thing turned to sinne unto the house of Ieroboam, even to roote it out, and destroy it † from the face of the earth.

k In the middes of the wicked, God hath some on whom he doeth bestow his mercies.

14 Moreover, the Lord shall stirre him up a King over Israel which shall destroy the house of Ieroboam in that day: l what? yea, even now.

15 For the Lord shall smite Israel, as when a reede is shaken in the water, and he shall weed Israel out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the m River, because they have made them groves, provoking the Lord to anger.

m Meaning, Euphrates.

16 And he shall give Israel up, because of the sinnes of Ieroboam, who did sinne, and n made Israel to sinne.

n The people shall not be excused when they doe evill at the commandement of their governours.

17 ¶ And Ieroboams wife arose, and departed, and came to Tirzah, and when shee came to the threshold of the house, the yong man died, 21 ¶ Also Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon reigned in Iudah. Rehoboam was one and fortie yeere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned seventeene p yeere in Ierusalem, the citie which the Lord did chuse out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonite.

p And died before Ieroboam about foure yeeres.

‖ Or, besides all that their fathers had done by their sinnes.

23 For they also made them hie places, and images, and groves on every hie hill, and under every greene tree.

24 There were also Sodomites in the q land, they did according to alle the abominations of the nations, which the Lord hast cast out before the children of Israel.

q Where idolatry reigneth, all horrible vices are committed, till at length Gods just judgement destroy them utterly.

25 ¶ And in the fift yeere of King Rehoboam, Shishak king of Egypt came up against Ierusalem, 33 In the third yeare of Asa king of Iudah, began Baasha the sonne of Ahijah to reigne over all Israel in m Tirzah, and reigned foure and twentie yeares.

m Which was the place where the kings of Israel remained.

34 And hee did evil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of Ieroboam, and in his sinne, wherewith he made Israel to sinne.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of Baasha, 6 Elah, 9 Zimri, 16 Omri, 31 Ahab marrieth Iezebel. 34 Iericho is built again.

THen the word of the Lord came to Iehu the sonne of Hanani against Baasha, saying, a Thus spake Iehu to Baasha in the Name of the Lord.

2 a Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and made thee captaine over my people Israel, and thou hast walked in the way of Ieroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sinne, to provoke mee with their sinnes,

3 Beholde, I will take away the posteritie of Baasha, and the posteritie of his house, and will make b thine house like the * house of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nebat.

b Meaning, the house of Baasha.
* Chap.15.29.

4 * He that dieth of Baashas stocke in the city, him shall the dogges eate: and that man of him which dieth in the fieldes, shall the foules of the ayre eate.

* Chap.14.11.

5 And the rest of the actes of Baasha, and what he did, and his ‖ power, are they not written in the booke of the * Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

‖ Or, valiantnesse.
* 1.Chron.16.11.

6 So Baasha slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tirzah, and Elah his sonne reigned in his stead.

c That is, the Prophet did his message.

7 And also c by the hand of Iehu the sonne of Hanani the Prophet, came the word of the Lord to Baasha, and to his house, that he should be like the house of Ieroboam, even for all the wickednesse that de did in the sight of the Lord, in provoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed d him.

d Meaning, Nadab Ieroboams sonne.

8 ¶ In the sixe and twentieth yeare of Asa king of Iudah, began Elah the sonne of Baasha to reigne over Israel in Tirzah, and reigned two yeares.

9 And his servant Zimri, captaine of halfe his charets, conspired against him, as he was in Tirzah e drinking, till he was drunken in the house of Arza steward of his house in Tirzah.

e The Chalde text hath thus, Drinking till he was drunken in the Temple of Arza the idole by his house in Tirzah.

10 And Zimri came and smote him, and killed him in the seven and twenty yeare of Asa king of Iudah, and reigned in his stead.

11 ¶ And when hee was king, and sate on his throne, hee slew all the house of Baasha, not leaving thereof one to pisse against a wall, neither of his kinsfolkes, nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha, according to the word of the Lord which he spake against Baasha by the hand of Iehu the f Prophet.

f Both Hanani his father and he were Prophets.

13 For all the sinnes of Baasha, and sinnes of Elah his sonne, which they sinned, and made Israel to sinne, and provoked the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

14 And the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

15 ¶ In the seven and twenty yeare of Asa king of Iudah did Zimri reigne seven dayes in Tirzah, and the people was then in campe [g] against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistims.

g The siege had continued from the time of Nadab Ieroboams sonne.

16 And the people of the hoast heard say, Zimri hath conspired, and hath also slaine the king. Wherefore all Israel made Omri the captaine of the hoast, king over Israel that same day, even in the hoast.

17 Then Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged [h] Tirzah.

h Where Zimri kept himselfe in hold.

18 And when Zimri saw, that the city was taken, he went into the palace of the kings house, and burnt † himself, and the kings house with fire, and so died.

† Ebr. burnt the Kings house upon him.

19 For his sinnes which hee sinned, in doing that which is evill in the sight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboam, and in his sinnes which he did, causing Israel to sinne.

20 And the rest of the acts of Zimri, and his treason that he wrought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

21 Then were the people of Israel divided into two parts: for [i] halfe the people followed Tibni the sonne of Ginath to make him king, and the other halfe followed Omri.

i That is, the people which were not at the siege of Gibbethon: for there they had chosen Omri.

22 But the people that followed Omri, prevailed against the people that followed Tibni the son of Ginath: so Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 In the one and thirty yeare of Asa king of Iudah began Omri to reigne over Israel, and reigned twelve yeare. Sixe yeare reigned he in Tirzah.

24 And hee bought the mountaine [‖] Samaria of one Shemer for two talents of silver, and built in the mountaine, and called the name of the city, which he built, after the name of Shemer lord of the mountaine, Samaria.

‖ Or, Shomron.

25 But Omri did evill in the eyes of the Lord, and did [k] worse then all that were before him.

k For such is the nature of idolatry, that the superstition thereof doeth daily increase, and the elder it is the more abominable it is before God and his Church.

26 For hee walked in all the way of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in his sinnes wherewith he made Israel to sinne in provoking the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the acts of Omri, that hee did, and his strength that he shewed, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

28 And Omri slept with his fathers, and was buried in [l] Samaria: and Ahab his sonne reigned in his stead.

l He was the first king that was buried in Samaria, after that the kings house was burnt in Tirzah.

29 Now Ahab the sonne of Omri began to reigne over Israel, in the eighth and thirtie yeare of Asa king of Iudah, and Ahab the sonne of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria two and twenty yeare.

30 And Ahab the sonne of Omri did worse in the sight of the Lord then all that were before him.

31 For was it a light thing for him to walke in the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, except he tooke Iezebel also the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Zidonians [m] to wife, and went and served Baal, and worshipped him?

m By whose meanes he fell to all wicked and strange idolatry and cruell persecution.

32 Also hee reared up an altar to Baal in the house of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a grove, and Ahab proceeded, and did provoke the Lord God of Israel more then all the kings of Israel that were before him.

34 In his dayes did Hiel the Bethelite build [n] Iericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his eldest sonne, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest sonne Segub, according to the word of the Lord which he spake † by Iothua the sonne of Nun.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Elijah first warneth of the famine to come. 4 Hee is fed of Ravens. 9 He is sent to Zarephath, where he restoreth his hostesse sonne to life.

AND Elijah the Tishbite one of the inhabitants of Gilead said unto Ahab, * As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I [a] stand, there shall be neither dew nor raine these yeares, but [b] according to my word.

* Ecclus. 48. 3. Iam. 5. 16, 17.

a That is, whom I serve.

b But as I shall declare it by Gods revelation.

2 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto him, saying,

3 Goe hence, and turne thee Eastward, and hide thy self in the [‖] river Cherith, that is over against Iorden, ‖ Or, brooke.

4 And thou shalt drinke of the river: and I have commanded the [c] ravens to feed thee there.

c To strengthen his faith against persecution, God promiseth to feed him miraculously.

5 So hee went and did according unto the word of the Lord: for he went, and remained by the river Cherith that is over against Iorden.

6 And the ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening, and he dranke of the river.

7 And after a while the river dried up, because there fell no raine upon the earth.

8 ¶ And the [d] word of the Lord came unto him, saying, d At the troubles of the Saints of God are many, so his mercy is ever at hand to deliver them.

9 * Up, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Zidon, and remaine there: behold, I have commanded a widow there to sustaine thee.

* Luke 4. 25, 26.

10 So hee arose and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the widow was there [e] gathering sticks: and he called her, and said, bring me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessell, that I may drinke.

e All this was to strengthen the faith of Elijah, to the intent that he should looke upon nothing worldly, but onely trust on Gods providence.

11 And as she was going to fetch it, he called to her, and said, Bring mee, I pray thee, a morsell of bread in thine hand.

12 And she said, As the Lord thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but even an handfull of meale in a barrell, and a little oyle in a cruse: and behold, I am gathering † a few sticks for to goe in, and dresse it for me and my sonne, that we may eat it, and [f] die.

† Ebr. two.

f For there is no hope of any more sustenance.

13 And Elijah said unto her, Feare not, come, doe as thou hast said, but make me thereof a little cake first of all, and bring it unto mee, and afterward make for thee and thy sonne.

14 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, [g] The meale in the barrell shall not be wasted, neither shall the oyle in the cruse be diminished, unto the time that the Lord send raine upon the earth.

g God receiveth no benefit for the use of his, but he promiseth a most ample recompence for the same.

15 So she went, and did as Elijah said, and she did eate: so did hee and her house [h] a certaine time.

h That is, till he had raine and food on the earth.

16 The barrell of the meale wasted not, nor the oyle was spent out of the cruse, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of Elijah.

17 ¶ And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sicknesse was so sore, [i] that there was no breath left in him.

i Or, that he died: God would try, whe her she had learned by his merciful providence to make him her onely stay and comfort.

18 And she said unto Elijah, What have I to do with with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sinne to remembrance, and to slay my sonne?

19 And he said unto her, Give me thy sonne: and he tooke him out of her bosome, and caried him up into a chamber, where he abode, and laid him upon his owne bed.

20 Then hee called unto the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, hast thou [k] punished also this widow, with whome I soiourne, by killing her sonne?

k He was afraid lest Gods name should have bene blasphemed and his ministers contemned, except he should have continued his mercies as he had begunne them, specially while he there remained.

21 And he stretched himselfe upon the child three times, and called unto the Lord, and saide, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this childs soule come into him againe.

22 Then the Lord heard the voyce of Elijah, and the soule of the child came into him againe, and he revived.

23 And Elijah tooke the child, and brought him downe out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother, and Elijah said, Behold, thy sonne liveth.

24 And the woman said unto Elijah, Now [l] I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

l So hard a thing it is to depend on God, except we be confirmed by miracles.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Elijah is sent to Ahab. 13 Obadiah hideth an hundreth Prophets. 40 Elijah killeth all Baals prophets. 45 Hee obtaineth raine.

AFter many dayes, the word of the Lord came to Elijah, in the [a] third yeere, saying, Goe, shew thy selfe unto Ahab, and I will send raine upon the earth.

a After that he departed from the river Cherith.

2 And Elijah went to shew himselfe unto Ahab, and there was great famine in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called Obadiah the governour of his house: (and Obadiah [b] feared God greatly:

b God had begun to worke his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to that knowledge, which is also requisite of the godly: that is, to professe his name openly.

4 For when Iezebel destroyed the Prophets of the Lord, Obadiah tooke an hundreth Prophets, and hid them by fifties in a cave, and he fed them with bread and water.)

5 And Ahab said unto Obadiah, Go into the land, unto all the fountaines of water, and unto all the rivers, if so be that we may finde grasse to save the horses and the mules alive, least wee deprive the land of the beasts.

6 And so they divided the lande betweene them to walke thorow it. Ahab went one way by himselfe, and Obadiah went another way by himselfe.

7 ¶ And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah [c] met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and said, Art not thou my Lord Elijah?

c God pitieth oft times the wicked for the godlies sake, and causeth Elijah to meete with Obadiah, that the benefit might be knowen to be granted for Gods childrens sake.

8 And he answered him, Yea, go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

9 And he said, What have I sinned, that thou wouldest deliver thy servant into the hand of Ahab, to slay me?

10 As the Lord thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: and when they said, He is not here, he tooke an oath of the kingdome and nation, if they had not found thee.

11 And now thou sayest, Goe, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lord shall cary thee into some place that I do not know: so when I come and tell Ahab, if he cannot finde thee, then will he kill me: But I thy servant [d] feare the Lord from my youth.

d I am none of the wicked persecuters that thou shouldest procure unto me such displeasure, but serve God, and favour his children.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Iezebell slew the Prophets of the Lord, how I hid an hundreth men of the Lords Prophets by fifties in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou sayest, Goe, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here, that he may slay me.

15 And Elijah said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely shew [e] my selfe unto him this day.

e By my presence I will declare that thou hast told him the truth.

16 ¶ So Obadiah went to meete Ahab, and told him. And Ahab went to meete Elijah.

17 And when Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab said unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israel?

18 And hee answered, I have not troubled Israell, but [f] thou and thy fathers house, in that yee have forsaken the commandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.

f The true ministers of God ought not onely not to suffer the trueth to be unjustly slandered, but to reproove boldly the wicked slanderers without respect of person.

19 Now therefore send, and gather to mee all Israel unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal foure hundreth and fiftie, and the prophets of the groves foure hundreth, which eate at Iezebels table.

20 ¶ So Ahab sent unto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.

21 And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long [g] halt ye betweene two opinons? If the Lord be God, follow him, but if Baall be hee, then goe after him. And the people answered him not a word.

g Be constant in religion, and make it not as a thing indifferent, whether yee follow God or Baal, or whether ye serve God wholly or in part, Zeph. 1, 5.

22 Then said Elijah unto the people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophets are foure hundreth and fiftie men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullockes, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on the wood, but put no fire under, and I will prepare the other bullocke, and lay him on the wood, and will put no fire under.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I will call on the Name of the Lord: and then the God that answereth [h] by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered, and sayd, It is well spoken.

h By sending down fire from heaven to burne the sacrifice.

25 And Elijah said unto the prophets of Baal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first, (for ye are many) and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 So they tooke the one bullocke that was given them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning to noone, saying, O Baal, heare us: but there was no voyce, nor any to answere: and they [i] leapt upon the altar that was made.

i As men ravished with some strange spirit.

27 And at noone Elijah mocked them, and said, Crie alowde: for hee is a [k] god: either hee talketh or pursueth his enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may be that hee sleepeth, and must be [l] awaked.

k You esteeme him as God.

l Hee mocketh their beastly madnesse, which thinke that by any instance or suit, the dead and vile idoles can helpe their worshippers in their necessitie.

28 And they cryed lowd, and cut themselves as their maner was, with knives and lancers, till the blood gushed out upon them.

29 And when midday was passed, and they had prophecied untill the offering of the evening sacrifice, there was neither voyce, nor one to answere, nor any that regarded.

30 And Elijah said unto all the people, Come to mee. And all the people came to him. And hee repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.

31 And Elijah tooke twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the ſonnes of Iaakob, (unto whom the word of the Lord came, ſaying, * Iſrael ſhalbe thy name)

32 And with the ſtones hee built an altar in the name of the Lord: and he made a ditch round about the altar, as great as would conteine two † meaſures of ſeed.

33 And he put the wood in order, and hewed the bullocke in pieces, and laid him in the wood:

34 And ſayd, Fill foure barrels with water, and poure it upon the burnt offering and on the wood. Againe he ſayd, Doe ſo againe. And they did ſo the ſecond time. And he ſayd, Doe it the third time. And they did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar: and he m filled the ditch with water alſo.

36 And when they ſhould offer the evening ſacrifice, Elijah the Prophet came and ſayd, Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and of Iſrael, let it be knowen this day, that thou art the God of Iſrael, and that I am thy ſervant, and that I haue done all theſe things at thy commandement.

37 Heare mee, O Lord, heare mee, and let this people knowe that thou art the Lord God, and that thou haſt turned their heart againe n at the laſt.

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell, and conſumed the burnt offering, and the wood, and the ſtones, and the duſt, and licked up the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people ſaw it, they fell on their faces, and ſayd, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Elijah ſayd unto them, Take the prophets of Baal, let not o a man of them eſcape: and they tooke them, and Elijah brought them to the brooke Kiſhon, and ſlew them there.

41 ¶ And Elijah ſaid unto Ahab, Get thee up, eate and drinke, for there is a ſound of much raine.

42 So Ahab went up to eate and to drinke, and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel: and he crouched unto the earth, and put his face betweene his knees.

43 And ſaid to his ſervant, Goe up now, and looke toward the way of the Sea. And hee went up, and looked, and ſaid, There is nothing. Againe he ſaid, Goe againe p ſeven times.

44 And at the ſeventh time he ſayd, Behold, there ariſeth a little cloude out of the Sea like a mans hand. Then he ſayd, Up, and ſay unto Ahab, Make ready the charet, and get thee downe, that the raine ſtay thee not.

45 And ‖ in the meane while the heaven was blacke with cloudes and winde, and there was a great raine. Then Ahab went up, and came to Izreel.

46 And the hand of the Lord was on Elijah, and he girded up his loynes, and ran q before Ahab till he came to Izreel.

CHAP. XIX.

5 Eliah flieing from Iezebel, is nouriſhed by the Angel of God. 15 Hee is commanded to anoynt Hazael, Iehu, and Eliſha.

NOw Ahab told Iezebel all that Elijah had done, and how hee had ſlaine all the a prophets with the ſword.

2 Then Iezebel ſent a meſſenger unto Elijah, ſaying, b The gods doe ſo to me, and more alſo, if I make not thy life like one of their lives by to morow this time.

3 ¶ When he ſaw that, hee aroſe, and went ‖ for his life, and came to Beerſheba, which is in Iudah, and left his ſervant there.

4 But hee went a dayes journey into the wilderneſſe, and came and ſate downe under a Iuniper tree, and deſired that he might die, and ſayd, It is now enough: O Lord, c take my ſoule, for I am no better then my fathers.

5 And as hee lay and ſlept under the Iuniper tree, behold now, an Angel touched him, and ſayd unto him, Vp, and eat.

6 And when hee looked about, behold, there was a cake baken on the coales, and a pot of water at his head: ſo he did eat and drinke, and returned and ſlept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the ſecond time, and touched him, and ſayd, Vp, and eat: for d thou haſt a great journey.

8 ¶ Then hee aroſe, and did eate and drinke, and walked in the ſtrength of that meate fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, unto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there hee entred into a cave, and lodged there: and behold, the Lord ſpake to him, and ſayd unto him, What doeſt thou here, Elijah?

10 And he anſwered, I haue e beene very iealous for the Lord God of hoaſtes: for the children of Iſrael haue forſaken thy covenant, broken downe thine altars, and ſlaine thy Prophets with the ſword, * and I onely am left, and they ſeeke my life to take it away.

11 And hee ſayd, Come out, and ſtand upon the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by, and a mightie ſtrong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: but the Lord was f not in the winde: and after the winde came and earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a ſtill and ſoft voyce.

13 And when Elijah heard it, hee covered his face with his mantle, and went out, and ſtood in the entring of the cave, and behold, there came a voyce unto him, and ſayd, What doeſt thou here, Elijah?

14 And he anſwered, I have bene very ielous for the Lord God of hoaſts, g becauſe the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, caſt downe thine altars, and ſlaine thy Prophets with the ſword, and I onely am left, and they ſeeke my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord ſayd unto him, Goe, returne by the wildernesſe onto Damaſcus, and when thou commeſt there, anoynt Hazael king over ‖ Aram.

16 And Iehu the ſonne of Nimſhi ſhalt thou anoynt King over Iſrael: and Eliſha the ſonne of Shaphat of Abel Meholah ſhalt thou anoynt to be Prophet in thy roome.

17 And * him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Hazael, ſhall Iehu ſlay: and him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Iehu, ſhall Eliſha ſlay.

18 Yet will * I leave ſeven thouſand in Iſrael: even h all the knees that have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth that hath not kiſſed him.

19 ¶ So he departed thence, and found Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelft: and Elijah went towards him, and caſt his mantle

CHAP. XX.

1 Samaria is beſieged. 13 The Lord promiſeth the victorie to Ahab by a Prophet. 31 The King of Iſrael made peace with Ben-hadad, and is reprooued therefore by the Prophet.

THen Ben-hadad the king of ‖ Aram aſſembled all his army, and two and thirty a kings with him, with horſes, and charets, and went up and beſieged ‖ Samaria, and fought againſt it.

2 And he ſent meſſengers to Ahab king of Iſrael, into the citie,

3 And ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Ben-hadad, Thy ſilver and thy gold is mine: alſo thy woman, and thy fayre children are mine.

4 And the king of Iſrael anſwered, and ſaid, My lord king, according to thy ſaying, b I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the meſſengers came againe, they ſaid, Thus commandeth Ben-hadad, and ſaith, When I ſhall ſend unto thee, and command, thou ſhalt deliver me thy ſiluer and thy gold, and thy women, and thy children,

6 c Or elſe I will ſend my ſervants unto thee by to morow this time, and they ſhall ſearch thine houſe, and the houſes of thy ſervants: and whatſoever is pleaſant in thine eyes, they ſhall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the King of Iſrael ſent for all the Elders of the land, and ſaid, Take heed I pray you, and ſee how he ſeeketh miſchiefe: for he ſent unto me for my wiues, and for my children, and for my ſilver, and for my gold, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people ſaid to him, Hearken d not unto him, nor conſent.

9 Wherefore hee ſaide unto the meſſengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou diddeſt ſend for to thy ſervant at the firſt time, that I will doe, but this thing I may not doe. And the meſſengers departed, and brought him an anſwere.

10 And Ben-hadad ſent unto him, and ſaid, The gods doe ſo to me and more alſo, if the e duſt of Samaria be enough to all the people that follow me, for euery man an handfull.

11 And the king of Iſrael anſwered, and ſaid, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth his harneis, boaſt himſelfe, as he that f putteth it off.

12 And when he heard that tidings, as he was with the kings drinking in the pauilions, he ſaid unto the ſervants, ‖ Bring forth your engines. And they ſet them againſt the citie.

13 ¶ And behold, there came a Prophet unto Ahab king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſayeth the Lord, Haſt thou ſeene all this great multitude: behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day, that thou mayeſt know, g that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab ſaid, By whom? and hee ſaid, Thus ſayeth the Lord, By the ſervants of the princes of the prouinces. He ſaid againe, Who ſhall order the battell? and he anſwered, Thou.

15 ¶ Then hee numbred the ſervants of the princes of the prouinces, and they were two hundreth, two and thirtie: and after them hee numbred the whole people of all the children of Iſrael, euen ſeuen thouſand.

16 And they went out at noone: but Ben-hadad did drinke till hee was drunken in the tents, both he and the kings: for two and thirtie kings helped him.

17 So the h ſervants of the princes of the prouinces went out firſt: and Ben-hadad ſent out, and they ſhewed him, ſaying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he ſaid, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the ſervants of the princes of the prouinces, and the hoaſte which followed them.

20 And they ſlew every one his † enemie: and the ‖ Aramites fled, and Iſrael purſued them: but Ben-hadad the king of Aram eſcaped on an horſe with his horſemen.

21 And the king of Iſrael went out, and ſmote the horſes and charets, and with a great ſlaughter ſlew the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a Prophet to the king of Iſrael, and had ſaid unto him, Goe, be of good courage, and conſider, and take heede what thou doeſt: for when the yeere is gone about, the king of Aram will come up againſt thee.)

23 ¶ Then the ſervants of the king of Aram ſaid unto him, Their k gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they overcame us: but let us fight againſt them in the plaine, and doubtleſſe we ſhall overcome them.

24 And this doe, Take the kings away, every one out of his place, and place captaines for them.

25 And number thy ſelfe an armie, like the armie that thou haſt loſt, with ſuch horſes, and ſuch charets, and wee will fight againſt them in the plaine, and doubtleſſe wee ſhall overcome them: and hee hearkened unto their voyce, and did ſo.

26 And after the yeere was gone about, Ben-hadad numbred the Aramites, and went up to Aphek to fight againſt Iſrael.

27 And the children of Iſrael were numbred, and were all aſſembled, and went againſt them, and the children of Iſrael pitched before them like two little flockes of kiddes: but the Aramites filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and ſpake unto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Becauſe the Aramites haue ſaid, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleys, therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye ſhall know that m I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one over againſt the other ſeuen dayes, and in the ſeuenth day the battell was ioyned: and the children of Iſrael ſlewe of the Aramites an hundreth thouſand footemen in one day.

30 But the reſt fled to Aphek into the city: and there fell a wall upon ſeuen and twenty thouſand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the citie, and came into † a ſecret chamber.

31 ¶ And his ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold now, wee haue heard ſay that the Kings of the houſe of Iſrael are mercifull Kings: we pray thee, let us put ſackcloath about our [a] loynes, and ropes about our heads, and goe out to the King of Iſrael: it may be that he will ſave thy life.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Iezebel commandeth to kill Naboth, for the vineyard that hee refuſed to ſell to Ahab. 19 Eliah reproueth Ahab, and he repenteth.

* Or, at this time. a Though Ahabs tyrannie be condemned by the holy Spirit, yet he was not ſo rigorous that he would take from another man his right without full recompenſe.

AFter * theſe things, Naboth the Izreelite had a vineyard in Izreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab ſpake unto Naboth, ſaying, a Give mee thy vineyard, that I may make mee a garden of herbes thereof, becauſe it is neere by mine houſe: and I will giue thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or if it pleaſe thee, I will giue thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Ahab, The Lord keepe me from giving the inheritance of my father unto thee.

4 Then Ahab came into his houſe heavie and in diſpleaſure, becauſe of the word which Naboth the Izreelite had ſpoken unto him. For hee had ſaid, I will not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay [b] upon his bed, and turned his face and would eat no bread.

b That the wicked conſider not what is iuſt and lawfull, but fret inwardly, when they cannot haue their inordinate appetites ſatiſfied.

5 Then Iezebel his wife came unto him, and ſaid unto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid unto her, Becauſe I ſpake unto Naboth the Izreelite, and ſaid unto him, Giue me thy vineyard for money, or if it pleaſe thee, I will giue thee another vineyard for it: but he anſwered, I will not giue thee my vineyard.

7 Then Iezebel his wife ſaide unto him, [c] Doeſt thou now governe the kingdome of Iſrael? Up, eate bread, and † be of good cheere, I will giue thee the vineyard of Naboth the Izreelite.

c As though ſhe ſaid, Thou knoweſt not what it is to reigne. Command and intreat not.

† Ebr. let tonne heart be merry.

8 ¶ So ſhe wrote letters in Ahabs name, and ſealed them with his ſeale, and ſent the letters unto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling with Naboth.

9 And ſhe wrote in the letters, ſaying, Proclaime a [d] faſt, and ſet Naboth among the chiefe of the people.

d For then they vſed to enquire of mens faults: for none could faſt truely that were notorious ſinners.

10 And ſet two wicked men before him, and let them witneſſe againſt him, ſaying, Thou didſt blaſpheme God and the king: then cary him out, and ſtone him that he may die.

11 And the [e] men of the citie, even the Elders and governours which dwelt in his citie, did as Iezebel had ſent unto them: as it was written in the letters, which ſhe had ſent unto them.

e Thus the worldlings contrary to Gods commandement, who willeth not to conſent to the ſhedding of innocent blood, obey rather the wicked commandements of princes, then the iuſt lawes of God.

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth among the chiefe of the people.

13 And there came two wicked men, and ſate before him: and the wicked men witneſſed againſt Naboth in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did † blaſpheme God and the King. Then they caried him away out of the citie, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died.

† Ebr. bleſſed.

14 Then they ſent to Iezebel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned and is dead.

15 ¶ And when Iezebel heard that Naboth was ſtoned and was dead, Iezebel ſaid to Ahab, [f] Up and take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Izreelite, which hee refuſed to giue thee for money: for Naboth is not aliue, but is dead.

f This example of monſtrous crueltie the holy Ghoſt leaveth to vs, to the intent that we ſhould abhorre all tyrannie, and ſpecially in them whom nature and kind ſhould moove to be pitifull and enclined to mercy.

16 And when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, he roſe to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Izreelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, 18 Ariſe, goe downe to meete Ahab King of Iſrael, which is in Samaria: loe, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither hee is gone downe to take poſſeſſion of it.

19 Therefore ſhalt thou ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, [g] Haſt thou killed, and alſo gotten poſſeſſion? And thou ſhalt ſpeake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, [h] In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth, ſhall dogs licke even thy blood alſo.

g Doeſt thou thinke to haue any aduantage by murthering of an innocent?

h This was fulfilled in Ioram his ſonne 2. King. 9. 25. 26.

21 * Behold,

21 * Behold, I will bring evill upon thee, and will take away thy posteritie, and will cut off from Ahab him that * pisseth against the wall, aswell him that is * shut up, as him that is left in Israel.

27 Now when Ahab heard those wordes, hee rent his cloathes, and put sackcloath upon † him, and fasted, and lay in sackcloath, and went k softly.

16 And the king said unto him, How oft shall I charge thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the Name of the Lord?

17 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered upon the mountaines, as sheepe that had no sheepheard. And the Lorde sayde, o These haue no master, let every man returne unto his house in peace.

18 (And the king of Israel sayd unto Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee that hee would prophecie no good unto me, but evill?)

20 And the Lord sayd, Who shall ‖ entise Ahab that hee may goe and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one sayd on this maner, and another sayd on that manner.

21 Then there came forth a spirit, and q stood before the Lord, and sayd, I will entise him. And the Lord sayd unto him, Wherewith?

22 And he sayd, I will goe out, and be a r false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. Then hee sayd, Thou shalt entise him, and shalt also prevaile: goe forth, and doe so.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis second booke conteineth the Acts of the King of Iudah and Israel: to wit, of Israel from the death of Ahab unto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, and his city Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the just plague of God for their idolatry and disobedience to God led into captivity. And also of Iudah; from the reigne of Iehoram sonne of Iehoshaphat unto Zedechias, who for contemning the Lords commandement by his Prophets, and neglecting his sundry admonitions by famine and other meanes, was taken by his enemies, saw his sonnes most cruelly slaine before his face, and his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremy, and also by the just vengeance of God for contempt of his word Ierusalem was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and he and all his people were ledde away captives into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods favour toward those rulers and people which obey his Prophets, and imbrace his word: and contrarywise, of his plague toward those common weales which neglect his ministers, and doe not obey his commandements.

2 Ahaziah by a fall falleth sicke, and consulteth with Baal-zebub. 3 He is reproved by Elijah. 10 The captaines ouer fifties were sent to Elijah, whereof two were burnt with fire from heauen by his prayer. 17 Ahaziah dieth, and Iehoram his brother succeedeth him.

THen Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab:

2 And a Ahaziah fell thorow the latteſſe window in his vpper-chamber which was in Samaria: ſo he was ſicke: then he ſent meſſengers, to whom he ſaid, Goe, and inquire of b Baalzebub the god of Ekron, if I ſhall recouer of this my diſeaſe.

3 Then the Angel of the Lord ſaid to Elijah the Tiſhbite, Ariſe, and go up to meete the meſſengers of the king of Samaria, and ſay vnto them, c Is it not becauſe there is no God in Israel, that yee goe to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

4 Wherefore thus ſayeth the Lord, Thou ſhalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt die the death. So Elijah departed.

5 And the meſſengers returned vnto him, to whom he ſaid, Why are ye now returned?

6 And they anſwered him, There came a man and met vs, and ſaid vnto vs, Goe, and returne vnto the king which ſent you, and ſay vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, d Is it not becauſe there is no God in Israel, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Baal-zebub the God of Ekron? Therefore thou ſhalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt die the death.

7 And he ſaid vnto them, What manner of man was hee which came and met you, and tolde you theſe wordes?

8 And they ſaid vnto him, He was an e hairie man, and girded with a girdle of leather about his loynes. Then ſaid hee, It is Elijah the Tiſhbite.

9 Therefore the King ſent vnto him a captaine ouer fiftie with his fiftie men, who went vp vnto him: for behold, hee ſate on the toppe f of a mountaine, and he ſayd vnto him, O man of God, the king hath commanded that thou come downe.

10 But Elijah anſwered, and ſaid to the captaine ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fire come down from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fifty. g So fire came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

11 Againe alſo he ſent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie with his fiftie. Who ſpake, and ſayd vnto him, h O man of God, thus the king commandeth, Come downe quickly.

12 But Elijah anſwered, and ſayd vnto them, i If I be a man of God, let fire come downe from the heauen and deuoure thee and thy fifty. So fire came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

13 ¶ Yet againe hee ſent the third captaine ouer fiftie with his fifty. And the third captaine ouer fiftie went vp, and came, and fell on his knees before Elijah, and beſought him, and ſaid vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my k life and the life of theſe thy fiftie ſeruants be l precious in thy ſight.

14 Behold, there came fire downe from the heauen, and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fiftie with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy ſight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord ſay vnto Elijah, Goe downe with him, be m not afraid of his preſence. So he aroſe, and went downe with him vnto the king.

16 And he ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Becauſe thou haſt ſent meſſengers to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, (was it not becauſe there was no God in Israel to enquire of his word?) therefore thou ſhalt not come downe off the bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt die the death.

17 So he died according to the word of the Lord which Elijah hath ſpoken. And n Iehoram began to reigne in his ſtead in the ſecond yeare of Iehoram the ſonne of Iehoſhaphat king of Iudah, becauſe he had no ſonne.

18 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Ahaziah, that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

CHAP. II.

1 Elijah diuided the waters with his cloake. 11 He is taken up into heauen. 13 Elisha taketh his cloake and diuideth Iorden. 20 The bitter and venemous waters are healed. 23 The children that mocke Elisha, are rent in pieces with beares.

AND when the Lord would take vp Elijah vnto heauen by a whirlewinde, Elijah went with Elisha from a Gilgal.

2 Then Elijah ſaid to Elisha, Tarie here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath ſent me to Beth-el. But Elisha ſaid, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoule liveth, I will not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el.

3 And the b children of the Prophets that were at Beth-el, came out to Elisha, and ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou that the Lord will take thy maſter from c thine head this day? And he ſayd, Yea, I d know it: hold ye your peace.

4 Againe Elijah ſayd vnto him, Elisha, tarie here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath ſent mee to Iericho. But he ſayd, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoule liveth, I will not leaue thee. So they came to Iericho.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at e Iericho, came to Elisha, and ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou, that the Lord will take thy maſter from thine head this day? And hee ſayd, Yea, I know it: hold ye your peace.

6 Moreouer Elijah ſayd vnto him, Tarie, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath ſent me to Iorden. But he ſayd, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoule liveth, I will not leaue thee. So they went both together.

7 And fifty men of the ſonnes of the Prophets went and ſtood on the other ſide a farre off, and they two ſtood by Iorden.

8 ¶ Then Elijah tooke his cloake, and wrapt it together, and ſmote the f waters, and they were diuided hither and thither, and they twaine went ouer on the drie land.

9 Now when they were paſſed ouer, Elijah ſayd vnto Elisha, Aske what I ſhall doe for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elisha ſaid, I pray thee, let thy Spirit g be double vpon me.

10 And he ſayd, Thou haſt asked an hard thing: yet if thou ſee mee when I am taken from thee, thou ſhalt haue it ſo: and if not, it ſhall not be.

12 And Elisha saw it, and hee cried, My father, my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen thereof: and he saw him no more: and hee tooke his owne cloathes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ Hee tooke up also the cloake of Elijah, that fell from him, and returned, and stood by the banke of Iorden.

14 After, he tooke the cloake of Elijah, that fell from him, and smote the waters, and sayd, Where is the Lord God of Elijah? And so hee also, after hee had striken the waters, so that they were divided this way and that way, went over, even Elisha.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Iericho, saw him on the other side, they said, i The Spirit of Elijah doeth rest on Elisha: and they came to meete him, and fell to the ground before him,

16 And said unto him, Behold now, there be with thy servants fiftie strong men: let them goe, we pray thee, and seeke thy k master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him up, and cast him upon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, l Ye shall not send.

17 Yet they were instant upon him, till hee was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So they sent fiftie men, which sought three dayes, but found him not.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for hee taried at Iericho) and he said unto them, Did not I say unto you, Goe not?

19 ¶ And the men of the city said unto Elisha, Behold, wee pray thee, the situation of the city is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is naught, and the ground ‖ barren.

20 Then he said, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went unto the spring of the waters, and cast there m the salt, and sayd, Thus sayth the Lord, I have healed this water: death shall no more come thereof, neither barrennesse to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the word of Elisha which hee had spoken.

23 ¶ And hee went up from thence unto Bethel. And as he was going up the way, little children came out of the city, and mocked him, and said unto him, Come up, thou bald head, come up, thou bald head.

24 And he turned backe, and looked on them, and n cursed them in the name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourty children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 The reigne of Iehoram. 6 He and Iehoshaphat goe to warre against Moab which rebelled. 13 Elisha reproveth him, 17 and giveth their hoaste water. 24 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their King sacrificeth his sonne.

NOw Iehoram the sonne of Ahab began to reigne over Israel in Samaria, the a eighteenth yeare of Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, and reigned twelve yeares.

2 And hee wrought evill in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother; for hee tooke away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless, hee cleaved unto the b sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ Then c Mesha king of Moab had store of sheepe, and rendred unto the king of Israel an hundreth thousand rammes with the wooll.

5 But when Ahab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 Therefore king Iehoram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbred all Israel.

7 And went, and sent to Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou goe with me to battell against Moab? And he answered, I will goe up: for d I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horses, as thine horses.

8 Then sayd he, What way shall we goe up? And he answered, The way of the wildernesse of Edom.

9 ¶ So went the king of Israel and the king of Iudah, and the e king of Edom, and when they had compassed the way seven dayes, they had no water for the hoaste, nor for the cattell that † followed them.

10 Therefore the king of Israel sayd, Alas, that the Lord hath called these three kings, to give them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Iehoshaphat sayd, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Israels servants answered, and sayd, Here is Elisha the sonne of Shaphat, which f powred water on the hands of Elijah.

12 Then Iehoshaphat said, g The word of the Lord is with him. Therefore the king of Israel, and Iehoshaphat, and the king of Edom went downe to him.

13 And Elisha sayd unto the King of Israel, h What have I to doe with thee? get thee to the Prophets of thy father, and to the Prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel said unto him, i Nay: for the Lord hath called these three kings to give them into the hand of Moab.

14 Then Elisha said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not, that I regard the presence of Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah, I would k not have looked toward thee, nor seene thee.

15 But now bring mee a minstrell. And when the minstrell l played, the hand of the Lord came upon him.

16 And hee sayd, Thus sayeth the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shall neither see winde nor see raine, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drinke: both ye and your cattell, and your beasts.

18 But this is a m small thing in the sight of the Lord: for hee will give Moab into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite every strong towne, and every chiefe city, and shall fell every faire tree, and shall stoppe all the fountaines of water, and n marre every good field with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meate-offering was o offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom: and the country was filled with water.

11 ¶ And on a day, hee came thither and turned into the chamber, and lay therein.

12 And said to Gehazi his servant, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stood before him.

13 Then hee said unto him, Say unto her now, Behold, thou hast had all this great care for us, [i] what shall we do for thee? Is there any thing to be spoken for thee to the king or to the captaine of the hoaste? And she answered, I [k] dwell among mine owne people.

i Thus the servants of God are not unthankefull for the benefits they receive.

k I am content with that that God hath sent me, and can want nothing that one can doe for another.

14 Againe hee said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In deed she hath [l] no sonne, and her husband is old.

15 Then sayd he, Call her. And hee called her, and she stood in the doore.

22 ¶ Then she called to her husband, and said, Send with mee, I pray thee, one of the yong men and one of the asses: for I will haste to the man of God, and come againe.

l Declaring thereby, what honour and affection he bare to the Prophet his master.

22 And hee answered, All is well: my master hath sent mee, saying, Behold, there be come to mee, euen now from mount Ephraim two young men of the children of the Prophets: give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two change of garments.
